The esteem in which Mr. R. M. Dennistoun, who is leaving shortly for Winnipeg, is held by his fellow members of the bar, was evidenced this afternoon, when an interesting event took place in the law library at the Court House. Mr. Dennistoun was waited upon by the members of the local Law Association and presented with a handsome silver tea salver, suitably engraved. The occasion was also characterized by two other presentations, one to Mrs. Dennistoun, and another to His Honor Judge Weller, who, today, hale and hearty is celebrating his 77th birthday. Mr. E. A. Peck, president of the Peterborough Law Association, presided, and all the members of the local bar and the officials, whose positions bring them into touch with the members of the legal profession, were also present. The presentation to Mr. Dennistoun was made by Mr. L. M. Hayes and the following address was read by Mr. D. W. Dumble;

To Robert Maxwell Dennistoun, Esq.

Dear Sir.—The members of the local Bar have invited you to their peculiar home—their law library—to bid you there good bye, and to offer you a few kind words on the occasion of your removal to the west

That you, in the prime of life, the head of an old and prosperous law firm, happily situated, and with a bright future, should leave a business built up by three generations of your name and family, is to many a source of wonder. But you have visited the West, have seen her unmeasured acres, the magic cities of the prairie, and have met the stalwarts, who, like giants, are building up a great nation; you have felt the irresistable lure of the West and determined to cut loose from the all but stereotyped conditions of the old home, and to throw in your lot with the thousands, the rustle of whose movements thrills the country as they go up with their substance to possess the land.

We regret your removal, but we realize the boldness of your movement, and we feel that it is to such men we trust for the establishment, broad and strong, of the foundations of the Western Empire. A nation is being born in a day and there is need of the labors, life and influence of men experienced in affairs— men of learning, character and principle, men whose hearts throb with love of our glorious flag and institutions—to build up the Western provinces into a Greater Britain.

You have been born and bred in our midst, your manhood has been honorable, you have taken your share of civic duties, and in every way given your time and influence to effect a betterment of your fellow citizens. We, who have been brought into more immediate contact with you, know you as a sound lawyer and honorable practitioner, a courteous and genial gentleman.

Gratefully, on behalf of our Law Association, we accept your splendid gift of thirty-six volumes of "The Jurist."

And now, we ask you to accept, at our hands, a small gift, to remind you of the friends you leave behind. In selecting it we had in mind that the loved one who will preside at your table will, in this tray, be often gladdened at the thought that your lives from your birth up have secured the respect and good will of the people with whom you lived many and happy days.

We unite in wishing you around your new hearth, in the new land, length of days, with great happiness, prosperity and honor.

Signed on behalf of the local Bar.

Peterborough, March 28, 1907.

Mr. Dennistoun made an appropriate reply, thanking his fellow members of the Bar for their splendid gift and for the spirit which prompted its giving. He referred to the many happy days he had spent in Peterborough, and to the kindly relations which had always existed between his fellow workers and himself.

Several other representative lawyers made a few remarks giving voice to the sentiments contained in the above address.

It might be remarked in passing, that Mr. Dennistoun has been connected with the local Bar for nearly fifteen years and is at present a Bencher of the Law Society of Upper Canada.

A BOUQUET OF ROSES.

Mrs. Dennistoun was honored by the presentation of a beautiful bouquet of American Beauty roses. The presentation was made by Mr. E G Goodwill, who bespoke the kind regards of the members of the Peterborough Law Association.

JUDGE WELLER REMEMBERED

His Honor Judge Weller, who today is 77 years of age, was presented with a set of pipes, a gift from the Peterborough Law Association. His Honor was heartily congratulated on his splendid health, and the wish was unanimously expressed that he would long be spared to preside with wisdom and courtesy on the judicial bench. His Honor made a neat reply, expressing his thanks for the present and for their good wishes.

Street Watering Contracts Awarded by Board of Works

Tenders Received for Only North, East and West Divisions—Deputations Heard on Various Matters—Lots of Work Ahead of the Board This Year.

A lot of business was put through by the Board of Works committee, last night although most of the stuff was of minor importance. The first half hour or so was spent in listening to deputations. The street watering contracts have all been let except the southern district. Mr. Collins, who did the work last year refused to tender again. He said the district at present is too large and one team cannot get over it. The chairman, however, will see him and the chances are the size of the section will be reduced and the central section increased, as there will be two teams on the central section this summer. The cost of the street watering will be somewhat higher this year, although it is still very reasonable, considering the wages of teamsters and of teams

Those present were Ald. Duncan, chairman; Mayor McWilliams, Ald. Johnston, Wilson, McIntyre, Morgan, Leary, City Engineer T. A. S. Hay and Street Commissioner Harry Evans.

Mr. John Cunningham appeared before the committee and asked to have the sewer continued on Stewart street south from McDonnel-st. There is about a hundred feet required and Mr. Cunningham said he was willing to pay for the whole thing. The committee will advertise the sewer along with the other sewers.

Mr Harry Moore addressed the aldermen, stating that he wanted a crossing over Smith street from Aylmer street, and then a short piece of sidewalk in front of his place

Ald Johnston moved that as soon as sidewalk building is started some of the plank be laid across Smith street at the head of Aylmer-st. Ald. McIntyre seconded the motion and it carried.

Mr J. T. Lang was present and asked the council to advertise a sewer on Downie street north, from London to Smith, along Smith to Reid and up Reid. This work was laid out last year, but was not carried through. The engineer will advertise the sewer with the others.

DOWNIE-ST. CREEK

Messrs. A. E. Dixon, Thos J Begley, Tamblin and Blodgett, representing the residents on Downie street, were given permission to address the council. Mr. Dixon said in reference to the Downie street creek that at the present time the creek was over the street. He presented a plan for the benefit of the committee. Last year the Board of Works was particularly anxious to have the course of this drain turned to its original course. The plan he presented showed a creek practically straight and went through several pieces of private property. Blodgett, who owns the lot north of Dublin street, wanted the creek cribbed with concrete. Mr. Tamblin's property would be cut in two and in recompense for the damage he asked the council to give him a part of the street not necessary for street purposes.

Moved by Ald. Johnston, seconded by Ald. McIntyre, that the Board go to Mr. Tamblin's property at 5.30 o'clock Thursday and settle the matter.—Carried.

Mr Begley asked if it was the intention of the Board of Works to fix up Victoria avenue this year. He had fought for this street for three years and it was in a disgraceful condition

STREET WATERING.

The following tenders were recived for street watering;

Eastern Division, Albert Veloise, $400 or $51 more than last year.

Western Division, Z. I. Blodgett, $399, the same as last year.

Northern Division, J. Blodgett, at $409.50 or $30.50 more than last year.

There was no tender for the southern division and Mayor McWilliams moved that the three received be accepted. Ald. Wilson seconded the motion and it carried.

The chairman was authorized to arrange for the watering of the southern division on motion by Mayor McWilliams and Ald. Wilson.

Ald Wilson said that Mr. Lusn at the corner of Aylmer and Dublin streets complained that the water from the railway tracks was running into his yard; also the water from Dublin street, and his property was flooded. Ald. Wilson recommended that the Board visit the place when they were out this afternoon and see what could be done about it.

Thos. Dale, on George street, near McDonald's mill, wrote the committee asking for a crossing over the street from his house. He says he has waded through the mud for twenty years without a crossing. The engineer was instructed to report on it.

Ald McIntyre drew the attention of the Board to Thomas street between Bolivar and King streets. It is very bad. The water commissioners tore up the street last fall and left it in bad shape, and neither is there any sidewalk. The street is being built up and the people cannot get in or out. Several loads of gravel will be drawn on as soon as possible.

DEEPEN CHANNEL.

Ald Wilson brought up the matter of the condition of the creek at the Bethune street bridge. The channel of the creek is very wide and shallow and he recommended that the Board dredge the channel out all the way through to the curve. The creek bed is all gravel and it would be of value for roads. The property owners would be glad to allow the Board to do the work.

JOINT MEETING SETTLE MATTER

Board of Works Pay $750 per Year for Use of Fire Horses and Driver

The Fire, Water and Light committee and the Board of Works met to decide the question of the Board of Works using the new fire team. The Fire, Water and Light committee said they would charge the Board of Works corporation wages for the use of the team.

The Board of Works objected to have anything to do with the appointment of a driver. They would hire the team and driver and pay for it, but the Fire, Water and Light committee will have to appoint their own driver. Ald. Johnston said he would have appointed the man last night, but the Mayor objected. He wanted a conference with the Board of Works. Ald. Johnston, however, got the blame for the neglect of the committee, until he stated it was the Mayor who objected.

The Mayor then explained his idea, which was briefly that the Board of Works would probably need a man for eight months in the year to drive and they should appoint him.

Ald. Leary strongly pointed out that no man should be permitted to drive that new team unless he was to feed and care for the team in a proper manner. Therefore he should be engaged for the whole year, or the team would be ruined.

It was finally decided that the Board of Works committee pay the Fire, Water and Light committee the sum of $750 for the use of the big team, the single horse and the privilege of changing the teams. This was a motion made by Ald. McIntyre and Ald. Wilson.

Celebrated Their Golden Wedding Last Saturday

Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Claringbold, of Conway, Have Been Fifty Years Married—Parents of Mrs. W. E. Conway and Mrs. Jos. Mills—Have Lived on the Bay of Quinte Since 1857.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Conway and family and Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Mills and family, returned last night after attending the golden wedding celebration of Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Claringbold at Conway, on the Bay of Quinte last Saturday. Mrs. Conway and Mrs. Mills are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Claringbold.

The celebration was a most interesting event. Out of a family of ten children, seven were present, with their families. The oldest girl and the youngest boy are the only two not living. Mrs. R. White, of Arrow Head was unable to attend.

At the golden wedding there were seventeen grandchildren, and seven children, with their wives, or husbands making a total of thirty-one. It was the first reunion of the whole family for years and all present had a most enjoyable time. The old couple were the happiest of the party. They are 72 or 73 years of age but are hale and hearty, and look as if they will live at least many years yet. They received many valuable gifts from their children and friends, including one purse of gold amounting to $100.

Mr. and Mrs. Claringbold were married in the Old Country and crossed the Atlantic on their wedding tour in 1857. They landed at New York, but did not stop there. They travelled right through to Kingston and settled on a farm on the shores of the Bay of Quinte where they have lived ever since.

Those present at the golden wedding were; Mr. and Mrs. W E Conway, Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Mills, of Peterborough; Mr. and Mrs. E. Sills, Conway; Mr. and Mrs. P. Young, of Sandhurst; Mr. and Mrs. H. A Claringbold, Mr. and Mrs. A. Claringbold, and Mr. and Mrs. J. Claringbold, of Buffalo.

Boundary Roads Will Require Over $1400 to Put Them in Shape

City Engineer Sent Report to the Board of Works—City Roads Will be Repaired First—Outside Roads to be Taken Up Later.

To put the boundary roads between the city and Monaghan into good shape is going to cost the city $1410. This in face of the large number of streets inside the city in need of repairs is a serious proposition and one the Board of Works would not like to see come up too often. The city agreed to do certain sections of this road work, but as the roads named are not in very bad shape, the work in the city will be proceeded with first, until gravel can be procured nearer the boundary from new buildings, City Engineer Hay reported to the Board of Works on the boundary roads as follows;—

"As instructed I have examined those parts of the boundary between the city and the township of Monaghan to be maintained by the city with a view to putting them into good condition and estimate the cost as follows;—

Lansdowne street, between Park and Haggart street, 3900 feet long will require 1200 cubic yards of gravel, at 60c, or $720.

3 culverts renewed in pipe 12 inches, or 105 ft., at $1, $105.

1 culvert in 24 inches, 35 feet long, at $2—$70.

Total $895.

Monaghan Road, between Chamberlain and Charlotte streets, 3600 ft. long will require 750 cubic yards of gravel at 60c, or $450.

2 culverts renewed in 12 inch pipe 65 feet, at $1—$65.

Total $515.

Total of all work $1410.

If gravel can be procured nearer than the Hilliard farm, the cost of that item may be reduced fifteen per cent.

A large quantity might be got from the new buildings to be erected on Central Park which, if purchased at a reasonable price, would reduce the cost by about fifteen per cent."

BITTER STRUGGLE IN THE BRITISH PARLIAMENT

WAR ON BRITISH PEERS

COMMONS RENEWS CONFLICT BEGUN 667 YEARS AGO.

Interesting Story of the Historic Fight Recalled by Premier Campbell-Bannerman's Declaration of Restriction Against the House of Lords—For Six Centuries English People Have Struggled Against the Veto Power.

The declaration of Premier Campbell-Bannerman that the Liberal majority in the present House of Commons would attempt to restrict the veto power now resting in the House of Lords, brings to a crisis another struggle between the two Houses of the British Parliament.

There have been many of these struggles between the Lords and the Commons. In fact, there has been almost a continuous conflict between the two branches of the English lawmaking body since 1339, when Parliament for the first time divided itself into two Houses.

One by one the Commons have shorn the House of Lords of its powers, prerogatives, and perquisites. Twice in 600 years the Commons has abolished the House of Lords entirely. But it was not until the great reform bill was passed, in 1832, that the Commons gained the mastery. Since 1832—notably in 1867 and again in 1888—the Commons strengthened its position by extending the suffrage until practically every man in England has a vote.

In all these six centuries of strife between the Lords and Commons the crown has almost invariably been on the side of the Lords. This was, of course, but natural. The people elected the House of Commons. The crown created the peers. There have been occasions when even the lords were not amenable to dictation of the crown. On these rare occasions a simple threat by the crown to create more peers complaisant to its own bidding always served to bring the rebellious Lords to their senses.

First Parliament All Peers.

The first Parliament was made up entirely of peers—that is, of peers as then understood. The modern English Parliament has developed by slow and painful degrees from the Witenagemot of Anglo-Saxon times. This body was made up of princes, prelates, and earls. It met three times in each year and had the power of electing and deposing kings, gave counsel and assent in all matters of legislation, and was the supreme court of justice for the kingdom. It was in no sense a representative body. The people had no voice in its selection. Its members were all peers.

Then William of Normandy crossed the channel with his army, and after the battle of Hastings took England for his own. With all the ruthlessness of a mediaeval conquerer he disregarded the land rights of the Saxons and divided the whole island in parcels, giving each piece to one of his principal generals. Each one of these generals became a baron or an earl and divided his own particular piece of territory among his followers. In other words, each baron became a little king.

William the Conqueror had no mind to rule as a despot, and so made many laws of real benefit to the people whom he had dispossessed of their lands in so summary a manner. He also summoned a grand council, an assemblage to which every tenant in chief as his barons or earls were known, nominally belonged. But for sake of convenience William summoned only such barons or earls as best suited his purpose. To their number he added the principal bishops of the church. Thus he had the nucleus of a Parliament, a Parliament which consisted solely of a House of Lords.

This great council, the forerunner of the English Parliament, held a loose control over taxes, it gave consent to laws proposed by the King, and it acted as a court of justice. That was 900 years ago, and it is a strange fact that the modern English Parliament does but little more. It controls taxes, gives consent to laws, and acts as a court of justice. The one vital modification of the scheme is that the Parliament of to-day gives consent to laws proposed by the Government—i. e.: by the Cabinet which represents the party in power, instead of by the crown.

Lasted Two Hundred Years.

This form of Parliament served the England of ten centuries ago well for 200 years. But in these 200 years the barons were growing more powerful. In 1215 they were so powerful that by combining they were strong enough to compel King John to sign the famous Magna Charta—the basis of England's constitutional liberty—the only written constitution England has.

The barons were not alone in compelling a reluctant King to sign his name to the charter of their liberties. They had received important aid from the merchants and other citizens of London, and as a result the barons obtained for the citizens certain privileges, personal and commercial.

This was the first time in English history that the nobles and the people—the Lords and the Commons—united against the crown.

Commons Always Pressing.

From that time forward the march of England's constitutional history the Commons who had been admitted through the intercession of the Lords to a voice in the Government, insisted on more and more power, and gradually encroached upon the privileges of the Lords, until there came a time when the Lords were thrown out of Parliament. It was the old fable of the camel and the peasant. The peasant permitted the camel to warm its nose in his hut, and the camel ended by driving the owner out and wrecking the hut.

Now see how the Commons' camel got its nose into the hut of the House of Lords. The Magna Charta provided that the scutage, a form of feudal taxation exacted at the pleasure of the King, should no longer be levied without "the consent of the great council, which was to be summoned 40 days before the appointed date for meeting. The charter took no notice of the representative principle, but curiously enough King John, when he summoned the next great council, sent writs to the reeve and four men from each vill on the royal demesne.

Three Estates Represented.

Thus for the first time all three estates, the clergy, the nobles, and the commons, sat together in a great council. Thus King John, who gave the Magna Charta to the barons upon their asking, unwittingly gave to the people representation in the great council without their asking. It was a clear case of the Lords getting more than they had asked for. It was the King who opened the door of the Lords, but for the entrance of the Commons' camel and the camel began to grow from that moment.

In 1254 Queen Eleanor and Earl Richard of Cornwall, regents during the absence of Henry III. in Gascony, called a great council to meet at Westminster, at which were present two knights chosen from each shire. This element was to be of great importance in the development of Parliament, since the knights of the shire henceforth furnished leaders for the Commons, and many of these knights of the shire being related to the nobles they enabled the two estates, the nobles and the Commons, to unite in opposition to the crown. This was a most important effect of the rule of primogeniture, which was even then in strict force in England. The younger sons of the nobility were usually country gentlemen and thus served as a connecting link between the nobles and the Commons.

The principle applies to this day. In the House of Commons some of the best equipped members are sons of the peers who sit in the House of Lords. Lord Hugh Cecil was a power in the House of Commons when his father, Lord Salisbury, was Prime Minister. He is only one of numerous examples which prove that England clings to a principle established eight centuries ago.

The Commons took a firmer grip on Parliament in 1265, when Simon of Montfort, Earl of Leicester, summoned his historic Parliament. To this assembly were summoned not only two knights from each shire, but also two burgesses or citizens from 21 boroughs or cities mentioned by name in the writ. Thus for the first time the third estate, or the Commons, made up of county freeholders and burgesses, was fully represented in a national assembly.

To King Edward I. belongs the honor of completing the foundation of the English Parliament as it has existed, with one or two brief interruptions, for 600 years. During the first twenty years of his reign, though he made no important advances in the principle of representative Government, he summoned representative assemblies occasionally. He seemed to be experimenting with the people in these 20 years, to ascertain their capacity for a more representative Government, for at the end of the period he summoned what has ever since been known as the "Model Parliament." It met at Westminster, in November, 1895. To it came, aside from the bishops and the abbots, the earls and the barons, two knights from each of 37 shires, and representatives of 110 cities and boroughs.

Meet In Separate Houses.

Lords and Commons still met in a single body in all these years, from 1215 to 1295. It was not till the reign of Edward III. that the definite separation into two Houses took place. The knights at first vacillated between the Lords and the Commons, but in 1332 is found the first clear reference to the arrangement which after 1339 was permanent, the Lords forming the Upper House and the knights and burgesses the Lower House.

It was not until 1407 that the Commons gained a preponderating voice in voting money grants. At first the Lords held this as their exclusive privilege. Then they were compelled to share the privilege with the Commons. Finally the Commons assumed it all.

Commons Abolishes Lords.

The first Cromwellian Parliament saw the eclipse of the House of Lords and the complete triumph of the Commons. The "Roundheads" controlled the House of Commons, while the remnants of the House of Lords still clung to the rapidly weakening fortunes of the crown.

On Jan. 4, 1648, the House of Commons adopted a resolution declaring: "That the people are, under God, the origin of all just power and that whatever is enacted or declared for law by the Commons hath the force of law, and all the people of this nation are concluded thereby, although the current and concurrence of the King and House of Peers be not had thereto."

The peers were in no position to reply to this insult. The Commons was the Parliament from that day until the execution of Charles I. A week after the King's head had fallen upon the block the House of Commons formally abolished the House of Lords by unanimous vote. The peers, mitred archbishops, lordly dukes, belted earls, and all the rest were driven out of Westminster and the Commons exulted over their downfall.

Thenceforth, for four years the Commons was Parliament and Parliament was the Commons. At first it was Cromwell's idea that the Commons should be the sole law making, law executing, and law interpreting body—legislative, executive, and judicial—all in one. But with a growing appreciation of the weakness of the system of Government he had set up Cromwell changed his plans. It was decreed that the "Commons and one man" should rule England. The "one man," of course, was Cromwell. But even this expedient did not save Cromwell's experiment from failure. His Commons became so intractible that he was compelled to dissolve it in 1653 and summon a new one.

So low had the fortunes of the triumphant Commons fallen that only 139 members responded to the summons. This second Cromwellian assembly was known as the "Barebones Parliament." It was short lived: in six months after calling it Cromwell sent it home.

Then Cromwell drew up the famous "instrument of Government" providing for a House of Commons of 400 members. This Parliament assembled on Sept. 3, 1654, and lasted only until Jan. 22, 1655.

Interval of Anarchy.

More than a year elapsed before another Roundhead Parliament assembled. Meantime England existed under an arbitrary Government, in which the army was supreme. The England of the present day, it may be hazarded, would not live under such a Government a single day. Money was raised without authority, taxes were imposed without a vote, and men were executed or sent to prison by illegal tribunes. The whole country was divided into eleven districts, each district being ruled by a major-general of the army, just as Russia rules the provinces it has wrested from the barbarians of Asia north of the Oxus to-day.

The Government was drifting rapidly into anarchy. The Commons, eager to rule without check or interference of a House of Lords, had tried the experiment and failed.

Lords Are Brought Back.

Reluctantly Cromwell summoned another Parliament—that is, another Commons. The tide was turning, and in the election he failed to get a majority. He unseated 90 obstreperous Commoners, and thus controlled the Commons. But even his control could not prevent the Commons from petitioning for a creation of a House of Lords. Cromwell yielded, and the Upper House of the English Parliament was restored.

Then, after another interval of chaotic administration, Gen. Monk marched his army into London, and the restoration of the Stuart dynasty followed.

Charles II. signalized his accession to the throne by the creation of a large number of peers. The House of Lords returned to its own again, unchastened by the lessons taught it by a Roundhead Commons. Its first act was to enact a law to raise the national revenues from excise taxes, thus relieving the land of an enormous burden. The House of Commons swung to the other extreme, and, instead of preventing this outrage upon the people, meekly acquiesced in it.

Conflict Is Renewed.

The conflict between the Lords and Commons, however, was soon to be renewed. The Commons, after the first dazzling effects of the return of royalty to power, gradually plucked up its courage and began to resist the Lords.

But while the Lords were overbearing in their demeanor towards the Commons, they were disposed to be equally deficient in their reverence for the crown.

Various Ministries finding that the peers were unwilling to pass their proposed bills, have resorted to the threat to create enough new peers to swamp the House of Lords. These new peers would, of course, have been pledged beforehand to vote for the Ministry creating them.

In 1711 the Prime Minister of the day, the daring and unscrupulous Viscount Bolingbroke, was anxious to terminate the desolating and ruinous war with France, which had been raging on and off for 20 years.

To effect this purpose he had drawn up the Treaty of Utrecht. It was necessary at that time that Lords and Commons should agree to a treaty before it would become valid. The Commons assented to the treaty, but the Lords declared that they would have none of it and that the war must go on. Whereupon Bolingbroke coolly but firmly informed them that, rather than see himself defiled by them, he would create a whole army of new peers to vote for the treaty.

In 1719 the House of Lords, realizing that it had not kept up with the advance of constitutional liberty in England, made an honest endeavor to reform itself. But its efforts were thwarted by some of its own reactionary members.

The House of Lords practically ruled Parliament during all the years between 1719 and 1801. The Lords ruled by the rotten borough system. A peer would own one or more boroughs and then dictate absolutely the choice of the man to be elected to the Commons from that borough. The Duke of Norfolk alone controlled 11 of these "rotten boroughs." In other words, he had one vote in the House of Lords and eleven in the House of Commons. The crown encouraged this system and between 1761 and 1801 no fewer than 140 peers were created, every one of whom owned one or more rotten boroughs.

Reform Comes In 1832.

But in all these years the people had not been content to rest under the injustice of the rotten borough system, and finally in 1832 the Commons rose in its strength and passed the great reform bill. This measure completely remodelled the English Parliament. In England 143 votes were taken from the boroughs controlled by members of the House of Lords and redistributed among the counties and large towns. The county franchise was given to freeholders to the value of $50 a year, to leaseholders whose annual rent was $250, and to tenants at will who paid $250 a year. Similar changes were made in Scotland and Ireland.

The Lords fought this bill with all their strength. It deprived them of their power of controlling the House of Commons. But the Lords did not dare veto the reform bill, and it became a law.

Since then the English Parliament has changed but little in form. It still possesses the power of vetoing any bill passed by the Commons.

Education Renews Struggle.

The last bill passed by the Commons to be rejected by the House of Lords was the education bill at the last session. This bill practically reorganizes the whole public educational system of England. The House of Lords made certain amendments to the bill which the Commons refused to accept. The Lords refused to yield and the bill, upon which the Liberal Ministry had spent a year of hard work, fell to the ground.

It is not known what measure the Premier, Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, intends to take in his proposed attack upon the House of Lords. It is freely predicted in London that the struggle will result in the dissolution of Parliament and an appeal to the voters.

JOIN THE REGIMENT

The season for drill, in connection with the 57th Regiment, Peterborough Rangers, opens on Tuesday next and will last about three months About fifty or sixty young men of good character, can find places in the corps as recruits. The regiment is composed of a fine body of strong, active, earnest, sober, thoughtful, young Peterboroughonians, who are a credit to the organization and to the city.

The 57th as a volunteer military corps stands second to none in Canada. On all the trips away from home, during recent years, the visitors have won high praise for their soldierly bearing, and splendid deportment. This has been very gratifying to the officers and the city. Every young man who loves outdoor exercise, who believes in developing physical manhood and realizes that discipline, method, and system constitute excellent mental training, should join one of the several companies. The youth is the better for the experience in every way. It is noticeable in his walk and bearing. He feels more of the true man and sees the part. He is impressed with the idea of service and evinces a spirit to stand up for King and country. If he has a proper conception of what the training means he will have a deeper respect for authority and obedience. He will learn self control and mastery and be imbued with broader ideas and a clearer outlook than if he lives largely to himself. The moral tone of the officers and men is high. They represent the best class of citizenship, and manhood and nowhere can an organization of nearly four hundred men be found in the Dominion who are more worthy of esteem and confidence than those in the Peterborough Rangers. If a young man joins from the right motive and in the proper spirit, if he is active, willing and conscientious, he will never regret the time spent in connection with the 57th Regiment—and will find the experience in every way valuable and helpful.

REMOVE THE TEMPTATION

In Stratford a junk dealer has been arrested on the charge of encouraging small boys to steal. It is said he was in league with several of them and for bones, bottles, metal, rubbers, rags, etc. doled out to the youthful purloiners a few cents. If the offence can be proved no punishment is too severe for the man who starts youth on the downward road. There is enough evil tendency, thoughtlessness, and mischievousness in the average lad, without it being cunningly encouraged by older people. It is difficult even with admonition, example and correction to stamp it out.

In Peterborough certain boys are in the habit of lurking suspiciously around the back yards of dwellings and near the premises of manufacturing establishments. They frequent lanes and other spots, evidently watching for a good opportunity in order to make off with some metal or other article, that can be disposed of for junk and thus realize a few cents. The hardened malefactor did not develop all at once. He began by pilfering and looting by petty theft, and perhaps, avoiding detection at first, grew bolder and more reckless, until at last he wound up in a felon's cell. Boys should not meddle with property which does not belong to them. They should keep away from associations and temptations that are very apt to lead to their downfall. A bylaw should be passed prohibiting youths under a certain age going about the city gathering or peddling junk. Thus would all appearance of wrong doing be avoided. The lad, who gets a few cents dishonestly, may keep on until he grows so inured to pilfering that he will take a much larger sum and find himself speedily in the criminal class and possibly his career endangered for life. Prevention is better than cure.

THE BOURASSA INCIDENT

It is regrettable that Parliament did not appoint a committee to enquire into the Fowler charges in accordance with the motion made by Mr. Bourassa, the member from Labelle. It may be true that some of the allegations are based on mere rumor or "tittle-tattle" as the Premier was pleased to call it, but, where there is so much smoke there is some fire, no great distance away. The scandal that has retailed in the capital, is evidently not founded altogether on pure fiction, or idle gossip. There must be some foundation for the "Women, wine and graft," stories. They are certainly not woven out of the whole cloth. These nasty reports should be cleared up and effectually silenced. It matters not who may suffer. There is too much scandal heard about public men and one result of the present campaign will be to draw attention to their actions and cause them in every day life, to walk more circumspectly. The private life of cabinet ministers and members of parliament should, like Caesar's wife, be above suspicion. If we are to have a high standard of public life, there must be no loose living on the part of the country's representatives, and in this connection a Toronto paper pertinently remarks: "The great requisite is to elect for Parliament and to appoint as Ministers, none but earnest men, men who are filled with zeal for the welfare of the people. Such men may not be immaculate, but their zeal for public interest will be the passion of their lives, and will be a safeguard against the temptations that come from idleness and frivolity. There is plenty of rational occupation for earnest men at Ottawa, and grown up men ought to be able to occupy themselves and restrain themselves even when some customary occupations and restraints are absent. There ought also to be less idle gossip as to the lives of public men."

PEN POINTS

Remember that to-morrow is a holy day and not a holiday.

Is any one preparing to corner the egg market on Saturday?

The Lenten season is nearly over, but do not forget its teachings and obligations

To-morrow being Good Friday and a public holiday, the Review will not be issued.

In the spring the atmosphere is often surcharged with electricity, but that at Ottawa , seems surcharged with scandal.

The lack of harmony between the Board of Trade and the City Council is deplored, and that, too, in a week when so much Easter music is in preparation.

This is going to be a lively year in athletics, judging by the number of sporting organizations. It is a healthy sign to see such interest taken in football, cricket and lacrosse.

Some of the members of the 57th Regiment are taking instruction in heliographing. To an anxious inquirer we would say this pastime is in no way connected with lessons in embroidery work or passepartout.

A machine which automatically shuffles a pack of cards concealed from sight and which changes the position of nine out of every ten cards, is the latest device for card players. It not only protects the cards from injury, but gives an absolutely square shuffle. The machine weighs four pounds and attaches in a moment to any table. It is about 12 inches high. It would become very popular with public men if it could only shuffle political cards.

The Assessment matter has at last been settled. There has been much said and done on the part of those opposed to this economy, which should not have been said and which should not have been done. The move was not conceived in sin and iniquity, as alleged, neither was it in any sense an exemplification of the spoils system. Throughout the attack was upon the position and not the holder of it, and equally certain is the circumstance that all classes of citizens realized that the department had been framed on too extravagant a basis. The final vote not only enforced the need for a generally recognized economy, but also proved a much needed rebuke to throttling tactics. — Brantford Courier.

The Laurier Government has repeatedly violated the principle that the people who pay the bills should know why and by whom the expenditure was incurred. Some time ago it resisted the attempt of the opposition to ascertain the names of the men who formed the North Atlantic Company to whom hundreds of thousands of dollars were being paid. And later it refused particulars regarding the spending of $100,000 in the preliminaries of the Grand Trunk Pacific movement, and which the country is asked to pay. A government who thus keeps the taxpayers in the dark, is not fit to order payments.

EMPLOYERS BENEFITED THROUGH THE EFFORT TO ERADICATE CONSUMPTION.

A determined effort is being made in Providence, R.I., to stamp out tuberculosis, particularly among the mill hands and factory employees. The Brown & Sharp Mfg. Co., which employs upwards of 4,000 men, is actively co-operating in this movement.

The first step was to post a notice in the works explaining the nature of the disease, the great danger of neglecting the early symptoms, and advising the most effective treatment. A physician who has made a specialty of tubercular disease was provided, free of expense to the employee, to examine and advise upon each case.

Some employees took advantage of the privilege on their own account others were given the benefit of suggestion and willingly followed the well meant advice, while still others had to be induced with more effort.

A number of cases were discovered among the men. Some were sent to the State Sanatorium for modern open air treatment. Others were urged to take up open-air work, and wherever possible the company found such work for them. No tubercular person was allowed to remain in the works, for his own sake as well as for that of his fellow workmen. Sanitary precautions were taken to prevent the spread of the disease. Many of the men have already returned to work robust and generally in fine condition.

Few, if any, large manufacturing establishments are free from consumption among the employees. It is a well known fact that pulmonary tuberculosis is so insidious in its workings that the victim seldom realizes the danger until the disease has taken a strong hold. It is among the apparently superficial colds and coughs that the insipient cases are found, and a suggestion from the employer is the one thing needed to stimulate the desire for treatment. Doubtless the future will see very strict regulations governing tuberculosis, and the progressive men who are doing this work of their own volition are only anticipating what will probably be made compulsory.

Colds often lead to serious consequences, and should not be neglected. There is no more effective remedy for colds and coughs than the simple formula, prescribed by an authority on lung trouble, that calls for a pint of Whiskey, two ounces of Glycerine and a half ounce of Virgin Oil of Pine (Pure). These ingredients cost little and can be purchased of any good prescription druggist and mixed at home. Mix well and use in teaspoonful doses every four hours.

Virgin Oil of Pine (Pure) is put up for dispensing only, in half-ounce vials, each vial securely sealed in a round wooden case with an engraved wrapper showing the name—Virgin Oil of Pine (Pure), prepared only by Leach Chemical Co., Windsor, Ontario, plainly printed thereon. The oils sold in bulk and the many rank imitations of Virgin Oil of Pine (Pure) put out under similar name and style of package are not only ineffective, but often dangerous. It is always well to remember that the object of an imitator is to deceive. There is no known substitute for Virgin Oil of Pine (Pure.)

Splendid Exhibitions of Boxing and Wrestling Given

At the Tournament in the Old Opera House Last Night —Pete Barry Easily Disposed of Jack Broom of Lindsay—The Other Events.

BOXING.

Peter Barry of Toronto, defeated Fred Broom of Lindsay, in one round and thirty seconds. Knockout.

Lem Burns of Peterborough, went three rounds with Tommy Daly, 125 pounds amateur Champion of Canada No decision by previous agreement.

Bill Walace of Peterborough, was given the decision over Jack Broom of Lindsay in a six-round mill.

"Kid" Downey of Peterborough, was given the decision on a foul over "Happy" O'Toole of Peterboro. Four rounds.

WRESTLING.

Harry Burridge of Peterborough, defeated George Gauthier of Peterborough, by two straight falls.

"Mike" O'Toole of Peterborough, defeated Harvey Staunton of Peterborough, two falls to one.

The above in brief form gives the results of last night's boxing and wrestling tournament in the old opera house. The event was a great success and the three hundred spectators got full value for their money. The tournament was arranged by Billy Breen, who deserves credit for the splendid programme put on, and for the orderly manner in which everything was conducted. Everything was square and above board and those present were highly pleased with the night's entertainment. Last night's contests went to show that there are a large number in Peterborough, who will turn out and pay their money gladly to see good wrestling and boxing. The public, however, will not stand for any crooked work, with which a good many events of this kind in Peterborough have been tinged in the past. Everything was on the square last night, however, and those present were not slow to appreciate the fact. Each contest was a splendid exhibition, but there was no untoward incident to mar the success of the tournament.

The principal event of the evening, was to have been between Pete Barry of Toronto, and Fred Broom of Lindsay, late of England. It was to have been an eight-round mill, for a purse of fifty dollars, but it barely lasted a round and thirty seconds. Marquis of Queensbury rules, which do not permit hitting when clinched were to govern. The bout, but in the first round Broom punched Barry's head in a clinch and although Barry told him to stop, he repeated it a few minutes later. The referee agreed to permit this form of fighting, then, since the Englishman apparently wanted that style.

In the first round, Barry forced his man all over the ring and nearly put him through the ropes on several occasions. Broom was no match for his opponent, who landed on him with ease. Broom was groggy at the end of the round and was down, but the bell rang before the count was called. He only lasted thirty seconds in the second round. Barry landed with his right on his head and the Englishman went down and out. He was not hurt but was not able to continue and the bout was over, Barry getting the $50 as the agreement was that the winner was to take all. Barry weighed 122, and Broom 136.

Mr. Chris. Graham refereed all the bouts in a most satisfactory manner. His decisions were fair and above criticism. Mr. F. A. Clarke acted as timekeeper.

WRESTLING.

The wrestling bouts were put on first, Staunton and O'Toole being the first to go on the mat. Both boys showed much cleverness and gave a fine exhibition. O'Toole appeared to have a slight advantage in weight. The first fall went to Staunton in 35 seconds. After a few seconds manoeuvring O'Toole placed his opponent on the mat but could not pin. Staunton broke loose and placed his man's shoulder on the mat with a neat flying fall.

O'Toole took the second fall in four minutes. He was the agressor all the way through and had Staunton on the mat, but could not place his shoulders. He secured the fall with a half Nelson and bar hold.

Fifteen minutes were consumed in third appearance of the boys on the mat, when Staunton was hurt and was unable to continue. Referee Graham awarded the bout to O'Toole he having been the agressor throughout the third period. Staunton was under, with the exception of a few minutes at the start and O'Toole had to do all the forcing. The loser showed himself strong in defensive work and O'Toole was unable to pin him to the mat several times when a fall looked certain. Staunton was not seriously hurt. He was temporarily winded by having his ribs pressed heavily.

BURRIDGE—GAUTHIER.

Harry Burridge showed great form in his bout with George Gauthier. The winner showed that he was well acquainted with the fine points of the game, and had plenty of strength, to handle his man. Gauthier worked hard, but was up against a better man.

The Gauthier Burridge contest was in ten-minute bouts. Burridge took the first fall in three minutes. He was the aggressor nearly all the way. Both men went at it in lively shape and there were few slow moments. Burridge got the fall by a back bar hold after the men had broken apart slightly, after a period in which Gauthier was on the mat.

The second lasted five minutes and was taken by Burridge with a half Nelson and body roll. Burridge did the leading and although Gauthier struggled gamely, he did not have the strength to handle his husky and lively opponent. Burridge had the best of the bout on the whole and showed himself strong, speedy and tricky.

This ended the wrestling.

THE BOXING.

In the first of the boxing contests, "Happy" O'Toole and Kid Downey, two local youngsters furnished a lively four round bout. Honors were about even throughout. Near the end of the fourth round Downey was awarded the bout on a foul. The boys showed plenty of speed, and considerable science. Downey had a slight advantage in reach, but O'Toole generally had the advantage when the fighters came to close quarters.

WALLACE—BROOM.

"Bill" Walace of Peterborough, was given the decision over Jack Broom of Lindsay in a six-round bout. The local man had slightly the better of the fighting, doing most of the leading and landing more frequently. Broom had the fifth round well in hand, but in the other five Wallace was more aggressive. The mill was to decide the 125 pound championship of the Midland district.

In round one Wallace forced his man through the ropes with a hard drive and Broom was groggy when he came back into the ring, but the gong sounded and he went to his corner. The second round was without feature. Broom got a few jab's, to his opponents ribs but they were without effect. The third round was lively. Walace landed on Broom's nose drawing blood. The fourth was about even, but in the fifth Broom came strong and did most of the leading. Wallace had the long end of it in the sixth. The local man came strong and had the Englishman groggy. There was no knockout, the decision being given on points.

BURNS—DALY.

Lex. Burns of Peterborough, and Tommy Daly of Toronto, the 125 pound champion of Canada, and who is competing in the 135 pound class this year, gave a lively three round exhibition, it having been previously agreed that no decision would be given. Burns did most of the leading, and would have been given the bout on points. Daly contented himself largely with defensive tactics, and did not succeed in landing on his man with any effect. In the third round Burns got a right swing to the champion's head, with some force and it slightly staggered his man. This wakened Daly up and he went after his opponent, but Burns defended himself skilfully and the champion could not hit him.

It was a fine clean mill, and both men were heartily applauded at the finish.

The Barry-Broom bout was the last on the programme. Barry's easy victory has been already described. Barry is one of the cleverest boys with the padded mittens that has ever appeared in a local ring. He has a finished style and was in fine condition. He recently fought fifteen rounds to a draw, against Billy Allen of Ottawa, light weight champion of Canada.

An Evening With Leading Authors

Profitable Meeting Held by Y.M.C.A. Debating Club

Another splendid meeting was added to the excellent series of the Y.M.C.A. Debating Club, held during the present season, which is now drawing to a close.

President Shiner occupied the chair. A goodly number of members responded to the roll call with a popular quotation.

Mr. Greenhalgh by request read a series of selections from Ruskin's "Seaame and Lilies."

It was author's night, and the lives and works of three popular authors were dealt with.

Mr. Fred Ray's paper on "Shakespeare," was a most comprehensive portrayal of the character and works of the Bard of Avon.

Mr. Wm. McLaren added the usual humorous spice to the programme in giving a sketch of the works of Charles Dickens—concluding with a recital of the attorney's speech in the celebrated case of Bardell vs. Pickwick.

Mr. G. Howarth gave "Robert Burns, and very cleverly sketched his life and works. The strong and weak features of his character, were faithfully presented. Mr. Howarth read some selections from his poems and though an Englishman, did very well with the Scotch.

A discussion followed in which a number of members participated.

A business meeting was then held and arrangements made for the Mock Parliament and closing banquet at next meeting.

A very hearty vote of thanks was tendered to Messrs. Shiner and Lillie for the able way in which they had represented the club in the debate with St. Andrew's Guild.

Three Months in the County Gaol

For Jas. Wilson tor Stealing a Quantity of Soap

At the Police Court this morning before His Worship Magistrate Dumble, Jas. Wilson, who was remanded last Friday on a charge of stealing a quantity of soap, the property of Jos. Losey, was given three months at hard labor in the county gaol.

When the charge was read to Wilson he decided to be tried by the magistrate. At first he pleaded not guilty. As Losey was not present the trial could not be proceeded with and the prisoner was remanded again. Wilson asked the Magistrate if he would not give him what he intended to give him and finish it right away. He changed his mind and pleaded guilty and in his defence claimed that he stole the soap while under the influence of liquor. There was also a charge of vagrancy against him. Wilson is a poor, unfortunate fellow. He works part of this time, but is adicted to the use of liquor.

The Magistrate decided to give him a three months term in the county gaol where he would be without liquor, and probably when he got out he would have sense enough to leave fire water alone.

Coates Company Expect to Open Negotiations Again Shortly

Letter to City Solicitor Hall Explains the Position of Affairs at Present—Outlook Not Nearly so Dark as at First Reported.

The report which appeared recently that the Coates Company was not likely to come to Peterborough, was incorrect. Everyone who was connected with the negotiations between the city and the company knew the report was incorrect at the time. The story of the whole thing is, briefly, that Mr. Dunwoodie, who was in charge of the Canadian end of the business for the company, received a message to return to Scotland. This message was received just as the agreement between the city and company was about completed and ready to be signed. Of course negotiations were then brought to a halt, as Mr. Dunwoodie left at once for the Old Country. It was no fault, however, of the city, and had nothing whatever to do with the agreement.

The information is now at hand, and the citizens generally will be pleased to know that the prospects of the big manufacturing concern locating in this city are not nearly so black as at first reported, and it may be only a short time when the negotiations will again proceed and the Coates Co. will start erecting their factories.

So far as Peterborough is concerned, it has nothing to fear. There is no other place in Canada which will secure this plum and as soon as the capitalists get ready to start this city will be notified.

City Solicitor E. H. D. Hall has received the following letter, which will be of interest:—

E. H. D. Hall,
City Solicitor,
Peterborough, Ont;

Dear Sir,—We are now in receipt of a letter from Mr. Coates confirming his cablegram to the effect that the negotiations which have been carried on with the city of Peterborough must for the present be considered as suspended. Mr. Coates advises us that he hopes it will not be long before circumstances will permit of the negotiations being re-opened.

Yours faithfully,
BLAKE, LASH & CASSELS.

Cabinet Minister Ejected From Hotel

Serious Charges Made by Fredericton Gleaner Against Hon. Mr. Emmerson

A Fredericton, N.B., despatch says; The Gleaner, the leading Conservative daily in this province and published by the Gleaner Co., Ltd., of which George W. Fowler, M.P., is president, comments editorially, on Parliament's action on Henri Bourassa's resolution in part as follows;

"The resolution was not accepted because Sir Wilfrid and his colleagues in the cabinet, feared the production of "data" which had to do with the record of the federal cabinet ministers in their connection with "wine, women and graft."

"The hireling press take the position that the resolution was unfairly drawn and that the opposition were simply using Dr. Bourassa. Intelligence at once suggests that this proposition is absurd. Mr. Bourassa acted from a sense of public duty, quite independently of either political party."

And referring to an editorial in the St. John Sun, accusing Mr Fowler of having "neither courage nor decency to retreat," says;

"This kind of treatment, which Mr. Emmerson himself would accord to gentlemen, has, through kindness of heart, spared the minister of railways of Canada from the humiliation of appearing publicly before the country as an intolerable reprobate.

"Mr Bourassa, with a knowledge of the facts, drew the attention of the premier to the public rumor that a minister of his cabinet had been put out of hotels and public places of amusement, with women.

"This minister was Mr. Emmerson himself, and one of the places from which he was ejected with two women............not long since, was the St Lawrence Hall, Montreal, and there are others.

"It was not lack of courage that influenced Mr. Fowler not to proceed further and prefer charges in parliament which he could readily prove. It was charitableness of heart which influenced him, only to be met, however, after Mr. Emmerson thought he was out of the woods,' by bold defence and indecency of attitude in his St. John organ.

"The situation as presented yesterday is one that public opinion in this country will not tolerate much longer. Sir Wilfrid must purge his government at once or step down and out."

Suggestion to the Opera House People

Citizen Would Like Return Engagement of Kerry Gow

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir.—As the presentation of "Kerry Gow" in the Grand Opera House tomorrow comes at a season of the year when a large number of our citizens, who enjoy an Irish play, abstain from pleasures of various kinds, I desire to suggest to the management of the local play house that Mr. Allen Doone and his company be secured for another appearance in this city before the season closes. I feel confident that a crowded house would then greet the production. "Kerry Gow" is a sparkling Irish drama—not a low play, as a correspondent stated, but on the contrary, elevating in its scope and free from any unkind references to any nationality or sect.

It is a production that naturally appeals to all lovers of Irish drama as it portrays to a wonderful degree, the many admirable traits in the Irish character, and wherever it is presented, the sons and daughters of the Green Isle and their descendants patronize it. For this reason I again suggest that the company be induced to return to the city for another presentation at an early date.

Yours, etc.,
T. J. B.

The Observance of Good Friday

"Liberty" Gives His Views on a Subject of Much Interest

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir.—Those who propose to celebrate Good Friday should be consistent and observe it as a fast day, as befits the occasion, and not as a feast day, or for pleasure seeking. For those who do not wish to keep it, there is no divine command to observe it, nor penalty for its violation, as it was ordained by man. It is a legal holiday in Canada, but for secular purposes only and anyone is at liberty to do as he pleases, so long as he keeps within the pale of the civil law. Any attempt to enforce its observance after any particular fashion would savor of puritanic rigidity and would be against the spirit of this liberty-loving age of the twentieth century. Although it is observed in the Roman Catholic church, no mass is celebrated. It is also observed in the English church, but not in the Presbyterian. It is, of course, the Friday preceding Easter Sunday, but its date cannot be accurately fixed for the date of Easter itself, which had its origin with the Jews, if not the Pagans, who did not believe in Christ, cannot be accurately ascertained, because it has been variously fixed by different countries, and changed from time to time until eventually it was fixed by Act of Parliament. However, the day we now observe, is faulty in two respects. The full moon is substituted for the fourteenth day of the Jewish month, Abib, and the moon of the heaven for the calendar month.

Yours, etc.,
LIBERTY.

GRAND RE-OPENING OF SCOTT'S COLLOSEUM

Scott's Colloseum, at 432 George st., which has been closed during Lent, re-opens Monday afternoon, April 1st. The opening programme, in moving pictures, "The Life of a Cowboy," should be seen by all who have visited the west or read about the cowboy in his native haunts. The price of admission, only 5 cents, should enable both young and old to see this wonderful series, of which follows a synopsis ;—

IS SETTLED OUT OF COURT

Breach of Promise Case Will Not be on the Docket

The action brought by Miss Alice Porter of this city, against John M. Roszel to recover $2000 for breach of promise, has been settled out of court. The case was to have come up at the spring assizes of the High Court, which open on April 8th, but the lawyers for the parties interested, have had several conferences during the past few days with the result that a settlement has been reached, and the matter will not be brought into court. It is said that Miss Porter will receive $1,000, for which consideration she has agreed to drop the suit.

Harvey Township Man Applies For License to Sell Liquor

Petition Has Been Received by the License Inspector—Not Likely to be Any Changes in the City—Board Meets To-night.

Nathaniel Pearson, who resides at Buckhorn, in Harvey township, has sent in a petition to the License Inspector for West Peterborough, asking for a license to sell liquors for the year commencing May 1st. The petition is signed by a majority of the ratepayers of the polling sub-division in question. Mr. Stewart, License Inspector, visited Buckhorn a few days ago and inspected the premises which Mr. Pearson intends converting into a hotel and will report to the commissioners regarding the advisability of granting Mr. Pearson a license.

This is the only new application for a license that has yet been received. All the present license holders in Peterborough are applying for a renewal of their licenses. There are nineteen hotels and four shop licenses. From present appearances, there will be no changes in the city when the new license commences on May 1st.

The License Board will meet tonight for the purpose of naming a date before which all the applications for licenses must be in. It is likely that some day about the middle of April will be selected.

The license law is being well kept by the hotelmen of Peterborough. Very few complaints have been heard lately, and for some time there has been no trouble worth speaking of.

Annual Meeting of Midland League

Representatives of Local Baseball Club Go to Oshawa To-morrow

Messrs. Arthur Johnston and Harry Burridge will represent the Peterborough Baseball Club at the annual meeting of the Midland League to be held in Oshawa tomorrow. In all probability there will be six teams in the League this season. Peterborough, Lindsay, Bowmanville, Oshawa, Cobourg and Port Hope will most likely have teams in the League and an interesting season is looked forward to by the fans.

The Peterborough team will hold a meeting early next week for the purpose of organizing for the season and most likely a strong team will be placed in the field. The home nine will have a splendid battery in the persons of Messrs. Cortey Burns and Harry Burridge.

All the Teams Are Now Even

Great Struggle for First Place in Basketball League

Two of the fastest and closest basketball games of the season were played last night in the Y.M.C.A. gym, when Richardson vs. Best, and Dobbin vs. Lang, battled for the honors. In the first game Richardson defeated Best by the score of 31-29, and in the second Lang defeated Dobbin by the score of 30-27. This shows the teams to be evenly matched all through and the best kind of ball was played. Last night's results place all the teams tie for the honors, so the winners of next Wednesday night's games will play an extra game to settle the question of supremacy. The games next week will be of the hardest kind as the two losers will be put out of the running. These games are by far the best of the season, and all those interested in basketball should see them next Wednesday night. No admission fee is charged.

The teams lined up as follows;

Richardson, captain. Fitzgerald, defence, Wallace, centre, M. Dobbin, Yelland, forwards.

Best, captain, Weatherstone, defence, Huston, centre, Darling, Emmerson, forwards.

Laing, captain, centre, Robertson, Best, forward, Elliott, Dobson, defence.

Dobbin, captain, centre, Loomis, Cressman, forward, Turner, Brasce, defence.

Mr. Jack Laing made a capable referee.

LEARN DRESSMAKING

IN TWO WEEKS

We teach you everything from the plainest shirt waist to the most elaborate toilette that can be found in the fashion books. We show you how to put together not only the lining but all the outer goods in coats, skirts, wrappers, waists, sleeves, collars, etc. Why spend months at a dressmaking shop where you do nothing but hem, overcast, sew on hooks and eyes, and then after you have served months there

What do you know about cutting? Absolutely nothing, for you will know no more how to cut out a dress at the end of a year than you did just the day you went there. So why spend your time there when we can teach you in two weeks. You can come and try for a week and see for yourself what its like as there is nothing to be paid in advance you certainly would not loose anything by trying. We have taught over 2,000 this way within the past 6 years in Western Ontario and all recommend it very highly.

Charge for full course is only $10 to be paid when course is completed if satisfied including one of most perfect fitting systems in use which we give free. We guarantee that the waists made by this chart will not draw nor pull out of skirt when raising arm.

AN EVENING CLASS will also be taught. In this class we will teach shirt waists, sleeves, and saques. This course will be $4.00 and hours from 7 to 9. We will teach at Peterboro from April 8th to April 20th. Hours for day class from 9 to 5. All wishing to learn be sure to see us at the Oriental Hotel on Saturdas, April 6th between 10 and 5 o'clock. This is positively the last class we will teach at Peterboro' this year.

Dr. Hugo's Health Tablets for Women

Make Healthy Women.

Upon being taken into the stomach, the various ingredients are absorbed by the blood, and then find their way to every organ and tissue.

Some reach the uterine system. These allay inflammation, stop all drains on the system and make women regular.

Some strengthen the stomach. They help digestion and increase the appetite.

Others act on the bowels. They cure constipation.

Other ingredients stimulate the liver and kidneys in carrying off impurities from the system.

Others reach the nerves. These tone up the nervous system and supply vital energy, thereby curing the nervousness, irritability, and melancholy, to which so many women are subject.

The full effect of all the medicaments in the tablets is to arouse the entire female system to renewed life and vigor.

Improvement is noticed the first week.

Shooting Ducks Near Rice Lake

Creeks are Full of Wild Game and There is no Game Warden to Protect Them

A number of residents of Keene called at the Review office and made complaints about people shooting ducks around Rice Lake. The practice, they said, was very common this spring. It was possible to hear shooting from all directions, and they feared the slaughter of the game bird was great. The ducks are just returning from their winter quarters, and as Rice Lake is not yet open, the birds resort to the small creeks running into it and thus the law breakers have great opportunities to bring down the birds.

There is no game warden at Keene, and, consequently, the "poor" sports follow their occupation recklessly. There is nothing to fear and lots of ducks to get. The people of Keene have been asking for a game warden for a long time and they would like the government's attention drawn to the present condition of affairs.

Board of Works Meet on Street

Examined Downie Street Creek and a Couple of Other Places on Thursday

On Thursday afternoon the Board of Works met on the banks of the Downie Street Creek for the purpose of investigating the trouble between the residents there over the diverting of the course of the creek. The aldermen looked over the proposed course, but as the residents affected, have not agreed on any one point the Board is unable to act. As soon as those people are united the Board of Works will proceed with the work.

A visit was also paid to Victoria avenue, which is in a very bad condition. This will be repaired at once and a new sidewalk put in as soon as the weather permits. The aldermen then went to the corner of Dublin and Bethune streets, where the water off the Smith street hill is causing trouble, and also looked over that part of Bethune street for which an application is in for a new walk.

The Board of Works will meet this evening at 7.30 for the purpose of putting through a few little matters before the council meeting on Monday night.

To Start Drives Down Next Week

Cavendish Lumber Co. Will Have Seven Crews and 25,000,000 Feet of Lumber

All the foremen of the Cavendish Lumber Co. are in the city for a couple of days, gathering up their men to go back to the woods again. They expect to leave the first of the week, and as soon as they get there will start the drives down. This year the Cavendish Company will have seven crews and will bring down 25,000,000 feet as the result of the winter's operations. The lakes are now all open and there is nothing to prevent the movement of the logs.

The Macdonald Lumber Company are also preparing to start their drives, and if possible, they will pull out of Gull Lake ahead of the Cavendish Co., as they come right through to the city.

The Cavendish Co. will leave all the pine, about 15,000,000 feet, at Lakefield, while the mixed woods, about 10,000,000 feet, will be sent on down to the Peterborough mills at Point St. Charles.

Representative of Chemical Co.

Visited the Condensed Peat & Fuel Co's Plant

Early this week a well known prominent gentleman, who is connected with a large Chemical Co., for the extraction of alcohol and other byeproducts from wood, visited this city.

There was some speculation as to the object of his visit, particularly as he disappeared immediately after he arrived, returned later and took the next train home. It has leaked out, however, that he came to interview the manager of the Condensed Peat Fuel Co., with a view to establish a chemical plant to utilize the several valuable products which are known to exist in this material in good paying quantities.

We cannot get the particulars of the result, but it is understood that the interview was eminently satisfactory to both parties.

Early Ploughing in North Monaghan

Mr. Albert Bowes Started on Thursday

The fine weather of the past week has dried up the land considerably and as a result some of the farmers have started their spring ploughing. Mr. Albert Bowes of North Monaghan, commenced ploughing on his farm on Thursday. This is a much earlier start than in previous years, but if the present weather continues, the farmers will soon all be at it. Mr. Bowes is the first one heard of to begin this spring. His farm is situated on a high level, and would dry much quicker than low lying farms, and thus he was able to start earlier. Mr. Bowes has made such an early start in ploughing that he will be the first to the market with early vegetables.

Water Pipe Broke on George Street

Yesterday afternoon about half past two, water was noticed oozing out of the ground like a spring at the corner of George and Hunter streets, near the Bank of Toronto. The water kept coming up all the afternoon and the waterworks superintendent was notified. He got men down from the pump house and at five o'clock they commenced digging for the leak. After working for some time they found a lead joint in the water main on George street had broken and was causing the trouble. It was quickly repaired, and everything was all right again, by eleven o'clock last night.

LATH MILLS ARE VERY BUSY

Mr. Jos. Gray Will Enlarge His Mill and Put in a Planer

The manufacturing of laths for building purposes, seems to be booming in this city, and if the output is any criterion, building operations this season promise to exceed any other year in the history of the city. A lath mill has been in operation all winter on Dixon Lane, just west of Victoria Avenue, and the proprietor Mr. Joseph Gray, has been unable to supply the many orders received for lath, and is seriously considering the question of enlarging his plant. Power is at present supplied by a gasoline engine, but Mr. Gray intends to replace this by installing an up-to-date engine to be run by steam, and he will also put in a planer.

WERE WEDDED AT VILLIERS

Miss Mary I. Robertson Becomes the Bride of Mr. Sidney A. Smithson

Special to the Review.

Keene, March 30.—A very pretty wedding was solemnized on Thursday evening in Villiers, when Miss Mary Isabella Robertson, daughter of Mr. Andrew Robertson, was united in marriage to Mr. Sidney A. Smithson, late of the Peterborough Business College staff. The ceremony was performed by Rev. D. D. McDonald, of Keene, and was witnessed by about sixty guests. The bride looked charming in a dress of white silk. She wore the usual bridal veil and carried a bouquet of white carnations. Miss Elizabeth Smithson, sister of the bride, who was also beautifully attired, acted as bridesmaid. The groom was ably assisted by his brother. Mr. Morley Smithson.

After the ceremony the guests partook of a sumptuous wedding repast and hearty congratulations were bestowed upon bride and groom. Among the invited guests from a distance were Mrs. John Smithson, of Toronto, and Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Weir, Berlin.

Mr. and Mrs. Smithson will reside in Norwood, where Mr. Smithson has accepted a position as principal of the Public school.

A WONDERFUL CURE OF RHEUMATISM

THE CAUSE An excess of uric acid and ureates are deposited in the tissues of the body and joints, causing aches and pains which are called rheumatic.

All the various causes of rheumatism, such as the acute, articular, muscular and gout, have the same common cause—Uric Acid.

To effect a satisfactory cure the uric acid must be removed. This can only be done by introducing into the circulation a remedy which will dissolve the uric acid and stimulate the action of the excretory organs.

No Case That Ferrozone Can't Cure

The remarkable success of Ferrozone is due to the fact that it attacks the disease in the blood. It goes right to the root and cause of the trouble.

Ferrozone is a perfect solvent for uric acid and quickly destroys its evil effect. It stimulates and quickens the sluggish circulation and drives every trace of rheumatic poison out of the system.

Rheumatism Can't Last if FERROZONE is Used.

We have conclusive proof of this. The strongest possible endorsements from people who have been cured after all else failed. If you suffer from rheumatism yourself, or in case you have a friend or relative subject to this disease, read the following—they tell their own tale.

LIFE-LONG CRIPPLE CURED

Mr. Louis Noll, 15 Fulton street, New York, N. Y., writes: "Ever since boyhood I have been a sufferer from rheumatism. My joints were twisted and swollen, and the pain at times was really intense. I used gallons of liniments, vapor baths, and other treatments, but was first noticeably relieved by Ferrozone. It cured me perfectly after taking twelve boxes."

Mr. Henry Heer, Pharmacist, 23 Eldridge Ave., New York, vouches for Mr. Noll's absolute cure. He says: "Mr. Noll has been freed from chronic rheumatism by Ferrozone. For years he has not been so well, and today shows no signs of rheumatic trouble. It is a pleasure to recommend Ferrozone."

The BEST remedy for rheumatism that science has produced is Ferrozone—it is unquestionably the only sure and lasting cure. Sold everywhere by druggists. Price 50c per box or six boxes for $2.50—by mail to any address if price is forwarded to N. C. POLSON & CO., Kingston, Ont., and Hartford, Conn., U.S.A.

FERROZONE, THE ONE SURE CURE.

Whole Villages are Laid Low And Hundreds are Killed

Roumanian Troops Use Artillery to Put Down Riots.

Drastic Steps Taken to Quell Peasant Rising—Shrapnel Mows Down the Rebels—Cannon Brought Into Play—Shops Closed For Protection—Trains Are Looted—Officers Killed and Wounded—Terrible Atrocities.

Bucharest, Roumania, March 30.—The efforts of the Government to suppress the revolt of the peasants have met with only partial success. The troops are acting with increased energy.

Hundreds of rioters have been killed in the numerous conflicts with the soldiers, but as yet there is no sign of permanent amelioration of the situation. On the contrary, the rioters appear to be becoming more bold and determined and yesterday the situation undoubtedly was aggravated.

As an indication of the nervous apprehension existing even in the capital, the new prefect of Bucharest, as a measure of precaution, ordered all shops in the city closed. This order created the impression that the rioters were approaching Bucharest and there was panic until it was learned that these fears were groundless.

At Tirgovistea, in the Argesh district, a band of peasants attempted Thursday to raid an arsenal and procure a supply of rifles and ammunition. Upon being repulsed by the troops, the rioters set fire to many houses in the town.

Brought to Bay by Troops.

The roving bands of peasants in the district of Teleerman were surrounded and brought to bay Thursday by detachments of troops.

At Viaskha, a band of peasants were summoned to disperse, refused to do so and opened fire on the troops, whereupon the latter fired three shots at them from a field gun, killing seventy men and wounding many more. According to an unconfirmed version of the encounter, 200 of the peasants were killed.

A squadron of Hussars went to Brabova, came in conflict with a band of peasants, and it is reported that fifty of the latter were killed.

A train running between Bucharest and Komona was stopped by rioters and thoroughly looted.

There is a slight improvement in the situation at Jassy. The streets of the city are empty, and the shops still shut. The peasants there apparently were overawed by the concentration of troops.

Many Slain In Village.

A serious encounter is reported to have taken place at the Village of Papanhabestie, in which many peasants were killed or wounded.

The bombardment of the three villages in the Viaschka district, in which rioters had taken refuge, undoubtedly resulted in a very large casualty list, but the exact numbers cannot be learned. It is known, however, that several hundred peasants were arrested there.

There have been sanguinary encounters in the district of Dalj, but details are lacking. The peasants there are riotous, and rumor places the number killed and wounded in encounters with the troops at several hundred.

The authorities are beginning to use artillery to bombard the village where the rioters take refuge.

The peasants committed terrible atrocities in the Burzee district, and the troops sent thither had orders to suppress the disturbances at any cost.

Eleven Officers Killed.

It is impossible to give even an approximate estimate of the number killed or wounded since the beginning of the disorders, but there is apparently good reason to believe that the reports have not been exaggerated, and that when the totals finally are learned they will be greater than is now supposed. Not less than eleven army officers have been killed or wounded.

It is reported that in Northern Moldavia, where the rioting was temporarily suspended, the peasants intend to recommence their pillaging during the Jewish passover, if the promises made to them by the Government are not fulfilled.

The authorities are doing all they possibly can do to restore order, and some of the measures adopted are severe. Premier Sturdza yesterday had both Houses of Parliament adopt a bill authorizing the Government, in view of the grave circumstances throughout the country, to declare a state of siege wherever necessary.

Order Restored In Moldavia.

Bucharest, March 30.—An official report just issued says order has now been restored in Moldavia, that prefects are traveling through the troubled districts quieting the agitated peasants, and that disputes between peasants and landowners are being settled amicably.

To Suppress Lotteries.

London, March 30.—(C. A. P.)—The Victorian state Parliament has passed the Gaming Suppression Act. All lotteries, whether for charities or for public or private gain, are illegal. Advertisers, sellers, printers and transmitters of tickets are made subject to the direct penalties.

As to what constitutes "a place," it is defined thus: "Any place whatsoever, whether within building or not; whether open land or water; whether defined as to area or not, and whether private property or otherwise; any normally private premises may under given circumstances become in the eyes of the law a common gaming house.

Betting is expressly allowed upon any licensed racecourse during race meetings.

Hunts Disabled Ship.

St. John's, Nfld., March 30.—The steamer Portia, chartered by the Government to make a search for the disabled sealing steamer Greenland, sailed from this port yesterday.

The Greenland, with 183 men on board, has been reported adrift in the North Atlantic, with her shaft disabled.

The claims against Montreal during the winter for damages for accidents reach a total of $100,000.

200 FAMILIES HOMELESS.

Serious Floods at Janesville and Clarkstown.

Ottawa, March 30.—The Rideau river is in serious flood, and 200 families are homeless in Janesville and Clarkstown. Communication with Ottawa is cut off.

A funeral car attempted to cross the river and was swept away, with the corpse. The mourners jumped off and saved it.

The heavy rains are not improving matters, and there is fear for the safety of some of the bridges above Ottawa.

Yamaska River In Flood.

St. Hyacinthe, March 30.—The Yamaska River overflowed its banks in the lower part of the city Thursday night, through the breaking of the ice at the rapids. The water was over the first floor of the houses on a few streets, but the damage was not serious.

The ice began to move about four o'clock, near the Grand Trunk bridge, and about two o'clock yesterday morning it was at Rapid Plat, five miles down, where the Light & Power Co. have their works. This will save the city from any damages.

Landslide Buries Cars.

Quebec, March 30.—There was quite a landslide at Montmorency Falls, just to the north of the elevator yesterday. A great body of earth, heavily soaked with water, broke loose about half way up the cliff and crashed down on cars on the siding.

Reports from all stations from Cape Rouge to Montreal state that the ice bridge is still solid, with the water remarkably low for the season.

The ice is in the same condition as La Prairie, where there is no flood as yet.

The ice is still hard at Yamaska but the water is getting higher.

At Three Rivers the ice is solid. The water rose 6 inches since Thursday.

CANADA AND MAIL MATTER.

Dominion and United States Postal Representatives Hold Conference.

Washington, March 30.—With a view if possible of arriving at a satisfactory adjustment of questions affecting second-class mail matter entering Canada from the United States, representatives of the Dominion were in conference yesterday with Postmaster-General Meyer, Second Assistant Postmaster-General Shallenberger and other officials.

The action of the Canadian authorities in giving notice of their desire to withdraw from the postal convention with this country, with respect to second-class matter, was the principal topic of discussion.

Various propositions were advanced on both sides, which, it is believed will have the effect of bringing the two countries together in an arrangement more acceptable to Canada.

Yesterday's conference was supplemented to one recently had with the Canadian postal officials in Ottawa by Gen. Shallenberger. The Canadian officials here are Postmaster-General Lemieux, Deputy Postmaster-General R. M. Coulter and Mr. Smith of the Canadian Department of Posts.

A MURDEROUS ATTACK.

Old Inmate of Elgin House of Industry May Die.

St. Thomas, March 30.—Wm. Brannon, an inmate of the Elgin House of Industry, was attacked by Patrick Murphy, another inmate, who is subject to "brain storm," at the institution Thursday night, and received injuries which, coupled with his advanced age, may result in his death. Murphy has been locked in a room every night on account of insane outbursts, and Brannon was closing the door for the night when attacked. He received cuts and bruises on the head and his hip was fractured. He is in a precarious condition. Murphy has been arrested and will be sent to the asylum. Brannon, who is a veteran of the Indian mutiny, and went through the siege of Lucknow, belongs to Springfield, Ont., and Murphy to Bayham.

TWELVE MEN'S AGE 1,086 YEARS.

Austrian Emperor Washes Their Feet and Feeds Them.

Vienna, March 30.—Emperor Francis Joseph performed the usual Maundy Thursday ceremony, before a gathering of archdukes, diplomats and state officials. Before washing the feet of 12 aged men, the emperor and the archdukes personally served them with a repast of several courses.

The ceremony was concluded with the bestowal of silk purses containing 30 silver pieces, which the Emperor hung around the neck of each of the old men.

The ages of the 12 men totaled 1,086 years.

Three Killed On Car.

Somerville, Mass., March 30.—Three men, two of them dead and the other fatally hurt, were found in a heap on top of a freight car at the local Boston & Maine Railroad station yesterday.

Apparently while riding on top of the car, the men had struck an overhead bridge.

The unconscious man revived sufficiently to state that his name was Thomas Donovan, and that he and the other man had robbed a tobacco store at Leominster.

Before he could tell a longer story he again became insensible, and the physicians say he will die.

Offers $1,000 to Get Boy Back.

Dover, Del., March 30.—Dr. Marvin, father of Horace Marvin, aged 4 years, who has been missing from his home near here for more than two weeks yesterday deposited $1,000 in gold which the cashier of a local bank, which be paid for the return of the boy.

Clark to Oppose Anderson.

Comber, March 30.—Charles Clark, publisher of The Comber Herald, confirms the rumor that he will run as an independent candidate against Dr. Anderson, the choice of the Conservatives of South Essex, in the next provincial election.

Mme. Eames, the great opera singer, is suing for a divorce. No opera singer is great unless she has figured in a divorce case.

MEN SWEPT OVERBOARD

C. P. R. Liner Lake Manitoba Arrives at St. John in Safety.

Was Nearly Five Days Overdue—Vessel Had Terrible Voyage—Swept by Huge Seas—Passed at Close Range 16 Icebergs—Passengers Had Hard Time—Brings Over Thirteen Hundred English Emigrants.

St. John, N. B., March 30.—After a terrible experience in one of the worst storms of the winter, the C. P. R. liner Manitoba reached port Thursday forenoon from Liverpool nearly five days overdue. The Manitoba sailed from Liverpool on March 13, having on board 1,343 passengers, which included 59 saloon, 138 second cabin and 1,146 steerage. On the fourth day out from Liverpool the storm, the worst ever experienced by Capt. Evans, was encountered. A fierce gale lashed the seas in fury, the passengers were deathly sick, and all on board put in a most miserable week. Seas continually broke over the steamer, and at times she was practically helpless. The Manitoba ran into a veritable field of icebergs and passed at close range no less than fifteen of them, the steamer during the storm having several narrow escapes. The weather cleared on Saturday last, and although Sunday was rather rough, no further hardships were experienced on the run to St. John.

On March 15, the third day out, one of the crew was lost overboard, falling from the bridge deck while engaged in cleaning. He was Richard Davies, a native of England. A repetition occurred on Wednesday night about 11.30 o'clock, while the Manitoba was off Briar Island. One of the sailors, named Crabtree, an Englishman, missed his footing and was never seen afterwards. A boat was quickly manned and beat about the vicinity for two hours, but without results. Of the total passenger list only 75 are for the United States.

With hardly an exception the passengers are English people of the right class, and look as if they would make valuable citizens.

On arrival here they presented a pitiable appearance, all showing effects of violent attacks of seasickness.

TRIED TO FOLLOW BABY.

Demented Mother Tries to Squeeze Through Port Hole Into Sea.

New York, March 30.—A demented mother threw her 14-months old baby infant into the sea and then attempted to follow, according to the officers of the steamer Konig Albert, which arrived here yesterday from Genoa.

Mrs. Florena Aquila embarked with her husband and five of her eleven children, at Naples. One son already was in America.

Early in the voyage Mrs. Aquila and the infant daughter contracted measles and were sent to the ship's hospital.

The mother's mind became affected, and Wednesday last she thrust the infant through a port hole and attempted to follow.

A seaman saw the body of the child fall from the porthole, and, while the ship was being stopped, attendants found Mrs. Aquila trying to force her body through the port hole. She was rescued.

No trace of the infant's body was found.

LOCOMOTIVE BLEW UP.

Engineer Missing—Believed He Was Blown to Pieces.

Youngstown, Ohio, March 30.—A locomotive attached to an ore train on the Pittsburg, Youngstown and Ashtabula road, a branch of the Lake Shore, exploded at Lockwood, 30 miles south-east of here, yesterday. The engineer, H. H. Watson, of Maroningtown, Pa., cannot be found, and it is supposed that he was blown to pieces. The fireman and brakeman and a tramp were badly hurt.

When the engine boiler blew up, the locomotive and twelve cars of ore went down an embankment. The engine was demolished.

Trampled By Team.

Brockville, Ont., March 30.—A possibly fatal accident is reported from Potland, the victim being Joseph Ready, of Perth, who had gone to that place on a visit to relatives. Ready is an invalid from rheumatism, and, after being helped out of a wagon, stood holding the horses while the driver went inside with his grip. The horses, one of which was a colt, became unmanageable, and getting him under their feet trampled him before the driver succeeded in rescuing him. One leg was broken and his head and face a mass of cuts and bruises. His recovery is doubtful.

LIBERALS HOLD SEAT.

Suffragists and Tariff Reformers Lose Bye-Election.

London, March 30.—R. D. Holt, Liberal, was elected Thursday to represent the Hexham division of Northumberland in Parliament by a majority of 1,157 over Col. Bates, the Unionist candidate.

The vacancy was caused by the elevation of Mr. Beaumont, Liberal, to the peerage, in succession to his father, the late Lord Allendale.

The campaign was fought with great vigor and was marked by wild scenes of disorder. Many meetings were broken up by the Unionists, who hoped to reverse the decision reached at the general election. The miners of the district, however, voted solidly for Mr. Holt, with the result that the Liberals retain the seat, though their majority was cut nearly in two

The woman suffragists were active in opposing the Liberal candidate, while the tariff reformers displayed great activity for the Unionist candidate, who announced that though a tariff reformer, he was opposed to any additional tax on food.

Million Pounds For Nothing.

London, March 30.—(C. A. P.)—An article in The Minor by a Radical member, says: "Lord Elgin must go; he has blundered from the moment he went to Downing street. His last blunder caused quite a Liberal revolt in the House of Commons. The last was the subsidy to the C. P. R. It has been paid on the express understanding that a fast mail service will be established between Great Britain and the far east across the Dominion. No such service exists, and nearly a million has been paid for nothing.

"It is an open secret that the treasury stoutly opposed the subsidy.

Stanford White's Murderer Is Very Calm When Replying

His Answers to Lunacy Commissioners Were Rational.

Prisoner Was Under Fire of Questions For Two Hours—Scope of Enquiry Limited to Thaw's Present Condition—Counsel Pleased With Result So Far—Report to Be Made By Monday.

New York, March 30.—Harry K. Thaw for two hours on Thursday submitted to a running fire of questions by the three men appointed by Justice Fitzgerald as a commission in lunacy to determine his present state of mind.

The examination was exhaustive and, when adjournment was taken until Saturday morning, no one connected with the hearing would discuss the details of the enquiry.

Thaw went willingly and confidently before the commission and, when the two-hour secret session was over, his attorneys appeared with smiling faces and declared they were more than satisfied with the course of the proceedings.

District Attorney Jerome hurried away from the criminal court building, declining to discuss the commission's work.

Limit Scope of Enquiry.

The most important feature of the proceedings was the decision of the commission to limit the scope of its enquiry to the exact language of the statute—to determine solely the question whether or not Harry Thaw is able to understand the nature of the court proceedings against him and to advise his counsel rationally.

To put Thaw thoroughly at ease, the commissioners addressed their questions to him in a conversational tone and in a casual manner, as though he were in conference with them.

Counsel Well Satisfied.

It is said Thaw answered the questions calmly and went into lengthy explanations.

Referring to the day's proceedings, Mr. Hartridge said:

"Harry came out with flying colors. He remembered more about the case than I did. We are confident of the outcome."

It is said the commission purposes to make Thaw narrate the trial from its beginning to test his memory of what has occurred in court. To this end, it was said he was questioned about the part he took in the selection of the jury.

Report On Monday.

The commission may finish its work to-day and be ready to report to Justice Fitzgerald by Monday.

The jury will report in court once more at 10.30 o'clock Monday morning, and it is the hope of the presiding judge and that of the commission that the matter of the defendant's sanity will be disposed of by that time.

If the commission should submit a report to the effect that Thaw fully understands the nature of the proceedings against him and has rationally advised his counsel, Justice Fitzgerald will simply direct that the trial proceed without making public the commission's findings.

If the report is against Thaw, Justice Fitzgerald will announce the fact from the bench, and if he deems the prisoner's release dangerous to the public peace and safety he will sign an order directing his confinement in some state hospital for the insane, probably Mattawan.

Yesterday being Good Friday, there was no session of the lunacy board, and Thaw spent a quiet day in the Tombs preparing for a renewal of his mental test this morning. The session of the commission will again be private.

Any medical advice which the commission may desire will come from Dr. Leopold Putzel, one of its members.

Thaw's counsel are so sanguine of the outcome of the lunacy enquiry that yesterday they were making plans for the resumption of the trial next week. It seems now that, if the trial is resumed, the defence will probably announce that it rests without further testimony.

If the trial goes on it should not last more than three or four days.

Hamilton, Alienist, May Testify.

From sources assumed to be authentic, it was announced late last night that Dr. Allan McLane Hamilton, alienist, would be called upon to testify to-day before the lunacy commission which is to determine whether Harry K. Thaw is competent to understand the nature of the proceedings in his trial for killing Stanford White and to rationally advise his counsel.

France Warns Morocco.

Tangier, March 30.—M. Regnault, French Minister, accompanied by the commander of the French cruiser Jeanne d'Arc, Thursday presented to Mohammed el Torres France's demands for reparation in the case of the murder of Dr. Mauchamp.

Mohammed el Torres was warned that he would be held fully responsible for the carrying out of the French demands and for any anti-European movement which might result therefrom. The representative of the Sultan offered no objection.

Town Wiped Out by Fire.

Laurens, S. C., March 30.—Driven by a stiff wind, fire yesterday swept both the business and residential sections of Newbery, a town of 8,000 population, 30 miles southeast of here, and caused a loss that may reach $500,000. Approximately fifty residences were destroyed, and a score of business houses in the heart of the town are in ruins.

Two hours after the fire broke out the entire city water supply was exhausted and the town was left practically at the mercy of the flames.

Strike Shuts Beer Tap.

St. Louis, March 30.—Two thousand five hundred brewers went out on strike here yesterday for higher wages.

Fear Railway Strike.

Winnipeg, March 30.—There is more or less uneasiness here over fear that the Chicago strike may extend to Western Canada.

"I do not think the men of the western roads will go out," said Wm. Whyte, second vice-president of the C. P. R. "Such a step would be just as detrimental to the men as to the railways."

The officials of the local unions in affiliation with the Brotherhood of Trainmen and Order of Conductors also look for an amicable settlement. While admitting they are not seriously affected by the points at issue, inasmuch as these have practically been granted on both the C. P. R. and the C. N. R., they propose going out if a general strike is ordered.

In that event about three-fifths of the membership of 90,000 would be affected. The tie-up would be only on roads operating west of Fort William and Chicago. About 5,000 employes of the C. N. R., and 11,000 of the C. P. R. would be among members to cease work.

THROUGH THE HEART!

WHEN THE NERVES BECOME A WRECK AND VITALITY RUNS LOW BECAUSE THE HEART FAILS TO DO ITS WORK—THROUGH THE [illegible] HEART—IF CURE COMES—MUST IT COME

Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart

Cures the nerves through the heart. Experience of the highest medical authorities has conclusively proved that the quickest way to cure diseases of the nerves is to fortify the heart with "food" that is natural to it, and that enriches the blood; and it has been proven also, beyond the shadow of a doubt, by this same high medical authority, that Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart is the most potent nerve nourisher and heart strengthener that has been "gathered in" from nature's lap to assuage sufferings, stop pain and heal the heartsick; and when you know that with the heart, the main spring, the balance wheel of life, out of order, the future looks out on nothing but darkness and suffering, why postpone applying the remedy? Why delay taking hold of the healing hand that will lift you back to health? Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart will relieve any and every form of heart disease in 30 minutes.

Margaret Smith, of Brussels, Ontario, says: "Many a time my suffering was so great that I would have hailed death with a welcome, but four bottles of Dr. Agnew's Cure for the heart wrought a wonderful cure in me."

Murderess Also Expelled From Switzerland For Twenty Years.

Thun, Switzerland, March 30.—Mlle. Tatiana Leontieff, the Russian woman who murdered a Frenchman named Muller at Interlaken in September, mistaking him for M. Durnovo, former Minister of the Interior of Russia was sentenced yesterday to four years' solitary confinement and to 20 years' expulsion from the country.

The prisoner complained she had been subjected to brutality by the examining magistrate and the prison wardens, who were unable to deny the charge.

Trying to Get a Reprieve.

London, March 30.—The movement to obtain a reprieve for Horace George Rayner, the young man who was recently sentenced to death for the murder of William Whiteley, which is being conducted here under the leadership of two or three newspapers, is growing.

Names to the petitions to be handed to the Home Secretary are beginning to come in from the colonies and the continent.

A number of women of more or less social prominence are devoting their days to the clerical work necessary to prepare the petitions.

Many of the agitators believe Rayner was insane, while others hold that he was Whiteley's son. Several prominent writers and actors have lent their names to the movement.

WAS IT MURDER?

Englishman Found on Track With Four Ghastly Wounds.

Toronto, March 30.—With his neck on one of the rails, with four wounds in his head, and with his clothing partly torn off, Edward Elliott, an English laborer, was found dying at midnight on Thursday on the G. T. R. main line between Port Credit and Lorne Park. A few minutes after being picked up in an unconscious condition he passed away, and from the attending circumstances there are grave suspicions of foul play. The tragedy was discovered by the crew of a freight train coming into Port Credit, the engine being stopped in time to prevent running over the head and neck. While being hurried to Port Credit he died without being able to tell any of the events that led to his death.

A horrible gash in the back of the head, which bled profusely, was in itself sufficient to cause death, while a small hole in the chin had all the appearance of being the result of a revolver shot. This wound was partly probed by the coroner, but no bullet was found.

The post-mortem examination will be held at Port Credit this morning, and it is expected that this will show whether or not murder was done.

TOOK LIFE WHILE INSANE.

James Clemett Found Dead With Gas Turned On.

Toronto, March 30.—James Clemett was found dead by the police with the gas turned on in his home at 166 Claremont street Thursday morning. The authorities believe death was due to suicide. Every door and window in the house had been firmly fastened and the gas jet above the bed in which the man lay was turned full on. A note on a sheet of notepaper read: "Dear Myrtle, I wish you were here." and an envelope addressed "Give this to my son James." The dead man was a widower and had three small children placed in children's homes. He had some property and a bank account, and the fraternal societies of which he is a member will conduct the funeral. The neighbors say the man was at times very eccentric, and his death may have been brought about by himself during a fit of temporary insanity.

BETTER IN CANADA.

John Burns Strongly Opposed to National Relief Works.

London, March 30.—(C. A. P.)—In the House of Commons Hon. John Burns, speaking on the subject of the unemployed, said there were certain districts where the only remedy was emigration. Men sent to farm colonies generally returned to their own district, but if sent to a place like Canada they are removed morally, physically and industrially from their environment and started on a new life. Rather than adopt a national scheme of relief works, costing a million a year, as suggested by some Labor members, he would resign his portfolio.

A PURCHASE OF POISON.

Important New Testimony Is Expected in Perkins Murder Case.

Cayuga, Ont., March 30.—It is learned on good authority that at the coming trial of Mrs. Perkins, who is charged with administering poison to her husband which caused his death on Christmas Day, new and important testimony with regard to a purchase of poison will be presented by the Crown. It is understood that a Buffalo druggist will testify.

Crown Attorney Murphy, when questioned regarding the source of the poison, declined to make any statement.

Only two of the passengers in the Pullman cars were injured.

Joseph Bonaparte.

Joseph Bonaparte fled to America after the hundred days and bought a home in Philadelphia, where he lived in winter, and a mansion in New Jersey, where he passed his summers. He was much liked in this country, but could not make up his mind to stay here, so returned to Europe, hoping to profit by the changes of government in France. He was always disappointed and found himself an unwelcome guest in every country save England. He finally secured permission to live in Italy and died in Florence in 1844.

Considerate.

Singleton—What have you in that package, old man? Wedderly—An ash receiver. It's a present for my wife. Singleton—What? You don't mean to tell me she smokes cigarettes? Wedderly—Oh, no, but if she has an ash receiver for me to put my cigar ashes in it will save her the trouble of sweeping them up. See?

There are some truths that are perceived less by the intellect than by the heart, and the man who is devoid of this heart perception is lacking in much.—Terrell (Tex.) Transcript.

An Odd Animal Community.

Natural enemies of the animal world are sometimes found living together in extraordinary communities. J. G. Millais in a volume on animals quotes this experience of an observer: "On one occasion when ferreting I bolted a fox, a cat, a stoat and several rabbits and rats out of the same earth. The fox bolted first, after giving the ferret a nip across the back, from the effects of which it died an hour later. Next came the stoat and then the cat, both of which I shot. Then followed the rabbits and rats promiscuously. It was a large burrow on the bank of a deep, dry watercourse and often held a fox when I ferreted it afterward."

Talking Through a Human Body.

To talk through a human body or a row of human bodies, for the matter of that, is one of the weirdest of the electrician's feats. If a telephone wire be severed and the two ends be held by a person, one in each hand, but far apart, it is quite possible for two individuals to carry on a conversation through the body of the medium as readily and as distinctly as if the line had been properly connected.

AFTERMATH OF THE HOLIDAY

Three Cases at This Morning's Police Court—Young Man Disturbs Meeting

The seats in the prisoner's box at the police court this morning were all occupied. The holiday of yesterday was a great temptation for some to get on a drunk. As a result a number of staggering fellows were seen on the street last evening, and some spent the night in cells.

Richard Geary, who was fined a few days ago was there again this morning. He was found drunk. He has not paid his fine for the last spree and His Worship imposed a fine again this morning of two dollars to be paid forthwith or fifteen days in gaol. Geary was penniless so will spend the next fortnight on the hill.

Fred Burleigh was charged with disturbing a meeting at the Salvation Army barracks last evening. Burleigh did not know whether he was guilty, as he was drunk, and did not know what he was doing. His Worship said he would not fine him heavily as he was not accountable for what he had done, but otherwise for such an offence he would impose a severe penalty. Burleigh was given some sound advice and fined two dollars to be paid in ten days.

Wm. Elliot was arrested by P. C. Adams on instructions received from Toronto. He is wanted there on a charge of theft. An officer arrived at noon today to take the prisoner back to Toronto for trial.

Is There Nest Egg of $300,000?

Of Ontario Bank Funds Which Will be Available for Shareholders

Although Charles McGill is now in Kingston Penitentiary, the civil action against him, brought by the curator of the Ontario Bank, of which he was once manager, has not been allowed to drop. It has been placed over upon the docket, but is liable to be tried at any time, and Mr. McGill will have the privilege of coming to Toronto to be present. It is understood that the present delay is due to an investigation which is being made with a view to the possibility of adding the names of the former president and directors as co-defendants. A decision in this matter is expected shortly, as an examination into the bank accounts is now in progress.

There have been sundry rumors in circulation as to the authorities being on the trail of an additional $300,000 of bank assets, which are alleged to have been diverted to the use of a private party, but no confirmation of this is forthcoming. Those interested in the case, say that they would be glad to learn of such a thing, but that at present they had not learned of it. No announcement is yet possible, as to what the shareholders will get out of the bank's assets. The accounting now being made is a very different thing from a realization of assets, but something may possibly be discovered which will affect the amount obtainable for the benefit of stockholders.—Toronto News.

OBITUARY

JOSEPH CRAFTS.

A highly respected resident of the city passed away at his home on Walnut street, on Thursday night in the person of Mr. Joseph Crafts. His death came as a great shock to his family and a large number of friends, for although he had suffered from heart failure for some time it was not expected that the end would come so rapidly. For several days he had been sinking, and death came about 7.30 o'clock Thursday night.

The late Mr. Crafts was 75 years of age, and had been a resident of Peterborough, for the past seven years, coming here from London, Ont., where he was born and lived the greater part of his life. During his residence in this city, Mr. Crafts, had, through his many sterling qualities, won a large number of friends. He was a member of George Street Methodist church and led a consistent Christian life.

Deceased was twice married and is survived by a wife, three sons and four daughters. The sons are Adolphus of Peck, Mich.; Almirian of Casso City, Mich.; and Morris of Peterborough. The daughters are Marion of Detroit; Orra, nurse-in-training at the General Hospital, Omaha, Neb.; and Mina and Amy of Peterborough. Several children of the late Mr. Crafts first marriage are also left to mourn their father's demise. A brother, Mr. Edward Crafts, of Chatham, Ont., is here to attend the funeral. Mr. Almirian Crafts, of Casso City, Mich., was also called home by his father's death.

The funeral took place this afternoon at two o'clock from his late residence, 31 Walnut Street, to Little Lake cemetery. The services were conducted by Rev. Dr. Crothers, and many paid their last tribute of respect.

Shirt Waist Boxes.

Very frequently shirt waist boxes may be bought at reduced prices in the shops, owing perhaps to the coverings, which do not always suit the taste of the purchaser or harmonize in tone with the furnishings of the room for which they are desired. These boxes are very useful not only for shirt waists, but for children's short clothes and shoes, and are often used for patch boxes. They can be easily reupholstered and made more fanciful with little trouble. One seen recently had a box plaited flounce or valance around the box of a dainty patterned cretonne, and the lid was covered smoothly with the same. The inner lining was of self colored chintz corresponding with the dominant shade in the cretonne. Sometimes rollers or casters are used to give more height to the box when it is to be used as a seat. In this capacity it is well to stuff the lid with hair or cotton, and the edges may be finished with a narrow furniture gimp.

Annual Concert Last Evening

By Mission Band of George St. Church—Was a Great Success

The annual Mission Band concert of the George street Methodist church was held last evening in the school house and was a decided success in every way. The concert was largely attended and, judging from the hearty applause which greeted each number, it was much enjoyed. The entire programme was given by the members of the Band and nearly every number had some particular bearing on missionary work. The children seem to take a great interest in the work of the Society and enter into it enthusiastically. Much of the success of the entertainment was due to the untiring efforts of the president, Mrs. Robt. Mann, who trained the girls in the different choruses and drills in which they took part. Mrs. Mann was ably assisted by Miss Belle Butcher and Miss A. Davis.

Rev Dr. Crothers occupied the chair and in a few opening remarks spoke in high appreciation of the good work done by the Mission Band during the past year, under the capable direction of Mrs. Mann, who took such a deep interest in the work. He said, in the Mission Band, the children of the church were trained for the greater and larger work of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society. In former years the people heard of missions only through hearing returned missionaries, but now there are plenty of books and papers reporting on the work that is being done in the missionary field.

Rev. Dr. Crothers then introduced the following interesting programme;

Chorus, Mission Band.
Instrumental trio, Misses Ruth, Regan and Kemp.
Recitation, Audrey Bennett.
Vocal solo, Isabel Beird.
Recitation, Miss Katie Leary.
Vocal solo, Miss Etta Kemp.
Illustrated song, Three girls in Japanese attire.
Vocal solo, Miss Muriel Crothers.
Song of the Bands, Miss A. Bennett and Junior members.
Intermission
Instrumental duett, Misses Edwards and Mann.
Recitation, Miss Bessie Powell.
Cradles of All Nations and Lullaby Song, Miss M. Oliver and eight girls.
Recitation, Miss Willa Blewett.
Recitation, Miss M. Edwards.
Easter drill, by eleven girls.
God Save the King.

During the intermission the members of the Band went around the audience and sold candies, from which a good sum was realized.

HARRY ADAMS

Mrs. John Martin Found Dead; Lying on the Kitchen Floor

Had Not Been Seen by the Neighbors for a Week—Police Forced an Entrance—Had Been Dead for Several Days—Heart Failure the Cause.

A startling discovery was made Thursday afternoon about five o'clock by P. C. Adams, who broke into the residence of Mrs. John Martin, 845 Water street, to find her lying dead on the kitchen floor. Mrs Martin was a life long resident of Peterborough and was between 60 and 65 years of age. She had been living alone for the past four years and as the neighbors had not noticed her around for the past week they became suspicious. Mr. Jas. A. Armour, 847 Water street, communicated with some of the other neighbors and they decided to notify the police.

The Chief and P. C. Adams undertook to investigate the affair and they went to the house. All the doors and windows were locked and an entrance had to be forced. The police went into the house and found the unfortunate woman dead on the kitchen floor.

An examination was made of the house and everything was found in excellent order. There were no signs of any disturbance and there was nothing about the corpse to indicate foul play. The fact was revealed, however, that the woman had been dead for several days. From the relatives and friends it was learned that she had suffered for a long time from heart trouble, although she was able to be around until a week ago, since when she had not been seen.

The deceased was twice married, and is survived by her second husband John Martin, who boards at the Maple Leaf Hotel; two sisters, Mrs. Thos. Desautel, and Miss Fitzgerald, of this city, and one brother, Mr. Fitzgerald, of Ashburnham There are no children.

The police called up Messrs. Lane & Eano, undertakers, as soon as they had made their discovery, to take charge of the body.

The funeral was held yesterday afternoon, and interment took place at the Roman Catholic cemetery, where a brief service was held.

Celebrated China Wedding; Friends Had Enjoyable Time

Mr. and Mrs J. O. Moss, of Alymer Street, Have Been Married Twenty Years—He is a Descendant of a Family of Twenty-four Children—And Has Twelve Brothers and Sisters.

After twenty years of wedded life, which for the most part has been blessed with happiness and contentment, Mr. and Mrs. John Oliver Moss, 59 Aylmer street, last night celebrated their china wedding. There were about thirty-five friends gathered at the happy couple's home and with the six children, thoroughly enjoyed themselves until the small hours of the morning. Mr. and Mrs. Moss are both natives of England, and were married in Norfolk, England on the 28th of March, 1887. Two years later they moved to Canada, settling first in Hastings county, and nine years ago moved to Peterborough, where Mr. Moss has since followed his trade as a stone cutter. He is now acting as superintendent of construction for Mr. S. F. Whitham, of Brantford, who will shortly begin work on the Normal School.

One feature of Mr. Moss' career, which is of great interest, is that he is the youngest son of a family of thirteen children. His mother was a member of a family of twenty-four children, and his father one of a family of ten children. Both his father and mother were very large people and lived to be over seventy years of age. His brothers are all large, he being the only one under six feet.

The celebration Thursday night was the first since they were married and was a great success. Besides receiving the hearty congratulations of their friends, Mr. and Mrs. Moss were the recipients of many very pretty gifts in china. Among those present were Miss Gertrude and Miss Beatrice Sturdy, of Hamilton, the daughters of Mr Moss' sister.

Normal School Being Laid Out by Provincial Officers

Architect Heakes and Engineer Fairburn With Contractor Whitham and Staff Arrived in the City Last Night—Will Let Contracts at Once.

The construction of the new Normal School in Dixon Park has started. Contractor S. F. Whitham, with his son, and Superintendent Wm. Whitham, of Brantford, the Provincial architect, Mr. Heakes, and the Provincial engineer, Mr. Fairburn, arrived in the city last night This morning they went to Dixon Park to locate the site and lay out the building. This will be completed, it is expected, by this evening, or Monday at the latest, and then the excavation will be commenced.

In speaking to the Review last night Mr. Whitham said that early next week he will be able to announce the names of the firms who will supply the brick, stone, lumber, and all other materials, and also those who will do the work. As far as possible he will give local men the contracts. He believes in leaving as much of the money in the city as possible and he has followed this policy very carefully in both Hamilton and Stratford.

Mr J. O. Moss, who has been acting as Mr. Whitham's agent in the city, has secured a lot of information in reference to material and labor, and has secured tenders from the different firms, so that there will be no delay, and the contractors can get busy just as soon as the tenders are let, which will be next week.

In speaking of the other Normal schools Mr. Whitham said that they were progressing very favorably. The Hamilton building is nearly ready for the foundation, while the Stratford building has a good start and will be completed within the specified time. As far as the Peterborough building is concerned, the contractor feels quite sure he will have it ready in time.

A big business transfer was put through on Thursday, which will be a general surprise, although of interest to everyone. Mr. E. F. Mason, of E. F. Mason & Co., the well-known grocers, has purchased the business and real estate connected therewith of Mr. James Edgcumbe. The offer was made, only a couple of days previous, and this morning Mr. Mason was in charge, and for the first time served the public from the new premises.

Mr. Edgcumbe has been in business at the corner of George and Antrim streets for the past nineteen years. He started in a comparatively small way, but has steadily added to his stock and his business has constantly increased until now he has one of the largest and best grocery businesses in the city. He always carried a heavy stock of high-class groceries, and catered to the best class of trade.

The real estate consists of the grocery store, a meat shop, now occupied by Mr. Kemp, two dwellings and a good stable. It is situated in a thickly populated part of the city and there is every prospect of the property becoming more valuable every year. When the Coates Co. get established and the north end begins to boom, Mr. Mason will be in a position to handle a large share of the new grocery business, and he will have the advantage of owning his own premises, and of having got them right. The price paid for the business and property was $12,000, which is a good figure now, but in a couple of years will be considered a bargain.

Mr. Mason now owns three grocery businesses. The main store on George street, which was established by his father, the late W. J. Mason, some 27 years ago, and taken over by him in 1893; the south store on George street, which he practically established himself, in 1902, and now the Edgcumbe business in the north end.

All three of the establishments are doing a big share of the grocery business, and as the city increases in population, so does Mr. Mason's trade, and even more rapidly. By acquiring the third store, this progressive merchant will have the advantage over his competitors of being able to buy stock in very much larger quantities, thus getting the very lowest prices from the manufacturers. He can then place them before the consumers at prices other stores will find hard to beat.

The public generally will be pleased to hear of Mr. Mason's purchase. He is a young man, although he has proven himself to be one of the brightest and most up-to-date and progressive business men in the city. He has made a great many friends in business and private life, and won many admirers, during the several years he sat in the city council, where he was considered one of the strongest men. That he will make a success of the new store is almost certain, judging from the manner in which he has conducted the other two stores.

The three stores will be under separate management with Mr. Mason as general manager, and with headquarters at the central store.

Mr. Edgcumbe's stand will be in charge of Mr. D. H. Kernaghan, who has been in charge of the lower store where he has proven his ability for the position.

The centre store will still be in charge of Mr. Jas. Fanning, while Mr. W. H. Twyman will be advanced to the management of the south store.

Mr. Edgcumbe has been in very poor health for some time and that was his reason for selling. He expects to leave shortly for the west where he will join his brother-in-law.

THE MEDICINAL VALUE OF FRESH FRUIT JUICES

One of the Greatest Wonders of the Age.

Hundreds Have Been Made Well by Taking Advantage of an Ottawa Physician's Discovery.

Everyone knows how beneficial fruit is, when eaten regularly. Fruit is nature's laxative—the finest kidney regulator—and the ideal skin tonic. Unfortunately, the medicinal principle of fruit occurs only in minute quantities. In order to consume enough fruit to relieve Biliousness, one would also consume a large amount of woody fibre or pulp, which would upset the stomach and impair digestion.

An Ottawa physician discovered a way to get around these difficulties. He pressed the juice from apples, oranges, figs and prunes—and then forced one more atom of the bitter principle from the discarded orange peels, into the concentrated juices. This formed a new compound, having all the curative effects of fresh fruit—and in a highly intensified degree. Then valuable tonics and internal antiseptics were added and the whole pressed into tablets.

These are "Fruit-a-tives" the wonderful Liver Tablets you hear so much about. "Fruit-a-tives" cure the most obstinate cases of non-action of the bowels, biliousness, headaches, sleeplessness, nervousness, kidney trouble, rheumatism, sciatica and neuralgia. They are the greatest blood purifying medicine in the world, while their action on the skin, in clearing and beautifying the complexion, is nothing short of marvelous. Ask your druggist for "Fruit-a-tives" and see that you get them. 50c a box, 6 for $2.50. By mail, postpaid, from Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa. 113

IN TWO WEEKS

We teach you everything from the plainest shirt waist to the most elaborate toilette that can be found in the fashion books. We show you how to put together not only the lining but all the outer goods in coats, skirts, wrappers, waists, sleeves, collars, etc. Why spend months at a dressmaking shop where you do nothing but hem, overcast, sew on hooks and eyes, and then after you have served months there What do you know about cutting? Absolutely nothing, for you will know no more how to cut out a dress at the end of a year than you did just the day you went there. So why spend your time there when we can teach you in two weeks. You can come and try for a week and see for yourself what its like as there is nothing to be paid in advance you certainly would not loose anything by trying. We have taught over 2,000 this way within the past 6 years in Western Ontario and all recomend it very highly.

Charge for full course is only $10 to be paid when course is completed if satisfied including one of most perfect fitting systems in use which we give free. We guarantee that the waists made by this chart will not draw nor pull out of skirt when raising arm.

AN EVENING CLASS will also be taught. In this class we will teach shirt waists, sleeves, and saques. This course will be $4.00 and hours from 7 to 9. We will teach at Peterboro from April 8th to April 20th. Hours for day class from 9 to 5. All wishing to learn be sure to see us at the Oriental Hotel on Saturday, April 6th between 10 and 5 o'clock. This is positively the last class we will teach at Peterboro this year.

The Stores are Crowded To-day

Hundreds in the City—Business Men are Happy

Not since the Saturday preceding Christmas has business been so brisk in Peterborough, as today. Hundreds of farmers are in the city, and at noon the different hotels were crowded. Today's market was the largest this season, and everything sold readily. The streets were filled with people all day and the clerks in the stores were kept on the jump. Business men are wearing Sunny Jim smiles, as a result of the activity that pervades their respective establishments.

Fell into a Vat of Boiling Water

Lindsay Factory Hand Suffers Terrible Injuries

Lindsay, March 28.—A shocking accident occurred at Rider & Kitchener's factory yesterday afternoon, when an employee, James Graham, was badly scalded by falling into a vat of boiling water. Graham's work was on the drag saw, but yesterday he assisted the men in the section where the logs are immersed in hot water, preliminary to peeling. The men were fixing a lever to pry a log into place, when Graham came along and put his weight on the lever end of the pry before it was properly adjusted. The lever flew into the air, and the man, losing his balance, fell back into the tank which contained three or four feet of boiling water.

He was assisted out almost immediately but was badly scalded up to his armpits, and was taken at once to the Ross Memorial Hospital, where he lies in a very critical condition. He is a married man and has several children.

Easter Day

By...
Archdeacon
Farrar

With trembling fears and streaming tears
Ere dawned the Easter day,
Slow to the tomb, through the shuddering gloom,
The women made their way.
"The stone is heavy and huge," they cried,
"And the cave is dark and deep,
And the cross towers still on the dreadful hill,
And what can we do but weep?"

The little maid his voice obeyed
By sweet Genesareth's wave,
And Lazarus heard his thrilling word
And came from the rocky grave,
And the youth of Nain to rise was fain,
And his mother wailed no more.
But now the Giver of Life is dead,
And joy and hope are o'er.

FACES AND ANGEL WINGS!

Lo, from his shroud of crimson cloud
The burning sun upsprings!
Lo, in the dawn, on dewy lawn,
Faces and angel wings!
"Why seek ye the living among the dead?
Oh, not in the tomb is he!
He has burst the prison of death," they said;
"Ye shall meet him on Galilee!"

Weep no more, though ye weep so sore,
For the loved in the farther land;
Though the dust be spread on the cherished head,
The soul is in Jesus' hand.
And the mourner knows that his Lord arose
To set his prisoners free,
And the death on earth is a heavenly birth,
And time is eternity.

EASTERTIDE

Oh, rare as the splendor of lilies,
And sweet as the violet's breath,
Comes the jubilant morning of Easter,
A triumph of life over death;
For fresh from the earth's quickened bosom
Full baskets of flowers we bring,
And scatter their satin soft petals
To carpet a path for our King.

In the countless green blades of the meadow,
The sheen of the daffodil's gold,
In the tremulous blue of the mountains,
The opaline mist on the wold;
In the tinkle of brooks through the pasture,
The river's strong sweep to the sea,
Are signs of the day that is hasting
In gladness to you and to me.

So dawn in thy splendor of lilies,
Thy fluttering violet breath,
O jubilant morning of Easter,
Thou triumph of life over death!
For fresh from the earth's quickened bosom
Full baskets of flowers we bring,
And scatter their satin soft petals
To carpet a path for our King.

THE EMPTY GRAVE

(Van. R. W. Horton.)

Pale, solemn winter bodes of death;
Spring reassures the hope of men;
A sweet voice in her quickening breath
Says, "Nothing dies but lives again."

Trees with bare limbs and naked head,
As wondrously new garments don,
As corpses rising from the dead
With coronals and vesture on.

Their leaves hung out by hidden powers,
Wave in the sun their living sheen,
And witness, with reviving flowers,
Of life unending though unseen.

But surer is the word I hear,
Of Him who made the earth and skies,
Spoken to calm our grief and fear—
"Because I rose ye too shall rise."

And so our flowers that fell asleep,
And spring's warm breath cannot restore,
In slumber wrapped so very deep,
They hear her wakening call no more;

Are blooming now where nothing dies,
More redolent of live and love,
Beyond the grave's dark mysteries,
In God's bright Paradise above.

For 'twas not they, but we that died,
When sorrow's curtains fell like night;
While we within its folds abide,
They passed into the morning's light

A morning where no night is known,
Forever balmy, calm and bright,
Where time's hot sun has never shone,
Nor flowers have withered in his sight

Faith sees, consoled, beyond the mist,
That hides from sight life's borderline,
The hands we pressed, the lips we kissed,
And eyes that with affection shone.

The perfect "house not made with hands,"
Safe from all storms and from decay;
And vernal scenes, and flowery lands
And glory of supernal day.

Features of heaven The spring unveils,
And decorates our earthly home.
With pictures of the hills and vales,
And beauty of the world to come.

Since in God's image man was made,
'Tis meet that his mundane abode,
Should have by nature's hand portrayed,
Views of the dwelling place of God.

SUNRISE

It was dark to Mary of Magdala
As she stole from her lonely room,
And sped away ere the break of day,
To the place of the rich man's tomb,
It was dark as night in her mournful soul,
The hope of her life had fled;
For sin had won, and the deed was done,
And the Son of God was dead.

This was not the end, then, after all!
The power of the Christ to save.
And sins forgiven, and hopes of heaven,
All buried in Jesus' grave!
With the old, sad shame in her lovely eyes,
In her heart the old dull pain;
"Can help arise from a man who dies?
I shall never see Him again."

But a glow crept up from the purple hills,
Dawn came to the morning air,
And a sudden grace to the tear-stained face
Of the woman waiting here.
For lo! in the sunlight garden path
Stood the Master! Kingly still,
He was just the same, for He spake her name,
And quietly told His will.

"Rabboni!" Only one word she said,
But her heart was in the cry,
There He stood, her Christ! and the sight sufficed,
Although she had seen Him die.
And for Mary of Magdala, through the power
Of that resurrection day,
All the dark and the night, all sin and blight,
Had forever passed away.

Is the Christ alive? Let us feel it, then—
The rapture, the joy, the thrill!
No sorrowful years of despairing tears,
He lives! and is mighty still,
We, too, whom the Master calls by name,
Have nothing to do with night;
Let us lift our eyes to the Easter skies,
And live in the endless light!

EASTER ANTHEM

By W W Weese.

"Now is the Christ risen from the dead, and become the first fruits of them that slept."
—1 Cor. 15. 20.

Oh! let earth rejoice today!
Hallelujah Christ is risen!
Nor corruption, nor decay,
Found His earthly prison.
Tho sealed and guarded was His tomb,
Yet Christ the Lord of life arose;
He conquered death, His transient doom,
And triumphed o'er His foes.

Chorus.—
Glory! Glory! Glory!
O, joyful, hopeful, story!
Angels and men join the triumphant strain!
From earth's dark prison the Lord is risen,
Who once on Calvary's cross was slain.

Lo: the stone is rolled away,
See where cold in death He lay,
Yes, Christ is risen, is risen indeed today.
Risen to reign as Sovereign Lord of all;
Risen to raise mankind from Adam's fall.

Raised up from among the dead,
From the dark sepulchral cave,
On the third day, as He said,
Jesus left the grave.
O, ye who lately mourned and wept,
Your songs of joy and praise begin;
The first ripe fruits of them that slept,
Hath God now gathered in.

At His coming all shall rise—
Heirs of unbelief or faith;
These to lift beyond the skies,
Those to endless death.
O Saviour, from the death of sin
Now raise us by Thy Holy Spirit;
And may we life eternal win
Through Thy atoning merit.
—Bishop's Mills, Ont.

St. John's Church Was Over Crowded

To Hear the Joit Choirs Render Stainer's Crucifixion

Before one of the largest and most representative congregations ever brought together in St. John's church, the combined choirs of St. John's and All Saints' solemnly sung the sacred oratorio, "The Crucifixion," by Sir John Stainer, at 8 o'clock last night. An hour before a steady stream of worshipers began to move to St. John's and before 8 o'clock all the available floor space had been filled, including the centre aisle. The service opened with a short service of intercession by Canon Davidson, assisted by Rev. Wm. Major, and the singing of "When I survey." Passion hymn ushered in the story of our Blessed Lord's trial and death, from the arrest, "And they laid their hands on Him and took Him," to the last words from the Cross, "It is finished."

The chorus numbered about fifty voices, whose singing achieved chorally, results of a high order, for some of the numbers are justly esteemed as of more than ordinary difficulty, but skillfully conducted, the choirs met and surmounted them all. Mr. H. Morphet and Mr. Geo. Chandler, in the tenor solos, were in splendid voice and have never been heard to better advantage. Mr. Sawyers, Mr. Greenhalgh and Mr. Edwards divided the bass solos, and merit great praise for their numbers. The number "God so loved the world," taken unaccompanied as a double quartette, was exquisitely sung. The organist, Miss Bullen, of All Saints', ably performed her difficult task and played with skill and expression. To Mr. Richard J. Devey, organist and choirmaster of St. John's, who trained and conducted the whole work, we offer hearty congratulations on the successful representations of Stainer's beautiful composition. His work clearly shows, that skillfully led, we have singers in this city capable of good choral work, and we hope that this may lead on to other still heavier standard choral compositions being given. We understand that the next work to be given probably in May, is another of Sir John Stainer's compositions, "Daughter of Jairus."

Open Air Meeting In Central Park

Under Auspices of Brotherhood of St. Andrew Was Largely Attended

The local assembly of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew, held an open air service in Central park yesterday afternoon. Canon Davidson, of St. John's church, conducted the service, except the Bible lesson, which was read by Charles Goodacre. Mr. Arthur Kingdon, of St. Luke's Chapter, gave an address on the words "Is it nothing to you," and the service was attentively followed by a fairly large crowd. About thirty brotherhood men led the singing of hymns, "When I survey" and "Jesus Lover of my Soul." Mr. A. S. Walker presided at the organ, kindly lent by Mr. Williamson, Y.M.C.A.

EASTERTIDE

Once more the speeding months bring us around to the Eastertide season—that period of our Saviour's resurrection, as well as the resurrection of nature, after being in the icy embrace of King Winter.

Its significance should be one of joy and gladness. All nature seems in consonance with the spirit and harmony of the occasion. While we look with awe and feelings of depressions at the scene of our Lord's sacrifice on Mount Calvary, let us remember that He rose again for our justification. By His vicarious suffering a ruined and lost world was saved. He died for our transgressions and the chastisement of our peace is upon Him. And here let us learn some lessons from His Resurrection. Let us not reject His mercy or teaching. Let us remember that He alone can sustain, help and comfort us.

Alas! How weak and frail is sinful man. He cannot stand alone; how he yields to temptation, to selfishness, to greed. Only by the help of Him can we develop as Christ intended that our nature's should be developed. To the Cross is where all should look at this glad Eastertide. We may strive to brush it all aside and say, in our zeal for pleasure, our love of gain, our desire to follow our own sweet wills, that we will have none of this so-called doctrine of Christianity. We believe that virtue is its own reward and vice will bring its own punishment. It is not so. It was Christ who delivered up our sins and made it possible that we could be saved. Only through Him can we find atonement. From that central figure on the tree, all Christian influence radiates. There salvation had its birth. Let us have more respect then for our churches and our clergy. They are all doing, in their several ways, a great and good work; striving to redeem a wretched world by proclaiming the truth, and presenting the merits of the glorious Gospel, which is the power of man unto salvation. What would this earth be if it were not for the sanctuaries and the consecrated men and women found within their folds, seeking to restrain erring humanity, by pointing to the high ideals and noble example set us by our Heavenly Father. Vainly would we grope in darkness. There would be no hope, no light and no life. if it were not for the atonement.

Yes. He is risen, and by His pure and holy life, His tender mercy, His altruism, His unselfishness, His undying love, His unspeakable devotion, His desire to be about His Master's business, we too can become enthused. May we catch some of the fire and force of Christ's example. May we devote more time to His service.

The Resurrection is the pledge of God's great gift to mankind. Let us not be unmindful of this gift and on the morrow—Easter Sunday—renew our vows and seek more of Christ and less of self. Let us join in paying tribute to Him who points the path unto salvation and to Heaven, and exclaimed; "I am the way, the truth, and the life."

EXTRAORDINARY SUGGESTION

London Advertiser.

The desirability of a measure to prohibit rebating was made clear before the royal commission on life insurance. That evil has been greatly reduced in the United States by the enactment of laws which make it a penal offence to either give or receive a rebate, and the enforcement of these laws has, in most places been taken up actively by the organised associations of agents with the co-operation of the companies. The Canadian commission have, however, created a sensation by the extraordinary remedy proposed by them. They do not believe that penalties imposed upon the immediate parties to a rebating transaction will prove at all effective, because such penalties do not interest the directors of companies in which the practice prevails. The managers and directors themselves must be compelled to make the law effective by having the strongest personal inducement to do so. Visiting penalties upon companies punishes the policyholders."

The remedy they propose is that a penalty of $1,000 be imposed upon every director and manager of a company, any of whose agents pays or allows, or offers to pay or allow any rebate of premium, and that any person shall be authorized to sue for this penalty one-half of the amount of the fine going to the person suing. "No such director or manager shall be indemnified in whole or in part, either in respect of the penalty or of any costs, out of the funds of the company." The commissioners further make it clear that this fine shall be collectable whether the rebate be given or offered, "with or without the knowledge of the manager or director sued."

It is hardly to be wondered at that this recommendation has caused a ripple of amusement. Our larger Canadian companies have over a thousand agents. If any one of these agents located, say in British Columbia, should divide his commission with an applicant, or even offer to do so, then he (the agent), the assured and the company shall all go harmless, but a penalty of $1,000 shall be collected from each director of the company and from its manager, even though they had prohibited rebating, and did not know the agent even by name. Designed to prevent injustice, anything more unjust could scarcely be imagined. Why should an agent be satisfied with the bare living he can secure when he could make himself independent by merely offering to divide his small commission with half a dozen of his friends, each one of whom could then take suit against each of the directors of the company and its manager for $1,000 for each promise? It would be as fair to provide that if any agent commits forgery all the directors of the company should be put in the penitentiary, and if any agent commits murder, all of the directors should be hanged?

The suggestion is plainly so unjust that it requires only to be stated to be rejected, but those who made this proposal, have made several others with reference to life insurance, which, if followed, will cause great injustice. They are unsafe guides. Their report as a whole deserves condemnation.

Good Friday in Peterborough

How the Day Was Spent—Church Services Well Attended

With the exception of a slight shower of rain in the afternoon, Peterborough enjoyed ideal weather for Good Friday. The day was generally observed as a holiday, nearly all places of business being closed. The streets were filled with people all day, many former Peterborough boys and girls being home to spend the day while in many homes there were visitors from outside points.

The church services during the day were well attended, showing that the spiritual side was not forgotten in the happiness of the people. It was a great day to be out of doors and in the afternoon hundreds were out walking, basking in the bright spring sunshine and rubbing shoulders with nature as it were.

Baseball enthusiasts could not resist the temptation to get out and have the first practice of the season and both morning and afternoon they gathered at Central Park and batted and chased the flying sphere. Judging by the number who were out, baseball is going to boom in the city this summer.

The warm spring air also warmed the blood of the footballers and they too had a workout at Central Park in the afternoon. About twenty were out and chased the elusive pigskin for over an hour. The ground was in fair condition, although a little soggy in spots, but that did not seem to make any difference.

Two big audiences saw "Kerry Gow" at the Grand opera house and the splendid production was greatly enjoyed.

A feature of the holiday was the excellent order that prevailed. The small police court docket this morning was a good evidence of this.

Chemong Lake Ice is Breaking up

Traffic Across Ice Road is No Longer Safe

Traffic across Chemong Lake on the ice has been suspended as travelling on the ice is no longer safe. A gentleman from Ennismore who was in the city yesterday, stated that he had driven in across the lake, and expected to reach home again last night in the same way, and if he succeeded in doing that he would be satisfied, and would not try the ice road any more this year. The water is clear in several places, and it is expected that the lake will be open for navigation in a few days more

Conductor on C.P.R. Freight Admits Negligence on Duty

He Accepts the Blame of the Accident—Crew Were Also Careless—Orders Were Not Read to All on Board—The Myrtle Wreck.

Myrtle, March 27.—While the inquest on the bodies of Fireman S. Jones of Orangeville, and Brakeman H. Howe, of Russell, who were killed in the C.P.R. freight collision two and one-half miles east of here on Monday last, was not concluded yesterday, Coroner Mellow adjourning the inquiry until April 8, to examine Engineers Kyle and Binns, Conductor Cook, of 759, the east bound freight, accepted responsibility for the accident, at the same time indicating his crew's part in the blame. Cook said the collision was due to a mistake. His statements were confirmed by despatchers and operators. Even Conductor Cook's mistake might not have caused a tragedy had Train Despatcher Wilkinson notified Operator Harrison of Myrtle that 759, going east, and 1488, an extra going west would meet there. Wilkinson tried once at least to reach Harrison, but failed, Harrison presumably, was discharging some official duty outside the station at the time.

Conductor J. F. Cook of the third section of No. 5, engine 759, whose crew had consisted of Engineer Kyle, Fireman Jones, Brakeman Simpson and Brakeman R. Jones, told his story frankly and fully.

JUST CRAWLING ALONG.

"We were only going four or five miles an hour at the collision. The grade is the heaviest in the division. We whistled when approaching Myrtle, and the rear-end brakeman called to me that 'we were going to get on.' My attention was called to 1494, by 759 whistling the green signal, and by 1494 answering. I took 1494 to be the train we were to meet and looking at the signal board, found it 'Proceed.'

"I had had ten hours rest before coming on this trip, and I am not complaining of overwork. I am temperate in my habits, and was not drinking on Sunday or before.

"I read the order to the engineer, who said, "We are going to meet 1488 at Myrtle.' He signed the order, and took it from me. It is the engineer's duty to read the order to his fireman. The engineer and fireman were side by side when I read it to the engineer, and, perhaps, he did not read it to the fireman again. It is an engineer's duty to see that the engine he passes is the right one, though I had a better opportunity to see the engine. The engineer was on the right side, certainly. If the engineer saw that he was passing 1494, instead of 1488, he should have stopped, unless he had a No. 19 order. If he had received a No. 19 order I would have had one."

"Was it the engineer's duty to stop when he had not passed 1488?" Cook was asked.

"Yes."

HAD NO WARNING.

No warning came to Conductor Cook of the threatened catastrophe. "As I have said," he explained, I was in the centre of the caboose, sitting at the writing table, when the accident occurred. I did not see or hear anything of 1488, the noise of the train drowning any sound of whistle that may have been given by 1488."

RUNNING 25 MILES AN HOUR.

John S. Stephenson, rear breakman, of 1488, got the order to meet the third section of No. 50 going east at Myrtle, Conductor Davis reading him the order. "I was in the cupola of the van when the collision came. We were running at about 25 miles an hour, going slowly, because of a hot box on the engine. The morning was very foggy, and I neither saw nor heard the third section of No. 50 till after the accident. I heard our two long and two short whistles for the curve. We always whistle for curves."

The bodies of the victims were sent to their respective homes yesterday.

Smallpox Stricken Townships Granted $1150 by Government

Mr. T. E. Bradburn, M. P. P., Succeeded in Securing the Assistance Asked by the Deputation Last Fall—Money to be Divided—May be Spent on Colonization Roads.

Good news has been received for those townships which were affected by the smallpox epidemic a little over a year ago. The Review has been informed on excellent authority that Mr. T. E. Bradburn, M. P. P., has been successful in inducing the Ontario Government to vote the sum of $1150 to Chandos, Belmont and Methuen and Burleigh.

These four townships it will be remembered were stricken with a serious epidemic of smallpox a year ago last winter. The first case was imported into the district, and when noticed by the local authorities at first, it was thought to be only chickenpox. It began to spread rapidly, however and a further investigation was made. The provincial Medical Health Officer, Dr. Bell, was summoned. As soon as the true nature of the disease was learned the local authorities in the back country got busy immediately. The district affected was quarantined and everything possible was done to blot the dreaded disease out. The attempt was successful. The cases were confined to the one district. The patients were carefully watched and no one was allowed to get out to carry the affection to the whole province, and what at one time promised to be a most serious condition of affairs was kept down and held within the local borders.

It was a trying time, however, for the townships. At best the people are in poor circumstances and quite unable to cope with such an enemy. The township's money had to be used and the expense ran away with nearly two year's income. The regular work of the councils was therefore set back, and as it is impossible to raise two year's taxes in one, it was decided to apply to the Ontario Government.

For this purpose a deputation waited upon Hon. Dr. Reaume. Those connected therewith, were Reeve Wm. Hales, of Chandos; Reeve Jos. Johnston of Belmont and Methuen; Reeve C. D. R. Booth of Burleigh; Jas. Thompson and W. Bennett. These men were taken in charge by Mr. T. E. Bradburn, M. P. P., who arranged the interview, and assisted them in every way.

The members of the deputation placed their case before the Minister of Public Works, who expressed himself in sympathy with their cause. The policy of the Government, however, had always been to steer clear of any responsibility for epidemics. The policy is a wise one, for if the local authorities knew that the province was responsible for the expense and labor of checking the disease they would not bother themselves and the result would be disastrous. Under these circumstances Hon. Dr. Reaume would not commit himself.

Later, however, Mr. Bradburn, who always has the interests of his constituents at heart and never misses an opportunity to assist them, waited upon Hon. Dr. [illegible], provincial secretary, and [illegible] to him. The result was that $1150 has been voted. Just how that money will be spent is not yet known, but it is understood that that will be an addition to the grant for colonization roads. The money will be divided as follows:—

Chandos	$ 600.00
Belmont and Methuen	350.00
Burleigh	150.00
Total	$1150.00

Mr. T. E. Bradburn, deserves great credit for his efforts in securing this grant, which will go so far in assisting these people in the back country and it is not likely that they will forget this favor for a long time. It is a great relief to them, and will enable them to once more get on their feet and fight the battle of life on a fair basis.

MUSIC AND THE DRAMA

KERRY GOW.

Two large audiences greeted the presentation of Kerry Gow, the beautiful Irish play, at the Grand Opera House, yesterday afternoon and night, and they were greatly pleased with the production. Allen Doone, an actor and vocalist of rare ability, headed a capable company, every one of whom admirably portrayed the role, which he or she filled. The story of Kerry Gow is so well known that it need not be dwelt on here. It admirably sets forth the many excellent traits of the Irish character, shows how deeds of wrong bring their own punishment and that virtue will be rewarded. A sweet love story runs through the play and of course there is the villain who does all the evil things that villains are supposed to do. Allen Doone, as Dan O'Hara, the Kerry Gow, made a splendid impression. He is an actor of much above the average ability and possesses a fine tenor voice, which was heard to advantage in several Irish songs. Other characters, exceptionally well taken were those of Nora Drew, Dan O'Hara's sweetheart by Edna Keeley; her father, Patrick Drew, by J. H. Huntley, and Major Gruff by Seth Smith. The other members of the cast were all good.

"Kerry Gow" is in four acts with many interesting and amusing scenes throughout. The appearance of two horses and a number of live pigeons on the stage add realism to the scenes. The last act winds up with a splendid climax. Messages from the race track, where a race is being run, the winning of which means the saving of the old home, are brought in by carrier pigeons, birds of rare intelligence.

The scenic effects and general stage embellishments were excellent and added greatly to the production. "Kerry Gow" would receive another crowded house, if a return engagement were played.

The total registration of pupils in Queen's University, Kingston, is 1,139,

Beautiful Window of F. S. Schneider, Jeweller

Among the many handsome Easter windows in the city, none is more striking in conception, and beautiful in design than that of F. S. Schneider, jeweller, George Street. The distinguishing feature is a framework of ribbon, stretching back at right angles from the glass, bearing the words, "Easter Greetings, 1907," the letters of which are about five inches in length, and are made out of white batten, sprinkled with silver powder, which gives a very pretty effect. Two gold pins add to the beauty of each letter.

The lower part of the window is also beautifully arranged and contains many beautiful articles, suitable Easter gifts.

Busy Summer at Lakefield

New Planing Mill and Cheese Box Factory Will Add to the Hum

Lakefield, March 29.—Mr. William Grieve, who has been staying for a few weeks in Toronto, returned to Lakefield on Friday last.

The Grove School broke up for the Easter holiday on Wednesday, 27th inst.

Rev A. W. Torrie, the Baptist evangelist, who was formerly student pastor in Lakefield, is conducting revival meetings in the village. Large audiences have assembled to hear Mr. Torrie.

We regret to say that the condition of Mr. E. R. Tate's young son shows no sign of improvement. He is suffering from pneumonia, and is still dangerously ill.

Mr. Mrs. and Miss Hayward, who have been spending a few weeks in Lakefield, returned to Cobourg on Wednesday

The hearts of the villagers were gladdened on Sunday by a glimpse of the automobile that is to ply between Lakefield and Peterborough during the summer months. Mr. F. Darcy was the chauffeur.

Mr F. J. Tate, who has been somewhat seriously ill with a complication of influenza and bronchitis, is, we are glad to learn, well on the way to recovery.

On account of domestic bereavements, Mrs. John Cooper will not receive again until May.

Miss Lily Cox, who has been living in Winnipeg for the past eight months, arrived in the village on Tuesday last.

Mr. Clare Bravender returned from his holiday visit to Hudson, N.Y., on Saturday.

Miss Katherine Barnes, of Port Hope, is expected on a visit to Miss Dorothy Hilliard.

Miss Marjorie Dela Fosse arrived home for the Easter vacation from Bishop Bethune College, Oshawa, on Wednesday

Cricketers in Lakefield are interested in the announcement that a cricket team is to be organized in Peterborough. It ought to be quite feasible to arrange a friendly match with the Peterborough eleven during the coming summer. If we have no chance of winning we can at least emulate ourselves on the alter of friendship and be butchered to make a Roman holiday.

Matters look rosy for plenty of work around Lakefield during the coming summer. What with two sawmills in operation, the cement works in full swing, the erection of the new planing mill and the incoming of the cheese box factory, both machinery and business should hum.

We were asked a few days ago to present a plea in this paper for the introduction of liquor during the spring months. The argument adduced was that the freshets render the water so impure in our wells that it is next to suicidal to drink it without an antidote to the poisons it contains. Our suppliant is a man who avers that he never touches whiskey, except for medicinal purposes. He is a chronic invalid.

Mr. Alex. Richardson of Peterborough, paid a visit to his friends in the village on Monday last.

In the conversy that has been going on in the Globe the past few days regarding the relative merits and demerits of Canadians and Englishmen, there appeared a short note dated from Lakefield, from a gentleman signing himself "A Banta." Nobody seems to know who he is, and the general conclusion arrived at is that he is a practical joker, writing under a nom de plume. Whoever he is, his lack o ordinary courtesy to the people of the country of his adoption shows that he is not highly qualified to sit in judgment on his fellows.

Railway Passengers Had to Travel by Means of Hand Cars

Rode Twenty Miles on Hand Propelled Vehicles Through Downpour of Rain—Peterborough Man Had a Unique Experience.

Journeying twenty miles on four hand cars was the unique experience of some twenty passengers on the Irondale and Bancroft railway yesterday afternoon and it was an experience that they will long remember. They were travelling on the train which reaches Kinmount in the afternoon in time to connect with the G.T.R. train there, and among the passengers were several Peterborough people, including Mr. J. E. Firth, traveller for the W. B. Hamilton Shoe Company, of Toronto. Everything was all right until the train was about two miles out of Gooderham, when it was found that the track was flooded with water and ice to the depth of two or three feet, and that it would be impossible for the train to proceed further. But the water and ice did not impede the progress of the passengers. Attached to the train was a hand car, and several of the men on board picked it up, and followed by the rest of the passengers, carried it around the area covered with water until they reached the dry roadbed again. To do this necessitated about a quarter of a mile through bush, swamp and soggy land. At the other end of the portion of the track covered with water another hand car was waiting. As many of the passengers as possible were taken on the hand cars, and the remainder walked until Gooderham was reached, where two more hand cars were secured. This made four, which was sufficient to accommodate the twenty passengers among whom were several ladies. Through a downpour of rain the cars were pumped all the way to Kinmount, twenty miles distant. The trip was made in one hour, and 25 minutes, the strange procession pulling into Gooderham Junction at 4.25 about one hour later than the regular train. The G.T.R. train had waited, however, and those who had made the unique trip on the hand cars continued to their respective destinations without further incident. Rain poured down steadily during the time the twenty miles were being covered on the hand propelled vehicles, and Mr. Firth stated to the Review to-day that he would never forget the unusual experience. Among the other passengers who took to the hand cars were Mr. Norman Phillips of the J. W. Linton Company of Toronto and Mr. Minns, of D. Davis & Co., of Harcourt.

Peterborough and Lindsay are Frozen Out of Midland League

Unexpected Turn of Affairs at Annual Meeting at Oshawa Yesterday—Four Other Clubs Want to do Things on the Cheap John Plan.

Peterborough and Lindsay have been given the go-bye by the Midland Baseball League. The annual meeting was held at Oshawa yesterday, and the principal business transacted as far as local interest goes was the freezing out of the Peterborough and Lindsay Clubs. The League, as a result of yesterday's deliberations, will this season be made up of four clubs— Port Hope, Cobourg, Bowmanville, and Oshawa. The Peterborough Club was represented by Messrs. Arthur Johnston and Harry Burridge, and the news they brought back from the carriage factory burg was anything but cheerful to the local fans. It looked like a cut and dried plan of the representatives of Port Hope, Cobourg, Bowmanville and Oshawa, to freeze out Peterborough and Lindsay. The latter club was represented by "Bill" Cinnimon and the trouble first arose when the Scugog town representative declared that the Lindsay club could play no Saturday afternoon games. This was going to make things rather awkward, but it was smoothed over, the Peterborough representatives agreeing to play their matches with Lindsay on the other days in the week. Then the Bowmanville and Cobourg representatives started to raise a howl about the expense of travelling to Peterborough and to Lindsay, pleading inconvenient railway service and long distance. A motion was introduced to have the league composed of four clubs, Port Hope, Cobourg, Bowmanville; and Oshawa, and on the first vote, the delegates split even, Bowmanville, Cobourg and Port Hope voting for the resolution, and Lindsay, Peterborough and Oshawa against it. On the second vote being taken, Oshawa flopped over to the four-club faction and Lindsay and Peterborough were frozen out. Practically no other business was transacted, the election of officers and the drawing up of the schedule being deferred until a later meeting.

It is regrettable that this event has occurred just when the prospects were of the brightest kind for a successful season. The four clubs left, in the League apparently want to run things on the cheap plan, and although the Peterborough representatives offered everything within reason to get the difficulty patched up, the other delegates, with the exception of Lindsay, wanted to put them out. The local club even offered to pay half of the Bowmanville club's expenses on their visits to Peterborough, but even that was not enough to show their sportsmanship.

Although out in the Midland League, Peterborough will have a fast baseball nine. A meeting of the club will be held at the Windsor hotel parlors on Tuesday night to discuss arrangements for the season. It is proposed to bring some of the best teams in Toronto here during the summer and also other crack nines from this part of the Province. Peterborough fans will likely see a game every Saturday and it will be good ball too.

An Eastern Canada Harrier League Likely to be Formed

An Ottawa despatch says: An emissary from Montreal, Mr. Henry T. Diplock was in the city last week to broach the proposition of forming an Eastern Canada Harrier League. Mr. Diplock is president of the Gordon Harriers of Montreal. All the clubs in the city are immediately interested in the project, and hope that they will receive the co-operation of the local organization.

As formulated at present, the scheme is to have the Harrier Clubs from Montreal, Quebec, Sherbrooke, Kingston, Brockville, Smith's Falls, Peterborough and Ottawa in the league, and hold a cross country run for the Dominion championship in Montreal this summer. Mr. Diplock approached Mr Harold Nutting, the capital's foremost runner, and left the matter in his hands to be placed before the annual meeting of the local club, which takes place, within the next two weeks.

The proposition will no doubt meet with the approval of the Ottawa men There is considerable good fellowship between the clubs of the two cities, and upon different occasions when the Montreal runners have competed here they have been given the best that the locals can give.

Should the project go through it will mean the affiliation of nearly forty clubs, and a gathering of such proportions would be the biggest of its kind ever held in the east. The Gordons, said Mr. Diplock, are going to send Silkman, their crack stayer, to compete in the Marathon at Boston. A team from the club will also come here to attend the annual closing run of the Ottawa Harriers, in May.

HOCKEY

BIG RECEIPTS.

Winnipeg, March 27. — Wanderers left for home yesterday. They will reach Montreal on Saturday by the Grand Trunk. Most of the boys bear marks of the two strenuous games played. Patrick, with torn ligaments in his foot is the most painfully injured, while Hod Stuart and Johnston have their beauty somewhat marred by ugly scars. The club did well enough financially on the trip, although the prolonged stay in Winnipeg, added heavily to the expenses. The two clubs and the rink management, divided the proceeds, and each pulled down close to $3,000. Nearly all the Wanderer party, including the players cleaned up something on the series.

Winnipeg people talk of little else than the great game. Bets at 2 to 1; and even as high as 3 to 1, were bet that Wanderers would win the last game. One Winnipeg man dropped $3,800. One member of the Wanderer executive cleaned up $1,800 on the series, which has been one of the greatest betting propositions the West has ever had.

Eight men were buried and four killed in a severe snow slide at Brittannia, near Vancouver, B. C.

Warm Time at Council To-night

Several By-laws Will be up and a Fight is Expected

There is every indication that tonight's meeting of the city council will be a warm one. Several kicks are expected on some of the bylaws which will come up. For instance, there is the sign bylaw, the enforcement of which has been postponed several times; the building permit bylaw sent back to committee two or three times; the changing of the wards bylaw; the appointment of a foreman for the new fire hall and several other things which may be introduced. The aldermen are requested to eat a good big supper, and to bring their pipe and tobacco along as smoking is permissable after eleven o'clock and there will be lights burning for several hours after that.

Merchants Fined in Police Court

For Opening Boxes of Goods on the Sidewalk

The city coffers were enriched by fifteen dollars as a result of this morning's police court. The merchants of the city have been warned on several occasions about opening cases and boxes on George street on Saturday and after twelve o'clock on others days, contrary to by-law 1164. There are some who forgot it and had to be reminded that the bylaw still existed by being summoned to appear in police court.

Three business men were arranged before His Worship Magistrate Dumble this morning charged with obstructing the sidewalk on Saturday, March 30th.

J. M. Greene, music dealer, was the first to answer the charge. He said that he guessed he was guilty, but the Magistrate told him he did want any guessing about it. He then pleaded guilty. Mr. Greene was getting in a carload of New Scale Williams pianos and unloaded the instruments on the sidewalk, thus blocking the way. He had to pay a fine of $5

Lang & Maher, clothiers were the second offenders called. Mr. W. H. Moore appeared on their behalf and pleaded not guilty. P.C. Meharry swore that on Saturday morning he saw a large box in front of their store from nine to ten o'clock. A boy was opening it. A rather heated controversy arose at this time between P.C. Meharry and W. H. Moore. Mr. Moore considered that the policeman should have warned the boy about it and not been so quick to prosecute. The Magistrate thought the policeman did perfectly right.

Mr. Maher said it was just a small case left there by an expressman and it was not there as long as P.C. Meharry had said it was. The orders were for them to be brought in as soon as they are left there. The boy who opened the box said he was not aware of the fact that the by-law prohibited them opening boxes on the sidewalk Saturday morning. He thought they could up to 12 o'clock.

Mr. Lang said he remarked to P.C. Meharry when he came with the summons that he had not lost much time in bringing it. Meharry replied that the city needed the money. The magistrate remarked that this was quite true. Lang & Maher also contributed five dollars to the city's funds.

W. H. Robertson, proprietor of the Times, was the third offender. Mr. C. H. Clementi, of the Times, was present. He said the boy was told to bring the box in and open it, but unconsciously opened it on the sidewalk.

The Magistrate said that he could make no nice distinctions. He would also fine Mr. Robertson five dollars.

Buy New Scale Williams Pianos. For sale at the J. M. Green Music Co's. warehouse. Watch for advertisement tomorrow.

Two Memorials Erected at St. John's

In Memory of the Late Rector, Canon Beck, and Mrs. Beck

For the first time the congregation of St. John's church saw on Easter Sunday morning the walls of that sacred edifice adorned with two new memorials. They were erected by Mrs R. M. Dennistoun and Mrs. Arthur Stevenson daughters of the late Rev. Canon Beck. One of the new memorials is in the form of a Celtic cross and is erected to the memory of the late Rector. It is hung on the west wall of the chancel and is vary handsome. On the circle are the words "We also bless thy holy name for thy servant." On the foundation of the cross are the words in black letters with red initial letters "John Walton Romeyn Beck, M.A., Rector of Peterborough, 1856-1889. Canon of St. Alban's Cathedral. Born Albany, N.Y., 13th July, 1827. Died Peterborough, Canada, 7th December, 1889."

Rev. Canon Beck was succeeded as Rector of Peterborough by Rev. Canon J. C. Davidson.

On the east wall just opposite the pew in which the late Mrs. Beck sat for so many years is another large brass tablet. The lettering is in black with red initial letters and a red Celtic cross at the top in the centre. The words inscribed on it are:—

"In loving memory of Margaret, widow of the late Rev. Canon Beck, M.A., born August 1st, 1826, at Newbridge, Ireland. Died February 24th, 1903, at Peterborough, Canada. 'She hath wrought a good work.'"

Affixed to the prayer stool which was used by the late Rev. W. R. Tandy, a curate of St. John's, was a beautiful white floral cross sent from Kingston by members of the family. On the card attached were the words "In loving communion with Rev. W. R. Tandy. From the family." Reference was made at yesterday morning's service to these tributes to the departed by the Rector.

Local Trustees Will be There

The Mystery at Port Credit; Effort Made to Clear it Up

Inquest Opened on Body of Young Englishman Who Was Killed.

Looks Like Murder Case—Theory Advanced That Elliott Was Lured to the Woods, Shot, and Afterwards Laid on Track—Gang of Italians Are Suspected—Appearances Indicate Severe Struggle Took Place.

Port Credit, April 1.—An inquest was opened Saturday at the Wilbur House, Port Credit, by Dr. Sutton, coroner, of Peel County, upon the body of Edward Elliott, who died shortly after being found on the Grand Trunk on Thursday night, near Lorne Park.

There is a very strong suspicion that Elliott's death is the result of foul play and a theory is advanced that he was lured to the woods, shot and then placed on the railway tracks.

An examination of the body reveals a hole under the chin, which may have been caused by a bullet. The hole is sufficiently large to allow a lead-pencil being inserted. There are also two or three wounds on the chest, which appear to be the result of a fight or struggle.

At 1 p. m. a jury was sworn in and the body viewed. Dr. Sutton adjourned the inquest until Wednesday morning, to allow of a post-mortem being made. This will be undertaken by Dr. Sutton of Port Credit, a son of the coroner.

No trace whatever has been found of the men who were in the handcar which passed the train, the conductor of which discovered Elliott dying on the track. It is known that bad blood existed between Elliott and several other Italian laborers who were working with him in the section gang.

All the indications point to the occupants of the handcar as the perpetrators of the crime, if, as is suspected, a murder has taken place.

SPEAKER NEAR DEATH.

Hon. J. W. St. John Lies In a Critical Condition.

Toronto, April 1.—Small hope is entertained for the recovery of Hon. J. W. St. John, Speaker of the Legislative Assembly.

All yesterday friends and attendants anxiously awaited fresh news.

During the afternoon his condition was so critical that relatives were advised by telegraph and telephone that the end was near.

He lay apparently very close to death, and oxygen was administered artificially in order to sustain life.

Between five and six in the evening the patient rallied, his heart beat more strongly and his general tone showed great improvement.

At one o'clock this morning Dr. G. W. Clendenan was in the room when the patient wakened and smiled, seeming as cheerful as usual. His pulse was 120. He fell asleep again in a minute or two.

Only since the operation for appendicitis has it been discovered that Mr. St. John is suffering with diabetes.

FOUR BOYS KILLED.

Accident on the Pennsylvania Railway, Near Buffalo.

Buffalo, April 1.—While returning from hunting four boys were run down and instantly killed by a light engine on the Pennsylvania Railroad tracks near the eastern city limit Saturday night. A passing freight train drowned the noise of the approaching engine. The dead are: Anthony and Frederick Phillips, aged 19 and 16 years, brothers; Hugh Reany, aged 14, and Otto Meitz, aged 11.

FOUR YEARS FOR DUNCAN.

Former Bank Manager Goes to Penitentiary For Forgery.

Berlin, April 1.—John F. Duncan, ex-manager of the Bank of Commerce at Ayr, who pleaded guilty to charges of fraud, forgery, and theft, his total defalcations amounting to about $15-000, was sentenced on Saturday by Judge Chisholm to four years in Kingston Penitentiary on each of three charges, sentences to run concurrently. His Honor expressed great sorrow for the prisoner.

A NOVEL OPERATION.

Man's Blood Pumped Into His Wife's Veins Saves Her Life.

New York, April 1.—For the first time in this city, transfusion of blood was resorted to Friday to save the life of a patient, says a despatch from Philadelphia. Mrs. Peter Anderson was dying from anaemia, in the Polyclinic Hospital. The doctors decided on a bold stroke to save her life, and the husband of the dying woman cheerfully permitted a quantity of his blood to be pumped for an hour from his heart into his wife's veins. The woman was brought back to consciousness, and now has more than a fighting chance for complete recovery. Anderson himself, though weakened by the loss of blood and the ordeal of the operation, soon rallied, and bids fair to be himself again a few days.

Elopers Caught On Liner.

Halifax, April 1.—A man named Key and a young woman, who eloped from Liverpool, were arrested on the arrival of the Allan line steamship Parisian yesterday. They came as steerage passengers as man and wife, and were on passenger list as P. Key and wife.

Key is detained at the immigration building here, and the gril, whose name the authorities refused to give, left last night for New York with a relative who arrived from there yesterday morning.

Her father left London last week and will meet her at New York and take her home.

LURED TO A DIVE.

Hamilton Girl Made Victim of White Slave Traffic.

Buffalo, April 1.—A white slave case, the second in a week, is engaging the attention of the district attorney's office of Buffalo. An 18-year-old girl named Ann Mathieson, whose home is in Hamilton, Ont., is the complaining witness. The accused parties are a man called "Soldier Mac" and a Tonawanda saloonkeeper. The prosecuting officials are keeping the whereabouts of the girl a close secret. Whether she is here in jail, or at a hospital somewhere, or confined in Tonawanda, can't be learned.

The girl's story is that she was lured from her home in Hamilton by the man called "Soldier Mac," who told her she could secure a good position at a place in Tonawanda. She was at the place for a time. She finally escaped one night by jumping out of a window with her clothes on her arm. She was taken under the care of the police.

CONVICT'S WIFE SHOOTS JUDGE.

Cheque Book and Pocketbook Turn Bullet Aside.

Ripon, Wis., April 1.—Mrs. W. H. Ogden, following the conviction of her husband for larceny of old iron, Saturday evening shot Justice of the Peace L. E. Nohlin in the court room, but the bullet was deflected by a cheque book and a pocketbook, saving his life.

She fired four other shots, three going wide of the mark, and one striking Charles Kasbuba over the heart. He may die.

Mrs. Ogden was arrested.

Three Suicides at Falls.

Niagara Falls, N. Y., April 1.—An open letter found on the Third Sister Island just above the Falls yesterday morning, and signed "Tamai, 17 Concord street, Brooklyn," reads: "I will commit suicide in this fall."

Other letters found are addressed to parties in New York and Indianapolis.

James Lisle, of Valleyfield, Que., a visitor here, reports having seen a man go down the upper rapids Saturday morning. He wore a blue jumper, and struggle fiercely to get out, but was swept to death.

If the Brooklyn man carried out his threat to commit suicide this will make the third life lost by going over the Falls since Friday night, a record unprecedented here.

Perishes in Theatre Fire.

Lockport, N.Y., April 1.—Albert Phillips, 21 years of age, operator of a moving picture machine in the Areana Theatre, was burned to death Saturday night. Phillips was in the box of the machine when it burst into flames. In the panic that followed Phillips was forgotten.

Rideau Floods Subside.

Ottawa, April 1.—The Rideau floods are at about the normal spring height. One ice jam still holds at Billing's Bridge. The ice carried away two small piers used at Edwards' mills, otherwise all the damage is done.

Archbishop's Ban on Theatre.

Montreal, April 1.—Mgr. Bruchesi, Archbishop of Montreal, has issued a circular forbidding his flock to attend a French theatre here called La Nouveaute.

The news from Honduras of 1,000 men killed is probably subject to the usual 90 per cent. discount.

THAW HOPES TO BE FREE.

Believes Trial Will Go on and Makes Future Plans.

New York, April 1.—Easter Sunday for Harry Thaw in the Tombs was made more cheerful by a visit from his wife, to whom had been granted a special permit to pass the afternoon with her husband.

When Mrs. Thaw left she spoke for the first time since the tragedy last June to reporters.

"Harry grows more cheerful and satisfied with the way his affairs are progressing every day," she said.

"Like all the rest of us, he is perfectly confident that the commission will find him sane and that the trial will go on. He even talked of being free next Sunday, and he planned how we would dine together."

Thaw attended the Easter services conducted by Rev. Dr. Sanderson in the morning. None of his counsel visited him yesterday. He will consult with his lawyers to-day, as to probable developments before the commission, which convenes at 10 o'clock Tuesday.

The plans of the commission to submit a report to Justice Fitzgerald today were upset late Saturday by an appeal by Jerome to be allowed to produce more witnesses.

Adjourned Till To-morrow.

The commission thereupon adjourned until Tuesday, when it will hear experts called by the district attorney.

Chairman McClure served notice, however, that the witnesses must confine themselves to facts and opinions which deal with the present condition of Thaw and must not go into details of his past or future.

Thaw was under direct examination by the commissioners for more than three hours, and then for forty-five minutes he was under cross-examination by Jerome. This cross-examination was allowed by the commission only after a vehement protest by the prosecuting officer that he had not been allowed sufficient latitude in the enquiry.

Seizing his first opportunity of interrogating the defendant, Jerome attempted to go into Thaw's past life, but objections by Thaw's counsel were sustained by the commission, which held the district attorney to the direct issue before it—whether Thaw is capable of understanding the character of the proceedings against him and of rationally advising his counsel.

WARNING TO ENGLAND.

Must Learn That Canada Is Not Her Property.

Montreal, April 1.—Referring to The London Globe's remark that the arrival of Sir Wilfrid Laurier in the middle of the intercolonial conference would be an insult to the mother country and to the other countries, and that such conduct would show that Canada might find a better qualified premier, The Presse says:

"What would those English cockneys say if we were to retort in somewhat the following terms: 'If the mother country has no more consideration for the political struggles and the working of parties which the constitutional system authorizes in Canada, as well as in England, Canada will see to have an ungrateful and unjust mother replaced by something more rational.'

"All the people in Canada, English as well as French, are far from holding such a view, but by dint of foolish things the London politician will finally lead us towards it. Those gentlemen should learn once for all that Canada is not their property, but ours, and that Sir Wilfrid Laurier established that point with great eloquence and clearness before the House last night. Canada never asked for a conference, but ceded to imperial besetting, of which it was the cause. On that point we are in no way indebted to the other colonies, who refused to accept the representations of Canada for another date, although we love and respect them as sisters in every way. They wished to have full play. Let them have it; but it is only fair that we should have the same. However, we are happy to see that the Prime Minister has found his way clear to start on April 5."

Youth Arrested for Forgery.

Chatham, April 1.—James Simon, manager of the local branch of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, informed the police department Saturday, that J. Parry Wiers of Charing Cross, had forged a cheque for $375.

Wiers, who is 23 years of age, and said to be active in Epworth League, Sunday school and church circles, was found in the Garner Hotel, and arraigned before Police Magistrate Houston, to whom he pleaded guilty. He was remanded until Friday for sentence.

Wiers said he came to Chatham with no intention of committing the forgery. He had $359 or $16 less than the amount received from the bank.

To Extradite Bribers.

Ottawa, April 1.—Saturday's Canada Gazette contains a despatch concerning a supplementary agreement in regard to the extradition of criminals between Great Britain and the United States, which adds bribery and criminal offences against the bankruptcy law to the list of offences for which offenders may be extradited from one to the other.

The operation of this arrangements is suspended so far as Canada is concerned so long as the present act respecting the extradition of fugitive criminals remains in force.

Survey Party In Danger.

Ottawa, April 1.—A survey party, on the National Transcontinental Railway, who were with Engineer Cotton in the Abitibi country, may be in some danger. There are grave doubts if they have enough supplies to last until spring.

One-half of the party, seeing this trouble ahead, started for Ottawa. They tramped over 300 miles on snowshoes and got to Engleheart on the T. & N. O.

Had Feet Cut Off.

Cobalt, April 1.—Reynold McDonald of Halifax was run down by a northbound freight just north of the station Saturday and both his feet were cut off.

Mme. Eames, the great opera singer, is suing for a divorce. No opera singer is great unless she has figured in a divorce case.

SEALERS ALL RESCUED

Crew of Greenland Were Taken Off Just in Time

Disabled Ship Goes Down—Was Surrounded by Ice Floes—Vessel Broken at Stern and Full of Water—Men Had Decided to Take to Boats—Rescuers Appeared as the Ship Foundered.

St. John's, Nfld., April 1.—The sealing steamer Greenland, which became disabled on the sealing grounds early this week has sunk. All the members of her crew were rescued by the steamers Newfoundland and Erik.

The news of the loss of the Greenland was brought here Friday by the sealing steamer Algerine, which put in here from the sealing grounds with a broken rudder.

The Greenland was abandoned on Tuesday. The gale which accompanied the severe blizzard of last Tuesday and the two following days, repeatedly drove her with terrific force against ice floes, with which she was surrounded.

On Monday an attempt was made to give the vessel steerage way in a sheet of open water, but the sails were blown away and the craft again became helpless. The gale dashed the broken propeller and shaft against the hull and forced open the stern, through which the water made its way to the hold.

The men kept the pumps working steadily, but could not free the hold. The decks had been crushed by the heavy pack ice and the crew saw that the steamer could not be kept afloat long.

On Tuesday more ice was encountered, and it was decided to abandon the Greenland and go on the ice floes. The boats which had escape damage were provisioned and the crew was about to leave the vessel when the sealing steamer Newfoundland was sighted.

The Newfoundland bore down upon the sinking steamer and took off the men. The Greenland foundered shortly after the rescue.

MUST DENY CHARGES.

Hon. E. R. Emmerson Will Head Off Bourassa's Onslaught.

Ottawa, April 1.—The attitude which Hon. H. R. Emmerson is likely to adopt towards the Bourassa movement on Wednesday has been a subject of speculation ever since the introduction of the Minister's name into the implications concerning "wine, women and graft" by The Fredericton, N. B., Gleaner.

But it is not probable Mr. Emmerson will wait for Bourassa' speech to make his reply. When the House meets on Wednesday the Minister will be in his place, it is said, and as a question of privilege will refer to The Gleaner's charges, give them a direct denial, and announce that he is about to take action for libel against the proprietors of the paper.

Less than this, indeed, Mr. Emmerson cannot afford to do, as it is the course that alone will satisfy the Prime Minister in view of the state to which public opinion has been wrought up by the late discussion in Parliament.

There would appear to be small prospect of Mr. Hyman's return to Canada before the end of the session. It is said that instead of coming home from Los Angeles, as was promised a week or more ago, Mr. Hyman will return to Colorado to-morrow for a further stay.

It is said that Sir Frederick Borden has canceled his passage by the Empress of Britain, on which he was to have sailed on April 5.

POLICE FORCE TO STRIKE.

Three Constables Who Get $450 a Year Want More Money.

Belleville, April 1.—Three constables of the Belleville police force, who are getting $450 a year, have notified the police commissioners that they will leave to-day, if not given an increase of $150 a year.

The police commissioners told the men they had hired for a year from last July. When the year was up they would do something for them, not before.

Woman Awed Thieves.

Cornwall, April 1.—Three young men broke in the door of A. H. McDonald's house, east of this place, on Friday and threatened to shoot Mrs. McDonald, who was alone, unless she gave them money. She drove them off with an axe.

That night three men stole a horse and rig near Summerstown and drove several miles, until the whole outfit fell into a culvert on the G. T. R.

Chief of Police Smyth sent out an alarm, and Constable Uren of Bainsville yesterday arrested Joseph Paiement, William Pounden and George McGranahan of Montreal as the men wanted.

Laurier Entertains Bryce.

Ottawa, April 1.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier entertained the British Ambassador, Rt. Hon. James Bryce, at luncheon yesterday. Some of the Cabinet Ministers were present, including Sir Richard Cartwright, Hon. A. B. Aylesworth and Hon. W. S. Fielding.

To-night the Ambassador will address the Canadian Club at the Russel House, and there will be a distinguished audience, including the Governor-General and the Premier.

British Income $775,182,280.

London, April 1.—The exchequer's return for the fiscal year ending Saturday night shows the total revenue of the United Kingdom to have been $775,182,280. an increase of $5,276,960 over the previous year.

The surplus balance in the treasury is $9,721,535.

Car Cleaners Stopped.

London, April 1.—The lid was on tight in London yesterday. Even the car cleaners were prevented from pursuing their usual employment, though the oilers were allowed to work.

Seven hundred cases of finnan haddie, shipped by a Nova Scotia firm were seized by the authorities at Winnipeg.

RAYNOR ESCAPES GALLOWS.

Whiteley's Slayer Saved by Popular Agitation For Reprieve.

London, April 1.—It was announced Saturday that as a result of the popular agitation in favor of a reprieve for Horace G. Raynor, who on Jan. 25 killed William Whiteley, the well-known merchant of Westbourne Grove, the Home Secretary, Mr. Gladstone, had advised the King to commute the death sentence to life imprisonment at penal servitude.

The King almost invariably acts on the Home Secretary's advice and therefore Rayner's reprieve may be regarded as an accomplished fact.

The exercise of the royal prerogative of mercy is probably to a great extent due to the strong revulsion of public feeling against nursing a dying man back to life only to reserve him for the hangman's rope, together with the painful situation of the prisoner.

Tries Rope Route.

Toronto, April 1.—Just out from England six weeks, Edward Lewis, aged 50, tried to leave this world by the rope route in a Mutual street boarding-house.

His roommate, Edward Currier, found him yesterday afternoon black in the face, speechless and strangling with the rope around his neck. The rope was tied to the bedpost.

Lewis had been in business in Walsall, Eng., where he failed. From letters in his possession, it seems, he came to Canada at the request of his wife and family, and they did not wish him to return, having enough to live on.

Excelled Canadian Wheat?

London, April 1.—(C. A. P.)—Lord Northcote, at the opening of the Royal Agricultural Show at Sydney, said: "In 1904 Australian wheat was quoted from ten to three shillings per quarter better than English, two shillings better than Argentine, and eightpence better than Canadian."

Many Women Fight in Riots; They are in Insurgent Ranks

Roumanian Peasants Terrified by Hail of Grape Shot.

Villages Totally Destroyed—Insurgents Armed With Hay Forks and Scythe Blades—Many of the Leaders Arrested—Attack on Galatz By Troops Repulsed After Deadly Slaughter—Rioters Are Quieter.

Bucharest, April 1.—Field guns loaded with grape shot, according to the official reports, are winning against the revolutionary peasantry, whose arms are mostly hay forks and scythe blades.

The insurgents were able to hold their own against the troops at close quarters and even withstood cavalry charges, doing terrible execution with long pronged forks and scythe blades strapped to long poles, but the slaughter since the troops used artillery appears to be terrifying them into submission.

In the district of Vlashiea, where the outbreak was particularly serious, large numbers of insurgents have surrendered and have denounced their leaders to the authorities with the result that many of the latter have been arrested. The Government hopes that with the leaders in jail the undisciplined bands will soon abandon the field.

The self-styled "generals" usually turn out to be country school masters and village priests.

Numbers of women are fighting in the insurgent ranks, and many of them have been found among the killed, side by side with their husbands, sons and brothers.

Pitched Battle Fought.

Details of the attack by the peasants on Galatz show that a pitched battle was fought. The insurgents, who were several thousand strong, began the assault at midgnight, carried the outer earthworks by storm and captured a suburb, which they set on fire after pillaging it.

Three battalions of infantry attempted to stem the peasants entry into the city itself, but the fork and scythe armed rustics fought desperately, hand to hand, and had almost routed the troops when the governor ordered field guns loaded with grape shot to be fired at the insurgents, who wavered and then fled. The fire of the guns wrought great havoc on the retreating masses.

Whole Villages Destroyed.

Artillery was used at Cucuesti, Valoclele and elsewhere, and in some instances whole villages are said to have been utterly destroyed by fire of inch shells.

It is semi-officially stated that in many districts the peasants are repairing the damage done to property and restoring stolen goods to their owners.

Disturbances are reported from Putna in Moldavia, and many cases of plundering, incendiarism and armed conflicts in Wallachia.

A number of peasants have been killed or wounded by troops at Langa and Oatalele. At Calicea, in the centre of the disturbed area, all the ringleaders have been captured.

The communes of Hueresani, and Pegeni are in full revolt, and troops have been despatched there. All is quiet at Vlascha, Coverlie and Roman.

According to yesterday's official report, there was no fresh rioting anywhere in the districts in which there were outbreaks, murder, pillage and incendiarism by peasants last week. The disorders were vigorously suppressed, and the revolt stopped at all points, and troops are following up the bands of plunderers.

ENGLAND'S GLOOMY OUTLOOK.

Irish Priest Says All Big Towns Are On Down Grade.

London, Eng., April 1.—Father Bernard Vaughan was exceedingly bitter in his condemnation of society Saturday in the fourth of the Lenton discourses, which he is delivering at the beautiful Church of the Immaculate Conception in Farm Street.

"Is it true," declared the preacher, "that, with the exception of certain towns in Ireland, all the big towns in the United Kingdom are on the down grade? Ireland still gives the Empire pure women and brave men.

"If England and Ireland were weighed in the balance before God, it would be a bad day for England.

"England and France, in this entente cordiale embrace, are slipping down a slimy incline, and the end, if we do not rouse ourselves, must be the bottomless pit."

Street Railway Indicted.

Newark, N. J. April 1.—The North Jersey Street Railway Company was indicted by a grand jury on Saturday charged with maintaining dirty and unsanitary cars, providing useless fenders and allowing its cars to be overcrowded.

The indictment was returned to Chief Justice Gummere, who warned the jury a few days ago not to be influenced by public clamor against the company.

In its indictment the jury declared that "The indignation and protests of a long-suffering public, which have been interpreted by the court as 'public clamor', have not influenced the grand jury in its consideration of this question.

Justice Gummere dismissed the jury without thanking them.

Killed In a Runaway

Lethbridge, April 1.—The body of F. H. Singer, a rancher, has been found on the prairie and the news was brought to the city by Thomas and William Johnson, who found the body. It is probable that Mr. Singer was killed in a runaway.

Successor For Swettenham.

London, April 1.—King Edward has approved the appointment of Sydney Olivier to be Governor of Jamaica to succeed Sir Alexander Swettenham, who recently resigned, giving as the reason his advanced years.

"The Conduct of Life."

Under this head Ralph Waldo Emerson wrote: "'Tis an estimable hint I owe to a few persons of fine manners that they make behavior the very first sign of force—behavior, not performance or talent, or, much less, wealth. While almost anybody has a supplicating eye turned on events and things and other persons, a few natures are central and forever unfold, and these alone charm us. He whose word or deed you cannot predict, who answers you without any supplication in his eye, who draws his determination from within, that man rules."

ARMAMENT LIMITATION.

Great Britain Demands Subject Be Discussed at Hague Conference.

London, April 1.—Great Britain has made a formal and official request upon Russia to include in the program of the next Hague conference the question of the limitation of the expenditure on armaments, and through her ambassadors and Ministers she has notified the powers of this action.

This was done some days ago and up to the present time the Foreign Office has not been advised of any opposition to Great Britain's proposal.

Neither has Great Britain learned the nature of the negotiations that have been going on in St. Petersburg between the ambassadors of Germany and Austria and Emperor Nicholas, but it is believed the exchanges have had to do with the form in which the subject of disarmament should be introduced, and that they have not been aimed at keeping it off the program.

The reports emanating from the continent that Great Britain and the United States would withdraw from the conference if their wishes to discuss the limitation of armaments were not complied with, and that Germany and Austria would follow a similar course if Russia included this question in the program, are stigmatized by officials of the Foreign Office here as pure inventions.

"That any power would thus break up the conference, which doubtless will render much good to the cause of humanity, because all its wishes do not meet with favor, is incredible," said a foreign official Saturday.

Great Britain, supported by America, Japan and Italy, will continue to press her point, with every confidence in a successful outcome.

GOT LABOR FROM CANADA.

Judgment In Suit of International Iron Moulders Union.

Cleveland, April 1.—Action against the Altman Manufacturing Company, of Canton, Ohio, charged with importing alien contract labor into the United States for the purpose of breaking a strike, was dismissed by Judge Taylor in the Federal Court. The case has been in court three years. The counts were nulled on recommendation of the Department of Justice at Washington.

The suit was instituted by the organization of the International Iron Moulders of America. It was alleged that when the moulders were on strike at Canton the employers imported several hundred foreigners from Canada to take the places of the strikers. The ground on which the nolle was based was that while the men came here from Canada, and although they had not taken out naturalization papers they had been employed previously in the United States.

Spain Welcomes King's Visit.

Madrid, April 1.—The approaching meeting of King Alfonso and King Edward, at Cartagena, is creating much comment, the close understanding between Spain and Great Britain being the subject of general welcome.

Every Spanish warship available will proceed to Cartagena to meet the British squadron of seventeen vessels, and a gala banquet has been arranged to take place on board the Spanish battleship Numancia.

Dowager Queen Christina, Premier Maura and the foreign and marine ministers will accompany King Alfonso to Cartagena.

Policeman Held For Robbery.

New York, April 1.—Patrolman George Dawkins of the Brooklyn police force was arrested Saturday night on a charge of robbing John Farley of $12.

According to Farley, he invited Dawkins to take a drink. They had a misunderstanding in the saloon, and when they reached the street, Farley says, Dawkins seized him and took $12 from his pocket, threatening to club him if he made an outcry.

Dawkins was held in $2,000 bail for examination to-day.

Was Hush Money Used?

Hamilton, April 1.—J. Bidwell Mills, near whose residence the late Constable Barron was shot, has written a somewhat sensational letter to Mayor Stewart.

He charges that the reason more active steps were not taken to investigate the affair is that money and influence have been used to hush the matter up.

He scouts the idea that the murderer is dead.

The increased provincial subsidies will cost the Dominion $2,361,000 extra.

When Bunny Was Bumped.

By LESLIE TRAIN.

Copyright, 1906, by E. C. Parcells.

Bunny Travers was not a bad fellow. On the contrary, everybody liked him, and everybody said it was too bad that he had money and had spent six months in London to learn the ways of an ass. One day when the subject of the up to date girl was on the carpet Bunny listened for awhile with a bored air and then observed:

"It's all theory. She cawn't be found, ye knaw. They are the same old languishing lot, just a lot of gurls, with their giggle and twaddle and waiting for a proposal. 'As I may have remarked before, they bore me—bore me dweadfully. Weally, I think I shall have to cut the whole lot of them."

Among those who regarded Bunny as an asinine good fellow was Burt Galbraith, the young partner in a downtown brokerage firm. He had a wife and a home on the north shore of Long Island, and his sister Nettie lived with them. As he listened to Bunny's observations a smile hovered around his mouth, and that night when he got home he said to the sister:

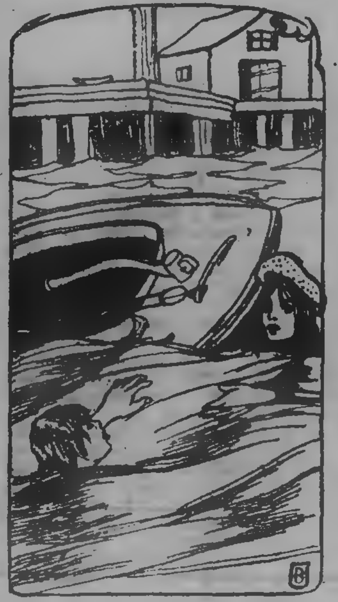
"Say, Net, we've got a feller in the Clipper club that needs bumping, and he needs it bad. I am going to invite him down to stay for a week."

"What for?" was asked.

"So that you can bump him. He doesn't believe there's an up to date girl in America."

Bunny balked a little when invited down to the island home. He was at last prevailed upon, however, and one Monday afternoon he was safely landed at Ravenscrest. Half an hour later Miss Nettie was dressed for a spin in her brother's auto and informed the visitor that a twenty mile ride was on the cards. If it would bore him, why"—

"Not in the least, me deah gurl. I rawther fawncy the thing, doncher knaw, or think I should if there was any speed in it. If you can assure me of twenty miles an hour I shall be positively chawmed."



"HANG ON HERE, AND WE SHALL BE BLOWN ASHORE."

He was quietly assured, and after the machine got well started he found the assurance well founded. Bunny began to get nervous after the speed exceeded fifteen miles an hour, but he managed to restrain himself until it had reached twenty-five. Then his hat blew off, his hair stood up, and there was a quiver to his voice as he turned to the girl and said:

"Oh, now, I thought we came out to see the landscape, doncher knaw."

Farmers began to yell, dogs to bark and drivers of teams to draw out to the fences as the speed was raised to thirty miles an hour, and Bunny Travers confessed to himself that for the first time in two years he wasn't bored. The pace went to thirty-five and then to forty, and he finally judged that it had gone to a hundred and the auto was flying above the trees. Then it slackened as they entered a village, and the girl steered the machine up one street and down another and finally halted before the office of a justice of the peace. A benign looking old gentleman came out, and the girl handed him $5.

"Now, then, what's all this?" asked Bunny as Miss Nettie was turning the machine about.

"Oh, whenever I exceed the speed limit I stop and pay a fine. They don't have to arrest me and have witnesses and a trial. Saves time and carries out the letter of the law, you know. Little invention of my own, and I am thinking of taking out a patent. I'll try for a mile a minute going back."

Bunny groaned. To his utter amazement, he was not in the least bored. On the contrary, he was anxious to suggest that Miss Nettie accept a check for $1,000 for the benefit of charity and allow him to walk home. Before he could state the case, however, the machine was under way. When they reached home the girl found a bundle of clothes in the seat beside her. After awhile Bunny Travers emerged from the bundle and said that he was a changed man.

An hour after breakfast next morning when Bunny had finished his cigar his entertainer asked him if he wouldn't like to have a bout with the foils. He smiled incredulously, but she asked him to follow her to the billiard room and there produced a pair of foils. Here was his opportunity to get even with her for the scare of the day before. He would disarm her three or four times and wound her vanity. It was Bunny, however, who was pinked and disarmed and driven all around the room and made to look like 30 cents. The afternoon was rainy, and Miss Nettie proposed billiards and pool. Bunny began by giving her twenty on billiards and four balls on pool and in the course of three hours found that she could give him all that and then win every game.

Next morning he got up to wonder what was coming. He soon found out. There was a cracking good sailing breeze, and the whitecaps were running on the sound. When Miss Nettie proposed a sail in her catboat, Bunny looked at those whitecaps for a long minute, and shivers ran up his back. He followed her down to the boat landing, however, and did his best to appear indifferent. The girl hoisted the sail, took a reef in it and then shipped the tiller, and the visitor was asked to sit amidships and trim the craft. When half a mile out and just after the fifth barrel of spray had struck him in the back, he said something about having an important engagement in the city, but the boat did not cease to bounce nor the spray to fly for nearly an hour later. Miss Nettie was also sopping wet and her hair flying, but she was bumping Bunny. On approaching the landing she rounded into the wind, held fast to the sheet and yelled out as the boat turned turtle. She was alongside of him as he came up, sputtering and gasping, and as she reached out a hand and drew him to the overturned boat she said:

"Hang on here, and we shall be blown ashore. We might as well have a bath while we are about it. Hope you are enjoying yourself."

When Bunny went to his room for the night he was almost ready to admit that he was wrong in arguing that there were no up to date girls. The next morning something happened to please him. He was invited to take a morning gallop in company with the young lady, and he saw his way clear to pay off old scores. He was given the best mount, but the gallop had not covered a hundred rods when it was evident that horse and man were not agreed. At the first fence to be jumped the horse remained on one side and Bunny on the other, while the girl disappeared in the distance and didn't seem to miss her cavalier for a full hour. Bunny's excuse was that he lifted his horse too soon for the jump and that there was something wrong with the climate of the United States.

Next day the visitor and Miss Nettie went buggy riding. Bunny took the reins with a determination to show off. He was showing when Miss Nettie took the reins away and brought the runaway animal down to his paces. There was one more bump in store for the young man. Next day, after wrestling for an hour with his palpitating heart, he made a proposal in due form. Miss Nettie realized what was coming and was prepared for it. She simply handed him an advertisement she had written and proposed to insert in the leading papers. It read:

"An up to date girl wishes to adopt an orphan boy and be a mother to him. Will teach him how to climb trees, stand on his head and turn back handsprings. All new ideas taught as soon as they appear. A positive guarantee given not to bore him. A cure for languidness and the London complaint kept constantly on hand. Address in confidence."

That was another bump for Bunny, but he took it like a little man. Instead of returning to his old ways and his old life, he went over to Oldfields and bought the right to plant oysters, and he has displayed such energy and ambition during the past year that Burt Galbraith looks at him across the club dinner table and mutters to himself:

"I wonder why in thunder Net does not name the day. I know they love each other and are as good as engaged."

A Progressive Age.

Pierre de Campe, who was calcimining the Bradly kitchen, was so excessively slow that his discouraged employers began to fear that the deliberate Frenchman meant to end his days under their roof.

"Do you think," asked Mrs. Bradly desperately, "that you'll be done by 5 o'clock, so we can cook dinner?"

"Madame," replied Pierre, pausing to gesticulate with his brush, "maybe you have hear som' peop' say dat dis ees de age of progress. Oui, madame, eet ees de age of too moch progress. Evairew'ere hon dose states of Amerlca dere ees too moch 'urry, 'urry, 'urry. Evairew'ere eet ees 'Make 'aste, make 'aste!' Dere ees no ripose—no taime for do notting good. Books That Helped.

"What books have helped you most?" asked the sincere and serious young woman.

"I can't recall all of 'em," answered Mr. Cumrox, "but they were mostly stories with love and fighting in them. You see, I was in the book selling business when I began to get prosperous." —Washington Star.

The Duke—Yes, and I think lightning must have struck the telephone.

The Count—Ah! Maybe the wires are crossed!

The Duke—No. I think it is her father who is crossed.—Chicago News.

Ripened Romance.

On the occasion of the ninetieth birthday of Dr. Martineau, who preached in Liverpool for many years, Sir Henry Roscoe, the English chemist, congratulated him on attaining such a fine old age. The distinguished clergyman said that he had been overwhelmed with congratulations and that he was working through the letters he had received.

"By degrees," he said, "I shall answer them all.

"One of the most remarkable," Dr. Martineau continued, "was from a lady, the only person who addressed me as 'Dear James.' I had not seen her since we were boy and girl together in Norwich. She is one of the daughters of Dr. Rigby in that city. My friends used to joke me as a young man about Miss Jane Rigby, and I received their chaff pleasantly. I believed her long since dead; and now comes this letter to remind me of her existence and her friendly recollection of me."

The old minister paused an instant, then added, with a tremulous smile, "She is now also in her ninetieth year."

Was Wm. Drury Frozen to Death?

Report From the West to That Effect Some Time Ago.

Some time ago, about the first of March a despatch from the Northwest was received telling of the death from freezing of a Mr Drury. At the time no particular attention was paid to the article, but on Saturday enquiry was made at this office by Mrs. Ed. Metcalfe.

Mr. Wm. Drury, her father, who for many years was superintendent of the gas works in this city, afterwards took up farming in the county, sold his farm last fall, and about Christmas time went out west, presumably to Edmonton. Since that time no word has been received from him by his daughter. It was only recently that Mrs. Metcalfe heard of the report of Mr. Drury's death, and she immediately wrote to the authorities in Edmonton, but as yet has received no word She is very anxious to learn whether or not it was her father, or where he is, and if any of the western papers can furnish any information Mrs. Metcalfe will be greatly obliged.

Wm Drury is well known in this city, where he has a great many friends, who will be very sorry if it was he who was reported as frozen to death.

BREAD FAMINE SATURDAY NIGHT

Unexpected Crowd Cleaned Out all the Bakery and Confectionery Stores

The most serious bread famine which has struck Peterborough for a long time was experienced Saturday night and Sunday. Not a loaf of bread could be purchased from any of the bakers or at any of the stores, and as a result many housewives were forced to bake tea biscuits on Sunday. Fortunately most of the hotels and restaurants had in a good supply and they did not run short.

The famine was due to the unexpected crowds in the city on Saturday. An extra batch of bread was made by most of the bakers, but it was not nearly sufficient and several hundred loaves more could easily have been disposed of. Saturday's crowd was the largest that has been here since the two Saturdays before Christmas and every place of business had a big day. The restaurants and hotels all report a big rush, while the stores were full all the time and the clerks kept on the jump.

The confectionery stores had an exceptionally good day. One firm alone made and disposed of 250 layer cakes, to say nothing of the hundreds of pies, and it might be safely said, thousands of fancy cakes and cookies. The people seemed to flock in from all directions. Every train was crowded and all the hotel yards and drive sheds in the city were filled. The streets, all day and until late at night, presented a busy spectacle and the business men report one of the best Easter trades for many years.

Excavation for Normal School

Will be Started on Tuesday—Sub-contracts Will be Let in a Day or Two

The site for the new Normal school has been laid out and it is expected that the excavation will be started on Tuesday. Mr. S. F. Whitham, the contractor, was in the city Saturday with the provincial architect and provincial engineer, and they completed their work in time to leave on the 5.15 C.P.R. train for Toronto. Mr. Whitham will return to the city on Tuesday when he will get the various contractors started. He has tenders already for the different departments and in a day or two it will be known who they are. The construction of the school will be in charge of Mr Wm Whitham, a nephew of the contractor. He is a young man but a very capable and successful one. He has superintended the construction of several large buildings in Brantford and other places.

Mr. Breadman is employed in the punch press department at the C.G.E and while removing some iron from one of the presses his fingers were caught in the press and were nearly completely severed. Mr. Breadman narrowly escaped having his fingers taken off. He will be unable to return to work for a few days.

Wanting Men for the Drives

Gangs are Being Got To-gether Here for That Puopose

Mr. Wm. Nixon, of the Cavendish Lumber Company is in the city securing men to go the back country to bring down a drive of logs for that company. He will be in Peterborough until Thursday, when with the men he has engaged he will leave for the limits to take charge of the drive The lumber companies are paying good wages to men for this work, as experienced men are rather difficult to secure and an inexperienced man is not of much account around a lumber drive. He has to know how to use the peevie and pikepole and to handle himself on the top of rolling logs. These things are only learned by experience.

Mr. Nixon states that the ice will soon be all gone out of the rivers and lakes in the back country and then they will be free of obstructions when the drives get under way.

HARRY ADAMS

Stony Lake Cottagers Want Better Railway Accommodation

Grand Trunk Have Made Great Improvements at Muskoka and the Stoney Lake People Want Some Made at Lakefield.

When the cottagers who spend their summers around the back lakes, read such articles as the following, there is no wonder that they are up in arms;

"Tourists for Muskoka lake points the coming summer will find a great many changes at Muskoka wharf, which should greatly facilitate the handling of passengers and baggage to and from the boats. An additional 100 feet has been added to the end of the wharf, so that the long trains of vestibule coaches and parlor cars now run by the 'Grand Trunk System' can be placed opposite the boats and very convenient for passengers. Twenty feet has been added to the width of the wharf on the side where the boats tie up, giving plenty of space between boats and train, so that the handling of baggage to and from trains will in no way interfere with passengers passing along the wharf, and at the same time boats will be enabled to run much nearer the ticket office. Another track, running the full length of the wharf, has been provided, enabling the company to place sufficient coaches convenient to handle a couple of thousand passengers. A number of other changes are also contemplated, which will materially add to the comfort and convenience of tourists."

Why the Grand Trunk railway is paying so much attention to Muskoka, and neglecting Stony Lake, it is hard to conceive. Stony Lake is more thickly populated every year and the amount of business done there is worthy of more consideration. Thousands of people from all parts of the continent spend a portion of the summer upon the rocky islands of the Kawartha lakes and the railway affords them no conveniences whatever. The local train pulls in at the station about a quarter of a mile away from the dock and the passengers have to walk through the broiling sun and dusty roads, lugging their baggage behind them. For the heavy trunks and bundles and boxes, a carter's fee is paid by the people and the double handling of the baggage delays the departure of the boats from half an hour to two hours nearly every trip. If the railway extended its line to the docks, which could very easily be done, a great deal of time would be saved and the people would not be put to the inconvenience and discomfort they are at present. The Cottagers' Association do not intend to let this matter drop, but they will keep after the railway until something is done. It may be that the G.T.R. will delay too long and the street railway company will have its line extended from the city and it will certainly clean up most of the traffic. It connects with both railway stations there, and the baggage would be very easily handled, and would be put off very near the docks, if not right at the landing at Lakefield

Care Should be Exercised in Connection With Grass Fires

Blaze Was Shooting Up Merrily in a George Street Yard When Discovered Late at Night—A Railway Man's Experience.

During the past few days there have been several narrow escapes from serious conflagrations in the city owing to grass fires. Caution should be exercised by those who set fire to the grass, as it is very dry at present and spreads with great rapidity, if not kept within proper bounds.

On Friday night neighbors called the attention of Mr. R. H. Hunter, 548 George street, to a fire that was burning in the back yard of his residence. The fire had been started early in the evening and it had almost died out a short time afterwards and was left without further attention. About eleven o'clock, however, some neighbors noticed flames shooting up in the back yard at Mr. Hunter's, and called his attention to what was happening. It was lucky that the fire was discovered when it was, as there are several wooden buildings in close proximity to the yard, and if proper precautions to stamp the fire out had not been taken, serious damage would in all probability have resulted, as a high wind was blowing at the time.

ANOTHER CASE.

Sparks from a passing train also set fire to the grass along the G.T.R. tracks near the Wm Hamilton Company's foundry late last night. About one o'clock a lady who resides in the vicinity of the Hamilton Company's establishment, telephoned the operator at the G.T.R. station that a fire was burning along the tracks in that vicinity, and was likely to cause considerable damage if it was not put out. The railway man, although he had an idea that someone was perpetrating an April fool joke on him, went to the place designated, and, sure enough, the grass was on fire, and likely to destroy the cattle guard if it was not soon extinguished. The blaze was put out without much difficulty.

Local Man Will Get Contract For New Collegiate Institute

Building Committee of the Board of Education Opened the Tenders on Saturday Night—Meeting of the Board to be Held This Week.

It is practically assured that a local man will get the contract for the new Collegiate Institute. The building committee of the Board of Education, of which Dr. Morrison is chairman, met on Saturday night and opened the tenders which had been submitted. While no information was forthcoming from members of the committee today, pending the meeting of the Board on Thursday night of this week, it is learned that the tenders, at least a number of them, were satisfactory to the committee, being inside the appropriation awarded for building the Collegiate. It is understood that when the committee reports to the Board on Thursday night they will recommend that the contract be awarded to a Peterborough man whose tender was considered the most satisfactory and in all probability the report of the committee will be adopted. The committee does not desire that the name of the successful tenderer be made public until after the meeting on Thursday as the matter is not definitely settled until then.

Work on the new building will be commenced just as soon as the tender is awarded and suitable arrangements made.

Lumber Camps Not Assessable Decision of Court of Appeal

Judge Meredith Dissents—J. R. Shier Co. and Mickle, Dyment & Son Claimed Exemption Under Assessment Act—Of Local Interest.

Toronto, March 29th.—The judges of the Court of Appeal yesterday gave their opinions on the appeal from the decision of the Court of Revision by the J. D. Shier Lumber Company, of Bracebridge, who objected to being assessed by the township of Lawrence on the value of their licenses, camps, slides and dams, in the said township. The value put on the Shier property by the township was $17 900. This was confirmed by the county Judge of Victoria.

The questions for the opinion of their Lordships were:—

Are the holders of timber licenses liable to be assessed thereon?

Are lumber camps assessable?

Are the owners of lumber camps assessable to a business tax under the conditions mentioned with respect to the camps only?

Are slides and dams assessable under the conditions mentioned?

Chief Justice Moss and Justices Osler, Garrow and Maclaren answer all questions in the negative. The learned judges hold that the licenses, camp outfit, slides and dams are all covered by the sub-section in the Assessment Act, which exempts from taxation all Crown interests in lands.

Mr. Justice Meredith takes a contrary view. His Lordship says:—"The fifth section of the Act decrees that all land in the province shall be taxed, this includes the Crown lands in question; but by the first sub-section of that section the 'interest' of the Crown in all lands is made exempt, and this sub-section, therefore, exempts from taxation the whole of the interests of the Crown in the lands in question; and, if such interests comprise everything, the whole of the lands are exempt; but, if not, if there is any other interests in the lands, it is taxable, unless otherwise exempted.

"Take out of the lands in question the whole interest of the Crown, and there yet remain interests of value, the interests of the licensees, and it is immaterial whether such interests are inheritable estates or not; or whether they are demises or not; they are interests in the land which are not exempt as interests of the Crown, and so are taxable, not being otherwise exempted.

"It is not contended that the timber which the licensees have the right to cut has been, either in fact or in law, converted into chattels; it is yet part of the land.

"If the licensees carry on any taxable business upon these lands they are liable to a business tax, based upon the value of the taxable interest in them; but merely cutting down the trees and cutting them into logs they are felled, so that they may be conveniently moved, would not, in my opinion, be such a business.

"All structures owned by the licensees and which increase the value of their interests in the lands are taxable as part of such interests, not separately."

The case of Messrs. Mickle, Dyment & Son, who were assessed by the townships of Sherbourne, Livingstone and McClintock, at $28,400, has also been disposed of by the Court of Appeal in the same manner as the J. D. Shier Company's case. The questions submitted with regard to the Mickle, Dyment & Son's camps were three only and corresponded with the first three in the other case.

John Moore Farm Sold for $10,000

Wm. Snowden the Purchaser—Harold Snowden Will Live on it.

Mr Harold Snowden, son of Mr. William Snowden, has decided to take up farming, and his father has purchased the old John Moore farm, in North Monaghan. The sale was put through by Mr. George Ruth, real estate agent, Water street, and the price paid was $10,000. The land was owned by Mr Mallack, who only lived on it for a short time, and then moved to California, where he has been for several years. For the past two years Mr. Samuel Seabrook has rented the place and worked it. The sale price does not include any of the live stock or farm implements, which will be purchased separately.

The farm is situated in North Monaghan and consists of two parcels, one of 100 acres and one of 50 acres in Smith township. It is one of the best pieces of property in the county, and Mr. Snowden should make some money out of it. He took possession this morning.

FINGERS CUT SAWING MEAT

Leonard Nailer, of Kennedy's Butcher Shop Met With an Accident

Mr Leonard Nailer, an employee at H. P. Kennedy's butcher shop, met with a painful accident early Saturday morning. He was sawing a roast of a carcass when the saw slipped and two fingers on his left hand were badly cut. Several stitches were put in the wound and Leonard had several days' holidays. The accident was most unfortunate, not only on the young man's account, but Saturday was one of the busiest days of the year and his absence left the staff short-handed.

He preached a practical sermon on "Christian Culture," much to the delight and profit of a most appreciative audience. At night the church was crowded. The Easter music by the choir displayed much wisdom and much care in preparation and was well rendered. The three addresses, filling in the service of song, by Rev. A. H Brace were appropriate to the day. These song services are proving of much interest to the congregation. The ordinance of baptism followed with great solemnity and is the first of a series of like services.

Mr. Bright Spoke on "Hidden Sins"

Yesterday afternoon Rev. A. Bright gave a very thoughtful, pointed and impressive address at the evangelistic meeting for men at the Y.M.C.A. His subject was "Hidden Sins," based on the verse, "He that covereth his sins shall not prosper, but who so confesseth them he shall have mercy." Man's way and God's way of dealing with sin was strongly contrasted, the address concluding with an earnest appeal to men to accept Christ. Miss Thornton, of Orono, sang a solo before the address, which added much to the meeting.

YESTERDAY AT THE CATHEDRAL

His Lordship Bishop O'Connor Took Important Part in the Services

Father O'Leary sub-deacon The sermon in the morning was preached by Rev. Father McColl and was appropriate for the day. Pontifical vespers were sung by His Lordship, Dr. O'Brien being deacon, and Rev. Father O'Leary sub-deacon. The sermon at night was preached by Rev. Father Kelly, of Douro.

Special Easter music was rendered by the choir and the services were most impressive.

Easter Traffic Was Very Heavy

All Trains Crowded With Homecomers and Visitors

Easter traffic on the railways this year broke all previous records for this season. Every train was crowded to its utmost capacity. People all over the Dominion went home or to see their friends for a few days. Peterborough received its fair share of homecomers and also sent several hundred people away. The C.P.R. and G.T.R. station were crowded upon the arrival of every train. But with all the bustle and hurry not an accident has been reported. There were no railway wrecks to mar the pleasure of the family reunion, and there were no minor accidents to spoil the individual's good time. The railway companies are fast learning to handle big crowds, although a number of extra cars would make travelling still better. The trains made pretty good time considering the conditions. But the weather was very favorable and no time was lost in that way.

The Latest Ideas in the Dean Patterns

TINTING LACE.

Good Way to Treat a Fabric That Will Not Wash Well.

When one desires to color lace for a gown, procure a tube of oil paint the color desired and squeeze it into a cup of gasoline and stir until dissolved. Then pour into a larger vessel.

Dip a small piece of the lace into it and if too deep add more gasoline until the shade desired is obtained. When it is the right color, put all the lace into it, take out, shake gently and dry in the open air.

When thoroughly dry, expose it to extreme heat for a few minutes, taking care, of course, that it is not near a fire or blaze, where it might ignite. This exposure to the heat will remove the odor of gasoline.

THE DEAN PATTERNS

Any of the following Dean patterns may be secured by leaving your order together with 10 cents at the Review Office and the pattern will be sent to you by mail.

4164.—A PRACTICAL COAT FOR ANY SEASON.

A style of coat which is always good and never inappropriate is shown and the home dressmaker will find it most practicable for her making. The only seams to be closed are the underarm, shoulder and sleeve seams and no fitting except at the shoulder is needed. The fronts close in trim double breasted fashion and the rolling collar completes the neck in a pretty way. The trimming bands shown are but a suggestion for its adornment, but need not be used at all, or may be replaced by a narrow braid or pretty buttons. The coat is one suitable for development in any seasonable fabric from cloth to linen. For the medium size 2 yards of 54 inch goods are needed.

4164.—5 sizes, 4 to 12 years.

The price of this pattern is 10c.

Leave your order and ten cents at the REVIEW OFFICE and pattern will be sent you by mail.

4127.—A CHARMING LITTLE PLEATED GOWN.

Some pretty new models in frocks for little maids are pleated in waist and skirt and the gown shown is a pleasing example. Yokes are always becoming and youthful and are much used in frocks for girls. The yoke in this gown is unusually attractive and improved by the dark trimming band which outlines it. The sleeves in all of the new dresses are long or below the elbow and these may be either. The waist and skirt which are joined at the waist line are fully pleated and very graceful. The fulness of the sleeve is also retained at the elbow in tiny pleats. For developing the model, cashmere, henrietta, pongee or another seasonable fabric might be used. The medium size calls for 3 1-4 yards 44 inches wide.

4127.—Sizes 6 to 14 years.

Leave your order and ten cents at the REVIEW OFFICE and pattern will be sent you by mail.

6818.—A PLEASING DESIGN FOR SUPPLE MATERIAL.

The new skirts show all degrees of dressiness and elaboration and a pleasing suited to supple material, his sketched. The skirt consist of a front gore in panel effect and circular sections tucked over the hips and lengthened by a straight gathered flounce. The skirt is not difficult to fashion and proves most graceful and becoming as part of a gown or in soft silk or net for wear with a lace waist. It is most attractive upon wearers of some slenderness, though almost any one would find it becoming. For the medium size 5 yards of 44 inch goods are needed.

6818.—7 sizes, 20 to 32 inches waist measure.

The price of this pattern is 10c.

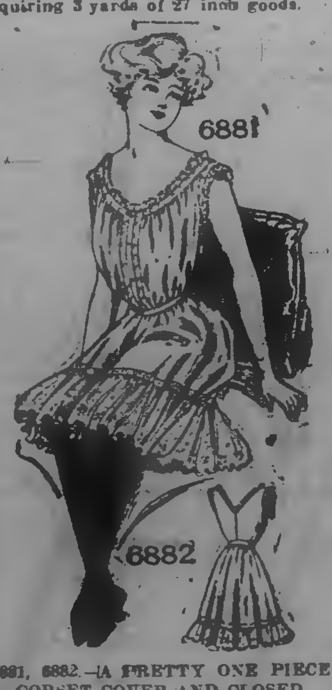
6827.—A PRETTY DRAPED WAIST.

There is no more graceful mode of fashioning the new materials than by means of shirrs and drapery and a pretty waist showing draped portions in front and back is shown. The waist is very simple, the body portion being easily full on the lining as far as the yoke, while the trimming portions form the drapery. These may be of material of the waist or contrasting, while the narrow band which finishes the sleeve puff should also show contrast. The style is one suited to development in silks, crepe de chine, veiling or similar lightweight fabrics, the medium size requiring 3 yards of 27 inch goods.



6881

6881, 6882.—A PRETTY ONE PIECE CORSET COVER AND CLOSED FRENCH DRAWERS.

Two Patterns.—6881—5 sizes, 32 to 42 inches bust measure. 6882—Sizes, 20, 24, 28, 32 inches waist measure.

The price of these patterns is 20c. but either will be sent upon receipt of 10c.

Leave your order and 10 cents at the REVIEW OFFICE and pattern will be sent you by mail.

COMBINATION CORSET COVER AND PETTICOAT

The fashion for swell effects demands that there be as much economy in bands and belts of the under garments as possible. For this reason the one-piece garments are very fashionable and one which combines the corset cover and short petticoat is shown. The corset cover is in one piece, with its only seam under the arm. The petticoat is in four gores, which shape it nicely at the top, the back fulness being regulated by gathers at the belt. The closing is made in front, and the two articles are joined at the waist in a ribbon-run beading or narrow strip of material. The upper edge of the corset cover may be gathered and finished with a ribbon-run beading and lace or ribbon may be run through eyelets in the material. One of the wide embroidered flouncings may fashion the latter most attractively. For the medium size 3 3-8 yards of 36 inch material are needed.

6851.—Six sizes, 32 to 42 inches bust measure.

The price of this pattern is 10 cents.

Leave your order and 10 cents at the REVIEW OFFICE and pattern will be sent you by mail.

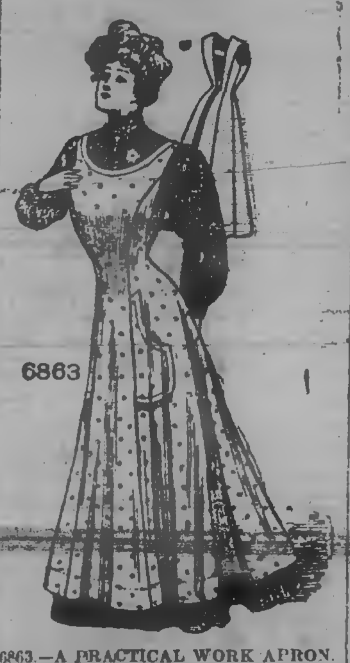
6845.—TWO PRETTY SLEEVES.

Sleeves are often a momentous question in the fashioning or remodelling of a dress for they are sure to be the date index, and no one wishes to have her frock out of fashion. Here are sketched two pretty sleeves which are easily fashioned and add greatly to the appearance of a dress they complete. The first is composed of three ruffles which end just above the elbow, so that only a pretty cuff finishing is to be seen below in the elbow length sleeve of this style. The other is a puff showing two tucks running around which widens the sleeve below the shoulder—a late fancy of Dame Fashion. Either of these sleeves may be in full or elbow length and may be made attractive with lace or other adornment. In the medium size the sleeves require 2 yards of 27 inch material for either pair.

6845—Sizes small, medium and large.

The price of this pattern is 10c.



6863

6863.—A PRACTICAL WORK APRON.

A very practical apron which is popular with housewives everywhere is given here for the benefit of our readers. The apron is fitted by means of gores which extend the entire length and afford the wearer a trim appearance. Two generous pockets are placed conveniently at the sides of the front and are found indispensible for holding the necessaries of the housewife. The apron may be made of any fabric of durable texture, percale, gingham, seersucker and crash being much used. For the medium size 4 1-4 yards of 36 inch material are needed.

6863.—Sizes 32 to 42 inches bust measure.

The price of this pattern is 10c.

4159.—SIMPLE AND PRACTICAL.

The apron above all things should be simple so that no extra labor need be expended in its making and laundering and further, it must be serviceable. Such an apron is shown and will please mothers who are anxious for the most sensible clothing for their little ones. It has a few gathers at the neck in front and hangs without interruption to the hem. The back is plain and held in place at the waist by a sash of the same which is both practical and fetching. The sleeves, too, are long and comfortably full so that they will go on over the dress sleeve without difficulty. With such a protection the little one cannot soil her frocks and real comfort may be gained therefrom. Percale, gingham or another apron material may serve, the medium size calling for 2 yards of 36 inch goods.

4159.—Sizes 2, 4, 6, 8 years.

The price of this pattern is 10c.

6861.—A SMART COAT FOR WEAR WITH ODD SKIRTS.

The High Priestess of fashion has brought the separate coat into favor again for wear with various skirts, and the woman who must economize will be pleased. A coat which is not elaborate nor pretentious, but which has a real style of its own and trim becomingness is sketched. The fronts are double breasted, closing trimly to the waistline. A shaped peplum extends below the waist, so that there is none of that chopped off appearance often apparent in short coats. The sleeves are long as best fitted for general wear, Broadcloth, Herringbone, cheviot, voile or panamas may serve while the covert which is so popular for separate coats is also suggested. The medium size calls for 1 7-8 yards of 54 inch material.

6861.—6 sizes, 32 to 42 inches bust measure.

The price of this pattern is 10c.

6828.—A SIMPLE BLOUSE WITH COMBINATION TUCKS.

Blouses which do service every day wear out so quickly that one needs to constantly replenish this part of her wardrobe. A pretty waist in dotted cloth has both wide and narrow tucks in very pleasing effect. The style of the waist is so simple that any one could make it without the least difficulty and be assured of a successful result. A seam in the centre of the front provides for the cutting of the material on the bias if desired. The sleeves are the practical puff and deep cuff in long or three-quarter length. A waist of this kind is suitable to any of the light cloths, pongee, silk, linen or other lingerie fabrics. A collar of the same may finish the neck or a linen one with tie of silk as shown. For the medium size 3 7-8 yards of 27 inch material are needed.

6828.—6 sizes, 23 to 42 inches bust measure.

The price of this pattern is 10c.

That New York physician who advises people to let prunes alone surely did not mean to include campaign orators, who need a diet of that kind in their business.

6765.—A DRESSY SHIRRED WAIST.

A little more labor expended upon a waist for nice occasions is never wasted for the pleasure in wearing a really beautiful garment is recompense enough. A strikingly pretty waist seen recently at a fashionable gathering is sketched for the benefit of the lover of beautiful clothes. The fabric of which it was made was silk voile beautified with threads of silk in another color. The shoulder edges and sleeves were gathered and shirred in such a manner as to not only bring out the charms of the material but those of the wearer also. A pointed tucker of lace gave the daintiest of finishes next the face, while a note of contrast was touched by the trimming bands of dark velvet. The waist is one which might be fashioned by the amateur sewer at home and for that purpose is reproduced here. The sleeves of the pattern may be long if preferred. For the medium size 2 7-8 yards of 20 inch material are needed, the waist being adaptable to silk, cashmere, veiling or chiffon.

6765.—Sizes, 32 to 42 inches bust measure.

Congregational Meeting Called

Of St. Paul's Church for Monday Night April 8th

A congregational meeting of St. Paul's church will be held in the church on the evening of April 8th for the purpose of selecting representatives to the Presbytery meeting on April 11th. The Presbytery of Peterborough meets at nine o'clock that morning, in St. Andrew's church for the purpose of dealing with the resignation of Rev. Dr. Torrance, pastor of St. Paul's. The congregation has been asked to send a deputation to give any reasons, if such exist, why the resignation should not be acted upon. The congregational meeting will select the delegates, and also decide upon the course of action to be taken. A full attendance of the members is requested as the meeting is most important.

Previous to the congregational meeting a joint meeting of the Session and Board of Managers will be held.

FOR SERVICE OF THE CHURCH

Workers Being Trained by the Baptist Young People's Union

The Baptist Young People's Union is not kept up simply for the purpose of having an extra devotional meeting each week, but because of the work it is doing in preparing, training and equipping the young Christian for efficient service in the work of God.

The above sentence contains the keynote of the address given in Murray street Baptist church last evening by Rev. George T. Webb, of Chicago, General Secretary of the B.Y.P.U. of North America, and brother of the pastor of the church, Rev. J. R. Webb. The edifice was filled at the evening service, and the general secretary's masterly exposition of what the B.Y.P.U. stands for and the work it is doing, was listened to with deep interest, and it will no doubt have a potent effect in directing attention to the work of the church among young people, and increase the interest in the efforts of the local branch of the Union.

NOT THE PRESENT ALONE.

At the outset Mr. Webb pointed out that many things should not be looked upon and judged from what they are, but from the viewpoint of what they would be. In one respect this was true of the Baptist Young People's Union for it had to be admitted that in many places the work being done by the local societies did not seem to be of great importance. But if the ideals of the B.Y.P.U. were right, then it was the duty of the church to assist in striving to attain these ideals. The Young People's movement in the Christian church was comparatively new, said Mr. Webb. It did not date back more than a quarter of a century, and for several years after its inception it was not conducted on an organized basis. The B.Y.P.U. had been formed sixteen years ago, and the movement has since grown rapidly, and at present it is provincial, national and international in its character.

A GREAT CHANGE.

There had been a great change in the complexion of church work during the past ten years. Year by year more attention was being paid to the business of Christianity, and business methods were being introduced in the management of the church, and as a result the work of God was being carried on more effectively than it ever had been in the past. It had been found that trained service was what was required, and colleges and universities were endowed in order that men might be trained for the Christian ministry. But trained ministers were not alone sufficient to make the work of the church successful. Trained lay workers were also needed, and it was in equipping young men and young women for efficient service in the work of the Master that the B.Y.P.U. should be recognized. The Sunday school was an important factor in the evangelization of the young and leading them to profess Christ before men. The Sunday school was the evangelizing force, and the B.Y.P.U. was the training school where the young Christian was fitted for efficient service in God's kingdom.

The speaker dwelt on the great work the B.Y.P.U. had done and was doing to-day in a degree greater than at any time past. The movement was great and far-reaching in its scope, and its influence and sphere were constantly extending. The B.Y.P.U. was training thousands of young men and women for efficient service in winning the world for Christ. Without the equipment thus given they would be able to accomplish but little. Mr. Webb closed by urging the young people to take a greater interest in the work of the local society, and the older members of the church to give their assistance, interest and advice.

ST. LUKE'S CHURCH

The Easter services at St. Luke's church were marked by great enthusiasm. They were by far the best ever held. A large number of communicants took their Easter Communion. The celebrations at 7, 8 and at noon, were attended by 258 communicants. At the morning prayer the rector preached a sermon on "The Proofs of the Resurrection," and at the evening service he gave the congregation an Easter motto; "Be thou faithful unto death." Miss Ruth Dawson sang at both services, appropriate Easter solos, and was never heard to a better advantage. Her rich voice gave a wonderful inspiration to the words. The anthem at the morning service was; "He is Risen." Mr. J. J. Turner, jr., took the bass solo, and Miss Dawson the soprano solo.

At the evening service the anthem was; "Why seek ye the living among the dead?" in which Miss Lulu Scott sang the soprano solo in excellent voice. The duett was sung by Misses Lulu and Edith Scott.

The offertory was the largest on record, $168.14 being given by the people as an Easter offering.

Packer's View of Canned Meat Inspection by the Government

Mr. T. F. Mattews Discussed the New Act—His Establishment Will Have Two Inspectors—Butcher Shops and Small Slaughter Houses Should be Included.

In discussing the new act providing for Government inspection of meat handled in packing establishments, Mr. T. F. Matthews, manager of the Peterborough branch of the George Matthews Company, said that he was anxiously awaiting the arrival of the inspectors. The pork packing establishment, which he superintends is one of the largest in the province. Thousands of animals are slaughtered every year and hundreds of carloads of canned meats and bacon are shipped. Immense cargoes are sent to Great Britain and France, in addition to the enormous trade for home consumption.

To handle the inspection here for the Government it will require at least two good men, and they will be kept busy all the time. One man will have charge of the inspection of the animals as they are received and in the dressing department to prevent any diseased carcases passing into the smoking or cooking rooms.

The other inspector will have general supervision of the plant. His duties will be to see that the sanitary arrangements are in accord with the act; to have the operating rooms, machinery, and employes kept perfectly clean and to superintend and inspect the mode of preparation, so that no dirt or unclean thing will get into any of the products.

After these inspectors take charge every can of goods and every package of meat which goes out of the factory will bear the Government stamp. This action is the direct result of the investigation into pork packing establishments in Chicago by the United States Government, when such startling revelations were made.

Mr. Matthews personally, is very strongly in favor of the inspection. The object of his firm has always been to make their goods appetizing, and they realized many years ago, that one of the chief features was cleanliness. The new act and the presence of the Government inspectors will make practically no difference to this factory, either financially or in their system of manufacture. At the same time they will have the benefit of the Government stamp on their goods, which will go a long way with the consuming public.

Mr. Matthews further stated that he did not think the inspection of Canadian meats by Government officials would be of any material assistance on the British market. In the past the Canadian meats have always been accepted without inspection and no complaint was ever made. However, it would do no harm.

Looking at the home consumption side of the question, Mr. Matthews said there was only one very serious objection to the new law. The act provides for careful inspection of the larger factories, but it does not include the ordinary butcher shops in the country, villages, towns and cities. These places can buy any kind of cattle or swine they like and slaughter them in any place and in any way they like. The Government does not restrict them in any way. The ordinary butcher can make sausage and bologna and smoke and cook meats under any conditions, and use any kind of meat and there is no inspection. These meats are put on the home market and pushed by the home butchers. It makes serious competition, and is very unfair to the manufacturer. Besides, the people do not know what they are getting.

Easter Bonnets Victorious; The Ladies Defied Nature

Cold Winter Breezes and Snow Storms Could Not Scare the Easter Millinery—Many Picturesque Creations Worn Yesterday.

The Easter millinery business in Peterborough this year was a big one. More hats and of a greater variety of shapes, colors, styles and price were made than ever before, and as a woman has a great delight in individuality, the sale was consequently larger. The ladies too, are better satisfied, while the men were more puzzled than ever in understanding what the ladies mean by calling any two hats the same shape.

Easter Sunday for the fair sex was a little disappointing. The day broke, 'tis true, with most promising prospects. Before six o'clock the sun in all its glory showed its face over the eastern horizon. The sky was almost destitute of clouds and as one opened his eyes and looked out from under the blankets he was met with what appeared an ideal Easter morning. But there was a cold wind from the north or northwest blowing, which reminded one that winter was not yet dead, but, on the contrary, was making a desperate effort to gain supremacy over the gentle spring of which a taste had been experienced for the past few days. All morning the fight waged between the two seasons, but by noon the strong winds from the polar regions had gained a victory and during the afternoon a light snow storm passed over the city. It was March going out like a lion.

Nevertheless a large number of the ladies were not to be frightened by a little cold and unseasonable weather. It was Easter Sunday and the day for new hats and bonnets in all the gayest colors imaginable and when a woman will, she will, and all the powers of nature could not stop her. Therefore, a great many of the daintiest samples of the season's novel creations were to be seen bobbing about in wind and snow as it blew down the streets. To attempt to describe any of them would be folly, but it might be safely said that every time a man met a straw hat, covered with bits of ribbon tied in knots and bows and bunches of flowers fixed on it in any shape you like, another cold chill went down his back and he pulled his head two notches further down inside his coat collar and shoved his hands still further into his pockets.

But then the girls were happy, and the boys would not complain. In fact they were delighted to see the fair faces, fairer still as that childish smile illuminated their features and as they cast through the corners of their eyes a coquettish glance. It was Easter Sunday and the girls did their best to make the day a bright one, even though nature was against them.

Poultrymen Want Association; Ontario Government Grant

The Local Associations Will Receive Assistance to the Amount of $50 Each—Letter to Mr. Wm. Collins From A. P. Westervelt.

The time is now ripe for the organization of a Poultry Association in this city. An attempt was made sometime ago to get the poultrymen together, but it was unsuccessful. The Breeders and fanciers are all anxious to see the thing go through, or at least they would like to see it, but so far a leader has not appeared on the horizon.

Mr. Wm. Collins has always been greatly interested in the poultry business and is alive to everything which will advance the interests of the local breeders. Some few weeks ago he noticed in the Poultry Review the announcement that $1000 had been set aside by the Ontario Government for the assistance of local poultry associations and for the encouragement of breeders of throughbred stock. Mr. Collins immediately wrote for fuller particulars and last week was rewarded by receiving the following letter which explains itself;—

Wm Collins, Esq.

Dear Sir,—There are $1,000 placed in the estimates this year to be used in giving assistance to local Poultry Associations. Last year there was an item of $500 in the estimates, which was distributed, the intention being at that time that there should not be more than $50 to any society. The regulations to govern the distribution of the grant this year have not been decided, but it is very probable that there will be a somewhat similar limit as to the amount of grant to any one association.

One of the ideas in connection with this assistance to local Poultry Associations is to give more encouragement to the new exhibitor, so that we may have an opportunity to see what he can do in the smaller shows before coming to the stronger competition of larger exhibitions. He will be more likely to make a start at the smaller show than he would be at the larger.

Yours very truly,
A. P. WESTEWELT.

If the poultrymen wish to organize to be of any use at the fall exhibition now is the time to get together. Get the association on its feet now and give the breeders an opportunity to start their chickens early and be ready for the fall fairs.

Mr. F. Nicholls Saw Government

Regarding Power Question—His Company May Make Concessions

Toronto, March 30.—Mr. Frederic Nicholls, vice president and managing director of the Electrical Development Company, secured audience with Hon. Mr. Whitney, Prime Minister of Ontario, at the Parliament buildings this afternoon. Subsequently the members of the Cabinet present in the buildings were summoned in to the conference. These were Hon. Mr. Foy, Hon Mr Matheson, Hon. Mr. Hanna, Hon. Mr Monteith and Hon. Dr. Pyne.

It is believed that Mr. Nicholls' visit may be indicative of probable important changes in the attitude of the big electric power corporations towards the Government's policy.

Mr. Nicholls is understood to be prepared to adopt a conciliatory position. It is believed he is anxious to reach some understanding or compromise with the Government along the lines of its general power policy and to attain this end may make important concessions. Absolute reticence is observed, both by members of the Government and Mr. Nicholls as to the matters which form the basis of the conference, which is continuing this afternoon.

The Empresses of the Atlantic

Handsome Booklet Issued Show- the Luxurious Furnishings

The Canadian Pacific Railway Co. has issued a very handsome booklet which furnishes detailed information about their palatial steamers, the Empress of Ireland and Empress of Britain. These twin steamers, which cross the Atlantic between Canada and the British Isles, cost some $2,000,000 each. But they are the fastest, most modern, most comfortable and the largest and best boats which touch the Canadian coast. The booklet is handsomely illustrated in colors, giving glimpses of the daily life on these castles of the seas. Everything one could wish for is provided. Kings and emperors could travel on them and feel quite at home, while to the ordinary person the boats are a luxury rarely enjoyed. This year quite a number from Peterborough and vicinity will make the trip over the pond and they are now booking their passage with Mr. W. McIlroy, the city ticket agent.

MEN'S HUMAN PROPORTIONS

The Sloping-Shouldered Man Calls for Different Waist Line.

When a man is full grown height never changes; his figure may. Therefore the anatomical expert takes height as a basis of correct measurement, and with it the sartorial designer couples weight. The Semi-ready physique type chart goes still further, and allows for the disproportionate figures as well as the normal type of man.

The waist line to be correct must be figured from the height, but with a stoop-shouldered man the waist line changes in a coat. There may be other systems of correct designing, but one cannot distinctly remember aught but the semi-ready physique type system exemplified on a chart in the Semi-ready store.

Street Watering Starts Tuesday

If the Council Accepts the Tenders To-night—Carts are Ready

One of the most important and most seasonable matters of business to be taken up at the council meeting tonight will be the passing of the street watering contracts. The Board of Works has received tenders and will recommend to council four names. If the tenders are acceptable to the council, the men will be expected to start watering the streets tomorrow.

That will not be any too soon, either. So far dust has not been seriously objectionable, although at times on Saturday afternoon and Sunday the wind lifted the powdered dirt and stone in clouds, and carried it down street. On the whole the people have no kick coming. There have been only three days of slight discomfort, and it is not likely there will be any more.

The Board of Works had the watering carts at the carriage shop being repaired and painted, and there should be no delay whatever in getting the men on the water wagons. The people will also be pleased to know that a much better service will be given this year. An extra team will be on the central section and the sprinklers will be on the streets continuously.

REVIEW LETTER BOX

SANITARY INSPECTOR

To the Editor of the Review.

Now that Mr. Ball has inaugurated the good work of submitting samples of milk for analysis, let him follow it up in the more flagrant cases of those who are offering for sale "pure maple syrup" and "Pure maple sugar," and when the offender is caught, see that the severest penalty is enforced. We have plenty of law if we only enforce it. Now it is up to Mr. Ball to act and I am mistaken in my man if he does not discharge his duty fearlessly and rigorously.

Yours, etc.,

COLD DRAFT

To the Editor of the Review.

Through the thoughtlessness of those whose duty it was to see to it, the audience at "The Crucifixion" in St. John's church Friday evening was subjected to much discomfort if not actual suffering, to be followed by colds or other illness. For a quarter of an hour or so both the inside and outside doors of the vestibule as well as that of the vestry were left open at the same time, thereby causing a heavy draft to blow through the entire length of the building. Many were the complaints heard on all sides, and some were about to leave just as the doors were closed. It is one's duty to give publicity to such carelessness in order that similar cases may not occur.

Yours, etc.,
ONE OF THE SUFFERERS.

Boys' Convention May Come Here

Delegates Have Returned Home From Hamilton

Messrs. E. Dingman, Elmer Sanderson, Max Dobbin, S. Pringle and Geo. Martin have returned from attending the Y.M.C.A. Boys' Convention at Hamilton, being representatives from the local Association. About 100 delegates were in attendance, and the gathering, which had to do with the promotion of the boys' work, was most successful. Mr. Martin read a paper on work among boys, and Mr. Dingman gave a talk on work in gymnasium. A banquet was held at the Y.M.C.A. on Friday night, when speeches were made by several of the Peterborough delegates.

In all probability the boys' convention next year will be held in Peterborough. The local delegates extended a hearty invitation to come to the city, and although invitations were also given by the delegates from London, Stratford and Toronto, when a show of hands was asked for Peterborough received the largest number of votes. As a result it is exceedingly likely that Peterborough will get the convention next year.

Poetic Genius in Police Court

Charles Brandon Author of Several Poems Was the Offender

Charles Brandon, the well known poet and writer, of Douro, was in the police court this morning, on a charge of being drunk and disorderly on Saturday evening last. Mr. Brandon has won considerable fame by his poems, his last one being "Remember the old man who cleared off the farm." Mr. Brandon came to the city on Friday last for the holiday, and during his stay in the city he indulged rather too freely in the stuff that cheers. Saturday evening, in front of the Y.W.C.A., Simcoe street, he was singing one of his favorite ballads, when P. C. Newhall happened along and took him in charge. Evidently, by the look on Charles face, the pavement must have flew up and struck him. Before Magistrate Dumble to-day Charlie pleaded guilty and was fined $2 to be paid in ten days.

PURSE FOUND

A pocketbook containing a small sum of money was picked up in the post office on Saturday, and is awaiting an owner at the police station. Chief Roszel also has a gold locket, for which he wants an owner.

Will Speak on Two Great Men

Mr. Dawson Kennedy Will Give Address on McGee and Howe

On Thursday evening next Mr. Dawson Kennedy will give his reminiscences in the Young Conservative Club rooms of Thomas D'Arcy McGee and Joseph Howe, the two great genii at the time of Confederation. It is doubtful if Canada has ever had two such orators as they were. Their lives were full of incident, and their aspirations high. Mr. Kennedy has put the club under a debt of gratitude, for it is doubtful if any one at least in this part of the country, has had the privilege of hearing in debate these two great men. Ald. Phelan will preside, and there will be the usual smoker. It is expected that Mr. Gardner will give one of his inimitable Scotch readings, and vocalists of great merit are being secured. Among others who will appear on the programme, is Mr. F. Clarke, a well-known banjo artist.

Ceiling Fell in the C.P.R. Office

Residents Over the City Ticket Left Tap Running all Night

On Sunday night the residents living over the C.P.R. city ticket office went to bed and left a water-works tap turned on. As a result the floor was flooded, and this morning when the ticket office was opened, it was found that a large piece had fallen off the ceiling. Plaster was scattered all over the office and the staff had a hard job cleaning up. The most serious part of it is that the interior of the C.P.R office had only recently been repapered and painted, and several new strips will have to be put on the walls and ceiling. A lot more plaster will also have to be taken off the ceiling.

County Sunday School Association

Officers Elected for the Year—Rallies Will be Held in May

The County of Peterborough Sunday School Association met this morning at the Y.M.C.A. Reports were presented from the Field Secretary, Rev. G. A. McLennan, of Norwood and the Treasurer, A. J. Johnston, of Peterborough, on the work of the year. Both made reference to the difficulty of getting returns from the district organizations only two townships, Smith and Asphodel, having sent returns.

It was reported on behalf of the committee having charge of the district conventions, that one meeting was held in Smith in June and others at Keene, Westwood, Warsaw and Havelock in November. The first was addressed by Mr. E. A. Hardy of Toronto, and local workers, while the others were addressed by Mr. Thos. Yellowlees, of Toronto; Mr. R. Lees, of Peterborough, and local speakers.

Arrangements were made for the holding of a series of rallies during the last week of May and the secretary was instructed to write the Ministerial Association of the city, with a view to securing their active co-operation in making the meetings a success, and also to endeavor to enlist the sympathies of the clergy throughout the county.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year;

President, Richard C. Heard, of Bridgenorth.

Vice President, Samuel Armstrong, of Otonabee.

Treasurer, A. J. Johnston, Peterborough.

General Secretary, Richard Lees, Peterborough.

Superintendents, Primary Department; Mrs. E. D. Lewis and Miss Ivah Fisher for city; Miss Edith I. Walters, Norwood, for the county.

Home Dept., Sheriff Hall, for the city; Miss Pauline Udy, Bridgenorth, for the county.

Teacher Training, Dr. Metzler, Bridgenorth.

Representatives to the Provincial Convention; Richard Lees, city; Dr. Metzler, County.

Hurtubise is Again Champion

Eugene Hurtubise still holds the title of amateur heavyweight wrestling champion of Canada. He demonstrated his superiority at the Canadian Amateur and Boxing Tournament in Toronto on Saturday night, when he threw Mataird, of Montreal, in one minute. "Gene" had disposed of Collings, of Toronto, on Saturday, and had no difficulty in downing the Montreal man on Saturday night.

The tournament was the most successful ever held. Mr. Hurtubise's victory is very gratifying to his many Peterborough friends.

New Soloist for St. Andrew's Church

Mrs. Davidson Has Been Appointed to Succeed Mrs. Prust

Mrs R. W. F. E. Davidson, Antrim street, has been appointed soprano soloist for St. Andrew's church. Mrs. Davidson succeeds Mrs. (Dr.) Prust who left recently for the West, and will begin duties on Sunday next. Mrs. Davidson is the possessor of a clear, sweet voice, and was for some years organist and choir leader of the Presbyterian church, Lakefield, previous to her removal to the city.

St Andrew's church is to be congratulated on securing her services.

TO BREAK A COLD QUICKLY

Mix half an ounce of Virgin Oil of Pine (Pure) with two ounces of Glycerine and half a pint of good Whiskey. Shake well and use in teaspoonful doses. A well-known authority on lung trouble declares that the above formula will cure any cough that is cureable. It will break up a cold in twenty-four hours. The ingredients can be secured from any good prescription druggist at small cost.

Virgin Oil of Pine (Pure) is put up only in half-ounce vials for dispensing. Each vial is securely sealed in a round wooden case with engraved wrapper, showing the name—Virgin Oil of Pine (Pure), prepared only by Leach Chemical Co., Windsor, Ontario,—plainly printed thereon. The cheaper oils and those sold in bulk only create nausea, and never effect the desired results.

Memorable Services Held at St. John's

The Easter services held in St. John's church yesterday were most successful. Both the morning and evening services were largely attended, especially the morning service, when chairs had to be brought in. There were three celebrations of the Holy Communion and the communicants numbered 400 yesterday. The church was beautifully decorated with flowers, which added greatly to the attractiveness of the services.

The musical part of the services was splendidly rendered by the choir.

At the morning service Rev. Canon Davidson referred in fitting terms to the late Rev. Canon and Mrs. Beck and to the late Rev. W. R. Tandy, to whose memory beautiful memorials had been dedicated. He also referred feelingly to the life of the late Laura Kingscote, a member of St. John's who was buried on Saturday.

Two splendid sermons were preached yesterday at St. John's church by Venerable Archdeacon Warren. At the conclusion of his service in the evening he warmly congratulated St. John's congregation on the excellent standing the parish had in the diocese of Toronto. The church had made rapid progress, due to the great efforts of her people. The reverend gentleman said that St. John's had a stimulating and helpful influence on the life of the community.

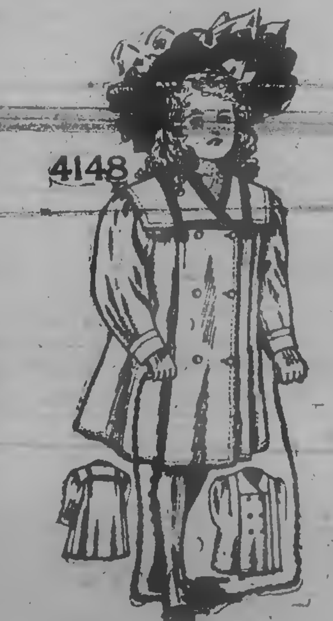
THE DEAN PATTERNS



4148.—A PLEASING LITTLE COAT.

Coats for small girls are always a subject of interest to mothers who fashion them, and a suggestion for one of good style and becomingness is shown. The front closes in double breasted fashion, while a deep tuck at either side of the front and back lets in extra fulness for the skirt portion and proves very becoming. The shoulder bretelles lend breadth of shoulder, so vital a feature of the newest coats, while tiny tucks retain the fulness of the sleeve at the cuff. The style is one suited to development in any of the cloths, or worsteds, while Rajah pongee or linen would prove pleasing. A braid may trim it or simply the stitching. For the medium size 1 7-8 yards of 54 inch material are needed.

4148.—Sizes 4, 6, 8, 10, 12 years.

The price of this pattern is 10c.

Kakabeka Falls Now Utilized To Generate Electric Power

For Fort Willian--Plant Was Manufactured and Installed by the Canadian General Electric Works--Many New Industries.

Fort William, March 27.—A project long discussed and variously considered has at last been crystallized into fact by the Kaministiquia Power Company, and this town is now being supplied with electric energy generated at Kakabeka Falls on the Kaministiquia River, 25 miles west of Fort William. The power is transmitted to the town by two lines on a single right-of-way, and is there distributed from a sub-station. The electrical equipment which was manufactured and installed by the Canadian General Electric Company, is of the most approved and modern pattern. The buildings are absolutely fire proof, being built entirely of structural steel and reinforced concrete, and the plant as a whole will bear favorable comparison with any of its kind in the world.

At the generating station the installation comprises two 5,000 k.w., 4,000 volt, three phase, alternators, each direct connected to a 6,786 h.p. twin reaction water turbine and two 150 k.w. 125 volt, direct current generators, each direct connected to a 250 h.p. turbine and two banks of three transforms each, each transformer of 2,200 k.w., capacity of the air-blast type, 2,300 to 14.475 volts.

The electricity is conducted in leaden-cased cables laid in the ducts underneath the floor from the generators to selector switches, located in cells near the transformer air chamber. For handling the heavy parts of the machines a 35-ton Niles crane has been installed. The crane motors are supplied with current from the exciter generators.

The switchboard is thoroughly up-to-date in the manner of control and also in the apparatus used. No voltage higher than 125 volts is found near it. The transformers are set in concrete cells in a gallery beneath the 4,000 volt fuses and the current transformers are placed on concrete shelves in similar cells behind the high tension oil switches.

It is difficult to realize what the installation of this important plant really means to the towns of Fort William and Port Arthur. Admirably located at the extreme end of Canada's extensive system of waterways, these towns bid fair to become great industrial centres were it not for the difficulty of the fuel supply owing to the great distance from the coal fields. Now that an abundant supply of electric power is available at reasonable rates, the growth of these towns should be materially accelerated. Already a number of big industries are nearing completion, while several others are projected. These comprise the Atikokan Iron Company, the Canadian Northern Coal & Ore Dock Company, the Meisel Manufacturing Co., said to be a branch of Port Huron Harvester Co.; the Semans, Kent Co. woodworking plant; the Canadian Iron Foundry Company, while the Northern Steel Company of Collingwood are negotiating for the erection of a plant for manufacturing wire and nails. This is only a partial list but it is sufficient to indicate that the twin towns, as they are sometimes termed, are on the high road to industrial prosperity.

Robbed Fellow Boarder of His Money and Have Shipped Out

Local Man is Left With Only Three Cents--Two Young Men Wanted on Charge of Theft--Secured a Substantial Sum of Money.

Robbed of all his money, except three cents, a local citizen last night notified the ticket sellers at the C.P.R. and G.T.R. stations, to be on the watch for two young men whom he charges with having stolen his money. And a substantial sum it was too. He was of the opinion first the two alleged robbers would try to jump the city, but the men who sell the tickets at night were unable to pick out any suspicious looking persons among those who purchased tickets.

It appears that the man who has lost the money and the two fellows whom he charges with stealing it, boarded at the same house. The two young men, who are now missing, have been employed in the C.G.E. works all winter, appeared to be in every respect of the most honorable character, and the trio fraternized quite freely. But on Saturday morning the two fellows were missing from the house and the third man discovered that someone had gone through his clothes and taken a roll of bills amounting to a considerable sum, and several other articles of value. All the thief or thieves left behind was three cents and a handkerchief. Naturally suspicion at once rested on the missing boarders and the loser of the money at once notified the ticket sellers, and also wired to Toronto to be on the lookout for the two men, but as yet nothing has come of these efforts.

It is understood that the police have also been notified, although there is no information coming from that quarter.

OBITUARY

SISTER ANNUNCIATION.

The sad intelligence was received in the city a couple of days ago of the death of Sister Annunciation, which occurred on Thursday last in Santillo, Mexico. The late Sister was formerly Miss Johanna Clancy, of this city, and was well known here. She belonged to the Good Shepherd Order of Nuns. She entered at Toronto 11 years ago, but for the past [illegible] years had been at Santillo, Mexico. Sister Dorothy of Mount St. Joseph and Mrs. Wm. Collins and Miss Annie Clancy, of this city, are sisters of the deceased, and Messrs. Simeon, Cornelius and John Clancy, of this city, are brothers.

GREAT EASTER MEAT TRADE

One Butcher Sold a Carload of Fresh Meat on Saturday

The butcher business was a bouncer in the city on Saturday. The different shops were crowded all day and evening, and hundreds of carcases were cut up and sold. The meat was of excellent quality, too, in fact, none better has ever been brought into the city. Animals were fattened specially for the Easter trade, and the people of Peterborough all had a good meal on Sunday. One butcher brought in a whole carload of Easter meat, and very little of it was left, and another car load will be brought in for this week.

The butcher business from now on till next fall will be a profitable one. The wholesale markets cannot do much in the warm weather, and the stock men have to go to the stores.

The assessment commissionership of Brantford has been abolished after one year's experience.

Cornelius Wall Was Acquitted

Cornelius Wall, who was remanded a week ago on the charge of stealing the sum of thirty-one dollars from Frank Sullivan on Monday evening last at the American House was honorably acquitted this morning by His Worship Magistrate Dumble.

Mr. R. F. McWilliams appeared for Wall and Mr. R. E. Wood conducted the case for the Crown.

Considerable evidence was heard this morning, but there was nothing that went to show that Wall was in any way guilty of taking Sullivan's money. Sullivan said that he missed the cash at eleven o'clock on Monday night. He heard someone ask him how much he had. He thought it was Wall.

The Magistrate dismissed the case on the ground that there was no evidence to sustain the charge.

The city of Montreal has had to give up medical inspection of schools owing to lack of money.

Excellent Music At the Cathedral

On Sunday morning at 10.30 Pontifical High Mass was celebrated at St. Peter's Cathedral. Under the very capable leadership of Mrs. Geo. Scott, the choir rendered, in their usual fine style, Mass in honor of St. Louis. Solos in the morning were taken and very sweetly sung by Misses A. Simons, M. Moher, L. Hallihan, E. Primeau, J. Clancy, A. Primeau, J. Delaire and N. Simons and Messrs. J. Picard, J. Wyer, H. Brady F. Pope and E. Keon, the quartette being sung with great effect and sweetness.

As an offertroy the Easter hymn, Regina Coeli by Lambilotte, was given.

In the evening at musical Vespers at 7, solos were taken by Misses A. Simons, E. Primeau, J. Clancy, A. Primeau and Mr. F. Pope.

Laudate Pueri, solo was taken by Miss L. Hallihan in her usual brilliant style. Chorus by sopranos and altos.

O Salutaris duett by J. Weigand was sung with exquisite taste by Messrs E. Keon and H. Brady.

Tantum Ergo by Lambilotte, was sung by the full choir.

The Laudate Pueri and O Salutaris deserve special mention, both these numbers being sung with great artistic taste.

Miss M. Doherty ably presided at the organ.

Alberta still imports $4,000 worth of eggs and poultry annually.

Sign By-law is Still Inactive Laid Over for Two More Weeks

Retail Merchants Association Will be Asked to Send Representatives to Special Meeting of the Council to Take This By-law Up.

Once more the sign by-law is shelved. This time it is supposed to be only temporary. When it came up in the Council last night for a decision as to whether it be enforced or not the Council decided that it be not enforced until another meeting could be called, at which the Retail merchants could be present.

Ald Morrow wanted it rescinded entirely, and moved in that direction, but afterwards withdrew his motion and supported Ald. Bradburn's motion to lay it over for two weeks. This by-law was passed some weeks ago, to come into effect on the 1st of April, but the police were instructed by the council to not enforce it until further notice. Those instructions still stand good. The majority of the aldermen were of the opinion that the retail merchants should receive some consideration in this matter before it is passed and consequently it was laid over.

The Mayor drew attention to the fact that the sign by-law must be taken up and disposed of one way or the other at this meeting. The by-law has been passed and comes into force at once and if any one has any objection, this is the time to mention it.

Ald Morrow moved that the sign by-law be rescinded and a by-law be prepared for that purpose.

The Mayor said that if the by-law was not rescinded, it would be enforced, and all signs erected contrary to the by-law will have to come down at once.

Ald Leary said he was strongly in favor of the by-law. "Are we," he asked, "to have our streets one mass of signs, the same as in Toronto, or shall the streets be cleared off as in Ottawa?"

Ald Stevenson thought that if the by-law was enforced with any kind of discretion it would not affect anyone very seriously.

Ald Bradburn moved that the by-law be referred to another meeting of the council and have merchants present and thresh it out and draft a new by-law.

Ald. Bradburn's motion was carried, and a special meeting will be called two weeks from last night, when the merchants will be represented.

A largely attended and enjoyable dance was held in the opera house at Havelock last evening. There were 125 couples present. Horses, Driver, Waggon and Boiler Were All Dumped Into Creek

Uncomfortable Experience of a Fuel & Cartage Co Teamster at the Wm. Hamilton Co's. Foundry—While Crossing the Bridge the Whole Outfit Went Overboard

A lot of excitement, which was very amusing to the onlookers, but not so for those directly connected, was caused in the Wm. Hamilton Manufacturing Co.'s yards yesterday afternoon. The Fuel & Cartage Co. sent a team to take the boiler from the dredge in the river to the Wm Hamilton Co. for repairs. The boiler was loaded on the wagon and everything went lovely until the foundry was reached. To get to the boiler room it was necessary to drive through the company's yard at the back and across a small bridge over the creek. Just as the horses struck the bridge the fun began. The animals were afraid of getting too near the edge of the planks and they did not relish the thought of a cold bath. They began to crowd each other and just as they got to about the middle of the creek, the entire outfit—horse, wagon, boiler and driver, went overboard into the water. The bridge is fully ten feet above the creek, and there is about two feet of cold, fresh water flowing over a soft gravel bottom. So quick was the trick done that the horses and driver did not realize their position until they struck the water and felt the shock and splash. Then there was a scramble to get out, and it was a race for a time between the horses and the driver, but the latter won. He helped the animals to get out of the tangle and got them on top of the bank again. The man was very wet, but not otherwise injured. The horses were slightly cut about the legs.

The wagon was badly damaged. Two springs were broken, the end of the tongue was broken, and the box was damaged. It was pulled to the edge of the creek and left there over night. This morning two teams and three men were sent up and they worked all morning trying to get the wreck out. The boiler had to be taken out by skids and it required a long time to accomplish the feat. The boiler was not damaged, however. The whole cost of the spill will amount to probably $50 or $75, which will eat up all the profits on the job.

Firemen are Satisfied With Rules Governing New Fire Hall

A Tempest in a Tea Pot Raised in Committee of the Whole—Chief Rutherford and Three Officers Read the Rules and Accepted Them Without a Change

What appeared to be, from the outside, a storm of the whirlwind variety, turned out to be only a tempest in a tea-pot. The fire, water and light committee undertook to draft, or re-draft, a set of rules and regulations governing the new fire hall. The members proceeded with their work and completed it. Then reports were received by members of the committee and council that the volunteer fire brigade and Chief Rutherford were making an awful howl and threatened to resign in a body if the proposed new rules were passed and any attempt was made to enforce them. It appears that the understanding the fireman had was that a lot of the chief's authority was to be taken from him. This, of course, they would not stand for, and the only request the firemen made was to see the new rules and regulations before they went into force. For that purpose the chief and three of his men waited upon the council.

Their appearance in the council chamber scared some of the aldermen, who took occasion to complain about the manner in which the fire, water and light committee had conducted the matter. It was, therefore decided to discuss the committee's report in committee of the whole before going into council.

Ald Stevenson asked if there was any kick coming from the firemen. He had heard it stated that the whole brigade would resign if the clause was passed.

The mayor said that no kick had been made to him.

Ald Morrow wanted to know if the arrangements and the consequent extra expense was necessary. The council had an engineer now, who looked after the present hall.

Ald Johnston explained that the change had been made in order to have the new fire hall properly managed, which certainly could not be said of the present hall. There had been practically no management in the past.

Ald Phelan asked in what way there had been mismanagement.

The chairman of the fire, water and light committee explained that in the past the council had some authority and the brigade had some and between the two the work was not done.

Ald Bradburn asked if it was the intention to have the new foreman look after the entire wiring system in the city.

As far as possible, said the chairman.

Ald Leary stated that he thought the least the committee could have done was to request the chief to be present at the meeting and discuss the matter with him.

It was also stated by members of the committee that the new foreman had not taken any of Chief Rutherford's authority from him. He was still in command of the whole brigade at fires. The foreman has nothing to do with the brigade at all. He merely has authority over the permanent drivers in the fire hall and over the ball.

Ald Morrow said the only thing he could see was how could the council get along without the extra expense. He had looked over the bylaw carefully and believed the committee had spent a great deal of time and had prepared a most complete set of rules and regulations. He wanted to know if a man could not be secured to look after the fire alarm system for about $150. He would not have to spend all his time on the work.

It was moved by Ald. Phelan and Ald Morgan, that Chief Rutherford and his colleagues be asked to appear before the committee to discuss the matter with the council.—Carried.

The deputation consisted of Chief Rutherford, Deputy Chief Metheral, Chas Butcher and John Gibbs.

The chairman of the fire, water and light committee read the clauses in the report which referred to fire hall, before the deputation was heard, and some explanations as to the duties of the new foreman of the fire hall, were given.

Chief Rutherford asked if that referred to the members of the volunteer firemen sleeping in the fire hall.

The mayor said it did, just so far as their proper conduct was concerned, and the keeping of his quarters in proper condition.

The chief and his men were given the new rules and regulations and they went into the mayor's office and looked them over, while the committee went on with other business.

Later the chief reported to the council that the rules and regulations were satisfactory.

AMUSEMENTS

ARE YOU A MASON.

"Are you a Mason," last night's attraction at the Grand opera house, proved a great fun maker and the large audience was greatly pleased. The company, headed by Grace Coghlan, was an excellent one and there was almost sixty laughs a minute. There was no horse play, however, the comedy being clean and refined. "Are you a Mason" is one of the greatest comedies on the road and after seeing it, it is not hard to understand why it is so successful.

The opera house was well filled despite the numerous other attractions and hearty applause evidenced their appreciation.

Congregation of St. John's Honor Departing Members

Presentation and Address to Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Dennistoun—Removal of Valued Citizen and His Family is Greatly Regretted.

The annual Easter vestry meeting of St. John's church was held last evening in the school house. A large representation of the congregation was present. The meeting was opened with devotional exercises by Rev. Canon Davidson, who also presided.

The first business was the reading of the minutes of the vestry by the vestry clerk, Mr. W. H. Walkey, and upon motion were adopted.

The financial report of the church was read by Mr. Robt. Fair, the people's warden. The report showed the receipts and expenditures for the past year. The Easter offertory amounted to $285.52, which goes towards the vestry enlargement fund. The finances of the church are in a very satisfactory condition. There is a surplus of $409.19. The report was submitted to the auditors for approval.

It was moved by Dr. Burnham, and seconded by Mr. Jas. Bell, and carried unanimously by the vestry that the sum of twenty-five dollars be given Mr. R. J. Devey in appreciation of the valued services he rendered the church outside of his official capacity as organist of the church.

The wardens for the coming year were next appointed. Mr. D. Hughes-Charles was named by Canon Davidson as Rector's warden, and Mr. Chas H. Mitchell was unanimously chosen as people's warden.

Messrs. H. Rush and W. R. Morris were appointed auditors.

Mr. W. H. Walkey was re-appointed vestry clerk at the same salary.

The subject of the vestry extension was left over until the adjourned meeting.

The meeting then adjourned till Monday, April 15th.

PRESENTATION.

After the vestry meeting a number of the members of the church gathered to say farewell to Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Dennistoun and family, who leave shortly for Winnipeg, and as an evidence of the high esteem in which he is held by St. John's congregation they were made the recipients of a presentation and complimentary address. Canon Davidson in opening the proceedings said they were gathered to say good-bye to two members of the congregation who had endeared themselves to everyone and who had been connected with St. John's church for many years. Canon Davidson said they left with the best wishes and regards of the whole congregation. The principles which Mr. Dennistoun had stood for were worthy to be followed by others and resulted in the best being done for church and and community. In the Sunday school he did much by teaching his Bible class of young men, by influencing their lives for good. Their departure would be much regretted.

THE ADDRESS.

Canon Davidson called on Mr. Dennistoun to come forward and Dr. Boucher read the following address:

R. M. Dennistoun, Esq.

Dear Mr. Dennistoun,—We, the Rector, church wardens, congregation, S. S. teachers and pupils of St. John's Peterborough, take this means of expressing, as fully as words will permit, our deep appreciation of the loss to be sustained by your departure from Peterborough, necessarily involving the severance of your relations with the church, Sunday school and congregation of St. John's.

The nature of the loss we feel though its extent cannot be measured by words, is only partially indicated by recalling the fidelity of your services in all the relations of church activity. Your greatest work has, perhaps been done in connection with the Sunday school. In the capacity of teacher of the men's Bible class for nearly a third of a generation, your work has born fruit, visible in part, in the strong and vigorous chapter of the St. Andrew's Brotherhood, now a valued part of the church's organized equipment, and your services as superintendent of the Sunday school, have been of the most faithful nature. As church warden for two years, as lay delegate to Synod, as chairman of the building committee for school house extension, and as a much sought adviser in all emergencies, you have had practical evidence of the confidence of the congregation of St. John's, in your ability and zeal for the promotion of the several interests of the church; and it is our greatest pleasure, at the present crisis in our mutual relations, to testify that the confidence reposed in you has been abundantly justified by the faithfulness and value of the services you have so freely and successfully given.

When we recollect all these things, when we recall that your material aid in support of the work of the church has also been generously extended and when we add, as we may well do, that your life amongst us and in the community has fulfilled our ideals of a Christian gentleman, our sense of loss is indeed great.

What adds to the poignancy of our regret is the departure, at the same time of Mrs. Dennistoun, who, perhaps, in a less public and active way, has also won our hearty appreciation of her work in very many ways in the interests of the church. As daughter of the late revered Rector, her departure represents to many of us, the severance of especially significant ties.

We thus emphasize our loss, though your departure from Peterboough, for it is only by dwelling upon what we thereby lose, that we can best voice our sense of the great services you have rendered and of the large place both yourself and Mrs. Dennistoun have had in the church life and activities of St. John's and in the hearts of the congregation.

We trust and pray that in your new home the lives of both may be prosperous and happy, honorable and good. We are sure they will be and that the exercise of the same qualities which have marked your lives and ennobled your characters in Peterborough, will win for you, in your new place of residence, as many and as warm friends as you leave behind you in Peterborough and St. John's.

As memorial of our good wishes and high regard and as memento of St John's church, Sunday school and congregation, we ask your acceptance, for yourself and Mrs. Dennistoun, of this grandfather's clock.

REV CANON DAVIDSON,
Rector of Peterborough.
CHAS. H. MITCHELL,
Rector's Warden.
ROBERT FAIR,
People's Warden.

Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Mills.
Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Sherwood,
Rev. and Mrs. J. C. Davidson,
Mr. and Mrs. John Bell.

Miss Joyce Davidson stepped forward and withdrew a Union Jack and revealed a handsome grandfather's clock. The clock is one of rare artistic workmanship and is suitably inscribed. The timepiece is of mahogany and has the phases of the moon on it.

Mr. Dennistoun in replying said the words which were contained in the address were enough, let alone the beautiful grandfather's clock. It would be looked upon by him and family as a memento of the days at old St. John's, and would be highly cherished by them. He said it was hard to say farewell. His feelings were deeper than words could express. When they left there their work in many things was ended. It was the greatest regret that their work in St. John's church would be at an end, the speaker said, but the work in the church of God would not be finished. They could still find some congenial work for the good cause in their new home. He had endeavored to live up to the high ideals which Canon Davidson referred to. He had in this city tried some continuous progressive work to bear what influence he could on young people. He had enjoyed his work in his Bible class and in the Sunday school. The Young Men's Bible class had a good teacher now and the Sunday school was well manned with earnest, faithful teachers.

Mr. Dennistoun also added a few words on his wife's behalf. She was a true daughter of the church. He was sure it had been a great pleasure to her, the work she had done in the Societies of the church and in the Sunday school, where she had taught for many years up to last Sunday. Mr. Dennistoun in conclusion said there never could be another congregation where they had so many warm friends. He thanked the congregatoin for their kind words and sincere good wishes.

During the evening Miss Helen Davies contributed two vocal solos in her usual excellent manner.

The handsome grandfather's clock which was presented to Mr. Dennistoun was purchased at Warne Bros jewellery establishment.

Splendid Progress During the Year St. Luke's Church Vestry Meeting

Financial Statement the Best Ever Presented—An Assistant to Rev. Mr. Langfeldt--Extension of the Work--Mr. Frank Adams Resigns as Church Warden--Dr. Burnham Thanked for Generous Gifts

The temporal affairs of St. Luke's Church, were discussed last night at the annual vestry meeting. The rector, Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, was in the chair. After devotional exercises, the vestry clerk, Mr. T. H. Adams, read the minutes of the previous meetings which were confirmed. The people's warden, Mr. Frank Adams, read his annual report of the finances of the church. Comparing it with former years, it was the best presented. The people had shown greater liberality than ever, and especially the Easter offerings were by far in excess of any previous year in the history of the church. In the report mention was made of a new furnace, placed in the rectory, and bath room and sewer connection added to the rectory, at an expense of about $300. New drains were also laid around the church. The warden thanked the people for their liberal support, and their readiness in responding to the appeals of the wardens. Upon motion of Mr. T. H. Adams, seconded by Mr. E. A. Peck, the report was received.

Messrs. F. J. Jameson and E. A. Peck, were appointed auditors.

MR. ADAMS RETIRES.

Proceeding to the election of a church warden, the rector regretted very much that Mr. Frank Adams, felt compelled to decline re-election. For eight years he had been in office and during this time he had with untiring energy, and great efficiency done his duty. But for reasons stated to him privately, he thought that Mr. Adams should be relieved. Personally the rector felt very much grieved at seeing the happy relations between himself and the people's warden, as such, terminated, and he hoped that Mr. Adams would accept from him as a mark of personal esteem a Morocco-bound Prayer and Hymn Book, to remind him of their pleasant associations together. Mr. Adams in accepting this gift, thanked the people for their assistance, and gave assurance that while ceasing to be a warden, that would not diminish his interest in the church.

LOSS KEENLY FELT.

The rector referred to the loss sustained by the removal of several families, such as Mr. R. B. Rogers, who had always been a most generous supporter of the church. He referred also to the good work done by Mr. and Mrs. Sawyer, who had removed to Bracebridge, and Mrs. H. Bennett, who had gone to Ottawa. Mr. G. G. Pratley, who had also left the parish, and who had been a most active member of the church, sent to the rector an Easter offering, and the assurance, that he could nowhere find a church which he liked as much as St. Luke's.

ASSISTANT ENGAGED.

The rector outlined his plan of enlarging his work, and stated that he had engaged Mr. T. H. Perry, B. A., to assist him in his duties. His plan was heartily approved by the Vestry. He referred also to the great help that had been given the church financially, by such a generous and trustworthy friend, as Dr. George Burnham, who on more than one occasion, had manifested his interest in St. Luke's and St. Mark's, by substantial contributions.

It was moved and seconded that Rev. E. A. Langfeldt be requested to tender the thanks of the vestry to Dr. George Burnham for his generous gift on Easter Sunday.

WARDEN'S APPOINTED.

Upon motion of Mr. Frank Adams, seconded by Mr. G. R. Browning, Col J. Z. Rogers, was elected people's warden. The rector appointed Mr. Alex. Fitzgerald his warden, in succession to Mr. G. F. Warde, to whose loyalty and support, the rector paid tribute. It was moved by Mr. F. J. Jameson, and seconded by Mr. A. Sedgwick, that the rector, and Mr. E. A. Peck, be appointed a committee to prepare a suitable testimonial of appreciation, for Mr. Frank Adams, the retiring warden.

Messrs. H. Nesbitt and Arthur Kingdon, were re-elected assistant wardens.

Mr. T. H. Adams was re-elected Vestry Clerk, at the same salary.

The Advisory Board was elected as follows,—The Wardens, Assistant Wardens, Messrs. David Spruce, F. J. Jameson, E. A. Peck, H. C. M Potter, Frank Adams and G. R. Browning. The meeting then adjourned to meet again at the call of the rector and wardens.

OTHER BUSINESS.

Subsequently at a congregational meeting, Messrs. G. F. Warde, Frank Adams and Wm. Manisse were elected lay delegates to the synod.

The rector and Mr. E. A. Peck, were elected to prepare an address of congratulation to His Grace, the Archbishop, upon his elevation to the Primary.

The meeting then adjourned.

ROLLER RINK WAS OPENED

Big Crowd at Charlotte Street Last Night—Excellent Arrangements

The opening of the roller rink took place last night with a large number of skaters, good band music, the same excellent management as last year, and a splendid time generally. The floor was in fine shape and everything was all that could be desired. Patrons of the rink will appreciate the change that has been made in the location of the band stand. It is now at the centre of the east side of the rink and almost on a level with the floor. The result is that the music is heard to much better advantage all over the rink. The floor was crowded with skaters, who, though they found the rollers a little strange at first, soon became accustomed to them and glided over the smooth surface with grace and ease. Roller skating as it is conducted at present, is not a fad, but an enjoyable healthy pastime.

The rink, as was the case, last season, will be open morning, afternoon and night, and the charges will be the same as last year. The management will introduce several new features this year, announcement of which will be made from time to time. The remodelling of the rink since last season has given a fine, large waiting room, which will no doubt be appreciated by the numerous devotees of the "rollers."

DISFIGURING FACE SORES

SAILED AROUND THE WORLD SEEKING A CURE IN VAIN TILL HE FOUND ZAM-BUK
SENSATIONAL ILLUSTRATION OF THE POWER OF ZAM-BUK

Following are the details of one of the most interesting and, at the same time, most sensational cures of skin disease ever reported, and once again the credit goes to Zam-Buk, the great herbal healer. Mr. H. Wright, of Inverness, Cape Breton, is the subject. He says: "In August, 1902, while being shaved I sustained a cut on my face just under the left ear. I was then a sailor and on the eve of a voyage. Soon after we sailed, blood poison set in and I found that sores were spreading all along the side of my head. The poison ran along like a creeping ivy plant under the skin and at intervals sending up an ulcer which discharged. I was soon in a terrible state! The steward, and everybody with a knowledge of the medicine chest, tried their best, but the ulcers and sores would not heal. I tried doctors in New Orleans where we first touched at—no cure. From thence to Hamburg, Germany—no cure. Then to North Shields, England—no cure. Back again to Canada, still suffering and trying all sorts of things in vain. Then back to Shields—no cure. Out again for Port Eads, but had to abandon the voyage through bad weather and put into London, England. While there I was treated at the leading skin hospitals, but the sores did not close, no matter how treated From there I went to Cardiff, and while there a friend said, 'You can still be cured! Try Zam-Buk!' I hardly believed it possible, but I took a supply of Zam-Buk on board, as we were sailing for Canada that night. The sores were at that time so terribly painful that I could hardly bear to touch them. I anointed them with Zam-Buk and kept on applying it regularly. In a few days the sores showed signs of healing. Zam-Buk seemed to take out all the soreness and kill the poison. By the time we reached Montreal, to my amazement and delight, every one of the sores was closed. To-day my skin is sound and healthy. I am cured completely and I owe it to Zam-Buk. There is little wonder, therefore, that I am so enthusiastic in my praise of this great balm."

WHY IS ZAM-BUK SO POPULAR?

There are several reasons: Because it cures where ordinary ointments fail, as in the above case. Because of its unquestioned purity. Because of its herbal composition. Because it is free from all trace of animal oil or fat or mineral coloring. Because, while its application eases pain and soothes wounds and injuries, it is so highly antiseptic that it kills all disease germs instantly, thus preventing inflammation and suppuration.

WHAT IT CURES—Zam-Buk cures pimples and face sores, eczema, ulcers, scalp sores, ringworms, abscesses, bad leg, chronic sores, piles, varicose ulcers, abrasions, cuts, scalds, burns, blood poison, itch, barber's rash and all other skin diseases. Rubbed over the chest it eases the tightness due to colds and chills, used as an embrocation cures rheumatism, neuralgia, etc. All druggists and stores sell at 50c. a box, post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, upon receipt of price. 6 boxes sent for $2.50.

Bloodhounds on the Trail and Interest in the Case Increases

Police Try to Trace Elliott's Slayer at Port Credit.

Animal Receives Scent From Clothes of Murdered Man—Leaps a Stream and Goes Through Meadow—Then Loses the Trial—Careless Handling of the Case—Strange Italian Spoken of—Jury Empanelled.

Port Credit, April 2.—A pedigreed bloodhound was yesterday put on the scent at the scene of the murder of Edward Elliott, after four days of masterful inactivity on the part of the crown.

With a man's life to be legally avenged, red tape and financial considerations are holding back those who might act.

The tracker, "Bob," the property of Joseph Ernest, Toronto, was sent in leash from the bloodclot beside the railroad track, two miles west of Port Credit, where early Good Friday morning Elliott's body was discovered. First he was given the scent of Elliott, from a piece of bloodstained shirt the victim had worn. The bloodhound, held in leash by Ernest and followed by County Constable Peel sniffed his way rapidly north of the G.T.R. tracks, bounded down the gulley at the side, then continued west for 200 yards close to a rail fence. With his nose to the ground, the animal, descendant of a full-blooded Kentucky man-hunter, leaped a stream of water and tugged his way through the fence and beyond into a sloped meadow. Beside a log and a bush he stopped, disconcerted. There the trail seemed to end.

Lost the Trail.

Despite the fact that the county constable and the dog's owner put him again on the trail from the scene of the crime, he could pick up no other line. "If that dog had been here two days ago, we would have gone far to solve this case," said the constable.

The facilities Port Credit affords for efficient detective service are not splendid. The place where Dr. Sutton performed his post-mortem is a dingy shed in rear of an hotel.

The chief "evidence" so far—the bloodstained clothes of Elliott, lay yesterday on the plain ground, covered with a wooden soapbox. Any wide-awake murderer could abstract them at night. A heavy storm would probably soak all the blood out of them.

Until he was taken there Sunday the constable had not visited the place where Elliott's body was found.

"What's the use; there's no money in it for me, I get only 25 cents for each subpoena I serve," is how he puts it.

The dog was sent out after the constable, Coroner Sutton and Constable Broddy of Brampton, had talked things over.

New Figure In Case.

A crown officer has discovered a new personality in the puzzle. He was told Sunday that a strange Italian—not any of the section gang—was watching Elliott drinking in the hotel. This man disappeared the night Elliott was killed.

Elliott was not known as a particularly hard drinker, but used liquor quite occasionally. Some in Port Credit say that he was intoxicated before he left that place on the night of his death. His going there to cash a discharge cheque does not indicate that he was leaving the Grand Trunk's service. It often happens that when a man wants money before the month is up, he gets a discharge cheque cashed, and is promptly rehired.

The Cause of Death.

Dr. Arthur Sutton, who conducted the post-mortem on Saturday, was confined to his bed yesterday. He points out that the deceased had evidently been stabbed in the chin and on the breast with a sharp instrument, apparently a stilleto, but none of these wounds were sufficient in themselves to cause death. The most serious wound, obviously inflicted by some blunt weapon, such as a shovel, was in the back of the head, and from this a clot of blood formed on the brain.

The following jury has been empanelled: W. Hare, foreman; D. Collins, A. Blowers, J. Carruthers, R. Skinner, W. Newman, R. Parkinson, W. Rundles, A. Hare, R. Peer, John Burns and W. McCarthy.

2,000 Cross Line for Papers.

Windsor, April 2.—It is estimated that 2,000 subscribers of the Detroit newspapers crossed the ferry on Sunday for papers from this city, Walkerville and Sandwich, the authorities having served notice that the Sunday papers would not be allowed across the line until Monday.

The movement was so pronounced that Hon. Dr. Reaume left for Toronto yesterday to persuade the Government to grant some relief in the situation in the border towns at least.

Ontario Man's Suicide.

Vancouver, B.C., April 2.—News was received here Sunday night that Lee Wigle, a well known Ontario man, had committed suicide by shooting at Dawson. He was 35 years old and married.

Was Fined for Blocking Street

C.P.R. Conductor Taxed $20 for the Offence on George St.

His Worship Magistrate Dumble gave judgment in the case of the C.P.R. allowing cars to stand on the George street crossing for a period of eight minutes, one morning about a fortnight ago. The magistrate found the conductor guilty of the offence and imposed a fine of $20, to be paid in ten days, on John Barnes, conductor of freight, who allowed the cars to block the crossing. The law is that both the company and servant can be fined, but as the company had not been tried, he would only fine the conductor. Mr. W. H. Moore, who appeared for Barnes, considered it a heavy fine on an employee of the company.

It will be a warning to conductors of freights in the future against allowing their trains to block the crossing unnecessarily.

Street Watering Started To-day

Street Commissioner Evans Got the First Cart Out on George Street

For the first time this year the watering cart made its appearance on the streets. Street Commissioneer Harry Evans got one of the city teams on a cart and about half past ten this morning it was started up and down George street throwing water over the dusty roads. This is very early for street watering, but the cart was out none too soon for the central part of the city as great clouds of dust rose after every vehicle and street car, and sometimes it was nearly blinding. But there will be no further trouble unless the standpipes should freeze up, and that will only be a temporary inconvenience.

Enjoyable Dance Held by Eko Camp

Delightful Function in Foresters Hall Was Largely Attended

One of the most enjoyable social events of the season was the annual "At Home" held last night in the Foresters' Hall, under the auspices of the Echo Camp Club. The young men who are members of the club have the reputation of being excellent hosts, and the manner in which they entertained their lady and gentlemen friends last night more than warranted this general opinion. The affair was a success in every way. About sixty couples were present, and the evening was passed most pleasantly at cards and dancing. The honorary secretary was Mr. D. B. Ramsden, whose efforts to make the "At Home" an event long to be remembered were eminently successful.

Music was supplied by Mr. L. F. Rumney, who presided at the piano, Messrs. R. Beech, J. Mendel and A. Greig, also supplied excellent music

Peterboro' Man Met His Death

While Sleeping on Railway Track in Minnesota

Chief Rossel has received a letter from Houpt, Minn., inquiring if there are any relatives residing in this city of the late Walter Drummond, who was killed on the M. & T. railway eight miles from Houpt, Minn. Walter Drummond was employed as a lumberman, and was walking on the railroad track towards Bridgie, a small town in Minnesota. It seems he must have fallen asleep on the track and was struck by a freight train. The conductor on the freight noticed the black heap on the track, and blew the whistle several times, but it never moved. The conductor thought the obstruction was nothing but a pile of cinders. When he drew nearer and saw what it was, he did all he could to stop the train, but it was too late. Drummond was not killed instantly, but died whilst being taken to the hospital.

It appears that Drummond at one time resided in this city.

The following is a copy of the letter received by the Chief:—

Houpt, Minnesota,
March 28th, 1907.

To the Chief of Police, or Postmaster,
Peterborough, Ont., Canada:

Gentlemen,—No doubt you will be somewhat surprised to hear from me, being totally strange to you. But the case is that a man was killed on the M. & T.R.R., not far from this village and was buried at Northome, Minn. eight miles from here. Now, I am not interested in any way, only I heard some woodsmen say that he formerly lived in your city of Peterborough, Canada. Now, if such is the case it might be doing some good to let his people know it if they still live there. All that was found on his person was a postal card addressed to Tom Drummond. I have been informed that he was some time known under the name of Tom Brennan.

Now, gentlemen, if you think this worth your consideration, please look it up, for the man was a stranger in a strange land, I presume without friends or money.

Enclosed find clipping from newspapers.

Yours truly,
DAVE McALLISTER,

MAY ABOLISH HANGING.

Bill to Be Shortly Presented In British Parliament.

London, April 2.—Horace C. Rayner, the young man who shot and killed William Whiteley, the well known merchant, on Jan. 24, and was sentenced to be hanged, has been reprieved, Mr. Gladstone, the Home Secretary, having advised the King to commute the sentence to penal servitude for life. The newspaper editorials yesterday morning generally proved the action as accurately reflecting public opinion, although the ground of the Home Secretary's decision is admittedly based more on sentiment than law. The opportunity is taken advantage of to discover phases of similarity between the Rayner and Thaw cases. The sheriff of Hull is quoted as saying: "Thank God for a Thaw and a Rayner, who are prepared to give their lives to rid the world of such pests to society as White and Whiteley."

The reprieve has raised the question of the abolition of capital punishment, a bill for which is expected to be shortly presented to Parliament.

Lloyd's Weekly News suggests that the numerous reprieves in recent years promise the early abolition of capital punishment in this country.

MAY HAVE BEEN MAN.

Body Found at Belleville of Man Chased by the Police.

Belleville, Ont., April 2.—A body was found in the harbor yesterday afternoon which is believed to be that of the man who, in November last, attempted to criminally assault a little girl named McKeown in this city. The body had been a long time in the water. The man who assaulted the little McKeown girl was frightened away and jumped in the river, but was believed to have gotten out. He was recognized as being from Lindsay. The body found this afternoon had in one of the pockets a receipt for a postoffice order sent to a Mrs. Berry, of Lindsay.

WILL TESTIFY AGAIN

Thaw's Wife Subpoenaed by the Insanity Commission.

Report Expected on Thursday—Jury Dismissed Until Then—District Attorney Keeps Silent as to His Actions—Will Try to Get In Hamilton's Evidence—Jurymen Send In Petition for Higher Remuneration.

New York, April 2.—It is probable that the Thaw lunacy commission will report on Thursday. The case was adjourned last week until yesterday, and when the jury was called before the court Justice Fitzgerald adjourned again the case until Thursday morning at 10.30 o'clock.

Should the commission find that Thaw is insane within the meaning of the law, the trial will be stopped, but if it finds otherwise the trial will continue.

When the hearing was interrupted by the lunacy proceedings the defence was submitting its case in surrebuttal and Dr. A. Allan McLane Hamilton, the alienist, was on the stand. If the trial is resumed it will be taken up at that point. It is doubtful if the defence will call any other witnesses, although it has been said that Evelyn Nesbit Thaw would be recalled to repeat her story of the Hummel affidavit. As soon as the defence rests, the summing up will begin and will, under the agreement made between attorneys, last for two days.

Wife a Witness.

When Mrs. Evelyn Thaw made her daily visit to her husband in the Tombs yesterday she was met by a process server, who handed her a subpoena directing her to appear before the lunacy commission to-day. Mrs. Thaw, apparently had not anticipated this move, and she appeared very much disturbed.

"Do they expect me to give evidence against my husband?" she asked.

She was told that her presence probably was desired merely as a matter of routine, but this did not seem to reassure her.

District Attorney Jerome declined to make known his purpose in calling Mrs. Thaw before the commission.

The members of the Thaw jury have drawn up a petition to Justice Fitzgerald asking him to allow them $5 a day for jury services instead of the customary allowances of $2.

Jerome's Experts.

It was reported yesterday that when the lunacy commissioners resumed its hearing to-day Mr. Jerome will call as his witnesses Drs. Pilgrim and Gregory of this city, two of the alienists engaged by the defence, and will endeavor to prove by them that Thaw is now insane. Dr. Pilgrim is head of the New York State Lunacy Commission, and Dr. Gregory is in charge of the Psycopathic ward of Bellevue Hospital. Both of them are said to have had several conversations with Thaw during the trial.

DISCUSS LAND QUESTION.

Russian Parliament Has No Hope of Making Any Changes.

St. Petersburg, April 2.—The discussion of the agrarian problem to which the first Russian Parliament almost entirely devoted its legislative activity began in the Lower House yesterday. Over a hundred speakers signified their intention of participating in the debate, to which, according to the plans of the Parliamentary leaders, only one day per week will be devoted. Neither the Constitutional Democrats nor the Socialists have much expectation of arriving at practical results during the present Parliament. They are convinced that any measure involving the compulsory expropriation of land, which is the basic principle of all the Liberal solutions, will immediately be vetoed by the Emperor and be regarded by the Cabinet as a justification for the dissolution of Parliament. But the House was forced to begin the discussion of the agrarian problem as a concession to the peasant constituents of many of the members.

MADE A CLEAN SWEEP.

Infuriated Armenian Commits Murders and Then Suicides.

Alexandropol, Russian Armenia, April 2.—A series of brutal murders was perpetrated here yesterday by a man named Karapetyants, who lately had been without employment and was refused further board and lodging in the home of a married sister. Karapetyants with a stiletto, mortally wounded his sister, killed her husband, mortally wounded a nephew and niece, killed a neighbor who answered their cry for help, and mortally wounded the wife and mother of his neighbor. Then he committed suicide.

SIX MEN WERE KILLED.

Thirty Freight Cars Burned In Texas Wreck.

Fort Worth, Tex., April 2.—Six men are reported to have been killed in a collision between two freight trains on the Missouri, Kansas and Texas Railway, at Bethel switch, six miles south of here, yesterday. Thirty freight cars were burned. Aid has been sent from this city.

Rescuer Was Murdered.

St. Joseph, Mo., April 2.—Charles L. Stanley, a commercial traveler, was killed here Sunday night by Wesley Christopher. Christopher is alleged to have assaulted a young woman in an alley. When Stanley heard the girl scream he ran to her rescue and was shot in the heart. Christopher was arrested.

Borden Decides To Go.

Ottawa, April 2.—The report that Sir Frederick Borden has cancelled his arrangements to go to the Colonial Conference is incorrect. He will sail from Halifax on April 6, going by the Empress of Britain along with Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Mr. Brodeur.

The great trouble with these new two-act dramas is that most men are used to getting at least three drinks during a play.

WIFE SLAYER ARRESTED.

Caught While Heading For the Canadian Border.

Newport, Vt., April 2.—Dwight Niles, of Newport, for whom the authorities had been searching since Saturday night, when he is alleged to have shot and killed his wife, was arrested at Richford yesterday and placed in the local lock-up. Shortly afterward he cut his throat with a jackknife, but it is believed that the wound will not prove serious. Arrangements were made to have him brought here on the noon train, and it was expected that he would be given a hearing this afternoon.

Niles, who is said to have shot his wife at her father's home after she had refused to return to live with him following a separation, disappeared after the shooting. He headed for the Canadian line and Sunday boarded a freight train on the Canadian Pacific Railway, bound for Montreal. The conductor had heard of the murder, and becoming suspicious when the train reached Richford, notified the authorities. Niles made no resistance when arrested.

Coates Co Clause Will be Dropped

For This Year—Building Permit By-law Carried With Amendments

The Committee of the Whole met before the Council last night and took up the city's private bill. It comes before the Private Bills' Committee next Thursday morning for its final disposition, and it was necessary to decide last night, what to do with the Coates Co.'s clause.

As there is nothing definite as yet about this concern, the aldermen thought it advisable to drop the clause for this session and let the bill go through without it. The clause can be brought up again next session if necessary.

The City Solicitor and the Mayor will go to Toronto on Wednesday night to look after the city's interest.

The Committee then took up the Property Committee's report and there was a kick made at once against the clause providing for the permanent appointment of the assessors, and to have them countersign the building permits in their respective sections.

Ald. Morrow and Ald. Leary moved that the latter part of clause one, providing for assessors countersigning the permits and the clause providing for the permanent appointment of the present assessors be struck out of the report. — Carried.

Three Drunks Before the Magistrate—Case of Theft Heard

Three fellows who thought they could get on a spree and kick up generally, without being caught, were yesterday April-fooled, and found themselves before His Worship Magistrate Dumble this morning.

Benjamin Hobson was imbibing too freely and was given a quiet night in a cell at the police station. He pleaded guilty and was taxed two dollars to be paid forthwith. He had not the money so will remain in gaol for the next ten days if some good friend does not come along and pay the fine.

Lawrence Greene did not know whether he was drunk. The policeman who arrested him and a companion, was not present to prove that they were drunk and the magistrate enlarged their case until this afternoon at 4 o'clock.

LIVELY ROW.

Abraham Lowe, one of the junk dealers of the city, was charged with stealing a quantity of lead from John Doig on Sunday, March 31st. At the police court this morning the case could not be proceeded with as Doig found out he had the wrong man. Lowe, he said, was not the man, but another fellow by the name of Mendel, he asserts, is the one. Argument arose between Lowe and Doig and it reminded one of a comic opera. There were three Jews, who could scarcely speak English and Doig, all talking at once. The case was dropped. Doig will lay a new information.

Mme. Eames, the great opera singer, is suing for a divorce. No opera singer is great unless she has figured in a divorce case.

Death of Widely Known Resident

Mr. Jas. Hayes of Otonabee Passed Away Last Night Aged 95 Years

One of the most widely known and highly respected residents of this part of the Midland district, passed away last night at his home in Otonabee in the person of Mr. James Hayes (Skibbereen). Deceased was 95 years of age, and in his passing from the scene of earthly labor, one of the landmarks of Peterborough County is removed. Death was principally due to old age, Mr. Hayes having been in failing health for some time. He was, however, in possession of all his faculties up till a short time before his death.

The late Mr. Hayes was born in Cork, Ireland, and came to Canada when a young man, settling in Otonabee township, on the Keene road, near Rice Lake. About 35 years ago, he purchased another farm in Otonabee, about two and a half miles from the city, where he has since resided. He was predeceased by his wife, whose maiden name was Elizabeth Barry, several years ago. He is survived by a family of four sons and three daughters. The sons are Cornelius of Sudbury, Daniel and James of Otonabee, and John, who has always resided at the family home, and who is now at Denver, Col., for the benefit of his health. The daughters are Mrs. D. Kelly of Asphodel; Helen, at home, and Hannah of Denver, Col.

Spring Cleaning at the Cemetery

A gang of men have started work at Little Lake cemetery, and are doing the annual spring cleaning. The work is being done under the supervision of Mr. Frank Wise, who states that the cemetery will be more beautiful this summer than ever before. Numerous minor improvements are being made that will add to the appearance of "God's Acre." There have been about the usual number of interments during the past winter.

Re-opening of the Colloseum

Many patronized the Colloseum, George street, at the grand re-opening yesterday. The moving pictures of the stirring western drama, "Life of a Cowboy," were exceedingly realistic and proved highly interesting. The entertainment at the Colloseum is high class and refined in every respect and no doubt many will be present at the performance which continues without interruption afternoon and evening. There will be different pictures daily and they are the most realistic ever seen in Peterborough.

Award of the Ashburnham Outfall Sewer Arbitration

Before Mr. A. W. Spence, Engineer, Gives Mr. Jas. Bogue $1818—City Also Pays Arbitrators Fees of $122,75—Mr. Bogue Pays for the Diver, $27

The city met a big snag, when it sent Contractor Bogue's claim of extras on the Ashburnham Outfall Sewer contract to arbitration. Mr. Spence, the arbitrator has made his report, and it was read to the city council last night. As a result Mr. Bogue is awarded $1,818, the city to pay the cost of the arbitration, viz., $122.75. Mr Bogue only pays the cost of the diver, which was $27.

The award was somewhat of a surprise to the council, who thought they had a much better case than the award would indicate. Had the council paid Mr. Bogue's account last May when it was first presented, when it amounted to $1765.50, the city would have saved $175. But since that time interest has been added and additional extras allowed for by the arbitrator. However, as the matter stood when last year's Board of Works took up the reins of power, that body could do nothing else. This year's council of course, had to follow up the work of last year's Board of Works. The matter is now settled and it is hoped that nothing more will be heard of it.

The council referred the matter to the Board of Works Committee to look into, and act accordingly.

Mr. A. W. Spence wrote the Council as follows,—"Persuant to the terms of an agreement of reference, made Feb. 25, 1907, between the Corporation of the City of Peterborough and Mr. Jas. Bogue, contractor, of the said city, with respect to claims, for extras, detentions, and interest in connection with his contract for construction of an outfall sewer in Ward No. 5 of the city, I beg to report that I had a competent diver examine the cast iron outlet pipe into the lake. The report of the diver I transmit herewith.

Having also carefully considered the evidence adduced before me with respect to the levels previously taken, as well as the plan, profiles and specifications submitted, I award and order, the said Mr. James Bogue is entitled to be paid by the said corporation, the sum of $1818, in full satisfaction, and discharge of all extras, detentions and interest claimed by him, and I further order that the corporation pay me fee and costs as arbitrator, as per bill attached, and that the said Mr. James Bogue pay the costs and expenses of the diver, amounting to $27."

Mr. Mulcahy, the diver engaged on the work, submitted the following reoprt to Mr. Spence,—"Acting under your instructions, I made an examinations of sewer pipe under the waters of Little Lake, and found that the joints connecting the pipe were properly connected and also sufficient bearing under the pipe to support it. In my opinion, the work has been well done. At the end of the pipe I found a considerable quantity of sawdust on top of slabs, and other refuse. This does not now interfere with the discharge of the sewer."

Mr. Spence's bill amounted to $122.75.

This was referred to the Board of Works

COX PROPERTY ON RUBIDGE TS.

Was Not Sold by Auction—Highest Bid Was Only $14,000

A sale of homestead property was held at the Munroe House this afternoon at two o'clock, when the property known as the Aaron Cox property was put up at auction. That particular parcel of land includes 196 feet 6 inches frontage on Rubidge street, with a depth of 236 feet. On it is the large, handsome double residence of Mr. Cox and Mr D. Hughes Charles; also a fine big barn

There was a good crowd at the Munroe House when Auctioneer John Haggart asked for the first bid, but no sale was made, as there was a difference of opinion between Mr. D. W. Dumble, who represented the property, and the prospective purchasers, as to what the value of it was.

Mr. V. Eastwood made the first bid of $12,000. In a few minutes the price went to $12,500, $13,000. $13.500, $14,000. There the bidding ceased. No one would offer a cent more and the sale was declared off.

Anglers to Meet Thursday Night

C. G. E. Disciples of Isaac Walton Will Get into Line

The C.G.E. Angling Club will hold its annual meeting in the Y. M.C.A. parlors on Thursday evening April 4th at 8 p.m.

The C.G.E. anglers, as everybody knows, are the same Isaac Waltons that distinguished themselves so well in the summer before the one that is just coming.

These are the patient watchers for the finny tribe who will not be driven from their souls' desire by the fiercest (b)rain storm that ever stirred the muddy waters of Rice Lake.

The hardware and sporting goods men, also the man in charge of the town pump, report a rushing business in silver baits, Peruna and gold bricks, to catch the suckers with.

Inside information has been received that the club intends using an entirely new bait, which will be known as "Old Brown's Electric Bait."

Angler Wilson has procured a brand new suit with brass buttons.

Angler Patterson has a new pike pole. He has discarded his old cant hook as the game wasn't large enough

Presentation to Ball Player

Mr. Harry Roddy Remembered by Charlotte Street Church Team.

On Saturday evening last a number of the members of the Charlotte-st. Baseball team and hockey club called at the home of Mr. Harry Roddy, Sherbrooke street, and presented him with a beautiful gold mounted fountain pen and complimentary address. The address was read by Mr. N. E. McWilliams, and the presentation made by Mr. Fred Heaslop. The address was highly eulogistic of Mr. Roddy's worth as a member of the Men's Guild and also of the baseball and hockey clubs. He would be greatly missed and his place would be hard to fill, but all joined in wishing him every success in his new home.

Mr. Roddy, although greatly surprised made a suitable reply. Mr. Roddy leaves this week for Fort William where he has accepted a lucrative position.

Committees Met to Secure Normal Site

The special committee of the City Council, and three members of the Board of Education, met on the Smith town hill this morning. The personnel of the gathering was Mayor McWilliams, Ald. Leary, Morrow, Phelan, Wilson and Bradburn, and Messrs. Dumble, Pringle and Dr. Burnham. The object was to again look over the property on the brow of the hill, as a site for the new Normal school. It will be remembered that a committee of the council tried to purchase this land before, but the price was too high. It was proposed to purchase Mr. Blackwell's property, and also the vacant lots in front belonging to Mr. Clegg. The last price was over $7,000, but it was reported that a better price could be obtained now.

The joint committees discussed the question fully, and then appointed Mr. Leary and Mr. Pringle a deputation to secure options. These men are arranging the options this afternoon, and if they can get a reasonable price, a council meeting will be held, at five o'clock this afternoon for the purpose of considering the report. If the price is at all reasonable, and the council can see its way clear to spend some extra money a small deputation will be sent to Toronto to make an offer to the educational authorities.

The present site is down in a hollow, out of sight of everyone and besides, there is no foundation for the building to rest on. If the new site is secured, the building will be not only a permanent ornament but will be much more healthy for the pupils.

More People for the North West

Another contingent of local people left this morning for the Canadian Northwest to take up land. Every week a number leave the city and district and very soon the totals will be reckoned by the hundreds for this season alone. The effect of so many young people going away from the farms in Peterborough district will be serious and the farmers will find it much more difficult to get good farm hands or help of any kind for the harvest and summer work. Even now the immigrants arriving at the Union station, Toronto, are in great demand and all kinds of wages are being offered.

Harrier Club Meets To-night

A meeting of the Y.M.C.A. Harrier Club is called for to-night in the Association building at 7.30 sharp. The Board of Directors was re-elected and is as follows:—Messrs. T. Brightman, R. Neill, Dr. Greer, W. G. Morrow, R. M. Waddell, J. E. A. Fitzgerald, R. Hicks, W. H. Denham, Jas Bogue and J. A. IMMIGRANTS LOCATING HERE

Another Train of Them Passed Through Peterborough Last Night.

A train load of over 200 immigrants passed through Peterborough last night and several of them got off here. Most of the party appeared to be of a superior class and should make good citizens. Nearly every day immigrant trains pass through Peterborough and apparently they are having no difficulty in securing employment as the following item in a Toronto paper shows:—

Over two hundred immigrants from the vicinity of Liverpool arrived at the Union station yesterday morning. Most of them appeared to be of a superior class. So great was the crush of farmers to obtain laborers that the intending employers had to be kept on the bridge, while the new-comers passed in procession before them. Some of the arrivals came over under the auspices of the Church Army.

ORGANIZER HERE

Mr. C. A. Yule, of Colborne, organizer for the Woodmen of the World, is in the city on business in connection with the Order. Mr. Yule will remain here a few days, and expects to secure a number of new members for the local camp. He states that the growth of the Woodmen is highly satisfactory.

LEARN DRESSMAKING IN TWO WEEKS

We teach you everything from the plainest shirt waist to the most elaborate toilette that can be found in the fashion books. We show you how to put together not only the lining but all the outer goods in coats, skirts, wrappers, waists, sleeves, collars, etc. Why spend months at a dressmaking shop where you do nothing but hem, overcast, sew on hooks and eyes, and then after you have served months there [illegible] What do you know about cutting? Absolutely nothing, for you will know no more how to cut out a dress at the end of a year than you did just the day you went there. So why spend your time there when we can teach you in two weeks. You can come and try for a week and see for yourself what it is like as there is nothing to be paid in advance you certainly would not lose anything by trying. We have taught over 2000 this way within the past 6 years in Western Ontario and all recommend it very highly.

Charge for full course is only $10 to be paid when course is completed if satisfied including one of most perfect [illegible] systems in use which we give free. We guarantee that the waists made by this chart will not draw nor pull out of skirt when raising arm [illegible]

AN EVENING CLASS will also be taught. In this class we will teach shirt waists, sleeves, and [illegible] The course will be $4.00 and hours from 7 to 9. We will teach at Peterboro from April 8th to April 20th. Hours for day class from 9 to 5. All wishing to learn please come to see us at the Oriental Hotel on Saturday, April 6th, between 10 and 4 o'clock. This is positively the last class we will teach at Peterboro this year.

Cure For The Blues

ONE MEDICINE THAT HAS NEVER FAILED

Health Fully Restored and the Joy of Life Regained.

When a cheerful, brave, light-hearted woman is suddenly plunged into that perfection of misery, the BLUES, it is a sad picture. It is usually this way:

She has been feeling "out of sorts"

Mme. Josephine Rinville

for some time; head has ached and back also; has slept poorly, been quite nervous, and nearly fainted once or twice; head dizzy, and heart-beats very fast; then that bearing-down feeling, and during her periods she is exceedingly despondent. Nothing pleases her. Her doctor says: "Cheer up: you have dyspepsia; you will be all right soon."

But she doesn't get "all right," and hope vanishes; then come the brooding, morbid, melancholy, everlasting BLUES.

Don't wait until your sufferings have driven you to despair, with your nerves all shattered and your courage gone, but take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. See what it did for Madame Josephine Rinville, Mastai, Que. She writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:

"I suffered for four years with female troubles—inflammation of the stomach and fallopian tubes which caused me violent pain and often torture, so much so that I could not walk at times and attend to my daily duties. Life was misery to me. I was so blue and despondent I did not know which way to turn for relief. I had tried the doctors but they did not help me. I was advised to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, so I bought a bottle. I am glad that I did so, for I am well and strong to-day and the world looks bright, for I have perfect health, thanks to your medicine."

If you have some derangement of the female organism write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for advice.

Programme of Unusual Merit

Presetned at Easter Concert at Charlotte Street Church

When the Peterborough Conservatory of Music gives a concert the public expects something above the average and they are not often disappointed. The excellence of the work being done by the Conservatory is so well known that it seems superflous to refer to it here. It was expected that the Easter concert given by the Conservatory of Music at the Charlotte street church, under the auspices of the Young Men's Guild would be a success and such it proved to be. The function took place in the Sunday school hall and a large number enjoyed the splendid programme that was given. Those who contributed were Mr. Henri J. Lautz, of Toronto, tenor soloist; Miss Lena Drechsler Adamson, of Toronto, violiniste; the Conservatory orchestra, the Conservatory Madigral club. The accompanist was Mr. T. George, whose accomplished work at the piano added greatly to the pleasure of the evening. Mr. Lautz is, perhaps, the peer of any tenor soloist ever heard in Peterborough. He has a splendid voice of great range and rare sweetness and which shows the effects of the excellent vocal training he has had. In his several numbers last night he was listened to with delight and encores had to be frequently responded to.

Miss Adamson at once won herself into the favor of her audience by her charming playing. Her numbers some of them exceedingly difficult compositions, were beautifully rendered and hearty applause evinced the appreciation of those present.

The Conservatory orchestra shows constant improvement and Mr. Gliddon must be complimented on the praiseworthy organization that he now directs. Credit is also due the members of the orchestra for their excellent work. The playing of the orchestra was a feature of last night's concert. The Madrigal Club as usual, was a great favorite and was never heard to better advantage. There is now little room for improvement.

As an accompanist Mr. George was everything that could be desired and his work was above criticism. The programme was as follows:—

Overture, "Norma," Bellini—Conservatory orchestra.

Violin, 2nd concerto, "Andante non troppo, a la Zingara," Weeniawaki.—Lina Drechsler Adamson.

Old English Madrigal, "Now is the Month of Maying, Morley, (written 1595)—Conservatory Madrigal Club.

Vocal, "Adelaide," Beethoven.—Henri J. Lautz.

Violin "Scherzo Tarantelle," Hans Sitt.—Lina Drechsler Adamson.

Old English Madrigal, "You Stole my Love," (written 1553). Anthony Munday.—Conservatory Madrigal club.

To Change Site of Normal School

Special Committee to Try and Buy Property on Top of the Hill.

The site for the Normal School is not settled yet. Everyone thought it had been, and the contractor has had the building laid out. But Ald. Leary opened the question up again at the council meeting.

He said that water had been struck at a depth of three feet, and that the cellar would have to be built ten feet above the ground. He also pointed out that the school would be in a hollow. He wanted the council to purchase the Blackwell property on the brow of the hill, and also the vacant lots in front of it.

This would cost something over $7,000 and had been tried by a special committee and the council turned it down. However, Ald. Wilson, thought that a better price could be obtained now on the vacant lots and Ald. Leary had a special committee appointed to go into the matter, the first thing this morning. If anything reasonable can be done the council will meet this afternoon and a deputation will go to Toronto tonight to try and have the site changed.

Ald. Leary introduced a matter of changing the Normal School site, which he claimed was of far more importance than any bylaw. He said the Normal School had been laid out in the hollow on Dixon Park, and instead of building a cellar, one would have to build ten feet high. The cellar had been sunk three feet, and water was struck. He considered it was a crying shame to allow that building to be put up there. It should be erected on the brow of the hill and the property there purchased. He moved that the chairman of the Property Committee, Ald. McIntyre, Bradburn, Morrow, Phelan, Wilson and the Mayor, be a special committee to look into this matter in the morning and if a site can be purchased, that the council be called this afternoon to purchase the site and the committee wait upon the educational authorities in Toronto at once, and have the site changed. Ald. Bradburn seconded the motion and it carried.

High Praise for New Superintendent

Grand Jury at Belleville Visit the D. & D. Institute

The Canadian Mute says:—On the 30th ult. we had the pleasure of a visit from the Grand Jury, who were making their official inspection of the public institutions. They arrived soon after dinner and spent the afternoon in visiting as many of the class rooms and shops as possible, under the guidance of Dr. Coughlin. The impressions they formed are indicated by the following extract from their presentment to the Judge:—

"We also visited the institution for the Deaf and Dumb. Dr. Coughlin, the new superintendent, gave us a hearty welcome, and under his leadership we inspected the different departments of the Institution and visited the classes taught there. We found this Institution in a splendid condition and it well deserves its high reputation. We were particularly pleased with the articulation classes and the fire drill. The progress made in teaching the deaf mutes how to articulate was witnessed with great appreciation, and the skill with which the pupils carried out the fire drill was not only a credit to the bright, intelligent scholars, but also a great compliment to the officers of the Institution. We appreciated the Superintendent's genial and courteous reception and hope he may be long spared to fill the important position he now occupies."

DIAMOND JUBILEE

Albert College, Belleville, was opened in July, 1857, so that this year completes the 50th year in its history. It is proposed to celebrate the event in June of this year. Efforts are also being made to erect a new residence, entirely for young ladies, to be called the "Carman Hall" to commemorate Dr. Carman's long connection with this school and also the 50th year of his ministry.

Sewer Work Done by Day Labor The Policy of the City Council

Debate on it Last Night—City Engineer's Report on Sidewalks and Sewers to be Constructed This Year Included in the Board of Works Report.

The Board of Works Committee presented a most important report to the City Council last night. It included the city engineer's report on the sidewalks and pavings which should be put down this year, and also a list of those which must be advertised before any work can be done.

More important than ever is the decision of the Council, on a tie vote, the Mayor casting the deciding vote, to construct all sewers this year by day labor, without advertising for tenders. This is one of the greatest undertakings the Council has considered this year. The change is a most radical one, but the aldermen believe that they are acting in the best interests of the people. They take the experience of the Board of Works for the past two years with the day labor system, and they are convinced that the city can construct the sewers cheaper than the contractors.

There was very strong opposition to this move. Half of the Council thought the same policy adopted last year should be again adopted. That is, to advertise for tenders, having the engineer put in a tender and accept the lowest tender. There was considerable debate on the question, but no new arguments were presented and the policy was passed.

The Board of Works reported and recommended as follows;—

That notice be given of the intention of the Council to construct granolithic sidewalks on the following streets or parts of streets, as local improvements under section 678 of the Consolidated Municipal Act, 1903, and the other provisions of the said Act and by-laws of the city relating to local improvements and applicable thereto, the number of annual assessments to be twenty, namely;

Water street, west side, from Hilliard street to Mill street.

Division street, both sides, from London street to Dublin street.

Union street, both sides, from Dublin street to Edinburgh street.

Donegal street, west side, from creek to Brock street.

King street south side, from Bethune street to Park street.

King street south side, from Park street to John street.

Lake street, south side, from Crescent street to Bethune street.

Romaine street, south side, from Crescent street to Park street.

Sophia street, north side, from Burnham street to Mark street.

Rubidge street, west side, from London street to Edinburgh street.

Paterson street, north side, from Park street to the westerly limit of Lot No 20, plan No. 47.

Bethune street, west side, from London street to McDonnel street.

Dalhousie street, south side, from Stewart street to Rubidge street.

Maitland Avenue, west side, from King street to Charlotte street.

St. Joseph street, west side, from Charlotte street to Gilmour street.

Babb's Lane, west side, from Gilmour street to Homewood Avenue.

NEW SEWERS.

That notice be given of the intention of the Council to construct sewers as local improvements on the following streets, or parts of streets, the number of special assessments therefor to be thirty, namely:—

Rogers street, from Hunter street north to the northerly limit of Lot No. 3 east of Rogers street.

Robinson street, from Mark street to Burnham street.

Paterson street, from Park street to the westerly limit of Lot No. 21, plan No. 40.

Stewart street, from McDonnel street to a point 167 feet south of McDonnel street.

Downie street, from London street to Smith street.

Smith street, from Downie street to Reid street.

Reid street, from Smith street to Stewart street.

Dublin street, from Water street to a point 115 feet east of Water street.

Driscoll Terrace, from Hunter street to Cricket Place.

Cricket Place, from Driscoll Terrace to the eastern limit of Cricket Place.

Thomas street, from King street to Bolivar street.

Harvey street, from Smith street to Antrim Street, and on Antrim street from Harvey street to Water street.

That petitions for the construction of sewers as local improvements on the following streets, being sufficiently signed, be granted:—

Parnell street, from Park street to the westerly limit of Parnell street, on Park street from Parnell street to Romaine street, and Romaine street from Park street to Aylmer street.

Benson Avenue, from Smith street to Dixon Park.

Hart Avenue, from Paterson street to a point 180 feet south of Paterson street.

Park street, from Rink street to Albert street, and Albert street from Park street to Lafayette Avenue.

That petitions for the construction of granolithic sidewalks as local improvements on the following streets being sufficiently signed, be granted;—

Harvey street, east side, Smith street to Antrim street.

Dalhousie street, north side, from Rubidge street to Reid street.

Inverlea street, north side, from Water street to the easterly line of Lot No 42, plan No. 70.

Inverlea street, south side, from Water street to Dennistoun Avenue.

Charlotte street, north side, from from 8 feet east of the line between Lots 3 and 4, north of Charlotte street and west of George, to 44 feet. 4 inches east of the said line.

Charlotte street south side, from 8 feet east of the line between Lots 3 and 4, south of Charlotte street and west of George street, to 44 feet 4 inches east of the said line.

Reid street, south side, from Smith street to Victoria Avenue.

That upon the Dickson Co. furnishing an agreement approved of by the city solicitor, consenting to the city grading and water-tabling the street herin referred to and putting it in a safe and proper condition for traffic to the satisfaction of the City Engineer, and agreeing to pay the cost of such work as certified by the said engineer, the Board recommend that the Council pass a by-law consenting to the registration of a plan showing a street 45 feet wide on the property at the corner of Burnham and Hunter street.

STREET WATERING.

That the chairman and engineer be instructed to have the streets watered as soon as practicable, especially in the central district.

That the following parts of streets be taken from the southern street watering district and added to the central district;—Sherbrooke Street from George to Aylmer street; King street from George to Aylmer street; and Aylmer street from Charlotte to Sherbrooke street, in lieu of streets added to the southern district, and that the contract for the southern district be awarded to W. J. Collins at a price not exceeding $450.

That a charge of $17.58 against Mrs. Burns for a sidewalk be written off.

That the city clerk be authorized to have the notices of the intention of the Council to construct local improvements served in accordance with the law, and that the city treasurer be authorized to pay the expense on the certificate of the clerk.

That all sewers and drains to be constructed during this season be constructed by day labor, under the supervision of the City Engineer.

Ald. Morrow asked if he understood that it was the Council's intention to do all sewer work this year by day labor?

The chairman of the Board of Works and the Mayor informed him that it was.

Then all the aldermen took part in the debate which followed, but the recommendation was adopted, after a vote had been taken.

Moved by Ald. Bradburn, seconded by Ald. Elliott,—That the sewers this year be built by contract; tenders be called for the sewers, and the city engineer put in a tender also, and the lowest tender be accepted, or if the city engineer be as low as the lowest.

The motion was put and resulted in a tie. The Mayor voted for the report of the committee, and the sewers will be built by day labor.

LIFE INSURANCE AND PRACTICAL GENEROSITY.

For some time past, corporations and great fiduciary institutions—all organizations controlling or holding vast sums of money—have been the chief object of public attention. Honest men have welcomed this manifestation of public interest in the problems created by modern methods of conducting enormous enterprises. Clear-headed men realise at the same time that some of the institutions made prominent by their far-reaching operations and intimate relations with the public, are conducted by men of the highest integrity and are performing a public service of incalculable value.

The great Metropolitan Life Insurance Company of New York, is coming more and more to be recognized as an institution whose attitude toward the public is nearer to that of a generous philanthropist than an oppressive capatilist. This Company conducts the business of insurance in a way that can be understood by the ordinary citizen. It estimates in the light of universal experience and expert knowledge the actual cost of insuring a life under given conditions, exacts a legitimate premium based upon cost, writes a policy as definite and clear as the simplest business contract, and then PAYS every dollar the beneficiary expects or hopes to receive.

This, of course, is simply maintaining correct business principles and should call for no more commendation when practiced by a great corporation than it would in the case of an individual. The high estimation in which the Metropolitan Life is held today, however, cannot be attributed to the mere fact that it refrains from deceit and meets its obligations; it is due to repeated acts which indicate that it regards its millions of policyholders as entitled to share from time to time in its own unanticipated profits.

This unique view of its obligations, it should be noted, is not the result of recent insurance agitation, but has been held consistently for many years. It has impelled the Company to distribute among its policy-holders during the past twelve years more than thirteen million of dollars.

It has been made known in the latest published statements of the Metropolitan Life that all full-life policy-holders in the Industrial Department who reached the age of 75 in 1906, and all who reach that age in 1907, are to have their policies continued for life without further payment of premiums. It is further provided that any one holding a full-life Industrial policy which has been in force fifteen years will at the age of 80 receive the amount of the policy in cash.

Perhaps no former act of this Company is so significant as this voluntary generosity toward aged policyholders from whom it can expect no compensating relations in the future. It is stated that this concession alone costs the Company more than a million dollars. Any similar gift (for it is purely a voluntary gift) by an individual would cause the donor to be widely proclaimed as a leader in philanthropical work. It should not go entirely unrecognized because it emanates from a "Corporation."

Further concessions made by the Metropolitan Life during 1906 affect their younger policy-holders, and have taken the shape of voluntary cash dividends upon Industrial policies—dividends not promised nor implied in the policies, not bargained for, hoped for, or expected by those who receive them. This is an item of something like two million dollars, making the total voluntary concessions during the year more than three millions.

Five Generation in This Familys; Mrs. Sage Great Great Grandmother

Resides at Lakefield and is 99 Years of Age—One of Her Sons Who is 74 Years Old and a Great Grandfather Was in Peterborough Yesterday—A Family Tree That Has Many Branches—Unexpected Meeting of Two Brothers at a Local Hotel.

In these days when it is often heard that the strenuous life is driving mortals to early graves, it is not often that one finds five generations of one family living and enjoying good health. In fact such a thing is considerable of a rarity nowadays and there are very few examples of such longlivety in this part of the province at the present time.

The Review yesterday secured considerable information about a family of five generations, several members of which reside in the vicinity of Peterborough. Mrs. Jos. Sage, of Lakefield will be 99 years old next September and she is a great-great-grandmother. At the Munro House yesterday was registered one of her sons, Mr. Thos. Sage, of Huron county who, for the first time in eight years took advantage of the Easter holidays to pay a visit to friends in this locality. Mr Sage was 74 years of age on the 12th of last January and is still hale and hearty and is apparently good for many years more on this mundane sphere. Mr. Sage has a daughter married and residing at Trenern, Man. Her name is Mrs. Thompson and she has three of a family. One of her daughters is married to a Mr. Lee and resides in Manitoba also, and she too has three children, the eldest of them being over ten years of age. This makes the five generations and it is worthy of note that the five generations have existed in this family for about ten years.

RESIDES AT LAKEFIELD.

Mrs. Jos. Sage, the great-great-grandmother resides at Lakefield with her daughter Mrs. Helen Robinson. Her maiden name was Eleanor Adams and she was born in Kingston in September, 1808. Early in life she was married to Mr. Jas. Sage and for a brief space after they were married they resided at Cobourg, but about eighty years ago they settled on lot 22 in the 13th concession of Smith—the homestead of the Sage family. They purchased the land without ever seeing it, the sale taking place at Cobourg, and when they moved to their home in the mighty forest that then enveloped this part of the province, they found that they were ten miles from the nearest settler. But more of this part of the story at a later stage.

To Mr. and Mrs. Sage was born a family of seven sons and five daughters, and of these six sons and two daughters now survive. Mr. Thomas Sage, who was in Peterborough yesterday was the fourth member of the family, there being one son and two daughters older than he but they have passed away. The sons who still survive are Thomas, of Wroxeter, Huron county; Henry, of Smith township; Wm. of Michigan; George, of Clinton, Huron county and John of the Canadian Northwest. The daughters living at present are Mrs. McCullouch, of Seaforth, and Mrs. Robinson, of Lakefield, with whom the venerable great-great-grandmother resides. Several other members of the first Sage family are great-grand parents so that the five generations exist in more than one branch of the family.

A REMARKABLE LADY

Mrs. Sage, of Lakefield, who has still all her faculties, despite the fact that nearly a century of years have whitened her hair, is a remarkable old lady. She has a vivid recollection of the pioneer days of Peterborough county and is perhapsp the oldest of the early settlers. All the friends of her girlhood days and of her early married life, have passed to their last long reward, but the passing of the years finds her still alert and active, although the hand of time is beginning to be felt, and her step is slower, the brow more furrowed, and the eyes dimmer than they were a few years ago. She has not been feeling as well as usual of late and so she sent word to her two sons, who reside in different parts of Huron county to come and visit her at Easter. And here another remarkable incident occurred. Thomas lived at Wroxter and George at Clinton, places a number of miles apart, and neither knew that the other was going to pay a visit to Peterborough county. Imagine the surprise of the two brothers when they met at the Munro House on Thursday evening of last week, neither having seen the other for several years. Thomas came to Peterborough on the C.P.R., and George made the journey by the Grand Trunk, both arriving in Peterborough at practically the same time. Since then they have been visiting friends at Lakefield and in Smith township, and needless to say, were accorded a very warm welcome. They left for their homes in Huron county today.

ABOUT EARLY DAYS.

Speaking to a Review representative last night Mr. Thos. Sage recalled many interesting incidents of the early settlers in Peterborough county. When his father, Mr. Jas. Sage, settled in Smith township, the country was one vast forest. The settlers' axe had not yet left its impression and wolves and bears were more plentiful than deer in the north country at the present time. Where the flourishing city of Peterborough now stands, there were then two log shanties, and the sound of a human voice seldom echoed through the primeval forest. As already stated, Mr Sage and his wife were ten miles from the nearest neighbor, when they settled in Smith township, and a visit from a white man was a rare event in those days. The Indians were there, however, and played an important part in the early history of Peterborough county. Mr. Sage told of how he often had lain in bed at night and listened to the wolves howling around the door of the log house which they were glad to call home. And a lonely sound it was too. He also told of another occasion when he remembered seeing a bear coming out of a nearby woods, walking to a small lot, where some pigs were confined, seizing one of the grown porkers, carrying it off, and eating it within sight of the settler and his family. They were unable to shoot their bear visitor, as Mr Sage the head of the family, had lent his gun to an Indian a few days before and the redman had sold the weapon. Mr Sage was unable to do anything to secure the return of the gun, as there was no law for an Indian and anyhow law was a mighty scarce thing in those days.

A CHANGE EFFECTED

But as the years passed the forests gave way to scented meadows and fields of golden grain and after the lapse of three quarters of a century, the township of Smith is now one of the most progressive and richest agricultural communities in the province. And when one considers the changes time has wrought, it seems remarkable that there is living today a person who was active amid these scenes eighty years ago, when Canada was young and when the war of 1812 was still fresh in the minds of the people. Victoria had just ascended the British throne, and Wellington, the Iron Duke, was at the height of his fame.

When one looks back over the century of years that have almost flown since the white man first began to battle against the forest giant of Peterborough county, the thought is forced home, how much the present generation owes to those who have gone before, lived, loved, had their joys and sorrows, and died before they could look through the door of the wonderful future that they had helped to establish. How little the world really knows of human hope and human endeavor. Spring follows winter, followed by the rich bloom of summer and the golden glow of autumn Seasons pass, the world's toilers are called home, and the succeeding generations pause but little to take note of what has been accomplished. It is good to look back occasionally and to draw an inspiration from the heroic efforts of those who have gone before.

Mr. Sage sees many improvements in Peterborough since he was here eight years ago and was greatly surprised at the remarkable industrial development.

Mrs. Sage, of Lakefield, has several scores of grand-children and great-grand-children, and a family reunion would be an interesting event. They are scattered throughout Canada and the United States, and have done well in many walks of life.

SPECIAL COMMITTEE.

Ald. Wilson moved that a special commitee of Ald. Bradburn, Elliott and Phelan be appointed to act with the committee of the Board of Health, to deal with the Dickson Co.'s application for sewer connection with their property on Dublin and Harvey streets.

Ald. Bradburn moved in amendment that the Property Committee deal with the matter.

The amendment was lost and the original motion carried.

WILL CHANGE WARDS.

The Mayor then brought up the matter of changing of the wards of the city. Action must be taken at once on account of the placing of fire alarm boxes.

Mr. Carveth was present and addressed the Council. He said that as far as he could see there would be no material difference to them. He could not see that there was any difference to them.

Mr. Thos. McGrath could not see that it would have any effect on the Separate School Board.

Ald. Phelan was very much opposed to making any change. Ald. Elliott agreed with Ald. Phelan, until the council was ready to go back to the ward system.

Ald. Stevenson said he had gone into his matter very thoroughly. He had talked with a large number of ratepayers, and he could not find a person who could produce any sound argument why the change should not be made. He would certainly support it.

Ald. Stevenson and Ald. Johnston then moved the following resolution,—

That the wards of the city be revised as follows,—

South Ward—All that property lying south of Sherbrooke street.

North Ward—All that part of the city, north of McDonnel street.

East Ward—All that part of the city lying east of the river.

Centre Ward—All that part of the city lying between Sherbrooke and McDonnell streets, and between Bethune street and the river.

West Ward—All that part of the city lying between Sherbrooke and McDonnel streets and Bethune street and Monaghan Road.

BY-LAWS.

The following bylaws were read:

Bylaw, No. 1292, was a bylaw providing for the government of the Fire Hall.—Carried.

Bylaw No. 1293 was a bylaw amending the building bylaw and providing for the issuing of buildings permits.—Carried.

Bylaw No. was a bylaw regulating fire escapes on public buildings. Ald. Morrow and Ald. Bradburn moved that this bylaw be laid over for one month, and the city engineer be aske dto report on the buildings needing fire escapes.

Bylaw No. 1294, was a bylaw appointing a foreman for the new fire hall.—Carried.

Bylaw No. 1295, was a bylaw appointing a driver for the fire hall. —Carried.

Bylaw No. 1296, was a bylaw authorizing the execution of the agreement between the council and Thos. Williams for a refuse grounds. Carried.

Bylaw No. 1297 was a bylaw authorizing the execution of the street watering contracts for 1907.—Carried.

Bylaw No. 1298, was a bylaw providing for the construction of certain streets or parts of streets in the city as local improvements. Carried.

Council adjourned just before midnight.

INCREASED WAGES.

Thirty-six teamsters wrote the council asking for an increase in pay for corporation work, to $4.00 per day for team and driver. They claim they are justified in making the request, owing to the increase in the price of feed, horses, waggons and harness.

On motion the deputation of teamsters was heard. There was a large number present. Mr. Jos. Brisbin said he did not think it was necessary to say anything on the matter. The council had recently purchased a team of horses and were buying feed all the time, and they thought they were justified in making the request. Mr. Fitzgerald also spoke.

Ald. Leary said the council need not hesitate for a minute. He had a team last year on corporation work, and he lost money. He would not put one on this year. The price last year was $3.25.

Ald. Duncan thought the request was too high. In Ottawa they only paid $3.65.

Ald. Morgan suggested that the council split the difference, and pay $3.75.

Ald. Johnston and Wilson moved that the matter be sent to the Board of Works to deal with.

Spring Assizes of High Court Open Next Week

Statements of Two Cases Have Already Been Filed—Waters-Allen Case Again to the Fore—Geo. W. Frost Sues the G. T. R. for the Loss of an Arm.

The spring assizes of the High Court of Justice open at the court house before His Honor Mr. Justice Riddell, on Monday, April 8th. It is expected that there will be about five cases on the docket. Statements for two of them have already been filed. One of them is the Waters—Allan case, of which considerable was heard last summer, and the other is that of George W. Frost against the G.T.R. to recover damages for injuries sustained while employed as a brakeman by the Grand Trunk at the yards of the company in Peterborough last September. It will be remembered that Frost had his arm severed by being run over by a train.

Waters is suing Allan for $10,000 for alienation of his wife's affections.

The plaintiff, Harry George Waters, is a hotel cashier residing in the city of Toronto, but formerly resided in Peterborough. The defendant, Jas. Allan, is a gentleman residing in Peterborough, where he formerly was proprietor of a hostelry known as the C.P.R. hotel. The plaintiff charges that in the month of July, 1906, the defendant wrongfully and without the consent of the plaintiff, enticed away from the plaintiff his wife, Gertrude Flora Waters, and persuaded and counselled her to absent herself from the home and society of the plaintiff, thus alienating her affections from her husband.

The plaintiff further charges the defendant with adulterous intercourse with Mrs. Waters and inducing her to leave her husband.

The defendant denies the allegations contained in the plaintiff's statement.

D. O'Connell is the plaintiff's solicitor and Mr. A. P. Pousette, the defendant's.

FROST VS. G.T.R.

Another case to be tried is that of George W. Frost, plaintiff, against the Grand Trunk Railway Co. defendants. The plaintiff asks for $3,000 damages at common law, or in the alternative $1800 damages under the Workmen's Compensation for Injuries Act; such further relief as the nature of the case may require, and his costs of the action. Frost was a brakeman in the employ of the G.T.R. and while working in the company's yard in this city on the 22nd of last September, he was thrown off a box car and between the tracks, so that the train of cars passed over him, severing his right arm from his body and otherwise seriously injuring him. He charges that the accident was due to the defective rolling stock used by the defendants, and by the failure of the company to securely couple and connect the cars composing the train, and to attach the engine with automatic couplers, which make the connection automatically by impact, and do not require the men going between the engine and cars, as provided by section 211 of the Canadian Railway Act of 1903. He further charges negligence on the part of Sanderson, the engineer of the train, and of Chas McFadden, the yard foreman.

The defendants have a lengthy statement of defence in which they claim that the plaintiff's injuries were caused solely by his own carelessness and want of care and disregard of rules and regulations of defendants.

The plaintiff's solicitor is N. Ferguson, of Toronto, and the defendant's, W. H. Biggar, also of that city.

Lindsay Man's Body Found in River

Belleville, April 1.— Shortly after noon today the body of a man was found floating in the harbor on the west side of Victoria Park. The features were unrecognizable, as the body had evidently been in the water all winter. It has been identified as that of James Berry, alias A. Cameron, of Lindsay, an unmarried man, about 25 years of age.

On the evening of Nov. 23 last a little girl named McCune was assaulted by a man near her home on the bank of the river, and as the party at the time was seen go into the river, it is surmised that the victim is the man who committed the offence. On the body, among other papers, was a receipt of a post-office order, issued to Mrs. Q. P. Berry, at Lindsay, and sent by J. Berry of Belleville.

He was in the city for a few days last November, and there is little doubt he is the party who committed the assault. Chief of Police Newton states that he has had a warrant for him since the time of his disappearance.

All Saints Church Vestry Meeting

Encouraging Reports Presented —Officers Elected for Year

The annual vestry meeting of All Saints' congregation was held last night. Rev. Wm. Major presided and a large number of the members of the church were present.

From the various reports of the different societies it was evident that the people are taking a deep interest in church affairs and are anxious for its success. The following read reports;—Mr. A. E. Dixon, for the Boys' Brigade; Mrs. Gilbert for the Chancel Guild; Miss Aggie Sabin, for Girls' Guild; Mrs J. D. Manley, for the Sunday School; Mrs. Smith, for the Women's Guild; Mrs. Gilbert, for the Women's Auxiliary.

The rector's report contained a general statement of the condition of the parish. He also reported on the Poor fund, Choir fund and Lectern fund. All these statements were most satisfactory and showed that there is a general activity among the whole congregation.

Mr Frank Wise, the people's warden, read the warden's report, which was referred to the auditors.

The next business was the election of church wardens. The rector's warden for the coming year is Mr Jas Mulholland, and the people's warden, Mr. James Edgar. The lay delegates to the Synod were chosen as follows; Messrs. J. H. McClellan, Jas. Edgar and G. L. Maughn;

A special finance committee was also elected to co-operate with the wardens. The members of this are Messrs Adam Dawson, T. H. Hooper and W. Buller.

The report of the Junior Auxiliary included mention of the donation of a white marble font, which was dedicated one week ago. It was a handsome ornament and was procured through Mr. T. W. Moore.

Mr Adam Dawson moved a vote of thanks to the rector for his excellent services during the past year, for his many considerations and kindnesses. The vote was unanimously supported.

The organist, the choir, the choir leader, the retiring wardens, the different societies, and Mr. F C Bell, for his efficiency in keeping the books, all received unqualified thanks from the congregation.

GOOD TIME AT T. A. S. ROOMS

Death of Eldridge T. Hammett, Formerly Manager of Bank of Nova Scotia

Mr J. H. Ferguson, local manager of the Bank of Nova Scotia received word this morning that Mr. Eldridge T. Hammett, assistant inspector of the Bank of Nova Scotia, had died from yellow fever at Trinidad, West Indies, on Monday of this week. Mr. Hammett's death will be learned of with deepest regret by many in Peterborough, as he was well known here, having been manager of the local branch of the Bank of Nova Scotia for some time, when the branch was opened here in 1905. Mr. Hammett was the first local manager and was in charge here from March to July, 1905. He was the immediate predecessor of Mr. J. H. Ferguson, the present manager, and on leaving Peterborough was appointed assistant inspector of the bank, a position which he was qualified to fill with great acceptance. He has been engaged in the West Indies since the recent earthquake, which caused such destruction at Jamaica and other places, getting the bank's branches there in shape again. The news of his death was received in a brief circular sent out by the general manager of the Bank of Nova Scotia.

The late Mr. Hammett is survived by wife and child who are at present residing at Fredericton, N. B. Mr. Hammett was an Eastern man.

During his residence in this city, Mr. Hammett and his wife lived at 14 Murray street. He was a member of the Peterborough Club and of the Peterborough Golf and Country Club and during his short stay here won a host of friends. He was a man of many sterling qualities his ideals were high, and he was intensely loyal to the interests of the bank. Many expressions of sincere sorrow were heard today among those who had known Mr Hammett when he resided here. His wife will have the deep sympathy of many in Peterborough in the loss she has sustained. Among his banking associates Mr. Hammett was universally popular and by his death the Bank of Nova Scotia loses a valued employee. Mr. Hammett was in the prime of life being about 35 years of age.

PORT CREDIT MYSTERY.

Elliott Was Stabbed and Struck On Head With Shovel.

Port Credit, April 3.—The crown has at last decided to take a hand in the unraveling of the mystery surrounding the death of the English sectionman, Edward Elliott, who met his death two miles west of here early on Good Friday morning.

At the inquest to-day a member of the provincial detective staff will be in attendance to watch proceedings and follow up any clue which may be unearthed. It is certain that evidence will be produced to prove conclusively that Elliott came to his death as a result of foul play.

Dr. Sutton, who performed that autopsy, is ready to swear that the wound in Elliott's chin was caused by some sharp instrument, either a knife or a stiletto, and that the gash on the back of the head was in all likelihood inflicted by a blow from a shovel.

County Constable Peer made a trip into the city yesterday to subpoena Jas. Batty, the conductor of the way freight who found Elliott alive by the track and brought him into Port Credit.

He arranged with Michael Basso to act as interpreter for the four Italians known to have passed the spot shortly before Elliott was picked up. Harry Gallagher, the man with whom Elliott left the section camp at Clarkson to come into the city, will be brought here to-day from Hamilton to testify, and Constable Peer is of the opinion that this man will be able to throw some light on the matter.

Dr. Sutton will open the enquiry at 2 o'clock this afternoon, assisted by High Constable Broddy of Brampton and County Crown Attorney W. H. McFadden of Peel County, at the Wilbur House.

ROOSEVELT ACCUSED.

Harriman Was Asked For Funds to Save Party.

New York, April 3.—A sensation was created here yesterday by the publication of a letter written in December last and addressed to Sidney Webster of New York and signed "E. H. Harriman." In it the writer says:

"As to my political instincts to which you refer in your letter of Dec. 13, I am quite sure I have none, and my being made at all prominent in the political situation is entirely due to President Roosevelt, and because of my taking an active part in the autumn of 1904 at his request and his taking advantage of conditions then created to further his own interests. If it had been a premeditated plot it could not have been better started or carried out.

"About a week before the election in the autumn of 1904, when it looked certain that the state ticket would go Democratic and was doubtful as to Roosevelt himself, he (the President) sent me a request to go to Washington to confer upon the political conditions in New York State. I complied, and he told me he understood the campaign could not be successfully carried on without sufficient money, and asked if I would help them in raising the necessary funds, as the National Committee, under control of Chairman Cortelyou, had utterly failed of obtaining them, and there was a large amount due from them to the New York State Committee."

FAT WOMAN FELL ON HIM.

Skater Dies As the Result of Peculiar Accident.

Vandergraft, Pa., April 3.—Abner McGary, a wealthy merchant and retiring president of Vandergraft Council, is dying at his home as a result of an accident in the Apollo roller skating rink.

McGary, who is a good roller skater, notwithstanding he is fifty years old, tripped and fell. Immediately behind him was a woman weighing over 200 pounds. The woman fell on McGary, and in a moment he was crushed under a mass of struggling skaters.

When McGary was reached he was unconscious. An examination developed that the man's pelvic bone was crushed and he had sustained other internal and dangerous injuries.

Seeks Mrs. Mason For Gems.

Windsor, April 3.—A son of John R. Swindon of the Flying Roller community says that he will apply to Chief of Police Wills for a warrant for the arrest of "Mother Elinor," Mrs. Mason, to recover $10,000 worth of jewels she is said to be wearing and which belong to the Swindons.

The rings were obtained by the elder Swindon during his 35 years' service in the British army in India. One ruby is said to be an inch in diameter and to be worth $1,500. It is said Lewis F. Newman, a Toronto mining stock broker, would like to find the woman and get from her $300 which he lent to her while she was in Toronto last winter, pretending to negotiate a big Cobalt deal.

There is little hope that Mrs. Mason will be caught.

Big Canal Open In 8 Years.

Kansas City, Mo., April 3.—Representative Edgar C. Ellis, who has just returned from the Isthmus of Panama, said Monday night:

"In eight years ships will be going through the Panama Canal. It will cost $500,000,000, but we will build it.

"The army has got hold of it and can do it. I always was convinced that it could not be built by contract."

Busse Defeats Dunne.

Chicago, April 3.—The most intense campaign in municipal politics that Chicago has experienced in many years closed last night with the election of Frederick A. Busse, the Republican candidate for mayor, over Edward F. Dunne, his Democratic rival and a candidate for re-election. Busse's plurality was between 15,000 and 18,000 votes.

Held Fast in Train's Path.

Emmerson, Man., April 3.—With his foot caught in a frog and unable to extricate himself, Brakeman Fyvje, who runs on the mixed train between this town and Winnipeg, was run down and killed yesterday in the C. P. R. yards.

He was a resident of Winnipeg and leaves a widow and grown-up family.

There is a dock strike in Hamburg, and eight Englishmen have been injured in a fight with locked-out longshoremen.

Hon. H. R. Emmerson Resigns; Minister of Railways and Canals

But Absolutely Denies Grave Charges Brought Against Him.

Enters Libel Actions to Vindicate His Character—Hyman Must Also Explain, Laurier Assures Parliament—Western Men Complain of Tariff on Reapers—Schaffner Amendment to Customs Act Defeated.

Ottawa, April 3.—Before the orders of the day were called yesterday Sir Wilfrid Laurier said:

"I have a communication to make to the House. For some time past, my hon. friend and colleague, the Minister of Railways and Canals, has been subjected to insinuations and rumors of a most injurious character—rumors and insinuations hitherto impalpable and intangible, but which have at last taken the form of a very injurious newspaper article. This article, I have no doubt, is familiar to members of the House.

"My hon. friend, the Minister of Railways and Canals, absolutely denies the truth of the allegations set forth in that article and, in order better to vindicate his character, has tendered his resignation, which has been accepted.

HON. H. R. EMMERSON.

Mr. Emmerson Denies.

The Premier abruptly took his seat, but Mr. Emmerson at once rose and addressed the chair. He spoke as follows:

"It will, perhaps, be necessary for me to add a word to the announcement made by the Prime Minister. I want to be definitely clear as to what my statement should be and, with the indulgence of the House, I shall read it, so that there need be no misapprehension as to the words."

Mr. Emmerson then read as follows:

"I desire at this time to repeat my denial explicitly and unqualifiedly of the charge which has been made against me by The Fredericton Gleaner, and to say I have taken steps to secure vindication before the only tribunal having jurisdiction in the premises, the established courts of the land.

"To this end, I have given instructions for the issue of writs for libel against The Fredericton Gleaner, The Halifax Herald and The Toronto World, and I have been advised of service in at least one of these cases. It is but a question of hours now as to the other two cases, if, indeed, at this moment service has not yet taken place."

Hyman's Resignation.

A few moments later, R. L. Borden asked the Prime Minister if there was any further information with respect to the tendered resignation of the Minister of Public Works. He thought there should be some statement from the Prime Minister, and that the period was approaching when there should be some finality about the matter.

"I have no information whatever to give the House at this moment," said Sir Wilfrid. "I have received no further communication from Mr. Hyman, either direct or indirect.

"It is quite certain that the Minister of Public Works will have to take action before he can enter this House again. He has already given us notice of his intention, and I have no doubt he will make his intentions good of appealing to his constituents for vindication."

Tariff Questions.

After the Emmerson statement and the Hyman enquiry the House took up the tariff. Mr. Schaffner (Con., Man.) spoke to the item of reapers, binders and mowers. The Government had promised to reform the tariff.

They had, it is true, brought down a bill embodying changes in the Customs Act, but the changes were those of form; they were not changes in substance. It would seem as though the Liberals, being unable to improve on the tariff, had re-enacted it, holus bolus.

Both parties were committed to a high protective tariff. Nevertheless, he hoped that members on both sides of the House would vote for a reduction upon agricultural implements.

Move to Reduce Duty.

He moved an amendment reducing the duty on reapers, binders and mowers, from 17 1-2 to 10 per cent.

Mr. Staples (Con., Man.) supported the amendment.

Dr. E. N. Walsh (Con., Que.) said that he spoke for Eastern Canada. His constituents and farmers generally demanded relief. He preferred to go further than the amendment and to reduce the duty upon all agricultural implements.

Mr. Henderson (Halton) pointed out that more agricultural implements were exported than imported. This showed how strong was this industry. Did it need an excessive protective duty? Statistics showed than our Canadian manufacturers had almost a complete monopoly of the home market.

R. L. Borden said the farmers of Canada were complaining that it cost no more to manufacture these implements in Canada than it does in the United States. Why, then, were the retail prices so much higher in this country. In the absence of information as to the cost of production, the prices charged abroad and at home, etc., he could not support the amendment.

Amendment Lost.

Dr. Schaffner's amendment was then put and lost by a vote of 56 to 28. Among those who voted with the majority were Messrs. Sproule, R. L. Borden, Foster, Taylor and Daniel.

On the third reading, Mr. Borden moved to amend the clauses giving the governor-in-council power to extend the intermediate tariff to any country. He claimed that these changes in the tariff were properly a legislative function, and should not be delegated to the executive.

Mr. Fielding replied and the discussion was carried on by Mr. Foster and the Minister of Customs.

Upon division the Borden amendment was defeated: yeas 36, nays 34.—a party vote. The Customs Act was then read a third time and passed.

MONTREAL IS HAPPY.

Large Increase In Customs Revenue In Canada's Premier City.

Montreal, April 3.—The fiscal year 1906-7, which has just closed, has been a banner one in the history of the Port of Montreal, the collections of Customs duties on imports having been greater than ever before since Montreal became a Customs port, which is quite a number of years.

The heaviest month in this year was November last, with $488,068, and March just ended was a good second, with an increase of $207,577.90 over March in 1906. December last was the poorest month, when only $1,107,146.78 was gathered in for the national treasury.

The increase for the nine months just ended over the corresponding months of the previous year totals $1,502,528.26. Total collections for the same months were $11,427,595, against $9,925,067 for the previous fiscal year.

GIVEN HIS SEAT.

S. J. Donaldson Takes His Place In Saskatchewan Legislature.

Regina, Sask., April 3.—For the first time in the history of Canada, a seat was given to a member in a Legislative Assembly without the polling of votes.

The Saskatchewan Legislature yesterday afternoon declared that Samuel J. Donaldson, Provincial Rights candidate in Prince Albert district, was duly elected.

The decision of the Legislature was made on account of the revelations showing the most brazen crooked work in the election of Mr. Donaldson's opponent, among the acts being the marking in the bush by deputy returning officers of enough ballots to give the Government candidate a clear majority.

KILLED BY DYNAMITE.

Italian on Railway Work Meets Death Near Ancaster.

Hamilton, April 3.—Tony Panzini, an Italian employed by Nicholson and Riley, contractors, on the Hamilton-Brantford Electric Railway, was killed yesterday evening by an explosion at Herning's Mills, near Ancaster. Panzini was engaged blasting rock. A charge of dynamite did not go off as quickly as he thought it should and he started towards the spot where the charge was set to see what was the matter. He got within a few feet of it when there was an explosion, and he was blown about a hundred feet. He was unconscious when assistance reached him and died shortly afterwards.

ALFONSO'S MOTHER ILL.

Queen Cristina Has Serious Attack—Sacraments Administered.

Madrid, April 3.—Queen Cristina, King Alfonso's mother, is confined to her bed with a very severe attack of grip, her temperature reaching 40 degrees centrigrade (104 degrees Fahrenheit). She has received the last sacrament, and her physicians refuse to make any prediction as to the progress of her illness.

Queen Cristina, who is 49 years old, was about to go to Cartagena with King Alfonso to meet King Edward. Her illness, coming at this time, is especially unfortunate, owing to the interesting condition of Queen Victoria, her daughter-in-law.

TO CATCH EMIGRANTS.

Elaborate Window Decoration In Charing Cross Office.

London, April 3.—(C. A. P.)—The most interesting and attractive window in London is that of the Canadian emigration office in Charing Cross. The window shows a Saskatchewan view of wheat in stock, in the foreground a river running through the picture, sending a flow of wheat and operating the mill-wheel of a grist mill shown in one corner of the picture.

Joseph Labresque, a young French-Canadian of Sherbrooke, foreman of the masonry work on the enlargement of the C. P. R. bridge west of St. Anne de Bellevue, was on Saturday, knocked off the pier by the snapping of a chain, swept by the rushing waters, under the ice and drowned.

THAW IS NOT RATIONAL

Jerome's Experts All Declare Him to Be Insane.

Open Session of Lunacy Commission—Jailer, Prison Chaplains, Deputy Sheriff, and Dr. McGuire Testify For Thaw—All Say He Is Right In His Mind—Trial May Proceed On Thursday.

New York, April 3.—The commission in lunacy which is enquiring into the present state of mind of Harry K. Thaw yesterday allowed Dr. Allan McLane Hamilton to testify as to what he knows of Thaw's mental condition. This action was taken over the continued protest of the defendant's attorneys.

Dr. Hamilton declared Thaw to be incapable of realizing the nature of the charges against him.

Michael J. Delehanty and Franklin J. Sheridan, Tombs guards; Mrs. Emily S. Walker, probationery officer, and Rev. John A. Wade, Episcopalian chaplain, and Rev. Luke J. Evers, Roman Catholic chaplain at the Tombs, testified that Thaw had always seemed to them to be rational.

Dr. Austin Flint expressed the opinion that Thaw was suffering from paranoia, with original delusions of persecution now passing into delusions of grandeur, and Drs. William Mabon, William Hirsch, Albert Warren and William B. Pritchard coincided in this belief. All are prosecuting experts.

Dr. Graeme M. Hammond, who was a consulting alienist for the defence throughout the trial, talked with Thaw every day of the trial. His comments on the trial were pertinent and rational always.

Dr. Smith Ely Jelliffe, a member of the defendant's corps of alienists, said that at the time Thaw killed White he suffered from insane delusions, but they seemed entirely to have disappeared.

Dr. Britton D. Evans added his testimony for the defence, to the effect that Thaw is perfectly rational.

Adjournment was taken at 6.30 p.m. until 10.15 a.m. to-day.

The commission expects to be able to report its conclusions to Justice Fitzgerald early Thursday morning.

WATERFALL WOOS SUICIDES.

Many Young Women Go to Pretty Spot to Die.

St. Petersburg, April 3.—A despatch to the Gazette from Viborg, Finland, says a curious suicidal mania has lately, at short intervals, driven 16 victims to self-destruction in the picturesque Imatra waterfall. The suicides were hysterically inclined young women who wanted to die in romantic surroundings.

Their bodies were washed away by the roaring Wuoksen River and rarely recovered, and then in shockingly mutilated condition.

The latest victim was a young girl, who had traveled especially from Moscow to commit suicide in the waterfall. A coachman seized her clothing as she was going over the edge of the precipice, but the material gave way, and she disappeared with a shriek in the torrent.

KILLED STEP-CHILDREN.

Father Finds Wife Had Drowned Them Deliberately With Herself.

Dover, N.J., April 3.—Shongum Lake, a small body of water four miles from here, was the scene of a triple tragedy. When Otto Britting arrived home late Monday he found that Mrs. Britting had gone out with two of his children, a boy of nine months and a girl of three years, to a neighbor's. [illegible] found in the lake. When they were taken out of the water it was discovered that the mother was in a stooping posture, with the boy under one arm and the girl beneath her, the garments of both children being pinned to her own.

LOOKING TO AUSTRALIA.

Canada Too Nervous to Be the Hope of the Imperialists.

London, April 3.—(C. A. P.)—The Aberdeen Free Press says: The dislike of Canada for anything which may drag her into irksome responsibilities or fetter her autonomy is likely to be one of the dominant factors of the coming conference. Rightly or wrongly, Canada is extraordinary nervous on this point. The colony which seems likely to lead in the direction of strengthening the Colonial Conference, crystallizing it into a permanent body, is Australia.

Dies In Jail From Kick.

Toronto, April 3.—Fannie Catone, aged 59, who was committed to Toronto jail a few days ago, died at that institution last night.

When sent to jail deceased was suffering from a kick on the head, received, it is alleged in a fight with a woman named Lond. Both were intoxicated at the time, and the victim was given thirty days in jail.

Crown Attorney Drayton, on learning that the woman was dying, went to the jail yesterday to take her antemortem statement, but she was in a state of semi-consciousness.

Girl Fatally Stabbed.

Elmira, N.Y., April 3.—Because she would not marry him, James Terry, aged 28, fatally stabbed Katharine Stird at Salt Point, near Watkins Monday afternoon. Both are Italians employed in the salt works there. The girl died early yesterday morning. Terry escaped.

Half of Wrecked Ship Saved.

London, April 3.—The White Star Line steamer Suevic, which went ashore near the Lizard on March 17, was cut in two Monday, and her afterpart was severed yesterday morning and towed into port. Her forepart is firmly fixed on the reef.

Dr. Fortin, a former house surgeon of the Western Hospital, Montreal, is dead in the Canary Islands.

LIVELY DEBATE

Held at the T. A. S. Rooms on Manufacturing vs. Farming.

Last evening the regular fortnightly debate was held in the T. A.S. hall by the Debating Society. The attendance was fairly large and encouraging. The subject was "Resolved that manufacturing is more beneficial to a community than farming." The subject was treated generally and some good speeches resulted. Mr. Jos. Maher and Mr. Frank Hayes upheld the affirmative side and was opposed by Mr. Sam. Anglesey and Mr. Jos. Begley. Mr. Jas. Fox acted in the capacity of chairman in a very satisfactory manner.

The decision was left to the chairman to award and his favor was given to the affirmative party.

Next Tuesday evening is the date of the next debate.

BANDS ATTACK TOWNS

Bulgarians Maltreat Servian Women and Children.

Servia Incensed at Neighboring Nation—Seven Men Killed and Thirty Houses Burned—Fanatical Rustics Released From Their Oaths — Villages Razed by Artillery — Fifty Peasants Killed In Disorders.

Belgrade, Servia, April 3.—It is reported that a band of Bulgarians have attacked the old Servian towns of Rudnik and Topilcha, burning thirty houses, killing seven men and maltreating a number of women and children. Increasing bitterness is being displayed here toward the Bulgarians owing to the belief that while the powers have called the attention of the Governments of Servia and Greece to the atrocities perpetrated by Servian and Greek bands, they have made no protest to the Bulgarian Government against the actions of Bulgarian bands.

Released From Their Oaths.

Bucharest, April 3.—The Metropolitan of Bucharest will issue shortly a pastoral letter releasing the peasantry from the oaths which they took on enrolment in the insurgent forces. This is expected to assist in the work of pacification, many fanatical rustics having sent in word that they could not cease plundering until absolved from the oaths.

Quiet continues to prevail in Moldavia, but the troops will remain under arms until the peasants resume the cultivation of the land. Agitation is still rampant in some of the Danubian districts and mountainous regions of Valseia.

Four villages in Mehodintai are reported to have been razed by artillery fire with considerable loss of life. Some reports say that hundreds of peasants were killed or wounded. Investigations of similar sensational figures regarding casualties, in the case of previous bombardments, have always proved them to be greatly exaggerated.

More Agrarian Disorders.

Nishni-Novogrod, Russia, April 3.—Agrarian disorders have broken out in the Sergachevsk district. In an encounter with troops Monday fifty peasants were wounded and a rural guard killed.

STILL FIGHTING DEATH.

Speaker St. John's Condition Has Not Improved—Outlook Unfavorable.

Toronto, April 3.—"Mr. St. John's condition has not improved during the day, and the outlook is distinctly unfavorable."

This bulletin was issued by the physicians in attendance on Hon. Speaker St. John at 1 o'clock this morning.

At 3 o'clock this morning the hospital attendance reported that there was no change in the patient's condition. From other sources it was said that it was extremely doubtful if Mr. St. John would survive the night.

The unfavorable reports from the hospital would seem to indicate that there is very little hope for the recovery of the distinguished patient. From the bulletin issued at noon yesterday his friends were led to entertain considerable hope. The bulletin read:

"Mr. St. John passed a fairly good night. His condition this morning is about the same as yesterday. Although still very critical, it is thought his condition is not hopeless."

During yesterday, however, the hoped-for progress did not materialize, and it is doubtful if Mr. St. John's vitality will hold out much longer.

TEHERAN IS TROUBLED.

Arrival of Russian and British Troops Creates Consternation.

Teheran, Persia, April 3.—Indian native mounted troops have entered Persian territory for service at the British Consulates in the south.

This news, together with the arrival of Cossacks at Teheran and at the Russian Consulates in the north, a report—as yet unconfirmed—of the appearance of a British man-of-war in the Gulf, and the presence of a Russian transport with troops off the Caspian port of Enzeli, has created great excitement in the Persian capital.

Duncan In Penitentiary.

Kingston, April 3.—The penitentiary's colony of former bankers and loan company men was further added to yesterday afternoon by the arrival of John B. Duncan, formerly manager of the Bank of Commerce at Ayr, to enter upon his term of four years.

Duncan was stylishly dressed and is a decidedly fine looking man, considerably under middle age. He was brought down by Sheriff Charles Huber and Deputy Tracy, both of Berlin.

After dining at an hotel, the trio sat around the lobby for a short time, smoking, and about 2.30 o'clock proceeded in an open carriage to the penitentiary. Duncan was not shackled.

This Is Earthquake Time.

London, April 3.—Prof. Belar, the seismologist, director of the Laibach Observatory, announces that the general unrest of the earth has been growing during the past three days, and connects the fact with the presence of large sunspots. Comparing the earth shocks during the first quarter of 1906 with those of the corresponding quarter this year, he remarks that the intensity of those recorded in 1907 was less than half the intensity of those of the preceding year. He adds:—"If the disturbances of the equilibrium of the earth's surface are to result in the average compromise we must await the earthquake now due with some anxiety."

Killed In Explosion.

Cincinnati, Ohio, April 3.—A despatch from La Porte, Ind., says: It is reported that five men have been killed by a powder explosion at Aetna. The surrounding country was badly shaken.

Mobbed By Germans.

Hamburg, April 3.—Eight English longshoremen were badly injured and many others were slightly hurt Monday night in a fight with local locked out longshoremen.

The Englishmen had been on an excursion, contrary to warnings, and were assailed on their return to the ships in the harbor, on board which they were housed in order to keep them from clashing with the locked-out men.

A mob fell upon the Englishmen with stones and a strong force of police had to be hurried to the scene.

China Orders 2,000,000 Rifles.

TOWN BADLY DAMAGED

Severe Earthquake at Bitlis in Turkish Armenia.

Missionaries Are Homeless—Some Loss of Life But Details Not Yet Known—People Encamped In 25 Feet of Snow—Great Damage Is Feared—Is a Densely Populated Town.

Constantinople, April 2.—The report that a severe earthquake, accompanied by loss of life, has occurred at Bitlis appears to be confirmed, but the number of deaths is unknown. Beyond a brief message from the missionaries at Bitlis reporting that the town is badly damaged, that they are homeless and that their people are encamped in the snow, which in places is 25 feet deep, no news of the disaster has reached this city.

London, April 2.—The situation of Bitlis, which is built on a rocky slope, with houses constructed of stone, having flat, earthen roofs, caused people here to fear that a great amount of damage has been done. It is described as a picturesque, densely populated town, having but few Europeans among the population. A British Vice-consul is stationed there, but at present he is absent on leave. Instructions have already been sent to the local authorities to afford relief to the inhabitants, but there is no doubt that outside help is needed.

MAY QUIT DOMINION.

Prince Edward Island Not Satisfied With Subsidy Plan.

Montreal, April 2.—"The new arrangements for provincial subsidies do not lessen the dissatisfaction in Prince Edward Island," declared Alexander Martin, M. P. for Queen's, Prince Edward Island, yesterday.

"The Dominion Government," said Mr. Martin, "refuses to abide by its contract of union with Prince Edward Island with respect to continuous communication.

"On the other hand, the Dominion, under the provision of the act of 1873, which admitted Prince Edward Island into the union, exacts its pound of flesh from the province.

"Previous to the union the province built 200 miles of railway at the cost of $3,250,000. Canada was made a present of this road and the small Province of Prince Edward Island is taxed with interest at 5 per cent. on the cost of construction, and that every year since 1873.

"This interest is $147,000 a year—a great drain on the province. The province claims that, not only should the interest cease, but that Canada should refund all that has been paid under this heading since 1873.

"The agitation in Prince Edward Island is beginning. An appeal to King Edward will follow; and unless the Dominion shows more desire to conciliate the people, Prince Edward Island may yet ask to revert to the position of a crown colony."

SPECTACULAR FIRE.

Large Quantity of Paving Materials Prey to Flames.

Toronto, April 2.—There was a somewhat spectacular fire last night in the plant of the Dominion Paving and Contracting Company, situated at the head of Shaw street, near the C. P. R. tracks. The fire is supposed to have originated from a spark from a passing locomotive, which ignited the dry grass in the vicinity of the storehouse, a large wooden structure. This building was soon in flames and as a large quantity of oil was in storage, it make a fierce blaze for a couple of hours. The structure was completely destroyed.

The fire broke out shortly after 6 p. m. and was under control before 8.30. Owing to the deep mud the fire brigade experienced much difficulty in placing their engines.

There was a large quantity of oil and other materials in the yards. This material was saved.

Pastors Demand Enquiry.

Halifax, April 2.—The following resolution was passed at the Halifax Methodist preachers' meeting and a copy of it sent to Sir Wilfrid Laurier and R. L. Borden.

"Resolved, that inasmuch as the morality of our nation is largely affected by the example of our political leaders, this Methodist preachers' meeting of Halifax views with alarm the possibility of grave charges being made touching the moral life of prominent members of the House of Commons without any effort on the part of the House to prove the truth or falsity of the same, much to the scandal of the country:

"We, the members of this meeting, therefore call upon the Prime Minister, the Right Hon. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, and R. L. Borden to meet the reasonable expectation of the citizens of the Dominion by taking such steps as will secure an investigation into any immorality alleged against certain members of the Parliament of Canada."

Kaiser's Heir Near Death.

Berlin, April 2.—Crown Prince Frederick William and the crown princess had a narrow escape from accident yesterday, while driving home in a dogcart from a visit to Prince Eitel Frederick.

The horse took fright at an automobile and bolted, but with the assistance of a passerby the crown prince finally gained control near the Brandenburg gate in the city.

Neither of the occupants of the dogcart was hurt.

Berlin April 2.—According to statistics published by the North German Telegraph Bureau, about 250,000 Jews left Russia in 1906, of which number 200,000 went to the United States. Thousands more Hebrew families are preparing to leave Russia as soon as possible, owing to their continual terror of massacres.

A band of Bulgarians, are reported to have attacked two Servian towns, burning the houses, killing the men and abusing the women and children.

Speaker St. John Makes Splendid Battle For Life.

Toronto, April 2.—Mr. Speaker St. John continues to defy prophecy

Despite the alarming reports of his condition throughout yesterday afternoon, and the expected fatal termination of his illness, at an early hour this morning he was resting calmly, and his condition seemed slightly improved.

It is a magnificent battle for life which Mr. St. John is making.

On the one side is united the dangers resulting from the Speaker's hazardous operation, and the malign influences of an hitherto unsuspected internal disease.

On the other side is united the vitality which comes from a body which has known not abuse or excess, together with the vitality which is born of a strong genial spirit undepressed.

The patient has been conscious all through his illness, and retains his customary cheerfulness, despite great bodily weakness.

He is under continuous medical supervision, and although the end seems very near, yet with the wonderful vitality shown by Mr. St. John the apparently inevitable may yet be avoided.

MUST WEAR THEIR HATS.

British Vicar's Strict Views Stop a Wedding Party.

London, April 2.—A pretty wedding party was stopped at the entrance to St. Mary's Church, Scarborough, and the bridesmaids forbidden to enter, because they wore no hats, simply a wreath of marguerites. The difficulty was quickly overcome by the bridesmaids fastening white handkerchiefs on their heads. The vicar of the church enforces the rule that the female heads must be covered in church with great strictness.

Hyman Decides Not to Come Back to Canada For a While.

Montreal, April 2.—The news was received here yesterday that Hon. Charles S. Hyman, who left Coronado a fortnight ago for home, via Los Angeles, has decided not to return to Canada for some little time. The Minister of Public Works is reported to be in much better health and spirits than at any time since he left Canada. He is accompanied by Mrs. Hyman.

RICH IRON FIELD.

Large Area of Hematite Ore Discovered—Many Claims Staked.

Vancouver, B.C., April 2.—A huge deposit of bog iron ore hematite has been discovered in Quatsino Sounded. One hundred and eighty claims have already been located. The ground covers 5,600 acres and is believed to be one of the richest iron deposits on Vancouver Island.

CANADA MAKES POSTAL DEAL.

Rates For Second Class Matter In States Reduced.

Washington, April 2.—At a conference between Postmaster-General Lemieux of Canada and Postmaster General Meyer of the United States here yesterday, an agreement was reached to amend the postal convention existing between the two countries insofar as it affects the transmission of newspapers and periodicals, known as second-class matter, between the two countries.

Canada accepts the tentative proposal of the United States that second-class matter mailed in one country and addressed to the other shall be subject to a rate of one cent for each four ounces or fraction thereof on each bulk package, prepaid by stamps after fixed.

The rate agreed upon is substantially the transient second-class rate, which the individual citizen of the United States now enjoys, the exception being that publishers of the United States have an additional privilege of mailing in bulk packages, at the rate named, separately addressed newspapers and periodicals intended for delivery to subscribers at one postoffice.

The cost also to publishers in the United States will be at least fifty per cent. less than if the postal union rate should be applied.

Postmaster-General Meyer endeavored to obtain a continuance of the old agreement until congress shall have had opportunity to legislate upon the question of second-class postage, but it did not appear thus to maintain the status quo, and the new agreement therefore was entered into for the protection of American publishers.

DEATH DUES ARE HEAVY.

$95,000,000 Received In Britain During Year 1906.

London, April 2.—It is now known that the receipts from death duties during the fiscal year just ending beat all previous records. The total, in round figures, will be $95,000,000. Since the passage of Sir William Vernon Harcourt's Finance Act twelve years ago the total receipts from death duties have exceeded $1,000,000,000. The largest sum paid on one estate was $4,500,000, on that of George Smith, generally known as "Chicago Smith," who lived at the Reform Club at an average rate of 10 shillings a day.

The Treasury has issued the budget figures for the financial year ending March 31, showing a total revenue of £155,036,485, against £153,878,866 for the previous year. There is a surplus of £1,157,559, due to an unexpected increase in the death duties, which are the chief contributory towards the £2,059,000, the amount by which the revenue, as estimated by the Chancellor of the Exchequer last year, is exceeded.

DIVER'S GREAT FEAT.

Brought Up Tons of Rails and Railroad Iron During Winter.

Winnipeg, April 2.—One of the greatest feats of diving known on the Great Lakes has been performed by Diver H. Valentine in the employe of the Great Lakes Dredging Co., by removing the rails, anglebars and spikes which slid into the Kam last fall off the G. T. dock at Westport. By means of the derrick and diving outfit 3,700 rails, 7,100 angle-bars and 2,300 spikes have been recovered between Dec. 8 and March 25. The six men engaged lost but two days in the above time and the removing of such heavy articles from the 20 feet of water was not a very easy job.

Many of the rails were imbeded in the mud and a fresh hole had to be cleared in the ice each day in order that the derrick might be able to lift the rails. A small moveable house was built in the ice for the benefit of the [illegible] and [illegible] from which they had kept the work going through the many stormy days.

FERRY RAN DOWN TUG.

Two Members of Crew Missing—Four Were Rescued.

New York, April 2.—Two men are believed to have lost their lives in a collision in the North River early yesterday when the tug John D. Dailey was run down and sunk by the ferry boat Musconetcong, of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad Company. Four members of the tug's crew were saved after jumping overboard, but they suffered severely from exposure and were taken to Bellevue Hospital.

The men unaccounted for are John Shanaphy, first officer, and a deckhand named McDevitt. Capt. Wm. Healey and First Engineer John Cronin also are missing, but it is thought they were not on board the tug boat at the time of the accident. The ferry boat suffered little damage.

Zion's Autocratic Ruler.

Chicago, April 2.—Wilbur Glenn Voliva issued the ultimatum in Zion Sunday: "I say to you, officers and people, that one month more I will give you," he said. "On May 1, if you do not make a radical move, I shall make one and put a stop to this criticism of me."

He then recited his own deeds, claiming that he had made Zion what it was. He also said he would make the community the wonder of the age and set it strongly on its feet financially.

Of the 1,500 persons present 1,200 said they would follow him. They launched into a denunciation of those who would not submit. He said he would continue the one-man rule.

Negro Was Lynched.

Durant, I. T., April 2.—Jim Williams, a negro, charged with committing criminal assault on Lillie Misner, white, near Colbert, I. T., Saturday afternoon, was lynched at Durant Sunday night by a mob of a thousand people. Williams was hanged to an oil derrick and his body riddled with bullets. Deputy United States marshals and local officers pleaded with the mob and threatened it with their revolvers, but to no avail. The girl positively identified Williams.

The great trouble with these new two-act dramas is that most men are used to getting at least three drinks during a play.

WIFE SLAYER ARRESTED.

Caught While Heading For the Canadian Border.

Newport, Vt., April 2.—Dwight Niles, of Newport, for whom the authorities had been searching since Saturday night, when he is alleged to have shot and killed his wife, was arrested at Richford yesterday and placed in the local lock-up. Shortly afterward he cut his throat with a jack-knife, but it is believed that the wound will not prove serious. Arrangements were made to have him brought here on the noon train, and it was expected that he would be given a hearing this afternoon.

Niles, who is said to have shot his wife at her father's home after she had refused to return to live with him following a separation, disappeared after the shooting. He headed for the Canadian line and Sunday boarded a freight train on the Canadian Pacific Railway, bound for Montreal. The conductor had heard of the murder, and becoming suspicious when the train reached Richford, notified the authorities. Niles made no resistance when arrested.

Having disposed of my grocery business (Corner of George and Antrim streets) to Messrs. E. F. I regret that owing to impaired health, and some other considerations, I have arranged to sever my connections with a business that has had my unceasing care and attention, and that has grown with the growth of the city. I take this means of expressing my thankfulness, as it is impossible to call and do so in person. I also wish to say that the business has been acquired by and is in good hands and I am sure that every care and attention will be given in the future as I have tried to give in the past. Farewell Banquet Tendered Mr. Dennistoun On the Eve of His Departure for Winnipeg

Splendid Gathering in Honor of Popular, Progressive and Enterprising Citizen—Large and Representative Attendance—Many Well-deserved Compliments Paid to the Guest of the Evening—An Enjoyable and Highly Successful Social Event—Bright Speeches, Merry Songs and Jolly Good Fellowship Characterized the Proceedings of a Memorable and Eventful Evening.

In the spacious dining room of the Oriental hotel there gathered last evening about 125 representative citizens to bid good-bye to Mr. R. Maxwell Dennistoun, and to join in wishing him every success and prosperity in the city of Winnipeg, where he will make his future home.

No more popular, worthy, honorable or respected citizen has ever gone from Peterborough to the great West than the one who, on Friday morning next, will depart for the Prairie Province, accompanied by his good wife and estimable family. While numerous sincere references, all bearing tribute to his excellence and ability, geniality and integrity, were made, a note of sadness was observed in the eloquent speeches at the thought of saying farewell to him, who has been a life-long resident of Peterborough, and who carries to his new home the kindest regards and cordial good feeling of all classes in the community.

Peterborough parts with Mr. and Mrs. Dennistoun with many pangs of sorrow. They have filled a place in the social, religious, charitable and civic life of the city that has won for them the confidence and respect of every man, woman and child, and that their success in the capital of Manitoba may be as great as is fondly hoped for, is the only consolation tending to mitigate the pain at the sundering of those ties which have bound them to this city and county for so many, many years. Much might be written in appreciation of what Mr. and Mrs. Dennistoun have here accomplished, the interest they have represented, the high place they hold in the regard of all true citizens and the old, honored families they represented, but there is no need of dwelling on features and incidents in the career of those whose lives have ever been an open book, who have always set a noble example, and who stand for all that is best and truest, honorable and progressive.

The dining room of the Oriental Hotel was artistically and tastefully decorated. The walls and windows were ornamented with flags, while the shields of the different provinces of this fair Dominion were conspicuous in the mural adornment of the banqueting hall. The menu was all that could be desired, being choice in quality and liberal in quantity, reflecting the highest credit on Mine Host Graham's ability as a caterer. In fact to his excellent service and splendid arrangements no little of the success of the evening is due.

Hon. J. R. Stratton ably filled the position of chairman, while the duties of the vice chair were admirably discharged by Mr. Peter Campbell. The toast list was arranged in a capital manner, and the speeches were bright, breezy and brief. The banquet will go down in history as one of the most successful and highly enjoyable social functions ever held in this thriving centre.

Much pleasure was added to the occasion by the superbly contributed songs of Mr. Harold Jarvis of Toronto, the celebrated Canadian tenor singer. Mr. Jarvis was in excellent form, and his vocal offerings were repeatedly encored. He is no stranger to a Peterborough audience, and never was he heard to better advantage than last night. Among his artistic gems were "The True Born Englishman," "Stein on the Table," "The Death of Nelson," "Scots Wha' Hae," "Sing Me to Sleep," and others. Each number was rapturously applauded.

Mr. John Crane efficiently played the accompaniments on a new Scale Williams piano, kindly loaned for the occasion by Mr. J. M. Greene, the energetic local representative of the company.

Mr. W. S. Davidson also sang his inimitable song, "Nobody," which aroused great merriment. Mr. Davidson's "take-off" on several local topics and citizens evoked much laughter.

During the early part of the evening A. Greig's well known orchestra played several sweet selections in excellent style.

THE TOAST LIST.

"The King," proposed by the chairman, was the first toast. It was loyally honored.

The next toast, "The Governor-General and Lieutenant-Governor," was proposed by Mr. Campbell, the vice chairman, in a few appropriate remarks. It was loyally received.

"The Senate, the Parliament of Canada and the Legislature of Ontario," was next on the list of toasts. Mr. James Stevenson, ex-M.P., acting as its sponsor. Mr. Stevenson said he believed that our legislators were doing good work—the best that they could (laughter.) We were thankful for their promises to complete the Trent Canal and spend money in this section on various improvements. We certainly appreciated these services. We should be thankful for what we get, and if we do not get all that we ask—why, we would have to condemn those in power. The guest of the evening, whom all were sorry to see depart, belonged to one of the oldest and most honored families in Peterborough, and all were saddened at the thought of his departure. Mr. Stevenson referred to the Hall, Conger and Dennistoun families, who have done so much in building up this county. He dwelt briefly on the prospects of the city, and predicted that within the next five years it would have a population of 20,000 people. Personally, the speaker said, that although advancing in years he was feeling as well as ever. He never knew a day's sickness in his life and was thankful for the many blessings that had been vouchsafed him. He joined in wishing Mr. Dennistoun and family every success and happiness in the great West.

Mr R. R. Hall, M.P., who responded to the toast, thanked all for the hearty way in which it had been proposed and honored. At Ottawa the name of Mr. Stevenson was mentioned with respect and remembered with love. It was a painful duty to say good-bye to Mr. R. Maxwell Dennistoun. They had been boys together at school 27 years ago and on the 21st May, 1888, Mr. Dennistoun, Mr. Arthur Stevenson and the speaker had been called to the bar.

—A Voice—What bar, (laughter.)

Continuing Mr. Hall said it was a glorious day for them all as they had set out full of hope and with all the ardor, zeal and intensity of youth upon their professional careers. Mr. Hall drew a bright picture of youth with its dazzling, radiating hopes and glamor of triumph and it was pleasing to note that Mr. Mr. Dennistoun had won a high place in the legal profession. Of his character and worth all were familiar and it was no wonder that the growing towns of the west, its rich wheat fields, rolling prairies and grand future had irresistibly drawn Mr. Dennistoun as they had thousands of others. A large foreign population was settling in the prairies and it required men of light and leading in that country to assist in shaping its destiny and leavening it with the true Canadian spirit. Peterborough's loss would be Winnipeg's gain. Mr. and Mrs. Dennistoun would be much missed. They had been active in Christian, charitable and social work and no citizen had ever left Peterborough who would be more missed and more universally remembered and loved than the guest of the evening and his good wife. (Applause.)

OUR GUEST.

The honorary chairman, Mr. J. R. Stratton, proposed the chief toast of the evening viz., the toast to "Our Guest." In doing so he delivered an excellent address eulogizing and yet not flattering, Mr. Dennistoun. In opening he stated that he had presided at many functions, some to which probably greater honor was attached, but none which gave him so much pleasure as he felt at the present time. The gathering was purely one of representatives who had met to do honor to another citizen, who was leaving our midst to start life in another part of the country. It was not surprising that the Masons had extended the hand of good fellowship to one of their leading members nor that the 57th regiment had tendered a banquet to one of its noblest officers, nor that the legal fraternity had honored him with a token by which they would be long remembered nor that St. John's congregation in which he had long been a progressive member, had done themselves proud the other evening, but he, the speaker, as honorary president of the Children's Aid Society, wished to convey their appreciation of the great help Mr. Dennistoun had been to them. Could the little children extend their own heartfelt thanks it would be the most eloquent of all.

This gathering was one of citizens free from all professional or fraternal or social ties, except that of fellow citizenship, and, said the speaker, it is most fitting that we should honor a thorough gentleman who had been so from boyhood. Mr. Dennistoun has, in the words of Tennyson, worn the white rose of a blameless life. A citizen never lived in the city or left it who was more worthy.

Mr. Dennistoun has taken a great interest in public affairs. He served his time in the town Council and did yeoman service, but he had never sought honors in the political field. He preferred to fight in the ranks for the Conservative party and its principles, but had he desired at any time he could have secured a seat in either house. As a political fighter no one could be more fair. He fought hard and continuously, but he never hit below the belt, and when the campaign was over he always buried the hatchet and settled down to private life again.

Continuing the chairman said that Mr. Dennistoun would be missed by the people of Peterborough in every walk of life. He always took a great interest in manly sports of all kinds and had always set a good example to the young men; he was a great worker of good, not only through the church, but in many other ways and he was a leader in professional and social circles.

Peterborough citizens are not jealous, but they envy the city of Winnipeg. He closed by wishing Mr. Dennistoun every success in his new field of labor.

THE TOAST DRUNK.

The toast was drunk with great enthusiasm, cheer after cheer went up and "For He's a jolly Good Fellow" was sung several times. When Mr. Dennistoun arose to respond he was again heartily cheered and the banqueters sang "See Him Smiling."

In opening Mr. Dennistoun assured the friends that were gathered around the tables that for him to look around and see represented all that was best in the city and to realize that they were met together for the purpose of extending to him their good wishes, it was overwhelming. He said he would never forget the hearty way in which the toast had been drunk, and he thanked the chairman, vice-chairman, the secretary and all the members of the committee, who had arranged for this farewell celebration.

He was glad that Mr. Stratton had been chosen chairman for the evening on account of the many previous meetings they had had in the field of battle during political campaigns in which they were always on opposite sides. They had fought for many years against each other, but just as soon as the election was over they buried the hatchet and were good friends again until the next election was on.

Continuing, Mr. Dennistoun said that he could not take all the complimentary and flattering statements which had been made as a personal matter altogether. While he could not remember as far back as could Mr Stevenson, he recollected hearing the stories told by his grandfather of the life of the first pioneers of the county. He was therefore not present for himself only, but he was representing the family of which he proud to be a member. He had a great pedigree and had a stronger claim to be called a citizen of Peterborough than any one else in the hall. His father and mother were born in the county, his wife and himself were born here and all his children were born here. His youth was spent in the public schools and Collegiate Institute of the city and it was then he made his life friends. He was particularly pleased to see so many of those present as he would rather carry away their good wishes than any other as they knew him best.

After he completed his college career and as soon as he had been called to the bar he decided to settle in his home town and for the past nineteen years he had enjoyed life here. He knew every man, woman and child in the city, and it was little anyone realized what a terrible wrench it was or what pain it caused him to tear away from those he had known so long and so well.

In speaking of his relations with the citizens of Peterborough Mr. Dennistoun said he could not speak too highly of them. One characteristic he had always noticed was that all classes were banded together as one man whenever the general interests of the city were at stake. This city has a reputation for unity and he urged his hearers to see to it that that principle was never allowed to lag.

He had often heard the question asked why do men leave the east for the west. This was most difficult to answer. The manufacturers are engaged in the world's business and are doing their share towards the world's development while remaining here. With his profession it was different. They are confined to a great extent to their immediate neighborhood and if one of them wished to get into the heavier fields they must move into the greater centres. He had chosen Winnipeg as he felt that in a few years it would be the great metropolis of Canada. He was going to make an attempt at any rate and if he failed he could come back to Peterborough and start life over again.

In conclusion Mr. Dennistoun said that he did not think this farewell was so sorrowful as he fully expected to meet many of his old friends in Winnipeg and he was looking forward to happy reunions. He thanked the previous speakers for their kind references to his wife. She was a devoted citizen of Peterborough and her heart was with her many friends here. But she is a brave woman and she is with him in his decision to go west and with her by his side he felt confident he would achieve much greater success than if he went alone. "All I can say to you gentlemen is God bless you all," were Mr. Dennistoun's last words.

MUNICIPAL INSTITUTIONS

Mr. D. O'Connell proposed the toast to the municipal institutions and he delivered a very strong address in which he urged the citizens of Peterborough to take a great interest in the municipal institutions in their city and send better men to look after their affairs. In this city there are great natural resources and the proper development of them depends upon the class of men elected to the council and also the growth and development of the city. There is no reason why Peterborough should not be one of the greatest manufacturing cities in Canada. Now is the opportune time and if let slip by it will never return again.

He referred briefly but eloquently to the very friendly relationship he had always enjoyed with Mr Dennistoun. While others had fought with him in the political field, he had many battles with him in the legal field and he never knew him to be other than perfectly fair.

THE RESPONSE.

In response to the toast to the municipal institutions were coupled the names of Mayor McWilliams and Warden P. McNulty.

Mayor McWilliams said he was pleased to have the honor of replying to so important a toast. The council had worked hard for the past two months and a half and had held many midnight meetings, but they took a holiday and adjourned all meetings to allow the aldermen an opportunity to attend the celebration in honor of so worthy a citizen as Mr. Dennistoun.

As the city's official representative Mayor McWilliams said he was glad to express the hearty appreciation of the people in general, including all classes and creeds, of the noble service rendered by Mr. Dennistoun in the past. He had been connected prominently with nearly every organization which was for good in the city, and he would be greatly missed by all. In expressing officially and personally his regret at Mr. Dennistoun's departure, he wished to include the good lady who graced his house.

The mayor then dwelt for several minutes upon municipal matters. He invited the public generally to watch the action of the council carefully and to take a greater interest in municipal affairs. The business of a municipality is yearly becoming more and more complicated. The fever of public ownership of public utilities is gaining ground rapidly, and it requires very capable men in the council to handle those enterprises properly.

WARDEN P McNULTY.

In a very neat speech Warden P McNulty extended the very best wishes of the county council and the citizens of the county to Mr. Dennistoun in his new home. The warden said that he felt a little out of place as he could not see another farmer in the room. But the people of the county had always regarded Mr. Dennistoun as one of themselves. They all respected, admired and loved him. He was known to nearly every one of them, even away back in the wild woods, where he went fishing or hunting every year.

In doing honor to Mr. Dennistoun we do honor to ourselves. He is a true man and one we may feel proud of. He has always been in the public view and if there is any flaw in his character, it would have been found long before this.

In referring to the county the warden said that the people were very progressive. They took an interest in all matters which were for the public welfare. This was proven by the part the county had taken in the endeavor to have the canal completed, in getting the Eastern Ontario Dairymen's convention here, in getting the Normal school here, in the erection of the new armories and in many other ways. What interests the city interests the county as well.

COMMERCIAL INTERESTS.

The next toast was to the financial, agricultural, manufacturing and mercantile interests. It was proposed by Mr. L. M. Hayes and ably responded to by;

Messrs. John Crane and D Hughes Charles for the financial men.

Mr. E. M. Elliott for the agriculturalists.

Messrs. W. H. Denham, T. F. Matthews, E. G. Patterson and W. H. Meldrum for the manufacturers.

Mr. Robt. Fair for the merchants.

The toast to the learned professions was proposed by Mr. W. H. Moore and responded to by;

Rev Canon Davidson, Rev. Father McColl, Rev. Father Fitzpatrick and Rev E. A. Langfeldt, for the church.

Messrs. W. H. Moore, D. W. Dumble, Geo. H. Edmison and E. A. Peck for the legal profession.

Dr Boucher, Dr. Carmichael and Dr. Halliday for the medical men.

Mr John Belcher, for the civil engineers

There were also toasts to "The Press" and "The Ladies" and the gathering broke up by singing "Auld Lang Syne."

THE COMMITTEE

The committee in charge of the banquet was composed of;

Honorary Chairman, Hon. J R. Stratton.

Honorary Vice Chairman, Mr Peter Campbell.

Honorary Secretary, Mr. R. Fair.

His Honor Judge Weller, His Worship Mayor McWilliams, Messrs. R. R. Hall, M.P., J. T. Halliday, M.D. R. P Boucher, M.D., W. G. Morrow, T. F. Matthews, H. LeBrun, F D. Kerr, W. H. THE GUESTS.

Those present at the banquet were,—

S. R. Armstrong, J. A. Aylmer.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. J G. Potter, in the presence of only the immediate relatives of the contracting parties. The bride was given away by her brother, Mr. Joseph Goodfellow, of Sault Ste. Marie and was becomingly attired in a travelling suit of gray ladies' cloth with a blue hat to match. Criticism of Council's Action

In Deferring the Matter of Overhanging Sign By-law

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir.—I was both amused and astonished at the action of the council last night when they postponed the time for enforcing the overhanging sign bylaw until the merchants would have an opportunity to show cause why it should not be enforced—the merchants, forsooth!— who have no excuse whatever for overhanging signs, and should not be consulted, as such signs are only necessary for business people in upper flats, whose only front is a narrow hall, and it is they and they alone who should be considered and consulted.

It must be borne in mind that the most respectable and a large portion of the merchants on George street do not violate the law, or ask to do so, but are satisfied with the time honored sign-board over their doors, lying close in to and parallel with the wall, along with the window signs, thus showing that there is no necessity for the overhanging sign in their case. But once legalize the act, and then they will all adopt it, and there is no telling to what extent their rivalry will drive them in these days of strong competition. If they are to be allowed the liberty of making an uncalled for use of our streets by disfiguring them with an endless chain of projecting signs of every size, shape and color known to the ingenuity of man and thus obstructing the view and impeding traffic as well, then I say things have come to a pretty pass indeed. Therefore, let the minimum of harm only be done, by confining the privilege to the hall-way people as above indicated, and then only under certain restrictions as to size of sign, its height from the walk, and distance from the wall.

Yours, etc.,
VISTA.

The Society Will be Revived

Historical Society Will Meet Tomorrow Evening

A meeting of the Peterborough and Ashburnham Historical Society will be held at the Y.M.C.A. to-morrow (Thursday) evening, at 8 o'clock, when a new secretary will be appointed. The society has been more or less inactive for the past two or three years, and a new secretary will be selected, Mr. T. A. S. Hay not having the time at his disposal to fill the position. It is learned that the new official will likely be Mr. T. J. Wallace. The Victoria Museum will be opened next month.

The meeting to-morrow night will be followed by another one in a few days, at which the society will be revived. Col. H. C. Rogers will resign the presidency, which he has filled for many years. Mr. T. A. S. Hay will in all likelihood be the new president.

Col Rogers, who is president of the Ontario Historical Society, was in Toronto yesterday, attending an executive meeting of the Society.

Murdered His Two Daughters

Special to the Review.

Montreal, Que., April 3.—William Simpson, a young farmer, was brought to the city this morning, from self-inflicted bullet wounds, and if he recovers, will have to face the serious charge of having murdered his two young children. The tragedy occurred yesterday forenoon at Simpson's home, three miles from Hudson's Heights. Simpson first shot his two months' old child, and then the other, both of them girls. He afterwards turned the gun on himself. Mrs. Simpson was present at the time, but beyond threatening her and pointing the revolver at her, her husband did her no injury.

Contract Has Been Awarded

For New Grain Route From Victoria Harbor to Peterboro'

Contracts for the construction of a line of railway between Victoria Harbor and Peterborough, have been let, it is reported, by the Canadian Pacific Railway. The firm which has secured the contract, is the Toronto Construction Company, of 70 Victoria street, Toronto. The estimate of the cost of construction of the road which is to be in the neighborhood of one hundred miles in length, is about $20,000 a mile or $2,000,000 in all. The total cost of the line will be about $40,000 or $4,000,000. The terms of the contract call for a single track of 80-pound rails, and a 3-10 grade. The railway company is to supply rails, ties, and other material, etc., as well as the right-of-way for the line. The contractors are required to do the actual construction, such as grading, laying of rails, ballasting and completing the road.

The new Ontario section of the C. P. R. which has been under consideration, will pass through the towns of Orillia and Lindsay. Work will be commenced immediately. The contractors, who have completed the extension of the line from Bolton to Parry Sound, have their plant at present at Coldwater, ready for use. It is expected that the grading will be finished this year. No date for the completion of the construction of the road, has as yet been fixed, but it is hoped that it will be ready for operation by 1908. It will then assume a position of considerable importance as a portion of the Canadian Pacific system, for it will, it is believed, considerably shorten the grain route to the sea. The company will have a port on the east shore of Georgeian Bay, at which elevators may be erected, and the wheat transferred from the lake vessels to the ocean ports. At present the C. P. R. has a line to Owen Sound on the west of Georgian Bay, opposite Victoria Harbor. This, however, makes necessary the detour through Toronto and thence eastward. It is possible that the road may be carried to Havelock, instead of Peterborough, in the end. The local traffic in the vicinity of the latter place might justify its entry, but on the other hand the heavy grades to be overcome would make it an expensive undertaking. In any event, the new line will almost parallel the Grand Trunk Railway Company's line between Peterborough and Midland.

SERVICE PIPE ON GEORGE ST.

Broke in Front of Mr. Neill's Store and Flooded Cellars

After doing yeoman service for the past twenty years, the lead pipe connection of the waterworks to E. F. Mason & Co's store, broke Monday night. This connection is with the original main on George street, which was laid twenty years ago. The pipe pulled out of the brass coupling and the water was free to seek an outlet where best it could. The pipe was a three-quarter one, and the break allowed a leakage of 40 gallons of water per minute.

The water, of course, worked its way through the gravel until it struck an old drain leading into one of the cellars, and consequently, several of the cellars along the east side of the street were flooded. It is reported that considerable damage was done to merchants' stock, and a morning contemporary stated that the merchants would hold the city liable.

As far as that is concerned the commissioners are not at all alarmed. The superintendent says that the commissioners had no control whatever over the break in the service pipe. It was the direct cause of the gradual settlement over the trunk sewers, and was liable to happen any time and any place.

The Waterworks Department was notified yesterday morning of water being in the cellars, and they immediately got busy. The water was turned off and excavations made. The break was located after great difficulty and repaired at once. In the meantime all the water consumers in that part of the city were without water.

Another leak occurred in the system just opposite Mr. Harry LeBrun's store on George street. This turned out to be less serious. A flange had given out on a stopcock. It was repaired to-day.

New Head Office for C.G.E. Company

Will Erect a $400,000 New Building in Toronto

The Canadian General Electric Co. are about to erect on the north-west corner of King and Simcoe streets, Toronto, a fire-proof, five-storey head office building, to cost about $400,000. The company secured the site some months ago, and work on the excavations was commenced yesterday. The building will have a frontage of 65 feet on King street, with a depth of 185 feet on Simcoe street. The structure will be a steel skeleton, with reinforced concrete brick, stone and terra cotta.

Arranging the Season's Work

Y.M.C.A. Harrier Club Met Last Night—Field Day on May 24th.

A meeting of the Y.M.C.A. Harriers' Club was held at the Association building last night, when the summer work of the Club was discussed. The Club will begin their outdoor runs on Wednesday night of next week. Tuesday night was decided on at the meeting, but on account of a number of the Harriers attending the classes at the drill hall, it was afterwards changed by the executive to Wednesday night.

It was also decided to hold the field day competition for the Howden trophy on the 24th of May, probably in the morning. This competition will not be confined to the Y.M.C.A. Harriers, but will be thrown open to all the amateurs of the city and vicinity, the cup and sports, however, to be controlled by the Y.M.C.A. The executive will meet shortly and draw up the schedule of sports for the trophy. The advisability of forming football and baseball teams was also discussed. A team composed of five men will in all probability be sent away in the fall to compete for the coveted Penmen trophy, which is put up for track competition from year to year.

Bell Telephone Company Will Seek to Put Wires Under Ground

Preliminary Work is all Done—New and Larger Cables Put Up on George Street—Will Appear Before the Council Shortly—New Office Being Delayed

For some time the city council and the citizens generally, have heard nothing about the Bell Telphone Co. putting its wires underground. Last year the company and the council could not arrive at an agreement and the proposal was dropped. In the meantime the company have gone to a great expense in erecting new and larger cables in many parts of the city. In the business section practically all the single wires have disappeared. This has not been done for nothing. The Bell people are not satisfied. They are going to put their wires and cables underground. In fact they have to before they will go on with the erection of their new office on Hunter street.

With this object in view the Bell Telephone Company will, in a short time again wait upon the city council, and make application to put their wires in the business portion of the city underground. When the company appears again they will do so in an entirely different mood from what they did last time. They will put their proposition before the aldermen and if it is not accepted, or if no satisfactory arrangement can be arrived at, it is likely the company will proceed with the work, anyway, and fight it out in the courts, the same as in the Owen Sound case, when the city was defeated.

The Bell Telephone Company have made all plans for the erection of a handsome new office building on Hunter street, next to D. Belleghem's furniture and undertaking establishment. They are ready and anxious to start, but they cannot do so until the underground proposition is arranged with the city.

24th Field Battery Prepares For Opening of Drill Season

Arrangements are being made for the opening of the drill season of the 24th Field Battery, Canadian Artillery. A number of recruits are wanted, and of course, men with good horses are the most desirable. Those wishing to join can secure further information by calling on Major (Dr.) Young at his residence, Rubidge street.

In the course of a few days the Battery will commence drill at the drill shed, East City, and everything will be done to have it in shape for the opening of the military camp at Petawawa on June June 17th. The 24th will go into camp at the big training grounds, and should make a good showing. Although last year was its first season the local battery did well at the camp at Cobourg and with the added experience should hold their own with the best of them this year. There are splendid accommodations for both men and horses at Petawawa and there should be no difficulty in sending the 24th into camp full strength. The Battery has a splendid lot of officers and every man in the corps is enthusiastic regarding the work.

Grenadiers and Dufferins May be Here on Victoria Day

Invitations Will be Extended Them to Visit Peterboro' on May 24th—It is Pratically Assured That the Brantford Regiment Will be Here

Peterborough will likely have a big military tournament on May 24th. The 38th Regiment, Dufferin Rifles, of Brantford, and the 10th Royal Grenadier Guards, of Toronto, will be invited to visit the city by the 57th Regiment, Peterborough Rangers, and as soon as they are heard from arrangements for the celebration will be commenced.

At a meeting of the officers of the 57th Regiment last night it was decided to invite the two regiments above mentioned to visit Peterborough on Victoria Day and the invitations will be sent them at once. That the Brantford corps will accept the invitation is practically certain and it is very probable that the Grenadiers will also come to Peterborough. Both the Dufferins and Grenadiers are eight company regiments and are 500 men strong each. The 57th were the guests of the Brantford Regiment on Dominion Day last year and had one of the most enjoyable outings in the history of the corps. The Brantford soldiers were hospitality personified and their many acts of kindness will not soon be forgotten by their comrades in arms from Peterborough. The Dufferins are a splendid corps and also have excellent brass and bugle bands. The Grenadier Guards are one of the crack regiments of the Dominion and it is greatly hoped that they will accept the invitation.

It is expected that both regiments will be heard from in a few days and then, without further delay, preparations for the tournament will be commenced. Nothing definite has yet been decided as to what form the celebration will take. Nothing can be done until it is known whether the one or two regiments will be here.

Case of Frost vs G.T.R. Company Has Been Settled Out of Court

Brakeman Who Lost His Arm at G. T. R. Station Here Last September Will Receive $700 and Costs —Action of Unusual Interest to Railway Men.

The case of Frost vs. G.T.R., which was to have come up at the Spring Assize here this week, has been settled out of court. The plaintiff will receive in the neighborhood of $700, besides his costs.

On the 22nd of September, Mr. George W. Frost, a yard brakeman for the G.T.R. at Peterborough, lost his right arm, through rather an extraordinary accident, while shunting cars in the Peterborough yards. He was applying the brakes at the end of a moving train of six box cars, when through some unexpected jerk he was thrown over upon the track and between the rails, being hurled to the ground in such a manner that his head was facing the moving cars, with one arm over one of the rails. Six cars passed over him and beyond the necessary loss of his arm, his injuries were comparatively slight.

He brought suit against the Railway Company, through Mr. N. Ferrar Davidson, of Toronto and the case was ready for trial, and was in fact set down for the assizes, which open here on Monday next. Several rather novel points arose in the litigation, and the defendants were contending that there could have been no jerk beyond what is usual in shunting cars and that the accident must have been the man's own fault, or else a pure and simple accident, for which they could not be held [illegible]. For the plaintiff it was urged that the mere fact of his being thrown to the ground so forcibly as to turn a somersault, and be flat upon the ground before the cars overtook him was evidence of the very severe and unnecessary jerk. It was also urged that under the Railway Act a series of cars being shunted is "a train" and the Company have no right to move such train without having an engine attached to it and in shape to be controlled by air brakes, and that when they detail men to use hand brakes they practically take the responsibility of accidents.

These questions would probably have led to a long litigation which would probably not have stopped short of the Supreme Court, and Mr. Davidson for the plaintiff, and Mr. W. H. Biggar, K.C., for the defendants, got together personally, and arranged a settlement which, it is understood, will give the plaintiff in the neighborhood of $700 besides his costs. As the outside limit of his claim under the "Workman's Compensation Act" would be between $1,500 and $1,600 or less, the settlement must be regarded as a reasonable one, especially as Mr. Frost will have the benefit of the use of the money at once, when he most needs it, instead of having to wait for the termination of what may have been a long litigation.

Peterborough Baseball Club Organized for the Season

The annual meeting of the Peterborough Baseball Club, for the purpose of re-organizing for the season was held at the Windsor Hotel, Brock street, last evening. There was a large attendance of baseball enthusiasts and the prospects for the season were interestingly discussed.

Mr. H. Neil presided and the first business was the election of officers for the ensuing year. The election resulted as follows,—

Hon.-Pres., Mayor McWilliams.
President, Mr. Harry Neil.
1st Vice-Pres., Mr. W. H. Budkins.
2nd Vice-Pres., Mr. D. B. McRae.
Secretary-Treasurer, Mr. R. M. Glover.
Assistant Sec.-Treas., Fred C. Craig.
Manager, Mr. A. Johnson.
Executive, Messrs. H. Neil, A. Johnson and R. M. Glover.

The choosing of a captain was left over until a later date.

Since the local team were frozen out of the Midland League, it is their intention to play independent ball. There is plenty of good material for a strong baseball nine this year, and some good ball games will be seen here this season. Some of the best junior teams of Toronto, will likely play here during the coming summer. Arrangements have been made with the Arctics and the I. C. B. U. teams of Toronto, to play here on the 24th of May. A game will also likely be arranged for the latter end of this month.

The matches will be played at Riverside Park, and the executive committee will make all arrangements for practice nights, with the owners of the park, and also all other necessary arrangements. Until the grounds are in fit condition at Riverside, the baseball enthusiasts will practice at Central Park.

The appointment of an umpire was discussed, but nothing definite was decided.

During the summer months, the Otonabee Navigation Co. have arranged for special rates on the railroads on Saturdays. This will afford the club a splendid opportunity to bring clubs from Toronto down here.

"Dubby" Shea At Brantford

"Dubby" Shea, the former Peterborough ball player, will be found behind the bat in Brantford again this year. The Expositor says:—

"Manager Pero's Malleables look like the real goods at this stage of the race for the Spaulding pennant. They are all seasoned players, and with a pitcher who, it is generally understood, will be imported from Uncle Sam's domains, should just about carry off the coveted trophy. "Dubby" Shea, who created such a favorable impression in the city league last year, is slated to do the receiving."

BASEBALL

STRATHCONAS TO REORGANIZE

The Strathcona Baseball Club will hold a special meeting in the parlors of the Windsor Hotel, Brock street, on Tuesday evenig, April 9th at 8.45 o'clock. All last year's players and others wishing to join are requested to attend, as business of importance will be transacted.

Local Baptists at Lakefield

Attended the Special Meetings Conducted by Evangelist Torrie

Two large van loads of people left the Park Street Baptist Church last night for the evangelistic service at Lakefield. They were a happy crowd. Choruses answered to choruses as their merry voices rent the air, the whole journey. It was a great service, nearly all the visitors taking part in the songs. A good work is being done by Evangelist Torrie, in Lakefield. Many are coming into the church. The Park Street contingent was royally received. A good spread was served at the close of the service, before making the return journey, which was accomplished a little after one o'clock. The part was in charge of Deacon and Mrs. Kemp.

THE SESSIONAL SITUATION

In order to get money to carry on the administrative services the Government has been compelled to introduce in Parliament an intrim supply bill for the fiscal year, which, under the new order, begins to-day. The event is something of a confession of failure.

The idea of the fall session, says the Montreal Gazette, was that it would enable the members to get through with work during the winter and to return to their homes early in the spring. Since Parliament met, however, a good part of five months has elapsed, and there is yet a great deal of work to be done before the Government programme is completed. The fault is that of the ministers. They have not been sufficiently energetic in pushing their business. They actually seem to be embarassed when the debate on the budget ended and they were left free to discuss the details of the amended tariff they had brought down. They were not ready to go on. As subsequent events showed the tariff that had been introduced was a test one. It did not stand the criticism even of the ministerial party and was amended and re-amended before it was allowed to take the shape of a bill. It is not finally disposed of yet. One cause of the delay has been that the time of the House of Commons was taken up in the discussion of contentious measures for which there was no apparent hurry, and which will likely be dropped for the present. Because of what was referred to and other failures of the Government to properly handle the House of Commons, also, a situation has been created the like of which is unparalleled in the story of Parliament. Certain alleged sins of members have been thrust to the front, and have been the subject of an unpleasant discussion. It is not the proper work of Parliament the country is now thinking of but the reported improper acts of some of the country's representatives. Because of the Prime Minister's failure to see and do his duty, moreover, when the matter was first brought up, it is to be brought up again and a second unpleasant discussion will follow, and to the Government's injury. The Government stands to-day by its record convicted of wasting the time of Parliament, and of inability to protect its honor on the honor of the House of Commons, either by crushing those who are slandering its members or by throwing out the men who, if scandalous reports are true, should be retired to private life. It is indeed a pitable exhibition the Government has made during the session, the end of which must be earnestly desired by those who still have confidence in it.

PEN POINTS

Look out for April showers. They will be here soon.

The watering carts are on the routes, but the temperature is anything but springlike.

The city council is to be congratulated on its progressive step to have all sewers built by day labor.

In Utah the State Senate has passed a bill to make the playing of bridge whist for money or valuable prizes, a crime. It would be a sad thing if this fashionable diversion of the mansions were placed on a par with the fashionable diversion of the alleyways. Bridge whist and craps! Gracious!

Thanks to the Mowat-Hardy-Ross governments Ontario for fifteen years fed the saw mills of Michigan, during a portion of the same period pumping her natural gas to New York, Michigan and Ohio. Thus did the Province play into the hands of rivals and rob herself of strength to resist competition. It was a stupid thing to do; unbusinesslike, unpatriotic and costly. Well is it for Ontario that those days have come to an end.

Among the many interesting theories advanced as to the origin of Good Friday buns, one very probable story is advanced by many authorities. It is as follows; "The hot cross bun dates from a plague-stricken time of the Middle Ages when the church, on the urgent request of many physicians agreed to relax the very rigid diet prescribed for the faithful on Good Friday, and allowed them to eat bread or buns, but only with the stipulation that they should be marked with the sign of the cross, and this custom, applied chiefly to loaves of bread, still prevails in the northern portion of Italy and parts of Spain.

From all parts of Ontario and the west comes the cry for help on the farm. The young men from older Ontario are going west, and their places are hard to fill. Those who go west go for the purpose of taking up land on their own account, and being their own masters. The immigrants are sought eagerly in the hope that some can be secured to till the fields and assist in the dairying business. Wages ranging from $18 to $30 and board and lodging are offered, but the response is not sufficient to satisfy the demand. The call of the country grows louder every year. It will yet be heard above the hum and roar of the machinery of trade and industry in the cities so clearly that there will be an equalizing of the conditions of employment. There will be a better supply of workers on the farms and less pressure for places to earn a living as clerks in stores and offices. The rural districts of Canada grow steadily more attractive, always more favorable for full and rounded life. The country is coming slowly but surely into its own, for work and for residence.

The Winnipeg school board has learned a lesson from the Montreal fire There are in the western city some sixteen schools which are three storeys high and it has been decided to erect on two sides of each fire escapes similar to those on the public charities of this city. These escapes are made of special iron, with roomy landings and staircases with railing running from one landing to another. The Winnipeg trustees have been looking up the latest information with regard to school construction, also. Two representatives of the board visited Boston and New York and saw the fire protectors on the highest buildings. These are fire-proof stair cases, erected at each end of the building, with entrances through fire-proof doors in each flat, and so arranged that the exits close automatically after the pupils. Everything in these fire-proof staircases is non-inflamable, and the passage is so wide and well guarded by rails that accidents cannot happen, and the buildings can be emptied in a very few minutes. Peterborough has not been very much impressed by the Hochelaga fire. No one has ordered that the schools be supplied with fire protectors. The fire drills are kept up, and they are of some advantage.

At the Young Conservative Club Rooms To-morrow Night

Mr. Dawson Kennedy will give to morrow (Thursday) night his reminiscences in the Young Conservative Club Rooms, of Thomas D'Arcy McGee and Joseph Howe, the two great geniuses at the time of Confederation. It is doubtful if Canada, ever had two such orators as they were. Their lives were full of incident, and their aspirations high. Mr. Kennedy has put the club under a debt of gratitude, for it is doubtful if any one, at least in this part of the country, has had the privilege of hearing in debate these two great men. Ald. Phelan will preside, and there will be the usual smoker. Mr. Gardner will recite, Mr. J. R. Firth will sing and Mr. F. Clarke will give several numbers on the banjo. All are cordially invited tomorrow night.

Fashionable Wedding in the Capital

Norwood Young Man Married to Popular Ottawa Lady

An interesting and impressive ceremony took place Tuesday afternoon, at 2.30 in St. Andrew's Church, Ottawa, when Miss Ida May Elizabeth, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Macdonald, of Strathcona ave, Ottawa, was united in marriage to Mr. Gerald S. Roxburgh, B.Sc., of Winnipeg, formerly of Norwood, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Roxburgh, of Norwood.

Speaking of the event, the Ottawa Journal, says: The bride looking fair and stately, entered on her father's arm. Her wedding gown was of embroidered Brussels net, made over chiffon and silk, the yoke gown with seed pearls.

She wore a veil and coronet and orange blossoms, and the gift of the groom, an exquisite ring with three whole pearls. Miss Hazel Mitchell, her bridesmaid, was gowned in pale blue radium silk, trimmed with fine white lace, and large Leghorn picture hat, with pink roses and clusters of ribbon. Miss Helen McCormick made a dainty flower girl in her soft frock of embroidered Persian lawn inlet with blue ribbon, Watteau hat trimmed with violets and blue ribbon. The choir of St. Andrew's church, rendered the wedding hymns, Mr. F. M. S. Jenkins presiding at the organ.

Rev. Dr. Herridge performed the ceremony, assisted by Rev. Frank Roxburgh, of Smithville, brother of the groom. Mr. Wilson Cameron of Toronto, performed the duties of best man.

After the ceremony, the wedding party and guests drove to the residence of the bride's parents on Strathcona avenue, where a delightful reception was held, the large drawing room and library being artistically decorated with pink and white azaleas, roses and palms.

An orchestra stationed in the hall furnished delightful music.

Mr. and Mrs. Roxburgh left on the afternoon train for Montreal, en route to Chicago, Minneapolis and Boston, and will arrive at their future home in Winnipeg two weeks hence.

The wedding gifts were arranged upstairs and presented an array of beauty and costliness, the choir of St. Andrew's church, of which the bride was a valued member, presenting a lovely Crown Derby salad bowl mounted in silver.

The groom presented the bridesmaid with a handsome fleur-de-lis pin set in pearls, to Miss Helen McCormick, a dainty heart-shaped pendant and chain, to the groomsman, a scarf pin of pearl.

The bride presented Mr. Jenkins with a souvenir scarf pin of pearl.

Mr. and Mrs. Roxburgh, the groom's parents will hold a reception at Norwood, for the young couple on Thursday, from four to seven.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. John Roxburgh of Russell, and Mrs. Berry, Hastings; Mr., Mrs. and Miss Grace Fowlds of Hastings, and Mrs. Cameron of Peterborough.

Mrs. Roxburgh travelled in a chic costume of pastel blue broadcloth trimmed with appliques of self-colored embroidery and smart Eton coat, opening over a blouse of lace. Her hat was one of blue mohair trimmed in pale tan and blue velvet

NEGLECTED TO OBEY SUMMONS

Peterboro' Man Had Interview With Magistrate in Toronto

The Toronto Star says: William A. Elliott neglected to obey summons on a charge of stealing $5.82 from Walter Hallett, in consequence of which carelessness he was, at the request of the Toronto police, locked up in Peterborough.

Elliott undertook to make a door and window sashes for Hallett. Hallett paid for them, before they were finished, and as they were not suitable, Hallett sent them back.

"Elliott was working on them in November, 1906, and has not settled for them yet," said Hallett.

"I was ill with pneumonia," said Elliott, "and was unable to arrange matters to suit him. I don't think my character should be blackened in this way."

"If you behaved yourself as you should, your character would not be blackened," his Worship reminded him. "When can you settle the matter?"

"Today," said Elliott, "I live in Peterborough, and the expense of coming here is very large."

"I'll adjourn the case until tomorrow," said then magistrate, and Mr. Corley will let you know whether you will have to appear then."

Building Boom in Westakiwin

Peterboro' Boy Tells of Progress of That Enterprising Alberta Town.

Mr. J. Bradley, of Wetaskiwin, Alberta, a former Peterborough boy, writes an interesting letter to the Review on the progress made by that rapidly advancing town. Mr. Bradley under date of March 25th, says;—

The recent signs of progress which have visited the city are still manifest, and with the awakening signs of spring, indicate a busy, prosperous year for Wetaskiwin. As there is not a house to be had for rent building operations will soon begin; already several outside parties have been looking over the ground with a view of moving here and engaging in contract work. On one of the new sub-divisions already forty building permits has been issued. Parties are selling their houses inside the old town site, and building new homes outside. The value one these properties has already advanced two or three times. The Board of Trade are taking up the matter of securing sites for prospective manufacturing concerns, and will apply to the council for a grant to aid them in their undertakings. With the prospect of Pearce street being extended the east side is looking up and new stores are being put in.

Mr. J. Bradley has been engaged in the production of a map for the city, and expects to have it completed in the near future, when a pocket guide will also be issued.

The arrangements for the supervision of the waterworks and sewerage systems have been awarded to Messrs Thorold & Paradis, Calgary. The septic tanks will be three and a half miles to the south-east and drain into the Pipestone river.

Real estate has been steady, and several important transactions have been made. Almost all the available land for sub-divisions have been bought up. Land which was bought at $200 an acre is now being held at $500. It is announced that Mr. McCarther has sold the remaining portion of his land to the east of the city to men in Iowa at $225 an acre.

The sub-divisions which have been put on this year are all selling well. Some are completely sold out. A [illegible] man said to-day that surveys were being run to the westward.

THE MUSKRAT SEASON.

Trappers Already at Work Prices High and May Advance.

The river is open nearly its entire length at present and numerous muskrat hunters have already taken their trapping outfits and in canoe or on foot, have sought their accustomed trapping grounds to again renew their efforts to secure the valuable muskrat pelt. Numbers have begun operations already, and the prospects point to a splendid season. The present cold snap will be a hardship and an inconvenience to the early nimrods who are down or up the river. The open season extend from January 1st to May 1st. The prices are high this season and as a result everybody who knows how to set a trap, will be out

An Addition to Ottawa Church

Of Which Rev W. M. Loucks Formerly of Peterborough is Rector

St. Matthew's church, Ottawa of which Rev. Walter M. Loucks, formerly of Peterborough, is rector, will be enlarged at an outlay of $8,000.

The extension will mean an increase in the seating capacity of from 450 as at present, to 930. The addition will be of frame construction like the present building, and will cost in the vicinity of $8,000. The basement will be fitted up for a Sunday school hall and the addition will harmonize in every detail to the present structure. It is the intention of the congregation to erect a permanent church on the site as soon as the parish can stand the expense, but as this will not likely be for eight or ten years yet, this new addition is being made for present accommodation. When a permanent structure is built the building now used as a public place of worship will be turned into a parish hall.

C.M.B.A. Held a Most Pleasant "At Home" Last Night

Another Easter Monday social was that held in the T.A.S. hall Monday night in which the members of the C.M.B.A. were "At Home" to their lady friends. The hall was thronged with a jolly gathering, and the ladies speak enthusiastically of the manner in which they were entertained There were at least eighty-five couples present, who enjoyed themselves at progressive euchre, followed by luncheon and a musical programme and a little hop. The prizes in the euchre contest were awarded as follows:—Ladies' first prize, Miss M. Lynch, a quartered oak table 2nd prize, to Miss M. O'Brien, china five o'clock tea set. Gentleman's first prize was won by Mr. C. Giroux, a gentleman's umbrella; 2nd, to Mr. P. Garvey, a handsome pipe

Dainty refreshments were served by the gentlemen, Mr. L. Potvin being the caterer, and his work was of the usual excellent quality. The musical numbers were greatly appreciated Miss Lavina Hallihan rendered several vocal solos, as did also Mr. Hugh Brady. A chorus, composed of Messrs. George Ball, H. Brady, J. Cunningham, Keon and Misses Ball, J. Lynch, Miss Moher and Miss Fitzsimmons sang several times, and were well received.

The gentlemen in charge of the "At Home" were Messrs. Jos. Hickey, Jos. Picard, J. J. Lynch, J. Hanrahan, W. Grady, George Ball, Jas. Doris, Mr. M. J. McDonnell, chairman. All the members deserve special mention, especially the young men.

The event was a decided success, and speaks well for the thoughtfulness of the members of the C.M.B.A., who proved themselves ideal hosts.

Business Block Had Close Call

Fire Originated Upstairs Above Havelock Grocery Store

Havelock, April 2, 1907.—A fire, which caused considerable damage occurred here yesterday at 11.30 a. m., in the William's block, Ottawa street, west of the Armstrong Hotel. The fire originated upstairs, above W. A. William's grocery store. Some clothing fell off a line onto a stove pipe, which ascends from the store below. As the family occupied the upstairs, was away, the clothing took fire and the floor next caught. It was then that the blaze was noticed. Several men who were near burst their way into the place, and found the fire had run along the studding and up both sides of the room. The hose from the C.P.R. station was put in action, but the men found it hard in the dense smoke to locate the chief point of the fire. At first it was thought that they could not save the building, but after continued efforts, the fire was got under control and put out. The water which leaked through the ceiling did the most damage to the store below, covering the floor to a depth of about seven inches. The damage done to the building, which belongs to Mr. Elias Williams, of town, is covered by insurance.

Selwyn Postmaster Has Passed Away

Death of James Bell One of Smith Township's Most Respected Residents

There passed away this morning a respected and life-long resident of Smith township, in the person of Mr. James Bell, who was postmaster at Selwyn for a quarter of a century. Mr. Bell, very many years ago had an attack of pleurisy from which he suffered several months. He had since enjoyed only fair health and was not a strong man. He was 75 years of age and was born in Smith. He followed farming until his removal to Selwyn. About 48 years ago he was married to Miss Mary Ann Manning, of Smith township, who survives him, along with a family of three sons and two daughters. The sons are Matthew J., Thomas J., and Harry C. Bell, of Smith. The daughters are Mrs Alfred McIlmoyle and Mrs. George Nicholls, also of that township The deceased was a Conservative in politics and in religion a Baptist. He was a man who was generous in disposition and upright in character. By his daily walk and life, he earned the confidence and esteem of all. Mr. F. J. Bell, division court clerk, Peterborough, is a nephew of deceased and Mr. W. J. Manning of this city, is a brother-in-law. Mr. Wm. Bell, of Smith, is a brother.

The funeral will take place on Friday afternoon to Lakefield cemetery.

SEEING IS BELIEVING.

Conversion of the Man Who Lived Next Door for Ten Years.

Physique type systems are not a substitute for common sense, but mix well. There is more commonsense in "Semi-ready" tailoring when one looks into the fundamental basics of the system upon which the business is building.

"I am converted to semi-ready, and my word, this is the first time I've looked into it," said a $10,000-a-year man, who had his office within a block of the Semi-ready store in Montreal for ten years. "No man who never goes to meeting can be converted,' said the salesman. It's more 'seeing' that Semi-ready Tailoring wants—for seeing is believing.

PARTIES STILL ARE DISPUTING

Junk Dealers Having a Falling Out Among Themselves

Apparently the case of John Doig and the new junk dealers has not been dropped yet. Mendel, who Doig accused of stealing his goods, is apparently going to get back at Doig and this morning was at the police station ready to swear out an information against Doig for wrongfully accusing him. It seems that Doig accused Mendel of taking a quantity of brass and rubbers from his yard on Sunday last and sold it. To settle it without bringing it to court yesterday afternoon Mendel paid Doig ten dollars for the stuff which Doig said that he took. Another local junk dealer says Doig brought the stuff and left it in his yard on Sunday. He told him that he had purchased it from an Orillia man. To-day Doig sold the same stuff which he accused Mendel of stealing and for which he had got ten dollars from Mendel. Mendel claims that he has been done a great injustice and in all probability the complications will be threshed out to-morrow morning in the police court.

Teacher Given Gold Bracelet

Miss Maud Halpin Honored by Her Pupils at Rockcroft

At the closing of school sec. No. 6, Harvey, on Wednesday, March 27th, a very pleasing event took place when the teacher, Miss Maud Halpin, was presented with a handsome gold bracelet.

The presentation was made by Master Bruce Simpson, on behalf of the pupils, after an entertainment had by them during the afternoon.

Needless to say Miss Halpin was agreeably surprised. She replied in a few words, thanking the pupils for their kindness and saying she would always remember the many happy days spent among the children at Rockcroft.

Forced Way Into Private House

Three Young Men Fined for the Offence in the Police Court

Yesterday was a busy day in police court circles.

An afternoon session was held at four o'clock. The two drunk and disorderly cases which were enlarged yesterday morning on account of the policeman who made the arrest not being present, were disposed of. Each offender was fined two dollars to be in ten days.

A case of three young men forcibly entering a house in east city was also tried yesterday. It appears about midnight last Monday Mr. Alex. Walker's residence in east city was approached by three young men by the names of Fred Burleigh, Wm. Wallace and Frank Fountain, who demanded to be let in. They raised a great disturbance. Mr. Walker was aroused from bed and went to see about the noise. He refused to let them in whereupon the three broke open the door and entered. A scuffle followed and Mr. Walker defended himself with a club.

Mr. Wallace came to the police station yesterday and swore out an information against them. Yesterday afternoon Constables Adams and Newhall found them in a local hotel and brought them before His Worship Magistrate Dumble. They pleaded guilty and were each fined five dollars, to be paid forthwith or fifteen days in gaol. They spent the night at Castle Nesbitt, but this morning Burleigh got his freedom, his fine being paid. It will be remembered that Burleigh was in the police court only a few days ago and on being allowed to go promised to do better in the future.

Got One Month for Vagrancy

His Worship Magistrate Edmison this morning sentenced a vagrant from Asphodel to one month in the county gaol. The man was brought in by County Constable Cochrane, complaint having been made by residents of Asphodel that the man was a vagrant. The fellow told a hard luck story of having been badly treated by a farmer with whom he was working.

AMERICAN OFFICERS OF HIGH RANK AND OTHERS ENDORSE PE-RU-NA.

Prominent People Recommend the Remedy Pe-ru-na.

Dr. Hartman's World Renowned Catarrh Medicine.

A Remedy for the Grip.

Gen. W. H. Parsons, 925 H St., N. W., Washington, D. C., writes as follows:

"Upon the recommendation of personal friends and many strong testimonials to the efficacy of Peruna in the treatment of the numerous symptoms of the grip with which I have been affected for four months past, I have been induced to undergo a treatment of this justly celebrated formula.

"I feel a decided change for the better by its use for one week only, especially in toning up the stomach, and a consequent decided effect upon my appetite.

"I therefore feel much encouraged that I am on the road to complete restoration.

"My numerous friends in Texas, where I have had the honor to command a brigade of her veteran cavalry in a four-year war, may accept this voluntary testimonial to the merit of Peruna from a sense of obligation for its wonderful efficacy."

Pe-ru-na a Good Tonic.

Gen. M. C. Butler, of South Carolina, writes from Washington, D. C., as follows:

"I can recommend Peruna for dyspepsia and stomach trouble.

"I have been using your medicine for a short period and I feel very much relieved.

"It is indeed a wonderful medicine, and besides a good tonic."

Colds in the Head and Throat.

Chas. W. Bowman, 1st Lieut. and Adjt. 4th M. S. M. Cav. Vols., writes from Lanham, Md., as follows:

"Though somewhat averse to patent medicines, and still more averse to becoming a professional affidavit man, it seems only a plain duty in the present instance to add my experience to the columns already written concerning the curative powers of Peruna.

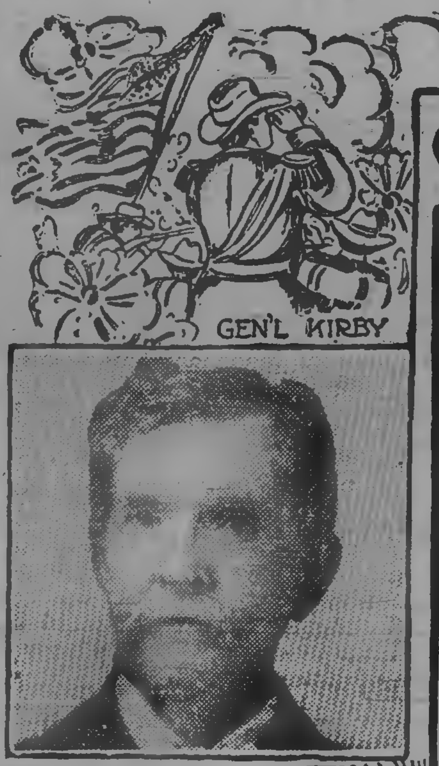
"I have been particularly benefited by its use for colds in the head and throat.

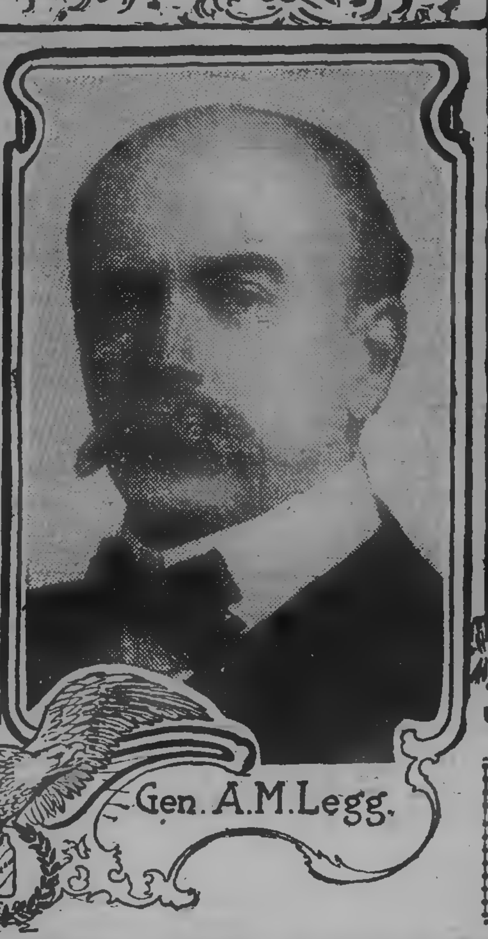
"I have been able to fully cure myself of a most severe attack in forty-eight hours by its use according to directions.

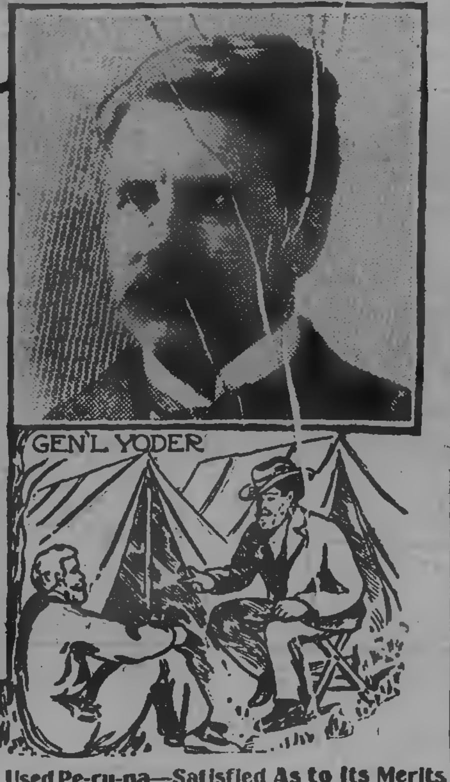
"I use it as a preventive whenever threatened with an attack.

"Members of my family also use it for like ailments.

"We are recommending it to our friends."







Recommends Pe-ru-na to the Afflicted.

Brig. Gen. D. T. Kirby, Washington, D. C., writes concerning Peruna, as follows:

"Friends of mine having used your Peruna catarrh cure with good results, I am impressed with its curative qualities, and can recommend it to those who are afflicted."

An Invigorating Tonic.

Rear-Admiral Hichborn, U. S. Navy, Washington, D. C., writes:

"After the use of Peruna for a short period, I can now cheerfully recommend your valuable remedy to any one who is in need of an invigorating tonic."

For Catarrh of the Stomach.

Gen. W. W. Duffield, Washington, D. C., writes:

"I have used Peruna in my family and have found it a valuable medicine and take pleasure in recommending it to all who suffer from catarrh of the stomach or who require a tonic of prompt efficacy."

DEAFNESS CAUSED BY CATARRH—RELIEVED BY PE-RU-NA.

Gen. A. M. Legg, writes from the Savings Bank Building, Washington, D. C., as follows:

"I take pleasure in endorsing the many recommendations I have heard and read of Peruna, because of having had knowledge of the truth of so many of them.

"We always tell our sick and ailing friends of the remedies that we have learned, from experience, were good for us when ailing in the same way, and we do it as a duty we feel that we owe them.

"Why is it any the less our duty to advise all the people we can when we know of a good and comparatively inexpensive remedy that makes many cures, and benefits in almost all cases?

"My own little personal experience of being relieved of deafness, caused by a siege of catarrh, warrants me in advising all the afflicted to just try Peruna."

Used Pe-ru-na—Satisfied As to Its Merits—Recommends It to All Sufferers.

Gen. S. S. Yoder, 203 Md. Ave., N. E., Washington, D. C., writes:

"I desire to say that I have found Peruna to be a wonderful remedy. I only used it for a short time and am thoroughly satisfied as to its merits. I shall gladly recommend it to all sufferers."

For Kidney Trouble, Coughs, Colds and Catarrh.

Gen. A. T. Hawley, 1336 25th St., N. W., Washington, D. C., writes:

"I have used Peruna and find it very beneficial for kidney trouble, and especially good for coughs, colds and catarrhal trouble."

Convinced of Pe-ru-na's Merit.

Brig. Gen. J. Floyd King, Washington, D. C., writes:

"I unhesitatingly state that I am convinced Peruna is a medicine which will effect all that is claimed for its use."

Those desirous of obtaining special directions with regard to the use of Peruna should write to Dr. S. B. Hartman, President of the Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

When Other Remedies Failed Pe-ru-na Proved Efficacious.

Hon. Geo. W. Honey, National Chaplain U. V. U., Ex-Chaplain 4th Wisconsin Cavalry, Ex-Treas. State of Wisconsin and Ex-Q. Master General State of Texas, G. A. R., writes from 1700 First street, N. E., Washington, D. C., as follows:

"I cannot too highly recommend your preparation for the relief of catarrhal troubles in their various forms.

"Some members of my own family have used it with most gratifying results.

"When other remedies failed, Peruna proved most efficacious and I cheerfully certify to its curative excellence."

Pe-ru-na, a Standard Treatment For Catarrhal Diseases.

Mr. John C. Nelson, Dayton, Tenn., geologist and mining engineer, while a Captain in the Federal Army during the Civil War, contracted a case of rheumatism. This malady was constant and persistent, inducing the development of other ailments, which also became chronic. After taking a course of Peruna, Capt. Nelson writes:

"Having been painfully afflicted with chronic rheumatism and the adjunctive complications for many years, and after having received many general and special treatments with only temporary relief, I read your scientific treatise on catarrhal diseases.

"At my request you prescribed a special course of the Peruna remedies, which I closely followed, and am happy to report that my rheumatism and complicated ailments are subdued, and I feel young again at the age of 69 years.

"Reason will accept your classification of catarrhal diseases as scientific and true, and the Peruna remedies as a standard treatment for them. I thank you heartily for your skilled and logical advice."

Enjoys Renewed Health and Strength.

James J. Osborn, 623 Wahsatch Ave., Colorado Springs, Colo., has filled all the positions in Knight Templars Masonic Order, was a Mason since 1866, Judge of County Court, Clinton, Mo., and also County Collector of Clinton. He writes:

"A sluggish liver which I had been troubled with for two years made life miserable and I was unable to attend to my business half the time. I lacked energy, had headache most of the time, and my food distressed me and did not seem to do me a particle of good.

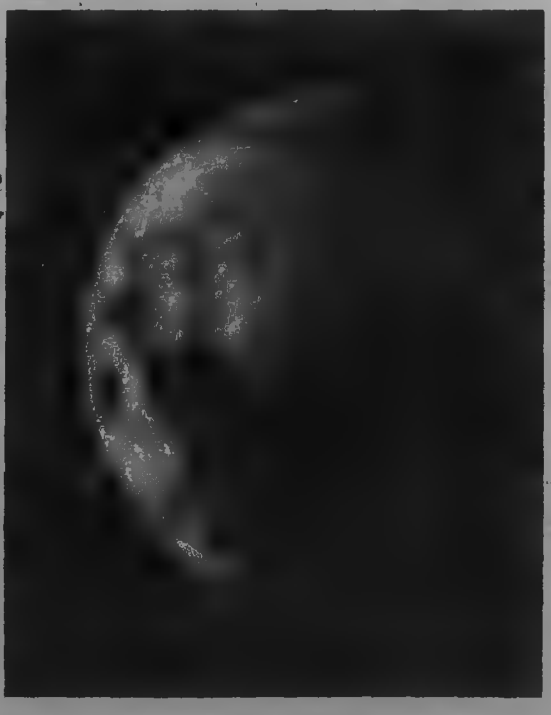
"Reading of the many cures performed by Peruna, I decided to try a bottle. Before I had taken many doses I felt better.

"I took it as directed for two months when I was a well man."

Celluloid Combs in Young Lady's Hair Became Ignited

A young lady who resides on Union street, had a narrow escape from serious injury last night, through her hair becoming on fire in a most peculiar manner. She was sitting beside the stove in which a brisk fire was burning, after the other members of the household had retired for the night, when the heat from the stove ignited the celluloid side combs which she wore in her hair. She was sitting with her head quite close to the fire, but did not notice that it was so hot until she found her hair ablaze. With the aid of two of the other occupants of the house the fire was smothered before the young lady was seriously injured. Her hair was badly burned but she was able to attend to her duties again today, although minus a considerable portion of her "crown of glory."

Interesting Information About the Lunar Orbit



MOON AT FIRST QUARTER, JUNE 29TH, 1906.

"Soon as the evening shades prevail,
The moon takes up the wondrous tale,
And nightly to the listening earth
Repeats the story of her birth."

The Review is indebted to Rev. Dr. Marsh of Springville, for the above photograph of the moon at first quarter, taken by himself on January 29th, 1906, with his own telescope, and also for the facts of the following article:—

The mean distance of the moon from the earth is about 240,000 miles which is, comparatively speaking, a very short span for the modern telescope to bridge. The moon, therefore, because of its proximity to the earth, can be studied very satisfactorily. Its physical features are accurately known and its various motions definitely defined. The origin of the moon is a matter of discussion. There are various theories entertained. Some regard it as a direct child of the sun, others that it was formed from nebulosity, whilst others are of the opinion that it was thrown off from the earth while the earth's body was in a plastic state. Whatever its origin may have been, there is no question as to the cause of the wonderful configuration on the lunar surface, which is very rough and mountainous. The telescope reveals individual cone mountains, and great mountain ranges, some of which rise abruptly 27,000 feet from the lunar plains.

At the meeting of the Royal Astronomical Society, Peterborough section, to be held Friday night of this week at the Y.M.C.A. Hall, the President, Rev. Dr. Marsh, will in his inaugural address deal with "The Telescope," and will illustrate by limelight how this instrument is constructed and how it is used. This lecture will be interesting and profitable, and will no doubt be a fair sample of the many lectures the members of the society will have the privilege of hearing. The meeting will begin precisely at eight o'clock, when the president will give the exact time to the fraction of a second, from stellar observation of that day, both of siderial time and mean time.

To this meeting the members of the society cordially invite their friends and those who desire joining, as this will be the last opportunity of becoming charter members.

The membership fee is $2 per annum, for which in return the members will receive during the year from six to eight books, containing current astronomical dates and information, and will naturally be in touch with the entire astronomical world. If you read the above and are interested, you are invited to the Y.M.C.A. lecture room on Friday evening at eight o'clock. Please be seated at 7.57, as the lecture begins precisely at eight o'clock.

CRICKET

MEETING ON FRIDAY NIGHT.

A meeting of the Cricket Club is called for Friday evening at eight o'clock at the Y.M.C.A. As many members as possibly turn out are asked to do so, as business of importance will be transacted. Mr. H. Clarke is in Toronto to-day buying the outfit for the club.

Good Turnout At First Drill

With an unusually large turnout of officers, non-coms and men the drill season of the 57th Regiment was opened last night. The corps got off to a good start and the showing was one of the best in the history of the regiment for an opening night and a gratifying feature was that nearly all of last year's men were in uniform. A number of recruits are needed, however, and several were sworn in and their measure for uniforms taken last night. The new men are of an exceptionally fine class and, with a few drills will add greatly to the regimental strength and appearance.

Col. Miller was in command last night and a short time was devoted to squad drill in the armory. The majority of the evening, however, was spent in organization work and making arrangements for filling up the ranks where there are vacancies.

Douro Man Was Thrown From Rig

While driving to Lakefield this morning a team belonging to Mr. Maurice Condon of Douro, ran away, and as a result Mr. Condon's right shoulder was fractured and his face badly cut.

It appears that when about four miles from Lakefield, the horses started off at a pretty fast pace, and when they came to a turn in the road, Mr. Condon was unable to guide them. They went straight on into a fence, throwing Mr Condon violently to the ground, and causing severe injuries to the driver. The rig was also considerably damaged.

Mr. Clarlton of Lakefield, happened to come along shortly after and drove Mr. Condon home, where his painful injuries were attended to. He is now doing as well as could be expected.

LEARN DRESSMAKING IN TWO WEEKS

We teach you everything from the plainest shirt waist to the most elaborate toilette that can be found in the fashion books. We show you how to put together not only the lining but all the outer goods in coats, skirts, wrappers, waists, sleeves, collars, etc. Why spend months at a dressmaking shop where you do nothing but hem, overcast, sew on hooks and eyes, and then after you have served months there What do you know about cutting? Absolutely nothing, for you will know no more how to cut out a dress at the end of a year than you did just the day you went there. So why spend your time there when we can teach you in two weeks. You can come and try for a week and see for yourself what its like as there is nothing to be paid in advance you certainly would not loose anything by trying. We have taught over 2,000 this way within the past 6 years in Western Ontario and all recomend it very highly.

Charge for full course is only $10 to be paid when course is completed if satisfied including one of most perfect fitting systems in use which we give free We guarantee that the waists made by this chart will not draw nor pull out of skirt when raising arm

Have Closed Most Successful Season

Rev. Father McColl Lectured Before St. Martins T.A.S.

On Easter Monday evening, St. Martin's T.A.S. gave their closing entertainment for the season, and like all others of a similar nature, proved to be a grand success. During the past winter the T. A. S. supplied the public with excellent concerts, debates, lectures, plays and music, instrumental and vocal, constituting the chief portions of the programme. These concerts are always conducted in a highly creditable manner, and are doing much to elevate the moral, social and intellectual status of the people, who fully appreciate the honest efforts of the T.A.S. to furnish healthy and pleasing pastime for the general public.

Father McColl, for years pastor of St. Martin's and consequently a great friend of St. Martin's church and parish, was listened to with rapt attention as he narrated the wrongs inflicted upon the church by the perfidious and infidel Government of France. He traced the history of the troubles in France from the days of Louis XIII. up to the present time, and showed conclusively from historical facts that the Government, and not the Church in France, had violated agreements which both sides pledged themselves to observe: that the church looked for nothing more than freedom, that her property and rights be respected and protected. The conditions imposed by the French Government were such as the Church could not accept without renouncing her divine mission. Hatred of Christianity, and a desire for absolute power, actuated the Government in her war of spoliation and persecution. The reverend gentleman concluded a very able address by expressing his confidence that a country which had done so much for the cause of Christianity in days gone by would yet rise superior to the infamous laws by which France was government today.

At the close of the address, the pastor Rev. M F. Fitzpatrick, moved a very hearty vote of thanks to Father McColl for his very able and instructive address. In seconding the motion Mr. Telford gave expression to the very great satisfaction he felt at being present to hear once more his old friend McColl, and to learn the truth concerning a question of such vital importance, not alone to Catholics, but to everyone professing the name of Christian. Rev. Father Bretherton, P. P., as chairman of the evening, put the motion to the audience, which was carried amid loud applause.

In addition to the lecture, the following programme was run off,—

Debate—Resolved that the reign of Queen Elizabeth, was a brighter period in English history than that of Queen Victoria.

Affirmative, Michael Perdue and Frank Moloney.

Negative, John Gallice and Cyrinius Flaherty.

Only two of the above named debated, as the leader of the affirmative was absent owing to illness. The speeches by John Gallice and Frank Moloney were very [illegible] preciated, and showed a careful study of these two important periods in British history. With a little practice, both will make excellent debaters, as they are bright, intelligent, industrious, young men.

The musical portion of the programme, interspersed at varied intervals was as follows,—

Overture—Orchestra.

Song—Misses Kennedy and Crough.

Banjo Solo—J. K. Galvin.

Song, "Loch Lomond"—Miss C E. Carew.

Duet, "Annie Laurie" — Miss E. Flood and W. Bell.

Recitation, "The Ferry of Galloway,"—Miss Scollard.

Duet—Misses Galvin and Gamson.

Song, "Fall in the Fire Light" — Miss E. Flood.

Song, "Irish Molley,"—Mr. Telford.

A very enjoyable and profitable evening was brought to a close by the singing of the National Anthem.

Changes Made at the Sanitarium

The New Superintendent Takes Charge at Gravenhurst

The National Sanitarium for Consumptives at Gravenhurst is in pro- [illegible] Toronto Star.

One report is to the effect that a couple of months ago Mr. A. M. Tyrrell, the steward, was notified that his position was to be combined with that of matron, and two weeks ago he was notified that the new matron-steward had been appointed, upon which he stepped out. The report goes on to say that the nurses, not approving of the new arrangement, then struck in a body, and that the superintendent, Dr. Elliott, who has occupied the position almost since the Sanitarium's inception, also forwarded his resignation, with the proviso, however, that it need not take effect at once. The management, however, at once sent up Dr. Dobie, from Weston, to relieve Dr. Elliott of his duties, and took immediate steps to fill the places of the striking nurses.

Mr. Williams, the bookkeeper and secretary, who at the time was on a trip to England, immediately on his return sent in his resignation and steps out to-day. This morning the secretary, Mr. J. S. Robertson, went up, having with him Dr. W. B. Kendall, who is to take his place.

Inquiry of one of the directors as to the condition of affairs elicited the counter-statement that, instead of a strike, the changes had been entirely instituted by the management, who had asked for the resignations of different officials, including the nurses.

"We have contemplated the change for some time, as things have not been altogether satisfactory," said he. "As for the strike of nurses, the idea is absurd. There are only three of them anyhow, and there is not the slightest trouble in filling their places. Dr. Dobie was merely in charge temporarily, until Dr. Kendall, the permanent superintendent, arrived on the scene."

The Liquor License Act Now Comes Up for Consideration

Amendment to Afford Further Protection to Minors.

Government Will Investigate Title of Canada Co. to Mineral Rights on Land—Defence of Provincial Rights—Ministers to Receive Increase in Salary—Succession Duties and Other Bills Read Third Time.

Toronto, April 4.—The belligerent attitude which the Government has assumed towards any interference by Dominion legislation with Provincial Rights was further demonstrated at the Legislature yesterday in the ready approval Hon. Mr. Hanna extended to the bill of Mr. P. H. Bowyer (East Kent) to amend the Liquor License Act.

Mr. Bowyer's bill prohibits, under penalty, the supplying of intoxicating liquor to any one under 21 years of age except by parent, guardian or physician.

Its other clause seeks to put a stop to clubs going to Ottawa for incorporation to escape jurisdiction of provincial license regulations.

"They go to Ottawa to escape the Railway Act, they go to Ottawa to get Sunday cars, now they go to get clubs' licenses and if they keep on they'll go to Ottawa on the ditches and watercourses or municipal acts," declared Mr. Bowyer, and the House applauded.

Hon. Mr. Hanna concurred. It was proposed to insert Mr. Bowyer's amendments in the general act. "Within three miles of this House," observed the Provincial Secretary, "a hunt club secured incorporation at Ottawa as an organization of national importance in order that it might have the privilege of dispensing liquor."

Clubs Obtain Charters.

Hon. Mr. Graham, the Liberal leader, also endorsed the principles of Mr. Bowyer's bill. It was a step in the right direction, he said.

Charters or acts of incorporation for clubs in the province contain a prohibitory clause against the sale of liquors. At least one club—a hunt club of Toronto—has gone to Ottawa for a charter. Charters granted at Ottawa contain no prohibitory clause. Under the Ontario License Act license commissioners shall grant licenses to clubs whose charters do not expressly forbid the sale of liquor. Mr. Bowyer's bill makes it necessary for the license board before granting such a license to obtain the consent of the Provincial Secretary in writing, or really makes idle and of no avail for the purpose of license-getting, a Dominion charter.

Mr. Bowyer withdrew his bill on Hon. Mr. Hanna's assurance that the object would be dealt with in the Government amendments to the License Act to be brought down at a later date.

Sales of Land Bill.

Mr. McCoig (West Kent) moved the second reading of his bill respecting sales of land by the Canada Co. Mr. Matthew Wilson, K. C., was present at the Legislature in the interests of the Canada Co.

Mr. Auld (South Essex) spoke vigorously in support of the measure. He declared the Canada Co. had "bled the people almost white." Although there was nothing in their charter entitling them to do so, as soon as oil was discovered they reserved the mineral rights and sought to bleed the people further.

Hon. Mr. Foy said the measure, in his opinion, should have been presented as a private bill. In its present form the Legislature had no power to deal with the matter. The Attorney-General stated that the Government had been giving the grievance—which they believed to be a real grievance—considerable attention and he suggested to Mr. McCoig the withdrawal of the bill, which was impossible in its present form. Hon. Mr. Foy declared that the Government were prepared to engage good legal talent to investigate the whole matter, go to England if necessary and trace up the history of the original charter. The Minister said the Government was willing and prepared to bear the full expense of the investigation and any litigation that the property holders agree upon. He urged that they agree upon a test case.

Farmers Will Help.

Mr. McCoig said his constituents would be very grateful to the Government for the course taken. He hoped action would be taken at as early a date as possible. Immediate action would meet the hearty approval of the people, many of whom were men in humble circumstances. The farmers would give the Government every assistance in fighting the matter. Mr. McCoig adopted the Attorney-General's suggestion and withdrew his bill.

Hon. Mr. Foy said he would be glad to receive any information or even suspicions that members had that would assist him in the conduct of the case.

Mr. McNaught's bill to amend the act respecting investments by trustees got its second reading.

Bills Finally Passed.

The following bills were read a third time and finally passed.

To amend and consolidate the law relating to the payment of succession duties—Hon. Mr. Matheson.

To amend the Ontario Insurance Act—Mr. Hoyle.

Respecting Burlington Beach—Hon. Mr. Hendrie.

With the approval of the whole House, Hon. Mr. Hendrie's Provincial Rights bill respecting certain railways and other corporations, passed its committee stage.

Hon. Mr. Graham took occasion to endorse the measure on behalf of the Liberal side of the House. It was taking the position always maintained by Liberals, he said.

Hon. Mr. Whitney—"It is in direct opposition to the Liberal leaders at Ottawa."

Hon. Mr. Graham—"I can't help that."

Senate Interference.

Hon. Mr. Whitney declared it passed his comprehension to note the Senate at Ottawa endeavoring to interfere with provincial rights. "It remains to be seen," he declared, "whether the jurisdiction of the province is to be brazenly swept aside."

And both sides of the House applauded.

Mr. Preston (Brant) asked what position the Government would take if the present legislation was disallowed at Ottawa. Would Ontario make a direct appeal to the Imperial authorities?

Hon. Mr. Whitney thought it would be unwise for Ontario to show its hand to its antagonists. The future would depend on the position taken by them. He might say, however, that if the legislation were disallowed the first step taken would probably be to re-enact it.

Increase Minister's Salaries.

The Prime Minister introduced a bill to increase the salaries of the Cabinet Ministers by $2,000 each.

"The Government takes the full responsibility for this bill," declared Mr. Whitney. "We have not consulted the Opposition in the matter because we did not deem it proper. Without casting aspirations on how such matters have been dealt with elsewhere, I may say that it naturally breathes suspicion when both sides get together and whisper over it. I have simply secured the permission of the Lieutenant-Governor to introduce the bill."

Mr. Whitney said a salary to the leader of the Opposition was discussed but it was felt if that matter was dealt with it should be dealt with by itself. It would not be proper to join them.

Mr. Graham concurred. For himself he could not accept a salary even if it was offered, but he agreed with the increases to the Ministers. If they were not worth the new salaries they were not worth anything.

SHOT HIS TWO CHILDREN.

Father Turns Revolver On Little Ones—Then Attempts Suicide.

Montreal, April 4.—William Simpson, residing at St. Charles, near Hudson Heights, murdered his two children, one aged two years and the other two months. The little ones were shot with a revolver, which he afterwards turned upon himself. While badly wounded, the man, who is only 23, is still alive. He was brought into the city by train, and is now lying in the General Hospital. He had been married three years, and, according to friends, the family was a happy one. No cause is assigned to the crime.

THE SPREADING RAIL AGAIN.

It Sent a C. N. R. Train Into Ditch At Rosthern.

Rosthern, Sask., April 4.—The Canadian Northern passenger train going north was derailed here at 5.50 yesterday morning. Only one car remained on the rails and the mail car is overturned in the ditch. Mail Clerk George Hawkins received injuries to his back and is badly shaken up, but not seriously injured. Several passengers were shaken up, but none hurt badly. Engineer McLeod and Fireman Walpole stuck to their posts and neither was hurt. A spreading rail was the cause of the accident.

Dickens' Interest in Inns.

"Pickwick" is the very Odyssey of inns and travel, for the youthful Dickens had traversed England as a reporter, and in "Pickwick" alone no fewer than fifty-five inns, taverns, etc., in London and the provinces are mentioned and often described at length.—London Chronicle.

PORT CREDIT INQUEST.

No Fresh Light As to How Elliott Came By Death.

Port Credit, April 4.—The mystery surrounding the death of Edward Elliott on the Grand Trunk between Port Credit and Clarkson early Good Friday morning is no nearer a solution, and despite the fact that at the reopening of the enquiry yesterday nine witnesses were closely examined by County Crown Attorney W. H. McFadden, nothing of a tangible nature was adduced to show how the unfortunate sectionman met his end.

At this stage of the investigation four theories present themselves, any one of which prove the solution of the mystery. The first and most probable theory is that Elliott was done to death by some person or persons unknown. The second is that he fell from a westbound train. The other two are that he was killed by the way freight, the brakeman of which saw him signaling to the train, or by another train, which immediately preceded it, bound in the same direction.

The evidence of Dr. Sutton, who performed the autopsy, will not be heard until next Wednesday, owing to his indisposition. It was also understood that Harry Gallagher, the man with whom Elliott left the section camp at Clarkson to go into Toronto, was to be brought from Hamilton to give testimony, which, is was expected, would materially assist in explaining how Elliott was killed.

SHAKEN BY EARTHQUAKE.

Panic Stricken People Fly From Villa Franca In Azores.

Ponta Delgada, Island of St. Michaels, Azore Islands, April 4.—Violent earth shocks prevailed throughout this island during last night. The worst disturbance occurred at Villa Franca, where the panic-stricken people fled to the outskirts of the town. The wealthier inhabitants are leaving Villa Franca, the ancient capital of St. Michaels, which was twice previously destroyed by volcanic eruptions, being practically swallowed up by an eruption of mud in 1522.

St. Michaels, or San Miguel, is the northern island of the eastern group of the Azores, and Ponta Delgada is the principal city of St. Michaels, and commercial capital of the Azore Islands. It is well built, is situated on a plain extending about two miles along the shore, and in 1890 contained, including the suburbs, about 17,000 inhabitants.

The Town of Villa Franca is of considerable importance. Three and a half miles north is a crater named Lagoa De Fogo, with fifteen fathoms of water in it. Villa Franca is situated fourteen miles east of Ponta Delgada, and in 1900 had a population of about 7,500.

MURDER CHARGE LAID.

Three Prisoners Held For Causing Death of Toronto Woman.

Toronto, April 4.—A charge of murder was sworn out by Acting Detective Murray yesterday morning against Jennie Long, Joseph Clegg, and Robert Kenmore, who are alleged to be responsible for the death of Fanny Catone, who died in the jail hospital. The Crown have evidence to show that a fight occurred in the house of Joseph Clegg, and the Catone woman was thrown out of the house. When the police found her she had several serious wounds. Her condition was not considered serious, but she rapidly grew worse and death resulted.

Yesterday the Crown took action and the three prisoners were taken into custody charged with aggravated assault.

Magistrate Denison refused bail pending result of coroner's inquest.

Alimony Only for Cruelty.

Hamilton, April 4.—Judge Monck ruled that a wife has no right to leave her husband and demand alimony unless he beats her repeatedly.

James J. Morden of Bullock's Corners, who was ordered by a magistrate to pay his wife $3 a week alimony, appealed against the ruling. Morden claimed his wife's favorite term of endearment for him was "Drunken brute," and that she said she hoped his soul would shrivel in hades.

Evidence was produced to show that, after repeated bickerings, Mrs. Morden purposed to attend church with her husband and sit in the front pew. Then, she alleges, he beat her.

The judge allowed the appeal of the husband.

1,600 Coal Miners Strike.

Amherst, N. S., April 4.—All the men employed at Springhill mines went out on strike yesterday morning. A short time ago notices were posted around the works by the P. W. A. asking that all non-union men must join the union before April 1 or the union men would refuse to work with them. A number did comply with the demand, and a meeting of both Pioneer and Mechanics Lodges was held, and yesterday morning no one went to work. About 1,600 in all are out.

The only men working are the firemen, who were allowed to remain to keep up steam. It is thought that the matter will be satisfactorily adjusted in a day or two. There is no issue at all between the men and the management.

Model Teachers Left Out.

Toronto, April 4.—Hon. Dr. Pyne told a deputation yesterday that the model school teachers displaced by the new arrangements would be promoted to normal school positions where possible. A pension scheme might be considered in the future.

The deputation which spoke for the training section of the Educational Association, was introduced by Vice-Principal Dearness, London. It was pointed out that many teachers would be left idle by the abolition of the model schools. Those with ten years' experience and holding arts certificates, and those under ten who were bachelors of pedagogy, it was suggested, should receive inspectors' certificates. Those over 55 should receive a money compensation.

The Ministerial Association of London tendered Rev. W. J. Clark a luncheon. He is returning to Montreal.

FIRE IN M'ADOO TUNNEL

Several Hundred Underground Workers in Great Danger.

Dangerous Blaze In New York Causes Severe Injuries to Five Men—Damage to Extent of $50,000—Engine Houses In Great Excavation Burnt—Air Supply Was Cut Off—Volunteers Manned Hoists.

New York, April 4.—Fire caused by a spark from one of the boiler rooms in the excavation for the McAdoo Tunnel terminal at Dey, Fulton and Church streets yesterday, did damage estimated at $50,000, and a delay of 30 days in the completion of the work on the huge terminal buildings will result. Five men were injured during the fire by being caught in one of the deep caissons, two of them so severely that it was necessary to take them to a hospital. The fire started on a high wooden structure, midway between Dey and Cortland streets, used to support a hoisting engine. By the time the fire apparatus arrived the shower of sparks and embers from the burning boiler house had set fire to a dozen other boiler houses and similar structures in the excavation. These, together with several big derricks, were badly burned, and the temporary wooden flooring over the surface of Dey street covering the excavation was ruined.

Many Thrilling Rescues.

There were many thrilling rescues and several instances of personal bravery during the progress of the fire. Deep down under the ground in the 100 and more caissons which are being sunk for the foundations of the big terminal buildings to rest upon, were between 500 and 600 men at work. When it was seen that there was danger of the fire spreading to all of the engine houses south of Dey street, shutting off the supply of air, the pressure of which enabled the men to work under ground, and the withdrawal of which would mean serious danger, if not death, to many of them, the danger signal was given, and the buckets lowered into the caissons to bring the tunnel workers to the surface. Around some of the derricks used to lower and hoist the buckets the flames raged fiercely, and in two instances the men in charge of the donkey engines lost their nerve and deserted their posts, leaving the men eighty feet beneath the surface of the ground to their fate. The deserted hoists were quickly remanned by volunteers, however, and the new men stuck to their posts with the flames roaring around them until the last one of the tunnel workers was brought up to safety.

DRUMMERS IN RUNAWAY.

Belleville Bus Horses Shook Up Score of Passengers.

Belleville, Ont., April 4.—The horses attached to Aseltine's bus ran away Tuesday night, with about 20 passengers aboard, most of them Toronto drummers. The passengers were badly shaken up, cut and bruised before they escaped from the rig. The horses became frightened when the bus ran over some piles of dirt left on the road by the corporation. The driver was quickly thrown off, and the passengers had many troubles in the dark bus before they escaped.

Baby Burned to Death.

Cobalt, April 4.—A shack took fire yesterday while five children were inside. The log building is in the French quarter on the Nipissing property, and the owner is a miner named Lavois, working in Cobalt Lake mine. The mother had gone to early service at the Catholic Church, and left the children, the eldest eight and the youngest not a year, alone in the house. Three of the children walked out, but the eldest had to be carried. The baby had been left in a high chair, and its body was not recovered until the fire had been put out, it then being almost burned to ashes. Neighbors fought the fire with pails of snow, but the house was down before water could be turned on.

Physician Shoots Himself.

Berlin, April 4.—Made melancholy and morbid by serious differences with his fellow physicians, Dr. Huetzler, head of the Gisela Children's Hospital at Munich, committed suicide Tuesday there by shooting himself with a revolver. News of the physician's death was a shock to the other heads of the institution, and as a result of the tragedy the Princess Gisela has resigned as protectoress.

Dr. Huetzler was a native of New York, His mother, Sarah, who died some years ago, was well known in German circles as an authoress. She was twice married, her second husband being Josef Kainz, the actor.

Stricken With Paralysis.

Montreal, April 4.—Dr. William Henry Drummond, one of Canada's best known literary men, author of the "Habitant" and other volumes of verse, was stricken Tuesday with paralysis at Cobalt, where he had gone in charge of work on the Drummond mine, owned by his brother and himself. The best medical aid obtainable has been hurried to Cobalt from this city. The condition of the stricken man is said to be serious.

Year In Central.

Toronto, April 4.—Joseph Gurofsky, manager of the Chestnut street branch of the Bank of Toronto, charged with feloniously wounding Dominico Trevanni in a fracas in the "ward" on Thanksgiving Day last, was sentenced to one year's imprisonment by Judge Winchester.

The verdict was a great shock to the relatives and friends of the prisoner in the court.

Five Died In Flames.

Passaic, N. J., April 4.—A mother and four of her children perished in a tenement house fire here yesterday. The victims were Mrs. Philomena Setupo, 26 years old; Mary, aged 7; Libriabe, aged 5; Antonia, 3; and Joseph, aged 7 months.

The great trouble with these new two-act dramas is that most men are used to getting at least three drinks during a play.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier Nails The Lid on the Scandals

Premier Heads Off Debate on "Women, Wine and Graft."

Sir Wilfrid Laurier Gags Bourassa For This Session—Speaker Rules Motion Out of Order—Borden Protests in Vain, Seeks to Make Fowler Prove Charges—Appeal to House Voted Down.

Ottawa, April 4.—Henri Bourassa in the House yesterday made his second attempt to have an investigation of the Fowler charges. He presented a motion quoting the charges describing them as reflecting on members of the House, and calling upon Mr. Fowler to prove, retract or stand censure of the House.

The Speaker at once ruled the motion out of order, on the ground of its similarity to the previous motion of the Labelle member.

Mr. Bourassa, speaking to the point of order, argued that his previous motion had been made upon a question of privilege, or had not been dealt with as a question of privilege. "The House has not decided whether the member for King's should define his charges or not.

R. L. Borden Criticizes.

R. L. Borden criticized the Bourassa motion as peculiar. He knew of no English precedent for censuring a member in advance. At the same time he urged that the motion should not be set aside on any technicality, and a fair discussion prevented.

The Speaker ruled that the question of privilege had already been dealt with, and that the motion covered ground already traversed.

The Labelle member suggested that the Government ought to have something to say. He asked that the House give leave for a discussion as a matter of great public importance.

The Government still remained silent.

Backed Up Bourassa.

Hon. George Foster thereupon rose and, discussing the point of order, backed up Mr. Bourassa and Mr. Borden. He urged the abandonment of the strictly technical view and a discussion of the broad question.

The Speaker again ruled, at which Mr. Foster took the ground that the present Bourassa motion differed from the one already passed upon.

The next speaker was George W. Fowler, who declared that Bourassa had treated him with scant courtesy in not supplying him with a copy of the resolution.

"No Power to Censure Me."

"This House has not power to censure me."

"That, of course," said the Speaker, "is another question."

Dr. Sproule took the question up. He asked for a discussion. The Labelle member saw the end when Sir Wilfrid got up, and "to maintain the traditions of the House and of Parliamentary Government," upheld the ruling.

The Premier's Duty.

The Premier said that he always regarded it as his duty as leader of the House to support the chair unless the ruling was grossly wrong. The rules of the House were the result of long experience in the wisest of Parliaments. The House could not err in following the rule that a member could not be impugned without cause being shown and a formal charge made. There was no reason for a general inquisition. If any member had disgraced himself, it was open to Mr. Bourassa to bring a charge.

This argument of speech, Mr. Bourassa protested, had nothing to do with his present motion, which did not ask for an investigation.

The Premier answered that it led to one.

"It leads, retorted Bourassa, "to the member for King's proving his charges or withdrawing them."

The Speaker gave his final ruling against Bourassa, and the latter at once, despite a mild suggestion by the Premier that he couldn't, appealed to the House.

House Sustains Chair.

The House sustained the ruling on a division of 104 to 37, all the Opposition voting with Bourassa and Lavergne except Messrs. Hughes, Lancaster, Broder, Wright (Muskoka), Crockett and Morin. The essence of this point of order, to which George Fowler had attached weight, was that words "not taken down" when uttered should not be subsequently referred to.

This rule was immediately heard of again.

R. L. Borden got up with the Hansard of the Emmerson speech of yesterday. He quoted the Emmerson statement that the public press has sent detectives after him and other Ministers, and that without resorting to bought evidence, there was evidence already existing against members of the other side of the House.

Aspersion on Members.

"This," said Mr. Borden, "casts an aspersion upon 70 or 75 members of this side of the House. The hon. member for Westmoreland has said too much or too little. It is his duty to say more or to withdraw what he has said."

If Mr. Emmerson had any charge affecting the honor or status as a public man of any Conservative, Mr. Borden would give him every assistance toward an investigation. If there was any such charge, it had not come to his (Mr. Borden's) ears. If Mr. Emmerson knew anything of what he had insinuated, Mr. Borden hoped he would go further with it.

This, the Premier said, showed the propriety of the previous ruling, that words passed over without being officially taken down ought not to be referred to.

Bring Editors to Bar.

The Opposition leader did not agree. He quoted a newspaper statement as to threats and counter-threats and agreements between members, declared the statement to be untrue, and said that he was ready to go to the utmost limits of the rules in order to have the insinuations dealt with.

Col. Hughes proposed bringing editors to the bar of the House.

The Premier reaffirmed his admiration for the rule already mentioned, whereat Mr. Borden said that this rule was drawn up in ante-Hansard days, and should not now be regarded with too much importance.

The subject dropped for the time, and the House went into consideration of the new Alberta and Saskatchewan schedule.

THAW'S TESTS NOW OVER.

Insanity Board Very Cordial—Expected Trial Will Be Resumed.

New York, April 4.—To-day brings another critical stage in the case of Harry K. Thaw, when he either will be officially proclaimed insane and ordered to a state asylum, or else his trial will be resumed before Justice Fitzgerald.

The commission completed its work last night and will be ready to report to Justice Fitzgerald this morning.

Thaw underwent a private mental and physical examination for more than two hours yesterday afternoon. In this last crucial test he was entirely alone before the commission, even the district attorney and the members of his own counsel being barred.

When the three members of the commission—David McClure, Peter B. Olney and Dr. Leopold Putzel—had completed their final examination, they in turn cordially shook hands with Thaw. He went back to his cell in the Tombs with a light heart and later told his counsel that he felt the commission would surely declare him sane.

The attorneys shared their client's optimistic view of the situation. Jerome would not commit himself in any way.

Thaw's counsel declared they were ready to proceed with the case and said Mr. Delmas might begin his summing up before noon to-day.

In that event, they said, Mr. Jerome would address the jury on Friday and a verdict might be expected before the week end.

Dr. Putzel conducted the brief physical examination to which Thaw was subjected. He was given all of the standard tests of the reflexes, the pupils of the eyes, the Romberg test for evidences of locomotor ataxia, etc. Thaw is said to have undergone all of these tests in a thoroughly satisfactory manner.

In reply to the $30,000,000 suit brought against it by the receiver for the Pennsylvania Sugar Refining Company, the American Sugar Refining Company has filed an answer in the United States Circuit Court answering every charge with a general denial.

Will Celebrate Feast of Passover

Local Jews Commence Eight Days of Feasting and Fasting

Commencing tomorrow night the Jews throughout the world will celebrate the Passover, and the Peterborough colony, while not being governed by any special Rabbi, will celebrate the feast in their respective homes. The Jews commenced operations in Peterborough several years ago, and during their residence have proven themselves good citizens and have displayed their usual business ability.

During the Feast of the Passover, a Jew is not allowed to eat leavened bread, but apart from that may eat all kinds of meats and drink all wines or liquors made from the juice of the grape.

The unleavened bread as used by the Jews comes in the form of large wafers, and as same is not made in Canada, the Rabbis in Toronto, supply all that is required. The main centre for manufacturing this special bread is in New York and enormous quantities are shipped to Canada every year at this time.

All the dishes that are used on the table during the Passover, must be held sacred to that purpose. For should they by any chance become defiled by being used at any other season, a new complement of dishes must be obtained for their annual feast.

When sundown of the seventh day comes and the Passover festival is ended the Jews return to their usual mode of life, with feasting much like that with which Christians break the Lenten feast.

Thus, while Christians all over the world are celebrating the resurrection of Christ and the deliverance of the world from sin, orthodox Jews in all countries are commemorating the "bloodless revolution," which was led by Moses about 3,200 years ago, which freed the Jewish race from Egyptian bondage, and which is pointed to by the Jews today, as a sign that the Hebrews are God's chosen people.

Stanford White Owed $600,000

The Widow Gives Up Her Estate to Liquidate the Debts of Thaw's Victim

A New York despatch says:—It became known Saturday that Stanford White, at the time he was slain by Harry Thaw, had overdrawn his account with McKim, Meade & White, his firm, by $600,000.

His estate is so involved that the proceeds of the sale of his art treasures will go to pay his partners a portion of his indebtedness, and his widow has given instructions that the insurance on her husband's life be applied to the same account.

It also was learned that the murdered architect had sustained losses of $300,000 in Wall street a short time before his death. He appealed to friends, who agreed to take up his broker's account and carry it on condition that he promise never to go into Wall street speculations again. Mr White consented to this, and his losses were taken over by a syndicate, which subsequently recovered by a rising market almost all that had been sunk.

INSURANCE NOT KNOWN.

The amount of insurance White carried on his life has not been made public. All of his money, however, rightfully belongs to the widow, and she could claim it without fear of civil action by creditors. She prefers, however, it is said, to give up every cent, and as far as possible wipe out her husband's debts.

In giving up all claims to the proceeds of the sale and the life insurance, Mrs. White would be left penniless were it not that her relatives had provided for her generously.

Mrs. White is now living in Cambridge, where her son is a student at Harvard College. During the sensational trial of her husband's slayer Mrs White has lived in seclusion at her home. Apparently the notoriety of it all is shunned by her, and it is said she will never make New York her home again.

The sale of Standford White's rare treasures will begin in his late home, 121 East Twenty-first street, on April 4. This handsome home is filled with rare works of art gathered from every country in the world. The sale is expected to do a good deal towards wiping out White's debt to his business partners.

Efforts are being made by friends of Standford White and his widow to keep secret Mrs. White's determination to give up her estate to pay her husband's debts.

ON HIS WAY UP

The Bowmanville Statesman says this tribute to a former Belleville boy:—"Bowmanville boys' merits are universally recognized. Mr. W. H. Rossigh lived here long enough to form good business habits and progressive ideas. To-day we find him director of one of the best musical organizations in Canada, president of a baseball team, and a successful Lindsay merchant. In the near future he will be mayor of that ambitious town at the rate he is soaring upward to fame and popularity."

The Milk Supply Is Very Short

Cheese Factories Will Not Open Till Last of the Month

The outlook for an early production of cheese in this district is very poor. The Cheese Board has practically decided to have its first meeting on the 15th of May, but it is not known whether there will be cheese to sell in a sufficient quantity to warrant the meeting. The factories will not open until about the end of this month, and even then the supply of milk will be very short.

One gentleman remarked this morning that he never saw milk so scarce in the country. Everybody's cows are going dry and none are coming in. When asked the cause for this he said the farmers were negligent last spring. Had they looked after their cows properly they would have been coming in now, the supply of milk would be large and the factories could start earlier and get the advantage of the demand for early cheese.

The gentleman referred to above is a large cheese buyer in this section, and he knows the condition of affairs existing in the county. He is almost disgusted with the farmers. They do not appear to think of anything but how to get something for nothing, and to watch that the city fellows do not beat them. The cheese man pointed out that if the average farmer were to do a little planning, if he was honest with himself and looked after his business, he would soon find that there was far more money in doing things promptly, looking after his cattle in season, in making cleanliness the watchword in every department, paying good wages to farm help and treating them like men and not machines, than there was in watching the city fellows. The average city fellow can look after himself pretty well, and the farmer only looses his own time and wastes his own money watching him.

"There is no reason," said the cheese man, as he started for the station to go to Montreal, "why every farmer who owns a hundred acres of land, should not be able to take life as easy, or even more so, than any man in the city. If the farmer really and honestly applied business principles to his farm he would not need to do any heavy work himself, while his bank account would be increased a thousand dollars a year."

Electric Company Will Cut Rates

In Toronto When the New Stock is Issued

The Toronto World says;

If the Ontario Government will allow the new issue of Toronto Electric Light Co. stock, a reduction in rates to users of the power is promised by the company.

Director Frederic Nicholls, when asked about the report that a movement to cut prices was under way, pointed out that in the company's annual statement in January last, it was set forth that as soon as the new machinery and extensions desired were completed, the company would be able to furnish electric power at a cheaper rate than at present, and that consumers would consequently be benefited. The issue of new stock was to provide the funds necessary.

Mr. Nicholls said that the extent to which the reduction might be carried into effect had not yet been determined.

"We are going to make considerable of a reduction," was the statement made to the World by Sir Henry M. Pellatt last night. He added that the exact extent would not be determined until it had been seen how far the addition of new machinery and the extensions which the new stock issue was intended to provide for, would allow a trimming down of rates. As to the suggestion that the meter charge for lighting might be done away with, Sir Henry said that this phase of the matter had not been given consideration, so far as he was aware.

W. R. Brock, another prominent director, when asked as to a prospective cut, said that reduction had been discussed from time to time, but that it would depend on whether the new extensions could be carried out.

Horses Ran All the Way Home

Joseph Walsh, of Cavan, Had to Follow His Team on Foot

An exciting runaway occurred last evening, and although no one was hurt, the owner of the spirited team had to run or walk home, which was no little distance.

Mr. Joe. Walsh of Cavan drove into the city yesterday, and went to the Central Mill for some grist. He tied his horses as he thought securely and went into the mill. He had got a load partly on the waggon. While he was in the mill, his team broke away and started off at a lively pace. Another gentleman with a team was also at the mill. When he drove off, Mr. Walsh's team also started. The runaway horses which were drawing a heavy waggon, kept up the mad gallop till they reached home. It was learned this morning that the animals went straight home, and that their driver had to foot it practically the whole distance. The farmer did not get all his grist, and will have to make another trip for it. A pair of horse blankets which were dropped were picked up by a boy and brought to the mill. There was no damage done.

CARD OF THANKS

Having disposed of my grocery business (Corner of George and Antrim streets) to Messrs. E. F. Mason & Co., I desire to thank my many customers and friends for the kind patronage so freely given during the last nineteen years. I regret that owing to impaired health, and some other considerations, I have arranged to sever my connections with a business that has had my unceasing care and attention, and that has grown with the growth of the city. I take this means of expressing my thankfulness, as it is impossible to call and do so in person. I also wish to say that the business has been acquired by and is in good hands and I am sure that every care and attention will be given in the future, as I have tried to give in the past. I bespeak for my successors, a trial and a continuation of the patronage so kindly favored to myself, and feel assured, that in larger hands, there will be substantial advantages to the customer.

Mark Graystock Has Passed Away

Died at His Home This Morning at the Age of 90 Years

Another pioneer resident of Otonabee has passed away and gone to his reward, in the person of Mark Graystock, of Otonabee. He was one of the oldest residents of the township, having lived there over half a century. He and the late James Hayes, who was buried today, were great friends. Mr. Hayes was 95 years of age and Mr. Graystock was 90.

The late Mr. Graystock was born in Yorkshire, Eng., in 1817. He moved to Canada about 65 years ago and settled in Otonabee. He worked for other men for a time, and then purchased the farm on which he had lived for the past 50 years or more and on which he died. His career on the farm in Peterborough County was an interesting one, although at times he had difficulties to overcome, the same as anyone else. He had prosperous years and he pulled through when the crops were a failure. But at all times he kept himself straight with the world and when the good times came he was always ready to take advantage of them.

The late Mr. Graystock was very well known in the city and in all parts of the township. He was highly respected and esteemed, and everyone liked to do business with him or to have just a social chat. He was a quiet living man. He never entered public life, and never was connected with fraternal associations. He was a staunch member of St Mark's Anglican church and was a regular attendant as long as his strength permitted. He enjoyed the best of health all his life, even to the last. He died, not from disease, but from old age. Since last summer he was unable to get around without help and his decline was gradual.

His wife predeceased him by nearly thirteen years. He is survived by ten children, eight daughters and two sons. They are all married except Charles and Miss Lizzie, who live at home.

The funeral will be held on Saturday afternoon at two o'clock, when Rev. E. A. Langfeldt will conduct the services. Interment will take place at St. Mark's cemetery, Otonabee.

Quaker Wheat Berries Will be Put on the Markets Very Soon

A New Cereal Manufactured by the Quaker Oats Co.—Gives Promise of Being Very Popular—Made From the Whole Wheat.

The Quaker Oats Company will have a new cereal on the market next week, known as Quaker Wheat Berries. For some time the company has been installing a plant for the manufacture of this food stuff, which gives promise of being very popular with the public. The plant is an expensive one. It had to be manufactured especially for the Quaker Wheat Berries, as there is not another plant in the world just like it. Work has been progressing very favorably and it will only be another week before the first shipment is made.

Quaker Wheat Berries is a patented preparation, owned by the Quaker Oats Co., and controlled by them entirely. It is prepared by a secret formula. The berries are the whole wheat with all the bran left on. They are thoroughly cooked, and are very appetizing, wholesome, attractive and easily digested. They will be done up in packages and sold very reasonably. The few people who have seen and tasted Quaker Wheat Berries, prophesy that they will be winners.

The Peterborough plant will manufacture for home consumption and also for export. The output will be a large one, as it is expected that there will in time be a demand for Quaker Wheat Berries in every wheat eating country in the world.

Clouds of Dust on City Streets Injurious to Public Health

Leading City Doctor Makes a Statement—Hundreds of People Suffering From the Nuisance—Watering Carts Should All be Out—Contracts Have Been Let

The people in all parts of the city are wondering why the other four watering carts are not on the streets. The business part of the city is not the only section where the dust is a nuisance, and even there the service is only half a one. There are five districts which pay a special tax for street watering. The contracts have been let and they were to begin the 2nd day of April. So far only one cart has been out and that is the one in the centre of the city.

A great many people, young and old, are suffering from what appears to be a cold in the head, and they cannot account for it. All they know is that the trouble is very distressing. This is due to nothing else than the dust from the roads, which saturates the air and which sweeps through the streets in clouds, covering everything and everybody, and filling everyone's head with the powdered winter's accumulation from the roads.

A well known and very able medical authority stated to the Review last night that the dust from the streets in the spring was particularly injurious to the health, and especially when it is accompanied by winds, as has been the case during the past few days. He stated further that there was nothing which would cause more trouble, than spring dust. That, combined with the wind irritates the membranes of the nose and allows the microbes to get in their work. The result is invariably most distressing cold in the head.

There is so far, no excuse offered why the watering carts are not performing their duties. The tenders have been opened, contracts have been let, and the people are being taxed for what they are not getting, and never needed it more than they do now.

It has been said that the water commissioners will not allow the stand pipes to be used if there is any danger of them freezing. At this time of the year there may be a little danger of frost, but if a little care was exercised this could be entirely overcome. Even at that is the health and comfort of fifteen thousand people of less importance than the standpipes? Are the people to suffer from dust and filth simply to save a few dollars for the waterworks commissioners, whose standpipes might freeze? Anyway, does the city not pay, and pay well, for the standpipes?

The citizens were delighted when they learned that the street watering contracts had been let and later that one cart had appeared in the central portion of the city. But unless the council gets the other carts out at once the good impression made will be turned to condemnation.

Peterboro' Hockey Player Arrives Home From Kenora

Fred Whitcroft is Back in Peterborough for the Summer—But Will be With the Thistles Next Season—No Truth in the Report That He Assaulted Johnson.

Wearing a red scar on his forehead and bearing several other souvenirs of the strenuousity of Western hockey, Fred Whitcroft arrived home from Kenora last night, after having spent over two months in the Lake of the Woods town, assisting the Thistles in the defence of the Stanley Cup.

"Never felt better," was "Whitty's" cheery greeting to a bunch of friends, and his looks bore testimony to the fact that he was not telling an untruth. Apparently the Western climate has agreed with him. The fact that he will return to Kenora next season to play with the Thistles is sufficient proof that Fred likes the West, and that the West likes Fred, including the brand of hockey he puts up. Fred is being warmly greeted by his many friends around town and needless to say they all want to know about his hockey experience in the West, and all about the Thistles' defence of the Stanley pewterware.

REPORT A FALSEHOOD.

Regarding the report that appeared in a Montreal newspaper to the fact that Whitcroft made an assault upon Johnson of the Wanderer team, after the last game at Winnipeg, Fred states that it is a deliberate falsehood. "Whitty" was a surprised man last night, when he was told of the report that had been circulated, and at once characterized it as untrue. "Johnson is no pink tea hockeyist," said Whitcroft today, "and he and I mixed it up somewhat during that second game. But anything that happened was when the game was in progress, and not after the match was over." About five minutes before the match was finished, Johnson wound up a series of attacks on the Peterborough man by charging him with his stick, and Whitcroft retaliated by handing the Montrealer a tap on the head. Johnson was not laid out, however, and was able to continue playing. After the game, Johnson came up to Whitcroft and wanted to fight, but was told that the Kenora player did not want to mix up with thugs. This was all there was to the affair. The people in Winnipeg and Kenora know nothing about it, and if there was an assault they would not be slow to holler about it.

HOW KENORA LOST.

Whitcroft says that the Wanderers are a great team, but that if the Kenora players had been in good condition, they would have no difficulty in beating them. Tom Phillips has never struck his gait since he played in Montreal, the first of the season, and several other of the Thistle men, had not trained as they should have done for the Cup contests in Winnipeg. The Thistles need fast ice in order to play their game, and the heavy going in the first match with the Wanderers took all the snap out of their play. In the second game, when the ice was hard they outplayed the Wanderers, and had much the better of the play than the score, 6—5, would indicate.

A new man without a reputation has to travel at a great pace to attract attention on a line with such men as Phillips, Alf. Smith and Westwick, all men of great reputation. The men with the reputation always get into the limelight. The fact that Whitcroft made such a favorable impression out West, under these conditions is ample proof he can travel as fast as the best of them, and that the Winnipeg papers were not far wrong, when they described "Whitty" as playing sensational hockey.

WESTERN HOCKEY.

"The Western teams play harder hockey than they do in the O. H. A.," said Fred today, "the ice is keener and the gait set is a terrific one. Bumps are handed out freely and are usually taken in good grace. Alf. Smith is a good one, but Westwick's hockey days are about over.

Since the Stanley Cup games, Fred has been at Kenora. The team was tendered a big reception on their return from Winnipeg, and the people of the town have every confidence that the Stanley Cup will be brought back from Montreal next winter. Whitcroft says that there is no truth in the report that Phillips will play at Ottawa next winter. He will remain in Kenora where he is closely identified with a big lumber company, and will play with Kenora again next season, as will also practically all the members of the mining town team. Whitcroft is signed for next year, and will return to Kenora again next fall. He is well pleased with the way he was treated in the West, and has nothing, but good words for the people there, especially the hockey enthusiasts. They are good sportsmen, and give hearty support to the great winter game.

The Kenora Club had an excellent season, financially. The receipts were over $9,000, and they had plenty of cash on hand to pay the players salaries, and to meet all the other expenses, and had considerable to spare.

Fred will remain in Peterborough for the summer and when the birds begin to fly south again next fall and hockey players commence to don the steel blades again, he will hit the trail for Kenora, to help the Thistles win the Western championship and to go after the Stanley Cup.

Many New Houses Are Being Built

Handsome New Structures in South End of City

One has only to take a walk to the south end of the city to get an idea of the large amount of building that is under way in Peterborough at the present time. New houses that were started last fall are being rushed to completion and the foundations are being laid for new dwellings. And it is particularly gratifying that the new houses are all of them handsome structures, nicely located, substantial and everything that could be desired from an aesthetic point of view.

The area south of Charlotte street and west of Park contains many fine new houses and several more are under way. There are nearly a dozen new houses under way in this locality. This part of the city is practically new and in a short time will be one of the prettiest residential sections of Peterborough.

Paid Honor to Queen Zephra

Large Audience at the Sixth Presentation Last Night

That the beautiful operatic spectacle, "Queen Zephra," is the most popular attraction that has been in this city given by local talent, was amply proven last evening, when a crowded house greeted the sixth production of this entrancing and picturesque pantomime, at the Grand Opera House. The 57th band and Mr Booth, that they might show their appreciation of the efforts of those who took part in the presentation of Queen Zephra, decided to repeat the attraction, the proceeds of which will go towards providing a reception and dance for the participants.

Many of those present last evening at Queen Zephra saw it on its former presentation here, but, judging from the hearty applause which greeted the different features of the performance, they enjoyed it as much as when they had first witnessed it.

The pretty story of Queen Zephra, full of many interesting dramatic climaxes, intermingled with sparkling music, consisting of vocal solos and choruses, the beautiful scenic effects and the many graceful dances and drills, combined to make the production one that kept the large audience in an interested and happy mood throughout the whole evening.

The caste last evening was the same as on its former presentation, with the exception of some of the drills, where some of the young ladies were unable to take part, and their places were taken by others. In the prologue the lullaby song was sung most acceptably by Miss Mona O'Shea.

Miss Nellie McCabe was again in the dignified and stately role of Queen Zephra, and played the part most acceptably. Misses Bertha Parnell as Neyera, the princess, and Florence Butcher, as Flora, a friend of Neyera's, played their parts exceedingly well. Miss Mona O'Shea was again seen in the role of the Fairy Queen.

The male characters, Mr. Walter Wesley as King Decius; Mr. Vernon Morphet, as Juna, the prince; Mr. George Lynch, as Sir Alexis, and Mr. Wm. McIlroy as Sir Solon, were up to their usual high mark of efficiency.

Miss Bertha Parnell's sweet soprano voice was never heard to better advantage than in her several vocal numbers last evening. Messrs. W. Wesley, W. McIlroy and V. Morphet's solos were much enjoyed last evening and were loudly applauded. The chorus work was excellent.

The drills and dances were all splendidly given. A new feature in this part of the programme was introduced. The hobo dance given by seven young men, created much laughter and amusement. The dance was given by Messrs. Charles and George Wesley, V. Morphet, T. Buller, L. Patterson, W. Conway and Chas Westbrooke. These gentlemen were dressed in the most ridiculous and old-fashioned costumes, and during the performance of many amusing antics they kept the audience in a continuous roar of laughter. The drill of the White Hussars deserves special mention. Their clever marching made a decided hit.

Miss Jessie Spence in her solo dance received great applause and was repeatedly encored.

The sparkling song, "Miss Commodore," was effectively sung by Miss Mona O'Shea. Miss Ruth Dawson, who took the part of Miss Commodore before, was unable to take part this time.

The beautiful fairyesque was brought to a close by the grand transformation act.

Queen Zephra will be repeated tonight, and no doubt it will be largely attended.

Birthday Party in the Barracks

There will be a birthday party in the Salvation Army barracks this evening. This is a novel feature and an interesting time may be looked forward to. It will be a social evening for all the members of the corps. Each one attending will bring the same number of cents in a little sack as he or she is years old. A good musical programme will be rendered. To-day is Adjutant Wiggins birthday.

AN ODE TO MR. DENNISTOUN

May I have time to sing my song,
About our friend Max Dennistoun,
Who has lived with us here so long;
In the town Peterborough.
We knew him since a little boy,
His character without alloy,
And now we wish him every joy,
When he leaves Peterborough.

There is not one in town, we know,
But what is loath to see him go,
If tears would stop him, they would flow,
In the town Peterborough.
At church, we always see him there,
At Sunday School, he does his share,
His purse is open everywhere,
In the town Peterborough.

I beg to mention in my song,
The wife of Mr. Dennistoun,
She is as nice as anyone,
In the town Peterborough.
And when we are in cheerful mood,
Shall we forget her qualities good,
We all know her since girlhood,
In the town Peterborough.

Englishmen Will Visit Old Homes

Party of About Twenty are Arranging to Cross the Pond This Summer

Arrangements are being made for a party of Englishmen to go to the Old Country this summer. A little meeting was held last night, when the whole scheme was talked over. It appears that about twenty are figuring on leaving Peterborough to visit their old home. These are all Englishmen who have been here for year or two. It was felt by those at the meeting that if all of them went in one party until England was reached they could get a much better rate than if they went separately and on different boats and at different times. Therefore, one of the men was appointed to secure the very best rates possible for a party of twenty or more. This morning that gentleman got busy with the ticket agents of the steamboat companies. Another meeting will be held shortly and arrangements for the outing will be completed at an early date.

Dr. Fortin, a former house surgeon of the Western Hospital, Montreal, is dead in the Canary Islands.

in lots, lands or lots and lands improved with houses, shops, factories or stables, all to be found on our lists—and watch the tiny acorn grow into the huge oak. We use the term "tiny" advisedly, for you can buy real property from us upon the payment of very little real cash, of course to be followed by regular weekly or monthly payments, themselves small. Want to know how to own a home for less than the rent your paying now? Ask us. A good brick house on Charlotte, East of Reid, can be had at a bargain, price $1850. We have numerous other fine selections in lots and houses all over the city.

WHERE THOUSANDS OF NEW SETTLERS ARE MAKING THEIR HOMES

The Growth and Development of Western Canada, the Granary of the British Empire—Its Expansion, Soil and Climate—The Most Wonderful Wheat Fields of the World—Scenes from the Busy Life on the Fertile Prairies—Some Incidents in Connection With the History of This Vast Inland Empire—Nothing Can Check its Marvellons Progress—What it Means to the Advancement and Future of the Fair Dominion.

Speaking in Winnipeg in the year 1877 the late Lord Dufferin, then Governor-General of Canada referred to Manitoba as the key-stone of that mighty arch of sister provinces which spans the continent from the Atlantic to the Pacific. It was bold, picturesque and eloquent language—it marked the thought of a great statesman, who, even at that early stage in the opening up of the West, could picture and predict other provinces yet to be created in that wonderful stretch of prairie land that lay for a thousand miles to the west of Manitoba, and that was some day to be the scene of ever-broadening harvests, multiplying towns and villages, and expanding pastures. Thirty years have now elapsed, and the prediction of the far-seeing statesman has been realized in that inland Empire, which, with Manitoba, now embraces the new and vigorous provinces of Saskatchewan and Alberta, and which is the centre of an industrial, commercial and agricultural development that can scarcely be credited by those who have not been actual witnesses of its wonderful achievements.

A Manitoba Pioneer

In those thirty years it has been demonstrated beyond a doubt that Western Canada, with its illimitable dimensions, its wealth of resources, and in the strength of its material might, is destined to be the peer of any power on earth. A land of stupendous possibilities; a rich alluvial region, whose only limit seems to be an ever-receding horizon—truly has it been said that the development of this Kingdom of the North represents the genius of the twentieth century, for here a nation is to be builded that will play a most important part in solving more than one of the economical problems that now confront the statesmen and the philosophers in the older portions of the world.

Canada is a country of great distances. Extending from the Atlantic to the Pacific, it is more than equal in size to the United States and, in fact, covers 3,614,000 square miles—one twelfth of the land surface of the earth. The Eastern Provinces of Canada are a land of woods and forests, of sea ports and harbors, lakes and valleys, corn lands and pastures, more extensive than half a dozen European kingdoms, practically all throbbing in some degree with the energy of strenuous commercial activity and rich in agriculture, timber and mineral resources.

City Hall and Union Bank Building, Winnipeg

The provinces which make up the agricultural region of Western Canada—Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta, and incidentally may be included, New Ontario—comprise practically 600,000 square miles and embrace within their combined limits the vast extent of the available agricultural region of the Great West.

It has been estimated that one-half of this area is well adapted to cultivation, and that nearly all the cultivable area will produce wheat. Explorations show that for a hundred miles or more at a time no bad soil is seen in any direction, and explorers confidently predict that wheat culture will yet extend to what even now is considered the remote north.

A very important consideration in this connection is undoubtedly the climate, and many wrong impressions regarding Western Canada frequently prevail on this point. It will interest and probably astonish many to be informed that Edmonton—a thousand miles northwest of Winnipeg—has as high an average annual temperature as St. Paul, in Minnesota, five hundred miles south of Winnipeg; but a glance at any map having climatic lines will show that this is true. Further, that Northern Michigan and Manitoba have similar temperatures, and that as we go north and west the influence of the winds from the Pacific have a marked effect in modifying the climate. The mean temperature for July in Winnipeg is 66, which is higher than in any part of England. The average diurnal range is also much greater than that in England, being from a maximum of 78 degrees to a minimum of 53 degrees. This high daily temperature during the growing months, with the long hours of sunshine, matures the crops quickly.

In Alberta remarkable characteristics of the climate are the light snow-fall and the warm chinook winds, and especially is this the case in the southern part of the province. Both cattle and horses can remain outside the entire winter, living and doing exceedingly well on the sun-cured buffalo grass which covers the plain.

Three times the size of the German Empire, and five times larger than Great Britain and Ireland, Western Canada is a vast plain, watered and drained by three great river systems—the Red and the Assiniboine in Manitoba, the Saskatchewan in Southern Alberta and Saskatchewan, and the Peace and Athabasca in Northern Alberta. With a gentle slope to the east and a slight tilt to the north, this plain stretches for fully a thousand miles from the Rocky Mountains on the west to the granite country of New Ontario on the east, and from the International Boundary on the south to a yet-to-be-determined point on the north, and the river systems make it one vast network of interesting valleys, the topographical features, as well as the climate in a large measure accounting for the remarkable productivity of the soil.

The completion of the Canadian Pacific Railroad saw the beginning of the real development of modern Canada. It was then that Eastern Canada, emerging from her forests and fields, first gazed upon the rolling prairies and unexplored North-West, and learned of the vast and rich interior which had hitherto been scarcely considered as a factor in the economical problems of the Dominion. The announcement that in the Canadian North-West had been discovered more than two hundred million acres that would produce wheat and that this vast area could undoubtedly, if properly developed, cover many times over, England's demand for wheat to meet her annual bread deficiency, naturally riveted the attention of the whole world, and a stream of settlement immediately began to flow into the country. It was not, however, until the dawn of the twentieth century that the real rush began, and since 1900, when the people of the republic to the south began to fully appreciate the agricultural possibilities of Western Canada, and to realize what a wonderful agricultural country lay immediately to the north of their own boundary, the influx has continued with ever-increasing volume.

Bringing with them capital, effects, and the necessary knowledge to develop the country, settlers are coming in thousands from the United States and from Great Britain, and every country of Europe, come other thousands to take advantage of the opportunities offered.

With regard to capital, the development of Western Canada has been unique, for with the twentieth century discovery of the West by those who come to make their homes in the country, there has been concurrently a corresponding awakening of the investing class and the capitalists to the opportunities offered them. The result has been a remarkable inflow of capital from England and European countries, and from the United States, and there is no lack of funds for either public or private improvements.

Main Street, Winnipeg, Capital of Manitoba.

To sum up—what is the immediate outlook for Western Canada? It is a country that is now a long way beyond the experimental stage—a country that has been tried in the most exacting test to which a new country can be put, and has come triumphantly through the ordeal. There can be no doubt now that the settlers who are so rapidly peopling the Great West of Canada and making their homes there are destined to be the wheat producers for the British Empire, and that they will also supply for all deficiencies that may arise in other countries. In this connection there seems to be no limit to the expectations that may reasonably be formed. For instance, what were once, in the imperfect knowledge of the country, supposed to be semi-arid districts, are now on thorough investigation, found to be capable of producing full crops, and providing opportunities for which no superior can be found elsewhere for cereal and garden roots, for dairying and for stock raising. In other districts, which were once little thought of, winter wheat is revolutionizing the character of the whole territory, and elsewhere irrigation is proving an assured method of getting the best results.

Once it was thought that there were large areas of doubtful rainfall. The soil was known to be first-class, but natural conditions were thought to be too uncertain to justify any attempt at settlement. Later explorations and practical experience has shown that conclusions in this regard have often been arrived at too hastily, and it now seems certain that there is very little really waste land in the whole vast territory.

For soil and climate Western Canada cannot be beaten—it is destined to be the bread basket of the world—the stockman's paradise and the home of millions of happy, contented and prosperous people, living under the best form of government, and with natural advantages that are unsurpassed.

GROWTH OF POPULATION.

The recent census gives the population of Manitoba as 360,000, Saskatchewan 240,000 and Alberta 185,000. The total of these three provinces in 1901 was 419,512. The total in 1906 is 785,000, an increase in five years of 365,488.

All this has been accomplished without what one might call a boom. Business and production have kept pace with the advance of lands and other real estate. While there has no doubt, been some speculation, the actual settler has established himself on the soil, and by actual work brought values up to and beyond the expectation of the most sanguine.

SOIL AND CLIMATE.

Professor Thomas Shaw, now of the editorial staff of the Orange Judd Farmer, an eminent agriculturist, writer and lecturer, after a recent trip through Western Canada, spoke in the following terms on this subject:

"The contemplation of this great country, is bewildering, whether viewed from the standpoint of size or resources. In size it is an empire. Our party has been travelling over it as fast as the engine could carry us for the past sixteen days, and we have only seen a very limited portion of its entire area. Its resources are almost fabulous in the aggregate, whether viewed from the standpoint of minerals, timber or agricultural production. But beyond all question the agriculture of this country, will be its greatest industry through all the centuries.

"The first foot of soil in the three provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, is its greatest natural heritage. It is worth more than all the mines in the mountains from Alaska to Mexico and more than all the forests from the United States boundary to the Arctic Sea, vast as these are. And next in value to this heritage is the three feet of soil, which lies underneath the first. The subsoil is only secondary in value to the soil, for without a good subsoil the value of a good surface soil is neutralized in proportion as the subsoil is inferior. The worth of a soil and subsoil cannot be measured in acres. The measure of its value is the amount of nitrogen phosphoric acid and potash which it contains, in other words, its producing power. Viewed from this standpoint, these lands are a heritage of untold value. One acre of average soil in the North West is worth more than twenty acres of average soil along the Atlantic seaboard. The man who tills the former can grow twenty successive crops, without much diminution in the yields, whereas the person who tills the latter must pay a vendor of fertilizers half as much for materials to fertilize an acre as would buy the same in the Canadian Northwest, in order to grow a single remunerative crop.

"Next in value to the soil is the heritage of climate. No citizen of northwestern Canada should be anxious to apologize for the climate of his country. Good as the soil is, it would never have brought supremacy in grain production in this country, had it not been for the climate. The blessing of the climate is threefold. It consists in the purity of the air, in the temperature of the same and in the happy equilibrium in the precipitation. Everyone knows the value of pure air in this country, viewed from the standpoint of health. But does everyone know as to the inestimable character of the blessing which pure air proves to the agriculture of the country? It prevents the rapid decay and transformation of the vegetable matter in the soil, and also the too rapid transformation of inert fertility, thus virtually preventing waste in the hand of nature. In this fact is found our explanation of the extraordinary fertility of the soil. The cool temperature of the summer nights, is responsible for the large relative yields of the grain. Raise the temperature of the summer nights and days, and the yield of grain would be proportionately reduced. The relatively cool temperature is one of the agricultural glories of this land. The relatively light precipitation is also a great boon to the northwestern farmer. It grows his crops and does not destroy them when grown. Nearly every portion of these three provinces has a rainfall of fifteen or twenty inches; enough to grow good crops of grain on farms that are properly tilled, and not enough to waste the fertility of the soil through cracking. In this, another reason is found for the wonderful producing power of these lands."

So bountiful are the harvests that it is now necessary to bring in from Eastern Canada and elsewhere from 20,000 to 25,000 farm laborers to work in the wheat fields. These earn good wages and many remain and become actual settlers themselves. Cheap rates are offered to points in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, and special trains run for their accommodation.

Corporation Teamsters Will Get 50 Cents a Day Increase

Board of Works Decides to Pay $3.75 Per Day—Teamsters Must Draw a Full Yard and a Quarter Instead of One Yard as in the Past.

The teamsters working for the corporation this summer will receive $3.75 per day for team and driver. But there is a condition attached to it, which will give the city value for their money. In order to secure the increased wage, the teamsters must draw a yard and a quarter of gravel instead of a yard as heretofore.

This action was decided upon by the Board of Works last night at their regular weekly meeting. The teamsters made application to the council on Monday night for an increase from $3.25 to $4.00 per day. They presented the council with an account of what it costs to buy and maintain a team of horses, and they claimed that $4.00 was little enough. The council referred the application to the Board of Works.

It appears that in the past the corporation teamsters have had their wagon boxes made so that the tail board can be moved forward or backward as the occasion requires. If they are working for individuals the tail board goes back and a yard and a quarter is drawn. If they are working for the city the tail-board goes forward and only a yard is drawn. Thus the city gets the worst of it.

The Board of Works took the view that if the teamsters can draw a yard and a quarter for private parties they can draw the same for the city. Then in Ottawa the corporation pays only $3.60 per day and there are all kinds of hills in the Capital to climb. Therefore, the Board decided to split the difference and offer them $3.75 with the above condition.

The Board also took up several other matters and then adjourned until next Wednesday night.

Machinery is Being Installed

The scarcity of help is being felt all over this county in every walk of life. The farmers are clamoring for it, and now the cheese factories are up against it. The factories are preparing for the opening and there is no one to help the maker. As a result special machinery is being resorted to, and this spring, Mr. Geo. A. Gillespie has installed thirteen sets of agitators in local cheese factories. These agitators are used for stirring the milk, instead of doing it by hand.

GOOD CITIZENS

In the departure of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Dennistoun for Winnipeg, the city of Peterborough regrets the loss of two worthy and estimable citizens, members of old, historic families, who have played no unimportant part in the upbuilding of the city and county. There is no need of dwelling at length upon the services which they have rendered to this community. The works in which they have engaged and what they have accomplished, are too well known to require extended reference. Panegyrics would be a rather empty tribute. Actions have spoken louder than words and deeds innumerable in the Christian, charitable, social and civic life of Peterborough proclaim in no unmistakable terms that their places will, indeed, be difficult to fill. The number of presentations and farewell gatherings in honor of Mr. Dennistoun and his good wife, are the strongest evidence of the place that they hold in the confidence and good opinion of the whole community and the heartiest well wishes of all classes, irrespective of creed or birth, will follow them to their new home in the Prairie City.

Mr. Dennistoun has for 24 years been prominently identified with the 57th Regiment; he has always taken an active interest in clean, healthy sport; he has been a valuable officer of the Children's Aid Society; he has been a faithful worker in and supporter of St. John's church; he has been active in fraternal associations and for nineteen years he has been a bright ornament and tower of strength to the legal profession.

In many other spheres he has been active and useful and for several years was a capable representative in the city council. He has worthily and well followed in the footsteps of his revered father and grandfather and has been in all respects a model citizen and creditably associated with every move having for its object the promotion of the welfare, progress, morality and development of his native city. That he will achieve a like measure of success in his new home is the heartfelt wish of all. He is in every way deserving of any honor that may be accorded him in the capital of Manitoba.

Peterborough has given up many of her bravest, truest and noblest sons to assist in building up the great West, to help mould the destiny of that land, with its glowing future and to raise the ideals and standard of Canadian citizenship, national honor and responsibility. In this commendable work, none will exert a better influence, or have a more potent tendency for good, than Mr. and Mrs. Dennistoun. The citizens of Peterborough will watch their future careers with interest, believing that they will, in the west, win the same high position and attain the same measure of success and prosperity as they have in the east. The city reluctantly says "Au Revoir but not good-bye."

DAY LABOR SYSTEM

The day labor system of carrying out municipal work is gaining ground and generally where introduced the plan has worked economically and encouragingly. In Ottawa all work of the corporation, except the laying of asphalt roadways, is done by day labor. This means that all walks are built, all sewers constructed, snow cleaning done and street watering carried out. In the Capital the horses necessary to do the street sprinkling and snow cleaning are owned by the corporation.

There is one thing necessary to ensure the success of the system of day labor and that is, there must be no interference or meddling with the men by foremen on the part of aldermen. The civic works department should alone be held responsible for the character of the work and the manner in which it is carried out.

All sidewalks were built last year by day labor and now the system is about to be extended so as to take in sewers. There is no good reason why the same measure of satisfaction should not be obtained in connection with sewer construction, as has been evidenced on the sidewalks. The move taken is a progressive one and demonstrates that Peterborough is falling into line and following the worthy example set by the larger centres of population. It is hoped that on the part of the workingmen and the civic authorities, there will be co-operation and harmony and that everything possible may be done to promote the welfare of the city and ensure satisfactory results on sewer construction. The day labor system should prove equally as successful in connection with the city's drainage undertakings, as it has with respect to granolithic walks. The plan is well worth giving a fair, honest trial.

THE HISTORICAL SOCIETY

It is gratifying to learn that an effort is being made to revive the Peterborough and Ashburnham Historical Society. This organization has been in a dormant condition for some time past, but with the advent of spring, is taking on a fresh lease of life. A meeting will be held this evening at the Y.M.C.A. to elect a new secretary, and steps will be taken to have a new and up-to-date classification of the relics and curios at the Victoria Museum.

It is understood that Lt.-Col. Rogers, who has been president for some years will retire, and that Mr. T. A. S. Hay, who has served in the capacity of secretary for a long time, will be advanced to the position of president.

There is no society deserving of greater encouragement and support along the lines of work, which it has done, and will, it is hoped, yet do, than the Peterborough and Ashburnham Historical Society. This county and city, are rich in historic lore and memorable associations, and any records, data or memoranda should be preserved.

The society is fortunate in having so admirably appointed a building as the Victoria Museum, for this purpose and the result of past years work is pleasing to citizens and visitors alike. It is a place where much valuable information may be gained, where the student of history, may enjoy several profitable hours, and lovers of the quaint, and curious, the rare and interesting, may find full scope and splendid opportunity to gratify their tastes.

May the about-to-be reorganized historical society enjoy a prosperous and useful future.

In Kingston there is a bylaw preventing the erection of projecting signs and the papers say that it is not enforced.

Jim Hill says that the improvement of the waterways is the sole remedy for the freight pressure. Most railway men are opposed to the waterway. The history of the waterway is that it can always be used as a check on the railways. It may be made to relieve congestion and to cut rates. Having performed so much, it is apt to fall into disuse by reason of the improved condition of the railways. But not a dollar spent in canals or other waterways is ever wasted. Hurry along the completion of the Trent canal.

It may be necessary, of course, for such towns as Fort Dodge, Ia., Peterborough, Ont., and other places to pass ordinances penalizing bachelors who decline to marry, but permit us to point out that in beautiful Belleville such methods are not necessary. Belleville girls are so sweet tempered and attractive that young men come from all points of the compass to wed them. In some unfortunate places the fairest flowers are often born to blush unseen. Not so in Belleville. Her reputation as a garden for fair girls is so well known that every young lady, almost, so soon as she attains marriageable age, is snapped up. Peterborough should send down a joint committee of young ladies and aldermen to study conditions in this city. That would be infinitely better than clapping on an absurd bachelor tax.—Belleville Intelligencer.

Poultrymen May Call a Meeting

In the City Council Chamber in Near Future to Organize

Efforts are being made by a number of poultry fanciers in the city to form a poultry association, and share in the special grants which will be made by the Ontario Government. A few days ago a letter was published in these columns outlining the policy of the Government along these lines and several poultry men have been discussing the matter among themselves.

There is a great opportunity at the present time to start an organization It would work well with the Peterborough Industrial Fair and the management of the fair will be pleased to see the poultrymen band together and they will do all they possibly can to assist the movement.

It is probable that a meeting will be held in the near future in the Council Chamber when all those interested in poultry will be asked to attend.

Brigade Camp Was Held Here

Just 34 Years Ago—An Interesting Event Recalled

Lt.-Col. H. C. Rogers, postmaster, in looking over some old papers today, while cleaning out his desk, ran across a memorandum book dated 1873. It contains the list of subscribers to the brigade camp, which was held here in 1873. The camp ground was down the river, adjoining Crawford's Grove. It was the only camp ever held in Peterborough, and about 2,000 men were under canvas. Col. Rogers, in one day raised $365 toward the expense in connection with the camp. This sum was subscribed by the citizens readily. Col. Rogers retired from the position of commanding officer of the 3rd Prince of Wales Canadian Dragoons in 1899, but was for three years after brigadier at the annual camp. In fact he never missed a camp from 1866 to 1902. This is certainly a unique and honorable military record extending over a period of 36 years.

COW TESTING ASSOCIATIONS

Being Inspected This Week—Farmers are Delighted With Results

Mr. D. E. McKenzie of Beaverton, who has been appointed to look after the testing of milk in this section is around this week. He has visited Keene, Shearer, and Central Smith, and will make the round of all the cow testing associations which have been formed, before he goes away.

The cow-testing associations are meeting with considerable success. Wherever the farmers have been induced to take up the work, they have been delighted with it. It is proving to be one of the very best things yet adopted, and no farmer need look shy at the proposal. It means a big increase in his income every year. It means he will know which cows are paying, and which are eating their heads off as so many of them do. It will also mean that the milk supply will be greatly increased and also improved.

The farmers who are connected with the testing associations, will, if they follow it up, soon start to dispose of the non-paying cows and buying good cows, so that in a year or two, the herds will be greatly improved.

Annual Meeting of Ontario F. A.

The Quaker Football Club was represented by Mr. J. E. Sullivan at the annual meeting of the Ontario Football Association at the Walker House in Toronto.

The treasurer's report showed the total receipts of the year $224.30, of which $54.60 came from the senior finals, $110.93 from the intermediate and 50c. from the junior. The credit balance was $60.

The number of clubs during the season was 67, one more than in the year before.

Mr. F. H. Brigden, chairman of the match committee, presented his report.

The financial statement showed double the amount of the year before.

The application of the Scarboro' Maple Leafs, who want to join the Toronto League, was referred to the O.A.F.L. executive, in the event of the Toronto League refusing them admission. The O.A.F.L. may, in that event grant them permission to play off in the finals.

J. E. Sullivan, of Peterborough, raised a protest against what he alleged was unfair treatment at the hands of the Match Committee in awarding the bye last fall to Preston. Little York had generously given away on the matter, but Peterborough insisted on the bye, and because they did not get it did not take part in the finals. Mr. Sullivan said that unless the Midland League were guaranteed fair treatment they would withdraw from the league. They purpose entering a senior team in Peterborough, but unless such treatment was guaranteed they would not do so. The meeting did not see anything grave in Peterborough's claim.

It was decided to affiliate with the C. A. A. U.

Mr. W. A. McIlroy of Peterborough was elected a vice-president.

Basketballers to Play Football

An interesting football match will be played in the near future. Laing and Dobbin's basketball teams have challenged R. Best's and Richardson's outfits to a soccer game, to be played next week, and a great contest is anticipated. The teams will line up something like the following:

Best and Richardson's teams — Weatherstone, Darling, Staunton, R. Best, W. Richardson, Huston, Emmerson, Fitzgerald, Yelland, Wallace, Galley, and MacRae.

Laing and Dobbin's teams—E. Best Robertson, S Laing, Dobson, Elliott, Campbell, Dobbin, Cressman, Turner, Brace, Loomis and Sherwood.

Two Fast Games in Spring League

Exciting Basket Ball Matches at Y.M.C.A. Last Night

Laing's and Dobbin's teams are now tied for first place in the Y.M.C.A. Spring Basketball League. Richardson's and R. Best's quartette's were put out of the running last night, the former losing to Laing, 41-34, and the latter to Dobbin 48-38. Both games were splendidly contested and created considerable excitement among a bunch of enthusiastic spectators. There was no let up in both games from the first toot of the whistle until time was called. Both winning teams secured their lead in the second half, the scores at half time being almost even in the two contests. Mr. Jack Laing refereed both games satisfactorily.

The teams lined up as follows,—

R. Best's—R. Best and Weatherstone, defence; Emmerson, centre; Darling and Staunton, forward.

Dobbin's—Brace and M. Dobbin, defence; R. Dobbin, centre; Loomis and Cressman, forwards.

Score 48-38 in favor of Dobbin.

Laing's—Elliott and Dobson, defence; Laing, centre; Darling and E. Best, forwards.

Richardson's—Fitzgerald and Richardson, defence; Wallace, centre; McRae and Staunton, forwards.

Score 41-34 in favor of Laing.

The championship will be decided next Wednesday night, when Laing's and Dobbin's teams will meet. This should prove a great contest, as the teams are very evenly matched.

CRICKET

A REVIVAL NEEDED

Cricket will flourish in Peterborough this summer. Already the club is organized and the prospects for a good season are bright. A couple of years ago Lindsay had a splendid eleven that could hold its own with the most of them. Recently, however, the game has died out to some extent, but with a little enthusiasm on the part of the good old English game, universal interest could be revived and a club organized. The crease was sodded and put in good shape some time ago and could now be put in good condition with but little trouble. The L. C. A. will, in all probability, have a cricket team this season. —Lindsay Post.

BASKETBALL

CHIPMUNKS WON

In a fast game of baseball on Boswell's field yesterday afternoon the Chipmunks defeated the Daisies by 26 runs to 12. It was a well contested game, although the winners showed considerable superiority. The Chipmunks' team was as follows: Davidson, c; H. Lees, p; H. Matthews, 1b; B. Lees, 2b; G. Matthews, 3b; H. H Hill, s.s.; W. Hall, c.f., B. Hawkins r.f.; M. Patterson, r.f.

Greswell pitched for the Daisies and O'Connor did the receiving.

The Chipmunks would like to hear from other teams under 14 years of age.

WILL REORGANIZE.

The Strathcona Baseball Club will hold a special meeting in the parlors of the Windsor Hotel, Brock street, on Tuesday evening, April 9th, at 8.15 o'clock. All last year's players and others wishing to join are requested to attend as business of importance will be transacted.

Chemists and Physicians say there Can't be a Better Medecine for women

than Dr. Hugo's Health Tablets

Women who Have Taken Them Say So, Too.

Before we began making Health Tablets we submitted the formula to many physicians and chemists for their opinion.

We wanted to improve it, if it could be improved, as we were bound to have not only the latest but the best possible medicine for women.

But we found out it couldn't be improved.

A firm of chemists, known all over America, wrote to us:

"We cannot suggest a single change or addition that would improve the formula or make it more beneficial to women."

And the doctors to whom the formula was submitted said the same thing.

And better still, the remarkable results obtained from their use by women suffering from a run-down condition or some female weakness, prove that the doctors and chemists were right.

For after all, results speak louder than words.

We want you to take just one box of these tablets, and you will share the opinion of these doctors and chemists that

The Charge Was Dismissed To-day

Hotelman Arraigned for Alleged Sale of Liquor After Hours

Before His Worship Magistrate Dumble at police court this morning, John A. Lawless, proprietor of the National hotel, was charged with selling liquor after hours on Saturday, March 30th. Mr. J. E. Haverson, of Toronto, appeared for the defendant, and Crown Attorney R. E. Wood conducted the case for the crown.

The case was dismissed, there not being sufficient evidence to prove the case.

Mr. Lawless, the defendant, was the first witness called. He said that he was the proprietor of the National hotel. He had a visit on Saturday between 11 and 12 o'clock from the inspector. He was in room number 35. There were two other men present, Mr. Jas. Hoolihan, one of the three, was going away and Mr. Lawless went up to say good-bye to him. There was a glass of ale on the table. It was neither ordered or drunk by either Lawless or the other visitor to Hoolihan's room. Just Hoolihan and the bartender know where the ale came from. There was nothing brought up while they were there. Witness denied having having spoken to the inspector about how he could settle it. He understood the ale was ordered before seven o'clock.

MR. STEWART'S EVIDENCE.

After some further evidence of an unimportant character Inspector Stewart was called. He said that on Saturday night at 6 minutes to twelve he went to the National hotel. A boy was sitting at the door leading out to the bar. When the lad saw him coming he ran through the door and went to turn to go upstairs, but changed his mind and went to the lavatory. Mr. Stewart then went upstairs. He heard some voices and went right to the room where they were. He entered and saw three men there. A glass of ale was on the stand. Lawless and Stewart went downstairs. Lawless said to him, "How can we fix this? I have been pretty good heretofore." The inspector replied "No better than you ought to be."

Mr Haverson said there was not enough evidence to make a conviction and he would ask His Worship not to adjourn the case for the purpose of hearing Hoolihan's evidence, who was in Toronto.

Crown Attorney R. E. Wood argued that the case should be enlarged. His Worship thought not as Hoolihan's evidence would not make much difference. The case was dismissed.

PRIVATE BILL WAS CONSIDERED

By Private Bills Committee—Likely to be Reported

His Worship Mayor McWilliams and City Solicitor E. H. D. Hall, are in Toronto today, looking after the city's interests before the Private Bills Committee. The city's private bill came up this morning for final disposition. It was fully expected that the bill would be reported in full, except the Coates Co.'s clause, which the city decided to drop for the time being.

Hotel Officials Make Statement

Say That Hon. Mr. Emmerson Has Never Put up at St. Lawrence Hall

Special to the Review.

Montreal, April 4,—Le Canada this morning publishes a letter signed by W. H. Brown, manager, and John Humphrey, an official of the St. Lawrence Hotel, in which it is stated that, as the name of their hotel has been mentioned in connection with the accusation recently made against the Hon. Mr. Emmerson, they wish to officially state that never for the twenty years that they have known him, has the Hon. Mr. Emmerson been put out of the St. Lawrence Hotel, under any pretext whatever. "This accusation is absolutely false from the beginning to the end, in so far as it concerns us," they say.

Cornering the Light Market And Chickens Will Figure

In Two Cases at the Sitting of the High Court on Monday—Two Interesting Suits That are on the Docket.

Some poultry yard matters and the shutting off of a Peterborough citizen's light, air and sunshine, will be some of the matters that will figure in the Spring Assizes of the High Court which opens on Monday. There will be three cases on the docket, Waters vs Allan; Ruetsch vs. Spry, and Kendry vs. Richmond. The statement of the Waters-Allan case has already appeared in the Review.

The other two cases are interesting ones and will involve some fine points of law. In the case of Ruetsch vs. Spry, the plaintiff, Frederick Ruetsch, is a mechanic, and the defendant, Louis Spry, is a tinsmith, both residing in Peterborough. In May, 1903, the defendant sold a portion of some property which he owned on Sherbrooke street, to the plaintiff, and the latter built a dwelling house on it and resides therein. The plaintiff claims that in November, 1906, the defendant erected a high close board fence on his property, but situated in such a manner as to exclude the air and light from three windows in the side of the plaintiff's house. Ruetsch claims that Spry built the fence with a malicious purpose, being at loggerheads with Ruetsch on account of the latter defeating him in a law suit some time before. Ruetsch implores the assistance of the court to have Spry remove the fence, and to have it removed permanently. He also asks for the costs of the action.

The defence claims that Spry had a right to build the fence as it is on his own property. Plaintiff's solicitors O'Connell & Gordon; defendant's solicitors, Edmison & Dixon.

KENDRY VS. RICHMOND.

This is the case in which the chickens figure. The plaintiff, Thomas H. Kendry sold a farm to the defendant, John L. Richmond, last August, the price being $2,000, to be paid in stipulated instalments. The land in question had been used as a chicken farm, and when it was sold Richmond claims that this purchase included 800 chickens and 12 old hens, which the plaintiff is alleged to have stated were on the farm. On taking possession of the farm the defendant claims that there were only 500 chickens, and that in some other respects he did not find the place as called for in the agreement of sale. He therefore refused to make the payments and refused to carry out the agreement, the property reverting to Kendry again.

Kendry claims $1,000 and the costs of the action for damages sustained through the failure of the defendant to carry out the agreement, while Richmond has a counter claim of $200 for labor and chicken feed during the time he was in possession of the farm. He also asks for costs.

Plaintiff's solicitors, O'Connell & Gordon, defendant's solicitors A. P. Poussette, K.C.

Prisoners Cost Seventeen Cents

Per Day to be Kept in the County Gaol—Total of $891.04

The thirty-ninth annual report of the Inspector of Prisons and Reformatories of the Province of Ontario, for the year ending September 30th, 1906, shows that Peterborough gaol during the year, contained 177 prisoners, who spent altogether 5,230 days in confinement, at a total cost of $891.04 for food, fuel and clothing, or 17c. per day per prisoner. The rest of the report is the same as appeared in the press last fall.

Pretty Gifts From Yacht Club

Presented to Mr. and Mrs. Dennistoun This Afternoon

An interesting ceremony took place in the parlor of the National Hotel this afternoon, when the Chemong Yacht Club, presented their retiring Commodore, Mr. R. M. Dennistoun, with a handsome club burgee. The burgee is silk and in the upper left hand corner is worked in attractive letters the following, "Presented to R. M. Dennistoun by the Chemong Yacht Club, 1907." The burgee consists of a red ground, blue cross and white crescent, the emblem of the club.

Mrs. Dennistoun was remembered with a beautiful mayonnaise set of Pickhard's hand painted china. She has always taken a deep interest in the welfare of the club.

Those who made the presentation were,—Messrs. T. F. Matthews, W. C. P. Heathcote, W. H. Denham, W. S. Davidson, H. W. Morphet, Alex Elliott, Milne Hamilton, Howard Hopwood, Fred Roy, W. H. Hill, R. J. Munro, R. H. Neilson, C. Currier, F. Merrett, Dr. Young, A. O. Dumble, Dr. Poole, L. M. Hayes, A. A. Hollingshead, and others.

Mr. Dennistoun, on behalf of Mrs. Dennistoun and himself, made an appreciative and grateful reply, expressing regret at severing this connection with the club, in which he had always taken a deep concern and whose kindness and friendship he would long remember.

CONVEYED TO TOMB

The funeral of the late James Hayes, whose death occurred on Tuesday last, took place this morning at nine o'clock, from the family residence Skibereen, Otonabee, to St. Peter's Cathedral, and thence to the Roman Catholic cemetery. The funeral was very largely attended. Many persons turned out to pay their last token of respect to a well-known and highly esteemed resident of Otonabee.

The pall bearers were Messrs. John Doris, Wm. Leahy, Michael Lunch, James Duffus, Dan Kelly and Patrick Crowley.

The service at the cathedral was conducted by Rev. Father Galvin, and at the cemetery by Rev. Father McColl.

WEDDING BELLS

JONES—LOUCKS.

The marriage took place at the Charlotte street Parsonage this morning of Miss Ruth Loucks and Mr Silas Jones, both of Marmora township. The ceremony was performed by Rev. H. M. Manning, and the bridal pair were unattended. Mr. and Mrs. Jones will reside in Marmora.

DUNLOP—HARPER.

At the Charlotte street Parsonage last night Rev. H. M. Manning united in marriage Miss Margaret Adica Harper of this city, to Mr. James Dunlop of North Monaghan, son of Mr. Darcy Dunlop of that township. The bride was attended by her sister Miss Alice Harper, while the groom was supported by his brother Mr. Darcy Dunlop. The wedding was a very pretty one, and the two young people will have the best wishes of a host of friends.

Declare That haw is Insane

Lunacy Commission Presented its Report To-day

A special despatch received this afternoon by J. R. Heintz & Co., of this city, says;

"Lunacy Commission presented its report this morning. Report declares that Thaw is sane."

The commission yesterday finished its work, with the exception of preparing its formal report, with an examination of Thaw in private. This examination lasted over two and a half hours. It consisted of a physical and mental examination and, from what could be learned, Thaw went through it very well. At its finish the three commissioners—David McClure, Peter B. Olney and Dr. Leopold Putzel—are said to have shaken hands with him.

FOOTBALL

The football practice at Central park last night was participated in by about twenty followers of the game. They had a fine workout and good form was shown by some of the men. Another practice will be held to-night at 6.30 o'clock at Central park.

HOCKEY

ANOTHER PLAYER DIES

Mr. Ira Brown, only son of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Brown, Myrtle, died recently aged 21 years. The young man had been struck with a hockey puck while playing the game a few weeks ago. He did not complain of his injury at first, but the symptoms became so serious that a doctor was at once called. The young fellow had delayed too long however, and the best medical skill available was powerless to check the inflammation.

BASKETBALL

The Y.M.C.A. basketball banquet in connection with the spring league, will be held some night soon, probably the night of the final game between Dobbin and Richardson. The captains of the teams are asked to be at the Association Friday night at eight o'clock to arrange for it.

BASEBALL

WILL ORGANIZE.

The Working Boys' class will meet to-night as usual in the gym., and a baseball club will be organized. All boys interested in the game are asked to be on the floor to-night.

HOME PATRONAGE

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—You have wisely in your columns urged our citizens to patronize our own business people instead of going to Toronto or elsewhere. You announced in your columns of yesterday that the case of Frost vs. G.T. R. Co., had been settled and although the cause of action arose here, the plaintiff employed a lawyer in Toronto to bring this case to trial here, when we have a super-abundance of lawyers here. The lawyer in question is Mr. N. F. Davidson. If we all were to go to Toronto for our law, medicine and divinity, our city would become the scene of briefless lawyers, idle doctors and empty churches. By all means let us patronize our own citizens, unless there are reasons for it.

Yours, etc.,
CITIZEN.

Caught in the Act of Robbing

Hector Baker Arrested by P. C. Newhall—Remanded for Week

Hector Baker appeared before His Worship Magistrate Dumble this morning on a charge of vagrancy. He pleaded not guilty. Chief Rozel was not prepared to go on with the case, so Baker was remanded for one week.

It appears that last evening as P. C. Newhall, accompanied by another gentleman, were coming along Hunter street towards George street, they noticed two men standing in the gateway of Mr. D. Belleghem's yard. One man was hopelessly drunk and the other, which was Baker, was digging with both hands into the drunken man's pockets. He was so engrossed in searching for whatever could be found that he did not notice P. C. Newhall coming. The constable grabbed Baker by the wrist before he had time to take his hand out of the drunken man's pockets. When asked what he had been doing Baker replied "looking for 'tin'". He afterwards said that he was searching for a flask. He was brought to the police station, where he spent the night. He will pass the week at Castle Nesbitt, and will be brought before His Worship again next Friday.

Baker is well known in police court. He has been there on previous occasions. He has a good trade but refuses to work, and spends his time in loafing and drinking.

The name of the drunken man he was attempting to rob, is unknown.

Auction Sale of Livery Horses

At McCollum Bros. Stable To-morrow—16 Horses Offered

Everything is now ready for the big sale of horses at McCollum Bros. livery barns to-morrow. Great interest is being taken by a large number of horsemen in and around the city, as there are always some good horses put up at this annual sale. This year there will be sixteen animals offered, all in good condition, sound and well broken. On Monday next McCollum Bros. will have their livery barns filled with an entirely new lot of horses. They have purchased most of them already and are just waiting until the sale is over to bring them in. Every year this firm practically cleans out its barn and puts in new horses. This enables them to keep a strictly up-to-date livery and none of the horses get that livery-horse appearance or gait. Auctioneer John Haggart will conduct the sale.

NOTES OF THE DAY

There were 390 soldiers at the first parade of the 91st regiment of Hamilton.

How Girl Got Even With Lover

Disillusionment Which Shattered Romantic Amorous Affair

Port Hope was last week the scene of a disillusionment which shattered a romantic love affair.

E. V. Taylor is a young Englishman, who came recently to Canada, and settled at Brampton. While there, he met and paid court to Miss Edith Mundy, an English girl who possessed a small bank balance. He proposed and was accepted.

Last month Taylor came to Port Hope in search of employment and stayed a night at the St. Lawrence hotel. In the morning he left without paying for his board, leaving his valise as security with the hotel. Letters were subsequently received by Miss Mundy from Taylor in which he said that he had obtained employment in a Port Hope dairy, but that he had been disabled by kick from a horse. He asked her to send him money to tide him over his difficulties. This and subsequent appeals were cheerfully complied with. At last Miss Mundy decided to come to Port Hope to personally aid her lover. She came, but could not discover Taylor's address. Enquiries from the town doctors gave no clue to the accident, and visits to the dairies were equally fruitless. Finally Miss Mundy found that Taylor's mail was being sent to Toronto. She then comprehended her lover's duplicity and came to the conclusion that he had not been injured, and that he had been using a false story to obtain her money. She returned to Toronto and laid wait for Taylor at the post office. After watching for some hours he appeared. Miss Mundy met him, charged him with his treachery and told him of her abhorrence of his act.

Taylor's effects were confiscated to reimburse Miss Mundy for the money sent to him and she returned to Brampton.

The love affair was at an end.

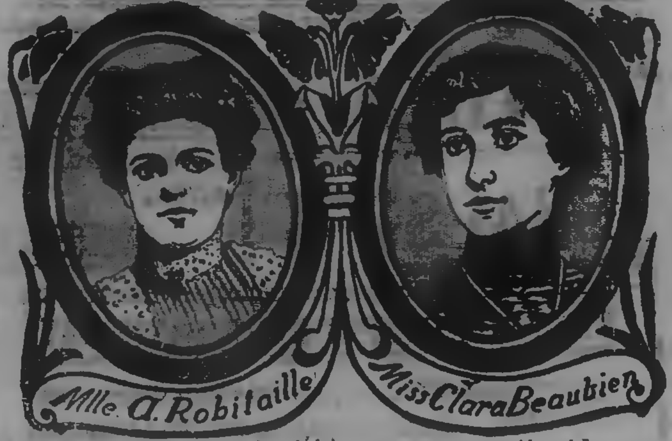
WORKING WOMEN

Their Hard Struggle Made Easier—Interesting Statements by a Young Lady in Quebec and One in Beauport, Que



All women work; some in their homes some in church, and some in the whirl of society. And in stores, mills and shops tens of thousands are on the never-ceasing treadmill, earning their daily bread.

All are subject to the same physical laws; all suffer alike from the same physical disturbance, and the nature of their duties in many cases, quickly drifts them into the horrors of all kinds of female complaints, tumors, ulceration, falling and displacements or perhaps irregularity or suppression, causing backache, nervousness, irritability and lassitude.

They especially require an invigorating, sustaining medicine which will strengthen the female organism and enable them to bear easily the fatigues of the day, to sleep well at night, and to rise refreshed and cheerful.

How distressing to see a woman struggling to earn a livelihood or perform her household duties when her back and head are aching, she is so tired she can hardly drag about or stand up, and every movement causes pain, the origin of which is due to some derangement of the female organism.

Mlle. Alma Robitaille, of 78 rue St. François, Quebec, Que., tells women how to avoid such suffering; she writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"Overwork and long hours at the office together with a neglected cold, brought on a very serious female trouble until finally I was unable to go to work. I then thought of a friend who had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound when her health was in the same condition that mine was, and straightway sent out for a bottle. I finished that and took two more before I really began to improve, but after that my recovery was very rapid, and I was soon well and able to go back to work again. I certainly think your medicine for sick women worthy of praise, and am indeed glad to indorse it."

Miss Clara Beaubien, of Beauport, Quebec, writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"For several years I have suffered with female trouble which has been a serious drain on my vitality, sapping my strength and causing severe headaches, bearing-down pains and a general worn-out feeling, until I really had no desire to live. I tried many medicines but did not get permanent relief until I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. In two months I was very much better and stronger, and in four months I was well, no more disagreeable discharge, no more pain. So I have every reason to praise the Vegetable Compound and I consider it without equal for the ills of women."

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the unfailing cure for all these troubles. It strengthens the proper muscles, and displacement with all its horrors will no more cruel you.

Backache, dizziness, fainting, bearing down pains, disordered stomach moodiness, dislike of friends and society—all symptoms of the one cause—will be quickly dispelled, and it will make you strong and well.

You can tell the story of your sufferings to a woman, and receive helpful advice free of cost. Address Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass. The present Mrs. Pinkham is the daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham and for twenty-five years she has, under her direction and since her decease, been advising sick women free of charge.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Succeeds Where Others Fail.

Harry Thaw Declared Sane by the Lunacy Commission

On Second Anniversary of His Marriage to Evelyn Nesbit.

Lunacy Commission Reports That Oral and Physical Examination Show Accused to Be Mentally Sound—Jerome Protests In Vain—Will Appeal to High Courts—Thaw's Family Expect Acquittal.

New York, April 5.—Yesterday, the second anniversary of his marriage, Harry K. Thaw was declared sane by the commission appointed to enquire into his mental condition.

After a long delay in the morning, during which counsel, both for the people and for the defence, paced the corridors impatiently, and the defendant's family nervously awaited the result, Justice Fitzgerald mounted the bench a little after two o'clock and announced that he had succeeded in securing a report from the commission in lunacy. He had had two copies made. He handed one to District Attorney Jerome and the other to Mr. Hartridge of counsel for the defence.

Jerome twisted his copy around in his hands and began to address the court, but Hartridge tore his open, and glanced hurriedly through it.

He was so agitated that the three typewritten sheets trembled in his fingers, but suddenly he wheeled, hurried over to Evelyn Nesbit Thaw and whispered:

"Sane."

The other members of the Thaw family had leaned forward to catch the word. They fairly exuded gladness, and a rustle of relief swept over the room.

A messenger was hurried off to take the news to Thaw, who awaited the outcome in the prisoners' pen. He did not seem to be at all surprised, his placid manner bearing out the confidence he has expressed all along.

The attention of the spectators had been absorbed by the little drama being enacted at the table occupied by counsel for the defence. But Jerome, passing up and down before the bench and talking rapidly, or stopping short to shout a vehement protest against a ruling of the court against his plea, suddenly became the central figure in the courtroom.

Divined Its Nature.

He evidently had divined the nature of the report, it being noticed that he carefully prefixed all his remarks with the phrase:

"If the report should be unfavorable to my contention."

The moment the decision was handed down Jerome had leaped to his feet to protest vigorously against its confirmation by the court.

He charged that he had been excluded from the last session of the commission, and demanded access to the minutes and the stenographic notes of what happened at the final mental and physical examination of the defendant.

When Justice Fitzgerald declined to turn the minutes over to him, Jerome announced he would carry the case to the appellate division of the Supreme Court and ask that a writ of prohibition or mandamus be granted to prevent a continuance of the Thaw trial until the higher court had ruled upon the legality of the commission's course.

Justice Fitzgerald reminded Jerome that he had waived the statutory right of attending the last session of the commission by himself suggesting that all the attorneys be excluded from the sitting in question.

He then granted the district attorney an adjournment until Monday morning to prepare his application to the appellate division.

Jerome protested that the time was too short, but Justice Fitzgerald cut him short with the statement that the trial must be concluded forthwith.

Unless Mr. Jerome should obtain a write of prohibition in the meantime, Justice Fitzgerald, it is expected, will announce on Monday morning that he has confirmed the report of the commission, and will order that the trial be continued without further delay.

It was stated authoritatively late last night that Jerome will appeal.

The appeal will be in the nature of an action to obtain a review of the justice's decision, and will be taken in the appellate division of the Supreme Court.

When the report finally fell into the possession of the newspapermen it was seen to be a sweeping victory for Thaw. It confirmed the reports of the excellent showing he made before the commission.

As to Dr. Putzel's leaving the conference yesterday it was explained he did not feel it was necessary for him to remain, while Messrs. McClure and Olney, both of whom are lawyers, were going over the legal phases of the mass of testimony adduced before the commission. Justice Fitzgerald himself announced that the delay had been occasioned by his examination of the testimony.

Britons Won't Stand In Car.

London, April 5.—The Liberal Government has started a campaign against the over-crowding of railroad cars. The subject was forcibly brought to the Government's notice during a recent session of the House of Commons by complaints of its democratic followers who utilise the underground and suburban railroads to reach their residences in distant suburbs.

A bill will be introduced at the reassembling of Parliament giving the board of trade and the railway commissioners power to order the companies to run more frequent or longer trains, and to impose penalties.

HOTEL MAN'S STORY.

Signs Declaration Denying the Story Against Hon. Mr. Emmerson.

Montreal, April 5.—Manager Brown and Mr. Humphrey, of the St. Lawrence Hall, have made the following affidavit and had it published in the local papers:

"As the name of our hotel has been mentioned in connection with the accusations recently made against the Hon. Mr. Emmerson, we wish to make a formal declaration that during the 20 years of our acquaintance with him, the Hon. Mr. Emmerson has never been turned from the door of the St. Lawrence Hall, under any pretext of any kind whatever. This accusation is absolutely false, from beginning to end, in so far as it concerns us."

MAJORITY STOPS ENQUIRY.

Motion to Summon Accountant Before Bar of the House.

Ottawa, April 5.—Once more the North Atlantic Trading Company is under the limelight.

Mr. Monk moved to bring before the bar of the House for contempt C. H. Beddoe, an accountant of the interior department, who went to Europe to audit the accounts of the company.

Mr. Monk pointed out that the House was entitled to know upon what facts the auditor found these accounts to be correct. For example one item with which the company is credited is a payment of $14,000 for "printing."

"Surely," Mr. Monk insisted, "we are entitled to know who are the printer or printers to whom this sum was paid. How can the House sanction a payment of $14,000 for printing when the Government refuses to say who did the printing?"

Mr. Oliver submitted that Mr. Beddoe was merely carrying out the policy of the Government. The Government and not Mr. Beddoe should be held responsible.

Dr. Sproule said that secrecy was the badge of this Government. The public accounts committee was a disgrace to the House. A partisan chairman ordered witnesses not to answer questions.

Armand Lavergne favored compelling the disclosure of the names of the shareholders in the North Atlantic Trading Company.

Mr. Bourassa vigorously insisted that it was a most dangerous principle to allow a witness to defy Parliament. The trading company's contract was immoral, otherwise there would be no need of secrecy.

Hon. George E. Foster submitted that the public accounts committee was an auditing committee, and investigating committee, but for the past two years a partisan chairman and a servile partisan majority has strangled any effort to really investigate any suspicious transactions.

Upon division Mr. Monk's motion was defeated, yeas 58, nays 99. A party vote, except that Bourassa, Lavergne and Robitaille voted against the Government.

Mr. Fielding Will Act.

Ottawa, April 5.—Hon. W. S. Fielding has been appointed as Acting Minister of Railways and Canals. Although no official announcement has been made on the subject, it is understood that no appointment will be made to the vacant portfolio until the Premier's return from England.

PAID $800 SETTLEMENT.

Now Finds Himself In Jail on Serious Charge.

Owen Sound, Ont., April 5.—Last summer Dr. Parks, of Feversham, while attending the family of W. Patterson, of Collingwood Township, had his suspicions directed to the 13-year-old daughter of the house, whose mind is somewhat unbalanced. Direct questioning elicited a confession that for two years the girl had maintained illicit relations with Hugh Thompson, a neighboring farmer, who is 50 years old.

In November following Dr. Parks took the girl and her parents to the office of Mr. John Birnie, K. C., Town Solicitor of Collingwood, where depositions were made. Mr. Birnie wrote to Thompson, and as a result the latter visited the lawyer's office and made a settlement for $800, paying $600 cash and giving a mortgage on his farm for the balance.

Two hundred dollars of the amount paid Mr. Birnie handed over to Dr. Parks, and the rest he retained, the parents of the girl receiving nothing.

Recently the Attorney-General's office learned of the charge against Thompson, and Provincial Detective Greed went up and arrested him. He appeared before Magistrate Dewson, of Flesherton, yesterday and was committed for trial.

Mr. Birnie, in explanation of his retention of the money, stated that he heard rumors that the Crown was about to take the matter up, and thought it best not to pay over the money to the parents. Dr. Parks claims that the $200 which he received was in payment for professional services to the family, in addition to $160 which he had already received.

MR. ST. JOHN NO BETTER.

Hospital Attendants Report His Condition Unchanged.

Toronto, April 5.—The condition of Hon. Speaker St. John at three o'clock this morning was unchanged.

The Speaker is fighting a great battle for life and every hour improves his chances.

Provincial Revenue Expands.

Toronto, April 5.—Succession duties in March received by the Provincial Treasury amounted to $194,327.33. In March, 1906, the total was $35,596.74. The first three months of this year have netted $248,932.74, against $133,230.35 for the same period last year.

The Provincial Secretary's department received in the month of March $32,638. Last year in the same month the receipts were $17,328. For the first quarter of 1907 the revenue amounted to $98,667. For the same quarter in 1906 the amount was $50,104.

The large increase in the number of companies incorporated and the promptitude with which fees were paid by companies making annual returns account for the larger revenue.

Freedom For Ireland.

London, April 5.—The Tribune says: "Before the colonial Premiers separate we may expect to see them pass a resolution asking that freedom under the crown which they so fully enjoy shall be extended to Ireland. So far as the Government is concerned the resolution will be not only warmly received, but immediately acted upon.

Charged With Murder.

Montreal, April 5.—Wm. Simpson, the young farmer of Hudson Heights, who shot his two infant children and then tried to kill himself, has been placed under arrest on a charge of murder at the Notre Dame Hospital, where he lies hovering between life and death. He was reported as somewhat better last night.

Jno Haley, 125 West Jackson-st. Hamilton, was painfully crushed by a cave-in at Kay street sewer.

BAD SHOCK AT BITLIS

Earthquake Was Most Severe in Forty Years.

Eight Natives Were Killed—Three Hundred Houses Were Thrown Down—Shaken As In Jaws of Some Monster — Many Scores Wounded—Famine Prices Prevail —Great Poverty and Suffering.

Constantinople, April 5.—The following despatch was received here yesterday from the Rev. Royal M. Cole, head of the American mission at Bitlis:—

Bitlis, Turkish Armenia, April 3.—At ten o'clock in the forenoon of March 29 there burst upon us unannounced the worst earthquake witnessed in forty years in these or the Erzerum volcanic regions. Such was its force that our city seemed to be in the jaws of some monster who would shake us into shreds, as a mastiff does his game.

Down came the plastering, the furniture was overturned, cracks were opened in strong walls, roofs were shattered and rain poured in. During the first day there were fourteen shocks, and they still continue. There have been altogether twenty-eight shocks. Of the 4,000 houses here over 300 have fallen, and half of the remainder have been seriously damaged, about fifty dollars to five hundred dollars being needed to repair each house. The officials report that eight persons were killed by falling walls, but they are all unknown in Bitlis. Many persons were wounded, and many churches, mosques and Government buidings were damaged. The surrounding villages sustained heavy shocks, but it was in the day time, and so there was no great loss of life.

The foreigners at Bitlis are the Russian Consul, Charlotte Ely, Lizzie Cole, and Miss Nellie A. Cole.

Famine prices prevail, and there is great poverty and extreme suffering.

STREWN WITH THE DEAD.

Roads of Roumania Are In a Terrible Condition.

Bucharest, Roumania, April 5.—Tranquility has been restored in most of the revolting districts. Disturbances, however, are reported from the Jalomak district, hitherto quiet; also from the Oltenio district. Troops from Moldavia have arrived in the Mehedinintze department, where the devastation has been widespread. The village of Operishoru has been bombarded.

Rabbi Moses Gaster states that his private advices indicate that the horrors of the Roumanian insurrection far exceed the accounts given in the press despatches. The newspaper correspondents, he says, have not been allowed to go out and see for themselves, but have been forced to put up with the official accounts. "I have just received a letter," said Rabbi Gaster, "from a person who witnessed a conflict between the peasants and the troops in one of the Wallachian townships. He writes me that the roads were covered with the corpses of peasants shot down by the soldiers by means of artillery as well as with rifles. The condition of portions of Wallachia must be terrible. The cheerful optimism of the authorities does not count much to me."

ATTEMPTED SUICIDE.

Young Woman Tries to Take Her Own Life.

Toronto, April 5.—Jennie Goldbeck, a young woman of comely appearance, was arrested yesterday afternoon on a charge of attempting to commit suicide. Until recently she has been living with two other girls above a Chinaman's laundry on Church street.

Her companions were married one day last week, and the other on Tuesday to two Chinaman who visited the laundry.

Miss Goldbeck was taken in hand by the Salvation Army, and for the past few days had been living at the army's home at 25 Esther street.

Shortly before noon yesterday one of the attendants missed her, and on investigating found her lying on the bed of a room with the gas jet turned on.

Medical attendance was summoned, and the young woman revived. She was afterwards taken to No. 3 police station.

HIT AT THE RAILWAYS.

To Take Action at Instigation of Lord's Day Alliance.

Toronto, April 5.—At the suggestion of the Lord's Day Alliance, Crown Attorney Drayton will take action against at least two, and possibly three, of the Canadian railways.

These actions will be lodged to prevent making up trains on Sunday, shunting, forcing employes to work seven days a week, and unnecessary repair work.

A special effort will be made to secure relief for telegraphers. One case is reported of a man who has worked 15 years without a day off. To fag, on the part of operators, many accidents were traceable.

Sir Wilfrid at Montreal.

Montreal, April 5.—The Ministerial special reached here last evening from Ottawa at 6.30 and five minutes later the special left for St. John, N. B.

On board were Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Sir Frederick and Lady Borden, Hon. L. P. and Madame Brodeur and their attendants.

The train left earlier than was expected, hence a great many people who intended to greet the Prime Minister failed to reach the depot.

Sir Wilfrid, although thin, seemed hale and hearty, and there was no sign of anxiety on his face.

Perishes In Grass Fire.

Binghamton, N. Y., April 5.—Avery Woughter, a farmer, living near Campville, was burned to death yesterday in the fire which totally destroyed his home, barn and farm buildings. The fire started from burning grass.

Jos E. Ayala, ex-chief of police, of Guines, Havana province, Cuba, was assassinated at Guines.

TO VALIDATE TITLES.

Licenses to Be Restricted—Local Measures Finally Passed.

Toronto, April 5.—By the bill presented to the Legislature by the Attorney-General, Hon. Mr. Foy, yesterday the purchasers of Cobalt and Kerr lakes are to be protected from litigation from parties alleging prior discoveries or claims.

In presenting the measure Mr. Foy explained that last year orders in Council were passed withdrawing these lakes from exploration and the present bill enacts that persons alleging prior claims may be dealt with only by the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council.

Mr. Cameron (West Huron) and Hon. Mr. MacKay took exception to the principle of the bill. They charged that the bill was an interference with the legal claims of the Florence Mining Co.

Hon. Mr. Whitney said the alleged discovery was subsequent to the withdrawal of the lakes from prospecting operations by order in Council.

Hon. Mr. MacKay said it was a matter of principle. Either the Government sold a good title or a bad one.

Hon. Mr. Foy declared the honor of the Province demanded the protection of the bona fide purchasers.

Ontario Election Act.

The Attorney-General also introduced a bill to amend the Ontario election act—a measure technical in character.

The following measures were given their third readings:

Respecting Brampton and the Public Library Board—Mr. Smith.

To incorporate the Women's Christian Temperance Association of Belleville—Mr. Morrison.

Respecting St. George's cemetery in the township of Bentinck, Grey county—Mr. Jamieson.

Respecting the town of Berlin—Mr. Lackner.

To Limit Sale of Liquor.

Mr. Thompson (Wentworth) moved the second reading of his bill to amend the Liquor License Act, by prohibiting any retail licensee from having any agent or disposing of any liquor outside of the municipality in which he has his license.

Hon. Mr. Hanna said the bill was merely a discrimination in favor of the wholesaler, which he was sure was not the intention of the mover. He asked a withdrawal of the bill.

Mr. Thompson said a retailer in Hamilton had established a so-called agency at Dundas in competition with a retailer who paid his regular license.

Mr. Hanna replied that the case in question was now under the department's consideration.

With Hon. Mr. Hendrie, the Provincial Minister of Railways, at the helm the following railway bills were piloted through the committee stage:

To incorporate the Ontario Inter-Urban Raiway Co.—Mr. Currie.

To incorporate the Owen Sound, Shallow Lake and Wiarton Railway Co.—Hon. Mr. MacKay.

Respecting the Nepigon Railway Co.—Mr. Gamey.

Respecting the Ottawa River Railway Co.—Mr. Preston.

To incorporate the Thessalon and Northern Railway Co.—Mr. Smyth.

Respecting the Petrolea Rapid Railway Co.—Mr. Preston (Brant).

Respecting the Pembroke Southern Railway Co.—Mr. Dunlop.

To incorporate the Stratford and St. Joseph Radical Railway Co.—Mr. Aubin.

DEFY LEMIEUX BILL.

Striking Coal Miners Will Be Liable to Penalties Provided.

Ottawa, April 5.—The strike in the Nova Scotia coal mines seems to be going on in defiance of the Lemieux bill. The Minister of Labor telegraphed yesterday morning, pointing out that if an investigation was not asked for before a strike, then the parties would be subject to the penalties of the bill.

Huge Timber Deal.

Winnipeg, April 5.—Mr. Weyhauser, the millionaire lumberman of Buffalo, has purchased from the Rat Portage Lumber Co. the timber limit owned by them on the Canadian Northern Railway at Banning. The deal was closed for $1,500,000, and is one of the largest ever put through.

Want a New Province.

Fort Frances, Ont., April 5.—A big mass meeting of both political parties was held at Emo Wednesday evening to initiate the movement in New Ontario of secession from the old province and forming a new one embracing Algoma, Nipissing, Thunder Bay and Rainy River districts.

Rev. H. B. Christie, Methodist, was presented with $140 by his congregation at Port Elgin.

Perished in Flames at Big Hotel Fire in 'California

Twenty Burned to Death in San Francisco Hotel.

Many Were Injured—Spectators Did Noble Work—Rescued Buried Victims From Blazing Ruin—Caught While Asleep and Roasted to Death—Men Leapt From Windows—Loss Estimated at $40,000.

San Francisco, April 5.—Twenty men were burned to death and twenty others injured in a fire which destroyed an Italian hotel at Seventeenth and Connecticut streets, in the Potrero district, early yesterday. The injured were of the laboring class, and were asleep in their rooms when the fire started. Before they could be aroused, the flames had spread through the building. The walls fell and the inmates were buried in the ruins, twenty being taken out dead and dying. People from other hotels in the vicinity rushed to the assistance of the buried victims and succeeded in rescuing all of them from the flaming timbers. Automobiles brought into service and the injured rushed to the Potrero Emergency Hospital, where several died while awaiting treatment.

Fire Started In Kitchen.

The fire that destroyed the Geneva Hotel is believed to have started in the kitchen, and had gained great headway before it was discovered. There were over 100 lodgers in the building, which burned like tinder, and most of those who lost their lives were caught while asleep and roasted to death. So rapidly did the fire spread that it was impossible to do much in the way of rescue, and even when the fire apparatus arrived, the blaze was so fierce that the firemen were hardly able to place ladders against the walls. They did, however, manage to save a number of people on the very top storey. In the work of rescue W. A. Cole, a fireman, was thrown from a ladder, and it is believed fatally injured.

Jumped From Windows.

The majority of the injured were hurt in leaping from the upper windows. A number of women are reported to have been in the building, and all of them are believed to have perished.

The exact number of the dead cannot yet be ascertained, but the proprietor of the house is quoted as saying that it is more than twelve.

One of the women who met death is said to be Mrs. Filipo, wife of the proprietor.

An adjoining lodging house, at 118 Kentucky street, also was destroyed. There were forty-five men sleeping in this place, but all of them are believed to have escaped.

The property loss is estimated at $40,000.

Besides the known dead, these are missing: The cook, Mrs. Rosa Bezola, an unknown woman, and a boy of four and a girl of eight.

THIRTY FIREMEN HURT.

Explosion At New York Fire Threw Debris On Them.

New York, April 5.—Thirty firemen, among them Chief Croker and Deputy Chief Guerin, were injured by falling debris, and damage estimated at $50,000 was caused by a fire in the five-storey building at 159 Maiden lane yesterday. Only two of the injured men were severely hurt. They are Andrew Swerts, assistant foreman, and David Murphy, a fireman. Both are in a hospital with badly crushed and lacerated bodies. Nearly a hundred firemen were at work on the burning building when an explosion ripped off the roof, tore out the front wall of the building from the fourth storey up, and shook portions of two other walls down into the street. At the sound of the explosion the firemen fled, but thirty of them were caught in the crush of falling debris.

Captured by Tribesmen.

Tangier, April 5.—A son of Gen. Delbriel, Governor of the Spanish fortress of Alhuemas, on the Moroccan coast, was recently beaten and captured by tribesmen at Devasse, Morocco. Some soldier in the service of the rebellious leader Roghi, came up during the disturbance and made everybody prisoner. The Spanish general in command at Melilla is making representations to Roghi for the release of the prisoners, but so far without success.

Slightly Improved.

Toronto, April 4.—At a late hour last night Mr. Speaker St. John seemed slightly improved.

An official at the hospital said the vitality shown by Mr. St. John was something remarkable, and that in the face of the strong fight he had already made for life, it was impossible to give up hope. This is the feeling of all the doctors. They do not attempt to minimize the very critical state the patient is in, or the developments which a few hours may bring about, but unite in saying that the case is not yet hopeless.

Cuban Leader Assassinated.

Havana, April 4.—Jos. E. Ayala, ex-chief of police of Guines, Havana Province, was assassinated at Guines yesterday. He led the Government forces near Guines during the August revolution, thereby incurring so much enmity that he went to Mexico, from which country he had just returned.

Eaten By Cats.

Vancouver, B.C., April 4.—Herbert Lobley, a well known resident of Central Park, was found dead on the floor of his house, with his face and hands eaten off by cats. He had not been seen for a week. His brother went to the house and found his dead body on the floor, with three cats in the same room.

Peterborough Historical Society Elected Secretary

Mr. T. J. Wallace Will Succeed Mr. T. A. S. Hay Who Has Resigned—Annual Meeting Will be Held Next Thursday Night—President Col. H. C. Rogers Resigns.

A meeting of the Peterborough Historical Society was held last night in the Y.M.C.A. parlors. It was intended that it should be the annual meeting, but the rules governing the Society require a longer notice to be given, so the election of officers and presentation of reports were left over until another meeting to be held next Thursday night. There was, however, a fair attendance, and some business was put through.

Mr. T. A. S. Hay, who has been the secretary, and a most efficient one, ever since the Society was organized in 1896, has resigned. His explanation is that his duties as city engineer are now so numerous and require so much of his time, that he cannot possibly do justice to the office. Every member of the Society regretted it exceedingly but under the circumstances the resignation was accepted.

Another secretary was appointed last night in the person of Mr. T. J. Wallace, of the Public School teaching staff. Mr. Wallace's term will expire on Thursday night next the date of the annual meeting, but the appointment was made on the understanding that it would be re-made at that time.

Col. H. C. Rogers, president of the Peterborough Historical Society since its organization in 1896, has also tendered his resignation, to take effect at the annual meeting. Col. Rogers does not intend to take less interest in the work of the association, but he has been the president for so many years and his belief has always been that the honor should be passed around. He would like very much to see Mr. Hay made his successor. Mr. Hay has done an immense amount of work for the Society and is entitled to the first position. Col. Rogers has also been elected president of the Provincial Historical Association with which the Peterborough society is affiliated, and he does not care to assume all the honorary offices.

The meeting was adjourned until next Thursday night at 8 o'clock, when the officers will be elected.

Easter Social Functions in Havelock Were Very Successful

Over $125 Received From the Assembly for Furnishing the New Town Hall—St. John's Church Vestry Meeting To-night—Easter Visitors at Home.

Special to the Review.

Havelock, April 4.

The big Easter assembly which took place in the opera house on Monday night was a decided success, about 125 couples being in attendance. The hall was beautifully decorated with flags and bunting for the occasion. There were guests from outside points present and were highly delighted with the way the dance was carried out and the extreme hospitality of their hosts. A dainty luncheon was served at 12 o'clock in the basement and then the dance was continued on on into the small hours of the morning. Wilson's orchestra, of Peterborough, supplied excellent music for the occasion and Mr. Archie Moore, of that city, officiated as floor manager.

The receipts, which are to go towards the decoration and furniture for the town hall amounted to over $125.

The Woman Missionary Society of the Methodist church will hold a social evening in the school room of the church on Monday evening of next week, 8th inst.

VESTRY MEETING.

The annual vestry meeting of St. John's will be held on Friday evening of this week at 8 o'clock, when the wardens will present their statement of finances for the past year.

AN AT HOME.

The Havelock A.F. & A.M. lodge will entertain their friends to an "At Home" in the Havelock opera house on Monday evening of next week, April 8th inst. Mr. F. Mr O. Johnston, of the Union Bank, Warkworth, is visiting at his home here.

EASTER SERVICES.

The Easter services in St. John's church were largely attended. The number of communicants was large and an excellent sermon was preached by the rector, Rev. H. Caplan, in the evening. Instead of a sermon at the morning services Mr. Caplan read a poem on "Easter," written by himself for the occasion. The special Easter music was of high order. The chancel was decorated with large ferns and palms, while the altar was beautiful with Easter lilies, artistically arranged, the whole presenting a very beautiful appearance.

Mr. T. McWilliams spent Thursday in Marmora.

Mr. Alex. Ennis is spending a few days with friends in Peterborough.

TWELVE MEN INJURED.

Molten Metal At Dominion Steel Co. Went Over Them.

Sydney, N.S., April 5.—An explosion occurred at the open hearth furnaces of the Dominion Iron and Steel Co. yesterday morning, in which twelve men were injured, of whom many had been so badly hurt as to cause their removal to the hospital.

The door of one of the furnaces could not be opened when the heat was ready to be taken out, in consequence of which the metal exploded scattering molten iron and brick in every direction.

The men were working about, and those nearest the furnace were the more seriously injured. Two of those taken to the hospital may be fatally injured.

Boon to Sewing Women.

"The most sensible invention that I know of," said the woman who makes her own clothes, "is the little leather thimble for the first finger of the left hand. Every woman who sews knows how soon that finger becomes disreputable and untidy because of the frequent needle prints which it gets. The work is always held over that finger, and the needle is constantly taking off little slices of it or jabbing into it. At first it is sore, but soon reaches the callous and unsightly stage where the fiercest jab does not affect it. But it looks dreadful, and I know more than one woman who will not sew much because of it. They are proud of their hands and say they simply can't stand having a chawed up left forefinger. The leather thimble solves the difficulty."

Soo Still Ice Bound.

Detroit, April 5.—Although two big steamers are in the ice at the entrance of Soo River at Detour, and more are coming, the opening of Lake Superior navigation is not expected until April 12 or 15.

The ice from the Soo to Detour is from 12 to 15 inches thick. Above, the ice remains almost solid to Parisian Island. A drizzling rain set in yesterday and has commenced to soften the ice.

WEDDING BELLS

RUSSELL—PRESTON

A very pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Preston, Napanee, on Thursday morning, March 28th, at 10.30 o'clock, when their second daughter, Florence Edith, was joined in matrimony to Alfred Lindsay Russell M.D., of Bailieboro, Ont. in the presence of a number of relatives and friends. The bride is one of our most popular young ladies and looked beautiful in white chiffon over taffeta, with trimmings of lace, and wore the conventional bridal veil and carried a shower bouquet of white roses. The bride's going away dress was of brown broadcloth, with trimmings of brown braid and a smart hat to match. She was assisted by her sister, Miss Ethel A. Preston, gowned in white organdie, trimmed with valenciennes lace and tucks, wreath of pink roses and carrying a bouquet of pink roses. Dr. Lindsay Webb, Brighton, assisted the groom. Misses Hazel Leonard and Alice Preston, in white organdie, with wreaths of white roses, acted as ribbon girls. Miss Templeton played the wedding march. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. R. Conn, M.A. The house was beautifully decorated with plants and cut flowers, the ceremony being performed under a floral bell, the celebrating parties and minister standing in front of a bank of palms. The groom's gift to the bride was a pearl of pearls, and to the bridesmaid, flower girls, and organist, handsome pearly pins. After the ceremony dainty refreshments were served, and congratulations extended, the happy couple taking the 1.38 train for Montreal. The popularity of the bride was evidenced by the beautiful collection of presents.—Napanee Beaver.

The Chatham Board of Education unanimously decided in favor of abolishing entrance examinations to collegiate institutes.

NO HURRY FOR SETTLEMENT.

Scottish Advice to Mr. Bryce Re Canada and United States.

London, April 5.—(C. A. P.)—The Dundee Advertiser says if Bryce wishes a quiet life he will not aim at settlements at all. The truth about Canada is, she is becoming too big to have her differences with the United States settled for her, even if not quite big enough to settle them herself, and as the outstanding questions have lasted a long time without grave injury to anybody no great harm can be done by keeping them suspended. Meanwhile Canada will be growing up.

London, April 4.—Liverpool and London cables are steady at 11c to 12c per lb., dressed weight; refrigerator beef is quoted at 9c to 9¼c per lb.

Toronto Live Stock.

Toronto, April 4.—Receipts of live stock at the City Market since Tuesday last were large, over 100 carloads, but not being able to get the returns from the G.T.R. we cannot give a detailed statement.

Exporters.

There were not many straight loads of exporters offered. Prices ranged from $5 to $5.20. Export bulls sold at $3.75 to $4.35 per cwt. The market for bulls is not good, especially for those that are half fat and too heavy for butchers, and not good enough in quality to ship. These bulls are slow of sale and seemingly are not wanted for feeding purposes.

Butchers.

Considering the quality and heavy receipts there was a good trade for butchers' cattle, as there was a fair demand for outside points. Prime selected lots of butchers' cattle, weighing about 1200 lbs., sold from $4.90 to $5.15 per cwt., and one or two lots at $5.20; but it must be remembered that there were few reached the latter price—not fifty out of all the offerings. Loads of good, $4.60 to $4.80 per cwt.; medium to fair, $4.25 to $4.50; good cows, $4 to $4.50; fair cows, $3.50 to $3.85; common cows, $2.50 to $3.25.

Feeders and Stockers.

H. Murby reports a fair amount of trading in this line, with prices strong for anything of quality. The supply was somewhat limited, and more of the good kind would have sold.

Mr. Murby bought about 200 head yesterday and to-day at prices ranging from $4.50 to $4.75 per cwt. for feeders from 1050 to 1150 lbs.; $4 to $4.25 for feeders ranging from 900 to 950 lbs.; $3.50 to $4 for stockers from 600 to 800 lbs.

Milch Cows.

The bulk of the offerings of milkers and springers has been of common to medium quality, and prices have ruled accordingly. Prices have ranged from $30 to $55 each, with a large proportion selling from $35 to $45. To-day it was said that one or two cows brought $60. There were two carloads shipped to St. Mary's by Fred and J. L. Rountree that were bought at prices ranging from $30 to $53 per head.

Veal Calves.

Prices for the general run of veal calves were easier, owing to the fact that there were about 500 reported on sale. The general quality of those on sale was not good. Prices ranged from $3 to $6 per cwt. for the general run, but a prime new milk-fed calf would bring $7 per cwt.

Sheep and Lambs.

The run was light, and prices firm. Export ewes, $5 to $5.25 per cwt.; rams, $4 to $4.25; yearling lambs, $7.25 to $7.75 for those of good quality, and 100 picked lambs, 75 of which were ewes and wethers, sold at $8 per cwt. to a Hamilton butcher. This was the highest quotation given for Ontario lambs this season.

Hogs.

Mr. Harris quoted prices unchanged at $6.90 per cwt. for selects and $6.55 for lights and fats, with market weak and prospects for lower quotations.

East Buffalo Cattle Market.

East Buffalo, April 4.—Cattle—Slow; prime steers, $5.60 to $6.10; butchers, $4.50 to $5.35; stockers and feeders, $3.50 to $4.50.

Veals—Receipts, 500; active and 25c higher; $4.50 to $9.25.

Hogs—Receipts, 3500; active; pigs steady; others 10c higher; heavy, mixed, yorkers, $7.20 to $7.25; pigs, $7.10 to $7.15; roughs, $6 to $6.35; stags, $4.75 to $5.25.

Sheep and lambs—Receipts, 4000; active; sheep steady; lambs and yearlings, 25c higher; lambs, $5 to $8.60; yearlings, $7.75 to $8; wethers, $6.25 to $6.75; ewes, $4.75 to $6.25; sheep, mixed, $3 to $6.35.

New York Live Stock.

New York, April 4.—Beeves—Receipts, 241; no trading in live cattle; feeling steady.

Calves—Receipts, 600; demand only fair; market weak to 25c lower; veals, $6 to $9.25; fed calves, $4.

Sheep and lambs—Receipts, 11,088; market full steady; sheep, nominal; good lambs, $8.60; clipped do., $7.25.

Hogs—Receipts, 2040; market firm; prime light state hogs, $7.35.

Chicago Live Stock.

Chicago, April 4.—Cattle—Receipts, 2000; dull; common to prime steers, $4 to $7; cows, $3.25 to $5; heifers, $3 to $5.35; bulls, $3.40 to $4.60; calves, $2.75 to $5.70; stockers and feeders, $3 to $5.05.

Hogs—Receipts, 18,000; 5c higher; choice heavy shippers, $6.87½ to $6.90; light butchers', $6.87½ to $6.90; choice light, $6.82½ to $6.85; packing, $6.40 to $6.85; bulk of sales, $6.85 to $6.87½.

Sheep—Receipts, 12,000; 10c higher; sheep, $4.25 to $6.60; yearlings, $5.25 to $7.25; lambs, $6.25 to $8.30.

St. John, N. B., April 5.—The C. P. R. steamer Montezuma, in command of Captain Birschman, arrived in port Wednesday with 2,161 passengers. This is the largest number of passengers ever landed here from one steamer, and it is also a record from the fact that there was not a single case of sickness during the voyage.

The passengers were all steerage, the larger portion being Galicians and Italians, with a sprinkling of Germans, Hollanders and Belgians. All but 78 are going to the Canadian west.

The Donaldson liner Cassandra, the big new boat of the Donaldson fleet, also reached port yesterday morning from Glasgow with 785 passengers.

Little Hope For Drummond.

Cobalt, April 5.—Dr. Drummond is in a critical condition, Dr. Schmidt of Cobalt reports that his patient has a fighting chance, but the outlook is not regarded as promising.

Dr. Drummond had not been feeling well all Monday morning and went to his room about 11 o'clock. He was found on his back unconscious and he has remained in that condition ever since. His right side is completely paralyzed.

Two Great Orators of the Dominion

Mr. D. Kennedy Ably Lectures on Howe and McGee

There was a large attendance at the Young Conservative club rooms last evening when Mr. Dawson Kennedy gave an impressive and highly instructive address on Joseph Howe, the great Nova Scotian, and Thomas D'Arcy McGee, the celebrated Irish Canadian. Ald. Harry Phelan acceptably presided and a splendid musical programme was carried out. Mr. Walter Stocker sang "The Boys of the Old Brigade," in good voice. Mr. Frank Clarke contributed two excellent selections on the banjo, which were cordially received. Mr. Peter Gardiner gave a humorous Scotch reading in fine style, and Mr. Frank Pratt was heard to advantage in two stirring songs. He was liberally applauded. Mr. J. E. Dickerson, ably played the accompaniments.

Mr. Kennedy in the short time at his disposal was only able to throw some sidelights on the careers of Howe and McGee. Howe was born in Halifax in 1804, his father being of United Empire Loyalist stock. He had not any advantages in his youth and never went to school after the age of thirteen years, but developed into a remarkably well educated man and a great orator. How attracted much attention from Lord Dalhousie, the Governor who took a special interest in the bright, fearless and studious lad. At the age of 20 Howe began the publication of the Nova Scotian. He was clear, forcible and earnest writer and he made some strong attacks on the famous "Council of twelve," and the upper classes for their duplicity and malfeasance of office so far as the interest and welfare of the public were concerned. He was sued for criminal libel and, finding no lawyer that would undertake his case Howe borrowed legal books and read law constantly for some days. He defended his own case and held the judge and jury spellbound by his forensic eloquence, although it was the first speech that he had ever made. He scored a signal victory and the people rejoiced in his triumph of popular rights. Mr. Kennedy read extracts from Howe's speeches which were much appreciated by those present. Hon J. W. Longley, of Nova Scotia, has written an interesting biography of Howe, whose representations to the Queen were so forcible that he was successful in having two Governors recalled. Mr. Kennedy added that "Joseph Howe was the greatest Canadian that was ever born in Canada." We have had many great Canadians, but all were not born in this country. Howe never wrote a sentence or a word in his paper which he was forced to take back. He never penned a line that was not perfectly clear in its meaning."

Although Howe was opposed to the confederation scheme of Sir John A. Macdonald because he did not believe that his native province was receiving full justice, he attended a conference called by himself in Charlottetown to consider a union of the maritime provinces. He also wrote and spoke favoring a great Canadian confederation. He was the great champion of the people and the hero of representative government and undoubtedly the greatest orator Canada ever had. Mr. Howe did not oppose confederation; simply did not agree with Sir John A. Macdonald's plan. Howe died in 1873.

Thomas D'Arcy McGee was born in Ireland in 1825 and was assassinated in Ottawa in 1868. As an orator he was not surpassed by any. McGee in his youth said some things for which he was afterwards sorry. Mr. Kennedy read several extracts from the speeches of the great Irish-Canadian orator and statesman. The speaker had the pleasure of listening to McGee when he spoke in the old market hall here, afterwards known as Hill's music hall, which stood about where the present market scales are. Mr. Kennedy said he would never forget the eloquence and perfervid oratory which characterized McGee's utterances. He left a deep impression upon all. McGee made many speeches in the Canadian legislative chambers breathing of intense loyalty and devotion to the Empire. He met his death when returning to his boarding house in Ottawa on April 12th 1868. Mr. Kennedy said he would like to review the lives of Howe and McGee at greater length but he was not able to do so in one short evening and he had endeavored only to give a brief outline of their careers, particularly so far as their records on the Canadian platform and in the field of Canadian oratory and eloquence was concerned.

A hearty vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Kennedy for his able and instructive address. The resolution was moved by Mr. J. H. Burnham and seconded by Mr. Peter Gardiner and unanimously carried. The gathering broke up with the singing of the national anthem.

Dufferins May Not Come Here

Brantford Regiment May Not be Able to Finance the Trip

In reference to the invitation extended by the Peterborough Rangers to the Dufferin Rifles to visit this city on May 24th, the Brantford Expositor says:

The Expositor asked Colonel Ashton about the matter. The Colonel said, "No invitation has been received yet. The matter is largely one of finance. It would have to come before the officers for consideration before any statement can be made.

Locally it is thought that while officers and men would be delighted to make the trip, it will hardly be possible to finance it at the present time.

Gallery for St. Andrew's Church —Board of Managers Met

The Board of Managers of St. Andrew's church transacted considerable business at a regular meeting last night. Numerous accounts were disposed of and several other matters cleared up.

The question of enlarging the seating accommodation of the church by putting in a gallery, was not discussed last night, but it is expected that something will be done regarding the matter at an early date. The church is taxed to its utmost capacity every Sunday and it is known that many more would attend if there was more seating accommodation.

HARRY ADAMS

The Star Chamber Methods Of the Board of Education

The Board of Education have developed a new way of doing business—a way that is not calculated to win them the confidence and support of the citizens.

The Board of late have been in the habit of meeting in "committee of the whole." The press representatives are informed that these sessions are secret, and the reporters therefore have to take their leave.

Generally before the regular meeting of the trustees is concluded they revert to "open session" for a few minutes, when merely routine business is transacted and formal reports presented. The newspaper men are privileged to attend these pro forma proceedings, but as to what goes on in "committee of the whole" they are completely in the dark.

Why should the Board of Education transact the bulk of their business in camera? Why these closed doors? Surely important matters affecting the interest and welfare of the city's educational institutions and progress should be considered in open session. Is there anything to screen? Can any good reason be advanced?

The City Council when the members meet in committee, do not do so sub rosa. The public and press representatives are not excluded.

The Board of Education convenes in private when in "committee of the whole." Why? Again, all committee meetings of the City Council are open. In the Board of Education this is not the case. Both the Council and the Board of Education are public, deliberative bodies, and why should they not pursue the same method of administering the business of the ratepayers?

In the City Council when tenders are wanted for supplies, or for any public work, the names of all persons who tender, and the figures in connection with the same are published. Nothing is kept back. The public, the men who tender on the work, and all others interested desire to know the amount of the different bids for the various contracts.

How do the members of the Board of Education act in this matter? Last night, at the general meeting of that body, only the names of the successful contractors and their figures were given out.

The Review applied to-day to the chairman of the Board, the chairman of the Collegiate Institute Committee, and the chairman of the North Ward school extension committee to obtain a complete list of all those who tendered on the Collegiate Institute and North Ward school jobs. Did these chairmen consent to give out the names and figures? No. They merely gave a definite assurance that the jobs have been let to the lowest tenderer in each case and that, if the unsuccessful contractors wished to learn the figures, they could do so by applying to the secretary-treasurer of the Board.

Is there any justifiable plea, any valid excuse for withholding the information from the public? If the City Council attempted to pursue such a course what a hue and cry would be raised! Is the Board of Education going to follow such a proceeding as in the present instance without one word of protest? Can that body go on holding its committee meetings and "committee of the whole" gatherings behind closed doors? The ratepayers decidedly object to such star chamber methods.

Public business is public business whether in the city council, the water commission, or the would-be secretive Board of Education.

The ratepayers demand to know what is going on and as long as the trustees meet behind tiled doors in "committee of the whole" more or less suspicion and fault finding are likely to come to the surface. There is nothing to hide, nothing to conceal, is what the trustees will say. If so, then why exclude the press representatives from the meetings, allowing them to be present only when routine business is transacted.

It is time to call a halt and that time is now at hand.

It is stated that two tenders were received for the Collegiate Institute building. The name of the successful firm is given. Who was the other tenderer and what was his figure?—no information from the Board for the public!

For the heating six tenders were received. Who were they and what were their figures? Again no information from the Board for citizens, who are paying the cost of the new structure.

For the plumbing three tenders; only one name is given out. Who were the other two and what did they ask for the work? Again the information is withheld by the Board. What for?

For the electric wiring two persons tendered. The name of the successful one is published. Who was the other bidder and what was his figure? Echo alone answers.

The only names and figures that should have been suppressed last ction with the heating, which con- night—if any at all—were in connec tract was not awarded, as the committee said the figures were in excess of what they anticipated, and they deemed it advisable to give the matter more consideration.

This plea may hold good in this specific instance, but the same argument cannot be advanced for secrecy with respect to the tenders for the building itself, the plumbing and the electric wiring.

There were four tenders for the six-room addition to the north ward school. The name of one is alone furnished. Why were the figures of the other tenders not given out?

The same state of affairs prevails anent the heating and plumbing for the proposed extension, five tenders being put in in one case and four in the other.

Gentlemen of the Board of Education, the public expects higher and better things of you than transacting the ratepayers' business in this clandestine fashion. The public expects that your committee meetings and gatherings, "in committee of the whole," will be open and above board.

The days of the secret cabal, the star chamber, the oligarchy and bureaucracy are over.

Nomal School Site Will Not Likely be Taken From the Park

Deputation Waited Upon Government Officials—Building May be Erected Among the Trees—Question Will Not be Opened.

"While in Toronto yesterday, Mayor McWilliams and City Solicitor E. H. D. Hall, waited upon the Deputy Ministers and Officials of the Public Works Department, and Department of Education. The object was to ascertain the feeling of these officials in regards to accepting a new site for the Normal School. The information they gained, and the opinions expressed by the officials were purely of a private character, and the Mayor was not at liberty to disclose them.

The present position of the matter now is, that last Saturday, the Provincial Architect and the Provincial Engineer were in the city and laid out two sites on the Inxon Park. One was in the hollow and the other was on the hill, among the trees, and about on a line with Mr. Blackwell's house.

To put the building in the hollow would necessitate making the foundations several feet higher than provided in the plans on which the contractors tendered and were awarded the contracts, and therefore the Government would have to bear the additional expense. This extra cost for foundations and filling in would run into several thousands of dollars. It is not likely therefore, that the Government would be prepared to grant any additional money to the Peterborough School, as all four schools now being erected, and any which might be erected would necessarily have to be treated alike.

The site on the hill among the trees would be an ideal one. It would be high, well drained and well shaded in the summer time. It would of course, necessitate the removal of some of the trees, and no doubt a great howl will be sent up by some of the citizens.

As an alternative, said the Mayor, we suggested that the city give the government a piece of property across the road, known as the Fitzgerald property, or a parcel of land just south of the park including Mr. Blackwell's property and the lots in front of it, providing they did not cost too much. Either site to be an addition to the property already deeded to the government."

The result of the conference is that it is not at all likely anything more will be done in the matter. It would not be advisable to open the question up again. To get an additional grant, or to make any changes, would lay the work over for another year. This is not at all advisable or desirable. Therefore the government will be left free to choose its own site.

To Use Museum as Lecture Hall

Messrs. J. E. Hodson and D. Walker Will Deliver Course of Lectures on Nature Study

At the meeting of the Peterborough Historical Society last night Mr. J. E. Hodgson, of the Collegiate Institute teaching staff, was present. He addressed the members upon a course of lectures in "Nature Study" he proposes to deliver to the school teachers in the city. He and Mr. Duncan Walker, Public school inspector, are arranging this course, which will be very beneficial to the teachers, as "Nature Study" has become one of the important subjects in the curriculum, and as it is practically a new one, these lectures should be well attended. Mr Hodgson wished to secure the use of the Historical Society's museum as a lecture hall. He referred to the excellent collection of subjects found there and said it was one of the best that could be found in any city the size of Peterborough. It would answer his purpose exactly, and would be of great assistance to him. The Society, of course, granted the request, and now Mr. Hodgson and Mr. Walker will complete their plans.

CARD OF THANKS

Having disposed of my grocery business (Corner of George and Antrim streets) to Messrs. E. F. Mason & Co. I desire to thank my many customers and friends for the kind patronage so freely given during the last nineteen years. I regret that owing to impaired health, and some other considerations, I have arranged to sever my connections with a business that has had my unceasing care and attention, and that has grown with the growth of the city. I take this means of expressing my thankfulness, as it is impossible to call and do so in person. I also wish to say that the business has been acquired by and is in good hands and I am sure that every care and attention will be given in the future, as I have tried to give in the past. I bespeak for my successors, a trial and a continuation of the patronage so kindly favored to myself, and feel assured, that in larger hands, there will be substantial advantages to the customer.

WEDDING BELLS

ROBBINS—JOHNSTON

The home of Rev. J. C. W. Swan, pastor of the Maple Street Baptist Church, 400 Rhodes Ave., Akron, Ohio, on Friday, March 8th, was the scene of a very pleasing event, it being the occasion of the marriage of Mr. J. Edward Robbins, of Akron, second son of Mr. S. Robbins, Markston, Ont., and Miss Eva Maud Johnston, eldest daughter of Mrs. R. J. Johnston, of Lakefield, Ont., formerly of Pontypool. The ceremony was performed promptly at eight o'clock, in the presence of a few immediate relatives. The couple were unattended. The bride was becomingly gowned in white, and carried brides' roses. Immediately following the ceremony, the bridal party went to the home of the groom's uncle, Mr. and Mrs. N. G. Dickson, 479 West Market Street, where an elegant wedding supper was served. The number of useful and costly presents received, show in what esteem the bride and groom were held. Mrs. Robbins will be greatly missed by a large circle of friends. Mr. and Mrs. Robbins, will make their future home in Akron.

An Enterprising Hen is This One

Got Busy To-day and Laid a Twin Egg.

Mr. Arthur Blodgett, who resides on Downie street, has in his possession a rare curiosity in the form of a twin egg. It was laid this morning by a black Minorca hen and in shape greatly resembles a miniature dumb bell. The two eggs are connected by a short neck. They are average sized eggs. Mr. Blodgett prizes the curio very much. He has never seen anything like it before, and it certainly is a freak of nature.

DATE SET FOR ANNUAL MEETING

Of Provincial Historical Society is July 18 and 19.

The annual meeting of the Provincial Historical Society will be held this year at Adolphus Town, on the Bay of Quinte. The date has been set for July 18 and 19, and it is hoped a large delegation from Peterborough will attend.

Adolphus Town is a point of great historical interest, as it was at this point that the United Empire Loyalists landed and erected the first church. The church stands today as a monument to the great migration of loyal British subjects.

High Scores in Doubles Contest

Boyd and Frost of Peterborough Headed the List Last Night

Tommy Boyd and C. E. Frost are third on the honor roll in the doubles at the Canadian Bowling Tournament in Toronto. Yesterday they rolled the splendid total of 1087, the highest score of the evening in the doubles. There were sixteen pairs rolling and it is highly creditable to the Peterborough men that they headed the list. Their scores were:

Boyd, 202, 181, 191.
Frost, 168, 149, 187.
Total, 1087.

Regarding the doubles, the World says,—"Boyd and Frost put on a total of 1087 yesterday afternoon and are third on the list. By the way, Boyd has the nicest hook ball yet seen here. Out of the sixteen pairs there were only four in addition to the Peterborough two, who went over the 1000 mark.

In the individual competition yesterday, Frost made a score of 496 and Boyd 443. The scores were,—

	Total
Frost, 147, 167, 181...	496
Boyd, 145, 132, 166	443

These scores are well up in the list.

22 YEARS AGO.

Twenty-two years ago last Tuesday morning the volunteers left Campbellford for service in the Northwest Rebellion. Several of the men are still with us, and the succession of years has not cooled their patriotism a whit. Were the roll called now, a large majority would be missing. When the soldiers left the snow was still deep, the spring being late. Twenty-two years has wrought wonderful changes in the West. The wilderness has been made to blossom as the rose, and the unshorn fields, boundless and beautiful, have been converted into a great agricultural country. Now peace and prosperity prevail and the population in the struggle for wealth, have no time for bickering and strife.—Campbellford Herald.

Opticians Have Grievance Against Board of Education

Several weeks ago Mr. G. N. Babcock, of the Tate Optical Company, wrote the Board of Education and asked for the privilege to visit the local schools and examine the eyes of the pupils free of charge if there were any who wished to have such examination. The Board, after some deliberation, granted Mr Babcock the privilege asked for, subject to the supervision of the inspector, and nothing more was heard about the matter for some time.

At the meeting of the Board last night a letter was read protesting against the Board granting to any one individual the privilege of inspecting the eyes of school pupils. The epistle was signed by Wm. Madill, W. A. Sanderson & Co., A. A. Fowler and J. W. Brewett. The letter pointed out that the members of the Board were elected to guard the interests of the ratepayers of the city, and that they were unwarranted in the action they had taken in extending a privilege to one man, when there were others equally well qualified to do the work

A letter along similar lines was received from Dr. T. P. McCullough, who also pointed out that the Board had not followed a fair course.

Some of the members of the Board were in favor of rescinding the motion passed at the last meeting of the Board granting Mr. Babcock the privilege specified.

Mr Dumble opposed such action being taken. The course the Board had taken in the matter was entirely proper under the circumstances. He had asked for a privilege granting him the right to do something which would, if anything, be beneficial in its effect, and which would not interfere with the regular work in the schools. If the other opticians had asked for the same privilege it would have been granted them. Mr. Babcock had got in first, however, and had shown his enterprise.

Finally it was decided to refre the matter to the Supervision Committee who will report at the next meeting of the Board.

City's Private Bill Passed Private Bills Committee

Taken Up Early Yesterday Morning—Water Commissions' Frontage Tax Goes to the People Next Election—Every One Can Vote on it—T. E. Bradburn, M. P. P. Appreciated.

The city's private bill was passed through the Private Bills committee of the Ontario Legislatrure yesterday morning with no trouble whatever. The deputation, consisting of Mayor McWilliams, and City Solicitor E. H. D. Hall, for the city, and Mr. W. H. Moore, for the Water Commissioners, returned home last night greatly pleased with the results.

The city's bill came up early in the morning and was passed and will be reported to the House at once. The Coates company clause was dropped by request of the city. There were various amendments and re-arrangements of clauses made the last time the bill was up, and these involved a number of verbal changes which the city solicitor and the clerk of the private bills committee, Mr. Wilkinson, went into in detail. With regard to the Water Commissioners application for power to tax vacant property fronting streets on which water mains were laid, brought out three important points. These were: When will the vote of the people be taken to sanction the change?

Who will have the privilege to vote?

What majority will be necessary to carry it?

The answers are:—

The vote will be taken at the next municipal elections.

Every person entitled to vote at municipal elections will be entitled to vote on this question.

A majority of the votes cast will carry the by-law.

This was very satisfactory to the Water Commissioners, as they believe that their request is so reasonable and so generally beneficial to the city that it will be carried by a large majority. The tax on vacant property fronting on water mains will be imposed on the frontage system and will materially increase the revenue. In fact the additional funds thus provided will, the commissioners state, enable them to increase the discount to consumers from 25 per cent. to 33 1-3 per cent.

When His Worship Mayor McWilliams was asked how he felt towards the Whitney Government he said he was extremely pleased with the Private Bills committee. Their treatment of the city's representatives could not have been better. He was delighted with the courtesy and the quick and thorough grasp of the questions at issue and of the fairmindness of the chairman, Mr. I. B. Lucas. In fact he could make no complaint whatever. Mr. T. E. Bradburn, M.P.P., for West Peterborough, deserves great credit for the large share in the work he shouldered. He is very popular with all the members of the Legislature. He was always on hand when Peterborough's interests were being considered and he did a great deal of valuable labor in smoothing the path for the city's deputation and the city's private bill. He spared no pains in doing all in his power to get the bill through and much of the success is due to his influence.

Connect Historical Societies With Educational Department

Provincial Society Has Taken the Matter Up and Will Likely Get it Through—Permanent Secretary to be Appointed and a Grant Made.

A movement is on foot engineered by the Provincial Historical Society of which Col. H. C. Rogers, is the newly elected president, to have the Historical Society affiliated with the Provincial Educational Department. The provincial society has had the matter under consideration for some time and recently interviewed the Ontario Government in connection therewith. It is understood that that deputation received a very encouraging answer and there is little doubt but that their request will be complied with. The matter will not be pushed further, however, until the present session. It will then be taken up again, and in all probability carried into effect.

The movement is one of much importance. The work of the Historical Societies should be part of the Educational Department, as it is of provincial interest, and should be encouraged in every possible way. If the scheme is carried out a permanent secretary, a man who is alive to his duties and capable in every way, will be appointed, for the Provincial Society. One of his chief duties will be to keep in touch with all the branch societies and to see that there work is carried out properly and systematically.

The branch societies will also receive an annual grant to assist them in carrying on their work. The Peterboorugh Society has received grants from the Provincial Government in the past but they were not yearly. The new plan will make them yearly and to all societies affiliated with the Provincial Society, according to their size and amount and nature of their work.

Seven Crews to Bring Down Logs

Peterboro' Lumber Co. Will Cut Mixed Wood of Cavendish Co.

A large number of men went back to the woods this week to bring down the logs that were cut during the past winter. The Cavendish Lumber Company, of Lakefield, will have seven crews and will bring down about 25,000,000 feet. The lakes will soon be open and there will then be nothing to prevent the movement of the logs. The creeks are all reported to be in good shape with regard to water, and an exceptionally good run is anticipated. The Cavendish Co. will cut all the pine in Lakefield, about 15,000,000 feet, while the mixed wood, about 10,000,000 feet, will be cut by the Peterborough Lumber Co. at Peterborough.

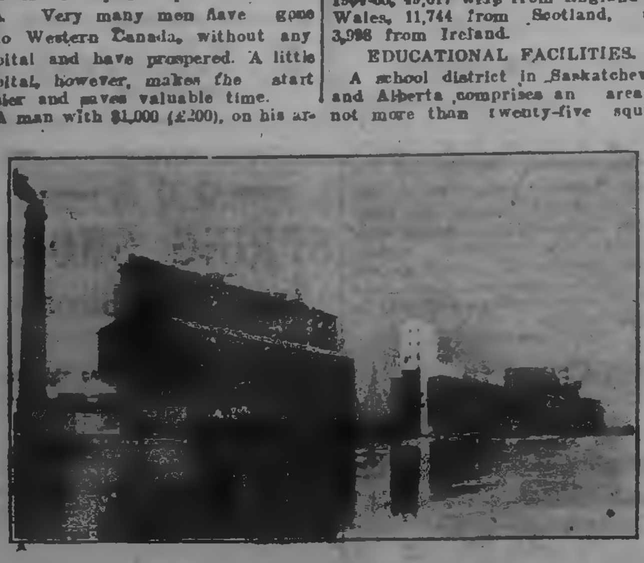
Immigration to the Great West; How it Has Rapidly Increased

Some Interesting Information Regarding the Educational Facilities, the Creameries, Mills and Elevators of the New Inland Empire, as Well as Reference to the Great Need of Farm Help.

In connection with the booklet on "Western Canada, the Granary of Empire," much valuable information is given on "How to Reach It," "How to Obtain Lands" and "How to Make a Home." Any C. P. R. agent will be pleased to hand anyone who desires it a copy of the book. It contains a mine of general information and data to would be settlers and the following general observation is made.—

The question, "How much money is necessary?" is a difficult one to answer. It depends upon circumstances. Very many men have gone into Western Canada, without any capital and have prospered. A little capital, however, makes the start easier and saves valuable time.

A man with $1,000 (£200), on his arrival in Western Canada, can secure 160 acres of free grant land from the Government, or one of the cheaper railway quarter-sections, and with this capital can build a small house, and provide himself with the necessaries of life, until his farm becomes productive.



Canadian Pacific Grain Elevators, Fort William

The best time to arrive in Western Canada, for those who have decided where they will settle, or for young men, expecting employment on a farm, is March. Those wishing to make a prospecting tour with the idea of becoming settlers, should start during the summer or early fall, when the conditions are most favorable for the selection of land.

IMMIGRATION STATISTICS.

The number of immigrants into Manitoba, Saskatchewan, and Alberta, has been increasing steadily for the last few years, a marked feature being the number of settlers from Great Britain, Ireland, and the United States. The official figures for the years, July 1, 1900, to June 30, 1905, are,—

1900-01	49,149
1901-02	67,379
1902-03	128,364
1903-04	130,330
1904-05	146,266

Of the 65,359 British immigrants of 1904-05, 49,617 were from England and Wales, 11,744 from Scotland, and 3,998 from Ireland.

EDUCATIONAL FACILITIES.

A school district in Saskatchewan and Alberta comprises an area of not more than twenty-five square miles, and must contain not less than four resident ratepayers, and twelve children between the ages five and sixteen inclusive. Any three qualified ratepayers may petition for the formation of a school district, and upon its proclamation the ratepayers therein may establish a school and elect trustees to manage it. These trustees have power to erect and equip buildings, engage certified teachers, levy taxes and perform such other acts as may be necessary for the proper conduct of a school.

The classes of schools established are denominated Public and Separate. The minority of the ratepayers in any organized public district, whether Protestant or Roman Catholic, may establish a Separate School therein, and in such case, the ratepayers establishing such Protestant or Roman Catholic Separate School shall be liable only to such rates as they impose upon themselves in respect thereof. Schools are maintained by Legislative grants and by local taxation.

The school year for which grants may be paid does not exceed 210 teaching days. The Legislative grant is paid as follows,—(a) To rural districts: for each day a school, with an average attendance of at least six pupils, is open, $1.20, and for each additional day over 160 days, 40 cents per day, provided that these additional days shall not exceed 50 in number. For a teacher holding a first-class certificate, 10 cents per day for each day such teacher is actually employed in the school; to each school, according to its percentage of attendance, a sum not exceeding 25 cents per day. The grants to village and town schools are similar to the above, except that the grant made for each day a school is open is 90 cents. High Schools receive a special grant of $75.00 a term. Salaries average $47.50 per month. In the programme of studies provision is made for teaching the elementary subjects, and such additional subjects as are required for teachers' examinations and university matriculation. The last half hour of school may be devoted to such religious instruction as the trustees may determine.

A Home in Western Canada

The number of schools in operation January 1, 1903, was 640; January 1, 1904, 743; the pupils enrolled January 1, 1903, were 27,441; January 1, 1904, 33,191; the teachers employed January 1, 1903, were 783; January 1, 1904, 916; the total grants paid the schools in 1903, were $213,764.72, in 1904, $280,000, while the estimates for 1905, provided $305,000 for the same purpose.

Macdonald Manual Training Schools are established at Regina and Calgary for the children of the public schools and for teachers in training.

CROPS OF 1905.

The crop areas and total yields for 1905, in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta were as follows,—

Threshing in Saskatchewan

Wheat, 86,810,400 bushels.
Oats, 66,311,800 bushels.
Barley, 13,447,800 bushels.
Flax, 478,130 bushels.

In addition considerable quantities of peas and rye were produced, the yields being satisfactory, also the usual large crops of potatoes and other roots.

MILLING IN WESTERN CANADA.

Wheat-flour milling is the most important manufacturing interest in Western Canada, and the product not only finds a ready market throughout the whole Dominion, but is exported to Great Britain, Newfoundland, South Africa, China, Japan and Australia. Mills are located at different points throughout the country, one at Keewatin, having a daily capacity of 4,000 barrels, and another at Winnipeg of 3,800 barrels; another mill is being built at Winnipeg with a capacity of 2,000 barrels. The total daily capacity of the mills reaches over 18,000 barrels. Other mills are in course of erection. There are also oatmeal mills in operation at Winnipeg, Portage la Prairie, Brandon, Pilot Mound and Strathcona, having a daily capacity of 750 barrels.

WESTERN CANADA CREAMERIES.

The Department of Agriculture of the Canadian Government at Ottawa continues to manage the creameries in the provinces. There were in operation during 1905 sixteen creameries, with several contributory skimming and cream-collecting stations.

During 1905 the demand for the dairy produce of the North-West increased largely. British Columbia has always been a good market, but now there has been a marked rise in the shipments to the Yukon and the Orient.

Drysland—A One-Year-Old Town of Alberta

The industry is flourishing in Northern Alberta. Three creameries in that district turned out over 100,000 pounds of butter, and one 200,000 lbs. during the summer of 1905, and, judging by the returns for several years past, the annual output is rapidly increasing, amounting to about 100 per cent. over last year.

The Government creameries now in operation are located as follows;—

In Alberta, Beaver Hills, Lacombe, Blackfalds, Red Deer, Innisfail, Tinfastell, Olds, Calgary, Clover Bar, Evarts, Earlville.

In Saskatchewan, Qu'Appelle, Moosomin, Saltcoats, Churchbridge, Tantallon.

The total output and average price of butter at the Government creameries since 1900 has been as follows;—Summer season, 1900, 647,123 lbs., at 20.32c.; 1901, 672,393 lbs. at 19.40c.; 1902, 534,477 lbs. at 19.64c.; 1903, 663,066 lbs. at 19.66c.; 1904, 576,704 lbs. at 20.98c.; 1905, 1,034,900 lbs. The price in 1901 is the highest yet realized, being 1.32c. more than the figures for 1903. Winter seasons, 1900-1, 34,551 lbs. at 23.38c.; 1901-2, 53,691 lbs. at 24.57c.; 1902-03, 80,216 lbs. at 24.34c.; 1903-04, 63,704 lbs. at 24.65c.

In connection with the creameries, the Department undertakes the collection and disposal of eggs on account of their patrons. Eggs are collected at Churchbridge and Saltcoats creameries in Saskatchewan, at Innisfail, Red Deer and Blackfalds creameries in Alberta, the average selling price being a fraction over 17 cents a dozen.

MILLS AND ELEVATORS.

The grain elevator system throughout Canada is perfect, the facilities now existing being sufficient to handle, if necessary, 125,000,000 bushels of grain in less than six months' time. The rapid increase in the storage capacity is one of the best indications of the continuous development of the country's agricultural resources. In 1901 the total storage capacity was 7,628,000 bushels; in 1901, 18,879,352; in 1902, 23,099,000; in 1903, 30,356,400. For the year ending June 30, 1904, the total storage capacity was 41,186,000.

The Canadian Pacific Railway terminal elevators at Fort William have a capacity of 8,493,400 bushels; "D" containing 3,000,000. The seven terminal elevators have a capacity of 15,000,000 bushels; the 912 public country elevators and 64 warehouses, 27,214,000 bushels, the average capacity of these being about 28,000 bushels.

The following is the summary;—

Canadian Pacific Railway.	Bushs.
Ontario	12,217,000
Manitoba	14,078,500
Saskatchewan and Alberta	8,614,000
	34,909,500

INSTRUCTION TO BE FREE

Dairy Instructors to Visit All Cheese Factories and Creameries.

Superintendent G. A. Putnam has returned from Kingston, where the 24 dairy instructors of the province met on Tuesday. They gathered for the purpose of hearing instructions necessary for them in their new capacity of sanitary inspectors. They have been given this position by the change inaugurated by the Act recently passed. In the past the inspection was carried on by several special officers. Last year there were 250 cheese factories and creameries in the eastern part of the province which did not take advantage of the instruction given because a fee was charged. In future there will be no charge because the instructors will visit all factories.—Mail and Empire.

Control Lost of Healey Falls' Power

Says the Campbellford Herald—The Outlook Disappointing

The Campbellford Herald says;

The Northumberland-Durham Power Company, seems to have little prospect of developing the power at Healey Falls.

When the Company was organized it was distinctly understood that the power was not to be transmitted outside the bounds of the united counties. Soon, however, the company sought sale for its power in other counties, offering Belleville and Kingston power.

Now it appears that the Dominion Government has reserved the right to control all navigable waters, and on account of this restriction the powers of the company are nil.

Now the company seems to stand without any jurisdiction over the waterfall. The lease has been cancelled by the Provincial Government because work was not begun at the time stated in the document. So that now the company has at least for a time, lost control of the water privileges.

Needless to say, many corporations are disappointed in this matter, but the system of dams of the Trent Canal, may yet prove the advent of better things. In all probability the Government may supply light and power, and if so this district would receive untold benefit therefrom. Let us hope that this will be done, and that this district will be served with light and power privileges, such as is soon to be enjoyed by the western portion of the Province.

SARTORIAL GRADUATION

The Growth of Art and Aesthetics in Men's Dress.

A man has to graduate from school to college before he can enter the university, just as he has to graduate from the ready made clothier to the custom tailor, before he can appreciate the finer qualities of Semi-Ready tailoring.

No man can tell how cloth in the web will suit his taste and expression when it is made up. That is one Semi-ready idea, to forejudge the effect. The most expensive cloths are used, hence one does not get the cheap and independable in Semi-ready tailoring. Still, the good value of the "Semi-ready" is surprising, for much of the greater cost of fine cloths used is saved in the expert system of a splendid equipment, and one can still save from $5 to $10 on a "Semi-ready" suit as compared with the disappearing custom tailoring.

Class Will Have Examinations

The members of the non-commissioned officers' class of the 57th Regiment, will be examined for proficiency tonight at the drill hall and if their work is satisfactory, certificates entitling them to the rank of sergeant or corporal, as the case may be, will be awarded them.

Generators for Radiator Factory

In Port Hope are Turned Out by C.G.E. Company

The enlargement and rebuilding of the radiator factory in Port Hope, to adapt it to the purposes of the Central Foundry Co., are fast approaching completion and it is expected that the factory will be in full operation next June. The company has already expended $40,000 and it is expected that the initial expense will exceed $100,000.

The factory will be able to turn out one hundred tons of castings a day and will furnish employment for fifty men.

The industry will require much valuable machinery, a considerable amount of which has already been received.

The electric generators are manufactured by the Canadian General Electric Co., of Peterborough. All patterns and flasks are being manufactured by the firm itself.

FRIDAY APRIL 5, 1907.

MINISTERIAL SALARIES

The salaries of the Ministers of the Ontario Government have been increased. All members of the Cabinet holding portfolios will receive an advance of $2000 each. The Prime Minister's salary will be $10,000 a year, and each of the eight other members of the executive $7,000. This includes the sessional indemnity of $1,000.

Mr Whitney, in introducing the measure, frankly said that the Government took full responsibility for its inception. There had been no collusion between the two sides of the House, no consultation or conferences with respect to the question. There would, therefore, be no suspicion of wrong.

The advance is none too large. The province can well afford to adequately remunerate those who have the direction of its affairs. The departmental work has materially increased while the cost of living has been greatly augmented. The province is prospering and should not pay its leaders, those who bear the burden and weight of administering its varied and important affairs, less than is accorded general managers of banks, insurance, railway and manufacturing companies.

Hon. Mr. Graham, leader of the Opposition, stated that he was in full accord with what the Government had done with respect to Ministerial salaries. They had carried on nothing improper, and he added:—

"Any member of the Executive of Ontario Province, who is not worth the money the bill proposes to pay him is not worth the position."

Discussing the question, the Toronto Star, a staunch Liberal organ, says:—"The salary of the Premier of Ontario is increased to $9,000, in addition to the sessional indemnity of $1,000, and the salary of each of his colleagues to $6,000 with the same addition. The increase in each case is $2,000, and it is not more than is warranted by the increase in public business, in the wealth of the province, and in the cost of living. There has also been general approval of the increase in the salaries of civil servants. The rate of remuneration for the best men in the service is still far below that which prevails in financial and commercial establishments. It is wise to keep apart the question of the salaries of executive heads and the question of sessional indemnity. In the former case there is no imperative need to submit the question of increase to the people. Parliament has control over all ordinary expenditures, and is not exceeding its powers when it makes reasonable increases in the salaries of Ministers and members of the civil service."

PEN POINTS

The most popular lady in Peterborough appears to be "Queen Zephra."

The erection of the new Collegiate Institute will now be proceeded with the contract having been let. Everything comes to him who waits.

The Ottawa authorities must not interfere with provincial rights. If so, the Ontario Government has a big gun which will soon demolish the legislative citadel at the Capital.

It is hoped that the proposal of the 57th Regiment to hold a military tournament here on Victoria Day, will be successful. It is many years since a big demonstration was held in Peterborough on any public holiday. The Peterborough Rangers deserve every support in connection with the admirable proposition, which they have in hand.

The bill of Mr. P. H. Bowyer (East Kent) to amend the Liquor License Act, is worthy of support. It prohibits the supplying of intoxicating liquor to anyone under 21 years, except by parent, guardian or physician. This is a sound protection to minors. Mr. Bowyer is also after clubs, who go to Ottawa for incorporation to escape jurisdiction of provincial license regulations. Hon. G. P. Graham, strongly endorsed the principle of Mr. Bowyer's measure.

A movement has been started in England to celebrate the bi-centenary of the birth of Charles Wesley. Though his fame is less than that of his illustrious elder brother, John Wesley, founder of Methodism, his services to the cause of simple, practical Christianity were great and lasting. He was born on Dec. 18, 1708, and was associated nearly all his brother in the great religious revival which has had more influence in the English-speaking world than any movement since the Reformation. A man of fervent piety, a powerful preacher, though simple and limpid in his style, he captivated all who heard him. But it was as an author of sacred hymns that he won the place he occupies in the hearts of the religious people. He wrote a great many hymns, some of which are among the best and most admired in the English language, replete with pious feeling and of lyrical power.

Campbellford Man Looking for Wife

Who Left Him Four and a Half Years Ago

The Toronto Telegram says;

This morning Robert Darragh, of Campbellford, came to the Morality Department at the City Hall to ask the aid of the police to find his wife who left him four and a half years ago with his three small children.

This is the second time he has come to ask the department to find his missing spouse. He heard she was working in a departmental store, probably under her maiden name of Lena May Frayer. Up to the present time the police have been unable to locate her. Darragh wants to take her home with him.

AMUSEMENTS

THE BEAUTIFUL ZEPHRA

The last production of "Queen Zephra" was staged at the Grand Opera House last night: it was the seventh performance of this beautifully picturesque operatic spectacle and it was the best of all. The music was excellent, the choruses were fine and the soloists did themselves great credit, while the graceful dancing was the best ever seen in the city. The opera house was well filled and had Zephra been produced several more nights, it would have drawn a good audience. The proceeds were for the benefit of those taking part, but just what they will do with the money has not yet been announced. Mr. H. J. Booth, who has become so well known in the city as the manager and director of the production, was given a great ovation when he appeared before the curtain to say farewell to the audience. He has been there since the first of the year and has made many good friends, who will give him a warm welcome if he returns to conduct another production, as he has promised to do.

Annual Bazaar Was Huge Success

Given by Charlotte St. Ladies' Aid—An Interesting Programme

A most highly successful bazaar and concert was that which was held yesterday afternoon and evening under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid of Charlotte street church, in the church school room. The bazaar was opened at 3 o'clock in the afternoon and from then until quite late in the evening a large number of people kept coming and going.

The affair was a success from every standpoint, and as a result, the finances of the society will be considerably increased. The different booths were well patronized up till about 8.30 o'clock, after which a musical programme was given.

The bazaar was under the capable direction of Mrs. G. W. Hall, President of the Society. The school room presented an attractive appearance, with several booths prettily decorated with flowers and bunting. The ice cream booth was decorated in pink and white, and was looked after by Mrs. Adamson and Miss J. Coe, assisted by Misses M. Lightfoot, Ruby Adamson and Beatrice Tovey.

The candy table was done in white and green, and was in charge of Mrs. A. B. Cunningham, Miss E. MGoare and Mrs. W. A. Irvine.

The fancy table was most attractively decorated in pure white and was under the capable direction of Mrs. J Moss and Mrs. J. George. The next table was the apron table, prettily ornamented with red and white bunting. Mrs. G. Tovey, Mrs. J. Lightfoot and Mrs. W. A. Hell looked after the wants of everyone who patronized this booth in the apron line.

The refreshment stand was under the direction of Mrs. Geo. Rawlings, Mrs. Palmer and Mrs. George Reid, and was largely patronized. The children's wear booth looked very pretty. The color scheme was two shades of green. It was supervised by Mrs. W. Stocker, Mrs. Jamieson and Mrs. Rutherford. The Kimona both was under the direction of Mrs. W Galbraith and Mrs. G. Minorgan.

After nearly all the articles had been disposed of, Mr. W. Galbraith took the chair, and in a few well-chosen remarks, congratulated the ladies on the great success they had achieved in their bazaar, and wished them continued success.

Among those who contributed to the excellent programme of songs and recitations, were the Misses Maud and Janet Titterson, Miss Hawdon, and Mr. W. Stocker.

The singing of the National Anthem brought to a close a most enjoyable evening.

Canadian Inventor's Experience

INTERESTING INCIDENT BY A FAMOUS PATENTEE

Mr Wm. Wilson, of Craigie Villa, London, Ont., the inventor of the Wilson Fruit Case, now adopted by the Canadian Government, tells an interesting experience which shows the healing and antiseptic value of Zam-Buk, the herbal balm. He says; "I had two poisoned wounds on my leg, which were very sore and inflamed. They caused me much pain and suffering, and although I tried several salves, they refused to heal. Zam-Buk was recommended, and I applied some. It acted splendidly and in a very short time healed the wounds.

"At another time I sustained a nasty cut. Zam-Buk took away the soreness almost instantly and soon closed and healed the wound. I have also used Zam-Buk for other injuries, and I have no hesitation in expressing my high opinion of its value. It is, without doubt, a splendid household balm!"

Zam-Buk cures blood poison, cuts, bruises, old wounds, running sores, ulcers, boils, spring eruptions, scalp sores, eczema, itch, barber's rash burns, scalds, and all skin injuries and diseases. All druggists and stores sell at fifty cents a box or from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price Remember, it is purely herbal!

Contracts are Awarded for the New Collegiate Institute

And Also for the Six Room Addition to the North Ward School—Langford and Sheehy Get the Former and Ald. Johnson the Latter.

COLLEGIATE INSTITUTE.

Building.—Langford and Sheehy, $51,318.00.

Plumbing.—C. J. Duranceau, $2,216.00.

Electric wiring.—F. R. J. MacPherson, $226.50.

Heating.—Not yet awarded.

NORTH WARD SCHOOL.

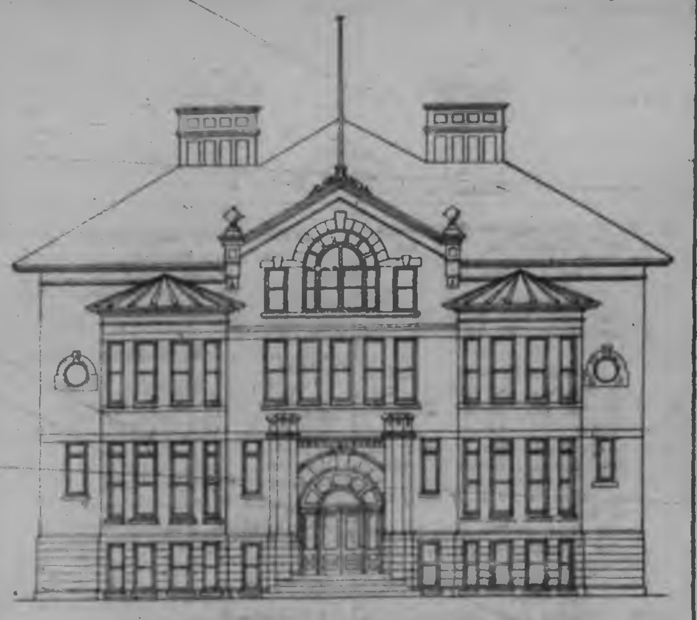
Building.—W. J. Johnston, $16,950.00.

Heating.—C. J. Duranceau, $2,235.07.

Plumbing.—C. J. Duranceau, $1,425.00.

Electric wiring.—Alexander & Miller, $38.00.

The contracts for the new Collegiate Institute and for the enlargement of the North Ward school have been awarded as designated above and work on both structures will be commenced at once. Recommendations to the above effect were brought in by the chairman of the special committees in charge of the Collegiate Institute and North Ward school improvements at last night's meeting of the Board of Education and the reports were adopted without much discussion. There is some doubt as to whether Mr MacPherson will accept the contract for the wiring as he notified the Board by letter last night that he had made a mistake in submitting his tender and that it should have been $8 higher. The matter was referred back to the committee for further consideration.



THE NEW COLLEGIATE INSTITUTE
For Which Building Tenders Were Awarded Last Night by the Board of Education.

Dr Morrison, chairman of the Collegiate Institute building committee, submitted the following report —

"Your Building committee beg leave to report, that, as instructed we advertised for tenders for the erection of a Collegiate Institute building. For the building we received two tenders, for the heating six tenders, for plumbing three tenders and for electric wiring two tenders. Your committee recommend that the tender of Messrs Langford and Sheehy for the building, $51 318.00, be accepted; that the tender of C J. Duranceau for plumbing, $2 216.00, be accepted; and that the tender of F. R. J. MacPherson for wiring $226.50 be accepted. Regarding the tenders for heating your committee find that they are in excess of what they anticipated, and thought it advisable to give the matter more consideration before awarding the contract."

Peterborough Review	77.96

Dr. Morrison explained that the committee considered that the tender for the building most reasonable. Apprehension had existed among the members of the committee that the tenders might be outside the appropriation of the committee for this part of the work. As the Board had no money to waste it was considered advisable, he said, to secure further information before awarding the tenders for the heating.

The report was adopted after a short discussion.

Dr. Morrison moved that the matter of awarding tenders for the heating of the Collegiate Institute be referred to the Building committee with power to act, and that they also be given authority to have the location for the new collegiate staked out.

There was some discussion regarding the site, but the motion passed unanimously.

NORTH WARD SCHOOL.

The North Ward school committee, through Mr. Dumble, reported that as instructed by the Board they advertised for tenders for the addition of six rooms to the North Ward school. For the building there were four tenders; for heating five; for plumbing four. They recommended that the following tenders be accepted:—

For building.—W. J. Johnston, $16,950.00; for heating.—C. J. Duranceau, $2,235.07. For plumbing.—C. J. Duranceau, $1,425.00; and for wiring, Alexander & Miller, $38.00.

The report was adopted without discussion.

The contracts for both the new Collegiate Institute, and the North Ward school addition, have fallen to good men. Mr. Sheehy is one of the most successful contractors in this part of the province. Many fine buildings in Peterborough and at other places in the district stand today, a credit to his skill and faithful work. No fault has ever been found with any of his work, a fact that is no doubt due to the honest manner in which is contracts are fulfilled. Associated with him in the erection of the new Collegiate is Major Wm. Langford, another very successful contractor. With the contract in Ald. Johnston's hands there is no doubt but that the North Ward school will be a credit to the city when the enlargements are made. The contracts for the plumbing, heating and wiring are also in capable hands.

Regular Meeting of Board of Education Last Night

City Council Will be Urged to Open Streets Leading to New King Edward School—New Solicitors Appointed—Reports of Different Committees.

The Board of Education held a regular meeting last night, it having been postponed from Tuesday night of this week. The session was not a lengthy one, but a large amount of business was transacted. Chairman Fair presided and those present were, Messrs. Dumble, Pringle, Robinson, Burnham, Hayes, Morrison, Ackerman and Hill.

The Board first went into Committee of the Whole to consider the matter of awarding the tenders for the Collegiate Institute, and the addition to the North Ward School.

When the Board resumed its regular session again, the reading of communications was first taken up.

George Jacobs wrote, asking to be appointed caretaker of the King Edward School. J. W. Edwards also applied for the position. Both applications were referred to the Committee on Appointments.

R. Clinkscale wrote asking for the position of inspector in connection with the enlargement of the North Ward School. Referred to Building Committee.

George C. Robb notified the Board that an inspection and test of the new boiler in the King Edward school had been made and it had been found satisfactory.

SOLICITORS APPOINTED.

On motion of Dr. Burnham the firm of Peck and Kerr was appointed solicitors for the Board at a salary of $100.00 per year, in succession to Mr. R. M. Dennistoun.

TO REACH NEW SCHOOL.

It was moved by Mr. Robinson and seconded by Mr. Pringle that the council be asked to take immediate action in providing proper approaches to the King Edward School, in the way of properly graded streets, sidewalks, and necessary crossings, and that a copy of this resolution be forwarded to the City Council with a request that Aylmer street be opened from Lake street to Romaine street.

Speaking to his motion Mr. Robinson laid stress on the difficulty in reaching the new school on account of the streets, which should lead to it not being opened out. It was necessary that something should be done at once towards remedying this state of affairs. The motion carried.

The appointment of an inspector for the work on the new Collegiate Institute and North Ward school addition, was brought up and after some discussion, was referred to the committees in charge of both contracts, who will report at the next meeting of the Board.

No New Church in Campbellford

Methodist Congregation Consider That Tenders are Too High

The Trustee Board of the Methodist church met on Tuesday night to discuss tenders for the proposed new church. The tenders were upwards of $30,000 and as the present subscription would not warrant such a large expenditure, the matter of building has been deferred. In the meantime it was unanimously agreed to create a sinking fund, with a view to having a considerable amount of money with which to start operations. Some necessary repairs will be made to the present building. The Board decided to return to the pew renting system. — Campbellford Herald.

Is Pleased With Western Conditions

Mr. W. Madill Late of Cavan Thinks Young Men Should Go West

Mr. W. Madill, formerly of Cavan, writes:—

Slager, Sask., March 18, '07.

Dear Sir,—I have just received a letter from home saying that there is a report in circulation down there that my family were all frozen while I was away for coal.

I ask if you would be kind enough to publish the letter in your valuable paper. As this report is entirely false and hasn't the first vestage of a foundation as we are all well and have been neither cold nor wanted for anything this winter. We have coal just two miles from us for digging, the settlers came for miles here this winter, so it would be a pretty lazy person that would let his family freeze with fuel almost at its door. We have had a pretty stormy winter here no doubt, but not near so bad as reported. It started on the 15th of Nov. and the snow is there yet but we have had no bad blizzards since the 3rd of Feb., nor it hasn't been very very cold since that time neither, in fact the thermometer hasn't stayed down long very low at any time. It was the blizzards that made it so disagreeable and so many people lost their way. It doesn't take a very bad storm for a man to get lost in on the prairie because there are no fences nor land marks to guide a person, and the trail soon fills and everything looks the same, so therefore he soon gets lost. I must say I suffered as much with the cold in Ontario as ever I did there and more.

I don't see that any young man can do better than come west if he isn't in pretty good circumstances in Ontario. He can get 160 acres for $10 and as soon as this preemption law law goes in force, as it will shortly, he can get another 160 acres for $480, that's a half section for $490, that's a great deal better than our forefathers got in the township of Cavan. And its all ready to plow, no timber to cut down nor stumps to pull, this is certainly a great deal by long odds. I know, so far as I am concerned, I would far rather farm here than in Ontario. Of course the money isn't lying in heaps on the prairie nor you can't pick it up like strawberries, but any person that is willing to work and is trying to get along are doing well in the west.

Yours respectfully,
W. MADILL.

Weighed Three Men With Hay

Purchaser of Load Claims That He Bought Them

What may be termed a "hay farce" came to our notice a short time ago, says the Madoc Review, the circumstances in connection with which are actual facts. A farmer brought a load of hay to a certain gentleman in Madoc, and drove it to the scales to have it weighed. After it was weighed some person notice three men slipping off the load, who had been hidden in the hay, while the weighing operation was going on. The hay was taken to the purchaser and upon his meeting the hidden parties, he asked them when they were ready to go to work for him. They appeared somewhat surprised and informed the questioner that they had not hired with him, but were informed by the purchaser of the load that he had bought them with the load. The purchaser finding they were not willing to accede to the purchase, had them weighed, and deducting the weight of the men from the hay, paid the farmer for the just weight. This is no hay yarn, but an actual fact, and instead of the purchaser being so lenient with them, he should have made an example of them, and have meted out to them their proper punishment."

Damage Claimed by Mike Pappas

Cellar Was Flooded and He Alleges Stock Was Damaged

His Worship Mayor McWilliams today received a letter from Mr. Pappas claiming $75 damages he alleges was done to his stock and premises when the water leaked into his cellar from the broken water service the other day. This is the first claim which has been made and it it is paid there will no doubt be a number of others filed. It is very doubtful however, if there is any ground for damages. The plaintiff will first have to prove negligence on the part of the city and that will be very difficult in this case. The service pipe which broke has been doing business for many years and when the men dug down to it they found frost down to the top of the main. The question however, will likely come up at the next Council meeting.

FOUND DRUNK.

"Paddy" Conway, an old pensioner, was arrested today by P. C. Adams. He was lying helplessly drunk in a local hotel yard. He was just released from gaol the first of the month, after having spent the winter there.

MILITARY CAMP AT KINGSTON

There is Now Good Rifle Range and Proper Water Supply

The annual report of the Military Council has the following reference to the annual camp of No. 3 district, which was held last year at Cobourg; The troops of Military District No. 3, who had not previously had a chance of carrying out rifle practice since 1901, trained at Cobourg in order to take advantage of the rifle range there, the municipality being good enough to place a camp site at the disposal of the department. The site was good, though confined. So soon, however, as the rifle range now being acquired at Kingston has been completed a proper water supply installed and the camp site better drained, it will probably be desirable to locate the camp again at Kingston.

HOCKEY

WANTS A NEW CUP.

Editor Kenora Miner and News;

Sir,—In view of the Russian Rule, which now governs the Stanley Cup, and the injustice meted out to us at the hands of Czar Foran, I would suggest that we all be up and doing, like good citizens, and unite in fighting the unkind fates that have so rudely smashed our hockey yacco. No use to blame anyone. We had no option other than to lose the cup—every loop-hole of escape was blocked, too, had not Trustee Foran so decreed it. Then, when we thought we had given him the slip, having agreed to every wish of the Wanderers to accomplish that end, even to playing on neutral ice, the sly message went over the wires from the dishonorable Wanderers to Ottawa, "playing under protest." Had our boys won in Winnipeg they were still to lose the cup, for the Omnipotent Foran had said it.

In consideration of the above facts, I propose to take up a subscription and present the Thistle Hockey Club with a cup, to be known as the Kenora Cup, and to represent the world's championship hockey. Said cup to be given under promise that our present home-brew of hockey players, with whoever else they might choose to help them out, will defend said cup on home ice until the same is honorably lost.

I will give fifty dollars to said subscription, and would like to hear what others have to say upon the subject.

A LOVER OF JUSTICE.

CURLING

SOME LATE GAMES.

The Ingersoll Chronicle of April 3rd says; it is not often that the local curlers have the privilege of playing games after three weeks of beautiful spring weather. This, however, was the case this year, and on Monday afternoon and evening and again last night, a number of the members of the club enjoyed game on splendid ice. Other towns are claiming the record for having the latest ice because the club played Monday night. Ingersoll can now go them one better, as the ice was in excellent condition Tuesday night and games were played on two of the four sheets of ice at the rink.

BASEBALL

WORKING BOYS ORGANIZE.

The Y.M.C.A. Working Boys' Gymnasium Class, met in the gym. last night to talk over prospects for a baseball club. The result was a club was organized with the following officers,—

Manager, D. Gillespie.
Sec.-Treas., G. Martin.

The captain was left over to be picked after the first practice.

A large number of the boys were present, and they were quite enthusiastic. A team can be picked from this class, which ought to hold their own with any team their age in the city. Practice will begin next week.

FIRST PRACTICE.

The Peterborough Baseball Club will hold the first practice of the season tomorrow afternoon in Central Park.

FOOTBALL

PRACTICE TONIGHT

All followers of association football are invited to the practice at Central Park at 6.30 o'clock this evening. The grounds are in good condition and there should be a fine workout. An interesting feature of the practies that have been already held this season, is the number of new men who have turned out. Some of them are proving experts at the game and from present appearances there will be no lack of material for the senior and intermediate teams, which have been entered in the Midland League.

There will be another practice tomorrow afternoon.

LEARN DRESSMAKING
IN TWO WEEKS

We teach you everything from the plainest shirt waist to the most elaborate toilette that can be found in the fashion books. We show you how to put together not only the lining but all the outer goods in coats, skirts, wrappers, waists, sleeves, collars, etc. Why spend months at a dressmaking shop where you do nothing but hem, overcast, sew on hooks and eyes, and then after you have served months there

What do you know about cutting? Absolutely nothing, for you will know no more how to cut out a dress at the end of a year than you did just the day you went there. So why spend your time there when we can teach you in two weeks. You can come and try for a week and see for yourself what its like as there is nothing to be paid in advance you certainly would not lose anything by trying. We have taught over 2,000 this way within the past 6 years in Western Ontario and all recomend it very highly.

Charge for full course is only $10 to be paid when course is completed if satisfied including one of most perfect fitting systems in use which we give free. We guarantee that the waists made by this chart will not draw nor pull out of skirt when raising arm

AN EVENING CLASS will also be taught. In this class we will teach shirt waists, sleeves, and mature. This course will be $4.00 and hours from 7 to 9. We will teach at Peterboro from April 8th to April 20th. Hours for day class from 9 to 5. All wishing to learn be sure to see us at the Oriental Hotel on Saturday, April 6th between 10 and 5 o'clock. This is positively the last class we will teach at Peterboro' this year.

Wild Easterner Causes Trouble

Wednesday Chief Jarvis, of Bowmanville, brought down John Terry, for a three months' sojourn at Castle Snelgrove. Terry, who is a hobo, hails from Newfoundland, and he has worked his way west from Cape Breton. He is of a pugnacious disposition, having also visited Cobourg on his way west, and was very impudent to a Cobourg lady who refused to gratify a wish of his. At Bowmanville he violently assaulted a citizen of that town, and also threatened to kill him. He was arrested and lodged in the lock-up, and all but got away, having broken the iron bars of the cell. He was given two months on one charge and one month on the other. He is 28 years of age, and at present a beautifully decorated nose, the result of his encounter, lights up his comely countenance.

"The Virgin Mary and St. John"

This Famous Picture Reproduced Now on Exhibition

The show window of the Peterborough Decorating Company, on Hunter street, near Aylmer, is attracting a great deal of attention. In the window is hung a beautiful piece of handpainting on canvas. The title of the picture is "The Virgin Mary and St. John." It is the work of the company's artist, Mr. Watson Marsh, who saw the original painting in the Royal Academy, London, Eng. It was done by Mr. Wm. Ryce, R. A., and is one of the most handsome in the collection. Mr. Marsh's reproduction is remarkably good. The work is exceedingly well done and displays great artistic taste and an appreciation of the beautiful.

The picture is eight feet long by six feet deep. The two figures of the Virgin Mary, done in purple, faced with blue, and of St John in blue and red, are in the middle foreground. In the middle back ground is shown Christ's tomb with figures of two old men, walking away from it. Away to the back of the picture is shown the mountains topped with massive buildings.

Mr Marsh has several other pieces of his work on exhibition in the company's show room. The object of this work, is to introduce this style of decoration into residences and public halls, which is becoming fashionable. The picture mentioned above is particularly suitable for ecclesiastical decorating.

The Peterborough Decorating Co. will start on Monday morning to decorate the drawing room of Mr. Geo. Gireaux, in a style entirely different from anything done in the city yet.

ALL RUN DOWN
Weak---Nervous---Unstrung.

Thousands get run down and become invalids before they realize anything is wrong. By permitting low vitality to develop, the way is paved for fevers, pneumonia and diphtheria. To put off makes it all the harder to get well. The time to repair the system is right now, before the damage gets any worse. The remedy is Ferrozone; it revitalizes, renews, builds up vitality that outlasts old age.

FERROZONE is a genuine invigorator that banishes weakness, and instils surplus force and vigor into every organ of the body. Ferrozone sharpens the appetite, produces rich nutritious blood, and thereby contributes that sense of buoyancy that adds so enormously to one's pleasure and usefulness in life.

For all forms of debility, weakness, lack of blood or nerve tone, sleeplessness, tiredness and exhaustion, there is no medicine so vitalizing and potent as Ferrozone. Even one trial demonstrates its rapidly and certainty of action.

To restore the energy of youth, to get back your vital stamina and reserve force, there is positively no treatment so certain as Ferrozone. You have only to try Ferrozone to know the enormous benefit it invariably brings to all in poor health.

FERROZONE

Miss Dorothy E. Leduc of Chester gives the following convincing evidence of Ferrozone's power:—"My work compels me to rise early in the morning and work ten hours daily as a saleslady. Last Spring I was run down, lost my color, and fell off in weight. I seemed to lack ambition and the life was out of me. A friend recommended Ferrozone, and I took one tablet after meals with wonderful results. Ferrozone brought back my complexion, and has given me new strength and abundance of energy and spirits. I would advise all young ladies to use Ferrozone."

Mrs. H. G. Wilder of Dexter says:—"My daughter was not very well last Winter, and lost her strength completely when the Spring came. I gave her Ferrozone, and am glad to say it did wonders. After six boxes were used my daughter was strong, and looked the picture of health."

Gave New Strength

Further Particulars About The Big Fire at McGill

Engineering and Mechanical Building Completely Gutted.

Loss Exceeds Half Million Dollars—Insured Up to $420,000—Origin a Mystery—Valuable Outfits Destroyed—Heat Cracked Neighboring Windows—Firemen Were Helpless to Stay Flames—Walls Remain.

Montreal, Que., April 6.—About four o'clock yesterday morning fire broke out in the Macdonald Engineering building of McGill University, and, in less than an hour this magnificent structure was gutted. The damage is estimated at $600,000 and is partly covered by insurance. No explanation is as yet forthcoming as to the origin of the fire.

About 4.30 a young man noticed the flames and rang the fire alarm, others in neighboring streets remarked the reflection in the sky, and notified the authorities. Firemen were on the scene in a moment, but it was evident from the outset that there was very slight chance of saving the building.

Already the flames had got hold of the roof and were leaping skyward, casting a light that turned early morning into day.

Heat Was Intense.

The heat was intense. The windows in the neighboring chemistry building were cracked and great waves of smoke rolled in all directions.

Means were immediately taken to prevent the spreading of the flames, in fact little else remained to be done. Before five o'clock the clanging of bells and galloping of steeds had collected a crowd round the building. Students came rushing up by hundreds. The campus and roofs around were crowded. So great was the heat that some standing on the steps of the medical building had to come down.

Tower Falls With Crash.

The stone annex that stretches back to University street was saved. Shortly after five o'clock the tower fell with a crash. The wooden roof quickly followed suit, and a few moments later two explosions occurred caused by contact of fire with chemicals. By six o'clock the flames began to subside. The fire had almost burned itself out. As the smoke cleared away one could see that the roof had gone near the northwest, and there was a huge gap in the stone wall and the remaining masonry tottered. Inside the place is just a mass of brick and smouldering timber. As late as half-past nine stonework continued to fall.

Scientific Instruments Lost.

The building was supposed to be constructed of semi-fire proof material and was equipped with hose. With the possible exception of the heavier instruments on the first floor the scientific equipment is entirely lost. The students number about 400 and examinations were in progress. The examination papers were destroyed.

The full amount of insurance carried on the building and contents is $420,000, which is estimated at between 75 and 80 per cent. of the loss.

Only the walls are standing. The fire was never under control till it died out.

The students had their outfits in their lockers, so each student loses from $50 to $200.

GANANOQUE INN BURNED.

Flames Destroy One of the Best Known Hotels in Canada.

Gananoque, April 6.—The Gananoque Inn, one of the best known summer hotels in Canada, was almost completely destroyed by fire early yesterday morning. Mr. Walsh and family had a narrow escape, all the occupants being asleep at the time. They lost everything.

Fire broke out in the second storey of the main building, and before the firemen had arrived had gained tremendous headway. The building and furniture were valued at $90,000, and the loss is almost total, being covered only by partial insurance.

The flames were discovered by the daughter of Mr. Andress, who lives opposite, and had the warning not been sounded as soon as it was, there would in all probability have been a number of fatalities.

The Gananoque Inn was a particularly well built summer hotel, being of solid brick, and having a fire wall between the main wing and new north wing.

The main wing walls collapsed soon after the fire broke out.

Millionaire's Yacht Burned.

Brockville, April 6.—The handsome side-wheel yacht owned by E. P. Wilbur of South Bethlehem, Pa., a steel millionaire, was damaged by fire to the extent of $5,000 at her winter quarters up the river.

Rockwood Patients Pay.

Kingston, April 6.—The Rockwood Asylum treasurer now receives thousands of dollars yearly from private sources for the maintenance of patients that formerly was not received. The aggregate amount from this quarter will reach in the neighborhood of $60,000 during the present year. This result has been secured by the appointment of two inspectors by the Whitney Government.

Babe Sleeps Four Days.

Brockville, April 6.—A most remarkable case of a long sleep is reported from Smith's Falls.

The three-days-old infant of Mr. and Mrs. D. Gilbert slept continuously for four days less 10 minutes. All efforts to awaken the little one were without effect, and it had to be nourished by injections. It awoke apparently well refreshed.

S. J. Kilpatrick, of Kingston, is home with three of his ribs broken as a result of the bus runaway in Belleville.

ARRESTED FOR ROBBERY.

The United States Express Co. Loses $20,000 In Goods.

New York, April 6.—Four men were arrested Thursday on charges of complicity in a series of robberies, by which the United States Express Co. claims to have lost goods valued at more than $20,000. The men arrested were Charles W. Webb, 22 years old, a clerk employed by the company; Milton J. Carman, 18; Israel Aronow and Charles Cook. Webb and Carman were charged with larceny, and Aronow and Cook with receiving stolen goods. All were held under bail. The police say the goods were stolen from the company's store-room and taken out in the guise of packages for delivery. Detectives have been working on the case for some time.

IMMIGRANT WAS KILLED.

Did Not Heed Gong on Winnipeg Car.

Winnipeg, Man., April 6.—Joseph Wrixon was killed by being caught under the wheels of a trolley car on Main street Thursday night. With two other men he was standing on the track as a car approached, and though the motorman, John McLaughlin, rang the gong, they did not move, and were struck, it being too late to stop the car after it was seen that they were not going to get out of its way. Wrixon was under the car nearly three-quarters of an hour before he could be released, and was still living when removed to the hospital. He was an English immigrant, recently arrived.

SWALLOWED TABLETS.

Child Died Twenty Minutes After Visiting Drug Store.

Chatham, Ont., April 6.—The five-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Kavanagh, Tilbury, died in 20 minutes, after swallowing several strong tablets that she had purchased for her mother at a drug store. The child was sent for the tablets, but swallowed some of them on her way home.

Scalded On His Engine.

Brockville, Ont., April 6.—The body reached here yesterday of Michael Bennet, of Westport, who lost his life as the result of an accident on the New York Central Railway at Richville. He was employed as locomotive fireman on a freight train, which collided with another, head-on. Bennet was thrown against the boiler, and the escaping steam from the broken gauge glass scalded him in a terrible manner. He was 21 years of age, and unmarried.

Aeroplane Smashed.

Paris, April 6.—Santos-Dumont made an effort yesterday with his aeroplane to win the Deutch Archdeacon prize. The aeroplane rose two mitres (two yards) and had covered 50 mitres (53 yards), when the wind proved too violent, and the apparatus fell and was smashed. Santos-Dumont was not hurt.

To win the prize the machine must cover a closed circuit of nearly two-thirds of a mile in circumference.

Municipal Elections.

Toronto, April 6.—A suggestion made by Mr. T. H. Preston, M. P. P., for Brant, will be acted upon by the Ontario Government by submitting a referendum to the municipalities of the province. The purpose is to learn whether or not the people want to change the date of municipal elections from January to December.

RUSE DID NOT SUCCEED

Peasants Tried to Fool the Roumanian Troops.

Brave Rebels Use Strategem—Followed an Empty Coffin—Soldiers Fired on Mourners Who Had Intended to Attack Them for Second Time—Artillery Brought Into Action—Village Was Razed to Ground.

Bucharest, April 6.—The determined bravery of the insurgent peasantry, in some of the recent fighting, is illustrated by a story of the battle of Belaneshti, near Craiova, published in a local newspaper. The insurgents, who numbered ten thousand, armed with guns, axes, knives and scythes, accompanied by their wives and children, made a desperate attack on a body of Roumanian infantry and artillery. The latter opened fire, killing large numbers of the peasants, who, after an unequal combat, retreated to a village, carrying their dead and dying. Half an hour later a long funeral procession, headed by a priest, issued from the village, a coffin being followed by thousands of weeping peasants. As they approached the troops the commandant ordered the mourners to halt, but the latter pressed on, and were met by a volley, which killed or wounded a number of them. After further fighting the remainder of the peasants fled, leaving the coffin which, when the soldiers examined it, was found to be empty. A few minutes later the peasants again attacked the troops, meeting the same fate. Artillery was then brought into action and the insurgents were summoned to evacuate the village within three hours. The peasants utilized the interval to unite their forces and delivered a fourth desperate assault on the troops, advancing in the face of artillery fire and rifle volleys and getting into hand-to-hand conflicts with the soldiers. The peasants, however, were defeated in the end and the houses of the village were razed to the ground by the fire of the field guns.

Kaulbars to the Frontier.

St. Petersburg, April 6.—Owing to the restlessness among the Russian peasants on the Roumanian frontier, due to the revolt of the Roumanian peasantry, the Government has ordered Gen. Kaulbars, Governor-General of Odessa, to send a strong detachment of infantry and artillery to the frontier and to take energetic measures for the restoration of order.

RUSSIAN DOWAGER QUITS.

Accompanied by Queen Alexandra to Calais—Precautions for Safety.

London, April 6.—Queen Alexandra, the Dowager Empress of Russia, and Princess Victoria, left London for the Continent yesterday. The Queen and her sister separated at Calais, the former and Princess Victoria proceeding to Toulon, where they will join King Edward, preparatory to the meeting between the latter and King Alfonso at Cartagena. The Dowager Empress will go to Biarritz.

The same extraordinary precautions were taken for the safety of the Dowager Empress as marked her arrival in England. No one was admitted to the railroad station except on written authorization and the railroad from here to Dover was closely patrolled. A number of Russians who have arrived in England since the advent of the Dowager Empress have been kept under close surveillance since their landing.

SULTAN WILL YIELD.

France's Prompt Action Causes Consternation In Court at Fez.

Paris, April 6—The official despatches received from Fez say that the French claims were presented to the Sultan March 3. The news of the occupation of Oudja by French troops arrived at the Moorish capital March 29, the day the column entered Moorish territory. The impression prevails that the Sultan will concede all the French demands. The energetic action of France caused consternation among the court entourage at Fez, and is expected to result in a prompt reply, but no official notification of its nature has yet arrived here.

DISASTROUS TORNADO.

Several Killed and Much Damage Done By Fierce Wind.

Alexandria, La., April 6.—Several persons were killed, many others injured, and a hundred factories, stores and dwellings were wrecked by a tornado, which passed over here yesterday. The known dead number four Thirteen persons have been taken to a hospital suffering from various injuries. Some of the injured will die.

The city power plant and the Alexandria ice and cold storage plant are among the buildings wrecked.

Blizzard In Saskatchewan.

Regina, Sask., April 6.—Saskatchewan yesterday was in the grip of what probably is the last blizzard of the longest winter on record. Traffic again is at a standstill.

Farmers are clamoring for their seeders and harrows. Most of this northern implement business is handled from Regina, where all the big houses have warehouses. Unless a spell of fine weather comes before the spring floods there is every prospect that northern traffic will be interrupted in the Qu'Appelle Valley until after seeding operations.

Ottawa Ministers Protest.

Ottawa, April 6.—The Ottawa Ministerial Association yesterday mailed a communication to Hon. J. P. Whitney, protesting against the proposed legislation restricting the number who can oppose the holding of horse races.

The Lord's Day Alliance of Ottawa has notified the Attorney-General that there are complaints here of men working seven days a week at shunting, despatching and other work connected with railways contrary to the Lord's Day Act.

SMOTHERED WITH SAND.

Father and Son Working In Well When Cribwork Collapsed.

Arden, Man., April 6.—A fatal accident occurred yesterday, in which Alf. Reilly lost his life by being smothered by sand in a well. Reilly and his son have been engaged most of the winter boring wells in town, and while they were working at the parsonage both he and his son were down in a well about twenty feet fixing the cribbing, when the lower portion of the crib dropped, leaving a space of about three feet between the lower and upper portions, and through this opening the sand caved in, burying the father about four feet over his head. His son was miraculously saved with his head only above the sand, his father having evidently hoisted him up as high as possible.

The M. C. R. train instantly killed Thomas Harris at Tilbury.

Thomas Maine, 33 Sydney street, Hamilton, was held up by highwaymen and beaten.

Trial Will be Commenced Again Early Next Week

Thaw to Face Jurors Again on Monday.

Delmas Will Commence Summing Up—District Attorney Decides Not to Appeal — Defence May Take Two Days—Jerome Will Ask Jury to Send Prisoner to the Electric Chair—Verdict Expected on Thursday.

New York, April 6.—The trial of Harry K. Thaw will proceed on Monday, when Delphin M. Delmas, leading counsel for the defence, will begin his summing up to the jury.

District Attorney Jerome decided late yesterday not to appeal to the appellate division of the Court of Appeals for a write of prohibition or mandamus to halt the trial.

Mr. Jerome may argue briefly on Monday morning against the confirmation of the report of the lunacy commission, which declared Thaw to be sane, but he is aware that Justice Fitzgerald's disposition is to confirm the report, which was unanimous.

The district attorney has many witnesses still under subpoena, but it is said he will press the trial forward to an early verdict, or what is regarded as more likely, a disagreement of the jury.

Immediately after the adjournment, Mr. Jerome set about seeking precedents upon which to base his appeal to the higher court. He was at his office again early yesterday, and then went to the appellate division building.

Instead of applying for a stay of trial he sought counsel among his judicial friends, and, it is said, to have been upon their advice that he re-considered his determination to press the matter.

It was stipulated some weeks ago that each side should have one day for summing up. It was learned last night, however, that Mr. Delmas may speak for two entire days.

District Attorney Jerome has said that his summing up will not require more than three or four hours. He will ask the jury to convict Thaw of murder in the first degree.

It is thought that a verdict will be reached on Thursday.

HAD NARROW ESCAPES.

London Man Caught In Belt—Machine Bursts In Laundry.

London, Ont., April 6.—William Elliot, employed on the construction of the Greene-Swift warehouse, was caught in a belting yesterday and narrowly escaped death. He failed to notice the belt, which caught his clothing, and he was almost drawn in, when he managed to brace himself until the machinery was stopped. His shirt was torn from his back and his right arm and shoulder injured.

An extractor machine in the Forest City Laundry burst yesterday while going at a speed of 1,500 revolutions per minute and pieces of the machine flew all over the room, in which over a dozen employes were working. Fortunately no one was hurt. The room was filled with blinding steam, causing considerable confusion.

Dead Pilot at Boat's Wheel.

Pittsburg, Pa., April 6.—George W. Conant was found dead in the pilot house of the packet Lorena, near East Liverpool, Ohio, yesterday.

Without a guiding hand, the big packet, filled with passengers, who were peacefully sleeping, wandered through the dense fog and was running at high speed into a rock studded pool when Captain Richardson stopped the craft.

Conant evidently exhausted his last strength trying vainly to reach the signal rope.

Speaker St. John's Condition.

Toronto, April 6.—Very little change was reported in the condition of Speaker St. John at the General Hospital last night.

The physicians in attendance would not say how long this state of semi-weakness would continue, but considered that the condition of the patient was very encouraging, and are hoping to give out a favorable bulletin today or Sunday.

Gaynor-Green Re-Trial Asked.

New Orleans, April 6.—A new trial was asked for Green, and Gaynor yesterday by P. W. Meldrum, who made the closing argument for the defendants in their appeal to the United States Circuit Court of Appeals.

FORCED SWETTENHAM.

Colonial Office Made Peremptory Request For Apology.

London, April 6.—The Standard yesterday declared it was able to publish for the first time the circumstances leading to the resignation of Sir Alexander Swettenham, as governor of Jamaica.

The paper said that, according to Sir Alexander's own statement in a letter to an intimate friend, he resigned in consequence of a peremptory demand from the Colonial Office to apologize to Rear-Admiral Davis.

To this Sir Alexander replied that if such a course were really necessary he would do so with pleasure, but that such a compulsory apology carried with it his resignation.

Sir Alexander denies emphatically that there was any dispute between him and the American admiral at the time of the Kingston earthquake, saying:

"We were the best of friends during the whole time the admiral was here. He had the use of one of my private carriages, and drove around with my private secretary."

The Standard adds that this letter was written privately as one friend might write to another, but it fell into the hands of a negro newspaper correspondent. If the documents referring to the resignation of Sir Alexander were published, the paper concludes, it would be found that the statement that he applied to be retired "on the ground of age" was entirely misleading.

Premier Sails.

St. John, N.B., April 6.—The C.P.R. steamer Empress of Britain, bearing Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Hon. L. P. Brodeur, who are off to attend the colonial conference, sailed for London via Halifax at 6 o'clock last night. Sir Frederick Borden continued to Halifax and will join the steamer there.

Dr. VonStan's Pine-apple Tablets

RELIEF IN ONE DAY

Ask half the men or women who have stomach troubles, why it is so and they will tell you that they have to live in such a constant hurry that they have no time to keep well,—if the great army of stomach troubled people would take Dr. Von Stan's Pine-apple Tablets as a traveling companion, from a health stand point, life would be all sunshine,—they are a veritable vest pocket doctor,—they act directly on the digestive organs,—a pure fruit pepsin that is pleasant to take,—powerful in the work it does,—but as harmless as milk,—helps all the stomach distresses immediately and will give good relief to the most acute cases in one day.—You go about your business,—eat hearty meals,—take all the pleasures as they come, and as you do so the Doctor plays his part and works permanent cures.

Board of Education Does Not Take Kindly to Criticism

Several Members Do Considerable Talking, but Do Not Say Much—Some Strange Arguments Advanced Against Article in Last Night's Review.

The article in last night's Review regarding the star chamber methods of the local Board of Education apparently was not received with favor by several members of that august body. Judging from the remarks made by a number of the members of the Board, the article did not make very wholesome reading and some of them went so far as to say naughty things about this journal.

The Review has no quarrel with the Board of Education, but in criticizing the guardians of the city's educational interests, it merely voiced the sentiments of the bulk of the ratepayers of Peterborough. That is one of the first duties of a representative newspaper and the Review is not afraid to leave it to the public whether the Board of Education is following a course that meets with the approval of those who elected that body.

As soon as they had read the article in question last night several members of the Board communicated with the Review and handed out some jolts which they calculated would knock this member of the newspaper family from the even tenor of its way. It may be interesting to deal with some statements of one member of the Board specifically.

1st.—He stated that "the Review was indiscreet in publishing such an article."

Perhaps so. Discretion about making public matters of public interest appears to be one of the strong points of the Board of Education. The public will forgive them if they fling to the winds a little of their discretion in this connection.

2nd.—"In withholding the information about the tenders the Board of Education are following in the path that has always been tread," was statement No. 2.

Is it not time for a change? For a long time men believed that the earth was flat, yet one day their opinions were rudely jolted. It is no credit to the Board of Education to stay in the rut. Come out of it, gentlemen, and travel on the highway of progress.

3rd.—"The city council does not award tenders" was the third of the series. This must have been meant as a joke. Further comment is unnecessary.

4th.—"The newspapers are a lot of old women gossipers, delighting in giving publicity to every tale they hear," was another of Mr. Educationist's flings.

This is not the first time that a newspaper has been criticized by persons who do not like its policy. Newspapers of the calibre of those published in Peterborough exercise considerable discretion as to what appears in their columns and time and again publish only a half of what they know, feeling that to give publicity to certain affairs would not be in the public interest. The newspapers are merciful as a rule and do not criticise where criticism is not called for.

Another member of the Board stated last night that in not making public the names and prices of other than the successful tenderers, the Board was acting in the interests of the contractors. The contractors no doubt appreciate it and feel deeply grateful to the Board for their solicitude for their welfare. But is the statement based on facts. A prominent local contractor, one who tendered on part of the work for the new Collegiate Institute, but was not successful, makes the statement to the Review that he carefully perused the two local papers last night to find the names and figures of the other contractors who tendered on the different jobs, but was unable to find them. And why? Because the Board of Education would not make them public. The plea of the members of the Board was that it would not be fair to a contractor, whose tender on some work was comparatively high, to have the same given publicity, as the public might become possessed of the idea that he was a high priced man and that it would hurt him when there was other work to be done in this line. The fact that the contractors of the city, especially those who tendered on the work at present under consideration, want the names and figures published, is an effective reply to the above contention of the member of the Board.

The Board of Education is spending the public money and not their own, and if they find it necessary to keep the public in the dark as to the way they conduct their business, they should explain why such is the case. The public does not want to be kept in the dark.

The Board of Education does not like to be criticised. They do not object to being handed "taffy" but find it painful to swallow mild doses of the lime juice.

Lawn Bowlers Anticipate Most Successful Season

Bowling on the green promises to be more popular than ever in Peterborough this summer. The devotees of the game are already keeping an eye on the green at the corner of Brock and Aylmer streets and are trying to figure out how long it will be before the lawn is in condition for play. The annual meeting of the Peterborough Lawn Bowling Club will be held at an early date when arrangements will be made for the coming season. It is expected that the membership will be larger than in any past year and that the green will be patronized to an even greater extent than last season. It is hoped to have the green in shape for bowling about the first of May and it should be in fine condition this season.

The club had a most successful season last year, in fact the most successful in its history. One of the features was the visit of the British bowlers, who were greatly pleased with their reception and treatment in Peterborough. While there will be no visitors from over the sea this year, it is not expected that there will be any falling off in interest in the great games. Matches will be arranged with clubs in the district and it is proposed to have games with the Toronto club this year. This would, no doubt, prove a most interesting feature, and would add interest to the game. Of course, there will also be matches with the clubs at Millbrook and Port Hope.

Lively Time at Chemong Park; Many New Cottages Going Up

Park Association Will Trim All the Trees High Enough to Allow a Good View of the Lake—Auto Starts the First of June.

Chemong Park this year will be more popular than ever. It will be largely increased in population and several new cottages will be put up. The new residents are, of course, mostly from the city, although some are from Toronto, and other outside points. The automobile will start making regular trips the first of June, when a great many cottagers will go out, although a number will open up in May. This is very much earlier than usual and the season will be much longer.

Some of those who will erect new cottages are,—Mr. R. J. Soden, John Pope, James Long, Mrs. Andrews, C. Rutherford, and one or two others have also purchased lots.

Commodore Bull has purchased the Deane property, just near the Park, and it is understood will erect a handsome summer residence.

Mr. D. Hughes-Charles has purchased Mr. Dennistoun's cottage and he will become a resident next summer.

The Park Association have decided to trim the trees in the park, so as to give the people a view of the water. In many parts the lake can hardly be seen at all, but this will now be overcome. They will start at the water's edge and trim the trees to a height of about 35 or 40 feet, and gradually come down as they go farther back into the park. All the shrubbery and brush wood will also be cleaned out, and all the dead trees removed. This will add greatly to the appearance of the park and will permit a view of the lake from almost any point.

The association also expects that a good lively time will be had all summer and the boat club's house will likely be filled with young men again.

Granolithic Sidewalks Cost More Last Year Than is Usual

This is Due to Increase in Price of Cement and Wages—Report on Romaine Street Sewer is Included in City Engineer's Annual Report to Council.

There will be something doing at the next meeting of the Board of Works, which will likely be held on Wednesday night. Among other things will be the annual report of the city engineer, which is now completed. This report has been a long time in preparation, but it will be a most comprehensive document, and will include a great deal of information of interest to the public generally.

It might be mentioned here that some of the aldermen are not at all satisfied with the action of the council in deciding to do all sewer work by the day labor system. Some of them will endeavor to open the matter up at the next meeting, on the ground that it is not fair to the contractors, nor to the citizens who have to pay for it. They claim the citizens should know what a sewer is going to cost them before they are asked to pay for it. This, the aldermen claim, cannot be done by the day labor system. They also state that the Romaine street sewer is a good sample of day labor work, which they claim has cost very much more than the engineer's estimate.

Of this no information has yet been furnished. No report has been made to the council and any opinion formed or expressed by aldermen or contractors is merely guess work. At all events, one of the aldermen has said that he will, at the next meeting of the Council, move that a detailed report on the Romaine street sewer be made, giving the estimate, the lowest contractor's tender, how much the sewer cost, and if more than estimated the cause of it.

The engineer's annual report will include the cost of the Romaine street sewer, and, as he will likely be present at the meeting when the report is read, he will be able to furnish the desired information, and will doubtless be able to clear the Council of anything which report makes appear like negligence or inability.

The engineer's report will also include the cost of the granolithic walks laid last year. This promises to be a little disappointing to the ratepayers, as it will be a trifle higher than the year previous. This increase is due to several causes. In the first place cement has increased 20 cents a barrel, which amounts to a substantial sum in itself; the cost of labor has gone up, and then the cost of the street crossings, which are now being laid, must also be included. The increase, however, is not sensational. The engineering department has always been very successful with the construction of sidewalks, and the work is done in an exceedingly satisfactory manner. Any increase in the cost is due to causes which cannot be controlled.

SAVED ON BURNING BOAT.

Steamer Destroyed By Fire—Sixty-Five Were Rescued.

Debbs Ferry, N.Y., April 6.—The steamer City of Troy of the Citizens' Line was burned to the water's edge here last night. All the passengers, some sixty-five in number, were landed safely. The steamer was destroyed with its cargo of freight and thirteen horses. Edwin Gould's dock, to which the City of Troy tied up, when it was found impossible to control the flames, was also destroyed.

The City of Troy left for New York at 6 o'clock last night, bound up the river for Albany and Troy. The fire was discovered at about 8 o'clock, when she was about eight miles below Debbs Ferry. It broke out in the hold amidships, and rapidly gained headway. The crew fought the flames for some time before the boat was turned shorewards, but when it was seen they could not control them the captain turned his boat for Debbs Ferry. When she tied up at the Gould dock, the fire had gained such headway that little attempt was made to extinguish it, and every effort was bent toward landing the passengers successfully. When it was thought that everyone had been landed safely, it was discovered that a woman passenger was asleep in her berth, and two Debbs Ferry firemen, Alfred Smith and Robert Wilson, rushed into the burning boat and carried the woman safely ashore.

HOTHOUSE REQUIRED.

M. P.'s Make Merry At Expense of Canadian Cruisers.

Ottawa, April 6.—The house, from noon yesterday, was in supply, principally respecting marine and fisheries estimates.

There was some discussion in regard to the oyster culture about Prince Edward Island. Mr. Fielding suggested that fisheries should be controlled by the Federal Government. He regretted that Ontario and Prince Edward Island could not agree to this. Twenty-five thousand dollars was appropriated towards encouraging the transportation of live fish.

At the evening session, Mr. Fowler (Conservative, N.B.) and Mr. Bennett (E. Simcoe) made merry at the expense of the Canadian navy, which requires a hothouse for its silver-lined cuspidors and the like.

One item in the estimates is for a flag, to be flown when the Minister of Marine is on board.

"What is the design of this flag?" asked Mr. Bennett.

Mr. Templeman, acting Minister, could not state.

"A man up a tree, sticking on grafts, would do all right," suggested Mr. Bennett, and both sides laughed heartily.

The House remained in supply until adjournment at 12.25 a.m.

Iron and steel bounties will be up on Monday, and the insurance commission will report on Tuesday.

Life Insurance Underwriters of Saskatchewan have formed an association.

Toronto and Hamilton Electric Railway wishes to run two lines through Hamilton.

Sold Liquor on Sunday Last

Proprietor of American Hotel Was Fined $50 and Costs To day.

Before His Worship Magistrate Dumble this morning David Flynn, proprietor of the American house, was charged with selling liquor on Sunday, March 24th, without instructions from a medical doctor. He was found guilty and was fined $50 and costs. Mr J. E. Haverson, of Toronto, appeared for the defendant and pleaded not guilty.

Inspector Jos. Stewart was sworn and said that he knew the defendant. He was a license holder. Witness said that he was in and out of the hotel considerably. He always thought Mr. Flynn an honest hotelkeeper and was surprised to hear that he had violated the law. He had on several occasions seen Mr. Flynn trying to eliminate the rough element from his hotel.

Mr. Wm. McCliggott, of Douro, was next called. He was at the American house on the 24th of March. Garret Spencer, Thos. McMurray and Fred McMurray were with him. They got liquor. It was either beer or ale. It was about 11 o'clock. They had it upstairs. Garret Spencer invited him up. There were five bottles of ale. Garret Spencer paid Mr. Flynn for the liquor. They got no certificate from a doctor. He obtained liquor later in day from Maurice Moher, his brother-in-law. It was bought at Flynn's, but not drunk there. He did not see it paid for, but saw it coming out of there. He laid the information because he and Mr. Flynn had a row last Saturday night. Mr. Flynn put him out of his house for using profane language.

To Mr. Haverson, witness said that he never saw the liquor carried upstairs. Mr. Flynn pulled the corks and he saw Spencer pay for it.

Fred McMurray was next sworn. He lived in Douro. He was at Mr. Flynn's hotel on the 24th. He, with the three other above mentioned persons were upstairs. There were five or six bottles of ale. He did not see them paid for. Mr. Flynn pulled the corks. It was at 11 o'clock in the morning. He was there at the hotel in the afternoon. He had nothing to drink. This concluded the case for the prosecution.

THE DEFENCE.

Garret Spencer was then called. He said he lived in Smith. He remembered the 24th. He came to town on the previous Saturday and went to Flynn's. He stayed there over Sunday. He asked for a room. He asked Flynn to put him away a little drink for him on Sunday. He said he would. McCliggott came to the hotel about nine o'clock. He asked him about 11 o'clock to come up and have a drink. Mr. Flynn had laid four bottles of lager away in a room upstairs for him. They all pulled their own corks. He paid Mr. Flynn for it after breakfast when he was paying for his meal and night's lodging. He denied having told P.C. Mcbarry that he would beat McCliggott out on this case when served with a subpoena.

Mr. D. Flynn, proprietor of the American house was next called. He took possession of the hotel on the 10th September. He was never charged before with any offence. He remembered Spencer and McMurray coming on Saturday. They stayed at his house that night. They got the room before six o'clock. He said that he thought he could accommodate them. Mr. Spencer asked him if he could lay something to drink away for him. He went down cellar and took eight or nine bottles of ale from the wine cellar to the other cellar for Spencer. On Sunday he went to church, and when he came back, Spencer asked him for the bottles. He took four or five up to a little room across from Spencer's. They asked for a corkscrew, but he had none, so they opened them with their jack knives. Spencer was the only man that he had any dealings with. Witness said neither McCliggott or McMurray were boarders at his house

ONLY SPITE WORK.

Solicitor Haverson said it was a prosecution which began by a desire for private revenge. He said the law was used for the purpose of revenge of one person on another. He was satisfied that Mr. Flynn had told the truth. In every instance the men were all from the country and it was not an instance of them raising a disturbance. Mr. Flynn was trying to keep a quiet house by eliminating McCliggott for using profane language. As a result he finds himself in police court to-day. He thought that there had been no violation of law, as the liquor was supplied on Saturday afternoon.

His Worship the Magistrate, said he could not get over the conviction that there was an evasion of the law. He said he did not approve of the conduct of the informant. He induced a man to break the law, and then turned around and told on him. It was a low, mean act, but he told such a straight story that he believed it. Mr Flynn would have to suffer the penalty of the law. The defendant was fined $50 and costs, amounting in all to about $60.

OTHER CASES.

Previous to the liquor case, John Gorman, an old pensioner, who is also known as Paddy Conway, was charged with being drunk in a public place. John pleaded guilty and was fined $5, to be paid forthwith or 30 days in gaol. He had not the necessary, so will spend the next 30 days on the hill.

Inaugural Lecture Before Local Astronomical Society

Rev. Dr. Marsh Dealt With "The Telescope" in an Interesting Manner—The Construction and Use of This Important Instrument.

"The Telescope" was the subject of the inaugural address before the members of the Peterborough section of the Royal Astronomical Society at the Y.M.C.A. hall last night. The lecturer was Rev. Dr. Marsh of Springville, president of the local branch, and his address was deeply appreciated by those in attendance. The hall was well filled and the lecture proved both interesting and instructive. The chair was occupied by Mr. Richard Lees, owing to the absence of the vice-president, and the meeting opened sharp at eight o'clock. Dr. Marsh stated that it was the rule of the Astronomical Society to open their evening meeting sharp at eight o'clock and this was done last night, to the closeness of a second, Dr. Marsh having the exact time, receiving it daily from the C.P.R. Telegraph Company, who secure it from leading observatories.

Before dealing with "The Telescope," Dr. Marsh dealt for a short time in an explanation of mean and sidereal time. Sidereal time, he said, was the rotation of the earth upon its axis. The earth revolved upon its axis 366 times during the year, yet we only had 365 days. The rotation of the earth is the cause of night and day. Why we only had 365 days in the year, when the earth revolved on its axis 366 times was a matter that Dr. Marsh left with his audience to think over. He did not have the necessary time to go into the matter last night, but an evening will likely be devoted to this interesting study at an early date. There was a difference between mean or ordinary time, and sidereal time. For instance when it was 5 mins. 10 secs. after eight o'clock by mean time last night, it was 20 mins. to nine o'clock, calculated by sidereal time. Sidereal time is the time reckoned according to the stars.

REV. DR. MARSH,
Of Springville, who lectured last evening, on "The Telescope," before the members of the Peterboro' Astronomical Society.

Dr. Marsh then gave some interesting information, regarding the position yesterday of the different planets of our solar system. Taking George street as representing a meridian, it was found that yesterday Mercury crossed George street at 10 o'clock, 43 mins., 50 secs. yesterday morning and its elevation above the horizon was 14 degrees, 50 secs.

Venus crossed at nine o'clock, 8 mins., 20 secs., and its elevation was 36 degrees, 34 mins., above the horizon.

Mars crossed at five o'clock, 29 mins., 8 secs., yesterday morning, and its elevation was 22 degrees, 5 mins.

Jupiter crossed at five o'clock, 36 mins., 8 secs. last evening, and its elevation was 69 degrees, 13 mins., and 49 secs.

Saturn crossed at ten o'clock, 50 mins., yesterday morning, and it was 40 degrees, 24 mins., above the horizon

Uranus crossed at six o'clock, 56 mins., 30 secs., in the morning and its elevation was 67 degrees, 56 mins.

Dr. Marsh's lecture on the telescope was illustrated by a large number of excellent limelight views. He dealt first with the invention of the telescope, the improvements that have been made as the year's have passed and gave some interesting information, about some of the largest telescopes in use at the present time. The importance of the telescope in the work of the astronomer was referred to, and the construction and use of the instrument lucidly explained.

The exact date of the invention of the telescope was not known, said Dr. Marsh. It was probably used in Northern Europe prior to 1609. In a casual way Galileo learned of an instrument constructed with a large double convex lens in combination with a smaller convex lens, placed in a lead tube, and so arranged, that far away objects were distinctly observed. Whilst Galileo was unable to see one, he soon wrought out the principle, and constructed a telescope which magnified three times. This was shortly superseded by one magnifying eight times. So encouraged was he by this success that he soon constructed one magnifying thirty times. This one was a great success and many discoveries were made by it. Lunar mountains were seen for the first time, spots on the sun observed; it was seen that the planet Venus had phases similar to our own; that Jupiter had moons, and Saturn had strange appendages, and that the Milky Way was composed of myriads of stars.

The speaker sketched the improvements that had been made in the telescope down to the present time and gave some valuable information regarding the best types of telescopes for different kinds of work.

The lecture was a rare treat and was greatly enjoyed.

At the close of the meeting several new names were added to the membership roll of the society.

Particulars about the next meeting to be held in two weeks, will appear in due time.

Site Was Staked Out Amid the Cheers of Assembled Citizens

Location Decided on for New Collegiate Institute in Central Park—An Interesting Event.

Amid the ringing cheers of the members of the Board of Education and a large number of citizens who had assembled, the exact site of the new Collegiate Institute was staked out in Central Park yesterday afternoon. The interesting event took place about 5.30 o'clock, and the stake was driven in the ground at the northeast corner of the ground upon which the building will stand by Dr. M. A. Morrison, chairman of the Special Committee in charge of the new Collegiate. When those around were brought to a realization that the site for the long looked for Institute was at last selected, and that work on the building would be commenced within a few hours, cheers rent the air. There was an enthusiastic outburst as the stake was driven by Dr. Morrison. The stake was driven at a point 36 feet south of McDonnel street, and 273 feet east of the lane at the west side of the park. This will leave a space 115 feet wide at the rear of the building and a clear space of 92 feet between the south side of the Collegiate and the north side of the new armoury. The structure will face George street. The site selected is considered an excellent one and was chosen after careful deliberation.

It is expected that the first sod for the new Collegiate Institute will be turned on Monday. Messrs. Langford and Sheehy have everything in readiness to proceed at once, and there will be no delay

Will be Held in Springville Church To-morrow Morning

In Springville Presbyterian church tomorrow morning there will be a special children's service. Rev. Dr. Marsh will preach and will use some clocks and watches as an illustration of the text; "I will arm thee for I am fearfully and wonderfully made."

In the evening the subject will be "Salvation by the Blood." There will be special music and everyone is invited to attend.

Some of the Needs at Kingston Camp

Pointed Out by a Military Man—Much Yet to be Done

A local officer says the Kingston News, in rejoicing with citizens in general that the military camp will again be held at Barriefield Commons this year, suggests that the Mayor, City Council or the Board of Trade, should see that the road between Kingston and Barriefield up as far as the camp ground be watered daily or twice a day if necessary. It goes without saying, the Mayor being a military man, will see that the officers and men are given a hearty welcome and are given some form of entertainment. The camp is worth something to the local merchants, and the people of Kingston should see to it that the soldiers are so well cared for that the camp will be here for all time to come. A visiting officer said yesterday, that Cobourg offered the soldiers splendid facilities last year both for a parade ground and for rifle ranges. The draw back to the Cobourg camp, being that the merchants at Cobourg were not wise and charged the volunteers high prices for little luxuries they purchased. There are any number of wholesale houses in Kingston that can take care of the feeding and furnishing of the camp. The Artillery School, the Military College, the Signalling School and all other branches of the permanent corps being here, makes Kingston the one place, where camp should be held. The rifle range will be built on the north east side of the camp, as soon as the frost is out of the ground, and the city might be induced to run an electric wire across the bridge for lighting the camp grounds.

Will Walk 134 Miles on a Bet

Port Hope Barber to Undertake Task on Wager of $1200

James Reynolds, the town hairdresser at Port Hope, who gained considerable notoriety by walking from Port Hope to Toronto last fall in 19 1-2 hours for a side bet of $200, has by no means dropped out of the sporting limelight. Not content with accomplishing that task he has wagered $600 against $1,200 that he can walk from Port Hope to Toronto and return, a distance of 134 miles in 38 hours. Last fall he made the trip from Port Hope to Toronto on a short notice and had little chance to get in condition. He was allowed 24 hours to make the journey, but he did it in 19 1-2 hours, and was in comparatively good condition at the finish. Reynolds is a chubby little fellow, 5 feet 4 1-2 inches in height and weighing about 150 pounds. In his younger days he was a professional sack-racer and claims many records at that style of running. In order to cover the distance he must average 3 1-2 miles an hour which practically means that he will have no time to sleep. He claims that he can make the trip to Toronto in 17 hours, which allows him 21 hours to walk back. He will take no chance of being served with "doped" food and will eat nothing but what is given him by his attendant, who will accompany him in an automobile.

Is There Split in Grit Ranks?

Are Graham's Followers at Variance With Their Leader.

A Toronto despatch says;

The return of Hon. Richard Harcourt to Toronto seems to be simultaneous with rumors of dissension in the opposition ranks in the legislature.

Before his advent all was peace, but now the story goes that at a caucus of the party dissatisfaction was expressed with regard to the attitude of the opposition leader on the question of increasing cabinet ministers' salaries.

It is characteristic of the fault-finding that it is not consistent or of any great breadth of view. If the Ottawa increases were justifiable by the Liberal party, Hon. G. P. Graham has nothing to reproach himself with. But the critics are said to urge that even though an increase was required $1,000 was ample and $2,000 extravagant.

Mr. Graham, on being referred to as to the truth of the statement that dissension had broken out in the caucus, answered with a curt, yet courteous;

"Rubbish. Everything was most harmonious." He said he had nothing more to say on the question that would be of any profit.

It is understood that a number of members on both sides of the house, while acquiescing in the vote, are at the same time under the pressure of local sentiment in their constituencies, professedly opposed to the increase. This is more especially the case as Premier Whitney is understood not to favor an increase of the sessional indemnity to the ordinary garden variety of member.

Anniversary of Woman's Auxiliary

Will be Observed in St. Luke's Church on April 17th.

The twenty-second anniversary of the founding of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Church of England in Canada, will be celebrated at St. Luke's church on Wednesday, April 17th at eight o'clock. The three branches of the Auxiliary in Peterborough will participate in the service. Rev. J McQueen Baldwin, M. A., a missionary home on furlough from Japan will be the special preacher of the occasion. Starting from a little group of seven in the year 1885, there has been a sound, steady growth of the W. A., until now in 1907, or after twenty-two years of existence, it has enrolled over 23,000 members.

To Change Date of Elections

Municipalities Will Decide the Question

A suggestion made by Mr. T. H Preston, M. P. P., for Brant, will be acted upon by the Ontario Government by submitting a referendum to the municipalities of the province. The purpose is to learn whether or not, the people want to change the date of the municipal elections from January to December.

He Will Have to Face Two Charges

As an outcome of a marriage which took place in Bancroft about the 8th of February last, in which the contracting partesi were Jas. Hawley and Mrs. Fred Lott, daughter of Mr. Gilbert Boombour, of this village, says the Bancroft Times, Hawley was arrested yesterday morning on two charges, viz. bigamy and perjury. The case was called at four o'clock yesterday afternoon and the prisoner pleaded not guilty to both charges,

Rev J. W. Mitchell, pastor of Knox church, who performed the ceremony, was called.

The marriage took place at the home of the bride's parents, the only witnesses present being the father and mother of the bride and two younger sisters. Mr. Mitchell explained that the parties were all strangers to him, with the exception of the father of the bride. After hearing this evidence the magistrate enlarged the case until Thursday morning at 9 o'clock.

An information had also been laid against Mrs. Lott, but she was ill and was not able to appear in court.

WHEN THE HARVEST DAYS ARE OVER.

Felix Haney's greatest success was scored as "Hi Holler" in "Way Down East," a character which he originated and played for four seasons, winning the unanimous praise of New York press and the public throughout the country. As Hez Huckins in "When the Harvest Days are Over," he has a character which affords him the best opportunity of his career, and in it he surpasses his clever work in "Way Down East." Mr. Haney will appear at the Grand Opera House, on Thursday, April 11th, in "When the Harvest Days are Over." Mr. Neil Twomey, his manager has surrounded him with one of the best companies on the road, and carries the entire scenic production."

FIRE! FIRE! FIRE!
SCOTT'S COLLOSEUM

432 GEORGE ST.

Programme for Week Commencing April 8

THE GREAT TORONTO FIRE

Only those who actually saw the great fire of Toronto, can adequately appreciate the realism of the moving pictures shown in the Colloseum by Mr. Scott and his associates. The clang of the fire bells, the rush and hurry, the terror and grandeur of the awful conflagration are marvellously brought out. The rescue work of the firemen, the rush of the crowds fighting the flames and dynamiting the dangerous walls are depicted with a realism almost [illegible].

The continuous performances take place every afternoon and evening from 2 to 5 and 7 to 10 p.m. and furnish a refined entertainment for both small and great. Ladies are especially invited to the afternoon performances. Beautiful illustrated songs.

AN OLD CONDUCTOR.

A Brantford despatch says; The death occurred yesterday of Mr. Wellington Smith. Mr. Smith had been ill for some months past and, as a result, had to sever his connection with the Grand Trunk last June, after a service of nearly 40 years as conductor on the Buffalo and Goderich division. Shortly before Christmas he had a slight stroke of paralysis, and this brought the beginning of the end. Conductor Smith was a prominent Mason and will be buried with Masonic honors.

ENFORCE THE BYLAW

For a couple of years the bylaw against spitting on the sidewalks was pretty well enforced. Now, however, the sidewalks are simply filthy from the effects of this vile habit. Ladies have to carry their skirts or have them made too dirty to be brought into a dwelling. As a matter of health this bylaw should be enforced, and doubly so for the improved appearance of the town walks. The bylaw has never been repealed, it simply requires to be enforced.—Port Hope Guide.

Mr J. D. Tully continues to improve and will be around again in a few days.

A BRILLIANT BALL.

The military ball given Thursday evening, April 4, at the Cobourg Armories by the president and members of the Cobourg Garrison Club, was one of the most brilliant social events that ever took place there. The spacious rooms were charmingly decorated with palms, Easter lilies, premulas, ferns and baskets of flowers. The ceilings were festooned with the national colors, some of the decorations used being of rare historic interest, as they were used at the grand ball given in Cobourg in 1860 when King Edward VII. then Prince of Wales, graced the occasion.

ORANGEMAN HONORED.

A number of the Brethren of the District of Cavan met at the lodge room of the Loyal Orange Lodge No. 79, Millbrook, on Wednesday evening last and presented Bro. Archie Reynolds with a Past Master's Jewel and an address. Bro. Collins was unanimously voted to the chair, and filled it in his usual happy manner. In a brief address he pointed out the great loss the whole community would be at by Bro. Reynold's removal, but he prophesied his return to Cavan at an early date. He then asked the Brethren to proceed with the "next order" of business, which was the reading of an address and the presenting of the Jewel to Bro. Reynolds.

Floating Structure Again all Right—Fishery Regulations Observed

Special to the Review.

Lakehurst, April 6th.—The floating bridge at Gannon's Narrows is again all right. It has not been used for two weeks, but men were set to work yesterday to clear off the cakes of ice, which in the spring break-up had lodged in the flooring, causing it to sink in some places to the depth of eighteen inches below the surface of the water. The ice was cut up and removed and now the bridge is safe and available for traffic again.

He has supervision of the Chemong Lake waters also, and two guardians ably assist him in seeing that the law is carried out. The guardians are Mr. Thomas Davis, of Bridgenorth, and Richard Cosgrove of Ennismore.

High Price for Cheese on British Market is Serious

Supply is Very Short and the Canned Goods Scare Made the Demand Greater—Retail Price May Go Up a Penny This Month.

W. A MacKinnon, Canadian Commercial Agent at Bristol, in a communication to the Department of Trade and Commerce, on the last day of February, says of cheese;—

"The present remarkable condition of the cheese market is of serious importance to the middle and working classes. Prices have been rising in the wholesale market for some months; the open market is nearly bare of supplies; the limited stock that are warehoused belong to a few large speculators; many retail shops cannot supply their requirements, and there are warnings that the retail price per pound may go up another penny during this month."

A fortnight ago there were only 108,000 boxes of cheese in London public warehouses, equal to about four weeks' supply. One of the largest wholesale firms expressed an opinion that before March the first, quotations would reach 70s. per cwt. That this estimate was not far wrong is shown by to-day's market report in the Times, which states that 'the quotation for Canadian generally ranges from 67s. to 68s., and a possibility of a further advance is being discussed owing to the comparatively reduced stock to cope with consumption the next two months."

On February 1st. 1906, there were 316,000 boxes of Canadian cheese in stock in London, Liverpool and Bristol; the current market price was then 53s. per cwt. On February 1st, this year the corresponding stock was 313,000 boxes, and the current market price was 6s. 6d. The rise was equal to £12 per ton, making a difference to the public in retail shops of 1 1-2d. per pound.

A London journal suggests the four following causes as having operated to bring about the present short supply:—

1. The exceptionally fine summer, which produced greatly increased consumption.

2 The tinned meat scare, which drove thousands of households to substitute cheese.

3 The year's improved trade, which enlarged the buying powers of the workers.

4. The operations of a couple of very large firms, which have practically "cornered" the present warehouse supplies

Mr. McKinnon's report was shown to President Henry Wright, of the MacLaren Imperial Cheese Co., and he paid Mr McKinnon the compliment of saying that whatever he wrote was sure to be all right. Mr. Wright stated he would be surprised if cheese did not go to 70s. yet.

"For the past few years," said Mr. Wright, "three of the largest houses in England have been trying to control the Canadian market. What was the result? They didn't corner the market, but they secured a very large percentage of the cheese in Canada and their competition raised prices. In the meantime the canned goods scare comes along and the people rush to eat cheese, and the actual condition to-day is a question of supply and demand. The cheese has been consumed. Canadian cheese has been of such a very high quality that it has come very close to the English and Scotch makes. In former years the English and Scotch makes would bring from 5s. to 10s. more than Canadian. Now Canadian cheese is holding its own pretty well."

A Canadian shipper, one of the largest Toronto buyers, has sold cheese lately as high as 13 1-2 cents f.o.b. Present prices for new fodder cheese are regarded as ridiculous. Two years ago April cheese was obtainable at 8 1-2 cents to 9 cents. Last year it was 11 cents. This year 12 1-2 cents is being paid.

This year for the first time, Australian cheese will compete with Canadian on the English market. It is bringing 58s.—Canadian Grocer.

Most Successful "At Home" Held in Grand Opera House

Under Auspices of C.G.E. Mutual Benefit Society—A Varied and Pleasing Programme Presented—All the Numbers Enthusiastically Received.

Unqualified success is the only way to describe the first annual At Home of the Canadian General employee. The entertainment was under the auspices of the Mutual Benefit Society and to the officers and members of that organization is due great credit.

The Grand opera house was filled from the ground floor to the ceiling in the gallery. There were fully 1500 people there all members of the C.G.E. staff, with their wives and families and friends. All were gathered together as one family at a happy reunion. Superintendents of departments, first class mechanics, laborers and their ladies, associated one with the other showing the good fellowship which exists among them.

It was announced that the doors would be closed at five minutes past eight o'clock, and long before that time arrived the opera house was full and the doors were closed. This allowed the programme to start sharp on time and although it was lengthy one the hour was not too late to get home.

The programme was a great and pleasant surprise to everyone. The variety of the talent and its exceedingly high quality was something seldom found in any one factory. That the C.G.E. can produce the like is a matter of pride, not only to the company, but equally so to the whole city. Mr. Frederic Nicholls, the General Manager, and his party from Toronto, were greatly pleased with the performance in every particular.

The Mutual Benefit Society, an organization purely for the benefit of the C.G.E. employees and their families, is not only a financial institution, but is a well managed and progressive body. It takes a great interest in the social side of the men's lives, and is always on the lookout for something which will add to their enjoyment. Although the At Home last night was the first large gathering, the Society has for a long time endeavored to arrange a picnic, but the works have always been so busy that it was impossible to close them down for a day. The idea of an At Home, however, was a happy one and it will be looked forward to with pleasure another year.

The programme was one of unusual interest and every number was loudly applauded. Several of the participants were forced to respond to encores. The numerous contributors were all local artists and certainly acquitted themselves most acceptably.

The C.G.E. orchestra composed of the following gentlemen:—

1st violins—Mr. Geo. Howarth and Mr. W. F. Leader.
2nd violins—Mr. C. Barrie.
Flute—Mr. W. Common.
Clarionet—Mr. W. P. Eakin.
Cornets—Mr W. Hughes and Mr. A. Seward.
Trombone.—Mr. H. Brayshaw.
Piano—Mr H. Nicoll.
Bass—Mr. W. H. Cunningham.
Drums—Mr Robt. Beach

gave several selections from "Mikado" and from the "Bohemian Girl," which were exceedingly well rendered and won hearty applause.

The Mandolin club under the capable direction of Mr. L. Mendel, gave a splendid rendition of Gustin's "In the Garden of Love." This was one of the most popular of the evening and they had to respond to an encore. The Mandolin club is composed of Messrs. L. Mendel, H. Latimer, E. M. Hooker, B. Holland, J. Brightman, F. Haskell, H. Theobald and A. Cranfield. Mr Duncan Campbell's powerful baritone voice was heard to good advantage in his solo "The Veteran Song."

That Mr. Geo. Lynch is a great favorite on the stage with a Peterborough audience, was again evidenced last night. Mr. Lynch kept the crowd in fits of laughter by his presentation of "The Old Stove Pipe Hole," from Dr. Drummond's Habitant. He was loudly encored and responded with another from the Habitant, "Little Baptiste." Mr. Lynch later on rendered a vocal solo in his usual happy manner.

Miss Levina Hallihan's clear, sweet soprano voice was never heard to better advantage as when she sang most effectively "The Message of the Violets." She was loudly applauded and responded by singing an Irish song.

The hobo dance which made such a great hit at the production of Queen Zephra, was by special request repeated last night.

Mr. W. McLaren's comic song, "Buying a house," created much amusement. He was repeatedly encored.

The other numbers on the program, which a lack of space prevents making special comment on were excellent. Altogether the programme was the most enjoyable that has been given in this city for some time. It was as follows:—

PART ONE.

Overture, selection from Mikado.—C.G.E. Orchestra.
Solo, "The Veteran's song."—Mr. D. Campbell.
Instrumental, selected.—Mr. W. Northcott, cornet, Mr. W. Bowman, euphonium.
Recitation "The Old Stovepipe Hole"—Mr. Geo. Lynch.
Solo, selected.—Miss L. Hallihan.
Instrumental, "In the Garden of Love," Gustin.—C.G.E. Mandolin club.
Hobo dance.
Solo, selected.—Mr. G. Lynch.
Recitation, selected.—Mr. E. A. Roe.

PART TWO.

Overture, "From Bohemia Girl." Balfe.—C.G.E. orchestra.
Pictures, selected.
Instrumental duet, "Dambniau." Lautz.—Miss Estella Kelly, Master Cecil McIntyre.
Solo, "Buying a House.—Mr. W. McLaren.
Recitation, "Midnight Cavalry Charge."—Mr. J. Runnett.
Duet,—Mr. J. W. Mackie and Miss W. Anderson.
Violin solo, "Les Cloches de Corneville," Farmer.—Mr. Geo. Howarth.
Solo, selected.—Mr. Chas. Delaney.
Instrumental, "Windsor," McEvoy.—Mr. Herbert Nicoll.
Specialties.—Mr. A. W. Spencelly, Mr. David Kennedy.
Tableau, "Tara Hall."—Seven girls. With vocal solo by Miss Annie Simons.

The accompanistes for the evening were Misses M. Doherty, M. McCabe, W. Anderson, Mrs. Patterson Mowry and Mr. H. Nicoll.

During part two a number of pictures were shown, including those of Frederic Nicholls, General Manager, of the Canadian General Co., Mr. R. G. Patterson and of the company's buildings now in this city, also of the first buildings, and those of the Canada Foundry at Toronto. Mr. R. E. Layfield showed the pictures and briefly traced the history of the C.G.E. from its first inception to the present day. They had the largest concern of its kind under the British flag. He paid a high tribute to the General Manager, Mr. Nicholls, to whom a great deal of the success of the company is due. When the pictures of Mr. Nicholls and Mr. Patterson were shown they were loudly cheered. Mr. Wm. Hill then came forward and in a few well chosen remarks paid a high tribute to Mr. Nicholls. The C.G.E. Mutual Benefit Society felt greatly honored at having Mr. Nicholls with them on the occasion of their first annual "At Home." They appreciated his kindness very much. The Benefit Society owed its beginning to Mr. Nicholls. It was through his kind generosity of a donation of $1000 that it was started. It was apparent, said the speaker, that the welfare of his employees was at heart. Mr. Hill said he felt it would be entirely ungrateful to allow the opportunity to pass without expressing their appreciation of the honor Mr. Nicholls had bestowed upon them by his presence. He therefore took great pleasure in moving a vote of thanks to the General Manager for his presence and the great interest he took in their welfare.

Mr. R. Harding seconded the motion. Mr. Harding briefly traced the history of the Mutual Benefit Society and gave some items of interest concerning it. He also said he felt it a great honor to have Mr. Nicholls present. He was glad to see such a large number of the employees out, and he called upon all who favored the motion to stand. It was unanimously carried.

Mr. Nicholls on rising to speak was greeted with the singing of "For he's a jolly good fellow," by the employees. He said it was a great surprise to him. He never expected any such manifestation of appreciation as was accorded him. He was surprised that he would have to address such a large audience. It gave him a great deal of pleasure to be present. He regretted that his son, Mr. H. Nicholls, assistant superintendent, was absent on account of illness, but Mr. Nicholls said that his son's better half was present, on his behalf. Continuing, he stated that there was nothing more close to his heart than the interests of the C.G.E. It was the premier industrial concern in Canada. They employed 3,600 people. They were the largest employers of labor. Their pay roll for the year amounted to $2,000,000. He was particularly pleased with the work that was turned out in Peterborough. In conclusion he again thanked the large audience for their kind words, and amid loud applause and cheers he took his seat.

Mr. Gordon Logan and Mr. George H. Hunt, of Toronto, were present at the "at home" last evening. They represented the C.G.E. head office staff, Toronto.

PETERBOROUGH'S PRIZE LISTS

Will be Issued in June—Fair Directors Held Meeting

A large meeting of the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition directors was held last night. President Ald. R. H. Leary was in the chair and the principal business taken up was in connection with the prize lists. The directors decided to issue 2,000 copies this year and they will have them ready for distribution early in June. The prize lists will contain as many advertisements as it is possible to get. The price will be $5 per page or $3 for half a page. A committee composed of Pres. Leary, Messrs. Switzer, Wm. Conway, Geo. E. Elliott, J. J. Turner and Geo. A. Gillespie, was appointed to look after the advertisements

A number of other minor matters were also considered and put through. The sale of membership tickets is progressing very favorably and every week sees a number of new names added to the list. If every department of the show produces as good a revenue and proves as successful, the Peterborough Exhibition this year will be the best ever held in the city and the directors will have a surplus to start on next year. All the members of the association are taking a great interest in the show this year and there is every prospect of it being a great success.

Summers, Box W. 62, Windsor, Ont., will send free to any mother her successful home treatment, with full instructions. Send no money but write her today if your children trouble you in this way. Don't blame the child, the chances are, it can't help it. This treatment also cures adults and aged people troubled with urine difficulties by day or night.

Skin Disease is Blood Disease

"Fruit-a-tives" clean the blood of all impurities and clear the Complexion.

Pimples and Blotches—Redness—Boils—Eczema and other inflammations of the skin—mean Impure Blood.

A person with a bad complexion always suffers from poor digestion — non-action of the bowels (or Constipation) and often the kidneys are weak.

These unhealthy organs cannot rid the system of the waste matter. It is this waste—taken up by the blood and carried to the skin—that ruins the complexion.

"Fruit-a-tives" cure all skin troubles because they cure the kidneys and bowels.

"Fruit-a-tives" cause the eliminating organs to do their proper share of the work of ridding the system of waste. This purifies the blood — and instantly the pimples and blotches disappear, and the complexion clears.

"Fruit-a-tives" are a wonderful cure for Pimples and Blotches on the skin.

Engines and Boilers Tested After the Winters Rest

Capt. White, of the Otonabee Navigation Co., is preparing for the first trip of the steamer Water Lily. Yesterday he brought the boat up to the dock and steamed up to see that everything was in good working order. The steamer stood the winter well and very few repairs will have to be made. The first trip will be made just as soon as navigation is open and the company expects to have a very busy season There is at the present time every indication that all the boats will be kept running, as the passenger and freight traffic is very promising. The Water Lily will be on the same run as it was last year, as far as the company knows now.

SCHOOL BOARD'S METHODS

The article in last night's Review calling attention to the star chamber methods of the Board of Education has aroused, at least, some of the members of that would-be closed corporation, to a sense of action and responsibility. They recognise that the suppression of information from the public, which the public has a right to learn—is not the proper course to pursue.

The Board are spending the ratepayers money and contracts for over $70,000 of the property holders' hard cash were let on Thursday night, without the public being afforded an opportunity to ascertain what competition there was for the tenders. However there is now a decided change of front on the part of several trustees and they announced today that they would be perfectly willing to furnish the names of the unsuccessful tenderers for the Collegiate Institute and addition to the North Ward school and the figures in connection therewith, just as soon as the contractors, who have been awarded the several jobs sign the contracts and provide the bonds required.

This is certainly a concession on the part of the Board, but why should the tenders not be made known now. It is argued that, if published at the present time, certain contractors might back down. Surely this is largely an unforeseen contingency—a very remote possibility indeed. The contention will not hold good. There is always a danger, whether or not the figures are published of some contractor backing down and out, if possible, on the plea that a mistake was made in the bid that there was an error in the specifications, or for some other ready and plausible reason. To guard against this the Board should demand a cash deposit in connection with each tender, sufficiently high to protect themselves and to ensure the fact that no responsible bidder will seek to escape: if so, he will lose his cash deposit, which should be enough to reimburse the Board for any possible loss or delay.

The Board of Education must transact their business in public, either in committee meetings, or committee of the whole, the same as the city fathers do. The sooner this course is adopted, the better it will be for all concerned.

When the ratepayer's money is being expended those who pay the shot have a right to learn all about the proceedings and the press should see that the public enjoys this privilege.

The Review is assured that the Board did not meet in "committee of the whole" on Thursday night; that the secret session was not one of the Board, but merely of the North Ward school committee while the tenders for the extension of that building were being opened. It matters not whether it was a committee meeting or the Board in "committee of the whole." All sessions of that body and its committees, should be open to the public and press. The city wants no secret methods, no private sederunts on the part of any organization of men in a representative capacity, men who are elected to look after the welfare of the city and protect its interests. Deliberative bodies endeavoring to advance the affairs of those who have placed them in positions of trust, are not private corporations. The sooner the members fully recognise this fact, the better, and more satisfactory for all concerned.

PEN POINTS

Clean up your yards.

How do you like the clouds of city dust.

If the citizens desire public business transacted in private, the members of the Board of Education seem equal to the job.

Inquirer.—No! The Board of Education is not supposed to be a secret organization, but it leans in that direction.

Have you taken off your double windows and will your coal hang out until the warm weather comes, are questions of interest to the average householder at this particular season of the year.

The Orillia News-Letter fires this hot one at the rival town:—Barrie expects the boom of its life this spring, three retired farmers having just moved into town from Vespra.

Sir Richard Cartwright is acting premier of Canada. "Doleful Dick" as he was once called, may have to adopt some of Sir Wilfrid's "sunny ways' to keep his party strictly in line.

Here is another denial; "Mr. W. H. Brown, of St. Lawrence Hall, Montreal, states that the statement appearing in Le Canada over his name regarding Mr. Emmerson, was unauthorized." What will be the next rumor or move!

Assemblyman Cornish, of the New Jersey Legislature has introduced a bill to tax whiskers. Is this silently aimed at Hon. James Bryce, the British ambassador at Washington, who is said to be the most bewhiskered individual in the diplomatic corps.

Hon. W. S. Fielding is minister of finance, acting minister of railways and canals, and is leading the House of Commons, owing to the premier's absence. Perhaps he could attend to a few more duties. If this man is doing so much Fielding what are the other players in the game at Ottawa doing?

The Methodist Preachers' Association of Halifax, by a formal resolution, have called upon the leaders of the two parties in the Dominion Parliament to take such steps as will secure an investigation into any immorality alleged against certain members of the Parliament of Canada.

How disappointed these days are the ladies. Here they have had their neat, new, natty spring suits made for some time and the weather is so cold that they cannot wear them. Alas for high hopes and bright pictures. The joys of expectation are generally greater than the pleasures of realization. How strikingly true this is in referance to spring costumes.

The proposal to create a new province in the northern part of Ontario is about as likely to be officially sanctioned as there is of figs being gathered from thistles. If every section could proclaim itself a separate province simply because of some alleged dissatisfaction there would be as many provinces in the Dominion as there are states in the union.

Through the influence of Dr. Torrey, in the recent great revival in Buffalo, no less than 3,000 people were converted. The celebrated evangelist will shortly begin a series of services in Montreal. This will make the third Canadian city that Dr. Torrey has visited, Toronto and Ottawa being the other centres. Judging by the scandal prevalent in the Capital that city could stand very profitably another siege by the fearless and outspoken revivalist.

Some of his followers in the Ontario Legislature are finding fault with Leader Graham for endorsing the increases in salary of the cabinet ministers. They think that they should first have been consulted. No political leader finds his course a path of roses, but those Grits, who are rebuking Mr. Graham, should remember that it is not advisable to start pulling against their chief so early in the game.

"A small pad of tissue paper sprinkled with methylated spirits will give a brilliant polish to mirrors, picture glasses and crystal. The pad, used without the spirit is excellent for burnishing steel, rubbing grease spots off furniture, polishing silver, etc." A large pad, of a different kind of paper, sprinkled with printer's ink, is warranted to give such a brilliant polish to store windows that buyers will rush in by the hundred. Advertise in the Review.

Brigadier General Lord Aylmer, Inspector General of the militia force of Canada, one of the best known and most popular militia officers of the Dominion, has been retired from his position by an order-in-council. The ostensible reason is that Lord Aylmer is 65 years old—the age limit—and yet it is proposed to appoint Lieut.-Col. Vidall, Adjutant-General, as his successor, a man who is 64 years of age and has not had nearly the experience of Lord Aylmer. Military men all over Canada are disgusted at the cavalier and summary manner in which Lord Aylmer has been dealt with by the Laurier Government.

Hon. G. P. Graham recently visited the Grits of Kent at Chatham, and spoke at the political pow-wow held there. The Chatham Planet thus estimates the new leader of the Ontario Opposition; "Mr. Graham's speech, in a great many respects, was a disappointment to many. He has a keen sense of humor, but he lacks the oratorical ability of a really big man or born leader. He is primarily a funny man, with many witty sayings and good jokes, but when it comes the time for the fluent flow of language, which thrills, he is not there. The people who hear him cannot help but feel that they have had a good laugh and—well, that's about all. His comedy is a little overdone and, as a result, his serious passages are considerably weakened, as they have to be digested, while the men in the audience are straightening up their faces and wiping tears of laughter from their eyes.'

The town of Berlin is progressive. It will now operate its own street railway. A despatch contains the following information; The bylaw submitted to the ratepayers and voted upon yesterday to provide for the issue of debentures to raise the sum of $83,000 for the purpose of defraying the purchase price of the entire property of the Berlin and Waterloo Street Railway Company, Limited, and the expense connected with the assumption thereof, was carried today by the largest majority ever given a bylaw here, 749, there being 863 polled in favor, while there were only 114 against. The result was received with general satisfaction on all sides, and the Railway Committee of the Council of 1906-7 are being commended in having carried the project through so successfully, while on some sides it is believed the opposition put up by the street railway company was the best kind of a boost and urged the ratepayers on to victory.

The Railway Commission has issued a summary report of accidents upon Canadian railways, covering the period from Feb. 1, 1904, to March 31, 1905. During that time 402 persons were killed and 142 injured. The casualties on the great railway systems are given as follows.—On the Grand Trunk 167 were killed and 40 injured, on the Canadian Pacific 182 were killed and 59 injured, and on the Canadian Northern 27 were killed and 24 injured. Of the total killed 100 were trespassing on the track, 42 were killed at level crossings, 38 employees were killed while shunting and 15 passengers were killed while attempting to board trains while in motion. Fifteen passengers and nine employees were killed and 25 passengers and three employees were injured in head-on collisions. From rear-end collisions 17 passengers and 15 employees were killed. Of the total fatalities 73 passengers, 168 employees and 161 are classed as "other persons."

Among the discoveries made by the Legislature's Committee on Child Labor, was the astonishing laxness which prevails in respect to the Truancy Act. The average attendance at the public schools is only 58 per cent. of the enrollment, according to Mr. T. H. Preston, of Brant. Of the 250 cities, towns, and incorporated villages upon which it was obligatory to appoint truant officers and make truancy returns, only 75 had sent in such reports, and there were no reports from rural municipalities at all. The report recommends that the municipalities be compelled to enforce the Truancy laws, or else the Provincial Government should undertake its enforcement. Certainly the people of the Province are not getting full value for the large sums spent on education, while the attendance averages only 58 per cent. of the enrollment. Parents are often short-sighted in this regard and keep or allow children to stay at home on the most flimsy pretext. School Board must be roused to their duty, and if they cannot or will not enforce the Act, then let other measures be taken. The Truancy Act might well be amended to cover the case of boys between the ages of fourteen and sixteen who have left school and are not working. These boys would be better off at school than loafing on the streets. Certainly the administration of the Truancy Act needs to be stiffened. It is a case for the Education Department to insist on the observance of the statute.—Toronto News.

From Standing Tree to Printed Paper

The Conversion Occupied only Two Hours and Twenty Five Minutes

The directors of a great paper factory at Eisenthal, Germany, in which American methods have been introduced, have set a remarkable record in co-operation with a newspaper.

At 7:35 in the morning, three trees were cut down in the woods surrounding the factory, and carried to the pulp mills, after having been deprived of their bark and branches as fast as a score of men could work.

They were instantly transformed into paper, and at 9:34 the first roll of paper was ready. The pressroom of the paper was two miles off, and the paper was rushed there in an automobile with no loss of time, and immediately fed to the presses.

At ten o'clock sharp, the first copies were sold, printed on paper which two hours and twenty-five minutes before had been waving in the morning breezes.

NEW PASTOR OF KNOX CHURCH

Will be Inducted on Thursday Evening Next

Rev. Henry J. Keith, B.D., M.A., who will be inducted into the charge of Knox church, Peterborough, on Thursday evening next, April 11th, was born in Smith's Falls, Ont., and received his early education in the schools of that town. He entered McGill University and graduated four years later with honors in philosophy. The next year he received the degree of M.A. in history. Mr. Keith then spent a session in Princeton Seminary, from which place he returned to the Presbyterian College, Montreal, to complete his theological course. He graduated in 1904 being awarded the gold medal for highest standing. At the same time he received the degree of Bachelor of Divinity. In each of his graduating classes Mr. Keith was elected valedictorian, and during his course in theology he successively filled the posts of editor of the college journal and president of the Missionary Society. He won several scholarships, and was awarded prizes for public speaking and essays. Mr. Keith has also been an active worker in the mission fields of the church, having rendered acceptable service in Killaloe, La Prairi, Quebec, and Hampton, N.B.

At the time of graduation he was invited to become assistant in Knox church, Winnipeg, but he was led to accept an invitation extended to him by the International Committee of the Y.M.C.A. to become secretary of Bible study in India.

Mr. Keith was the first to hold this important position, and while in India rendered valuable service in stimulating study of the Bible among the young men. This post he held until a few months ago, when he was forced to return to Canada on account of Mrs. Keith's health. Mr. Keith comes to his work in Knox church with an excellent training that promises well for the future prosperity of that church.

The Flow of Sap is Very Light

Mr. J. F. Dix, of Little Britain, who owns a fine maple bush, and usually manufactures a lot of maple sugar and syrup every spring, is not working his patent evaporator this spring. He says that the flow of sap has been very light owing to the unusually mild weather during March. Frosty nights and sunny mornings are required in order that the sap may rise freely and as these conditions have been lacking in the locality, Mr. Dix did not deem it worth his while to get his outfit going. He thinks the production of "real" sugar and syrup in this vicinity, will not equal one-half the usual quantity.

CARD OF THANKS

Having disposed of my grocery business (Corner of George and Antrim streets) to Messrs. E. F. Mason & Co., I desire to thank my many customers and friends for the kind patronage so freely given during the last nineteen years. I regret that owing to impaired health, and some other considerations, I have arranged to sever my connections with a business that has had my unceasing care and attention, and that has grown with the growth of the city. I take this means of expressing my thankfulness, as it is impossible to call and do so in person. I also wish to say that the business has been acquired by and is in good hands and I am sure that every care and attention will be given in the future, as I have tried to give in the past. I bespeak for my successors, a trial and a continuation of the patronage so kindly favored to myself, and feel assured, that in larger hands, there will be substantial advantages to the customer.

Quakers Lose Good Player

Mr. W. Boycott Leaves for Ottawa Next Week

The Quaker Football Team will this summer be without the services of Mr. W. Boycott, who played such a fine game at left wing last season. Mr. Boycott leaves next Wednesday for Ottawa where he will be employed at Messrs. Sheridan and Henderson's roller rink. These gentlemen have leased Dey's rink and are putting it in shape for roller skating. Mr. Boycott will likely be in Ottawa all summer. He will be greatly missed by many friends in Peterborough. His place on the Quakers will be hard to fill as he was a fine football player, and was in no small measure responsible for the success of the Quakers.

LACROSSE CLUB MINSTREL SHOW

Arrangements are being made by the officers of the Peterborough Lacrosse Club for the holding of a minstrel show in the Grand Opera House at an early date. It is expected that the event can be made a great success as there is plenty of first-class talent and the public will no doubt give the boys hearty support. The date of the function will be announced in a few days. A committee is now making the preliminary arrangements.

BASEBALL

OLD-TIME RIVALS

Peterborough will play independent ball this summer. They have organized their senior team and have elected a good bunch of officers. It would look like old times to see Lindsay and Peterborough again struggling for victory on the diamond, but at present the chances of Lindsay having a senior team look slim.—Lindsay Post.

A HUSTLING INFIELDER.

The Peterborough baseball team will have a valuable man in Whitcroft, now that he has returned to the fold. "Whitty" plays bag No. 2 to a nicety and is useful with the willow, besides being a good "jollier".—Lindsay Post.

NEW BALL RULES.

If any player other than pitcher soils a new ball, either by moistening it or rubbing it in the dirt, he will be fined $5.

If a pitched ball strikes the ground before it crosses the plate, it counts as a ball every time.

The batsman will be declared out if he changes from one box to the other, after the pitcher has taken the pitcher's box.

In games where two umpires officiate, it shall be agreed on and announced before the game on which particular plays each shall rule.

If a catcher interferes with a batsman while striking at a pitched ball the batsman becomes a base runner.

If there are two base runners and one passes another in an endeavor to make a run while the first baserunner is being "tagged" the baserunner who passes shall be declared out.

The last two rules, held in the American League last year, but not in the National League.

THE MIDLAND LEAGUE.

The Executive Committee of the Midland League met at the American Hotel, Port Hope, Thursday evening. President Jex of Cobourg, occupied the chair, and the following members were present.—T. Mulhall, A. Bentley, Cobourg; H. Galbraith and Powers, Oshawa; W. Saunders and Jones, manville; B. Crawford, W. H Giddy, Port Hope, and S. Lockington, secretary.

The rules of 1905 were adopted, with a few amendments.

A marked cheque for $25, payable to the President and Treasurer, must be forwarded to the Secretary on or before May 15th, to be given to the team suffering from a default of a game.

All players must be residents of a town, thirty days before a game, same to take effect after May 15th.

The admission fee to the league was fixed at $5.00 and the umpires will receive $5 and hotel expenses.

Teams have the privilege of agreeing upon an umpire, but they must inform the President three days previous to the game and he notifies the official.

The protest fee was fixed at $10, protests to be entered three days after the game, and the protested team has three days to enter a defence.

DEFECTIVE HIGHWAYS.

Municipalities Must Be Notified of Condition Before Held Liable.

Toronto, April 6.—Exit the unpopular section 606 of the Consolidated Municipal Act.

At the opening of the session petitions rained upon the Legislature asking for the abolition of the enactment which places the liability for accidents from defective highways on the municipalities.

In introducing the Government bill to amend the Municipal Act, Hon. Mr. Hanna stated that it was based on the conclusions of the municipal committee. Under the amendment the municipality must be notified of the dangerous condition of the highway ere it could be held liable. Mr. Hanna admitted that the new act might work a hardship on the stranger who met with an accident.

The bill was given its first reading, as was also Mr. Hanna's other bill to amend the Assessment Act.

A number of private bills were given their second reading.

Game and Fisheries.

The House went into committee on the Government bill "respecting game, fur-bearing animals and fisheries in Ontario." The Prime Minister took occasion to congratulate Hon. Dr. Reaume and Hon. Col. Hendrie on the work they had done upon the measure.

Mr. Graham was not prepared to endorse the provisions for overseeing as in the bill. The policy for some years had been wrong, to his mind, and he wanted to know if the Government intended to adhere to it. The law could not be successfully enforced by engaging a number of young fellows at $50 each. They simply regarded it as a sort of honorarium for party services and the work was not looked after.

Hon. Dr. Reaume said it was proposed to improve the system. The local men would not be done away with. The Province was divided into seven districts each under a game warden, and it was proposed to install an efficient staff at the headquarters at Toronto.

Mr. Graham enquired as to whether anything had been done regarding the reported extension of area held exclusively by the Tadenac Game Club in Freeman township.

Mr. Whitney replied that the extension had not been granted. The matter would stand until Hon. Mr. Cochrane returned.

Mr. Graham put in that he understood it was not the policy of the Government to give such grants.

"That's about right," was Mr. Whitney's laconic comment.

The Liberal leader also alluded to an organization known as the St. Lawrence River Anglers' Association, an international club operating in the Thousand Island district. This club had an agreement with the Dominion Government. He asked what the status of the United States hunters and fishers would be when their privilege conflicted with the Ontario law.

Yanks Have Best of It.

Hon. Dr. Reaume said he had found there was an agreement between the Dominion Government and the State of New York and "the Yankees seemed to have all the best of the argument." Subsequent to the arrangement the Fisheries Department was established in Ontario and the agreement had ever since been respected. He did not believe the Government would permit the clubs to keep it up much longer.

A vote in committee occurred on an amendment of Mr. Tudhope proposing to limit the number of deer a man may shoot in a season to one, or one each for units in a shooting party. The amendment was lost on a vote of 15 to 11. Neither Hon. Mr Whitney nor Hon. Mr. Foy voted. Another amendment to strike out the prohibition against automatic guns was also voted down. Mr. Gamey's amendment to strike out the clause prohibiting the lumbermen having guns was, however, carried.

Mr. Studholme gave notice that he would on Tuesday introduce a bill to regulate the hours of labor of cab drivers and others.

DEFICIT IN PRINCE EDWARD.

Estimates Tabled In House Indicate Small One for Next Year.

Charlottetown, P. E. I., April 6.—Estimates were tabled in the Provincial Legislature yesterday. On current account it is estimated $328,499 will be required. On capital account $21,500. The largest items are:

Administration of Justice	$ 21,000
Education	125,000
Legislation	9,000
Public works	58,000

As only half of the increase in the subsidy from the Dominion will be available next year, there will likely be a small deficit. When all of the seventy thousand is paid a surplus is expected.

Pleads Guilty to Forgery.

Chatham, April 6.—When Harry Wiers of Charing Cross came before Magistrate Coulson yesterday for sentence for forging a $375 cheque on the Bank of Commerce last Saturday, another charge against him was laid by the crown, that he attempted to forge a cheque on the Standard Bank.

Wiers pleaded guilty and was again remanded till Wednesday to enable the crown to secure further pertinent evidence.

A big batch of letters from Charing Cross church circles were on the magistrate's desk, all pleading for clemency.

Power Bylaw Beaten

Shelburne, April 6—The bylaw for the purpose of developing electrical power for Shelburne at a cost of between $50,000 and $65,000, was defeated yesterday by 14 majority, the vote being 64 to 78.

Austria and Hungary Agree.

Budapest, April 6.—According to statements made in well-informed quarters, Austria and Hungary have agreed to patch up their quarrel and renew the Ausgleich until 1917.

Snowstorm In Montreal.

Montreal, April 6.—Montreal awoke yesterday to find themselves in the midst of a snowstorm. The beautiful was promptly transformed into slush.

Case of Mayhem at Bridgewater Village

In a Drunken Row One Man Chews the Ear and Finger of Another

A most disgraceful row occurred at Bridgewater on Saturday evening last between two men in a state of intoxication, says the Tweed News. The participants were Walter Brown and Chas. Sprack, both of Bridgewater, who were drinking together and finally ended up by fighting. In the course of the scrap Brown used his teeth and chewed Sprack's ear and one finger somewhat after the fashion of a South Sea cannibal. Under a warrant Brown was placed under arrest by Constable Sedore and brought to Tweed Saturday evening. He remained in the lock-up here until Monday noon, when he was taken back to Bridgenorth for trial before Magistrate James. After hearing the evidence Brown was found guilty of common assault and a fine of $5 and costs was imposed. It was also arranged that both men sign a pledge to abstain from intoxicating liquors for one year.

DETECTIVE MAY BE CALLED IN

There is a possibility that a detective may be engaged to unravel a cattle poisoning case in Douro township. Two cows and two heifers, belonging to Wm. Forsyth, who resides in the first concession of Douro, died last Sunday, and Dr. Johnson, of Peterborough, who was called, pronounced that death was due to arsenic poisoning. The animals were out in a field, and it is thought that some one gave them poison in salt while Mr. Forsyth was away at church. There is considerable indignation over the affair in the community and the residents of the district would like an investigation to be made.

Is a Daughter of Capt. W. N. Kennedy

Madame Lillian Adams Who Appears Here Thursday Night

It will be of interest to the public of Peterborough to know that Madam Lillian Adams, composer and pianist, who will appear at the concert to be given in St. Peter's hall next Thursday evening, is a daughter of one of the old residents of Peterborough. Before her marriage to Mr. Stanley Adams, the noted English tenor, she was a Miss Kennedy, being a daughter of the late Captain William N. Kennedy, who will be remembered by many of the older residents of the city. He moved from Peterborough to Winnipeg, and passed away while returning on a trip from the Old Country. Madame Adams is a Canadian girl, but her musical education was obtained in England. She is a brilliant pianist and a composer of considerable renown. Her daughter, little Beryl, the child actress, who will also take part in the concert, is one of the most charming child singers ever heard.

Mr. Gilbert Shorter, the celebrated English dramatic impressionist reader, the leading artist on the programme, comes highly spoken of by the press of the leading British and American cities. Mrs. W. J. Morrow will assist in the programme, and other artists who will appear are Mrs. (Dr.) Archer, of Toronto, contralto; Miss Molly Young, Peterborough, mezzo-soprano; Miss McKenna, of St Catharines, lyric soprano, and Mr. John King, Peterborough, basso.

Immigrant Slashes Throat.

St. John, N.B., April 6.—Charles Minus, an immigrant, made a sensational attempt to commit suicide at the immigration sheds yesterday. He slashed his throat with a razor, but bystanders prevented him doing further injury.

He is being deported on account of a suicidal mania, and will be sent back in the next boat.

Foot Cut Off With Rope.

Winnipeg, April 6.—B. J. Smith met with a horrible accident while loading cars at the Anchor elevator Thursday. His foot caught in a noose on the pulley rope, and he was jerked into the air, where he hung until the rope cut his foot off, permitting him to fall upon a cement floor 12 feet below. His head was badly cut, but he will recover.

The civic power plant of Winnipeg will cost $3,000,000.

FIRE! FIRE! FIRE!

SCOTT'S COLLOSEUM

432 GEORGE ST.

Programme for Week Commencing April 8

THE GREAT TORONTO FIRE

Only those who actually saw the great fire of Toronto, can adequately appreciate the realism of the moving pictures shown in the Colloseum by Mr. Scott and his associates. The clang of the fire bells, the rush and hurry, the terror and grandeur of the awful conflagration are marvellously brought out. The rescue work of the firemen, the rush of the crowds, fighting the flames and dynamiting the dangerous walls are depicted with a realism almost incredible.

The continuous performances take place every afternoon and evening from 2 to 5 and 7 to 10 p.m. and furnish a refined entertainment for both small and great. Ladies are especially invited to the afternoon performances. Beautiful illustrated songs

Committee in Charge is Making Extensive Preparations.

The banquet of the City Hockey League to the champion Strathconas will be held at McCallum's on Monday night, April 15th. It was at first proposed to hold the banquet tonight but it has been found advisable to hold it a week later. A meeting of the representatives of the different clubs will be held at Mr. F. A. Clarke's store, George street, at eight o'clock tonight to complete arrangements for the banquet. It is expected that it will be a most successful affair, as arrangements are being made for an excellent programme. There will be a feast of good speeches, excellent songs and instrumental music, in addition to the splendid spread that will be served by Mine Host McCallum. Among those who will contribute are Messrs. W. McIlroy, W. S. Davidson, Louis Mendel and others equally good.

The tickets are now on sale at $1.00 each. They should be bought up rapidly.

COUSIN OF LATE DR. DRUMMOND

Mr. R. J. Soden is Attending the Funeral in Montreal

Mr. R. J. Soden left last night for Montreal, to attend the funeral of his cousin, the late Dr. Drummond, whose funeral took place in that city this this afternoon. Mr. Soden is a first cousin of the late Dr. Drummond. Mr. Soden's father and Dr. Drummond's mother were brother and sister. Mr. Soden was shocked to hear of his cousin's death and feels keenly the loss of such an estimable man as Dr. Drummond. Between Mr. Soden and cousin there was a warm friendship and when Mr. Soden received the sad intelligence of his cousin's death on Saturday he was deeply grieved and could hardly realize that such a big, strong man as Dr. Drummond would be taken off so quickly.

The death of Dr. Drummond is regretted by many persons who, while not knowing the famous author personally had learned to love him through his books. He introduced to them characters they had not known previously, but whose memory will linger even though their creator has passed away.

A WOMAN'S ORDEAL

DREADS DOCTOR'S QUESTIONS

Thousands Write to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., and Receive Valuable Advice Absolutely Confidential and Free.

There can be no more terrible ordeal to a delicate, sensitive, refined woman than to be obliged to answer certain questions in regard to her private ills, even when those questions are asked by her family physician, and many continue to suffer rather than to submit to examinations which so many physicians propose in order to intelligently treat the disease; and this is the reason why so many physicians fail to cure female disease.

Delle E. Montreuil

This is also the reason why thousands upon thousands of women are corresponding with Mrs. Pinkham, daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. To her they can confide every detail of their illness, and from her great knowledge, obtained from years of experience in treating female ills, Mrs. Pinkham can advise sick women more wisely than the local physician.

Read how Mrs. Pinkham helped Delle. Emerentienne Montreuil, of 114 Latourelle St., Quebec, Que.

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"I suffered for eight months with what the doctors called prolapsus, which caused great weakness all over my system, with faint dizzy spells. I kept growing weaker and weaker. I tried several medicines which they claimed would cure my trouble, but nothing was of the least benefit until I tried Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and this helped me so rapidly that I could hardly believe my good fortune. I would gladly have paid $25.00 for that first bottle, for it started me on the road to health, and five bottles cured me. I am most grateful for my splendid, robust health, and shall certainly recommend the Vegetable Compound in glowing terms to all my friends and acquaintances, for it is deserving of all the praise I can give it."

Mountains of proof establish the fact that no medicine in the world equals Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for restoring women's health.

FAST TRAIN WRECKED.

Pennsylvania Flyer Purposely Ditched Near Pittsburg.

Pittsburg, Pa., April 8.—Train No. 329, eastbound, the fastest train on the Pennsylvania R. R. between Pittsburg and Cleveland, was wrecked Saturday near Hudson, Ohio, 123 miles west of here. None of the passengers were injured, but the fireman, who jumped when the accident occurred, and was seriously injured.

According to the railroad officials, the train was purposely wrecked. An investigation disclosed that the attempt made by the wreckers was the same used several times in this vicinity recently.

Team On Cow Catcher.

Cobalt, April 8.—Saturday afternoon the northbound mail train running at full speed just outside Cobalt station struck a sleigh and team belonging to Nipissing mine. The driver, named McDonald, jumped and got clear, but the horses and sleigh were carried for about a hundred feet before going down grade. They were not badly hurt, but the sleigh had to be fused out from under the cowcatcher.

Fire At Lion's Head.

Lion's Head, April 8.—The Royal Hotel and stables, owned by A. Morrin, also the dwelling house of T. A. Burin, with most of the contents, were destroyed by Saturday morning; cause unknown. Both buildings were insured.

A young man named George Webster, while endeavoring to help quench the flames, fell from a ladder and broke his leg.

Suicides From Ferry.

Quebec, April 8.—A young man about 24 years old, named Joseph Picard, from Cacouna, fell from the ferry boat between Quebec and Levis, about 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon and was drowned. His body has not yet been recovered. It seems to be a case of suicide.

Schooner Ashore.

Norfolk, Va., April 8.—The schooner Laura L. Sprague of Marblehead, Mass., is reported ashore off Ocracoke Inlet, N. C., late Saturday. She carries a crew of six or seven men.

Asylum Patient Found Dead.

Brockville, April 8.—When the guard was making his rounds at the asylum for insane Saturday evening, he discovered Samuel Pollock of Cornwall, dead.

The End of Trial is in Sight; Long Drawn Out Legal Battle

Thaw Trial Expected to Be Finished During This Week.

Dr. Hamilton, Alienist, to Take Stand To-Day—Will Say Defendant Was Insane At Time of Murder—Defence Finishes To-Morrow—Case Will Likely Go to Jury On Thursday.

New York, April 8.—That the long-drawn-out Thaw trial, now in its twelfth week, will be finished this week seems almost certain.

Dr. Allan McLane Hamilton, the alienist, who was on the stand when the case was suddenly stopped by the district attorney's suggestion, that the appointment of a commission in lunacy would be advisable, will probably be recalled to the stand when the trial is resumed on Monday. He has already testified that he believes Thaw was insane when he shot Stanford White, and he will probably repeat that statement.

Now Sane.

The lunacy commission, having decided that Thaw is now sane, Mr. Jerome will probably be prevented from asking Dr. Hamilton about his opinion of Thaw's present sanity. Therefore, there is little upon which he can cross-examine the alienist.

Whether or not the defence will call any more witnesses is problematical. It is said that they expect to require no more than one hour to complete their case. If this is true, there is no reason why the case should not go to the jury on Thursday.

District Attorney Jerome Saturday night said that he had no more witnesses whose evidence he would place before the jury.

Mr. Delmas for the defence should finish on Tuesday.

Mr. Jerome still says that he will not require more than one day, and, therefore, at the latest, he should complete his argument on Wednesday. Justice Fitzgerald's charge to the jury should not require more than three or four hours, and it is therefore very possible that the case will be in the jury's hands on Thursday.

Plea For Acquittal.

Mr. Delmas will go before the jury with a plea for acquittal, on the ground that Thaw's mind was unbalanced at the time he committed the crime, and that in view of the fact that he has since recovered his mental balance he should be allowed to go free. Mr. Jerome, on the other hand, will argue that Thaw was sane within the meaning of the law when he killed Stanford White; that the crime was planned and premeditated, and that he should suffer the extreme penalty of the law.

While Mr. Jerome conscientiously believes that Thaw is insane to-day, and should be confined in some institution where he could not be a menace to the community, the commission has decided that he is not, and there is nothing for the district attorney to do but to demand that Thaw be sent to the electric chair.

White's Effects Sold.

New York, April 8.—The sale of the furnishings of the late Stanford White was completed Saturday, the receipts of the day's sale being $77,965, and the total for the entire sale reaching $125,805.

The most important article sold was a sample of the grand Gobain tapestry, which brought $10,500.

Rickard For West Durham.

Bowmanville, April 8.—The Liberal convention on Saturday selected William Rickard, ex-M.P. of Newcastle, to be the Liberal candidate in West Durham at the next provincial election.

The other nominations were W. J. Bragg, Thomas Baker, E. Clemens, and M. A. James.

Hon. George P. Graham, Liberal leader, reviewed the conduct of the Whitney Government, and compared its record with its promises before election. President R. D. Davidson presided.

Killed In Runaway.

Paris, April 8.—Saturday morning Robert McNaughton of South Dumfries received fatal injuries in a runaway.

His horse became frightened at the subway on Grand River street by a train and dashed down the long hill at a breakneck speed, crashing into the iron drinking fountain and breaking it in two.

The man's head struck the pavement with terrible force, and his skull was crushed. He died in the afternoon.

Czar Will Not Abdicate.

London, April 8.—Count Benckendorff, the Russian Ambassador, issued a statement saying there was "absolutely no truth in the report" that the Czar's abdiction was imminent.

Bigamist Jumps Bail.

Belleville, April 8.—James Hawley of Bancroft, who was arrested, charged with bigamy and perjury, was allowed out on bail and has fled the country.

Elmira voted to make a loan to the Interior Hardwood Company.

BATTLESHIP FOR JAPAN.

Commission On Way to Place $11,250,000 Order In England

London, April 8.—It is reported here that the largest battleship in the world, to have a displacement of 21,000 tons, is to be built in England for the Japanese Government, and that a commission already is on its way here from Japan for the purpose of placing the contract with one or another of the great British shipbuilders.

It is believed that Japan would, in the future, build all her own warships, but is is now thought that a vessel of this size would be too great an undertaking for her, and it is known that the Japanese Admiralty has a full program for its home yards.

The cost of this new battleship will be about $11,250,000

Bruchesi Still Busy.

Montreal, April 8.—Archbishop Bruchesi is extending the scope of his censorship. He now expresses his conviction that such books as the works of Voltaire, Rousseau, and others ought not to be included in the Civic Library at the Monument National. The City Hall Committee in charge of the Civic Library have been discussing the question with him, and it is thought that they will comply with his request and remove what he calls "objectionable" books from their list.

Sliver Destroys Finger.

Brockville, April 8.—A. Prosser of Cardinal lost a finger in a peculiar manner. He picked a sliver which had become embedded under a finger-nail. Complications set in and it was found necessary to amputate the finger.

SEVEN WATER SPOUTS

Were Sighted From Bridge of Storm Tossed Ship.

Steamer Virginia From Kingston, Ja., Battered by Wind and Rain for Sixty Hours—Crew Utterly Exhausted—Galley Fires Extinguished—Cabins Flooded—Wind Reached Velocity of 60 Miles an Hour.

New York, April 8.—With seven of her crew more or less injured and the others utterly exhausted, the steamer Virginia arrived here Saturday from Kingston, Ja., after a desperate struggle with a storm of 60 hours' duration off Hatteras.

The wind reached a velocity of 60 miles an hour and rain fell in torrents. At one time seven water spouts were sighted from the steamer's bridge. An immense wave, which struck the ship about six hours after she had run into the storm, ripped off the tarpaulins that had been hastily battened down over the hatch openings, which had been left open to give ventilation to the cargo of bananas in the hold. Galleys, cabin and scuppers were flooded four feet deep, the rush of water extinguishing the galley fires.

Several of the mess-room and cabin force were more or less seriously injured. During the 60 hours which the storm continued Captain Gech remained continuously on the bridge and every man of the crew was kept at his post.

BORDEN TO REMAIN.

Minister of Militia May Succeed Lord Strathcona.

Ottawa, April 8.—Among well-informed politicians here it is said that Sir Frederick Borden, Minister of Militia, will return from England as Canadian High Commissioner at London.

There is an impression here that one excuse and another will be offered for a reorganization of the Laurier Cabinet. No one expects that Mr. Hyman will return to Ottawa as Minister. Mr. Emmerson is out. Presently there may be news of the shunting of Hon. Mr. Scott from the post of Secretary of State to make room for a younger man; then Sir Richard Cartwright will give way, and, with most of the Ontario delegation placed, Sir Wilfrid may find it easy to go ahead with the matter of rehabilitation.

Then new difficulties will beset him. The "next in line" are supposed to be Archie Campbell, W. S. Calvert and W. M. German. Are they Cabinet timber?

SMALLPOX IN BRUCE.

Fourteen Cases Reported From Township of St. Edmunds.

Toronto, April 8.—Fourteen cases of smallpox are reported from the Township of St. Edmunds, in the northern portion of Bruce peninsula. An inspector of the provincial board of health has been in this and adjoining townships for some two weeks past. The local authorities, he declares, have not given the support they should have done to his measures of precaution and prevention.

Sealing Ship Missing.

St. John's, Nfld., April 8.—The sealing steamer Southern Cross, which left this port March 11 with 172 men has not been seen since, and it is feared she has met with an accident.

The steamers, Adventure and Panther, which came in Saturday, report that, except for the Southern Cross, the entire sealing fleet has been accounted for. It is thought that she may have been driven from the sealing grounds and is now jammed in the ice floes far north. The ice is still thick at many points along the coast.

Copper King In Danger.

Trinidad, Col., April 8.—While former United States Senator William A. Clark of Montana was crossing a river 20 miles west of Trinidad, his carriage broke through the ice and was upset.

The Senator was thrown into the stream but was rescued by other members of the party as he was being held under the ice.

After the accident the Senator was hurriedly taken to a ranch five miles away and when he arrived there his clothing had frozen.

Anarchist Near Queen's Ship.

Toulon, France, April 8.—Queen Alexandra and Princess Victoria arrived here Saturday and went on board the royal yacht Victoria and Albert.

The police arrested a German on a small steamer in the vicinity of the royal yacht. He could not explain his presence on the vessel and was detained on suspicion of being an anarchist.

Montrealer Murdered.

New York, April 8.—The body of Frank Drake, who was shot and killed on the Bower Saturday night, will be shipped to his home in Montreal, Canada. A telegram was received in this city from his mother yesterday, asking that the body be sent there. Michael D. Manix is under arrest in connection with the murder.

Suicide Due to Ill-Health.

New York, April 8.—Francis S. Southard, 64 years old, senior member of the firm of Southard & Co., dealers in yellow pine at 11 Broadway, and living at the Rhinelander Apartments in Fifth avenue, shot and instantly killed himself in his home late yesterday. It is believed ill-health caused the suicide.

Arbitrators For Increase.

San Francisco, April 8.—The board of arbitration between the Southern Pacific Co. and the Order of Railroad Telegraphers, handed down its decision Saturday, awarding the telegraphers 7 1-2 per cent. increase in pay and a half day's work on Sunday, or in lieu thereof a vacation of 26 days in each year with full pay.

Three men under the influence of liquor were run down by a trolley on Main street, Winnipeg, last night, one of them being fatally injured.

500 CHINESE HOMELESS.

Great Fire Destroyed Celestial Quarter at Steveston, B. C.

Vancouver, April 8.—The Chinese district of Steveston, the seat of the Fraser River canning industry, was totally destroyed by fire Saturday, and five hundred Chinamen were rendered business.

Fire started from a defective flue or stove-pipe in a house near the river bank at 3 o'clock, and to the piping of a southwesterly gale the whole Chinese section burned to ashes. Incipient fires broke out all over the town, and for a time it seemed that Steveston would be completely wiped out before the flames were got under control. The proprietor of the Star Hotel, one hundred yards distant, offered to sell all his interest in the building for a ten-dollar bill, and could not find a buyer, yet the hotel escaped practically undamaged.

Appliances for coping with the outbreak were of the most primitive description, but everybody turned out to fight the fire, and it was confined to the dictort waters it ieffich fined to the district where it originated.

Thousands of dolars' worth a buildings, stores and personal effects were destroyed, and many inhabitants barely escaped with their lives. Vancouver owners of the burned buildings estimated the loss at a high figure.

CANADA AN EMPIRE.

Outlook Says Many Canadians Favor Political Separation.

London, April 8.—(C. A. P.)—The Economist says colonial statesmen do not yet know with what profound disbelief the majority of Englishmen regard the policy with which Chamberlain's name is associated in the last few years, at the same time not suggesting that it is impossible to draw closer the bonds of union with the colonies.

The Spectator discussing reciprocity and the colonial conference, says "Surely it would be wiser for the Colonies to leave our fiscal system alone while we leave theirs alone, and let each section of the Empire manage its own commercial affairs its own way."

The Saturday Review says "Mr. Bryce can hardly have enjoyed his dinner at the Canadian Club at Ottawa."

The Outlook says "Not a few Canadians agree with Judge Longley that the Dominion is an empire in itself and openly advocate the right to exist as a political entity; many more hold Longley's opinions but have not the courage to express them in public.

SOUTH AFRICA CONSTABULARY.

Relations With the Boers Most Cordial, Says Steele.

London, April 8.—(C. A. P.)—Col. S. B. Steele in an interview stated that the relations of the South African Constabulary with the Boers were as cordial as those of the famous Northwest Mounted Police, all the men behaved like true gentlemen and the respect felt for them greatly added to their efficiency. Col. Steele also dwelt on the necessity of mutual confidence between officers and men in scouting.

Steel Plant Shut Down.

Lorain, Ohio, April 8.—Notices were posted at the mills of the United States Steel Corporation here Saturday that the plant would be shut down for two weeks, for repairs, beginning Saturday night. This will affect 8,000 men.

It is said that most of the employes of the great plant are union men. The enforced idleness of so many men at this time may have an effect upon the strike at the shipyards.

That the city authorities think so is shown by an order of Mayor King to Captain Cove of Company B. to keep his company at the armory under arms until further orders.

Escapes the Chair.

Albany, April 8.—On the recommendation of the Court of Appeal, Governor Hughes Saturday commuted to life imprisonment the sentence of death imposed upon Leonardo Broncado of New York City, who was convicted of murder in the first degree.

Broncado shot and killed Francesco Lapaglia June 1, 1906, in New York City. The evidence was to the effect that Lapaglia threatened Broncado on several occasions and assaulted him before the fatal shot was fired.

Dr. Drummond Dead.

Cobalt, April 8.—Dr. Drummond died at his residence at the Drummond mine at 10.40 o'clock Saturday morning.

He never regained consciousness from the time he was stricken with paralysis last Monday, and no hope has really been entertained. His wife and brother, T. J. Drummond, were with him when he died.

Deceased was 53 years old.

Burned In Mill.

Saugus, Mass., April 8.—Two men were burned to death in a fire which destroyed the H. B. Newhall Tide Mill early Saturday, causing a loss of $25,000. The dead men are Oscar Ellis and Michael Desmond, both of Malden. The bodies were found near a chimney where the men were in the habit of sleeping.

Torpedo Boats Active.

Toulon, April 8.—All the torpedo-boat destroyers here show signs of activity, and the squadron has been ordered to hold itself in readiness to go to Marseilles to carry the Corsican and Algerian mails in the event of an outbreak of the threatened seamen's strikes.

Cheese Factory Burned.

Brockville, April 8.—The J. B. Wilson cheese factory at Willowbank was burned to the ground. It was valued at $2,000 and insured for $1,200.

Australia Will Compete.

London, April 8.—(C. A. P.)—Australia is sending a team to compete for the Kolapore Cup at Bisley in July.

Jno Bailey, 125 West Jackson-st. Hamilton, was painfully crushed by a cave-in at Bay street sewer.

MANY ANIMALS BURNED.

Horses and Cattle Die In Barns Near Thorold.

Thorold, Ont., April 8.—A disastrous fire occurred Saturday night in Thorold Township, resulting in the entire wiping out of the extensive barns of William Vanderburg, whose place is on the Canboro road. Six horses and several head of cattle were burned, together with all the hay the barns contained and some chickens.

Mr. Vanderburg was awakened by the bright glare from the flames, and already the building were completely wrapped in fire. He tried to get the live stock out by chopping the stable doors down, but it was too late to save them. The loss will be probably $3,000, which is partly covered by insurance.

The cause of the fire is a mystery, but it is supposed that tramps who had gone there to pass the night set the hay on fire with their pipes. The barn was one of the largest in the county.

ROOM FURNISHINGS.

They Should Be Simple, Durable, Sanitary and Artistic.

Do not act on the supposition that everything old is beautiful. "Your grandfather's taste may have been worse than yours," observes an expert. Do not buy many things. Do not make a museum of your house.

The furnishings should be adapted to the use to which the family wishes to put them. The life for which the white and gold chair was designed is elaborately and distantly formal. Conventionality and ceremony rather than cosy comfort are suggested by the white and gold room. The use of the room and the purpose of the article should be kept in mind in the selection of furniture.

Furnishings should be simple, durable, sanitary and artistic. Color is one of the most important elements in the selection of furnishings. Do we realize that the indefinable difference between the restful room and the inharmonious room is largely a matter of color? A room requires its color to be in unison if it is to soothe and rest.

Frequently the householder may recall Morris' words, "Have nothing in your homes that you do not know to be useful or believe to be beautiful." And those from Henderson: "One must surround oneself with wholesomeness and beauty. This parallelism between conciseness and nature makes this insistence upon convenience of arrangement and respect for form and color more than a mere matter of taste. It makes it a matter of moral obligation. A man's surroundings are not accidental. They are a part of himself and must likewise be chastened and purified. An ugly room, badly lighted, poorly ventilated, inadequately heated, must be regarded as morally reprehensible, whether provided for oneself or for somebody else. It is the projection of an evil thought and, entering into consciousness, lowers the level of human life."—Boston Traveler.

BIG CANADA.

Sad News Will Take Six Months to Get to Trading Post.

Hundreds of miles from Winnipeg, in lonely northern trading posts of the Hudson Bay Company, the two sons and daughter of ex-Chief Factor Camsell are living, ignorant of the death of their father, which took place in January in Winnipeg. Not until next July will the sad news reach them. W. E. Camsell, the oldest son, has followed in his father's footsteps, and is an accountant in the Company's service at Moose Factory. Fred Camsell is in charge of the post at Fort Simpson, and Mrs. Harding lives with her husband at Fort Resolution.

The late Captain Julien Camsell was born 68 years ago in Ceylon, where his parents were then living, his father being an officer of the British ordnance. After being educated in England, he joined the army in 1853, being anxious to see service in the Crimean war. But his regiment did not go after all, being later sent to Canada and stationed at St. Johns, Quebec. In 1857 a portion of the Royal Canadian Rifles, a Colonial regiment, was despatched to Red River by way of Hudson Bay, and with it, as an ensign, marched young Camsell. The expedition left Montreal by sailing ship on the 20th of June, 1857, and arrived at Fort Garry on the 15th of October in the same year. The force was sent to Red River by the British Government in anticipation of trouble with the United States over the Oregon boundary, and also at the solicitation of the Hudson Bay Company, who feared that the natives were contemplating mischief. The soldiers remained at Fort Garry two years, when the regiment was disbanded, most of the men returning home. Capt. Camsell became infatuated with the adventurous life of buffalo hunting on the plains, and in 1860 joined the service of the H. B. Co., and was sent to the Mackenzie River district in the Far North. Major Seaton is said to be the last surviving member of the expedition of 1857, which numbered 116 men and 16 women.

Capt. Camsell was an able and efficient officer, and rose steadily in rank in the Company's service. Appointed chief trader in 1872, he was given charge of the Mackenzie district in 1878, and in 1893 became chief factor. He retired in 1901, after forty years' service in the Mackenzie River district, of which he was in charge for twenty-three years. The deceased officer was famous as an athlete. On the snowshoes he was unexcelled, and he handled the huskies as few dog-drivers could. In 1869, having met Miss Sarah Foulds in Winnipeg, he was married to that lady at Fort Simpson, whither she was accompanied by Mrs. W. Hardisty, a sister-in-law to Lord Strathcona. Mrs. Camsell is still living.

A Wondrous Fish Story.

Not many persons have the luck of a fisherman on the Arrow Lakes, British Columbia, last summer. At the same time he captured a 200-pound deer and a ten-pound trout.

The fisherman was trolling for trout, when several deer swam past his boat. The man managed to catch hold of an old buck as he was going by, and, having no gun, attempted to kill the animal with a clasp knife.

Struggling violently, the deer got away, and as it swam off it carried the fisherman's line upon its horns.

Picking up his oars, the man started in pursuit, but was unable to bring the deer to bay and kill it until after about two hours of pursuit and fighting.

Most amazing, however, was the fact that then developed. The fishline was still fastened about the deer's horns, and hanging on the hook was a fine ten-pound trout, that had seized the bait as the deer dragged it through the water. The fisherman bore home in triumph both fish and animal.

Only One Each.

By the treaty of 1817, Great Britain and the United States bound themselves not to keep more than one war vessel apiece upon Lake Ontario.

A Normal Disadvantage.

"Why do reformers so often come to grief?"

"I have often asked the question," answered Senator Sorghum. "I think it must be because they take up politics as an incidental diversion instead of a regular business. It's the difference between the amateur and the professional."

Shopping Politeness.

"Never point, my dear," said the mother gently.

"But, mamma," objected the little girl, "suppose I don't know the name of the thing?"

"Then let the salesman show you all he has in stock until he comes to the article that is desired."

An Inference.

Father—Young Upperten is going to propose for your hand soon. Daughter—How do you know? Father—I hear he has been making inquiries as to my financial standing.

A FAMOUS VIKING.

Late Captain Jackman of Newfoundland Captured in His Time 552,510 Seals.

In the death, recently, of Captain Arthur Jackman, Newfoundland lost its most famous Viking.

For over forty years this mariner navigated a ship to the ice-fields off the coast of Newfoundland in quest of seals. Some of the adventures in which he was the hero are amongst the most thrilling incidents in marine annals.

His name is a household word all over the island colony for his skill and daring as a mariner, and as probably the greatest and most successful captain who ever steered a ship through the frozen ocean in search of seals.

His knowledge of the coast of Newfoundland evoked universal admiration. He was able to find his way through the most dense fogs and furious tempests with amazing certainty; his record on the coastal service being marked by scarcely an accident. This year, for the first time in over forty the famous old mariner will be missing at the ice. He has gone on his last voyage; the ocean—eternity; the pilot—death.

His Sealing Career.

Captain Jackman was born in 1843 at Renews, where the first of the Jackman family settled on coming to Newfoundland from Devonshire, nearly two centuries ago. Animated by the spirit of daring and adventure characteristic of the race, he took to the sea as a pursuit, and sailed as a lad with his elder brother, the late Capt. Wm. Jackman. In 1865, at the age of 22, he was given command of a schooner at the seal-fishery, continuing to prosecute that industry until 1871, when he made his last voyage in a sailer, the Fanny Bloomer.

Appointed Master.

Then he was appointed master of the Hawk, in succession to his brother, who had been promoted to the command of the first steamer Eagle which had then been brought out a new ship from Scotland. During the ensuing 35 years he has had command of the following sealing steamers: Hawk (six springs), Falcon (four springs), Norwhal (one spring), Resolute (six springs), Eagle, lost (seven springs), Aurora (four springs), Terra Nova (six springs), the present Eagle (three springs).

During these 36 years he has brought into St. John's, Nfld., 552,510 seals or an average of 15,347 per year, the aggregate value being estimated to exceed $1,000,000.

During this period more than 8,000 men have been under his command, and he has the record of never having lost one. In the worst blizzards that desolated the floes he always contrived to pick up his crews. Some years, however, deaths have occurred to some of his men through colds, or other diseases, but in 1897, the stormiest spring in sealing annals, four of them died of diphtheria. That was the year he killed his trip off the Virgin Rocks, and was the only one of the fleet to load. He did the same again in 1905, and great was the sensation caused by his unexpected appearance after getting a trip away off the Banks.

Arrived First.

On March 21, 1876, he arrived first in the Falcon with 21,190; on March 31, 1885, in the Resolute with 34,639; on March 27, 1895, in the Aurora with 29,916, and on March 28, 1905, in the Eagle with 32,664. He also enjoyed the reputation bringing in a saving trip every year. During his career two ships were lost under him, the Hawk in 1876, and the Resolute in 1886, but the crews were saved each time. In 1886, when Bowring Bros. took the first coastal contract, with the Curlew and Plover, Capt. Jackman was appointed to the command of the former ship on the west route and continued on that service for years. In 1889 he and his crew in the Plover narrowly escaped death, while on a voyage from Sydney to St. John's with a cargo of coal, and their rescue was one of the most thrilling incidents in marine annals.

His Arctic Record.

Besides his sealing voyages, Capt. Jackman was the pioneer of the Newfoundland venture in the Greenland whaling industry, and went to the Arctic seas several years. Commander Peary, the famous Arctic explorer, made his first trip there with Capt. Jackman in 1886. In 1893, while on a whaling voyage, the Eagle was lost, and the story of how Captain Jackman brought his crew safely in open boats through hundreds of miles of ice-strewn seas, is equal to any in Arctic annals, and is one of the most stirring in marine history.

When the "Discovery" South Polar expedition was frozen fast in Antarctic waters, and the Admiralty bought the sealer "Terra Nova" for a relief expedition, Commodore Montgomerie, of H. M. S. Charybdis, who was entrusted with getting a ship and a commander, chose Captain Jackman.

In 1900 he went in the Kite to the relief of the American whaling station in Cumberland Sound, Baffin Land, after a sailing vessel bound there from Boston had been wrecked on Northern Labrador; and though it was very late in the season when he received orders to start, he carried out his mission with conspicuous success. His last great feat was the towing to St. John's, in the trawler Magnific shortly before Christmas, 1904, of the schooner Bessie Dodd, cast away on Labrador. Dr. Grenfell lavished unstinted praise upon him for his splendid work on that occasion.

Work of Canadian Artists.

An interesting sign of the times is the predominance of Canadian scenes and sketches in the work of Canadian artists. There was a time when our artists received all their inspiration from Europe; they were taught in European schools, and painted European landscapes, or, if by chance they sketched a Canadian scene, it was from the point of view of an Old Country man. But now all that is changed. During the last few years there has arisen a generation of men who paint Canada as it appears to them. Northern Ontario has been a very special source of inspiration to these men.

Humor and Philosophy

By DUNCAN M. SMITH

BUSY AS BEES.

In nearly every commonwealth
  In all this great and glorious land
The legislatures are at work
  And making laws to beat the band.
They're making laws for you and me,
  Designed to help us on our way,
And trying with their might and main
  To earn their very modest pay.

The corporations that of yore
  Had favors brought in on a tray
Now find the solons are engaged
  In looking hard the other way.
The fellows who could see them wink
  Or hear them make the slightest cough
Now rise up boldly in their seats
  And tell them just where they get off.

This is the era of reform.
  The muck rake and the mighty stick
Have made the bribers hesitate
  Where formerly they turned the trick,
For, lo, we've had another deal,
  The new has given way to old,
And in this modern day of grace
  They can't get action in their gold.

That is the way they've started out
  To smite corruption on the thigh
And land upon its burly neck
  And black its bold and brazen eye.
A good beginning, you will own,
  But will they keep the standard high?
Just wait till they come marching home
  And see how large a house they buy.

Halting Progress.

Chinese reform has been given a setback by an imperial decree that tells the new educational methods to chase themselves and instructs the teachers to pound into the round heads of the Chinese youngsters the great truths originally printed by Confucius with a ten cent marking brush.

Possibly the empress dowager considers western learning a Yankee peril, but if the hopeful young Chinamen, after having had their heads lined with wise sayings several thousand years old, go against students from a modern business college when they try to break into commercial life they will discover that the world has moved up several pegs since the great teacher did his heavy thinking.

Knowing Confucius may help the men whose highest ambition is to launder shirts, but a few chapters from the life of P. T. Barnum would prove much more helpful to the boy who intends to organise trusts for a living.

Pitied Its Suffering.

"What is that noise in the next room?"

"Maybel is doing her musical turn."

"Oh, is that all? I thought the piano was calling for help."

What Other Object?

"She writes to her husband every day when she is away."

"Does she need money that often?"

Suited Him.

"Drink to me only with thine eyes."

"Sure. The only thing I see to drink is water."

Girl-made.

"How does a cynic strike you?"

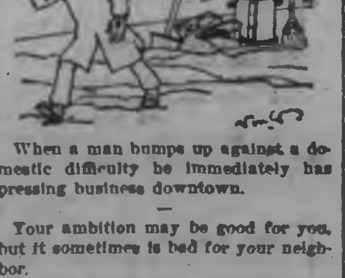
"I always wonder what the girl was like."

PERT PARAGRAPHS.

The trouble with some people is it seems to take so little to encourage them.

That a thing is difficult is not necessarily a recommendation.

No sensible man is knocking his own game to boost yours.



When a man bumps up against a domestic difficulty he immediately has pressing business downtown.

Your ambition may be good for you, but it sometimes is bad for your neighbor.

Of course laws and rules are made to keep the other fellows in check.

A first impression is too often a depression.

So many phrases sound well that don't mean anything that it is no wonder that we have so many philosophers in the world.

If hard work spelled success, we would have so much success in the world that we would have to offer a reward to get rid of it.

EASY DOOR FASTENERS.

Only One Kind of Lock the Expert Burglar Can't Pick.

"There's only one lock in the world that I can't open if you'll give me a few minutes at it, and as for ordinary door and drawer locks, I'll open them as easily as if there was no lock there. Any expert burglar can do the same."

The foregoing statement was made by an experienced locksmith of Kansas City.

"Few persons know how insecure their homes are," he continued. "Few persons realize that the average lock is absolutely worthless for keeping out an experienced burglar. The ordinary door lock is good for nothing but reminding casual business or social callers that they must ring to be admitted. None of these ordinary 'door fasteners,' and that's the best you can call them, will deter a burglar two whole minutes. If there's no key in the lock, he soon fits one to it. If there is a key in the lock, he inserts a pair of pinchers and in ten seconds has it opened. Understand me, I am speaking of the experienced burglar. The clumsy burglar is the one who gets in trouble. He'll fumble around with a lock until somebody hears him. There is only one unpickable lock made. That's the six pin lock used by the government. It will defy any expert. There are six little steel pins in the lock, which have to be raised just a certain distance to open it. Some of the pins are one-fourth of an inch long and some of them a half inch. If one of the pins lacks even a hairbreadth of being raised the proper distance, the lock will not open. It baffles all the experts."

This locksmith is so expert he can open the majority of safes by putting his ear to the combination and listening to how the tumblers click into place as he turns it.

"I intended at one time to be a burglar," this locksmith declares. "I had it all planned out—even had a set of burglar's tools made. Then I decided that honesty was the best policy, and I stuck to my trade."

THE SHREW MOUSE.

Some Queer Superstitions About a Harmless Little Animal.

The shrew, or shrew mouse, as it is commonly called, is found in nearly all parts of the world. It is distinguished by an elongated, pointed muzzle, small eyes, plantigrade, six toed feet and glands that secrete a musky fluid. Altogether it closely resembles a mouse, but it is really not related to the mouse family.

When at home it is either under a pile of rubbish or in a hole which it has burrowed in the earth. It is nocturnal in its habits, but perfectly harmless, yet at one time it was much disliked and persecuted because it was thought to be a dangerous, mischievous animal. Among the Italians the notion was prevalent that the bite of a shrew was extremely poisonous. The French and the English believed that if a shrew ran over an animal's foot the animal felt great pain and eventually became paralyzed; hence if a horse, a cow or a goat became a little stiff in its limbs the foolish people at once declared it "shrew struck," and the poor shrews had to suffer in consequence.

Of course the "shrew struck" animal had to have something to cure it, so an ash tree was selected, and a deep hole was bored into its trunk. Then a shrew was captured, put alive into the hole, the hole was securely plugged, and the innocent little animal was left to die of starvation.

The ignorant believed that after such an act the ash tree had power to cure "shrew struck" animals, and whenever an animal became inactive or a little numb in its limbs its owner hurried to the "shrew ash," cut a switch from it and switched the "shrew struck" beast. The smarting caused by the switching naturally made the helpless animal move about as much as it possibly could, and in a short time it was pronounced cured.

A Gallant Highwayman.

A highwayman recently held up a gasoline runabout on the outskirts of Rome. The highwayman stopped the runabout with a shot in the air. Then he ran forth from the tomb that had concealed him—the holdup happened on the Appian Way—and found to his surprise only a woman in the little car.

"Where, madam, is your husband?" he demanded sternly and suspiciously.

"He's under the seat," she answered, flushing.

"Then," said the highwayman, "I will take nothing. "It's bad enough to have a husband like that without being robbed into the bargain."

Evolution of Chemistry.

The first chemists were the alchemists, who for hundreds of years vainly tried to make gold by compounding various chemicals. Chemistry was introduced into Spain by the Moors in 1150, and the Chinese and Egyptians claimed an early acquaintance with it. However, chemistry was not a science until the seventeenth century. Boerhaave was the first to combine the study of chemistry with medicine, and since then its evolution has been rapid.

A Bad Case.

"What's the matter, dear?" asked the doctor's wife. "Are you worried about Mr. Poorley's case?"

"Yes," replied the doctor.

"And is there no hope?"

"Very little. He says he doesn't expect to leave enough to pay more than one-third of my bill."—Answers.

GONE TO THEIR REWARD

It is strange that two such noted men as Hon. J. W. St. John and Dr. W. H. Drummond should be called to join the silent majority within a few hours of each other.

Both were widely known and greatly beloved by all classes and all creeds. Both were comparatively young men, each being in the 53rd year of his age.

Mr. St. John was a man of pleasing personality, a fluent and graceful speaker, an upright and conscientious citizen. He made an admirable presiding officer in the Ontario Legislature; he had fine social qualities, and a magnificent physique. As Speaker of the House he was courteous, considerate and eminently fair. He enjoyed the confidence and respect of Conservatives and Liberals to a marked degree. His loss will be keenly felt. The deceased visited Peterborough a little over two years ago on the formal opening of the new club rooms of the Young Conservative Club. He delivered a stirring speech on that occasion and was afterwards the guest of the Club at a delightful banquet. Mr. St. John made a brave struggle for life. He was a man of exemplary habits, temperate in all things. He was an ornament to his profession and to the public life of Canada. He had a big heart and a kindly disposition. He made friends with all and his premature death will be universally mourned. In a word he was upright and honorable—a gentleman in the fullest and best meaning that the term implies and than the tidings in the legislative world of Mr. St. John's death, is the sorrowful news in literary circles, of the passing away of Dr. W. H. Drummond, the popular French-Canadian literateur. He was one of this country's sweetest singers, and his poems were immensely popular in the Dominion and even to the remotest corner of the empire. He lived close to nature and drew inspiration from field and forest, mountain and stream and glen. He was known as the poet of "the habitant." He loved and respected the French-Canadians. For them his affection was genuine and true. He did much to cement the bond of friendship between the two great races.

Speaking of his memorable work, a well-known writer has said:

"It is more than twenty years ago, that Dr. Drummond wrote the first of his Habitant poems, but some years elapsed before they were given to the public. He wrote, not as a professional poet, but as a busy doctor, to amuse himself and entertain his friends. The material for his verses was unconsciously collected in the holiday months he spent each year in the Quebec woods, and on the rivers, where he was looking for trout instead of rhymes. Here he met the habitant in his natural surroundings and learned, not only to mimic his quaint broken English, but to understand his point of view and to sympathize with him. "Phil-o-rum Juneau" was actually his canoe man and an old friend, and most of the other characters he made familiar to lovers of his verse were the men and women whom he had met and talked with on some of his annual visits to the woods."

SMITH COUNCIL OPPOSES A LICENSE

Being Granted to Any Hotel in That Township.

At a meeting of the Smith township council this afternoon, Mr. W. J. Northey, of Selwyn, waited upon that body and asked the council to oppose the proposed granting of a liquor license in Harvey township.

The following resolution was carried by the council:

Moved by Mr. Graham, seconded by Mr. White, that this council, having learned that a license is being requested for the Windsor House, Buckhorn, in Harvey, this council believes that it would not be in the best interests of this township to grant the same, as the government intends to proceed with large public works and it deems it would be better to not have liquor near the work.

OBITUARY

ROBERT EVANS.

After an illness of about two months Robert Evans passed away at an early hour this morning at his old home in Otonabee. With his demise another old land mark has gone, and thus the ranks of the venerables are rapidly decreasing. For the past half a century the people of old Otonabee have known and respected Robt. Evans, and the longer he was known the better he was liked.

He was born in Grafton, Ont., in 1835, but moved to Otonabee with his parents when quite a boy. The old homestead is still occupied by the family and is familiar to all. He lived a quiet life, taking no part in public matters. Nevertheless he was known to nearly everyone.

Besides his widow, the deceased is survived by five sons and one daughter. The boys are Herbert, who resides on the adjoining farm, Frank, of Winnipeg, Andrew, Harry and Willie at home, and Miss Mary at home. The funeral will be held on Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock when Rev. Mr. Steadman, of Indian River Baptist church, will conduct a service at the residence on the 3rd con. Interment will take place at Fife's cemetery.

CORDAGE WORKS HAD CLOSE CALL

Blaze Broke Out in the Sorting Room—Little Damage Done.

The Canadian Cordage and Manufacturing Company's works had a close call from fire on Friday last. A blaze broke out in the sorting room. It is supposed to have originated from a hot box on one of the sorting machines. As the material in the room is highly inflammable the flames spread rapidly. The iron doors between the sorting department and the other departments were immediately closed and the intense heat soon caused the automatic sprinklers in the room to give forth abundance of water. The flames were soon quenched by the sprinklers. The fire brigade was not called out. The damage was very light.

Corruption prevails to such an extent in Morocco that both civil and military officials are enriching themselves at the expense of the country.

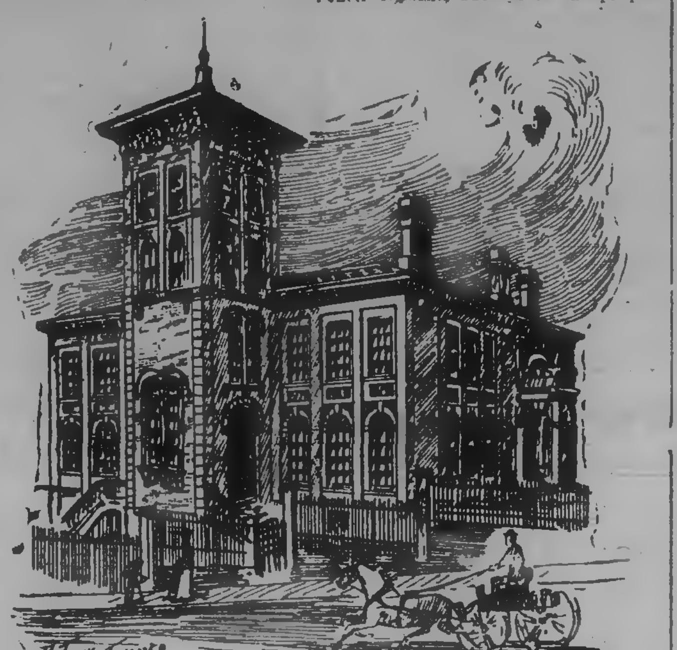
UNION GRAMMAR AND COMMON SCHOOL WAS STARTED JUST HALF A CENTURY AGO

First Stake Was Driven in the Fall of 1857 and Building Was Opened in January 1860—Now Used as a Public School—Central Park Was Considered as a Site Then—Cost Was Only a Little Over $16,000—Interesting Events Leading up to the Amalgamation of the Two Schools.



Union Grammar and Public School, started in 1857, now used as a Public School.

In Saturday's issue of the Review was a reference to the enthusiasm displayed when the first stake was driven marking the site for the new Collegiate Institute. But of the crowd who watched Dr. Morrison hit the top of the stake, how many, thought that it was just fifty years ago that the first stake was driven for the first Collegiate Institute, now the Central Public school. It was in the fall of 1857 that the Union school was started, and it was finished and formally opened in January, 1860.

At this time a short history of the events which led up to the amalgamation of the Grammar school and the Public school might be of great interest to many readers.

The first school house, a large building, with shingled roof, was erected in 1826-27 on the ground in the rear building. The Rev. Samuel Armour, of the present Collegiate Institute the first Episcopal clergyman in Peterborough, conducted the school in which the higher, as well as the lower branches of education were successfully taught. This was the foundation of the present excellent educational system, and it answered the purpose for many years.

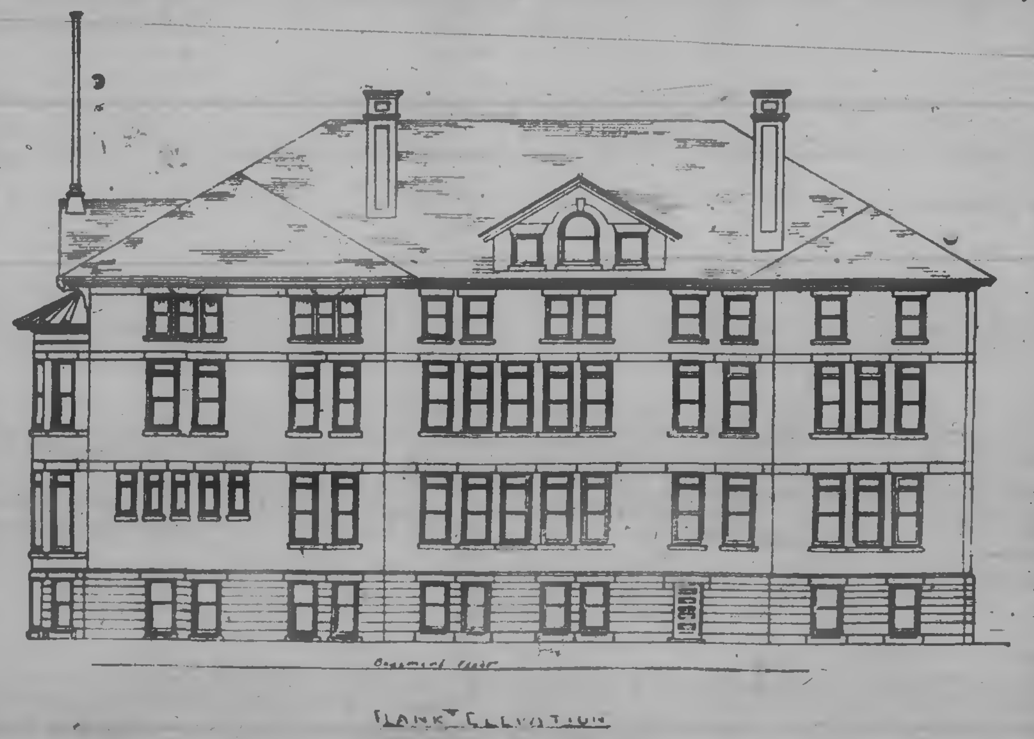
As the town progressed other schools, especially devoted to the branches usually taught in Common schools were organized, and then the old log building was appropriated solely to the purposes of a grammar school, and almost from the commencement a grant of money from the public funds was made annually in its support.

At the beginning of 1852 all the Common schools were united under a common school board of trustees, and the vacant church built and formerly occupied by the British Methodist Society, at the corner of Sheridan and Hunter streets, was leased and used.

Towards the close of the year 1853 the old Grammar school was found to be so dilapidated that it was untenable for winter use. The two school boards (the Grammar and Public) reached an agreement in February of the following year, whereby the two schools were carried on in the old church until 1860, when the large, handsome new building was ready. It was known as the United Grammar and Public School.

Early in 1857, in consequence of the church being too small to accommodate the large number of pupils, a movement was started for a public structure which would be an ornament to the town and sufficiently large to accommodate the combined schools for many years. There was, of course, some discussion as to the proper site for such an edifice. The first proposal was the old burying ground where the new Collegiate is being built; the second choice was what is now known as Victoria Park, and the third site was on Murray street, where the building was erected. The Victoria Park site was selected and the county and town councils gave their consent, but before the property could be changed from county to school purposes, a special act was necessary. A deputation went to Toronto, to have the bill put through, but another deputation in opposition also went up and the Government refused its permission, for which the people for many generations to come will be thankful.

It was at this time that site No. 3 appeared most attractive and it was finally chosen, and the School Board proceeded with its preparations for the new school. Dr. Sheard, architect of Toronto, furnished the plans, etc. Messrs. Mitchell, Graham and McDonald were awarded the contracts, and the work was vigorously pushed forward, during the fall of 1857, and the two following years.



THE NEW COLLEGIATE
Another view of the new building as it will appear when completed.

The new union school was completed and possession assumed by the Board, and the school was opened in January, 1860. The following composed the Building Committee.—Messrs. James Hall, chairman; W. H. Conger, William Cluxton, Thomas Fortye, James Stevenson, Frederick Ferguson, and Rev. Mark Burnham.

In order to provide funds for building purposes, two town lots, originally set apart for school purposes, were offered for sale. These were No. 10, north of King street, and No. 5, south of London, and west of George street. The building fund was also largely assisted by grants from the town council of the entire clergy reserve money, appropriated to the town for 1856, amounting to £981, 8s., and 3d.

The original estimate was $16,000 and the actual amount spent was $16,258. This will give a pretty fair idea, how conditions have changed during the past half century. The new building which will be started this week will cost $61,000; at least that sum has been voted by the people, and the building will not be put up for less.

In regard to the attendance of pupils at the Peterborough Union Grammar and Common Schools, the following statistics of three successive periods are given:—

Grammar School, in 1856, four years before the Union school was occupied—Total number in the department, 87; of these there were studying arithmetic, 80; algebra, 8; euclid, 8; trigonometry, 2; mensuration, 2; geography, 87; history, 80; ancient geography, 40; modern geography, 87; history of Rome, 87; history of Great Britain, 87; physical science, 87; natural philosophy, 32; natural history, 87; writing, 87; bookkeeping, 7; drawing, 31; vocal music, 36.

Common School, in 1856, four years before the Union School was opened, the number of pupils was 498. Of these 280 were boys and 217 girls; 31 were indigent pupils. The total number in arithmetic was 323; grammar, 298; geography, 352; history 177; writing, 376; book-keeping 4; mensuration, 6; algebra, 2; geometry, 3; natural philosophy, 12; vocal music, 103; other studies 130.

For 1864, four years after the opening of the Union school, the total attendance was 1,052. Of these 551 were boys, and 501 girls; 104 were indigent pupils. Average attendance 459; arithmetic, 893; grammar, 702; general geography, 707; Canadian geography, 248; history, 459; writing, 877; book-keeping, 28; mensuration, 2; algebra, 46; geometry, 43; natural philosophy, 95; linear drawing, 21 needlework, 30.

In 1906 there were 2,302 pupils on the roll, with an average attendance of 1,535. This includes a Kindergarten enrolment of 288, with an average attendance of 104.

Of the 2,014 pupils in the public school proper, 1,016 were boys and 998 girls. These pupils all take arithmetic, writing, reading, composition, literature, spelling, drawing, nature study and physical culture; 1,120 take geography; 755 grammar, 237, English history; 755, Canadian history; 755, physiology, and 256 receive some instruction in music.

PRINCIPALS.

Prior to the union of the Grammar and Common Schools in 1854, the principals were:—Rev. Samuel Armour, Incumbent; Rev. Moses Williamson, Presbyterian minister; Rev. R. J. C. Taylor, rector; Bolton, W. O'Grady, A.B., T.C.D.

Principals since 1854 were:—John Gordon, J. W. Kerr, Stewart Foster, Rev. John McClure, Jas. M. Dunn, and John King, B.A., T.C.D.; J. Henry Long started Sept., 1884; resigned in 1890; C. Fessenden still principal. This is as near correct as it is possible to get at present.

MINISTERS HAD FINE MEETING.

Interesting Discussion Followed Paper on "Religion and Christian Science."

The regular monthly meeting of the Peterborough Ministerial Association for April was held this morning, with the following members present; Revs. Canon Davidson, J. G. Lewis, J. R. Webb, A. H. Brace, J. G. Potter, A. Bright, Dr. Crothers. Mr. R. J. Todd was granted permission to be present as a visitor.

The secretary communicated the reply from the secretary of the School Board re visitation of schools. It was felt that a half hour of the school day weekly devoted to religious instruction by the ministers of the city, would result in a great good morally and spiritually to the children.

Rev Canon Davidson presented a carefully thought out paper on "Religion and Christian Science." He declared his belief that through man's fall of spirit by the fall the human body has suffered and the way opened for disease and pain. Jesus Christ, the Great Physician, clearly made the healing of the body secondary to and commonly a means to spiritual healing or help. No doubt faith and prayer are honored of God, but these plainly have limits and means are plainly required and honored of God. In the use of means God is not robbed of the honor. Scripture and experience alike support the use of means as well as prayer.

A lively and most harmonious discussion followed in which many pointed question were to to Mr. Todd, by which a better understanding was reached with reference to the practical working of this science. The prevailing impression was that this science too exclusively emphasizes and carries to an extreme an important truth which has long been taught by the Christian church.

Visitors to the hospital and home are Revs. A. H. Brace, Canon Davidson, Dr. Torrance and J. G. Potter.

Votes of thanks were tendered Canon Davidson for his paper and Mr Todd for information given.

ANNOUNCEMENT WAS BOGUS ONE

No Truth in Report of Marriage of Local Young Man

A bogus marriage notice which appeared in a contemporary on Saturday made it appear that Mr. J. E. Code of this city had been married to a young lady in Toronto on Wednesday of last week. As Mr. Code is still enjoying single blessedness the marriage announcement was apparently the work of some "Smart Aleck" with a propensity for foolish and underhand jokes. Mr. Code is justly indignant, regarding the matter and intends making it interesting for the perpetrator of the fraud if the guilty party can be apprehended.

Creek is Used an Open Sewer, Says Sanitary Inspector Ball

Made an Examination of the Creek From the River to Smith Street—Vote of Thanks for the Police—Report on Milk Inspection.

Sanitary Inspector Geo. Ball reported to the Board of Health this morning that the creek running through the centre of the city, was little better than an open sewer. He had examined it from the outlet at the river, right through to Smith street, and had found a large number of closets either over the creek or so near to it that the soakage was such as to contaminate the water. In most cases it was possible for the properties thus mentioned to connect with the sewer, and in those cases where a sewer was not handy, the closets, he said, could be moved farther away. The Board of Health will take action at once to have this practice stopped and those who do not comply with instructions will be prosecuted.

For years the residents along the creek have been using it as a sewer and now they must stop. The number of factories and leading citizens who have thus been using the creek was a surprise to the Board of Health and would be the general public if their names were published. All parties will be given one month to comply the inspector's instructions and those failing to do so will be given publicity through the police court.

Members present, Chairman Wm. Eyres, Messrs. Parker, Schneider, Neill, Mayor McWilliams, M. H. O. Dr. Bingham, S. I. Geo. Ball, Dr. McNulty.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. No communications had been received since the last meeting.

The committee appointed to look into the Dickson Co. property had no report to make as the chairman said he did not know that the council had appointed any committee. He would arrange a joint meeting at an early date.

VOTE OF THANKS.

The following vote of thanks was moved to Chief Roszel and the police constables,—"That This Board express to George I. Roszel, Chief Constable, who has acted as sanitary inspector for many years, and to the constables who have been his assistants, its appreciation of the capable manner in which they have enforced the sanitary laws in Peterborough and carried out the directions of the Board of Health. Their efficient supervision has improved the sanitary conditions and the intelligent co-operation has been of great assistance to the Board in its work, and as the growth of the city, and of their police duties has rendered necessary the separation of the work and the appointment of a sanitary inspector, this Board wishes to convey to them and place on record its appreciation of their zeal and faithfulness.—Carried unanimously.

POLLUTING THE CREEK.

Inspector Ball said he had examined the creek from the river to Smith street, and he found several closets over the creek, a stable on the banks, and a compost pile was partly in the creek, the C.P.R. cattle yards were right near the creek, and it looks as if the refuse were thrown into the water, also a pig sty.

Inspector Ball said his decision, in face of the facts he discovered, was that the creek was used as an open sewer, and was very injurious to the general health. He specified all the closets that he found on, or very close to the creek.

Chairman Eyres said there should be a bylaw compelling everyone in the corporation to cease using the creek as a sewer. He went wont so far as to say that everyone should be compelled to connect with the sewer is one passed their property.

Mr. Parker said that this could not be too strongly enforced. He said he had had a lot of experience along this line, probably more than anyone else, and he said it was a wonder there had not been an outbreak of malaria.

On motion the inspector was notified to instruct all persons who are polluting the creek to stop, and those who do not comply by the 15th of May, by either connecting with the sewer, or moving their closets be prosecuted.

MILK INSPECTION.

The quality of milk being furnished to the citizens of Peterborough is a little better than the average. Judging from the reports from the Provincial Analyst in Toronto, all the cries and complaints, heard earlier in the season are groundless, or else the dairymen made very sudden changes for the better. Seven samples have been reported on and they are all above standard except one and it is very good.

Medical Health Officer Dr. Bingham, read a report on seven samples of milk, which have been sent to Toronto. These samples were all found pretty good, with no pollution in any of them. The butter fat averaged from 3.25 to 6 per cent.

Meeting adjourned till next Monday morning.

Spring Assize Court Opened Before Mr. Justice Riddell

No Case for the Grand Jury or Petit Jury—Latter Was Discharged—Address to His Lordship—First Case Called Was Ruetsch vs Spry.

For the first time in many years the Spring Assizes for the County opened with no jury cases. The Grand Jury was selected charged by His Lordship, and adjourned to inspect the gaol and charitable institution. When the report is presented they will be discharged. The petit jury was called and as there was nothing for them to do they were discharged at once.

There were a few jurors absent and His Lordship instructed the Crown council to investigate their cases and if they had not a reasonable excuse to bring them before the bench. In this connection Mr. Justice Riddell said that in his opinion there was no greater honor bestowed upon a person than to act upon either the grand or petit jury. It was equal to a man's privilege to vote. The instant he was made a juror he became a "servant of the King and would be paid by the King. He, therefore must have a good excuse for being absent from court when called.

His Lordship Mr. Justice Riddell, the trial judge at the assizes, entered the court room sharp at one o'clock. As this was his first appearance since his advancement to the bench, in Peterborough, Crown counsel addressed his Lordship on behalf of the Peterborough bar. His Lordship made a brief reply and he then opened the court.

The cases of Waters vs. Allen for alienation of wife's affections, Frost vs. G.T.R. and Porter vs. Roszel were called, but counsel announced that they had been settled out of court.

The members of the bar present were Messrs. A. P. Pousette, K.C., D. O'Connell, G. N. Gordon, E. A. Dixon, G. Edmison, E. L. Goodwill, John Green, F. D. Kerr and J. W. Bennet.

Mr Pousette, in addressing Mr. Justice Riddell said;

"With great pleasure the members of the bar have learned of your being elevated to the bench. Many years ago, when you were in Peterborough, the lawyers learned of your great ability and of your sterling character. During the short period you have been on the bench we have had the satisfaction of knowing the consideration of your abilities had been realized. It was with satisfaction that the members of the bar learned of the Government's decision to place younger men on the bench as in the past.

In reply His Lordship Mr. Justice Riddell thanked the members of the bar for their congratulations. The kindness exhibited at this time is only a continuation of the kindness displayed by the bar in this city to him when he was here as a lawyer.

Mr Foreman and gentleman of the Grand Jury, the Crown Counsel has informed me that there is nothing of a criminal nature to present to you. This is a matter of congratulation to you and the county itself and a great pleasure to me. Yet there are duties for you to perform. The Grand Jury is one of the most ancient bodies connected with the law courts. You are to inspect the gaols and all charitable institutions. It is your duty to discover any defects there might be in the gaol and report to me, and I will see that a copy of your report is sent to the proper authority. You have a right to see every prisoner in the absence of the gaoler or turnkey and the prisoner has a right to talk to you freely if he has any grievance and if there are any defects report to me. Look carefully into the ventilation and sanitary conditions of the gaol. Prisoners are confined for punishment and not for the purpose of killing them. You will also inspect all other institutions and go carefully into the existing conditions. If you can make your report tonight, the court will sit at a quarter past eight o'clock, and after that I will be pleased to discharge you. If not the court will sit again at ten o'clock in the morning. The court o'clock in the morning.

The petit jury roll was called, and when all present had answered to their names, His Lordship discharged them as there was nothing for them to do.

The first case called was that of Reutsch vs. Spry. Mr. D. O'Connell appeared for the plaintiff and Mr. Geo. Edmison for the defendant.

We have been highly complimented by scores of citizens on the flavor of our Teas—the best only 40c lb—Kennedy's.

HORSES SOLD AT HIGH PRICES

McCollum Bros. Auction Sale Very Successful—Another One Next Saturday

McCollum Bros. auction sale of horses and harness Saturday afternoon was a great success. Twenty-two horses were disposed of, and the total receipts amounted to nearly $2,500, thus the animals averaged over $100 each. The sale included several very fine animals, bringing as high as $170 for one horse, while the lowest price was $75. Only a few went for less than $100. Besides the horses six sets of harness were also sold.

The sale was conducted by Auctioneer John Haggart. There was a great crowd present and the bidding was brisk, as will be realized when it is remembered that twenty-two horses and six sets of harness, as well as one or two rigs were disposed of in a single afternoon.

So successful was this sale that McCollum Bros. will hold one every Saturday afternoon, until further notice. For next Saturday an especially fine lot of heavy horses will be offered as well as a number of drivers.

The twenty-two animals sold yesterday, included twelve belonging to the livery business. The places of these have been already filled. Messrs. McCollum have been buying good drivers around the country for the past couple of weeks, and the majority of the new ones are much better than is usually found in livery stables. The business here calls for good horses and buggies, and this firm are always up-to-date.

Protection for Fish and Game

Proposal to Amalgamate C.G.E. Angling Club With the Protective Association

In Peterborough there is a Fish and Game Protective Association, affiliated with the Provincial Association. In fact there are two branches here. One is known as the C.G.E. Angling Club. The latter body has all the powers and privileges of the former and the Angling Club is very active. Its members are greatly interested in the work. They are good sportsmen themselves, and are doing all they can to preserve the fish in the waters around the city. The Fish and Game Protective Association is practically dead here. They very seldom meet and very little is ever heard of them. One old-time sport suggested that the two organizations be amalgamated. Or that the Angling Club enlarge its work and take upon itself the duties of the Fish and Game Protective Association, and that body disband. This will combine the efforts of the two societies and the work would be looked after much better.

There is the probability, however, that the Angling Club would prefer to be an exclusive society, and there is also the probability that the Fish and Game Association would not consent to disband, but would prefer to run along as they are. The old sport had not spoken to any of the officials of either organization, but merely threw out the suggestion.

"ONE OF 79 REASONS"

There are Certain Niceties and Distinctions in Gentlemen's Dress.

"The collars and lapels of the Semi-ready coats would alone give them the necessary distinction," said the President of the Semi-ready Company. "Only the cheap old-fashioned tailors and clothiers, are still making the high button coats and vests. For summer wear particularly the long roll collars, and the dainty rounded lapels of the Semi-ready garments will be immensely popular."

The Semi-ready representative quotes this as "one of 79 reasons" why Semi-ready tailoring has always held its place at the top. A gentleman can buy a Semi-ready suit today, knowing that if he visits any town from New York to Vancouver he will be dressed in correct form.

WATER STREETS SUNDAY MORNING

Citizen Suggests That Watering Carts Lay the Dust Early in the Morning

A suggestion comes from a well-known resident, which the City Council, or at least, the Board of Works, might seriously consider and act upon. Yesterday morning, last Sunday and nearly every Sunday all summer, clouds of dust sweep through the city's streets at every gust of wind. Yesterday morning the dust was very distressing and caused much discomfort, as well as doing damage to one's clothing. The citizen referred to suggested that provision should be made for street watering on Sunday. Of course the Lord's Day Alliance would not permit such a thing in the day time, the citizen was free to admit. But he could see no reason why all the watering carts in the city could not get out at five or six o'clock in the morning, go slowly over their routes and give the streets a thorough drenching. This need not be done on all the streets, especially the shorter residential streets, but down town and on the principal streets where there is a lot of traffic and a lot of dust it would be a grand Christian act. In fact it is doubtful if it would not come under the head of work of necessity.

The benefit would be universal and it would be generally appreciated. The attendance at the morning church services would be greatly increased and the congregations would derive more good from the sermon, as they would not feel so dusty and dirty.

WEDDING BELLS

DORIS—BRYNE

The marriage took place at St. Peter's Cathedral this morning, of Miss Margaret Bryne, daughter of Mr. Michael Bryne, of Kinmount, to Mr. Albert W. Doris, son of Mr. John R. Doris, London street, Peterborough. The ceremony took place at six o'clock and was performed by Rev. Dr O'Brien. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Lizzie Bryne, while the groom was supported by Mr. Jas. Judd.

Mr and Mrs. Doris will reside on Bolivar street in this city, and have the best wishes of a large number of friends.

CARD OF THANKS

Having disposed of my grocery business (Corner of George and Antrim streets) to Messrs. E. F. Mason & Co., I desire to thank my many customers and friends for the kind patronage so freely given during the last nineteen years. I regret that owing to impaired health, and some other considerations, I have arranged to sever my connections with a business that has had my unceasing care and attention, and that has grown with the growth of the city. I take this means of expressing my thankfulness, as it is impossible to call and do so in person. I also wish to say that the business has been acquired by and is in good hands and I am sure that every care and attention will be given in the future, as I have tried to give in the past. I bespeak for my successors, a trial and a continuation of the patronage so kindly favored to myself, and feel assured, that in larger hands, there will be substantial advantages to the customer.

AMUSEMENTS

KERRY GOW.

Allen Doone in "Kerry Gow," made a great hit while here two weeks ago and it is safe to say that his return for one more performance at the Grand Opera House Friday, April 12th, will be eagerly looked forward to. Mr. Doone is a newcomer, but he sprang into immediate favor, not only for his ability as an actor, but for his sweet singing that charmed one and all. He certainly has a grand future before him, and there is no doubt but that a packed house is sure to greet him on his return. The play itself is clean and wholesome and proved a delightful production. The spontaneous wit of the Irish is present in every other line and the heart interest is such that tears and laughter vary with the scenes. The "Kerry Gow," or "the Kerry blacksmith, is a play that for wit, sparkling dialogue, pathos and romance, few productions can surpass. The exquisite singing of Allen Doone, the superb scenes, including the shoeing of the horse, in the blacksmith shop, the horse race, and the flight of the three doves, besides many other delightful parts all contribute to make the play a grand success, and adding to the growing reputation of Allen Doone and the "Kerry Gow."

Director Tells of the Events Preceding Ontario Bank Crash

Bankers Discussed Financial Situation at a Midnight Meeting—Negotiations That Were Carried on With Royal Bank.

A remarkable and dramatic story of some of the inside history of the Ontario Bank failure and attending events last fall has been related by Mr. Robert D. Perry, one of the former Board of Directors.

The story, which was solicited from Mr. Perry, for the first time revealed phases of the former directors' side of the issue which have not even yet been given to the public. In part it is told of the efforts of the old officials to save an extreme situation, and the impossibility of their then being able to avert an impending calamity. The account given showed that some months prior to the time when there were suspicions of the defalcations an offer of one million dollars was made for the good-will of the bank in Ontario, the purchasers to assume all liabilities and assets, and that, notwithstanding the fact that the reserve fund had been practically wiped out without the knowledge of the directors, the bank's business netted in one year a profit of thirteen per cent. From such a result the directors, it was stated to the press, could not possibly infer that there were any such immense defalcations as were afterwards discovered.

Referring to the personal side, Mr. Perry told how he first became a director of the Ontario Bank. He was interested, he said, in a large estate, and because of his heavy holdings in the bank's stock he was practically forced on to the board.

"That was the first time I became interested in other people's business," he continued, "and it is going to be the last if I can help it. I came here from the States, where I made all my money."

At that time it was an uphill fight, requiring careful, conservative business management, he said. However, sure and steady progress was made, and it was some years before their hopes began to be realized. Everything went steadily and smoothly for some time.

"I thought we had one of the best managed and safest little banks in the country," Mr. Perry added.

WHEN DIVIDEND WAS INCREASED.

In his effort to prove how careful the directors were Mr. Perry said said when they raised the dividend from six to seven per cent. every branch bank manager was brought into the head office, and every account from $5 upwards was given careful scrutiny. New York securities were examined, and a cable was sent to London, England, to verify the statement of that end. So favorable were all the reports that thousands of dollars of bad debts were written off. The dividend of seven per cent. was declared. This increase was made as a result of the total business of the year, netting thirteen per cent. Then the Royal Bank of Canada, desiring to enter into the Ontario field, made a careful inspection of the business, and offered a million dollar bonus to take it over. On the advice of General Manager Chas. McGill, this was refused, because he held that the future could not help but be bright.

THEN CAME THE SMASH.

Then, like a thunderbolt, came the smash. Mr. Perry said he was in Michigan attending to some private business. He received a wire one Friday from his head office clerk Pope, asking him to return to Toronto for a meeting of the directorate on the following morning. He telegraphed back that he could not attend, and later received a more urgent message. He returned to Toronto, thinking it was only a bad account they had been called together to consider.

"When I came back I asked where the General Manager was, and the reply was to the effect that he had not been at the office for a month. President Cockburn was in Europe on account of his wife's health. In fact, there was no head to the bank."

As was revealed in the courts, the clerks told of their suspicions of speculation and that the bank's funds were being gambled with. It was thought that perhaps Charles McGill could explain everything, but where was he to be found? It was reported that he was in Saratoga or New York. Then it was discovered that he had withdrawn $10,000 within a few weeks. Immediately it was arranged that no further drafts would be honored. Urgent telegrams were sent telling him to come home. In the meantime it was agreed that none of the directors present were to go near the bank lest suspicion be aroused. Messages were also cabled to President Cockburn. It was fully a week before McGill came back to Toronto after the first meeting.

WAS A DRAMATIC CLIMAX.

After McGill's return came the dramatic climax in the history of the bank. The directors assembled in the usual way in the board room, and with them the General Manager. Hon. Richard Harcourt turned to Mr. McGill, telling him of his suspicions.

"There are no grounds for them at all, absolutely no grounds," responded the General Manager.

"Then, Mr. McGill, you have relieved my feelings considerably, for the suspicions had been causing me a great deal of trouble," said Mr. Harcourt. Other directors concurred in this view. Apparently McGill thought the crisis had passed, but the final blow came in the shape of a request from Director Thomas Walmsley, who asked that the private ledgers be produced. The die had been cast and Charles McGill went downstairs for his books.

"Do the directors know anything about these ledgers?" he asked one of the clerks.

"The directors know everything, Mr. McGill," came the response.

The books were placed before the board and a running fire of questions ensued, while the excitement was at fever height. It was then that the General Manager made his first confession.

The directors saw that it was too late to completely remedy the evil. In their surprise some members of the board reminded Mr. McGill of the enormity of his offence, and they trusted to his honor to relieve the situation as far as it lay in his power by turning over any of the bank's securities that he held then. McGill was then given a week to go over the books. He recovered for $90,000 in securities for the bank.

Hon. J. W. St. John Passes Away Sketch of His Public Career

Relapse Came on Friday When All Hope Vanished.

Passed Into Condition Known as Diabetic Coma But Was Unconscious From 2 a. m. on Sunday—Public Funeral on Wednesday—Was a Picturesque Figure — Found Fitting Post In Speaker's Office.

Toronto, April 8.—Hon. J. W. St. John, Speaker of the Ontario Legislature, died at noon Sunday at the Toronto General Hospital.

The funeral will take place on Wednesday, preceded by a service at the Speaker's chambers in the Legislative Building, Queen's Park, at 2 p. m.

The deceased will be given a public funeral by the Ontario Legislature.

It was two weeks ago this morning that the news of Mr. St. John's illness was made public, he having been operated on for appendicitis the night before.

On the previous Saturday night at 10 o'clock Mr. St. John was taken with pains and sought relief before retiring. Next morning he felt no better, and became confined to the house, while he sought local remedies to relieve the pain.

Operation Necessary.

At 4 o'clock in the afternoon the family physician, Dr. Bascom, was sent for. In the evening, the Speaker becoming worse, Dr. W. P. Caven was called in consultation. His nephew, Dr. Glendinning, was also present. It was then decided that he had a very acute form of appendicitis, and that an immediate operation would give him the only chance of recovery.

Accordingly, he was removed to the Toronto General Hospital in an ambulance. He arrived there at 11 p. m., when an operation was immediately performed by Dr. Bruce. The operation showed a most critical condition, as his appendix was gangrenous.

HON. J. W. ST. JOHN

Immediately after the operation, Dr. Bruce stated that the bowel was almost perforated, and that, had the operation been delayed for a few hours more, death would have resulted from gangrene.

Mr. St. John made a most satisfactory recovery from the operation; so much so that, toward the end of the first week, the attending physician and Dr. John Caven considered him out of danger.

Unfortunately, however, he was suffering from a chronic malady, diabetes, which suddenly took on an acute form last Sunday.

Friends understood then the significance of the late Speaker's rapid reduction of weight, over which he had been wont to make merry.

Since then his life has been despaired of. He rallied, however, somewhat on Wednesday last, which improvement was maintained throughout Thursday. He had a relapse again on Friday, when he gradually passed into a condition known as diabetic coma. He died at 12 o'clock on Sunday.

He was unconscious from 2 a. m. Sunday until his death.

Public Funeral.

A Cabinet meeting was held on Sunday afternoon, as soon as the Ministers had been acquainted with the news. Preliminary arrangements were made for a public funeral (to be distinguished from a state funeral).

The last public funeral in this province was that of Sir Oliver Mowat in April, 1903.

LAID TO REST

Funeral of the Late Mark Graystock of Otonabee, Largely Attended.

The funeral of the late Mark Graystock, last Saturday, was attended by a very large number of people. A private service was held at the house by Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, after which the cortege proceeded to St. Mark's church, where the service was held. Mr J H Armstrong, organist of St. Luke's, presided at the organ and played the "Dead March" in Saul while the coffin was being carried into the church. The rector, Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, preached the funeral sermon in which he referred to the life of the late Mr. Graystock, as having been an upright and honest life in the sight of man, based upon truly religious principles. He was undemonstrative in his religious profession, but he did what was much better, live up to his religion. Those who had known him for many years could testify better than the speaker to the life as he lived in their midst. He had nothing to be ashamed of for he always endeavored to do his duty. As a member of the Church of England, he had been loyal to his church and unwavering in his attachment to her. Nothing could disturb his devotion to his church of which he was a generous supporter. His religion was not an incident of his life but a reality and the great factor of his life. Although in latter years, on account of his great age, his mind had been clouded with regard to temporal affairs, and had lived once more in the scenes of childhood, he never lost his clear conception of Christ as being his own Saviour and to the last was able to take an intelligent part in his devotions. His Bible and prayer book were never far from him, and he always made good use of the means of grace. For thirty-five years he had been warden of St. Mark's church and exemplary in and devoted to his duties as such. The speaker urged his hearers to imitate the good qualities of this life, spent in the service of God and His fellowmen and above all to try so to live as to be ever prepared for their death.

The interment took place at St. Mark's cemetery.

BRANTFORD GARBAGE SYSTEM

Inspector Ball Home—Is Well Pleased With the System There.

Sanitary Inspector Geo. Ball returned from Branford on the midnight train on Saturday night, where he spent a week looking into the scavenging system in force there. He has nothing but good things to say about the Telephone City. He was greatly struck with the cleanliness of the streets and the splendid garbage system in force in that place. In the past there have been three garbage wagons and two night soil wagons on the staff and now there will be added three more wagons for the day staff and the system will be extended all over the city. The garbage wagons collect the garbage from residences and the public buildings and take it away to build up low land. Every place is furnished with garbage cans and they are kept in the back yards. The collector goes into the back yards, takes the cans, empties them into the wagons and puts the cans back again.

In this way the yards and buildings are kept clean and sanitary, and by another system the streets are kept clean and land hitherto low and of little value is filled in and turned into parks and boulevards. Inspector Ball will have a report to make to the Board of Health at the next meeting.

OBITUARY

MRS. M. DOIRGAN.

The death occurred on Saturday evening at St. Joseph's hospital, of Mrs. Maurice Doirgan of Downeyville after a lengthy illness. About six months ago, Mrs. Doirgan suffered a severe injury to her back during a runaway, from which injury she never recovered. She was removed to St. Joseph's hospital some time ago, but never got any better. The deceased was 37 years of age, and was highly respected in Downeyville and surrounding district, where she was widely known. She leaves a husband and three children to mourn her loss.

The funeral will take place in Downeyville tomorrow morning.

BANQUET WILL CLOSE LEAGUE

Arrangements have about been completed for the banquet which will wind up the Y.M.C.A. spring basketball league. It will be held at the Association building on Wednesday night of this week after the championship has been decided by the game between Dobbin's and Lang's teams. It is anticipated that the banquet will be a most enjoyable affair and a large number will likely be in atendance.

GOOD ATTENDANCE AT MEN'S MEETING

There was a good attendance at the men's meeting at the Y.M.C.A. on Sunday at 4 o'clock, the meeting being in charge of the Evangelistic Band.

Two very impressive addresses were given and the whole meeting was a deeply interesting one. Mr. W. McCann presided at the piano and Mr. A. Barber sang "Come into the Ark." The solo was given in good voice and sang with much feeling.

C.M.B.A. Attended Church in Body

The members of the local branch of the C.M.B.A. received holy communion in a body at eight o'clock mass at St. Peter's Cathedral yesterday. They assembled at St. Peter's school and marched in a body to the cathedral. There was a large turnout. Mass was celebrated by His Lordship Bishop O'Connor.

No Spitting on the Sidewalks

Council Asked to Pass a By-law Prohibiting the Filthy Habit

The habit of spitting on the sidewalks, in street cars and in public places in Peterborough must be stopped. This will also include the carelessness and neglect of some people in dropping orange and banana peelings on the walk. Some years ago an effort was made to stop the practice, but of late nothing has been done.

The matter was brought up by Sanitary Inspector Ball at the Board of Health meeting this morning. He said that in Brantford signs were posted up along the streets, and they had a great effect. He said it was a treat to see the sidewalks there. There was no such thing as loafers standing around street corners, and in doorways, or in front of hotels, spitting tobacco juice and other disagreeable and disgusting matter upon the walks, through which ladies' skirts have to trail. The habit itself is a most dangerous one to the general health of the citizens, and nearly every town and city in the country are taking action against it. The council will be requested to pass a by-law prohibiting the expectoration practice and to have it enforced. The following motion was passed by the Board:—

On motion the Board was instructed to request the Council to pass a by-law prohibiting spitting on the sidewalks, street cars and all other public places.—Carried.

The Daily Review

MONDAY, APRIL 8, 1907.

THE WAIL OF A PHARISEE

The Examiner is again playing its favorite pharisaical role. "The holier than thou" cloak seems to be a decidedly attractive garment for that journal. There appears to be no accounting for its sudden lapses or "striking" attitudes.

Only a few months ago it was assailing the Board of Education with doubled leaded articles, special editions, glaring head lines, etc., on the south ward school site. The result of its rather strenuous campaign of abuse, and misrepresentation was that when the final disposition of the mater was made, not a single vote was changed either in the Board or city Council. Mighty factor of public opinion, great exponent of public rights, is the Examiner!

Now it is defending the star chamber methods of the Board and upholding that body in their effort to suppress information in reference to recent tenders for new buildings.

The hypocritical pose is shown in the fact that when the Collegiate Institute committee met on Saturday night to open the tenders, previous to reporting to a special meeting of the Board on Thursday night, the Examiner did not believe so much in suppression just then. It published the names and figures of the successful tenderer before the same was known to all the members of the Board, neither did it get its information from the chairman of the committee. The Examiner did not believe in suppressing information a few days ago, but now it upholds the Board in declining to give out figures in connection with public contracts. The people are paying for the improvements. They have a perfect right to know what is going on and to learn the details of the tenders. The "say so" of the Board is not satisfactory in this case.

If the members of the Board are so afraid that certain contractors will back down if the figures are published, let them demand a sufficient guarantee in connection with each tender against loss or any contingency that may arise. In case a contractor backs down let the deposit be forfeited. This would soon end the practice of bidders going back on their bids.

The Review believes that all committee meetings of the Board of Education should be open to the press the same as the committee meetings of the City Council are. This paper also maintains that the Board when sitting in "committee of the whole" should not exclude the reporters. Public business is public business and must be transacted in the open. In connection with school contracts the figures of all tenderers should be published. The ratepayers money is being expended and the plea put forward by the Examiner and the Board for withholding the figures is altogether too flimsy. It will not hold good. No policy of secrecy or concealment is desired by the ratepayers and they will not stand for such star chamber methods.

PEN POINTS

We had April weather in March and now we are having March weather in April. How do you like this meteorological mix-up??

Talk about wearing Easter millinery! Sensible people have not laid away last year's furs.

A week ago to-day was April Fool.

Old Probs evidently thought that the anniversary of All Fools day was a week later and sent a good old fashioned snow storm.

How the coal man rejoices at the continued winter—and also the man who sells rubbers. but the weather will soon find out how far it is astray in seeking to stand in with these fellows.

The word comes that Calgary will have a street delivery of mail matter. The service is now being organized and the delivery will start in the course of a week. There will be two deliveries down town each day and one in the outlying sections. Calgary is not as large as Peterborough yet it is given a street delivery before this city. What is the reason? It is time for those at the back of the Peterborough petitions, which were forwarded to Otawa some time ago, to get busy. Enough time has elapsed to give the matter due consideration, and if the prayer of the petitions is to be granted, it should be done without further delay. Let us hear from you, Mr. Hall.

The Ontario Legislature has passed an amendment to the consolidated municipal act. Heretofore municipalities have been held liable for accidents on defective highways. Under the amendment the municipality must be notified of the dangerous condition of the road ere it can be held liable. This may work a hardship on the stranger, but it will be a protection to cities, towns, villages and townships. A municipality can not keep its roads in the best condition all the time. Its officials cannot be here, there and everywhere. Too many persons who would not take the precaution of notifying the authorities of any dangerous spot are only too eager, in case they met with a mishap to enter claim for damages They were not slow about serving notice of a law suit, but would not go across the street to point out the possibility of an accident. The municipalities are to be congratulated on the victory that they have won.

Mr. Bryce told the Canadian Club of Toronto, on Wednesday, that he was afraid Canada was going to be rich. He was afraid nature intended that this country should be rich because of its untold mineral wealth, and its immense area of fertile lands. And he warned his audience that wealth had its disadvantages, and prominent among them was the possibility of the corruption of political life through the money power of opulent and selfish schemers. Mr. Bryce was probably justified in his fears, he was undoubtedly more than justified in his warning. While it will be questioned whether the political debauchery through plutocratic greed and adroitness can reach its highest development under our constitution, we are in danger, we are in rapidly growing danger, that great wealth will seek political power and our free institutions be dominated by the purse. Without going far afield, it is possible even at this stage of our national evolution to note tendencies to the very condition of things so gently hinted at by our illustrious visitor. It will be an ill day for Canada, should they develop unchecked. With a democratic government the possibility is inevitably and always present. We shall do well to remember this, and to take the hint in time.

FELLOWSHIP CLUB HELD MEETING

One of the best meetings of the Stranger's Fellowship club of the Y.M.C.A. that has been held for months was that held on Saturday evening at the Y.M.C.A. The popular president of the club occupied the chair and by request told of his recent visit to Owen Sound Association, where he was a guest of the Stranger' club there.

Five new members were introduced. Messrs. Greenhalgh, B. Lillie, P. Redgraves, G. McClennan and Fred Richardson.

Encouraging reports were given by the committee.

Work Will Begin on Monday Next

On the New C. P. R. Line From Victoria Harbor to Peterboro'

The Orillia Packet says, after quoting the Toronto despatch in reference to the contract being let for the new grain line between Victoria Harbor and Peterborough:—

Enquiry at the office of the Toronto Construction Company here elicits the information that the officials expect work to begin on or about the 15th of April. They have not yet been informed where the work will begin, but expect the whole line to be pushed through vigorously though they scarcely think it possible it can be built in a year.

The following paragraph with regard to rumors that have been afloat was in type before the foregoing information was received:—

All sorts of rumors are in circulation with regard to the intentions of the C.P.R. as to its line through Orillia, but none of them can be traced to any authoritative source. Some time ago, instructions were issued that work was to be begun on March 25th, which was Monday last But no further steps have been taken. No official reasons have been given for the delay, but it is more than likely that the labor difficulty is at the bottom of it. Some pessimists persist in declaring that the C. P. R. has abandoned the idea of building the line. But there is no reason to suppose that this is the case, though the fact that it is not included in the list of branches, which Sir Thomas Shaughnessy stated in a recent interview would be built this summer, indicates that the company is not sure of being able to make an early start. A simple calculation which a prominent townsman made in conversation with the Packet, the other day shows that the line will effect too great a saving to the C. P. R. for them to give up the idea of building it. Midland is only half the distance from Peterborough that Owen Sound is. So much better are their grades on the new line that an engine will be able to haul twice as many cars as at present. This follows, therefore, that the same amount of motive power will haul four times as much freight from Midland to Peterborough, as from Owen Sound to Peterborough. The saving will obviously be enormous, and will be a big return on the capital expenditure. Under those circumstances, the line is sure to be built as soon as circumstances will permit. Enquiries at Ottawa prove that there is no foundation for the report that there has been trouble over the right-of-way through the town. The Railway Commission, by an order dated October 26, approved of the C.P.R.'s revised plans, which were submitted to the town. This settled that question, and nothing further is likely to be heard of it.

THE TRIUMPH OF I. C. S. STUDENTS

Four Out of Five Passed State Examination; Of Those Who Were Not Students, Only One in Six Passed.

The great work that the International Correspondence Schools, of Scranton, Pa., are doing was never demonstrated more forcibly than it was when sixty-nine candidates for the position of fire boss presented themselves to take the State examination before the State Mine Inspectors at Uniontown, Pa.

Nineteen of the candidates were I.C.S. students; fifty were not. The practical experience of all averaged about the same, and all had equal opportunity to pass the examination. The result was a signal triumph for the I.C.S. system of training by mail. The fifty candidates that were not students of the school averaged only 54.7 per cent. in the examination; only seven passed; forty-three failed; the nineteen I.C.S. students averaged 75.2 per cent.; fifteen passed, only four failed.

The examination shows that the man who has the foresight to invest a few dollars and a little spare time in an I.C.S. Course of special training has nearly six time the chance to pass the examination as the one that lacks such preparation; that the chances that an I.C.S. student will succeed are four to one, while the chances that a non-student will fail are six to one.

The foregoing is simply one of a thousand instances where I.C.S. students have triumphed in examinations, in promotions, etc. Such success is easily accounted for, when it is remembered that these Schools have had nearly fifteen years of experience in teaching by mail have expended the great sum of one million dollars in the preparation of the home-study text books, which are so easy to understand, and to apply that any man able to read and write can succeed, provided he has a little ambition.

Started in 1891 with one course prepared to help miners pass examinations, the International Correspondence Schools now have more than 200 courses of instruction covering positions in all of the best known trades and professions. Mr. R. C. Balfour, Box 60, Peterborough, who represents the schools in this city, will be glad to give any one information regarding any course.

Will Make Ashes Yield White Heat

Inventor Promises to Revolutionize the World's Fuel—Result 20 Years' Work

An Altoona, Pa., despatch says: Perhaps the greatest menace to the power of the Coal Trust anywhere in the world to-day is John Ellmore, a cobbler, who has gone far beyond his last in inventing a method of extracting from ashes ten times as much heat as can be derived from the best black coal. Ellmore says he has resolved to introduce his invention commercially so soon as he should be protected by patents, and that he was not wasting words was shown by a demonstration he gave in the Citizens' Electric Company's plant in the presence of several hundred persons. There he built a hotter fire with ashes under one of the concern's ten boilers than could be made with coal under all the nine other boilers combined. His secret is a chemical compound with which he sprinkles the ashes, of which he uses ten parts to one of coal.

Ellmore worked at the problem of making ashes yield heat for twenty years before he discovered the secret eight months ago. Nor was that the beginning of the project in the family, for his father before him devoted a lifetime to the attempt The elder Ellmore died when he believed success was within his grasp, and his parting words to his son were an appeal that the experiments should be continued in the face of no matter what discouragement until a solution of the problem should crown the son's efforts. Faithful to the deathbed promise, young Ellmore worked early and late, devoting to his cobbling only so much time as was needed to give him a scant livelihood and yield money for the purchase of chemicals.

Twenty-five cents' worth of his secret compound, Ellmore asserts, will enable an ordinary family to burn enough ashes for a winter's heat. Given the ashes, all the family will require will be a ton of coal. He has used the compound in the big base-burner stove in his little shop all winter, and he says he has bought only a half ton of coal. A single ton of black diamonds will last him for two years, he avers, and he hopes to reduce the percentage of coal necessary in connection with the chemically treated ashes to a point far below the present small proportion. He estimates roughly that his invention will force a reduction of at least nine-tenths in the product of the anthracite mines, which will mean about 65 cents a ton instead of the 6.50 householders have paid in most big cities of the East all through this year.

Excitement suppressed with difficulty was noticeable in the hundreds of persons who gathered for the test in the electric company's plant. Ellmore, cool as if not about to revolutionize the heating methods of the world, approached the crisis almost jauntily. He took three bushels of ashes and sprinkled them with his compound. A tenth of that quantity of coal was added, and then he lighted the mass under the big boiler.

Meantime engineers and firemen were at work on the nine other boilers, and in a few minutes all ten of the furnaces were hot. But the fire in that containing Ellmore's was hotter, veterans admitted, than those of the other nine furnaces, and amazement was expressed by men who had tended furnaces all their adult lives at the generous glow of the mass the cobbler had prepared.

When he opened the doors behind which his compound was burning, spectators gazed upon a fire that glowed brilliantly and had a bluish tinge. A lump of coal was surrounded like a bed of burning anthracite. There apparently was no diminution in the amount of heat in the several hours the demonstration lasted.

Toronto Champions Wanted Game Here

On May 24th But They Will Play in Peterboro' Sooner

Manager Johnston, of the Peterborough baseball team has received a letter from the St. Mary's baseball team, amateur champions of Toronto, asking for a game here on may 24th. The locals will be unable to accommodate them on that date as they have already arranged games with the Arctics of Toronto for the holiday. The St. Mary's will appear here, however, early in May and it should be a good game. They are the amateur champions of Toronto, and their pitchers this year are Harry Phalen and Billy Reid, who are considered among the best twirlers in Canada.

The games on the 24th of May, with the Arctics, are attracting much interest. One game will be played at 10 a.m. and the other at 3 p.m.

LOCAL BOWLERS WON CASH PRIZE

Messrs. Boyd and C. E. Frost, of Peterborough, won the seventh prize, $35 in cash, in the two-men contest at the Canadian Bowling tournament in Toronto last week. Their score was 1087, and the highest score was 1189. There were only three Canadian pairs who got inside the money.

The showing of Messrs. Frost and Boyd is a splendid one, considering the fact that the best bowlers in Canada and the United States competed.

Joseph Sinclair, teamster, Winnipeg, was fatally injured in a runaway yesterday.

AT SPRINGVILLE

Children's Service Was Well Attended Yesterday.

There was a large turnout at the children's service at Springville Presbyterian church yesterday morning. The pastor, Rev. Dr. Marsh, preached a most interesting sermon from the text "I will praise thee for I am fearfully and wonderfully made." He illustrated his remarks with the aid of a number of watches, pointing out the work they did in a day and other interesting features, and in this way taught a lesson regarding the duty of human beings.

The service was greatly enjoyed by those present.

Five Young Men Fined for Fighting—Wages Case Heard

The city coffers were enriched by the large amount of twenty-three dollars as a result of this morning's police court.

Five young men were charged with being disorderly at the Royal hotel, on Wednesday, April 3rd, and were each fined two dollars and costs making the above mentioned sum. The men implicated in the case were James Hallihan, B. McManus, S. McManus, W. Wallace and B. LeBar. They all pleaded not guilty. Mr. G. N. Gordon appeared for the two McManus boys.

Mr. Kelly, proprietor of the Royal Hotel, testified that Ben LeBar was engaged in a tussle in the bar and the other fellows were helping it along and were more or less mixed up in it. He put them all out and they started at it again in the yard.

MENTIONED WAGES CASE.

Frank Page, who was employed at the Dominion Bank, had a charge against Charles Gunther for non-payment of $17.50 wages, which he said that he had earned. He demanded this sum for his work on the cement and stone work at the new bank. Page and Gunther were the only witnesses, and after His Worship had heard both sides of the story, he ordered Gunther to pay Page his wages and costs of the court within eight days.

WITNESS FEES.

At the close of the court, Mr. Scott, who was a witness in the first case, came forward and asked for his fee as a witness. Mr. Dumble replied that it was too late, and, anyway, he was a witness for the defence, and should look to that side for his fee. Mr. Scott and his son came from Toronto.

G. T. R. IMPROVEMENTS

The new lavatory at the G. T. R. station is now completed, and presents a very creditable appearance. The floor is of tile, arranged in a handsome pattern, and the walls are of glazed tile also. The equipment is thoroughly up-to-date and the lavatory will compare favorably with that of any station in Canada.—Lindsay Post.

MAN DROPPED 200 FEET.

Engineer Falls From High Chimney But Escapes Injury.

Chicago, April 8.—John Nagel, a constructing engineer, fell from the top of a 200-foot chimney at the Standard Steel Car Works in Hammond on Saturday, but in his fall he struck a projecting scaffold on the outside about 25 feet from the top, which enabled him to grasp a plank, thus saving his life.

Nagel was in charge of the building of the giant smokestack, and in order to see the progress he ascended to the top of the structure in a drop bucket. When the bucket neared the top the man in charge of the hoisting engine below failed to perceive Nagel's signal to stop, and the engineer was thrown over the edge of the narrow aperture above.

His fall was witnessed by hundreds of workmen on surrounding buildings, whose attention was drawn to the top of the towering chimney by Nagel's cries. He escaped practically unhurt, but the other men on the smokestack were so unnerved that they could not work for some time.

CURED BY THE SHOCK.

Insane Patients Recovered After Passing of Tornado.

New Orleans, April 8.—Several of the inmates of the State Insane Asylum at Jackson, La., may be discharged as cured within a short time as a result of the tornado.

When the physicians restored order and were able to make an examination the remarkable discovery was made that several of the patients had been virtually cured by shock. These men and women had been suffering from what is known as chronic hysteria. Some of them were in very bad shape just before the tornado, and the keepers believed they would be tenants for a long time. But a sudden change, which the doctors believe will prove permanent recovery, came after the first shock of the catastrophe was over.

BODY FOUND ON TRACK.

Dr. McQueen, an Edinburgh Physician, Killed.

Winnipeg, April 8.—Dr. McQueen, a physician, whose home was in Edinburgh, Scotland, was killed on the C. P. R. near Gonor, east of here, Saturday night, either by falling out of the car window or off the platform of the delayed express. Nobody saw the accident, and nothing was known of it until the crew of the express yesterday found the body and brought it to Winnipeg. The dead man's hat was found a few yards beyond the body, and it is surmised it blew off, and in endeavoring to recover it he lost his balance and fell to his death in the darkness. He had no friends here, and members of the medical profession have taken charge of the remains. He was about 35 years of age.

MURDER AT EDMONTON?

Body of George Wood Found In a Pool of Blood.

Edmonton, Alta., April 8.—In a shack where he and his two chums, Dick Hood and John Peacock, had lived together for some time, the body of George Wood, a carpenter, was found in a pool of blood Saturday morning. There was a wound on the back of the head, and a man named Albert Jones informs the police that, during a drunken row, he saw Hood strike Wood on the head with a bottle, at the same time exclaiming, "You beat this afternoon, but I will do you now." Hood, Peacock and John Pepper are under arrest.

Bryce At Chicago.

Chicago, April 8.—James Bryce, British Ambassador to the United States after spending a busy day in Chicago attending luncheons and visiting a score of large commercial and industrial establishments, was the guest of honor Saturday night at a banquet given by the Commercial Club at the Auditorium Hotel.

There were 175 prominent business and professional men about the board. Ambassador Bryce was the only speaker during the evening. His topic was "The Modern City in Relation to the State."

Corruption In Morocco.

London, April 8.—Corruption in Morocco is reported to have reached that stage where civil officials are selling Government land and pocketing the proceeds, and supreme military commanders are purchasing so much gold coin with which to pay imaginary troops that the premium on French and English gold has risen.

Insane Patient Burned.

South Windham, Conn., April 8.—One woman, Mrs. Laura Backus, an insane patient, lost her life in the fire which destroyed the Grandview Sanitarium here early on Saturday. All the other patients were taken out of the building without harm, although there was no time to clothe them.

HORSLEY REPUDIATED.

British Medical Men Issue a Pro-Alcoholic Manifesto.

London, April 8.—The pro-alcohol manifesto recently issued by several prominent medical men is believed to be merely a counterblast to Victor Horsley's address in Toronto last year. It is stated Horsley offended numerous medical men by asserting that the profession universally shared his view as to the use of alcohol.

To Extract Essence From Flowers.

Procure a quantity of the petals of any flowers that smell sweet and fragrant. Take thin pieces of muslin or fine linen and after having dipped them in good Lucca oil or Florence oil place them as layers between the petals. Sprinkle a small quantity of fine salt on the flowers and put a layer of linen and a layer of flowers alternately until an earthen vessel or wide mouthed glass bottle is full. Tie the top over with oil silk or parchment, then lay the vessel in a south aspect in the heat of the sun, and in fifteen days, when uncovered, a fragrant oil may be squeezed away from the whole mass.

EATING IN PUBLIC.

The Varied Sorrows of the Critical Man Who Dines Out.

What chance has the diner out of being completely happy? The mere actions of eating and drinking are neither pretty nor conducive to showing people at their best. It is really a most uncouth sight to see a man or a woman stoking food. The necessity of being polite at the same time makes it uncomfortable as well. No sooner have you got into conversation with a pleasant woman than the soup in your mustache stops all inspiration. She despises you for your play with your napkin, and your mustache is out of shape. And who can feel that the evening is going to be what he hoped when he realizes that his shirt front is smirched with some relic of the meal?

Indeed, dinner parties are really a struggle between eating and talking, a struggle which does not always end, as do most things, in the survival of the fittest. As one can't speak with one's mouth full and first hunger must be appeased, conversation and eating go on rather as a game, the one person whipping up some food while the other is speaking and then in his turn speaking in order to enable his partner to get some nourishment. To talk or to eat might be a sensible question at the beginning of dinner, but it is not one likely to be asked. One is seldom sure which is least worth sacrificing, the food or the conversation. How much simpler it would be if we fed apart and indulged in conversation afterward.—Macmillan's.

Shingling a House.

And I looked and beheld seven carpenters shingling a house. They were hauling up bundles of shingles that had been lying in the rain for two days and nailing them on one by one. In a few days the shingling will be done. Then the painter will come along with his ladders and brushes and stains, and $300 will be spent by the owner of the cottage to have it thoroughly dabbed. And in a little while the sun will shine, and all the shingles will buckle, some up, some down, until the cottage will resemble a frizzled chicken. And there will be leaks and cursings and lamentations. Now, brethren, why not be sensible in these small matters? Painters are not needed at all in a case of this kind. Keep your shingles dry; buy a few barrels of stain; soak the shingles in the stain and throw them on the grass to dry; then nail them to the clapboards. They will never buckle, they will never leak, and you have saved $300.

Forest Air.

There is a general impression that the humidity of the air is greater in the woods than in the open fields. This is contradicted, however, by the result of observations made in Germany. It was found there that the humidity, both relative and absolute, was slightly greater in the open than in the woods, and this was true equally in the morning and in the afternoon. As to the temperature of the air among the trees, it was a trifle higher than in the open in the morning and in a more marked degree in the afternoon.

A Comparison.

Thomas Sheridan, the father of Lady Dufferin, once displeased his father, who, remonstrating with him, exclaimed, "Why, Tom, my father would never have permitted me to do such a thing!" "Sir," said his son in a tone of the greatest indignation, "do you presume to compare your father to my father?"

SCHOOL HOUSE WAS BURNED IN VERULAM TOWNSHIP

On Wednesday morning last the frame schoolhouse in S. S. No. 7, Verulam, in which section the village of Sturgeon Point is included, caught fire and was quickly destroyed.

The school was located west of Red Rock and was distant about four miles from the Point, says the Lindsay Post.

Advantage was taken by the trustees of the Easter holidays to give the interior a good cleaning, and fires had been lighted the previous day, while the work was in progress. It is supposed that the pipes caught on fire or fell, or that a spark from the stove lodged in a crack and smouldered.

The building was a very old one, and poorly complied with present day requirements. No doubt the trustees will now see to it that a modern school is erected and if they do Sturgeon Point property holders will have to contribute a neat sum.

FIRE! FIRE! FIRE!

SCOTT'S COLLOSEUM

432 GEORGE ST.

Programme for Week Commencing April 8

THE GREAT TORONTO FIRE

Only those who actually saw the great fire of Toronto, can adequately appreciate the realism of the moving pictures shown in the Colloseum by Mr. Scott and his associates. The clang of the fire bells, the rush and hurry, the terror and grandeur of the awful conflagration are marvellously brought out. The rescue work of the firemen, the rush of the crowds, fighting the flames and dynamiting the dangerous walls are depicted with a realism almost incredible.

The continuous performances take place every afternoon and evening from 2 to 5 and 7 to 10 p.m. and furnish a refined entertainment for both small and great. Ladies are especially invited to the afternoon performances. Beautiful illustrated songs.

More Merchants in Police Court

Charged With Leaving Boxes on the Sidewalk

Three more merchants were arraigned before His Worship Magistrate Dumble at the police court this morning. They were charged with breaking bylaw No. 1164, which forbids them blocking the streets, by having packing cases and other boxes or barrels on the streets, in front of their premises. His Worship reserved judgment in the three cases.

Mr. C. A. J. Duranceau, who keeps a plumbing and tinsmith shop on Hunter street, was the first merchant called. He said that on Friday last after twelve o'clock, the carter brought some boxes to his place. They were too heavy for him to bring in, and he had to look for a man to help him. It was three o'clock before he got one.

Mr. Alex. Elliott was the next offender. O'Connell and Gordon, appeared for him, and pleaded not guilty. Chief Rowsel was sworn and said that on Friday afternoon, there were three barrels of whiskey in front of Mr. Elliott's wholesale house. Mr. Wm. Rudkins was called and swore that the barrels belonged to the Dominion Government. They were consigned to the Collector of Indland Revenue. They were in bond, and, had Mr. Elliott removed them, he would be liable for a heavy fine, Mr. Elliott also said that he had no authority to remove the barrels, until they were out of bond.

His Worship advised Mr. Rudkins to communicate with the department and inform them of the bylaw.

Jas. R. Bell, grocer, Hunter street, also broke the law. On Saturday afternoon, at 2.30 o'clock, two large boxes and five or six smaller ones, were on the sidewalk in front of his premises. Mr. Bell said that they were so busy in the store, that the carter had the goods off before he knew it. As soon as he noticed it he had the boxes brought in.

His Worship said that he would reserve judgment. He could make no nice distinctions. They had broken the law. He thought the bylaw should be amended, so as to forbid carters from leaving goods after certain hours.

Their Pastor Will Entertain Them

The Young Men's Guild of St. Andrew's church will hold their next regular meeting at St. Andrew's Manse, Tuesday, April 16th, at eight o'clock, when they will be entertained by the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Potter. Members will please keep the date in mind.

Mr. Thomas Crawford is the New Speaker of Legislature

Selected by Legislature to Succeed Late Hon. J. W. St. John.

Affecting Scene In the House—Touching Tributes to Late Speaker—Members With Tears, Express Sense of His Noble Character—House Adjourns as Mark of Respect—Session Near Its Close.

Toronto, April 9.—The spirit of solemnity characterized the impressive ceremonial which constituted the short session of the Legislature yesterday. The Speaker's gallery was preserved absolutely empty, until the election of the new Speaker, while the other galleries and the floor of the House were thronged with silent spectators. The Ministers and the leader of the Opposition came in together, all dressed in black, and took their places.

Then in the solemn hush the Sergeant-At-Arms marched in with the mace and placed it below the table.

The Prime Minister rose.

"Gentlemen of the Legislative Assembly," he said, "you are aware of the mournful and sorrowful circumstances under which we meet to-day. I am asked by his honor, the Lieutenant-Governor, to convey to you the sad intelligence that Hon. Joseph Wesley St. John, Speaker of this Legislature has departed this life and that his seat in this Assembly is rendered vacant. His Honor asks you forthwith to choose a fit and proper person to preside over your deliberations."

Hon. Mr. Whitney intimated that the precedent being followed was that surrounding Hon. R. W. Scott, when 40 years ago, within ten days of the close of the Dominion session, he was called from the speakership to become a Minister of the Crown.

Mr. Crawford Chosen.

In accordance with the message of his Honor, the Prime Minister, moved the selection of Mr. Thomas Crawford (West Toronto) as Speaker. In so doing Mr. Whitney spoke in highest terms of Mr. Crawford as a respected member of the House, a gentleman of valued municipal experience and one held in honor by those who knew him.

Hon. Mr. Foy, the Attorney General, seconded the resolution. He believed that the selection would commend itself to all members on both sides of the House. Mr. Crawford was a man of experience and excellent good sense, and possessed an even mind which was both judicious and judicial. The Minister believed he would fill the office with impartiality and fairness.

Hon. Mr. Graham heartily acquiesced in the choice. He thought Mr. Crawford would perform the duties of Speaker with dignity, fairness and good sense.

The Prime Minister and Hon. Mr. Foy then escorted Mr. Crawford to the Throne.

"No words of mine can express my feelings at this moment," declared the Speaker-elect, addressing the House. "I can truthfully say I appreciate the honor, but the circumstances bring pain to my heart and mind. I shall seek to discharge the duties in a manner worthy of the position."

A few moments later the Lieutenant-Governor clad in his robes of state entered the chamber with the Prime Minister. Having taken his seat on the Throne the new Speaker presented himself and was approved.

Prime Minister's Eulogy.

Then followed an affecting scene. Hon. Mr. Whitney, his voice choked with emotion briefly addressed the House. Members sat with their heads resting on their hands or desks, and spectators sobbed in the gallery.

"My words must be few," began the Prime Minister. I speak them in deep humility and with a wounded heart. I shall not attempt extravagant eulogy—such would be ill-pleasing to him who is gone.

"I am not equal to the occasion," confessed the speaker after a moment's pause, his voice breaking. "Mr. St. John came from the yeomanry of the Province," he finally continued. "The story of his life was one of absolute fairness and honestness of purpose. The man was an open book—he was transparently honest. He had a broad and Catholic nature. He held a position in the public esteem not given to many of us. If he saw the world about him happy, he was happy.

"I cannot express all I feel," concluded the Premier, "in the sacred grief of the home we have the deepest sympathy. Mr. St. John so lived his life that he fought the good fight and humanity was the gainer by his life."

Hon. Mr. Graham's Tribute.

Hon. Mr. Graham said on an occasion like the present when the very air seemed laden with grief and sorrow sat on every heart words seemed meaningless. "This Legislature," said the Liberal leader, "sits in the sombre shadow of a great sadness. We are compelled to ask, Why? That friendship should be thus ruthlessly broken, tender ties severed and a useful life cut off is beyond the pen of mankind. We shall only learn why when the curtain lifts as the cycle of eternity rolls by. Mr. St. John was ardent in friendship and threw enthusiasm into every walk of life. He was big in stature, large of heart and broad of mind. We have all suffered a great loss—a friend has gone."

Other brief addresses were made by Messrs. W. H. Hoyle (North Ontario), J. P. Downey (South Wellington), Col. Atkinson (North Norfolk) and Allan Studholme (East Hamilton). Mr. Downey's tribute was one of the most eloquent utterances ever heard in the House.

Out of respect for the memory of the late Speaker the House then adjourned.

After Wednesday—the day of the funeral—the Legislature will meet at eleven o'clock in the morning, and Government business will have precedence. To-morrow the House will meet at two o'clock in the afternoon

Labor Act In Operation — Quebec Contracts Criticized.

Ottawa, April 9.—In the House of Commons yesterday morning Hon. Mr. Lemieux stated that through the operation of the new Labor Act the strike of 700 coal miners at Springhill, Nova Scotia, had been terminated.

The parties to this dispute were not at first aware that the compulsory investigation bill had passed Parliament, but when they became so aware, the men went back to work pending a settlement. Mr. Heron thereupon urged enforcement of the act in the case of the strike now in progress at Taber, Alberta.

In reply to Col. Hughes, Mr. Fielding related the "facts" of the retirement of Lord Aylmer, as shown in the records. Mr. Bennett asked if Col. Vidal would be retired in two years' time, and Mr. Fielding replied: "Sufficient unto the day is the good thereof."

The Nova Scotia estimates passed, as did those for Prince Edward Island and New Brunswick.

Some criticism was leveled at the preponderance of Quebec contracts awarded to Ottawa contractors, but this was explained as due to the fact that these contractors were better acquainted with general conditions than local men could be. The Quebec items went through, making a total vote for the day of about a million and a half.

G.T.R. EXPRESS WRECK

One Killed and Two Injured Near Huntsville.

North Bay Fast Train Crashes Into Rear of Stalled Freight—Crew of Latter Suffer—Debris Set On Fire—Passengers Escape With Severe Shaking—Wreckers At Work For Five Hours.

Huntsville, April 9.—The North Bay express, which left Toronto at 11.30 Sunday night, crashed into the rear of a stalled freight train three miles north of Huntsville early yesterday morning, killing the brakeman of the freight and seriously injuring his assistant and the conductor.

When the collision occurred the three men were in the van, the escaping steam from the express locomotive causing the death of Richardson and the injury to the other two.

The van and several other cars were smashed to pieces, and the scattered ashes from the stove set fire to the debris. The engineer of the express, J. Firman, and his fireman, jumped from the cab of the engine just in time.

A few passengers in the smoking car were given a shaking up, one man having his face cut with the glass from a broken window.

Richardson leaves a widow and child in Midland, where he was a member of the L. O. L., and his widow will receive $1,500 from the society. The two other injured men were conveyed to the General Hospital at Huntsville, and latest reports ensure their recovery.

A miscalculation on the part of the officials is held as being responsible for the smash. The express was 10 minutes behind when the freight left Huntsville, and it was thought that the latter could reach the siding at Novar in time to give the passenger train a clear right of way.

The wrecking crew from Allandale had five hours good work in clearing away the tracks.

Dead: Brakeman Nelson Richardson, Midland.

Injured: Duke Wellington, Allandale, conductor, badly scalded. Brakeman T. Myers, Allandale, seriously injured.

WALL FELL ON FIREMEN.

One Killed and Three Fatally Hurt In N. Y. Fire.

New York, April 9.—Fire early yesterday partially destroyed the car barns and power-house of the Metropolitan Street Railway Co., extending from 145th to 146th streets, and from Lenox avenue to Seventh avenue. During the course of the fire one fireman was killed and three others probably fatally injured. The financial loss is heavy.

The dead—Captain John Ryan, of Engine Co. No. 80.

Injured—John Connors, fireman; John Roxbury, fireman; F. D. Lepold, fireman.

The men killed and injured were fighting the flames from a second storey fire escape on the Seventh avenue side of the building when the wall fell, burying the men in the debris. Captain Ryan was taken out dead and Fireman Lepold, who was rescued alive, was probably fatally injured. He told the rescuers that six men besides the captain were in the ruins and that all were dead. Later it was found that all but Connors and Roxbury, who were taken out gravely injured, had escaped with a few bruises.

The fire started in the repair department from a grounded wire in one of the cars and communicated to the paint and varnish rooms, which burned so fiercely that it took the firemen nearly three hours to bring it under control.

After Fur Smugglers.

Toronto April 9.—American fur houses have been employing Jews to smuggle Canadian furs across the border, is the charge made by Game Warden Dan Blea of Parry Sound district in a report to Chief Game Warden Tinsley.

Beaver and other skins are bought from the Indians and sneaked over the border. The close season for these furs lasts till 1910, and the animals are increasing in number.

Warden Blea suggested three months' imprisonment for a first offence at illegal trapping, and six months for a second.

Oblates Will Build.

Receiver Heavily Punished.

St. Thomas, April 9.—Moses Levin, for selling brass stolen by boys, was yesterday sentenced to one year in Central Prison, and Charles Service and W. Bryson, who pleaded guilty to stealing brass from the Wabash, were given six months each.

Immigrants In Pulp Woods.

Kingston, April 9.—The steamer Rosemont, which has been granted a passenger license, will take 280 immigrants to Simpson Island, on Lake Superior, on the first trip. The immigrants are to work at the pulp wood industry.

Floods In Servia.

Belgrade, Servia, April 9.—Widespread floods, caused by the melting of the snow, have wrought devastation in many Servian towns.

Railway traffic is interrupted, and a number of fatalities have been reported.

A Fisherman's Fortune.

London, April 9.—A fisherman named Forbes has sailed for Canada to take possession of a steam yacht and a substantial sum of money recently left him by a Canadian magnate whose life he saved at great personal risk.

Exports from St. John, N.B., and Portland last week were 868 cattle. At the Montreal Stock Yards' West End Market, the receipts of live stock for the week ending April 6 were 3060 cattle, 113 sheep and lambs, 2450 hogs and 1935 calves, while the offerings this morning for local consumption were 1016 cattle, 75 sheep and lambs, 978 hogs, and 314 calves. A feature of the trade was the weaker feeling in the market for cattle, and prices compared with those of a week ago showed a decline of 1-4c per pound. A big snow storm lasting all morning prevented intending buyers in many instances from coming to the market. Cable advices from Liverpool on Saturday for Canadian cattle noted a further advance in prices, as compared with a week ago, but this fact had no influence on the local situation, as exporters were not disposed to operate any more freely than usual, and only a few loads were purchased at 5c to 5 1-4c per pound. Choice beeves sold at 5 1-4c to 5 1-2c; good, at 4 3-4c to 5c; fair, at 4 1-4c to 4 1-2c, and lower grades from 3c to 4c per pound. A stronger feeling developed in the local market for hogs this morning, and prices advanced 10c, due to keen competition between local dealers for supplies. Sales of selected lots were made at $7.40 to $7.50, weighed off cars. Supplies of sheep and lambs continue limited, and as the demand is very keen from butchers for this class of stock, prices are firmly maintained. Sheep sold at 4 1-2c to 5c, and yearling lambs at 6 1-2c to 7c per pound. A few spring lambs sold at $4 to $8 each. There was an active trade done in calves, of which the offerings were fairly large and sales at $2 to $8 each.

FIX WATER BOUNDARIES.

Treaty Drawn Between Great Britain and United States.

Washington, April 9.—It was officially admitted yesterday that a treaty had been drafted between the United States and Great Britain, providing for the appointment of a joint commission, which will consider all of the complex questions connected with the water boundaries between Canada and the United States.

This will include such questions as the disposition of the waters of the great lakes; the regulation of the use of the water at Niagara Falls for power purposes and the whole general subject of fisheries regulations, not only for the great lakes but for the Atlantic and Pacific states.

The treaty will require the approval of the United States Senate to become effective, but it is possible that an arrangement in the nature of a modus vivendi will be reached between Secretary Root and Ambassador Bryce in the near future.

DISARMAMENT NOT PROBLEM.

Germany Will Refuse to Discuss It at Hague Conference.

London, April 9.—The Berlin correspondent of The Daily Mail says that Germany is heartily anxious for a definite result from The Hague Conference and regrets that the deliberations will not be confined to practical international questions in accordance with Russia's proposal. He adds that when the British proposal for the limitation of armaments is submitted, Baron Marschall von Bieberstein, as Germany's chief delegate, will define her position substantially thus: Disarmament for Germany is not a problem. It is a matter upon which she holds convictions of such a character that participation in any discussion of the subject would be utterly futile. She therefore leaves consideration of the matter to those who believe its discussion will repay them.

BRITISH HOUSE RE-ASSEMBLES.

Budget Expected to Lead to Prolonged Debate.

London, April 9.—Parliament reassembled yesterday after the Easter.

The budget will be introduced April 18, and is expected to lead to lively and prolonged debate.

The prospects seem slight for any early effort to deal with the question described in the King's speech as the "unfortunate differences between the two Houses."

As a result of the large amount of work before Parliament, an autumn session seems to be inevitable.

King Edward In Spain.

Cartagena, Spain, April 9.—King Alfonso, the Dowager Queen Christinia and the other members of the royal party arrived here at 7.30 yesterday morning from Madrid, in order to meet the King and Queen of England.

The British royal yacht Victoria and Albert, escorted by warships, was sighted later in the day and King Alfonso went out to meet King Edward and Queen Alexandra on board the Spanish royal yacht Giralda.

The royal visitors were accorded a magnificent reception on their arrival here.

The Official Gazette yesterday published a royal decree appointing King Edward an honorary captain-general in the Spanish army.

Dr. Drummond Buried.

Montreal, April 9.—The funeral of the late Dr. William Henry Drummond took place yesterday afternoon from St. George's church to Mount Royal Cemetery. The body arrived at 9.30 and through a blinding snowstorm was taken to the church.

Dr. Drummond's three brothers were the recipients of letters, telegrams and cables from all parts of the continent and Europe.

Among those who telegraphed was Earl Grey.

Boy Convicts Saloonmen.

Ottawa, April 9.—A boy, aged 15, appeared in the police court yesterday and gave evidence against five hotel men for selling himself, a minor, intoxicating liquors.

The boy acted by himself and stood a long cross-examination well.

The saloon-keepers were fined $10 each solely on his evidence.

Holds Sister For Boy's Death.

Quebec, April 9.—The jury in the matter of the 14-year-old boy named Amedee Carrier, who was killed on Monday last at St. Charles, Bellechasse, rendered a verdict holding Alexena Carrier, sister of the boy, responsible for her brother's death. The young prisoner is only 14 years of age.

Lawyer for Defence Makes Strong Plea for Harry Thaw

Beginning of the End in Famous Murder Trial.

Evidence In Case All In — Counsel Commence Their Struggle With Jury—Address of Defending Lawyer—Dramatic Masterpiece — Tells Tragedy of Two Young Lives—Traces Course of Evelyn's Betrayal.

New York, April 9.—The curtain began to fall yesterday on the dramatic trial of Harry K. Thaw, charged with the murder of Stanford White.

Attorney Delphin M. Delmas, the California advocate, began his long anticipated address to the jury in the afternoon, and after he had spoken for more than two hours and a half, adjournment was taken until to-day. Mr. Delmas expects to finish his speech before the luncheon hour is reached.

District Attorney Jerome will make the closing address of the trial tomorrow and Thaw's fate should be in the hands of the jury by Wednesday evening. Justice Fitzgerald ordered the jury locked up until the end of the trial. The judge's charge to the jury will be delivered immediately after the district attorney concludes his speech, which will take up three or four hours.

Declaring that he would not base his plea upon the "unwritten law," because his client found ample justification in the written statutes of the State of New York, Mr. Delmas made a striking appeal to the sympathy of the jury. But so far as he went yesterday, the subject of Thaw's sanity or insanity at the time he committed the homicide was not even hinted at. Mr. Delmas grounded his argument solely upon the story of Evelyn Nesbit Thaw.

"Even a beast protects its young," he declared with scornful emphasis, "but this unnatural mother deserted her daughter in this city of millions to be betrayed by a false friend, to be lured into a gilded palace, and there left the victim of a gray-haired man, wounded, bleeding and devoured."

Jerome Not Present.

All of Thaw's family were in the court-room. They sat stolid, as usual, throughout Mr. Delmas' argument, their features betraying no emotion which they might feel. Thaw turned to them from time to time, as his attorney seemed to strike some telling blow, and they smiled back, reflecting his own pleasure. Thaw also turned frequently to his wife, who, in the last stages of the trial, as in the first, seems to be bearing the stress of the trial. She had a responsive smile ready for his every look.

District Attorney Jerome was not in court to hear Mr. Delmas' speech. His assistant, Mr. Garvan, took voluminous notes, however. Mr. Jerome, it was said, was busy with the preparation of his own address.

The "Real Facts."

Mr. Delmas began his appeal to the jury by quoting from an utterance of District Attorney Jerome during the trial. He said:

"We have no right if the real facts were known to be here trying this man, and would be absolutely prohibited by the statutes."

Defended by Written Law.

"In the performance of my task, it is perhaps not improper to say that I shall make no attempt to influence your passions, no attempt to make your sympathies overbalance your judgment. I shall not call on such a flimsy thing as the 'unwritten law.' This defendant finds his justification in the written law, in the statutes of this state. In the written law he finds all necessary to protect his life and his liberty.

The Tragic Story.

"The story is that of two young people whom fate by inscrutable decree had determined to link together, to be united and walk through life in the company of one another. The story covers only a few years. It is the saddest, most mournful and most tragic which the tongue of man has ever uttered or ear of man ever heard."

He told of Evelyn's early life. "As she became the family drudge, assisting her mother in the household duties. But nature had endowed her with the fatal gift of beauty—a beauty which manifested itself in early youth and a gift with which the mother soon saw means of supporting the family.

Assails White.

"At this time," he said, "we find a man whose hair was tinged with gray, who had an excellent wife and an accomplished son, fixing his eyes upon the fated child and determining to make her his.

"The child was left alone. In one of those dens fitted up with all the beauty and taste which this man of genius possessed, into one of these dens this child was lured and found herself alone with this man, old enough to be her father, the man who was to be her protector."

He accused White of the crime, the penalty for which he declared that President Roosevelt had said in a message to Congress should be visited with death. This was one of the suggestions which Thaw himself made to his counsel for his summing up—one of the suggestions which played so important a part in the proceedings before the lunacy commission.

Hummel's Affidavit.

That Evelyn Nesbit's story was true, and was told to Harry Thaw, formed the subject of the argument for more than an hour. Mr. Delmas declared that the only evidence the district attorney had to bring against the girl was the "miscalled affidavit," conjured by Abraham Hummel.

Speaking of the latter, Mr. Delmas again drew heavily upon the bitterest adjectives of his wide vocabulary, and asserted with emphasis that it would require more than the word of a perjured man to send Harry Thaw to an ignominious death. Hummel was charged by Mr. Delmas of having committed deliberate perjury upon the stand when he swore he was not acting as Evelyn Nesbit's counsel, and that no action was contemplated in her behalf. He said the so-called affidavit had itself convicted the man of falsehoods.

Protest Against Commission.

At the morning session of court, Mr. Jerome formally protested against the confirmation of the report of the lunacy commission. He made no argument, however, and his motion was quickly overruled. The defence then sought to have Dr. Allan McLane Hamilton testify that Thaw was insane at the time he committed the alleged murder. The district attorney prevented this by an objection to Dr. Hamilton's sur-rebuttal.

He was sustained, and Mr. Delmas announced that the defence rested. Mr. Jerome made a similar announcement, and then an adjournment was ordered until two o'clock, that the jurors, who were to be deprived of their liberty, might adjust their business affairs.

WIFE WHIPPED HIM.

Farmer Complains of the Short Comings of His Spouse.

Toronto, April 9.—In the non-jury assizes yesterday, Mrs. Forsythe of Altona, Pickering Township, brought suit against her husband, Ralph Forsythe, to compel him to maintain her as his wife. She alleges non-support.

Forsythe says his wife's shortcomings are as follows:

Refused to get dinner on Sundays, saying two meals were plenty.

Left the cows for him to milk during harvest.

Neglected to mend his clothes.

Spent two days a week from home.

Struck him with a pair of horseshoes.

Whipped him.

Lifted a plate to throw at him.

Threw a granite teasteeper twice one morning, hitting him each time.

Called him a liar, a hog, a fool, a rogue, a worse thief than some in prison.

Threw part of a loaf of bread at him. Encouraged children to call him nicknames.

The son stated that the house was a little hell on earth, and the daughter told of frequent punishment administered to her mother by her father.

The case goes on to-day.

SURVIVES 60,000 VOLTS.

Winnipeg Electrician Undergoes a Wonderful Experience.

Winnipeg, April 9.—After receiving the shock of a flash from 60,000 volts, Eugene Pilon was picked up unconscious, but still living, at the sub-station of the street railway Sunday.

The current passed right through him, leaving the impress of his feet burnt into the floor, the soles of his shoes being burnt off by the powerful current which had struck him, and which, in passing out, bored deep holes into the concrete.

It is stated by an expert that probably the carbon in Pilon's pencil attracted a jump spark from wires at a distance of 10 inches and this would be near enough to give him a terrible shock, although not the full force of the current.

Second Unknown Suicide.

Toronto, April 9.—The body of an unknown man was found dead in the men's lavatory at Centre Island yesterday morning, with a bullet wound in his head.

Deceased was clean shaven, about 5 feet and a half in height, and of fair complexion. He carried a nickel watch and 11 cents in money. Three street car tickets and one return ticket to the island were found on him. He wore an Irish frieze overcoat, pepper-and-salt coat and vest and striped trousers. A hard black hat was lying beside him. A five-chambered 32-calibre revolver was on the floor. Four chambers were loaded.

There will be no inquest.

A SOURCE OF DISEASE.

Beware the Man Who Blows Smoke Through His Nostrils.

A popular practice of many smokers consists in discharging the smoke inhaled, especially from cigarettes, through the nostrils. This is even considered by some to be essential to the full enjoyment of the flavor of the tobacco.

The London Lancet, while acknowledging that perhaps under ordinary circumstances no harm is done to the smoker save to his sense of smell, has sounded a note of warning against the habit as a possible disseminator of disease. Hay fever and other annoying complaints have been spread through unsuspecting households by the unthinking visitor who habitually blew smoke through his nose.

The surface traversed by the tobacco smoke before issuing from the nose, it is remarked by the Lancet, is moistened with the natural secretion of the mucous membrane lining it, and this secretion is mingled with the fluid discharged from the conjunctival sac protecting the eyes. It therefore contains numerous micro organisms, which, floating in the air, have become attached to the moist and sticky surface of the conjunctiva, as well as those which pass over the surface of the nasal membrane. As Tyndall long ago showed, germs are completely filtered off from the air inhaled by the extensive and irregular surfaces presented by the turbinal bones. These germs are carried into the air by the man who blows smoke through his nostrils.

A SENSE OF DIRECTION.

The Prime Requisite For Making a True Woodsman.

A sense of direction I should name as the prime requisite for him who would become a true woodsman, depending on himself rather than on guides. The faculty is largely developed of course by much practice, but it must be inborn. Some men possess it; others do not — just as some men have a mathematical bent, while to others figures are always a despair. It is a sort of extra, having nothing to do with criterions of intelligence or mental development, like the repeater movement in a watch. A highly educated, cultured man may lack it; the roughest possess it. Some who have never been in the woods or mountains acquire in the space of a vacation a fair facility at picking a way, and I have met a few who have spent their lives on the prospect trail and who were still and always would be as helpless as the newest city dweller. It is a gift, a talent. If you have its tiniest germ you can become a traveler of the wide and lonely places. If you have it not you may as well resign yourself to guides.—Stewart Edward White in Outing Magazine.

Science and Morality.

The true student of the professional or technical school becomes heir to a comprehensive and clear understanding of his duties and responsibilities in his relations to his fellow men and to the community. Those duties and responsibilities present themselves to his trained mind in their real proportion. He is neither nondeveloped nor maldeveloped in his judgment of affairs. His university training, especially in the technical school, has taught him accuracy and penetration in the analysis of any proposition confronting him and that truth and knowledge must be sought with the directness of a plumb line. Science yields nothing but confusion to the shifty, devious and dishonest inquirer. The fundamentals of morality are the very stepping stones to technical success or professional attainment.

The Hellbender.

"There's no reason why the hellbender shouldn't be good to eat," said a scientist. "Its principal food is the crayfish, the same as the principal food for bass. The hellbinder belongs to the same family of amphibians as the frog and is very closely related. Both are hatched from the egg, and both pass through the tadpole stage before reaching maturity. The hellbender is a mighty fine fish, as any one can prove to himself if he will conquer his natural aversion." The hellbender is found principally in streams about the foothills of the Alleghany mountains.

The Saddle.

Early Greeks and Romans rode horses bareback. They regarded it as effeminate to ride in a saddle. The modern saddle, with pommel, crupper and stirrups, was unknown to the ancients. Nero gave out fancy coverings to his cavalry, and the bareback riders of the German forests used to laugh at them. Saddles with trees came into use in the fourth century, stirrups three centuries later.

Standing and Sitting.

David Slowpay—I shall bring you back those dark trousers to be reseated, Mr. Snip. You know I sit a good deal. Mr. Snip (tailor)—All right, and if you'll bring the bill I sent you six months ago I will be pleased to receipt that also. You know I've stood a good deal.—London Tit-Bits.

Properly Situated.

"They may say what they like against him," said the convicted one's defender, "but his heart is in the right place."

"Yes," assented the other, "and so is the rest of him for a few years."

Practical.

"What did she say when she heard he was dead in love with her?"

"She wanted to know if he carried any life insurance."

The "Sailor Boy" brand of canned goods are the best that are put up. They never fail to please. Try a few cans.

AUTHORS' HANDWRITING.

Jules Janin Would Rather Rewrite Than Read His Manuscript—Carlyle's Temperament Apparent.

Charlotte Bronte's handwriting seemed to have been traced with a needle, and the penmanship of Bryant was aggressive, well formed and decidedly pleasing to the eye. Thackeray's writing was marvelously neat and precise, but it was so small that microscopic eyes were needed to read it. Longfellow wrote a bold, open backhand which was the delight of printers.

The handwriting of Captain Marryat was so microscopic that when he rested from his labors he was obliged to mark the place where he left off by sticking a pin in the paper. Napoleon's handwriting was worse than illegible. It is said that his letters from Germany to the Empress Josephine were at first taken for rough maps of the seat of war.

Much of Carlyle's temperament may be read in his handwriting. He wrote a patient, crabbed, oddly emphasized hand. The chirography of Walter Scott, Leigh Hunt, Moore and Gray was easy to read and ran smoothly. It was not expressive of any especial individuality, however. The writing of Dickens was minute, and the author's habit of writing with blue ink upon blue paper, with frequent erasures and interlineations, made his copy a burden to his publishers. Byron's handwriting was a mere scrawl. His additions in his proofs often exceeded in volume the original copy. To one of his poems which contained only 400 lines in the original 1,000 lines were added in the proofs.

One day a distressed compositor appeared at the house of Jules Janin and besought him to decipher some pages of his own manuscript. Janin replied that he would rather rewrite than attempt to read over what he had once written.

Few printers could read the copy of Balzac, and those who could invariably made a strict agreement with their employer that they would be required to work at it only one hour at a time. Even after the hieroglyphics had been translated into print the proof sheets came back more illegible than the original copy.

While having his house repaired Rufus Choate had promised to send to the builder the model for a carved mantelpiece. Failing to obtain exactly the kind of mantelpiece that he wanted, Choate wrote to his workman to that effect. The carpenter eyed the missive from all sides and finally decided that it must be the promised plan. Forthwith he set to work to fashion what would have been the most original mantelpiece ever made.

Lord Grey's Experiences.

St. James' Budget, upon the occasion of Lord Grey's fifty-fifth birthday just passed, recalled some events in his life which are not generally known to Canadians. It says: "It was in Rhodesia, it may be remembered, that Lord Grey had his first experience in administrative work. He was naturally somewhat overshadowed there by Mr. Cecil Rhodes, and the stormy times following the Matabele rising were not calculated to show off the abilities of such a man to the best advantage. His friendship with Mr. Rhodes continued until the last, and he is one of the trustees of the will. At home Lord Grey is best known for his strenuous work in the direction of social reform; he has been a strong advocate for temperance public-houses and a co-partnership between worker and employer.

"Lord Grey had a curious electoral experience when he contested South Northumberland in 1878 as a Liberal. He was opposed by Mr. Edward Ridley, and both candidates polled the same number of votes. The returning officer refused to give a casting vote, and the two politicians accordingly appeared in the House to take the oath. A scrutiny was then ordered, and as a result the seat went to Mr. Ridley. Lord Grey seceded from the Liberal Party over the Home Rule question."

Lover's Curious Ruse.

After reading lurid literature of marvelous escapades a youth named Bracegirdle, aged nineteen, living in Great Western street, Moss Side, Manchester, called at the house of his sweetheart during her temporary absence on a Sunday, bound himself to a chair, fastened his feet, gagged his mouth with a blouse, and tied his hands.

She discovered him in this condition and cut him free. He told her two men had entered the house and broken open the penny-in-the-slot gas meter, and how his struggle with them ended by him being overpowered and bound to the chair.

Bracegirdle subsequently told a detective he invented the story and stole the money to find out whether his young lady loved him or not.

The Manchester magistrates dismissed him under the First Offenders Act, attributing his offence to pernicious literature.

Poorly Paid Spanish Writers.

Spanish writers are not in enviable circumstances. The usual pay for novels in Spain is so low that it is hard to understand how writers can live on the money they receive, whereas in Paris there are ten novel writers who annually earn 100,000 francs and more. In Spain the pay for a long novel is $12 and for novels of two volumes scarcely more than 250 francs. The Gil Blas cites a case where Carmen Burgos, a well known authoress in her country, received only 150 francs for the translation of a long French novel. A Madrid printer who publishes a series of volumes dealing with the writers of the nineteenth century pays 50 francs for a volume.

SACRED THREADS.

The Cords Worn by the Three Castes of the Hindoos.

The sacred thread of the Brahmans is well known. It is a caste distinction assumed at an early age and never parted with. It must be made by a Brahman and should consist of three strands, each of a different color, forty-eight yards in length, doubled and twisted together twice, the ends tied in knots. It must be worn next the skin, over the left shoulder, hanging down to the thigh on the right side. The three castes of the Hindoos are distinguished by the material of these threads—cotton for the Brahmans, hemp for the warriors and wool for the artisans. The Parsees also wear the sacred thread, and boys of seven or nine are invested with it, the threads used being made always of fibers of the suru tree. Monier Williams describes the sacred girdle of the Parsees as made of seventy-two woolen threads, forming a flat band, which is twined three times around the body and tied in two peculiar knots, the secret of which is known only to the Parsees.

The use of "medicine cords" is common among North American Indians. Mr. Bourke describes those worn by the Apaches. These consist of one, two, three and four strands, to which are attached shells, feathers, beads, rock crystal, sacred green stones and other articles, doubtless employed symbolically.

THE PARIS CLUBS.

Election to the Most Exclusive Ones Is a Serious Business.

Election to the exclusive clubs of Paris is a very serious business. The proposer and seconder must not only know all about their candidates, but be able to bear witness to their antecedents and even to their forefathers. They must write to all their friends and ask them to support their candidates. When the election takes place, they must not only be in the room, but approach each member individually as he comes up to the ballot box and ask him for his support.

When the member has been elected, he arrives the first day as a kind of stranger and with his hat in hand. He is then formally introduced by one of his proposers to each member separately who happens to be in the room at the time. On the second occasion he has ceased to be a stranger and may leave his hat in the hall, but he is still expected to go round the room with one of his proposers and be formally introduced. This lasts for a week, by which time he is assumed to know all his colleagues, though a foreigner who is extra punctilious and insists on being introduced to every member of the club gains considerably in popularity.—London Saturday Review.

A Puzzled Author.

When Alphonse Daudet brought out "Sappho" an American publishing house that issued religious books, not knowing its character, offered M. Daudet a large sum for advance sheets of the work. He accepted the offer, and the advance sheets were sent. When the publishers received them they decided that they could not issue the book, and they cabled to the author, "'Sappho' will not do." This dispatch puzzled Daudet. He consulted with numbers of friends, and this was the conclusion at which they eventually arrived: "Sappho" in French is spelled with one "p"—"Sapho," after the Greek fashion. In English it is spelled with two. An unusually acute friend pointed this out to Daudet, which much relieved the novelist, and he cabled back to the publishers, "Spell it with two p's." It is needless to state that the publishers were more astonished at Daudet's reply than he had been at their cable dispatch.

Her Head Was Hot.

Lady Dorothy Nevill in her reminiscences tells this story of the two Misses Walpole, her cousins: "On one occasion, when both of the two were well over ninety, Miss Fanny, the younger, who had that day been rather ill, only joined her sister in the sitting room just before dinner. On her arrival downstairs the latter (Miss Charlotte by name) remarked: 'Fanny, I am going to be ill too. I feel so hot about the head. It must be apoplexy.' 'Nothing of the sort!' exclaimed Miss Fanny, making a dash at her sister's head. 'Your cap's on fire, and I'm going to put it out.' And so the brave old thing did."

The First Dancers.

People have danced for thousands of years and will probably continue to do so for ages to come. This custom is of ancient origin. The first people to dance were the Curetes, who adopted dancing as a mark of rejoicing in 1543 B. C. In early times the Greeks combined dancing with the drama, and in 22 B. C. pantomimic dances were introduced on the Roman stage. At the discovery of America the American Indians were holding their religious, martial and social dances.

Daily Duties.

The best part of one's life is the performance of one's daily duties. All higher motives, ideas, conceptions and sentiments in a man's life are of little value if they do not strengthen him for the better discharge of the duties which devolve upon him in the ordinary affairs of life.

The Hands Were at Rest All Day

City Clock Observes the New Lord's Day Act.

Many persons going to work yesterday were given considerable of a shock when they looked up at the city clock and saw that it registered 10.25 o'clock. They glanced at their watches and at once concluded that something had gone wrong with the timepiece over the market building. And such was the case. Although the works of the clock were still going, the hands had stopped when they registered 10.25 Sunday night, and, like the Board of Education, refused to make any progress. The clock struck the hours all right, but the hands still remained passive.

Rev. Dr. Symonds on "Tennyson"

First of Interesting Course of Lectures on "In Memoriam"

The first of the course of lectures in the Y.M.C.A hall by Rev. Dr. Symonds, of Montreal, formerly of Peterborough, was given last evening on Tennyson's "In Memoriam."

There was a large attendance and the address of Dr. Symonds was followed with the keenest interest. He spoke briefly but comprehensively and his remarks indicated a thorough acquaintance with the subject and his complete mastery of the various phases of the great work of the late poet laureate, which will be considered during each night of the present week.

Mr J. H. Burnham occupied the chair and in appropriate terms welcomed the distinguished scholar and talented clergyman to the city. He was sure all would appreciate the course of lectures and the reviews to be given of "In Memoriam' by the able lecturer. Miss Lillian Moore sang a solo in fine voice.

The following is a synopsis of the first lecture;

The world into which Tennyson was born was a very different place from that which we know. The battle of Waterloo had not been fought. There were no railways, no steamships, no telegraph. Nevertheless the new age in which we live was already dawning upon the horizon Tennyson at Cambridge would come into contact with the best thought of his time. It was here that he formed his historic friendship with Arthur Henry Hallam, of whom Mr. Gladstone, at the close of his long life, and that of all whom he had met, Hallam stood supreme This friendship lasted for about five years, and then Hallam was suddenly stricken with death in 1833, whilst travelling in Austria. Tennyson had already published 2 small volumes of verse, "preludes of a loftier strain," After Hallam's death the poet was so overwhelmed with grief that for nine years he published nothing. Yet sorrow proved for him a great educator and ripener of character, the supreme fruit of which was the poem we are to consider this week—"In Memoriam."

"In Memoriam" was not published for seventeen years after Hallam's death. It was not designed as a whole and systematically composed like Dante's Divine Comedy, and Milton's Paradise Lost. The sections were written at many different times and in many different places, without at first any thought of publication. But as the sections grew in number Tennyson found that they could be woven into a whole The first title designed for them was "Fragments of an Elegy" but this was found unsuitable and was replaced by that which to us seems the only possible title.—"In Memoriam."

The structure of this remarkable poem is of the loosest. At first reading it appears to be composed of one hundred and thirty-one independent poems, threaded like pearls upon the string of a common topic. Robertson, the famous preacher of Brighton, treated it thus, but since his day a small literature has grown up around this poem, and the problem of the structure of "In Memoriam" has been so solved as to throw a flood of light upon the poem itself.

The clue to the divisions of the poem is to be found in those sections which mark the recurring seasons of the year. From these it is found that the development of the poem occupies some two years and a half. It begins in autumn and include three Christmases and ends in spring. —See Sections 15, 28, 78, 104, 115.—The whole may be divided into four principal divisions which we shall call.—1. The Introductory Division; 2, The First Cycle; 3, The Second Cycle; 4, The Third Cycle.

In these divisions the principal thing to be observed is the development or the progress of the poet's mood from the utter despondency of loss to that of restored faith and peace As the poem proceeds Tennyson takes his own sorrow and difficulties as typical of those of the human race, and this leads to the discussion of such topics as Religion and Sience ,Doubt and Faith, the Progress of the Race in moral development. Mr. Gening calls the first, second and third cycles of the poem respectively, the Cycles of the Past, the Present and the Future, a very suggestive nomenclature, as we shall see.

Tenyson himself sometimes called "In Memoriam," "The Way of the Soul. And in "The Way of the Soul" is found to be a journey from the first stupor and confusion of grief, through a growing acquiescence, to an almost unclouded peace and joy. The soul at first almost sunk in the feeling of loss, finds itself at last freed from regret and yet strengthened in affection.

The subject of this evening's lecture will be "In Memoriam in relation to the Age."

Worked 31 Days But Did Not Receive One Cent in Wages

South Monaghan Farmer is Accused of Having Given an English Immigrant a Raw Deal—Legal Proceedings May be Taken.

Thirty-one days without a cent of remuneration, although he had been promised $18 per month, his board a free house for himself and family and fuel, is the lastest story of the shabby treatment of an English immigrant in this country. The man in question is living in Peterborough at present, and has a position with a local wholesale firm. He has asked County Magistrate Edmison to obtain justice for him, but as the scene of the events which led up to the trouble is in South Monaghan, it is doubtful if anything can be done by the Magistrate, here, as the case comes under the jurisdiction of the Northumberland county authorities.

It appears that the fellow who says he was done out of his wages has a wife and four children. They are recent arrivals from England. Wm. King, a South Monaghan farmer, had made application to one of the immigration agencies for farm help, and on reaching Toronto, the recently arrived Englishman made a bargain to go and work for him. He says he was to receive $18 per month, his board, a free house and necessary fuel. He brought his wife and four children to the farm in question and worked for the farmer for 31 days. At the end of that time King, he says ,refused to pay him the wages promised, in fact would not give him a cent so he left and took his wife and family and came to Peterborough, where he got a job.

The fellow seems to be honest and industrious, and anxious to get along. If he was done out of his wages, it is to be hoped that he will be able to obtain redress for the wrong that has been done him.

Italians on Municipal Work Will Pay City a License of $10

Ald. Morgan Will Introduce a New Proposition to the Council—He Does Not Believe in Italians Getting Off Without Paying Taxes.

Ald. Morgan has a big proposition before him and he intends to introduce it at the first council meeting, that there is an opportunity. His motion is calculated to protect the laboring men on municipal work, against the inroads made upon that class of work by the Italian shovel and pick handlers. Ald. Morgan's motion, if carried, will force every Italian to pay a license of $10 per year for the privilege of working on corporation work, unless he is paying taxes on property. The Italians will also be forced to live in smaller gangs. In fact a big difference will be made in the lives of these Sons of Italy, if Ald. Morgan gets his way.

The substance of the motion is, "That Italian labor be not employed on corporation work, unless they are property owners and tax payers, and if neither that they be taxed $10 per year to be paid to the city clerk, who will give a certificate in receipt for same, entitling them to seek employment on the city's works.

And a foreman or city official who employs an Italian on municipal work, who has not this certificate shall be dismissed; or if a contractor on municipal work, failing to comply with this rule or bylaw, shall be charged $10 for each Italian he has employed wi [illegible] rtificate, and that the amount be deducted from his contract price, and that the city engineer, or other official so appointed shall have the right to see this certificate, when the Italian is working on any municipal work;

And he would also recommend that the health inspector see that Italians in the city, live as they should, and not permit from twelve to sixteen to sleep in one small house.

Twelve Thousand Deer Killed In the Province Last Season

It is urged by Chief Game Warden Tinsley of the Province of Ontario in his annual report that Indians and settlers in the unorganized territories be deprived of much of the latitude now allowed under the law if the destruction of game is not to reach the proportion of extermination.

The number of deer killed during 1906 is computed at the enormous aggregate of 12,000 or about four times the number carried and recorded by the express companies. Hunting parties which carry the deer they shoot by team or boat, Indians and settlers accounted for those not recorded. The express companies carried 4,292, compared with 3,310 in 1905. During 1906 the settlers' permits issued, totalled 2,774; deer hunters' licenses, 6,285; non-residents' licenses 447, and moose licenses, 283. The revenue from licenses $25,620.

The warden approves of the efforts to destroy the wolves in the Province, and emphasizes their destructiveness. During 1906 the amount paid in wolf bounties was $8,369, and the number of wolves killed 612.

One of the game wardens suggests an increase in the bounty on wolves.

Sensational Story About C.A.A.U. and C.L.A. Players

The Toronto News last night had a sensational story to the effect that President Stark, of the Canadian Amateur Athletic Union had made the statement that every member of the Canadian Lacrosse Association has been disqualified, and that every player in the C.L.A., junior, intermediate and senior series, is ineligible to compete in all sports on athletics that are governed by the C.A.A.U.

Continuing the News said:

The significance, the ramifications of this ruling will be better realized when it is stated that there are now 112 clubs in the C.L.A., and that at least 1,500 of the leading athletes of the Province come directly under the supervision of the big lacrosse governing body, and are thus debarring from amateur athletics by the C.A.A.U., which by the ruling above outlined by President Stark strikes directly at the heart of sport in Ontario.

President Stark made the statement that means so much to the fifteen hundred athletes directly affected when asked his views on the C.L.A.'s amateur rule and the Associations's implied refusal to affiliate with the C. A.A.U., and he declared further that he was unalterably opposed to a compromise on the pro-amateur controversy in any shape or form.

No concessions would be made to the professional element, and so long as he was connected with the C.A.A U. there would be no effort made to bring the two classes of athletes together.

He was, however, tired, he declared, of the whole vexed problem, and would retire from the presidency of the Union as soon as possible.

President Stark in a statement in the morning papers absolutely denies having given the interiew the News refers to or of having made the statement credited to him. Its now up to the News to make good.

The story created considerable interest here and further developments are eagerly awaited.

DELIVERS BREAD AT MIDNIGHT

Young Man Talks to Girl in the Kitchen and Horse Goes on

A well-known driver on one of the bakery waggons, frequently has interesting experiences with his horse. The driver is a very sociable young man and he invariably seizes the slightest opportunity to chat for periods of time, varying from five minutes to a half or three-quarters of an hour, with the head cook, the kitchen maid, the housemaid, the lady of the house, or the lady's daughter, whoever happens to answer the door. This young man is not particularly partial to any one house, but quite the contrary. He lavishes his attentions upon everyone he thinks will bother wasting their time. The result is he is well posted on all the family affairs, and knows the latest tiffs between husband and wife, or maid and employer. Thus to many he is a source of valuable information, and a half-hour's gossip with him is a rare treat.

But the young man's bread is still in the waggon and not delivered. The poor fellow can only do one thing at a time. His customers who have no bread, are of little consequence, they can wait until all hours of the night, as they do.

The horse, however, will not always stand for these frequent delays. Sometimes it walks all over the lawns, tramps upon flower beds, breaks down shrubbery and does all kinds of damage. But it is hungry and thirsty and is looking for somethink besides hot air from the kitchen.

Last night, after half past ten this horse, tired of waiting for its driver and nearly ready for its supper, started off on its own hook. and for half an hour wandered around the streets, nibbling the dry, frozen grass on the sides of the road, and on the boulevards. The young man had quite a time locating his faithful horse after he said good night at the last house, but a few whistles, well known to the animal, brought it trotting down the road, and the two started off for home. Delivering bread at ten or eleven o'clock, is a novelty, and few horses would stand for it. Frequently the lady of the house kicks, too.

Don't forget "When the Harvest Days Are Over" is the attraction at the Grand on Thursday night, The leading character in the play is "that funny feller" Felix Haney, late leading comedian at the New York Hippodrome. Prices 15c, 25c, 35c, 50c. Plan now open at the Box Office.

Board of Trade Elects Officers

Meeting for That Purpose Will be Held To-night

The Board of Trade meeting tonight will be the most important of the year. The object of the gathering is to elect the officers, and it is particularly requested that all the members be present. It should be the largest meeting held for years

President D. Hughes Charles has resigned and will not accept another term It is therefore necessary to select a new presiding officer. Two or three men have been approached, but they do not want to accept the position. There are in this city a number of men who would make excellent presidents. They have ability, and they have reputations for doing anything they undertake well.

The other officers must also be elected. The past year has seen several changes among which was the removal of Mr. Mr. K. Eardley-Wilmot, the treasurer of the Board. His office will have to be filed by a new man. Good men are what is wanted, and men who will work in harmony with the City Council. The two bodies should work together, or the best results will not be obtained.

If the Board of Trade is not largely attended to-night and if good officers are not elected ,the city as a whole will lose. The Board of Trade has an important work to perform, and it requires good men to govern it.

Old Fire Hall as a Restaurant

Rumored that Mr. Fred Darcy Wants it—Property Committee to Meet

A lot of work is on hand for the Property Committee ,and a meeting will be called for some time this week. Among other matters to be decided is what will be done with the old fire hall. It will be vacated within the next couple of weeks, and the Property Committee will be expected to decide what use it will be put and then recommend that the council make the necessary alterations to put it in shape for rental As yet little or no thought has been given to this matter, and none of the aldermen can give any information. It was rumored, however ,that Mr. Fred Darcy would like to rent it for restaurant purposes. He would require considerable space and would establish a first-class eating house.

Another important matter for the Property Committee to grapple with is a general scavenger system for the city. It is proposed to collect regularly all the garbage, such as ashes, refuse from the house, from the yards, old papers, tin cans, etc., and dump it on low land and thus reclaim valuable propperty. The city is growing rapidly, and this work is not being done as well as it should be.

Sanitary Inspector Ball will likely be on hand to give the committee information gained by him while in Brantford

NEW STATIONS.

The Grand Trunk announces, says the Ottawa Journal, its intention to make a general improvement in its stations in all parts of the system. Twenty stations are to be erected in Ontario alone, not counting the big ones in Ottawa and Toronto. In improving the convenience and appearance of its stations, the Grand Trunk is following an admirable English precedent, which also has been followed with great success by the Pennsylvania railroad. There is no reason why the railway station with its approaches, should not be the show place of the neighborhood.

COMPLAINT OF HIGH WATER

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—The residents of North Monaghan, whose farms are on the banks of the Otonabee river, are complaining of a great nuisance, which is caused by the control of the Otonabee waters. An unusually large number of stop logs have been taken out and the water has been allowed to rush through and the poor farmers, along the Otonabee, are suffering as a result. Their farms have about three feet of water standing on them, and on the highways there is about eighteen inches of water. They have to travel by a punt or any other kind of boat they can get that they may reach the street car line. It is also a great inconvenience to the farmers in another way. It will be quite late before they will be able to get to work on their land. The residents, whose land has been flooded consider, it a foolish move on the part of the officials to have these stop logs taken out. They claim it was done to suit one or two persons in the city, whose cellars were flooded, but who never suffered the inconvenience and damage to property that those people along the Otonabee do. It is up to the officials to see to this and in some way alleviate the suffering of the unfortunate ones whose places have been literally swamped.

Yours,
INTERESTED.

Man's Three Wives Died From Poison

Virulent Poison Was on the Wall Paper.

Chicago, April 8.—A despatch to the Tribune from Evansville, Ind., says;

Mrs. Acharaiah Watson, the third wife of a farmer in Posey County, Indiana, died a few days ago, and yesterday it was discovered that her death was due to the wall paper on the walls and ceiling of the parlor that she cleaned two days before being taken ill. Physicians believed she had been poisoned, but were unable to ascertain the cause until the wall paper was examined and found to be impregnated with virulent poison.

Watson's first two wives died in the same way, their deaths occurring one and two years ago.

KILLED BY A LOBSTER

A Chicago chef has just died from blood poisoning following upon a nip from a lobster. Zam-Buk applied immediately after that trivial accident would have saved that man's life! Zam-Buk is just as fatal to poison and disease germs, as these are fatal to us, and a little more so; because, while we sometimes get germs into our system and still live, when those germs get Zam-Buk they give up the ghost without a struggle. One of England's leading analysts has proved this. Write to us for his report. Meanwhile, when you sustain a cut, a burn, a bruise, a scratch, or any injury, just apply Zam-Buk. Two processes right away—cleanses the sore, thus preventing blood poison and suppuration, and commences to heal. Incidentally it takes out soreness. Soreness is not necessary to Nature's healing processes. See free sample offer in adjoining column. All stores and druggists sell at fifty cents a box. Nothing like it.

THE MAGISTRATE IS RIGHT

Magistrate Perry, of Goldfields, B.C., believes in making a good thing known, and we do not blame him either. Writing of Zam-Buk, he says: "After a very fair trial I have proved Zam-Buk eminently satisfactory. In my case it cured a skin rash of five years' standing which no doctor had been able to do any good for. I would certainly encourage any person to keep Zam-Buk in his home." He is quite right. Every home needs it. Is it in your home? If not, why not? All stores and druggists sell at 50 cents a box.

A GENUINE OFFER

Test Zam-Buk at Our Expense

We appreciate the position taken by the man or woman who says to us: "If your preparation is what you claim, you should have no objection to letting us try it before spending money on it." To every person taking this view we say, "We agree!" Send us one cent stamp (to pay return postage) and name and date of this paper, and we will mail you a free trial box of Zam-Buk.

Oral Instruction Will Begin at D. and D. Institute, Belleville

How the Provincial School for Deaf Mutes is Progressing Under the Superintendency of Dr. Coughlin, Formerly of Peterborough—New Methods Introduced by Superintendent Who is Admirably Fitted for His Duties.

Special to the Review.

Belleville, April 9.—The provincial institute for the training and education of the Deaf and Dumb will close for the summer holidays about the middle of June. Since Dr. C. B. Coughlin, lately of Peterborough assumed the duties of superintendent of the institute, he has won the confidence and esteem of the pupils and teachers. Dr. Coughlin is an excellent disciplinarian, and takes a deep, personal interest in the instruction and welfare of each of the 229 pupils under his charge, who come from all parts of the province and range in ages from 5 to 21 years.

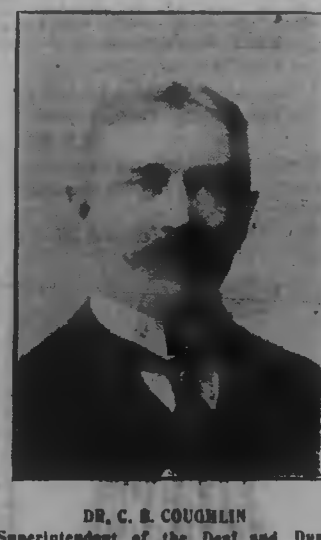
All the pupils are given a good education and the boys are taught useful trades.

It is probable that Dr. Coughlin will this summer attend the great convention in Glasgow, Scotland, where instructors of the deaf and dumb from all parts of the world will gather for an interchange of ideas and experiences.

Dr. Coughlin, speaking to your correspondent today, said that he purposed increasing the amount of oral teaching done at the institute. Heretofore only two lessons of 45 minutes each have been given each day, the system being almost wholly manual. About fifty per cent. of the present students have a useful amount of hearing and this will be cultivated - and developed. Autophones will be used. Many children are able, after a few weeks insight and practice, to read the lips of a speaker and thereby learn exactly what is communicated, although he or she may not hear a word. The pupil is able to answer, as all have use of their vocal organs, but these organs of speech have never been cultivated, because they have not been taught oral communication. Very few of the children in the institute were born deaf. The affliction has been the result of measles, scarlet fever, or some disease, which has bereft them of hearing, early in life.

In reports received so far from the various heads of institutions, the chief instructors appear to favor the oral method of teaching.

Prof. Crouter, of Philadelphia, formerly of Belleville, states that fully 96 per cent. of all the pupils in his school are benefitted thereby. Dr. Coughlin has had wonderful results so far with oral teaching and intends giving this system a thorough trial. He will have several hours a day devoted to it and will also make a liberal use of the autophones in connection with the education of those who have a fair amount of hearing. The experiments so far have given evidence of most satisfactory results and excellent advancement has been made.



DR. C. B. COUGHLIN
Superintendent of the Deaf and Dumb Institute, Belleville

The comfort and convenience of all the pupils are well looked after. They are given clean, well-cooked meals and their sleeping quarters are models of neatness and care. The interior management of the institute is all that could be desired and, on a recent visit, the Grand Jury of Hastings county paid a warm compliment to the superintendent and staff for the manner in which they found everything conducted about the big seat of learning for the deaf and dumb.

T. H. Kendry Was Awarded $1000 Damages in His Case

Against Mr. Richmond Over the Sale of the Poultry Business Last August—Judgment Was Reserved in the Ruetsch-Spry Case—Assizes Over.

The shortest assize court held in Peterborough for many years was concluded yesterday afternoon. It lasted only three hours and a half. Only two non-jury cases were on the docket and these were both short. A decision was given in one and judgment reserved in the other.

Mr. Justice Riddell, one of the recently appointed High Court judges, presided and he would not permit counsel to waste any time. In this way the cases were shortened considerably, and the judge got away on the five o'clock train.

After the plaintiff had finished the case in the action brought by Reutch against Spry, His Lordship gave his opinion of the case as far as it had gone. In doing so he said that he thought it would shorten the trial somewhat, although he would hear counsel for both sides afterwards.

His Lordship's remarks were in part as follows:—It has been proven that there has been a privation of air and light sufficient to make the residence of the house uncomfortable. The fence had been erected too high by the defendant and he considered that the plaintiff was entitled to an injunction and could have the fence removed, but the defendant could keep a fence up and as tight as he pleased so long as it did not interfere with the light and air of the plaintiff. That being so the plaintiff was entitled to costs.

Mr. O'Connel insisted that he was entitled to have the fence removed to the extent that it did not cause the accumulation of snow and water on the plaintiff's property. He then entered upon the argument in support of his contention.

Mr. Edmison, counsel for the defendant, argued that the defendant had a perfect right to erect the fence.

His Lordship said he would consider this case and would give his judgment at the earliest possible date.

KENDRY VS. RICHMOND.

The case of Kendry vs. Richmond was called, when Messrs. O'Connell & Gordon appeared for the plaintiff and Mr. A. P. Poussette for the defendant. This was an action brought to force the defendant to carry out an agreement for the sale of a farm. The defendant purchased last August a poultry business for two thousand dollars. He afterwards could not raise the money and the plaintiff sold the business for $1000, and in this action sought to recover the other $1000 from the defendant.

THE EVIDENCE.

Mr. Thos. Herbert Kendry was the first witness called by Messrs. O'Connell & Gordon. He was the plaintiff in the case. He was tenant of the lots in question up to August last and his business was poultry raising. He was then under lease for three years and a half. At the time he sold out he thought there were over 800 chickens. He entered into an agreement of sale with Mr. Richmond. The price was $2,000. The defendant took possession on the 11th of August. The defendant paid $10 in cash. The sum of $490 was to be paid on the 1st of Sept. This has not been paid. On the 20th of August he received a letter from defendant stating that he could not carry out the sale. Plaintiff then saw the defendant who asked for an extension of time to raise the money. The request was granted and the time was extended to the 1st of October. On the 8th of October a second letter was received stating that he could not raise the money and was vacating the farm.

After receiving that letter the witness drove down to the farm. On the 11th of Oct. he saw Mr. Richmond, consented to him selling the property or, do as he pleased, so long as he paid back the $50 defendant had spent on the business. Several attempts were made to sell the business by the defendant.

In answer to his Lordship's question why he did not take back the farm witness said that he was working at the Auburn Woollen mills and could not leave.

The plaintiff sold the farm to Mr. Booth for $1000. Witness said that when he resumed possession of the property he found the place in very bad condition. It was very dirty and everything was upside down. The original list was for 3 years and it was extended in 1906 for five years more. He told Mr. Richmond he thought he could get an 8 year lease. He also thought he could get the rental at $150, but that it would not exceed $25 a year more.

He invested $1500 in the farm and poultry business. In reference to the number of chickens witness said that when the defendant claimed that there were not 800 chickens on the farm he said he was willing to pay for the number there were less.

To Mr. Poussette, witness said that he was asked to furnish an inventory of the business when the sale was made. At the time of the inventory there were a number of chickens being fed for the market. These were afterwards sold and witness said that Mr. Richmond knew all about this and he received part of the money.

Mr. Edwards, a graduate of Truro Agricultural College, was employed by Mr. Kendry and Mr. Richmond was under the impression that he would remain on the farm. After the defendant abandoned the yards he drove Mr. and Mrs. Booth down and they offered him $1000 for the place without any further dickering and he took it.

Mr. Jas. Booth, to Mr. O-Connell said that he purchased the place from Mr. Kendry and took possession of it in October and found it in a very rough condition. There were about 500 chickens on the farm.

Mr. Geo. M. Roger was called and to Mr. O'Connell said he was solicitor for the lessors when the extension of the lease was made. The lessors were willing to extend the lease so long as Mr. Kendry remained liable for the payment of the rental. This ended the case for the plaintiff except the evidence taken for examination.

In this case as in the previous one Mr. Justice Riddell expressed his opinion at the conclusion of the plaintiff's case, but said he would hear counsel afterwards. His conclusions so far were briefly as follows.—

The contract was made and the terms were not carried out. The plaintiff's property had been damaged. He claimed $1000 damage and he was entitled to it.

Mr. Poussette said the plaintiff had not taken the proper course. He had not proven his claim for damages. The article sold had a definite market price and the plaintiff had not tried to get that sum for them. That was sufficient to put the plaintiff out of court.

His Lordship said he could see no reason why he should change his mind and he thought the plaintiff was entitled to his claim of $1000.

This concluded the spring assizes and the trial judge left the court room and returned to Toronto on the 5.15 train. The court was adjourned by the sheriff after the grand jury made its presentment, a copy of which was sent to Mr. Justice Riddell.

ALF SMITH TO LEAVE OTTAWA

Ottawa, April 9.—Ottawa is about to lose one of her most famous athletes. Alf. Smith, who is rated as one of the best five all-round men in the country, leaves at the end of this week, or first of next, for Chicago, where he will play lacrosse either there or in St. Paul this summer. Smith is now in communication with the management of clubs in both cities, but it will be two or three days yet, before he will be able to decide at which place he will stop. At the termination of the lacrosse season, Alf. will likely locate in Chicago for the winter, if the Windy City is represented in the new Northwestern Hockey League which is now under contemplation. Calumet, Houghton, the two Soos, and Chicago, being mentioned as the league's make-up. Smith has had an offer to manage and play with the Chicago team, and will probably remain there for good.

Storm King Held Sway Sunday

Earth Was Robed in Mantle of White in the Morning

Three citizens were coming down George street Monday morning, and as they walked along through the slush the following conversation ensued;—

"Nasty walking," said No. 1.

"Concern this Canadian weather," said No. 2. "One never knows what to expect next."

"Wrong entirely," said No. 3. "This snow was just what we wanted. The dust on the streets last week was bad, very bad, for the health of the community, and, as the watering carts were not doing their duty, higher powers took the matter in hand and settled the dust most effectively."

There are several ways to look at it, but Sunday night's snow storm has certainly made it very nasty out of doors. A cold and raw Sunday with an occasional flurry of snow, was followed Sunday night by a fall of about two inches of the 'beautiful." Yesterday morning did earth was clothed in a mantle of white, fresh and immaculate. However, it did not long retain its virgin purity, as there had been a rapid rise in the temperature and, melting soon set in. The result was very slushy streets yesterday morning, but the majority of the citizens got busy, with their shovels, and the pavements were cleaned. Although the roads will be in bad condition for a few days.

St. Paul's Church Congregation Met

And Elected Representatives to Presbytery Meeting This Week

At a largely attended congregational meeting of St. Paul's church held last evening, representatives were elected to appear before the Presbytery of Peterborough, at its special meeting in St. Andrew's church hall on Thursday next, in reference to matters relating to the resignation of Rev. Dr. Torrance. The office bearers of the church and several prominent members of the congregation were elected as representatives of the people to the Presbytery meeting. It is said that no objection will be offered to the resignation of Rev. Dr. Torrance, who has been for over 30 years pastor of St. Paul's church. It is likely, in view of his long and faithful services, that he will be given a substantial retiring allowance. However, the resignation will be first disposed of. Mr. J. C. Shook presided last night. There was considerable discussion on several matters, but the gathering was an interesting and harmonious one throughout. Many appreciative references were made last evening to the faithful, earnest and devoted work of the retiring pastor.

UNDER DRAINAGE

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—During the past two seasons the Department of Physics has been endeavoring to emphasize the importance of underdrainage, and arrangements have been made, whereby our services are available to anyone wishing advice in matters relating to drainage. We have full equipment for drainage survey work, and when requested will visit a man's place, survey his land, give him a map shewing elevations of all parts surveyed, together with location of drains, their grade, depth, etc. There is no charge made for this work, except the travelling expenses of one man, consisting of railway fare, meals and cartage of instruments. These expenses are very light, as arrangements have been made with the railway companies, whereby we can travel at one cent. a mile each way, i.e., a man living fifty miles from Guelph would have an outlay of $1.00 for railway fare, and 25 or 50 cents for cartage; one living one hundred miles away, an outlay of $2.00 for railway fare, and 25 or 50 cents for cartage, and so on.

Last year, together with others, you were kind enough to make announcement of this plan and many applications for assistance, either by way of information or surveys resulted therefrom. I beg to thank you for your past kindness and to ask if you will again make mention of the work.

Yours very truly,
WM. H. DAY,
Lecturer in Physics.

Fall Wheat Will be Good Yield

Young Man Loses Three Fingers —Direct Mail Service This Week

Special to the Review.

Springville, April 9.—Although the weather has been somewhat unfavorable, it is expected that the fall wheat sowed will come through all right and produce a good yield. Considerable was sowed last fall in North Monaghan and Cavan townships. Clover is also looking well and the ground has not begun to heave in any places. The fall of snow; after the extremely cold weather of Saturday, has helped matters materially.

HAND INJURED.

Mr. John Cathcart, who is employed with Mr. James Mitchell, who operates a portable saw mill, at Cavanville met with a painful accident last week. He was clearing some sawdust away from under the saw, when his right hand accidentally came in contact with the rapidly revolving saw. The result was that he had three fingers of the hand partially severed.

MAIL DELIVERY.

The residents of this village expect that the daily delivery of mail by C.P.R., instead of via Fraserville go into effect this week. The change will be a decided improvement and convenience, and enable the residents to get their daily papers on the same that they are issued.

FARM HELP.

There is a great scarcity of farm help here. A number of able bodied young men would not have the slightest difficulty in obtaining employment for the summer at good wages.

VISITORS IN VILLAGE.

Rev. M. E. Wilson of Dunsford, Ont., was in the city on Sunday, the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Wilson. Rev. Mr. Wilson was on his way to Norham, to conduct the funeral of an old parishioner, Mr. Blair, who passed away last week, aged 94 years.

Annual Meeting to be in Picton

The Auxiliaries of the Bay of Quinte Branch of the Woman's Missionary Society are notified that the annual meeting will be held in Picton instead of Lindsay, as at first arranged. Delegates should be elected at once, and their names forwarded, as soon as possible, to the secretary of the billeting committee Mrs. B. F. Aylesworth, Picton, also to Mrs. A. W. Grange, Napanee. Further particulars will be given later.—Belleville Intelligencer.

ALLEGED FORGERY CASE DISMISSED

Geo. Hearns, of Coe Hill, was before the Magistrate on Monday on a rather serious charge, namely, forgery, says the Bancroft Times. The complainant was Benjamin Bird who alleged that Hearns had forged his name to a note for $300. The evidence went to prove that Bird had authorized Hearns to sign his name to the note, which was, of course irregular, and had subsequently laid the charge, thinking that he would be called upon for payment of the note. The case was dismissed.

BIGAMIST RUNS AWAY FROM JUSTICE

The Bancroft Times says;

Jas Hawley is now a fugitive from justice. When he was called on Thursday morning last to answer to the charges of bigamy and perjury, the Crown had no evidence to offer and the case was enlarged until the following morning at ten o'clock. Hawley, who had already spent considerable time in the lock-up, was given his liberty on his own recognizance to appear at the proper time. However, he took advantage of the opportunity and he "flew his kite." He will not likely be seen around here for some time.

PETERBORO' MAN WON GREAT RACE.

Arthur Burn Captured the Marathon Contest at Seattle.

Word has just been received in Peterborough that Art Burn, the well known distance sprinter, formerly of this city, won the Marathon road race at Seattle, Washington on Wednesday last. Burn raced under the colors of the Y.M.C.A. of Calgary. Accounts say the road was very heavy and Burn's time was 39.26. The race was to have been eight miles, but evidently that distance was not covered, as the world's record is a minute greater than Burn's time. Chandler, the champion of Vancouver, was second and Spangler, of Seattle, third. Burn went from here to Ottawa about two years ago. He left Ottawa several months since and has won laurels in every event he has competed.

Pressing Needlework.

Many handsome, heavily embroidered pieces cannot be dampened or made wet. In such cases lay the piece, inverted, over several thicknesses of a dampened white cloth. In short, the ironing board is dampened instead of the piece. The depth of soft folds allows the raised parts to sink in, so that when the pressing is done they stand out well.

A Dishwashing Hint.

In washing vessels which have been used to prepare eggs in any way or to hold batter of any kind of dough allow a cold water spigot to run upon them first. Hot water cooks the eggs and stiffens the floury pastes, making it doubly difficult to clean the pot, pan or kettle in question.

Ex-President Assassinated.

City of Mexico, April 9.—Gen. Manuel Lisandro Bassillas, former president of Guatemala, was assassinated Sunday evening in Calle Seminiarro as he sat in a street car.

The car stopped and a young man about 17 years of age climbed aboard, and rushing at the general stabbed him twice, the first blow severing the jugular vein, the second cutting his face He died instantly.

The assassin gave his name as Yose Estrada and his home as Ocos, Guatemala.

Laurier May Preside.

London, April 9.—(C. A. P.)—The Standard says it is felt that Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman should take the chair at the colonial conference, but if he is unable, the responsibility should naturally, by virtue of seniority, devolve upon Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

Upon this proposition there is entire unanimity of opinion.

UNTRUE REPORTS

For reasons well known to themselves and others, a number of politicians belonging to the "followers" have been circulating reports to the effect that certain prominent Conservatives sent apologies for their conduct respecting the late banquet, to the chief persons concerned. Such reports as these are hardly worth correcting, since it is customary with some people to try and gain their ends by one way when they do not succeed in another. However, the Review is able to give rumors an explicit and unqualified denial, which we hope will do until some new phase of the situation arises.

THE BOARD OF TRADE

The adjourned annual meeting of the Board of Trade will be held this evening for the election of officers.

It is important that there should be a large attendance. There are eighty-five members of the Board but less than one-quarter of them are in the habit of turning out at the regular or special meetings.

There is no valid reason why a larger percentage of representatives should not be present. At the last meeting there was a conspicuous absence of business men. Now the Board does not exert its functions and usefulness on behalf of any particular class, but represents all the varied interests of the community. The Board of Trade should be a greater factor in the expansion of Peterborough than it is today. As the retiring president remarked: — "we are evidently too prosperous just now to feel the need of a Board of Trade." "If Peterborough had to hustle like some other towns," he added, "the Board of Trade would be a much more aggressive and wideawake institution." There is much truth in this assertion. When everything is going smoothly we all seldom appreciate the advantage or blessing of what we possess, but when things go wrong, then we often realize the convenience and help of that which formerly we were disposed to think lightly of. The Board of Trade in Peterborough could do much more than it has for the welfare and advancement of the city. Its members should take a deeper interest in civic problems and seek to attend the meetings more regularly.

Let there be a full representation at the gathering this evening and earnest, active, officers elected.

Every member should be in attendance and show by his presence his interest and sympathy with the Board. The member who pays his annual fee and never takes part in the discussion of public measures, but stands aloof, content with the thought that he is a member is of very little use to the institution.

Attend the meeting tonight and demonstrate that you are alive to the affairs of Peterborough, and the Board of Trade.

HARNESSING THE WIND

Sweden has been not inaptly compared to Ontario. There are several features in the make-up of the two countries which are similar. These are, both have little or no coal, they have extensive iron deposits, vast resources in the shape of water power and in both, agriculture is the principal industry.

The Swede, impressed with the advantage they have in their water powers, have set to work earnestly in their development. It is estimated that in a short time they will be using one and a half million horsepower in the form of electrical energy, of which nearly one-third will be applied to the operation of railways and one-seventh to iron and steel smelting. A public institution in the south of Sweden has erected a station, provided with wind-mills, which develop power for plowing, reaping, threshing and the operation of the dairy. When there is plenty of wind, the power required, is developed by means of wind, transformed into electrical energy, and in this way, applied to the farm operations named. When the wind is strong, and the power is not required, the energy is stored in accumulators; if the wind and reserve storage both fail to supply demands when these arise, the nearest power station deriving its energy from water falls, is drawn upon to make up the deficiency. In this way an abundant supply is always available for purposes required.

In the extent to which it has developed its water service and in the use made of wind as a supplementary form of energy, the Swedes are clearly in advance of the people of this province.

CRIME OF REBATING

Montreal Witness.

In the report of the recent insurance commission the commissioners seem under the influence of a very clever prosecuting attorney, who had nothing to do but find fault, to regard every act of the insurance companies as a fraud and a crime; but of all the practices of those wicked people the worst in the eyes of those sages is that of rebating. When a housewife buys a string of articles from a grocer and he remits some part of the price on account of the largeness of the parcel, or because she is a good customer she does not count him a villain for so doing. If a real estate agent gets an order to buy a half-million property nobody but his fellows in the craft will quarrel with him if he bates something of his commission on such a dead easy transaction. So if an insurance agent writes a twenty thousand dollar policy he can well afford to divide his commmission with the insured, as it costs him no more work, probably much less, to get that than it does to get someone else insured for a thousand. Of course the man who is limited to the smaller policy regards this as a great wrong to him, and the insurance agent has greatly helped him to think so. That worthy does not appeal to his cupidity, but to his generosity. He invokes his unselfish interest in those dear to him, and bids him save and squeeze to do them good. He sets forth his own work as a great mission of benefaction and moral uplifting. In that view the poorer man cannot see why he should pay proportionately the higher premium, just as he pays proportionately higher for his stock than the wholesale man pays for his. Regarded, however, simply as a wholesale business transaction, it is difficult for any one but the insurance craft to see any wrong in it. With them it is, of course, reprehensible. They say that if the practice is permitted it necessarily becomes general and goes on till it becomes a charge on the business, seeing that agents, deprived by degrees of their profit, will need to demand more remuneration. It is a bad policy, no doubt, and all insurance companies are bitterly opposed to it. They all wish it put down. The sages aforesaid have been so much among the wicked insurance men of late that they have come to believe that the one thing that those men all agreed to deprecate and denounce must be heinous indeed.

Our contemporary, the London Advertiser, whose article in another column has been sent us marked, draws attention to this and to the way the commissioners recommend parliament to deal with it, which certainly has a Gilbert and Sullivan humor about it. The commissioners do not believe that the punishment of the immediate parties to the rebating will have any effect at all, "as such penalties do not interest the directors." It is, therefore, the directors who must be punished—the very persons who naturally most wish to see the practice put down. If any informer can convict any agent of a company of rebating he is to be able to collect a thousand dollars fine from each of the directors of the company in question, whether these directors knew anything about the transaction or not, half of which thousand dollars goes to the informer. We have looked the matter up, and find this is actually proposed in the commission's report. So that any agent who finds it hard to make money has only to give a rebate, and in some companies collect some ten thousand dollars for his own share. No doubt this is, in the eyes of the commissioners, a very small punishment of the directors for all their crimes. Some of the big United States companies have, or did have, directorates of fifty or sixty, and would have been fine foraging; but how this law is going to be carried out in their case does not appear, seeing that the directors of foreign companies are not amenable to Canadian law. As far as the commissioners' recommendation goes, those companies can rebate at their pleasure and cut under the Canadian companies. It is, however, no laughing matter that a commission, appointed in the name of the King, should find nothing good whatever to say about those connected with one of our most important business interests, men supposed to be selected largely on the ground of their good reputation, and who certainly enjoy as good reputation as those in any other business. It seems pitiful that they had to fill their report exclusively with criminations and innuendoes, although as far, at least, as regards the principal companies, there was in the abundant newspaper reports, which we followed with some care, no evidence of any injury done to the policyholders. It is a pity, we say, that such a damnatory document should go upon record, as the only reasonable deduction from it is that all the business men of the country are untrustworthy.

Safest Medicine for Women's Complaints

Women certainly do neglect themselves. They work too hard—over-tax their strength—and then wonder why they suffer with diseases peculiar to their sex.

ADVERTISING STUDENT WINS PRIZE

Student of the International Correspondence Schools Awarded First Prize of $100 in Contest in Which 12,000 People Participates.

In the advertising contest of the Peters Milk Chocolate Company, in which more than 12,000 took part, the first prize of $100 was awarded to E. D. Williams, Nutley, N.J., a student of the International Correspondence Schools. The company sending Mr Williams the prize check stated that the judges of the consest—the heads of the two publishing houses and an advertising expert—were unanimous in awarding the prize to him for his masterly analysis of the advertisements that formed the basis of the contest.

This is merely one of a thousand instances that go to show the wonderful work of the International Correspondence Schools, of Scranton, Pa. Started fifteen years ago with a single course prepared to enable the miners of Pennsylvania to pass the state examinations the Schools now offer more than 200 courses of instruction, covering positions in all of the best known trades and professions. The great sum of one million dollars has been expended in the preparation of special home-study text books. That the I.C.S. system of training by mail is now practically perfect is shown by the fact that in nearly every large industrial concern, and in practically every town and city of the United States and Canada, there are persons that have risen to high-salaried, responsible positions by devoting spare hours to one of the I.C.S. Courses.

Mr R. C. Balfour, Box 90, Peterborough, who represents the International Correspondence Schools in this district, will be glad to send to any one interested full information regarding any of the School's courses.

Calgary Secures Mail Delivery

A Calgary despatch says;

George Ross, superintendent of the Post Office Department of Canada, has been in the city making preparations for the installation of a street delivery system. In an interview he stated that the delivery would begin as soon as it could be organized, which might mean in the course of a week.

It is thought that seven or eight men will be required at first, but that the number will be increased as the city expands. The routes are being framed up. It is the intention to have two deliveries down town each day and one in the outlying portions of the city.

"What about wage increases for postal clerks in the West?" Mr. Ross was asked.

Mr Ross had nothing to say further than that he believed that there would be a satisfactory solution at a very early date, and that something would be done that would satisfy all concerned.

James Robertson Co.'s warehouse on Pacific avenue, Winnipeg, suffered from fire to the extent of $70,000.

Grand Jury Recommends New Bath and Sink in the Gaol

All Charitable Institutions Found in Excellent Condition—Congratulations Extended to Mr. Justice Riddell—Wm. Hales Chosen Foreman.

In making its presentment to His Lordship Mr. Justice Riddell, the Grand Jury congratulated him upon his elevation to the bench, and expressed the sincere hope that his brilliant career at the bar would be rounded out by many years of distinguished service as a member of the judiciary of the province.

The Grand Jury, of which Mr Wm Hales reeve of Chandos, was foreman, examined the county gaol and all the charitable institutions in the city. They report having found everything in splendid order. The only recommendation was that a new bath and sink be placed in the gaol.

The personnel of the Grand Jury was as follows;

Wm Hales, reeve of Chandos, foreman.
J J Hannah, Smith.
J A. Fowler, Smith.
J. Finnie, Peterborough.
M McFadden, Peterborough.
T. Q. Quartermaine, Peterborough
T. J. Johnston, Otonabee.

THE PRESENTMENT.

Peterborough, April 9, 1907.

To His Lordship Mr. Justice Riddell

The Grand Jury of the County of Peterborough beg to make the following presentment;

We beg to extend to you our congratulations upon the occasion of your elevation to the High Court Bench of this Province.

Your frequent attendances at the Assize Courts of this County in past years, in many important cases, have caused us to feel a more than general interest in your appointment, and we trust that your brilliant career at the bar, will be rounded out by many years of distinguished service as a member of the Judiciary of this great Province.

We are very pleased that no criminal matters whatever have, on this occasion, to come before the Grand Jury for consideration, and trust that Grand Juries of the County in the future may frequently have an opportunity to note the absence from crime which the County enjoys.

We are very pleased to note that a House of Refuge for the care of the old and infirm has been erected and opened recently by the County of Peterborough. We would recommend that arrangements be made by the City of Peterborough, with the County, for the care, in such institution, of the old and infirm of the city. At present there are confined in the county gaol several who should properly be inmates of such an institution.

We have visited the public institutions situated in the city, namely, the County Jail, the Nicholls and St. Joseph's hospitals, House of Providence and the Protestant Home. We would recommend that a new bath and sink be placed in the County Jail, but apart from this we have found all the institutions clean and well kept, and the sanitary arrangements satisfactory, and in the hospitals and the Home, above mentioned, we found all the inmates apparently comfortable and well satisfied with their surroundings.

Respectfully submitted,
W.M. HALES,
Foreman.

Little Notes of Interest to Military Men and Others

As a result of the erection of the new Collegiate Institute in the Central Park, the 57th Regiment will have to make a slight change in their parade grounds. The building will be located on part of the ground where the regiment is accustomed to drill, but now the soldiers will have to move further up in the direction of George street. The building of the Institute will cause the part of the park where it will be built to be broken up to a considerable extent and it will be necessary to steer clear of there for some time.

However, there is still plenty of land left for parade grounds, and the space in the more easterly part of the park, is just as good as the old drilling grounds in the rear. The only drawback is the trees, but there are not many of these.

The regiment will have its second drill of the season tonight, and it is expected there will be a big turnout. Owing to the wet condition of the park, it is likely that the evening will be spent largely with work in the hall.

The examination for non-coms. certificates will also be completed tonight. It was impossible to finish up the last night, and so they will be finished this evening. Major. Clegg and Capt. Bennett are the examining officers.

The regimental trip for 1907 will in all probability be decided on at a meeting of the officers tonight. Invitations have been received from several places and these will be considered. There was a rumor some time ago, that the regimental trip might be dispensed with this year, as it was desired to accumulate more funds and take a longer jaunt in 1908, but it is expected that the same custom as in past years will be followed, and that a trip will be taken this year as usual. It is found that it has a great deal to do with keeping up the standard of the regiment as every man in the corp likes to see it looking its best, when an outside town or city is visited. Without the annual trip, it would be hard to keep up the interest and get the men to turn out to drill regularly.

Nothing further has been heard from Ottawa regarding the rifle ranges for the local regiment. It is hoped that something will be done immediately, as the shooting season will soon be here, and there are many in the regiment who are experts with the rifle, and many others who would like to acquire proficiency in the art of shooting.

The small boy is anxiously awaiting for the first "march-out." It is a great event for him, and for many elders too. It is not likely that there will be one until early in May.

Mrs Dugas, wife of Hon. Judge Dugas, of Dawson City, died in Montreal of pneumonia.

Wm Simpson, the Quebec man who shot his two children and then attempted to take his own life will recover.

WHAT ABOUT A CITY LEAGUE?

Something Should be Done Toward Organizing One

It is time something should be done towards the organization of a city baseball league. Apparently the Guild League, which has done good service in fostering the game in the past, is down and out, and unless something is done to organize a city league, there will ~~not~~ be much doing in intermediate baseball circles this summer. Three teams at least, are available, Charlotte Street, Strathconas and Shamrocks, and it is not unlikely that a fourth team would enter if the league was formed. The only thing that appears to be in the way is the lack of suitable grounds. With the two lacrosse teams, the Peterborough Baseball team, and the Quaker Football team all using Riverside Park, it would be exceedingly difficult to arrange for city league baseball games there. The matches would have to be played in the afternoon, as experience has shown in the past that games played in the evening, are not satisfactory.

However, it is worth while making the effort to see what can be done.

FOOTBALL

WILL DRAW UP SCHEDULE

The schedule of games for the season will be drawn up at a meeting of the Midland Football League at the Y.M.C.A. on Saturday, April 20th. It is not yet known how many teams will be entered, but it is expected that there will be at least as many as last year. Communications addressed to J. E. Sullivan, Peterborough, will be carefully considered.

BASEBALL

PROTECTION FOR UMPIRES.

The downtrodden umpire is to have a 'fair shake' in one city at least in the Eastern League. Newark is their city of refuge, and while there they can dispense justice, without fear of intervention by the crowd. The much abused arbiter of plays will have a squad of eighteen of the finest, whose duty it will be to protect him from the wrath and pop bottles of the spectators. Should opposition become so marked as to cause a flood of humanity on the field, a flying wedge will be formed, and with the indicator handler in the centre, make a dash for safety. James J. Sullivan, for four years, a special officer at the ball grounds, has been appointed chief of the umpire's safety guard by Chief of Police Adams, through the recommendation of Captain Corbitt of the Third Precinct, and Manager Burnham. These seventeen picked men, under Chief Sullivan, all possessed with dauntless courage, and with billies tightly gripped, will make an umpire's sojourn in Newark seem like one long, delightful visit, to the land of better things.

MEETING POSTPONED

It has been found necessary to postpone the organization of the Strathcona Baseball Club until tomorrow night, when it will be held at eight o'clock in the Windsor Hotel parlors. A large turnout of those interested is requested.

BOWLING

OUTSIDERS AGAIN.

And now poor old Toronto can't even win a prize in a bowling tournament. The bulk of the prizes in the recent C. B. A. tourney at the Queen City, went to outsiders. All the silverware and coin that remained in Toronto could be put in one's eye. What's the matter with Toronto anyhow? There is something wrong when a city its size cannot hold its own with its much smaller rivals. Perhaps it is in the air. But since time immemorial Toronto has always been strong on the production of the hot atmosphere.

LAWN BOWLING

THE CANADA CLUB'S ANNUAL

The ninth annual meeting of the Canada Lawn Bowling Club was held on Saturday evening in the banqueting hall of Ashlar Lodge, Toronto, and brought out a large attendance, the prospects for the coming season being very bright. The reports of the treasurer and the secretary showed the past season to have been a most successful one. The election of officers resulted as follows; President, Mr. M. Rawlinson; First Vice President, Mr C. T Pearce; Second Vice President, Mr. R. Greenwood; Treasurer, Mr. J H Mackenzie; Secretary, Mr. Gordon Brown; Executive Committee, Messrs. A. S. Wigmore, F. H. Ross, W. A. Strowger, T. A. Reid, and W. T. Chambers; Auditors, Mr. A. J. Rattray and Mr. Curran Morrison. A resolution was passed that Past Presidents become members of the Executive ex-officio for a term of five years. It was also decided that the club affiliate with the Scottish Bowling Association. Prizes were presented to the winning rinks in the club tournament, held early in the year. Mr. Doherty's and Mr. Greenwood's rinks were the prize winners.

BASKETBALL

GAMES AND BANQUET.

The last game in the Y. M. C. A. Spring Basketball League will be played Wednesday night at eight o'clock in the gym, when Dobbin and Laing, who are now tied for first place, will meet in the deciding game. This should be a great contest, as the teams are evenly matched and both will do their best to carry off the championship. After the game there will be a banquet upstairs for the senior basketball men. If there are any who have been overlooked in the matter of invitations, they are asked to come any way as all the senior players this year are cordially invited by the basketball committee. No admission is charged to see the game. Everybody welcome.

CRICKET

MEETING TO-NIGHT.

A meeting of the Cricket Club will be held at the Y.M.C.A. to-night at 8 o'clock. All members are asked to be present, as business of importance will be transacted.

Tournament for Local Bowlers

At the Majestic Alleys on April 25, 26 and 27th.

A bowling tournament will be held at the Majestic alleys on Water street on Thursday Friday and Saturday, April, 25, 26 and 27th. It is proposed to have five and two men and individual competitions. The entrance fee will be $1.00 and all entries must be in by April 20th. The money secured from the entrance fees will be used for paying the prizes, the amount of which will depend upon the number of entries. A strong committee is in charge of the arrangements and a most successful event is assured.

The success of the Peterborough bowlers at the O.B.A. tournament in Toronto has aroused much interest in the game of balls and pins here and it is expected that there will be a large number of entries.

Billy Breen who has arranged the match, is also securing several other good ones in the wrestling and boxing game to appear, and another evening of fine sport is expected.

New Elevators For Grand Trunk

Will Cost Over a Million Dollars Each and Hold 2,500,000 Bushels of Grain

Montreal, April, 8.—The Grand Trunk Pacific has decided to construct forthwith two two and one-half million bushel elevators, one at Fort William and the other at Tiffin. These two structures, each of which will require an expenditure of over a million dollars, will, it is hoped, be built in time to be ready for the storage of grain when the lake navigation closes next winter.

Mr. J. S. Metcalfe, the well-known expert of Chicago, is here to-day in consultation with Mr. Morse and the Grand Trunk Pacific, with regard to the details of the elevators which will be of the best modern types in use at lake ports.

Car Crashed Through Gate

Slight Accident on Charlotte Street To-day

The gate on the east side of the G.T.R. track, Charlotte st. was broken this afternoon by a street car running into it. The gate was down when the car came along and did not slow up in time. It crashed through the gate, but was soon brought to a standstill. Repairs to the gate were made this afternoon by the Radial Railway company's men.

A Great Surprise to Lord Aylmer

Does Not Recall Initialling Order-in-Council

Ottawa, April 8. — Lord Aylmer, who was seen today, respecting his retirement from the position of Inspector-General, refused to answer any questions. "I'm a soldier, you know," said he, "and soldiers do not discuss their superior officers or their order. I have been retired, that is all; I may regret the inactivity, that has been forced upon me, but orders are orders."

Pressed concerning the order-in-Council under which Sir Frederick Borden says he was appointed for a limited time, and which he initialled, Lord Aylmer said: "I am informed that I did initial such an order-in-Council, but I do not remember it. A large number of orders have passed through my hands for initialling, but many of them were of a perfunctory nature. I must have initialled this one in that way and gave it no consideration at all. Certainly the question of limiting the length of my appointment was not discussed by me with anyone, and the notification of my retirement, which was given to me on March 31, came as a complete surprise."

Every nook and corner of the rink will be cleaned each day and the floor will be kept dustless by some special device of the professor's. The skaters will not in the future be bothered with dust. It is a forty mile drive to where Mr. Chalmers was going and needless to say he did not look forward to his long trip through the mud and slush, with much pleasure. However, duty must be done, and the prospect did not seem to dampen Mr Chalmers' spirits.

Great Famine in Central China

The ears of the people of Canada are ever open to the cry of the hungry. In recent years portions of India and Japan have been sorely stricken because of failure of crops, but in no case has the suffering been so great as that endured during the past winter by the ten million people in the famine-gripped region of middle China.

A committee representing various church organizations has been formed in Shanghai, and already considerable sums have gone forward. Yesterday from Mr. D. McGillivray, representing the committee, the Rev. Dr. John Somerville, treasurer of the Presbyterian church in Canada, whose offices are in the Confederation Life building, Toronto, received this letter, dated at Shanghai on March 11th.

"Many thanks for the enclosure, for famine relief. I at once forwarded it to the committee here, who are co-operating with the missionaries in the stricken area. The reports are not exaggerated. Thousands must die in any case. We greatly fear the missionaries will not stand the strain much longer. It is too terrible to live with the cries of the starving, night and day ringing in their ears. They need our prayers as much as the Chinese. Yours very cordially, D. McGillivray."

Dr Somerville will be glad to send forward at the earliest moment all moneys entrusted to him. Press despatches say that the need will continue for several months.

Instructions on How to be Vulgar

Some Good "Receipes"--A Real Problem in Life

Frank Richardson, in London Mail.

It is all right to be vulgar, if you are rich. Indeed, if you are not rich you may be as vulgar as you like, and people will not find it out.

As a matter of fact, it is almost impossible to be vulgar if you are poor. Vulgarity is the privilege of the rich. That is why it is now the fashion to be vulgar. No matter how rich you are you cannot be really vulgar without taking a little trouble. There are a large number of wealthy men who go to their graves without acquiring a vulgar appearance or performing a single vulgar act. Judging by the lack of aggression in their demeanor, they might be the mildest of curates.

This is a mistake. And they lose by it.

Who is it that secures the best tables at the restaurants? Who invariably gets a carriage reserved for his own use on his return from the continent to Folkstone? To whom do the sailors on the boat rush forward and offer to provide the best seats in the most sheltered position? To whom do the waiters in the club bring the latest edition of the evening paper? For whom does the steward arrange that the best cut of the Southdown mutton shall be reserved in the coffee room? Who gets shaved out of his turn in a barber's shop?

The answer to all these questions is, beyond doubt, the vulgar man.

His path through life is made easy for him. It is known that the vulgar man is generous. He is often vulgar even in his generosity. It may be that generosity itself is a branch of vulgarity.

To be vulgar without being rich is to obtain honor and glory by false pretences. It is a reprehensible thing to do. Still, even in the twentieth century we are not perfect. Here is a convenient receipe for people of moderate means, who desire to be considered vulgar;

(a) Be fat.

(b) If possible acquire a red face.

(c) Wear your hat slightly on one side. If you are a whole-hoger your hat may be white, with a black band.

(d) A red rose in the buttonhole is of great assistance.

There was a case of a man— a lord mayor, or, at any rate, a sheriff—who used to be photographed with a red rose stuck in the lapel of his astrakhan coat. But this is going too far.

(e) Do not forget to wear sponge-bag trousers, of a pronounced design. The nearer you get to a chess board, the better.

(f) White spats, either on black or brown boots, heighten the effect.

(g) Much may be said for the use of gold spectacles. But they should not be set with diamonds.

(h) If you want to be absolutely on the safe side, wear a set of whiskers. Any sort. Sideboards, face-fins, fungi, mutton-chops, earmuffs weepers, hold-alls, book-markers, let-us-prays, or ear-guards will do. The color and texture may be left to taste—if, indeed, taste has anything to do with the matter.

A great many people are vulgar by accident. They do not know they are vulgar. One is sorry for them. They can get no fun out of their vulgarity. No one ever tells them of their proud state—it is hard to understand why. You congratulate a man on looking well. You tell him that you are pleased to see him looking stouter or thinner, than when you saw him last, but you never go up to a friend, pat him on the back, and say heartily:

"My dear old chap, you're looking superbly vulgar today."

We are so thoughtless that we assume a man knows when he is looking vulgar. There are cases of men who are made up as vulgarians, and who behave as vulgarians, and who, strangely enough are not vulgar. I have a friend of this type. He is all gold. He has golden hair, a golden moustache, golden spectacles, golden eyeglasses, golden fittings of every sort. His cigar case, his cigarette case, his spectacle case, his eyeglass case are all of gold. A silver coin looks out of place in his hands. He would consider that the touch of a silver coin would bring him bad luck. Golden chains communicate from his trousers pockets to his braces. His motor is said to have a golden chassis. But this is probably a lie. He wears the latest clothes. His clothes are so late that they have not actually come in yet. He is so much in advance of the fashion that he looks completely unfashionable. However, taking into consideration his jewels, he must roughly be valued as he stands at about £780. So completely, apparently is the corner he has made in vulgarity that he does not need to wear whiskers.

Yet the man is not vulgar. I know this is a bad case. It is hard for me to prove, and I doubt whether you will take my word for it. But I have been honored with his acquaintance—nay, his friendship—for many years, and he has never uttered a vulgar thought nor performed a vulgar action. Technically, I suppose he is only a semi-vulgarian. Of course this man is void of ambition. If he were only to take just a little less trouble, he could reach a prominent position among vulgarias. He is perfectly content with things as they stand He has no worries and no troubles. Indeed, I feel convinced that if he were to sleep on a crumbled rose leaf he would require an operation for appendicitis.

When one looks around at the jovial, happy, healthy faces of vulgar men; when one reads of the vast sums they leave at their decease, one is astonished that the Art of Vulgarity is not taught in schools. If one has not inherited a certain proficiency from one's parents, one has to pick it up oneself.

The solution of the great problems of life, how to be healthy, how to procure the privileges of the wealthy, and a reputation for happiness and wisdom, is to be vulgar.

New Tenders Are Asked for

Heating and Wiring of New Collegiate Institute

It has been decided to call for new tenders for the heating and wiring of the new Collegiate Institute. This was decided on at a meeting of the committee last night, and the advertisements calling for new tenders have already been placed. It will be remembered that the Board did not award the tenders for the heating at the meeting last Thursday night, as they considered the figures were too high. The contract for the wiring was awarded to Mr. F. R. J. MacPherson, but he afterwards notified the Board that he had made a mistake in making out his tender and that the figure submitted was too low. He has refused to let the tender stand, and as a result new ones are asked for.

HAD TROUBLE WITH HIS HAY

A farmer from Otonabee, who brought a load of hay to the market to-day had a rather hard time of it. The load was apparently not built on scientific principles and upset while it was being turned around near the market scales. The top of the load slid off into the mud, and considerable inconvenience was experienced in getting it back to its place again.

Shanghai News Terrible Story

From Five to Ten Executions Daily--Rebels Will Not Give In

Vancouver, April 8.—The last issue of the Shanghai Daily News states that troops have been sent to the northeastern corner of Hunan. A missionary writing from that district paints a terrible picture of the state of affairs; He says;

"This place is now being washed in blood. Every day from five to ten heads come off in the city. The troops are quartered in the various parishes, and every family is being questioned and searched. All who can be shown to have joined the secret society, Hseipeijwog, are doomed. Orders for extermination of the society are being rigorously carried out. The work is distasteful to many of the officers and soldiers. Most of them take a gloomy view of the future. The rebels to a man—I mean those of them that have been decapitated—went to their deaths confident that they would soon be avenged. I find a sullen, dogged sort of temper manifested on all sides. It bodes no good.

"The hottest fight took place only half a mile from here. A bridge at the end of the street was the scene, and for over twenty hours a howling mob faced the fire of the troops. At the commencement only a handful of soldiers guarded the bridge, and the mob was not so large as it ultimately became. Things were queer for some, and the city was deserted. At the finish all fled except our own people. At the south gate a body of troops was surrounded by thousands of rebels. The troops had only a few rounds of ball, and for several hours they maintained a fight made up of bayonet charges. The rebels did not know of the shortage of ammunition, or it would have gone hard with the soldiers."

FIRE! FIRE! FIRE!

SCOTT'S COLLOSEUM
432 GEORGE ST.

Programme for Week Commencing April 8

THE GREAT TORONTO FIRE

Only those who actually saw the great fire of Toronto, can adequately appreciate the realism of the moving pictures shown in the Colloseum by Mr. Scott and his associates. The clang of the fire bells, the rush and hurry, the terror and grandeur of the awful conflagration are marvellously brought out. The rescue work of the firemen, the rush of the crowds, fighting the flames and dynamiting the dangerous walls are depicted with a realism almost incredible.

The continuous performances take place every afternoon and evening from 2 to 5 and 7 to 10 p.m. and furnish a refined entertainment for both small and great. Ladies are especially invited to the afternoon performances. Beautiful illustrated songs

CITY TREASURER'S OFFICE FLOOR

In a Bad State of Repair—Property Committee Asked to Look at it.

The property committee will have another matter to consider in connection with the alterations to the city hall after the fire brigade goes out. The floor in the city treasurer's office is badly in need of repair. If it was not for the linoleum over it, the city treasurer would hardly know whether he was in his office or in the basement. An entirely new floor should be put in. Probably the property committee has plans for extensive alterations to the building and the city treasurer may have a new office.

Attendance Was Most Gratifying

Successful Function of All Saints' Ladies' Auxiliary

The "At Home" held at the residence of Mrs. A. Gilbert, 270 Sherbrooke street last night, proved to be a very delightful event. It was in aid of the Women's Auxiliary of All Saints' church and was largely attended. Not only was it successful from a social standpoint, but the offerings received from guest resulted in a fairly large total.

Mrs. Gilbert, assisted by Mrs. Buller, Mrs. Blois and Mrs. Firth, received the guests.

The evening was pleasantly spent in songs and music. Vocal and piano selections were rendered by Mrs Devey and the Misses Hunter, M. Gilbert and M. Hooper and Mr Devey.

Dainty refreshments were served and everyone expressed their delight with the enjoyable entertainment that was provided. Rev. Mr. Major and Mrs. Major were present.

The ladies are more than pleased with the success of the At Home.

Bonus System is Scored In the House at Ottawa

Lavergne Condemns Plan of Paying For Immigrants.

Dangers of Foreign Settlement—Not Enough Agriculturists Are Coming—"Worse Than Sikhs"—Country Sick of Secret Contracts Says Bourassa—Time to Abolish the Bonus—Would Admit Exiled Priests.

Ottawa, April 10.—In anticipation of Mr. Foster's promised deliverance upon the insurance commission's report, the galleries of the House were crowded at both afternoon and evening sittings yesterday. Mr. Foster's effort was, however, sidetracked by a discussion upon immigration, brought on by a resolution moved by Armand Lavergne, condemning the bonus system. A certain piquancy was imparted by the fact that the resolution was framed of a couple of sentences from speeches delivered in the House by Mr. Oliver three or four years ago, when he condemned the quality of immigration being brought into the Northwest under the bonus system, and, as Mr. Lavergne's resolution was moved as an amendment to the motion to go into supply, Mr. Oliver, as Minister of the Interior, was bound to oppose it.

The debate was closed by Dr. Sproule, and the Lavergne amendment declared lost on division.

Mr. Foster will be heard this afternoon, when the vote for the insurance commission comes up for discussion.

The steamship companies, Mr. Lavergne said, did not care whom they brought, so long as they got the bonus; whereas, immigration should be encouraged from the British Isles and from France and Belgium.

Mr. Lavergne argued that, in ten years, at the present rate, Canada will hold a foreign population of 5,000,000 out of a total of 11,000,000.

Asked by Col. Sam Hughes if he would favor the immigration of priests exiled by order of the French Government, Mr. Lavergne replied that, at any rate, they would be better than Galicians or Cockneys, who were worse than Sikhs.

Look to Britain.

The Minister of Interior declared that the Government did not encourage any but agricultural immigrants. Under present conditions, a dollar spent in Great Britain would bring more results than a dollar spent in France or Germany.

"Without comparing one immigrant with another," said Mr. Oliver, "surely in this British country it is fair to say that, all things being equal, we look to the British immigrant as the most desirable immigrant." He accused Mr. Lavergne of having made a speech which was calculated to set section against section, race against race, creed against creed.

Mr. Bourassa replied that the Minister had endeavored to evade the issue raised by Mr. Lavergne. He had not denied effectively that the Government still paid bonuses, nor that there was a contract with the North Atlantic Trading Company.

The Minister described it as a "tacit" contract.

"Sir," declared Mr. Bourassa, "the people of Canada are sick of tacit contracts and secret contracts."

The Peril of the West.

Mr. Bourassa denounced the policy by which the Government permitted railway companies to discriminate against people from Ontario and Quebec, desiring to settle in the Northwest, and in favor of the imported Galician or the Doukhobor. In 30 years the Canadian Parliament would be controlled by a majority from the west, four-fifths of whom were foreign born. He saw grave danger to the stability of the Canadian union in the influx of Americans into the Northwest.

Mr. Lemieux urged that Canada should open the gates to all desirable classes of immigrants. He gave a most strenuous denial to the report which he said was being disseminated by a section of Quebec, namely, that the Government did not encourage immigration from old France. But the fact was the French do not emigrate, never did to any extent.

Time to Abolish Bonuses.

R. L. Borden observed that it was not so much a matter of paying bonuses as the manner in which the bonuses were paid that mattered. It might be possible to get as good emigrants with as without bonuses, and for that reason he would not support the motion. The abolition of bonuses would retard immigration from the British Isles, while his own opinion was that the bonus system should be confined to the United Kingdom.

Mr. Fisher denied the accusation of Mr. Lavergne that Commissioner Hutchesson at the Liege exhibition had ordered Quebec literature to be relegated to the cellar. He said the policy of the department was to distribute at exhibitions only Dominion literature, and this dealt with all provinces equally.

The Government's policy was to condone land speculation and to encourage settlement only in those parts of the country where their political friends held lands for speculative purposes.

PENSION BILL PASSES.

Senator Ferguson Fails In Effort to Regulate G. T. R. Fund.

Ottawa, April 10.—In the Senate yesterday Sir Mackenzie Bowell resumed the debate on Senator Ferguson's motion to amend the Grand Trunk pension bill by providing that the company cannot ask employes to waive rights to damages for injury or death in the company's service. Sir Mackenzie said the Grand Trunk was going to furnish all the money and should be given the right to make regulations.

Senator G. W. Ross stated that apparently the Grand Trunk wanted to be able to do something generous for its employes. It hardly seemed necessary to charge them with a sinister purpose.

Senator Lougheed said the employes of the Grand Trunk had apparently not asked for the amendment.

Senator Sullivan thought there was no harm in making assurance doubly sure. The bill proposed to give the company power to make rules, regulations and bylaws, and this power might easily be used by some future management of the company to the disadvantage of the employes.

Senator McMullen saw no reason to doubt the good intention of the Grand Trunk. Senator Bernier offered an amendment to the amendment declaring that nothing in the bill should take away any right the employes had at the present time. Senator Ferguson offered to withdraw his amendment if the Government would accept this.

Senator Cloran said he had consulted the Minister of Justice about the bill, and thought the protective clause should be put in.

Senator Bernier's amendment was rejected by 27 to 18, and Senator Ferguson's amendment was declared lost on division. The bill was given its third reading and passed.

Bills Passed.

The following bills were passed: Respecting the Hamilton Radial Electric Railway Co.; for the relief of Arthur Leo McPherson; to regulate the exportation of electric power and certain liquids and gases; and respecting the Canadian Northern Ontario Railway Co.

LONDON SURPRISED AT TREATY.

Appointment of Commission to Consider Boundaries Causes Surprise.

London, April 10.—The statement cabled from Washington that an Anglo-American treaty has been drafted, providing for the appointment of a joint commission to consider the boundaries and fisheries question between the United States and Canada has caused much surprise in official circles here.

True Just the Same.

Washington, April 10.—It is stated here the probably lack of advices upon recent developments in the exchanges that have occurred between America and Great Britain relative to the settlement of the questions between the United States and Canada accounts for the above statement from Londin. While the agreement reported is not quite as comprehensive as was at first supposed, it is now authoritatively stated that negotiations have been formally conducted with the result of reaching a basis for a treaty that shall provide means with settlement of all questions relating to the fresh water fisheries and control of the international waters and streams.

HILL'S LINES IN CANADA.

Mileage Will Equal That of the Great Northern In the States.

Winnipeg, April 10.—President Louis Hill of the Great Northern Railway Co., says:

"The Great Northern system is endeavoring to secure mammoth terminals in Chicago, Minneapolis and Winnipeg. We have already secured all the land necessary for handling business for years to come in Portland and Seattle. If our Canadian plans do not miscarry I expect, within the next ten years, to have a railroad system there which will be almost an equivalent of the Great Northern system as it is to-day in the United States."

Further, he said the Great Northern will touch Winnipeg, Brandon, Regina, Calgary, Edmonton, probably Prince Albert, and may traverse the Peace River country with a line several hundred miles further north than any Canadian line.

WOOD FAMINE IN WINNIPEG.

Impossible to Get Fuel—Snow in Bush to Blame.

Winnipeg, April 10.—Winnipeggers are confronted with just as great a shortage of fuel wood as at any time during the serious shortage which prevailed during the winter.

The supply of cordwood in Winnipeg to-day is practically nil, and those who are in need of this commodity will have to use coal in its place.

One of the principal causes of the present famine has been the abnormal depth of snow in the bush all winter, preventing operations of any kind. Coupled with this is the partially crippled condition of the railroads.

Frozen to Death.

Regina, Sask., April 10.—Adolph Stadel, a farmer from Bethune, has been found dead in his shack.

Stadel was supposed to have left for Germany last December. It now appears that he went to spend a last night in his shack and was frozen to death.

Man's Face Blown In.

Rochester, N. Y., April 10.—As the result of an explosion yesterday morning of a barrel of oil of tar, in the cellar of Blau & Barnum, wholesale druggists, John Schleifer, an employe, had his face literally blown in and died soon afterwards.

Insane Hospital Burned.

Norristown, Pa., April 10.—The eleventh section of the State Hospital for the Insane was destroyed by fire Monday night, entailing a loss estimated at $50,000. The building was occupied by 230 feeble-minded persons.

Jumped Overboard.

St. John, N. B., April 10.—The C. P. R. steamer Lake Champlain arrived last night from Liverpool with 1,400 passengers. During the trip out William Cheeseman, a steerage passenger, jumped overboard.

To Control Telephones.

St. John, N. B., April 10.—A bill was introduced in the Legislature for public control of telephones.

Another resolution asks that the I. C. R. take over all the branch railway lines.

Record Tax Rate.

Belleville, April 10.—Belleville's tax rate was at Monday night's council meeting fixed at 26.8 mills on the dollar, the highest rate in the city's history.

Archbishop Mauled.

Brandon, Man., April 10.—A ludicrous incident occurred here, when Archbishop Serafin, the eccentric ecclesiastic of Winnipeg, who claims to be the head of the Greek Church in Canada, and religious dictator of the Ruthenians, attempted to hold service in the Galician Catholic Church here.

They refused to permit him to even enter the sacred building, and when he attempted to force his way in he was picked up bodily and carried to the street and thrown in the mud.

King Victor In Athens.

Athens, April 10.—King Victor Emmanuel of Italy, accompanied by Foreign Minister Tittoni, Minister of Marine Mirabello and a number of court dignitaries, has arrived here on a visit to King George of Greece. His Majesty was given a most enthusiastic welcome by the populace.

Blown Up by Dynamite.

Utica, N. Y., April 10.—George E. Davis, foreman of a gang of Italians, laying watermains, was fearfully injured yesterday by a mysterious explosion of dynamite. He declares that one of the men threw a stick of dynamite at him. They say he must have stood on dynamite.

Navigation on Lake Superior.

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., April 10.—From present appearances Lake Superior navigation will not open before April 15.

Kingston Harbor Open.

Kingston, April 10.—Yesterday a half dozen schooners cleared for Oswego and Charlotte, the first departures of the year.

Reads Own Death Notice.

Evansville, April 10.—Thrown into a state of nervous prostration by reading an account published in a newspaper of her supposed death, Mrs. Louisa Duley, aged 49 years, expired Monday night. Through an error the death of a woman of the same name was reported as having occurred in Mrs. Duley's home. She read the story and began to cry, "I am dead, I am dead! I saw it in the paper," dying in hysterics.

St. Lawrence Is Receding.

Montreal, April 10.—Contrary to all precedents, the water in the River St. Lawrence is receding at a time when it is customary for it to go up with a rush and threaten floods.

This is attributed in some measure to the continued cold weather.

Convicted of Murder.

Rochester, N. Y., April 10.—The jury in the case of Fred Schultz returned a verdict of murder in the second degree late yesterday, for killing Edward Pullman, the village watchman at Soduse, on March 22 of last year, during a robbery of the bank.

The Peace Conference.

The Hague, April 10.—Two o'clock in the afternoon, June 15, has been fixed for the opening of the second peace conference here.

The local teamsters of the Hendrie Company at St. Catharines, have gone out on strike.

The Supplementary Estimates Amount to Over $500,000.

Items Included Are of a Desirable Nature—$34,000 For Colonization Roads—Flags For Rural Schools—Protection of Trees—Higher Salaries For Teachers—Taxing Mineral Rights—Fish and Game Bill.

Toronto, April 10.—The estimated Provincial expenditure for 1907 is $7,035,332. At the Legislature yesterday Hon. A. J. Matheson submitted the supplementary estimates. These amount to $516,201, while the main estimates reached $6,519,131. The expenditure for last year amounted to $6,720,179.

Prominent among the items in the supplementaries is $34,900 for colonization roads, $21,735 for board of health and factory inspection, $500 for Mr. Speaker Crawford, $8,200 for the Text Book Commission, $5,000 for flags for the rural schools, $6,000 for fruit growers and the protection of trees, $9,600 for colonization and immigration, $85,700 for hospitals and charities, $100,000 for changes in the Toronto asylum and $12,000 to the exploration survey branch of the T. & N. O. Railway from Cobalt to Sudbury.

The amendments by the Minister of Education to the public schools act were put through committee. Of the extra $380,000 provided for rural schools this year, the largest portion—about $250,000—will be distributed on a basis to induce higher salaries. The minimum remains fixed at the amount of the township grant, viz., $300. The school receives nothing on salary unless it exceeds the township grant. The amounts paid as inducements vary according to the assessments of sections, the poorer sections receiving the larger inducements.

The balance of the money goes in fixed grants for equipment and accommodation, and also on the class of teachers' certificates.

Hon. Dr. Reaume introduced a measure respecting the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario Railway. This is a consolidation of the various acts relative to the Government railway. It also does away with the per mile land grant vested, under other measures, in the commission, and which they had authority to dispose of to meet the cost of the railway. As the cost is being met by the Government, by loans and otherwise this provision is now considered unnecessary.

Manhood Suffrage Registration.

Hon. Mr. Foy introduced an act amending and consolidating the manhood suffrage registration act. He said the only change of importance in the measure had regard to supplementary registration. The present law was that after the usual sittings for registration there shall be supplementary sittings. It had been suggested by the chairman of the Toronto board of registrars that a better method would be to permit, on the regular days, applications to be made by a relative or person living in the same house, by putting in the affidavit of the person unable to be present but desiring to register. Afterwards this would be confirmed by the person for whom the application was made.

The intimation was forthcoming during the discussion in committee of Hon. Mr. Foy's statute law amendment act that Government consideration is shortly to be given to the matter of renumeration received by Division Court clerks and bailiffs.

Some important changes are indicated in the act. Every Division Court clerk is, under it, entitled to retain for his own use in each year all the fees and emoluments earned by him up to $2,000. Thereover the Provincial Treasurer gets 20 per cent.

Public Schools Act.

The House went into committee on Hon. Dr. Pyne's bill to amend the Public Schools act. It provides the basis of distribution of the extra grant by the Government to supplement the municipal grants towards larger salaries for teachers.

Hon. Dr. Pyne drew attention to the clause providing for the possible dissolution of consolidated schools. This, he said, was designed to enable the dissolution of the consolidated school at Guelph if the authorities there, as had been intimated, deemed it necessary or advisable.

Hon. Mr. Graham thought the consolidated system had never had a fair show. He thought consolidated schools in system were sound.

Hon. Mr. Harcourt pointed out that in many parts of the States they had been a distinct success. They brought to the doors of the rural residents good high schools.

Mr. Preston (Brant) asked the Minister of Education to bear in mind in framing his legislation the banishment of the evils of truancy and child labor. He urged also that feeble minded children should have special care and training. Mr. Preston asked if any provision was being made for the instruction of foreigners coming into the country.

Hon. Dr. Pyne said the matter had been largely left to the night schools as the foreigners were usually past school age.

Mr. Preston suggested that the House endorse the school penny savings banks.

Taxing Mineral Rights.

Mr. P. H. Bowyer (East Kent), who suggested the amendment to the Municipal act providing for the taxation by the municipality of the mineral rights reserved by the Canada Company in their sale of land to the farmers—which amendment has been embodied by the Government in the new act—laid before Hon. Mr. Hanna, the Provincial Secretary, the problem of the collection of the tax.

Mr. Bowyer pointed out that unless the procedure for collection was specifically outlined the company might make an effort to dodge or refuse to pay the tax in an effort to have it charged up against the farm or surface rights. The member for East Kent suggested that a similar course be followed to that which obtains in other municipal taxation. If the company failed to pay its mineral tax for three years, the mineral rights would be put up for tax sale and could be bought in by the farm-owner. In this way the tax could be collected or redress given to the farmer or land-owner.

Hon. Mr. Hanna said that the course suggested by Mr. Bowyer was what would follow upon the owner of the mineral interest refusing to pay the tax on such interest and that the sale of such interest would in no way prejudice or affect the owner of the surface rights.

Fish and Game Bill.

The House followed on in committee on the fish, fur bearing animals and game bill of Hon. Dr. Reaume. Mr. Graham broached the question of game preserve leases which came into prominence through the application of the Tademac Club. Mr. Whitney, taking up the matter, said the transaction sought was a sale of land, not a lease. He believed, however, that the waters of the bay were under lease and the application was for the purchase of land on two sides thereof.

The license for shooting deer and caribou, as decided by the committee was increased from $25 to $50 per season.

CENSURED FOR WRECK.

G. T. R. Blamed For Negligence In Not Giving Time.

Huntsville, April 10.—The jury, in the case of Nathaniel Richardson, killed in a rear-end collision between Grand Trunk passenger train No. 51 and a Grand Trunk freight train Monday, returned a verdict that the death was caused "through the negligence of the Grand Trunk Railway in ordering the freight train to proceed to Scotia Junction when insufficient time was given to reach that point before the passenger train was due there, and that the crew of the freight are censurable for not taking more precautionary measures to protect their train when they knew they were running behind time."

Arthur Wellington, the freight conductor, said he had orders to proceed to Scotia Junction at 10 miles an hour, while the passenger train, scheduled at 22 miles an hour, was due to reach the junction 45 minutes before the freight could reach there.

Brakeman Meyers said only one fusee was dropped from the rear of his train to warn the approaching train.

Engineer Firman of the express stated that no danger signals were noticed on the track, and that his train was running at average speed. The collision occurred on a curve, when no opportunity was given to stop.

Engineer Hargraves of the freight said five minutes were lost at Huntsville, and the run of four miles occupied half an hour. He told his conductor to keep his eye open for No. 51.

AGRARIANS DEFY CZAR.

Land Appropriation Sole Salvation of Peasantry.

St. Petersburg, April 10.—The whole session in the Lower House of Parliament was given up to agrarian debates, in spite of the threats of the official Rossia that the advocacy of compulsory appropriation of lands might result in the dismissal of the Douma.

Every speaker, except the Conservatives, urged this as the sole salvation of the peasantry.

The relations between the Lower House of Parliament and the Administration are daily becoming more acute on account of Premier Stolypin's repeated rebukes of the Lower House for overstepping its competence.

Yesterday the Premier addressed three new letters to President Golovin, calling the Lower House to account for further alleged illegal acts and demanding that steps be taken to prevent their repetition.

Girl Drowns Herself.

Port Hope, April 10.—A young girl named Jameson, of about 20 years of age, employed as a domestic for the last couple of years, sought a watery grave about 8.30 last night, just as the schooner Oliver Mowat cleared for Oswego.

She went down to say good-bye to a young man on the vessel, who had been keeping company with her for some time. Some men frustrated her first attempt to throw herself into the water, but later on she succeeded in her purpose. McMahon Brothers, after two hours' dragging, secured the body.

Its Relation to Modern Thought

Rev. Dr. Symonds Deals With This Phase of "In Memoriam"

The second lecture of the series by Rev. Dr. Symonds, of Montreal, on Tennyson's "In Memoriam," was delivered before a large and appreciative audience in the Y.M.C.A. hall last evening.

The hall was crowded to the doors Mr E. A. Peck ably acted as chairman and a piano duett was charmingly contributed by Miss Mattie Robertson and Miss Gladys Crane.

Mr D. Hughes Charles will preside at the lecture tonight.

Dr Symonds' second lecture of the course had to do with the relation of "In Memoriam" to modern thought.

It was pointed out how Tennyson's sorrow became typical of the sorrow and agony of the human race. "In Memoriam" therefore, deals with the questions of immortality, faith and unbelief, science and theology, social problems, progress and the like. These are not new problems, but the form which they assume in our time is new.

Tennyson, like Carlyle, had a strong sense of the distinction which in theological matters, must be drawn between the form of a doctrine and its essential content. The form was the husk and the essential content was the kernel of the doctrine. Hence the form might change without involving the loss of the doctrine. The lecturer dwelt at considerable length upon this point, because of its bearing upon modern conditions. Modern science and historical criticism have greatly modified our old conceptions of nature and the Bible.

The breaking down of these has led to the so-called conflict between faith and science. Tennyson knew what internal struggles the new thought of the age was originating in the minds of many of the noblest men about him. Was doubt a sin? The church regarded it as the most heinous of sins. Tennyson could not agree with this. There was such a thing as "honest doubt." This topic is the subject of one of the most famous sections of "In Memoriam"..;

You say, but with no touch of scorn
  Sweet-hearted you, whose light blue eyes,
  Are tender over drowning flies,
You tell me, doubt is devil born.

I know not. One, indeed, I knew,
  In many a subtle question versed
  Who touched a jarring lyre at first
But ever strove to make it true.

Perplext in faith, but pure in deeds
  At last he beat his music out.
  There lives more faith in honest doubt,
Believe me, than in half the creeds.

He fought his doubts and gathered strength,
  He would not make his judgment blind.
  He faced the spectres of the mind
And laid them. Thus he came at length

To find a stronger faith his own
  And power was with him in the night.
  Which makes the darkness and the light
And dwells not in the light alone

But in the darkness and the cloud

Concerning the systems of Christian doctrines which theologians have constructed at various periods, he wrote.

Our little systems have their day,
  They have their day and cease to be.
  They are but broken lights of Thee,
And Thou, O Lord, art more than they.

Dr Symonds pointed out that the movement of thought in the early part of the century gave birth to two great schools of thought in the Anglican Church, viz., the High Church and the Broad Church Schools.

The first was reactionary. Yet it performed a useful service. The Broad Church School, represented by such men as Maurice, Kingsley, Robertson of Brighton, Dean Hanley and others, were in closer sympathy with modern thought. They sought to shape the old truths anew and exerted a powerful influence for good over their generation.

But whilst welcoming the new thought Tennyson was not unaware of the distress which it must give rise to in the breasts of many good people, to whom change meant destruction. He wrote largely for these. Even to him, science and criticism were in some of their aspects, grim monsters, devoid of reverence and love. It was only after he had fought the "spectres of the mind" that he could cry

And all is well, though faith and form
  Be sundered in the night of fear,
  Well roars the storm to those that hear
A deeper voice across the storm.

It was only after conflict and a measure of loss, that the poet could cry;

To One that with us works, and trust
With faith that comes of self-control
The truths that never can be proved

And when he reached that confident faith he ardently desired to see an alliance between faith— not thought of as a series of dogmas, but as a sense of fellowship with the Infinite—and science.

Let Knowledge grow from more to more,
  But more of Reverence in us dwell
  That mind and soul according well
May make one music as before.

But vaster—

This evening Dr. Symonds will commence the discussion of the poem itself, treating of the "Introductory Stage," which includes the first 27 sections.

Delmas Finishes His Appeal For the Life of Harry K. Thaw

Urges Jury to Give Thaw Benefit of the Doubt.

Counsel Makes Much of the Effect of Evelyn's Story On Prisoner's Mind —Says Thaw Was Delegate of Providence—Jerome Must Prove His Sanity—Appeal Touches Unwritten Law—Defence Closes.

New York, April 10.—One more day and the concluding chapters of the trial of Harry K. Thaw for the murder of Stanford White will have been written into history.

With an oratorical appeal to both the written and the unwritten law, for the justification of his client, Delphin M. Delmas, the California attorney, concluded his exhaustive summing up address to the jury yesterday afternoon.

With the exception of the moments when he was reading from testimony to establish the truth of Evelyn Thaw's story, which he said had been given with "sublime renunciation," Mr. Delmas' speech was one of sustained oratorical effort. He threw about the form of Harry Thaw the cloak of chivalrous knighthood. "Why," he shouted, "should we who admire the chivalry of the knights of the middle ages, who went about redressing wrongs and rescuing maidens in distress, withhold our sympathy from this brave man?"

The Hand of Providence.

"Ah, gentlemen," the advocate went on, "if Harry Thaw believed he was the instrument of Providence, who will say he was mistaken?"

"The man who had brooded on this subject for three years, who had pictures of dreadful horrors haunting him day and in the stillness of the night, could not be human to retain the calmness of reason. Gentlemen, put yourselves in his place; picture to yourselves the horrors he went through and do justice to Harry Thaw," he said.

Mr. Delmas discussed but briefly the testimony of the expert witnesses, declaring that whatever weight might attach to their utterances was on the side of the defendant.

He declared the burden of proof as to Thaw's sanity at the time of the homicide rested with the prosecution, which had failed to make out its case.

The Benefit of the Doubt.

"Before you send this young man to his doom, you must be satisfied of his guilt beyond every reasonable doubt.

"A great English judge once said that it is better that 99 guilty men should escape rather than that one innocent man should be punished. If there is one chance in a hundred that this defendant was of such unsound mind as not to know the nature of his act, then you must give him the benefit of that doubt.

Thaw's Insanity.

"The district attorney will make light of the experts because they have not studied the species of insanity from which they say Harry Thaw is suffering. It is a species of insanity which has been recognised of every state of the Union—from Canada to Mexico, from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

"It will suggest its name," he declared, "I would call it dementia Americana. It is that species of insanity which makes the American man believe his home, his wife, his daughters, are sacred and that whosoever stains the virtue of his threshold violates the human law.

The Unwritten Law.

Mr. Delmas' closing was an almost direct appeal to the unwritten law. He said he left Thaw's fate in the hands of the jurors, with every confidence that he would be acquitted under that golden law—the oldest law of all—the foundation of all laws—"Do unto others as you would have them do unto you"

C. L. A. Preliminary Grouping Takes Place To-morrow Night

The preliminary grouping of the clubs in the C.L.A. will take place at a meeting of the council in Toronto tomorrow night. Mr. Ambrose Regan, who is a member of the council, will be in attendance. The preliminary grouping of the clubs is not hard and fast, and is subject to change at the final grouping, which will be made about two weeks hence.

It is expected that the Peterborough intermediates will be grouped with the Toronto Junction Shamrocks, Young Torontos, and Maitlands, the new north end team in Toronto. This would ensure some fast lacrosse here this summer, and as the Toronto clubs are anxious that Peterborough should be taken in with them, in all probability it will likely be done.

It is not yet known with what junior teams the Peterborough Shamrocks will be grouped. Oshawa is likely to be one of them, however, and it is possible that a couple of junior teams from Toronto, may be placed in the same circuit. It is regrettable that there are not more junior teams in this district. The Peterborough youngsters will again be having to make long trips, which make the financing of the club a difficult matter. The Toronto teams should prove a good drawing card here, both intermediate and junior, and it is to be hoped that it can be arranged to have them in both circuits.

Will Lay Over a Mile of New Gas Mains During the Summer

The Peterborough Light and Power Company will lay over a mile of new gas mains during the coming summer, in order to keep pace with the growth of the city, and supply the citizens with this great convenience. New mains will be laid on Water, Gilmour, and Charlotte sts., Boswell and Pearl ave., and other streets. The pipes will be three and four inches in diameter, and the amount expended in extension work about $3000. Excavation will begin as soon as the frost is out of the ground.

Union Sunday School Building

The Structure at Cold Springs is Nearly Completed

The new Union Sunday School Hall at Cold Springs, Otonabee, is nearly completed.

The building is frame, two storeys high, and in dimensions is 26 by 40 feet. It will be brick veneered later on. The basement will be fitted up with stoves, cooking utensils, tables, etc. The upstairs portion will seat about four hundred persons. The sum necessary for its erection has been raised by members of the Sunday school and by subscriptions from residents in the vicinity, who have responded liberally. All the neighbors have turned out and assisted in the work, under the direction of Mr. Charles Rose. Good progress has been made. The interior of the hall is now being finished, and it will be ready for use in a few days.

G.T.R. Conductor Will Face Music

Is Alleged to Have Let Train Block Charlotte Street

Because the train of which he had charge impeded traffic on Charlotte street, for a longer period than that specified by law, a G. T. R. conductor will have to face the music in the police court tomorrow. The charge was laid, as a result of a freight train blocking the street last Thursday night. It is alleged that the thoroughfare was blocked thirteen and a half minutes, whereas five minutes is the limit allowed by law.

A C. P. R. conductor was fined $20 and costs for a similar offence on George street, a few days ago.

Drowned Herself After Parting

Port Hope Girl Suicided When Lover Had Sailed

A Port Hope despatch says:—A young English girl named Jameson, of about 20 years of age, who has been employed as a domestic in town for the last couple of years, drowned herself in the harbor about 8.30 tonight, just as the schooner Oliver Mowat cleared for Oswego.

She went down to wharf to say good-bye to a young man on the vessel, who had been keeping company with her for some time. Some man on the dock noticed her strange actions and frustrated her first attempt to throw herself into the water, but later on she succeeded in her purpose.

After about two hours' dragging searchers secured the body.

HARRY ADAMS

Will Radial Railway Company Construct Line to Apsley?

Such is the Interesting Rumor Heard in Lakefield—Bridge Club Closes Enjoyable Season—Re-Opening of Grove School--Splendid Concert.

Lakefield, April 10th.

Mrs. Moodie-Heddle who for several months past has been laid up with sciatica at the residence of her aunt, Miss Traill, departed for her home in St. Hyacinthe, Que., on Saturday last.

Mr. Geo. Goulding, of the Guelph Agricultural College, has been spending a few days with Rev. A. W. and Mrs. Mackenzie at the Grove.

It will be gratifying to most of his old friends and former pupils to learn that Mr. Marling, at present one of the assistant masters at Upper Canada College, intends to return to the Grove school as assistant master, after the summer holidays.

Miss Traill has been spending the past few days in Peterborough with her friend, Miss Dunlop.

INTERESTING RUMOR.

A matter fraught with interest to many Lakefield residents is as to how much truth there is in the latest rumor that the Peterborough Radial Railway Co. intends to run its line as far north as Apsley in order to open up a road to the far famed shores of Jack's Lake and Lake Koshabogamog. We shall be delighted to see the back country benefitting by its advent, but infinitely more pleased to see it making its appearance in Lakefield. Every year, for the last five or six years, those of us who yearn for more direct communication with Peterborough and more intimate communication with its inhabitants, have received such lamentable setbacks to our hopes that we have almost ceased to regard the scheme as likely to be realized.

OBITUARY POETRY.

The reading of certain obituary and other poetry in the daily and weekly periodicals, has brought to my mind an episode in my career which may be instructive as well as interesting to some of the authors of the well meant but insufferable rubbish that, under the guise of poetry, is inflicted on the public. It happened during my school days in England. There were thirty-two of us in the form, and our master by way of testing our abilities, ordered us to write an original poem on any subject we cared to select. About twenty-four out of the thirty-two chose that highly original and inspiring subject "Spring." Eighteen out of the twenty-four stole their's bodily from that master-piece beginning, "Spring, Spring, beautiful Spring, etc. These were promptly ruled out of court. My own was entirely my own composition and had been brought to its finished state at the imminent risk of an attack of brain fever. I was proud and as I considered, justly proud of my performance. I was only fourteen and expected that it would be received with admiration and applause. The first verse as I remember it ran as follows:

"The vernal season now comes round,
And early flowers bedeck the ground.
The wintry blasts are now all past
And spring-like showers come on at last."

The master did not applaud me. He called me up to the desk and said, "Smith, do you mean to tell me, sir, that this is your own production?" "Yes, sir," I answered promptly.

"You're a shame-faced young liar, sir, you haven't got brains enough to write it—hold out your hand!" I got one of the worst lickings I ever got in my life, and it knocked all ambition to write poetry out of my head. It seems to me that if some of the writers of effusions such as I have referred to, had undergone the same sort of cure the world would have been none the worse for their extinction.

Mr. Garfield Coons, of Apsley, is visiting friends in the village.

There is a great prevalence of measles and kindred ailments in the village at the present time. Most of the cases, however, are of a mild type.

ENJOYABLE REUNIONS.

The Bridge club which has had a long and highly enjoyable existence during the past winter finished its weekly reunions by a party and supper at the residence of Mr. De la Fosse on Monday night.

The president, Mr. Tate, presented two prizes to the winners of the highest and lowest percentages of points respectively. Mr. H. G. Fitzgerald was the lucky recipient of the first prize and Mr. R. P. Davidson of the second. It was unanimously decided to have a subsidary club during the summer months for the purpose of playing quoits and lawn bowls. One of these days Peterborough may be surprised by receiving a challenge to the latter game from Lakefield.

OTHER NOTES.

Mr. Gerald Wilkes, of Winnipeg, is in the village, visiting friends.

The Grove school reopens for the Michaelmas term on Wednesday, April 10th.

Most of the Easter visitors have departed for their homes and the wandering sheep of the village have returned to the fold.

Mrs. Aaron Cox, of Peterborough, was in the village on Tuesday last.

Miss De la Fosse returned to Bishop Bethune College, Oshawa, on Monday last.

A DECIDED TREAT.

Lovers of high class entertainment enjoyed a genuine treat on Tuesday evening, when Mr. Shorter, Mrs. Lillian Adams and little Beryl Adams, appeared for the first time before a Lakefield audience. It is only simple justice to state that Mr. Shorter in recitation, Mrs. Adams in instrumental music and little Beryl Adams in both recitation and acting are most excellent. This company appears in Peterborough on Thursday next and lovers of refined acting will have a chance of witnessing a very fine performance. A crowded house greeted them in this village.

Havelock Lodge A.F. & A.M. Gave "At Home" in Opera House

About 150 Guests Were Present and the Event Was a Great Success—Personal Items of Interest.

Havelock, April 9th.

The At Home given by the Havelock lodge A.F. & A.M., in the opera house on Monday night proved a great success, there being about 150 guests present, many from outside towns. The hall was most elaborately decorated with flags and bunting, artistically arranged, while the stage was beautifully decorated with large ferns and palms, with the dazzling gold trimmed masonic ensign at the back. The three long rows of tables were handsomely decorated with the best of the season's eatables. The caterer for the occasion was Mr. T. Hooper, of Peterborough, who carried out the terms of his contract in a highly creditable manner. After ample justice had been done to the good things provided, Mr. Jos. Daincott, chairman of the lodge, extended a hearty welcome to all present. A toast to "The Ladies," was replied to by Mr. T. Patterson and Mr. J. Burnett. The next toast "Our Guests," was replied to by Mr G. Sills, of Belleville, formerly of town. The toast to "The Master of the Havelock Lodge," was replied to by the Master, Mr. H. Pacy. The tables were then cleared away and the guests enjoyed themselves at dancing. Wilson's orchestra, of Peterborough, supplied excellent music and Mr. C. Williams, of town officiated as floor manager. All present were highly delighted with every feature of the evening and the whole souled hospitality of their hosts.

Mr. D. Masters, of Sandy Lake, has rented Mr. F. B. McAdams' farm at Round Lake. Mr. McAdams will reside in town.

Miss J. Milne, of Toronto, is the guest of Miss L. Henshall for a few days.

Mr. J. Belleghens, of Peterborough, is visiting friends in town.

Miss H. Caplan has received an excellent position in Toronto and will leave for that city in the near future.

Mr. Alex. Innis has returned from visiting friends in Toronto.

The Misses Rae, of Norwood, were the guests of Mrs. Ed. Chapman on Tuesday.

Miss M. Johnston, of Norwood, has secured a position as bookkeeper in Jas Watson's store.

Miss Warren of Preneveau attended the Masonic assembly on Monday.

A meeting of the public Park Board will be held in the Council Chamber on Wednesday night at 7.30.

Misses Day, Warren and Kelly, teachers in the public school, have returned from their holidays.

An enjoyable time was held at the social in the basement of the Methodist church on Monday evening under the auspices of the Woman's Missionary Society of that church.

Miss Trevilin, who is taking Miss Black's place as teacher of the 3rd room, took charge on Monday.

Mrs. Dr. McLean, of Bancroft, is visiting at her home.

Miss E. Lancaster is spending a few days in Hastings, the guest of Miss E. Puffer.

A load of young folks from town drove over to Norwood on Friday night last, where with a load from Hastings and a number from Norwood, they spent the evening in dancing at the town hall.

Mr. McFadden, of Trent Bridge, was in town on Tuesday.

The evangelists who have been holding revival services in the school house at Old Havelock, are now continuing their meetings at Preneveau school house.

Will Erect Several New Houses in the South End

Mr. John Carlyle of East City, Has Already Commenced Operations--Expects to Build Fifty Houses During Next Few Years.

Mr. John Carlyle, East City, the well known builder, intends this coming season to erect several new houses in the lower end of the city and has already commenced operations.

Mr Carlyle has a piece of property at the corner of Wolfe and Bethune streets, on which he intend to erect eight houses. He is at present working on a double house on this lot. These are six-room houses, two storeys high and are built of solid brick. The double house, Mr. Carlyle expects, will be ready for occupation by the middle of June. They rent at prices suitable to the ordinary workingman, and they are the kind of house that is in such a demand at the present time. They are also being built in a section of the city where they are needed most.

A large number of laboring men employed at the C.G.E. works and other factories in the south end of the city, will be glad to hear of these moderate rent houses being built in a place convenient to their work.

Mr. Carlyle has, during the past four years, erected some forty dwelling houses in different sections of the city, and it is his intention to put up about fifty more, a considerable number of which will be built during the coming summer.

A large majority of the newcomers to the city, from the Old Country and other parts, find it difficult to get along, the rents being so high and the prices of almost everything soaring. If a number of houses at moderate rents were built, they would, in many instances, prove a great blessing.

Banquet at the Y. M. C. A. To-night

It is expected that there will be a most enjoyable time at the banquet at the Y.M.C.A. tonight, when the spring basketball league will be wound up. The banquet will commence at 9.30 o'clock, and there promises to be a large number in attendance. At eight o'clock, the basketball match between Robbin's and Laing's teams, to decide the championship, will commence. As the game decides the championship of the league, a fast contest is assured.

Mr Ralph Smith, M.P., for Nanaimo, B.C., has declined the position of Commissioner for the Yukon.

OBITUARY

MRS. WALTER LAMB.

The sad intelligence was received in the city on Monday evening of the death of Mrs. Walter Lamb in Lethbridge, Alta. The late Mrs. Lamb was widely known in this city, she being the daughter of Mrs. Edward Roddy, 329 Sherbrooke-st. The deceased was ill only a very short time and the news of her death came as a great shock to her friends and relatives in this city.

Her husband and three children are left to mourn her loss. Several brothers and sisters also survive.

The body is expected to arrive here on the midnight train Friday, where it will remain until Monday morning and then be taken to Kingston for interment.

JOHN WHIBBS.

Very suddenly Tuesday afternoon John Whibbs, of Douro, was called to his reward. He had enjoyed good health up to Friday afternoon about five o'clock, when he was attacked by pneumonia, and from that on he rapidly sank until he passed away.

The deceased was a native of Douro, having been born there seventy-seven years ago. He had spent all his life in the township and for the past thirty-two years had resided on the farm where he died. He was married about 54 years ago and his wife survives him.

The late Mr. Whibbs was a good man and was known throughout the whole township. He never aspired for public honors, but he was always interested in the welfare of the community and in politics was a strong Liberal.

He is survived by his wife, two sons, George and Frank, who live at home, and three daughters, Miss Matilda at home, and Mrs. William Quinlan and Mrs. E. J. Allen, of Douro. The deceased was the last of his family, his parents and brothers and sisters having predeceased him by several years.

The funeral will be held Thursday morning at nine o'clock and interment will take place at St. Joseph's cemetrey, Douro.

RICE LAKE IS STILL ICE BOUND

The north end of Rice Lake is still blocked with ice. This was the statement of Captain Harris, of the Steamer Monarch, who resides at Gore's Landing, and who was in the city yesterday. Mr. Harris stated that the lake was clear of ice at the south end, where the Trent River flows out, but it will likely be several days before the ice breaks up at the northern portion of the lake.

THE EDIFYING SOLDIER.

Sketch of One of the Great German Toy Warehouses.

The Trodel market is on a little island in the heart of the old town of Nuremberg. Along the north branch of the river is an old, low caved house with a little darkling doorway. When you have got so far you are met by a little old man—a rusty little man who looks as though he were made of metal—who leads you into the great mysterious warehouse of toys.

Round all the walls they are ranged—guns, cannons, motors, steamships, trumpets, sabers, and everywhere the soldiers. How many millions of metal soldiers have marched away from the Trodel market not even the rusty old man could tell you—mighty articles of pewter and tin.

Hundreds of regiments, of battalions, of divisions, are drawn up on the shelves, waiting for the day when they shall be sent out into battle. And with a kind of pride the rusty old man says, "They are edifying soldiers."

That is the German way of putting it. What it means is that each army illustrates a battle or a campaign—the war of Troy, the campaigns of Alexander, the exploits of Coeur de Lion, the war of thirty years, the siege of Orleans, the victories of Napoleon, the battles of 1870 and (the one I liked best) that desperate battle in which a tiny tin hero with gleaming teeth rough rode it up San Juan hill. In a word, the edifying soldiers teach history, geography, strategy.—Vance Thompson in Everybody's.

New Law Unworkable.

Winnipeg, April 10.—It is stated that the Canadian Pacific Railway have found that some of the provisions of the new Lord's Day Act are unworkable.

When the act came into effect orders were given that no work should be done on Sunday, except that incidental to the handling of through passenger trains. No trains were to leave the local yards between Saturday night and Sunday midnight.

Local employees are said to have declared that it was impossible to do the work which had to be done under these conditions.

Judge Carman has found Ald. Bradt, a St. Catharines Councillor, guilty of gross misconduct in allowing himself to be used by paving agents.

Zutoo, the Japanese headache cure, is a friend in need.

Don't without a trial, condemn it as something that will hurt you.

Taken when you suspect a headache, it will ward it off. Taken later it will cure the headache in twenty minutes. In every case it will leave you feeling good. It is harmless as the soda which is one of its ingredients.

If it does not do all that is claimed for it, then discard it. But don't confound it with the drug cures and condemn it without a trial. That isn't fair to

Ridpath Will go Into Business

The Noted Canoeist Leaving Toronto for Lakefield

Gordon Ridpath, better known as "Kernel" Ridpath, the grand little left wing of the Parkdale Canoe Club's junior O.H.A. team, leaves this week for Lakefield, where he will going into the stationery business with his brother. With a bit more weight he would make a good candidate for senior company.—Toronto Star.

CRICKET

IMPORTANT MEETING.

Owing to only a few of the members of the Cricket Club, turning out at last night's meeting, another one is called for Friday evening at eight o'clock at the Y.M.C.A. All the members are urgently requested to be present. The new balls, bats and other necessary tools for the game have come from Toronto, and will be ready for the inspection of the members at the next meeting.

LACROSSE

NATIONALS SIGN PLAYERS.

Laviolette, captain of the Michigan Soo hockey team, is to play for the National lacrosse team this summer. Laviolette is a past master of lacrosse and exhibits a fine combination of weight, speed and skill. He will probably occupy his old position at third defence.

Alec Sauve and Alphonse Vervais have also signed for the Nationals. Since Alphonse left some years ago his absence has been keenly felt. To fill "point" successfully was causing no small anxiety. But the position now seems safe, anyway. The Nationals this year will be worthy of any opponents that can be brought up.—Montreal Herald.

PORT HOPE IMPORTS

Port Hope is getting ready for the opening of the schedule of the Midland League. The following from the Guide explains itself;

A. Kolb, of Rochester, arrived in town yesterday, and will take a position with the Central Foundry Co. Kolb will play third base for the locals and is one of the best men in the business. In 1905 he played with Port Hope in Peterborough, and on that occasion it was quite evident that he was awake to all the fine points of the game. He is a snappy fielder, quick on the bases, and can handle the willow to perfection. In the game in which we saw him play, out of five times at bat he had two runs and four hits to his credit.

Surphlis will be down in a few days and Bobby Sheets is likely to return from New Brighton.

The infield line-up will be; Surphlis, p.; Sheets or Boney, c.; Briggs 1st; Brown, 2nd; Kolb, 3rd. The short stop is expected to arrive in a few days, and then we will tell you all about him.

Provision Stores for the City Will Introduce a New Idea

Grocers Intend to Meet Butchers' Competition—Two or Three Grocery Stores Will Put in a Butcher Shop—Meat to be Imported.

Recently the local retail butchers have been making rapid strides. The competition is very keen and they are vieing with one another, in seeing how much they can give the people for their money. First some of the butchers enlarged and remodelled their stores and furnished them with all the most up-to-date sanitary equipments Then the price of meat was placed at such a reasonable figure that anyone could buy the choicest cuts. This was not enough and three or four of the stores put in a line of groceries, such as canned goods, cheese, teas and coffees. These goods are being sold at low prices and the retail grocers are beginning to feel the difference.

The butchers are cutting in on the grocers' trade and the grocers do not like it. But there is a well founded rumor that two or three of the grocery stores will put in a butcher shop also and meet the butchers' competition.

"In the United States," said one well known grocer, "nearly all the grocery stores handle meats. They are grocery and provision stores, and I think before long the same idea will be introduced into this city. We grocers cannot stand for such serious inroads in our business as the butchers are cutting. If they handled all kinds of groceries it would not make so much difference, but they take out only the most profitable lines. I think you will find two or three stores in the city putting in a butcher shop in a short time. We can meet competition very successfully along this line. We would not establish a slaughter house, but would buy our meat already dressed, and buy a superior quality to that being sold in the city now. For instance, if I were to handle meat, I would deal with such people as Swift or Armour of Chicago. Their beef is all western beef and the best on the continent. It can be brought in here and sold at prices to attract the public, while the quality will be a great drawing card also.

"In my case I could put in a butcher business" continued the grocer, "very easily, and would undoubtedly get many new customers to the grocery store, as well as make the butcher business pay."

Men Physically Unfit Will Not be Taken Into Regiment

No men who do not come up to the required standard will be kept in the 57th Regiment this year. Small, narrow-chested youths do not add to the appearance of the corps however good their intentions may be, and as there are many in the city who easily come up to the required standard, who wish to join the corps, it has been decided to weed out those who are not physically fit.

This policy was shown last night when a number of men who have been in the regiment for some time were notified that they did not come up to the standard required by the government regulations. Several of those wishing to join had to be refused on the same grounds.

It is intended to be more strict in this connection than in the past as a large number of little fellows have been taken in at different times until at present the regiment has not that imposing appearance which it should. The regulations are very strict in regard to this matter and they are going to be followed closely.

LOYAL ITALIAN TO ALD. MORGAN

Some Interesting Facts About the Italians in Peterborough

To the Editor of the Review.

Dear Sir.—I noticed in last night's Review that Ald. Morgan is trying to make himself popular by pounding at the Italians. He wants to tax them $10 per head. I would like to know why they should be taxed. Supposing they are not tax payers or property holders, they are certainly not a nuisance to the community. You never seen an Italian in the county gaol, where they have to be fed at the public's expense; nor you never find any of them appealing to charity for food or assistance. They come to the city, do an honest day's work, get an honest day's pay and save a little money for a rainy day. They are perfectly independent and they mind their own business.

Italians are not an expense to the city as are other emigrants, who are paid to come to this country and then have to be fed and cared for after they arrive. I would like Ald. Morgan to ask the inspector of the Charity Board if he ever had an Italian come to him for assistance, and also ask him how many emigrants of other nationalities come to him.

Then, Mr. Editor, I would like to say a word about the sanitary conditions of an Italians home. They are just as clean as anyone else and a good deal cleaner than many emigrants of other nationalities. Of course there are dirty people and clean people in every land, but the minority should not condemn the majority.

In conclusion, Mr. Editor, I would like to tell Ald. Morgan that he is in the council to look after the city's interest and if he does that he will have all he can do without meddling with the Italians.

Yours truly,

A LOYAL ITALIAN.

CORDIAL INVITATION

ADDRESED TO WORKING GIRLS

Mlle. Robitaille Tells How Mrs. Pinkham's Advice Helps Working Girls.

Mlle A Robitaille

Girls who work are particularly susceptible to female disorders, especially those who are obliged to stand on their feet from morning until night in stores or factories.

Day in and day out the girl toils, and she is often the bread-winner of the family. Whether she is sick or well, whether it rains or shines, she must go to her place of employment, perform the duties exacted of her—smile and be agreeable.

Among this class the symptoms of female diseases are early manifest by weak and aching backs, pain in the lower limbs and lower part of the stomach. In consequence of frequent wetting of the feet, periods become painful and irregular, and frequently there are faint and dizzy spells, with loss of appetite, until life is a burden. All of these symptoms point to a derangement of the female organism which can be easily and promptly cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Mlle. Alma Robitaille, 78 rue St. François, Quebec, Quebec, tells what this great medicine did for her. She writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

Overwork and long hours at the office, together with a neglected cold brought on a very serious female trouble until finally I was unable to go to work. I then thought of a friend who had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound when her health was in the same condition that mine was and straightway sent out for a bottle. I finished that and took two more before I really began to improve but after that my recovery was very rapid and I was soon well and able to go back to work again. I certainly think your medicine for sick women worthy of praise and am indeed glad to endorse it.

It is to such girls that Mrs. Pinkham holds out a helping hand and extends a cordial invitation to correspond with her. She is daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham and for twenty-five years has been advising sick women free of charge. Her long record of success in treating woman's ills makes her letters of advice of untold value to every ailing working girl. Address, Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass.

Laurier Regime Nearing its End

Sentiment is Strongly Against it in Every Province

A Montreal despatch says;

Commercial travellers in the city from eastern and western Canada are almost unanimous in expressing belief that the Laurier government is riding to a fall, and that speedily.

The sentiment is the same in every part of the country. Even Quebec has wearied of the government, and will not longer be found affording Sir Wilfrid Laurier the support the province has given him since 1896

It is felt that the premier has lost his grip in parliament. He has failed to gather and to keep about him the men the country demands in a government.

"The west has already shown its temper," said a commercial man whose territory is from Winnipeg to the coast. "Manitoba and British Columbia were simply voting against Laurier when they returned the Roblin and McBride government. Neither of these governments were of themselves strong. But with Laurier in the discussion their success was made certain.

"Look at the result in Manitoba. The provincial Liberals were confident of winning, and based their hopes for a landslide upon the evident dissatisfaction with several acts and omissions of the provincial government. But Laurier began to figure in the contest and that settled it. The confident Liberals were routed. If the new provinces were to speak today they would join hands with the provinces on either side of them."

Ontario commercial men say the province is more strongly than ever opposed to Laurier and the provinces down by the sea will have a startling story to tell. Fielding cannot deliver a solid Nova Scotia a second time and Premier Pugsley in the Dominion cabinet will not help matters.

MEANS MUCH TO MEN

A Name is Protected by Government Registration in All Countries.

During last year several firms in Canada have been enjoined from using the name "Semi-Ready" in their advertising. This is a Government trade mark, signifying tailored garments finished to the try-on stage.

In Toronto a large retail house sought to use the name, knowing that its value was superlative. They apologized.

In Montreal another retail house recently acknowledgde an infringement, and promised not to do it again

A building firm in Winnipeg borrowed the name for some settlers' houses finished ready-to-erect.

The name "Semi-Ready" belongs solely to "Semi-Ready," Limited, a company with a big factory in Montreal, supplying about eighty stores in Canada. In less than ten years this system of tailoring clothes has made wonderful strides, and there are 79 reasons why the name means much to men. Cressman's have the sole rights for Peterborough.

BURIED WITHOUT ANY CEREMONY

Brought Baby in Parcel With Necessary Papers for Interment

The Woodstock Express publishes the following peculiar story of the burial of a child in that city:—

About a week ago a woman, known in this city and acquainted with the town, and arrived on an early train from Detroit, carrying a weighty parcel by means of a shawl strap. Her first appearance after leaving the station was at the home of a well known and respectable woman, whom it is said, was known to the Detroit woman. The latter asked if she might leave her parcel there for a while, and said she would call later on in the day. Prior to leaving the remarked that the package contained a two weeks' old baby and asked the astonished lady of the house to kindly not put it out of doors.

The woman from Uncle Sam's domain then proceeded to a certain cemetery, where she found the caretaker. She asked for a lot in which to bury a baby, presenting a doctor's certificate of death to verify her statements and request. The caretaker could do nothing for her, but explained that upon the presentation of an order for a grave he would see that one was dug.

The woman hurried away returning in a short time with the necessary paper in one hand and the dead infant in the other, carried by means of the shawl strap.

"Here is the baby," said the woman from across the border.

"Where?" queried the grave-digger.

"Why, there, in that parcel. I could carry it myself that way," was the rejoinder.

Whereat the grave digger broke into uncontrollable laughter, as is not his wont, for he is a grave and sober man.

There was no other course but to proceed, however, as a legal aspect was given the case, the proper certificate and papers being provided.

So the body of the poor little infant was thus laid at rest, buried just as it was carried, wrapped up in a parcel with the shawl-strap still encircling its tiny form and entirely devoid of religious rite.

There can be no investigation, as the proceedings had all the semblance of legality. As to who or what it was there can be only mere conjecture, but that the woman was in the employ of some one is pretty certain, from what has been learned. From what sources of information could be had, the child was not the woman's own, that fact being pretty well established.

"It is only one of very many, that has leaked out," said a prominent citizen to-day, who is one of the less than half a dozen who know of the parties in the case.

SOLD LIQUOR TO AN INDIAN

And Ottawa Hotelman Was Fined $50 and Costs

Down at Ottawa it appears to be a serious offence to sell liquor to an Indian. The following despatch will be of interest in view of the recent cases of a similar nature here:

Ottawa, April 9.—For selling liquor to an Indian, Napoleon Valin, of the Saratoga Hotel, Sussex street, was fined $50 and costs, the lowest fine permitted by the law. The Indian was Peter Canoe, a fullblooded Caughnawaga, aged 56, from the St. Regis reserve. It was the first case of the kind tried in Ottawa.

Peter got off a train one day last week, and wandered down to the hotel. He was followed by Constable Ethier, who saw him put money on the counter and get something to drink. The Indian afterwards admitted that he had procured gin. It was proven that Peter was a fullblooded Indian, and voted at elections on the reserve.

"How was my client to know that he was an Indian?" asked Ald. Champagne. "There are lots of Frenchmen and others who go to the woods, who are just as dark. There are plenty of Italians just as dark."

Ald. Champagne, for Mr. Valin, went on to argue that the Act was only intended to maintain peace on the reserves, and did not operate outside their limits.

The magistrate held that Valin was guilty, but because he had only been before the courts once in some fifteen years, and his house bore a good reputation, gave him the lowest fine.

WANTS INVADERS PUT IN GAOL

Toronto, April 10.— Mr. Daniel Blea, game warden for the district of Parry Sound, paid a visit to Chief Game Warden Tinsley yesterday. He states that representatives of large American firms are swarming into the district and buying up furs, most of which are the skins of animals trapped out of season. These furs, he says, are then smuggled out of the country. Another complaint against these men is the way in which they cheat the Indians from whom they purchase, giving little or nothing for the very best pelts. Otter and beaver, which are very plentiful in the district now, and upon which there is a close season until 1910, are also being bought up by these men. Instead of the Government imposing a fine for such an offence, Mr. Blea thinks that three months in gaol for the first offence and six months for the second should be the punishment imposed.

The "Sailor Boy" brand of canned goods are the best that are put up. They never fail to please. Try a few cans.

PRICE OF BEEF SURE TO RISE

Western Ranchers Lost Ten per Cent of Their Stock

Winnipeg, April 10.—Pat Burns, the Alberta cattle king, in Winnipeg, today said: "The cattle ranchers of the west will do well, if they come through the present winter, with no more than an average loss of ten per cent. of their stock.

"That the price of beef will be affected there is not the slightest doubt. I anticipate not only a rise but a very marked rise.

"The causes of this are perfectly natural, and are due to an increased demand and a decreased supply. Even before the winter had started it was evident that there was a scarcity of cattle. The ranching districts of Alberta are in a state of transition, inasmuch as the largest ranches are being broken up into smaller ones. Some years ago the territory between Calgary and Macleod was held by probably thirty cattlemen.

"This scarcity is evident, not only in cattle, but in all live stock. Buyers are unable to obtain hogs at 7 1-2 cents. A few years ago they could obtain all the supply they desired at from 4 to 5 cents. Sheep also are practically unobtainable, unless imported.

Exciting Time on Water Street

Three Stirling People Had Close Call at Railway Crossing

Yesterday morning a party of three driving into the city from Stirling, had a very exciting experience. There were two ladies in the buggy and one man and everything went lovely until they reached the G.T.R. crossing on Water street north. The horse is at any time a little nervous of trains and street cars, and yesterday morning they had just crossed the track, when a train rushed past on its way to Lakefield. This frightened the horse, but, to make matters worse, a street car was approaching from the front. The animal reared madly and several times nearly threw itself back into the buggy. The result was that every part of the harness was broken, except the bridle and lines. The horse did not get away, but the man had to come down town and get a new set of harness and then go back after his buggy, while the two ladies took the street car into the city.

LIVE OFFICERS CHOSEN

The Review congratulates Dr. M. A. Morrison and Mr. Geo. A. Gillespie on their elevation to the presidency and vice-presidency respectively, of the Board of Trade.

Dr. Morrison is a public spirited citizen who has rendered good service in the city council. He is a useful and wide-awake member of the Board of Education and should fill the position of presiding officer of the Board of Trade with credit to himself and to the organisation. He will doubtless devote to his new duties the same zeal, energy and care, which has characterized his work in connection with the other offices that he has filled in the public interest.

Mr. Gillespie, the vice-president, is a young man, but he has taken a deep concern in the affairs of the Board, being a regular attendant at its meetings and taking an active part in the discussion of the topics that have come up for consideration. Mr. Gillespie is prominently identified with the cheese and butter industry and did yeoman service in seeking to bring the provincial dairy show to Peterborough.

Ald. W. H. Bradburn will make a capable treasurer and it is pleasing to note that Mr. T. Q. Quartermaine, the energetic secretary, has been reappointed.

The Board of Trade, under its new officers, should take a fresh lease of life, and a stronger grip on the affairs of the city. The attendance last night was encouraging, and the interest lively.

Mayor McWilliams made a splendid suggestion with respect to enhancing the usefulness and prestige of the Board by suggesting that different sections be organized to consider the progress and welfare of each interest represented in the joint body. It is likely that a labor section, a mercantile section, a manufacturers' section, bankers' section, etc., will be formed, all working harmoniously and unitedly to advance the prosperity and good name of Peterborough.

NAME THE MEN

The Toronto Globe in discussing the recent tragedy at Ottawa endeavored to attain the attitude of the Pharisee and hold out that while members of the present Liberal Government had sinned, still the Conservatives had been guilty of gross wrong-doing. Here is what it says:

"What may have been true in the "days of the Tory Government, be"fore 1896, is not true under the Lib"eral Government in 1907. The un"denied and undisguised immorality "of a half dozen Tory leaders then "is no excuse or palliation for one "Liberal leader's misconduct today. "It is to the credit of the Liberals "that they expect and demand a high "standard of personal character in "their leaders."

We would ask the Globe to name the half-dozen Tory leaders who were guilty of undenied or undisguised immorality, says the Woodstock Express. That is an extravagant statement to make, and particularly so when the records of past history fail to produce facts that would serve as evidence to substantiate such assertions. If the Grit organ hopes to divert public observation from the recent scandals unearthed at Ottawa by building up a story of alleged immorality on the part of former Conservative leaders, then assuredly will it be defeated in its purpose. Even if Conservative leaders had erred that would be no excuse for the misconduct of Liberal leaders today. But aside from the Canadian Pacific scandal, what record of the late Conservative Government can the Globe point to as being of an immoral nature? The Canadian public is too well read these days; they are too fully conversant with public affairs to accept such a statement of the Globe without a grain of salt.

Duty lies not in the unearthing of excuses. The Laurier Government has sinned and sinned in a most wholesale fashion, but duty should be rather of the character of an atonement, than an effort to hold position through a plea that is of the Pharisaical variety.

PEN POINTS

How do you like the fine March weather we are getting in April?

Dear Winter—Ramble, old chap, ramble! Raus mit you! Footsack! Allous! Likewise, cut it out, and XXHI for thine! And oblige, yours truly, Everybody.

Mr. Allan Studholme, M.P.P., of Hamilton, is spoken of as the new organizer for the Labor Party. He talks too much to be a good organizer.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier will have at least this set back while he is on the ocean—there won't be any Speaker to rule uncontrollable motions out of order.

It will cost non-residents of Ontario $25 a year to hunt wild ducks after this, but anybody can go on a wild goose chase for nothing.—Belleville Intelligencer.

The Board of Trade held a well attended meeting last night. There were more members present than at any meeting for several months past. This is encouraging, and it is hoped that the interest will be sustained throughout the year.

Brantford's militia corps, the Dufferin Rifles have not yet been paid for the last drill season. There can be no excuse for such an unbusinesslike proceeding. How would the members of the 57th Regiment like to be in a similar predicament.

Poor old Belleville! It is taxed almost to death. The rate this year will be 26.80 mills on the dollar. The rate in Brantford is 21 mills, while in Peterborough the citizens are happy with 17 1-2 mills, and every department of the civic service abundantly provided for.

A former Ottawa pastor says the Capital is the most gossipy city he knows of. It is easy to believe this. There are more idle or semi-idle people to the square yard in Ottawa than in any other city in Canada, and gossip is natural to the idle, says the Kingston News.

Mr. Frank Wise, Superintendent of the Little Lake cemetery, reports that the swallows have made their appearance this year. The old adage is "one swallow does not make a summer," but a Peterborough wit remarks that several swallows make one drunk.

Although the Ministerial Association at their last meeting discussed a subject which is supposed to remove all pain and physical ailment, it is said that one of the members was not sufficiently imbued with the true spirit of the topic. He was suffering from a severe headache, and had to return home.

Here is one newspaper man that is in luck;—By the will of the late R. R. McLennan, ex-M.P., Cornwall, Wm. Gibbons, formerly of the Brockville Recorder, now editor of the Cornwall Standard, receives the sum of $3,000, together with the use of the Standard newspaper plant and a portion of the Standard block, now occupied by him.

Mr. Thomas Crawford, M.P.P., of West Toronto, has been elected Speaker of the Ontario Leigislature to succeed the late Hon. J. W. St. John. Mr. Crawford is a man of sterling character, honest, open and frank. He has had valued municipal experience and should make a capable and impartial presiding officer, and a worthy successor of many noted men who have shed lustre on the exalted position of the Speakership.

The C.P.R. has issued a handsomely illustrated and admirably descriptive work on British Columbia, setting forth in attractive form the rich farming lumbering, mining and fruit growing interests of the far famed Pacific province. The advantages, resources and climate are ably dealt with. A copy of the booklet will be sent to any one on receipt of a two cent stamp by applying to W. T. Robson, advertising agent of the C.P.R. Montreal. The booklet is well worth a perusal. It is a veritable encyclopaedia of information.

The tailor's sign in a little inland town was an apple simply an apple. The people were amazed at it. They came in crowds to the tailor asking him what on earth was the meaning of the sign. The tailor with a complacent smile replied, "If it hadn't been for an apple where would the clothing business be to-day?"

Sir Richard Cartwright will act as Premier in the absence of Sir Wilfrid Laurier in England. This, says a western contemporary, is the chance of a long life time for the veteran financier, the prophet of Blue Ruin of other days, to introduce one of those much loved Free Trade resolutions that couldn't be restrained from bubbling forth in opposition

In the course of his sermon on Sunday evening in George street Methodist church, Rev. Dr. Crothers commended the articles which had recently appeared in the local newspapers calling attention to the altogether too prevalent use of profanity on the streets. The reverend gentleman strongly condemned the practice, and called upon his hearers to assist in stamping out the evil. Swearing adds nothing to the richness attractiveness or abundance of any man's vocabulary. It is a low, vulgar and reprehensible habit to say the least. There is enough slang heard without profanity being practiced.

The selection of Hon. Thos. Crawford as Speaker of the Legislature has brought once again to the fore the plaint of private Conservative members that Toronto is securing the mammoth share of Government favors. It is pointed out that Toronto has now received her full allotment of the "good things," and that in future harmony can only be preserved by the distribution of such honors as may come to hand to some of the outside and rural constituencies. In support of the contention a prominent rural member directed attention to the fact that Toronto has two Cabinet Ministers in the Hon. Mr. Foy and Hon. Dr. Pyne; a member of the Government Electric Commission is Mr. W. K. McNaught and the Speakership in Hon. Thomas Crawford. Besides this, Dr. Beattie Nesbitt was given a $6,000 position on a monetary equality with that of a Cabinet Minister.—Toronto News.

LINDSAY HAMILTON.

Lindsay Hamilton, formerly manager at Guelph of the Bank of Montreal, died in Belleville this morning from pneumonia. Dr. M. A. Morrison is President Peterborough Board of Trade

Officers Elected Last Night—Mr. A. P. Poussette Recommends Change in the Banking Act—May Change System of Organizing the Board.

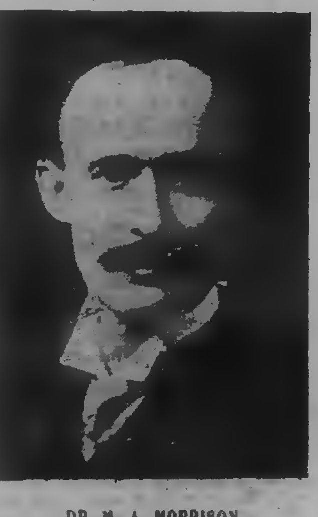
Dr. M. A. Morrison is the new president of the Board of Trade. He was elected last night unanimously, and he immediately took the chair, which ex-President D. Hughes-Charles vacated.

The meeting was a very interesting one and there was a goodly number of members present. The list of officers shows an entirely new lot of men, except the secretary, Mr. T. Q. Quartermaine.

Mr. Geo. A. Gillespie was chosen vice-president, and a better man could not have been found. He is young, active enthusiastic, and not only willing, but anxious to work. He is a grocer and will represent that branch of trade. He is a prominent cheese buyer and is well acquainted with the dairy and agricultural interests, and will no doubt prove to be a valuable officer of the board.

After the election of officers, several important matters were brought up and discussed.

Members present,—Ex-President D. Hughes-Charles, Secretary T. Q. Quartermaine, Messrs. A. P. Poussette, W. S. Dodd, Robt. Fair, Geo. A. Gillespie, P. Downham, W. H. Bradburn, J. Coyle-Brown, John Riddell, Jas. Drain, Rev. Canon Davidson, Mayor McWilliams, Harry LeBrun, B. F. Ackerman, F. D. Kerr, R. Glover, W. H. Moore, D. Davidson, W. Switzer, G. B. VanBlaricom, Dr. Morrison, A. G. Carruthers.



DR. M. A. MORRISON
Who Was Elected President of the Board of Trade

CORRESPONDENCE.

A letter was received from the Canadian Municipal Journal, asking the Board to subscribe for it. Received.

From the Board of Trade, Toronto, enclosing a copy of a resolution, re the Civil Service in Canada. Received.

From Mr. R. M. Dennistoun, thanking the Board for its kind resolution, passed at the last meeting. Received

From the manager of the Royal Bank at Hanover, asking for information of the Board of Trade, here. Received.

OFFICERS ELECTED.

The following officers were elected,—

President, Dr. M. A. Morrison.
Vice-President, Geo. A. Gillespie.
Treasurer, W. H. Bradburn.
Secretary, T. Q. Quartermaine.

In thanking the Board of Trade, Dr. Morrison said he felt greatly honored in being elected to the position of President. He would try to make the Board of Trade successful this year, and would do his best to discharge the duties of President.

CHANGE SUGGESTED.

Mayor McWilliams made a suggestion to the Board of Trade, regarding the system of election of officers. He said that he admitted that the Board of Trade should be an organization of great value to the city. But here, with the exception of a spasmodic revival, it was not the organization that it should be. This was not due to those who worked hard to make it a success. But a Board of Trade meeting in this city was merely a meeting of a few individuals, and it did not carry the weight it should. To overcome the difficulty, there must be a radical change in the organization of the Board. He suggested that the Board should be organized in three sections.

First: The manufacturers, and the manufacturers should nominate their representatives to Council of the Board.

Second: The mercantile interests would make another section.

Third: The financial department would make another section.

Fourth: The lawyers would make a fourth section.

These sections would name, one, two or three representatives to appear for them at the Council of the Board of Trade.

A. P. POUSETTE.

Mr. A. P. Poussette agreed with Mayor McWilliams to a great extent. He added that while there were a number of men connected with some big manufactory, they came to these meetings voluntarily, and when they felt like it. If he was selected as a representative of any class he would feel that it was his duty to be here. He commended the Mayor on his having thought this matter out, and thought the Board of Trade should take this matter into serious consideration. He would move that this Board appoint a committee to look into the whole question, and make such amendments to the constitution, as would effect the change mentioned.

NOMINATING COMMITTEE.

Moved by Messrs. Poussette and W. S. Dodd, that Messrs. M. A. Morrison, President, Mr. D. Hughes-Charles, President; D. Hughes-Charles, R. E. Wood, W. H. Moore, be appointed a committee to nominate members of the Council of the Board of Trade, and to strike the standing committees for the ensuing year, and that this committee be instructed to confer with the different branches of the Board with a view to conforming to the proposal of His Worship, the Mayor.

On motion of Messrs. J. Coyle-Brown and Geo. A. Gillespie, Mr. McFarlan Wilson was appointed to audit the books of last year.

Mr. Dodd was also appointed an auditor on motion of Messrs. Fair and Ackerman.

CHANGE BANKING ACT.

Messrs. A. P. Poussette said that there was a very important matter for this Board of Trade to take up. It has been heard that money is very tight, that banks have no money to lend and many industries have not been allowed to come into existence. In February of 1907, the chartered banks had loaned outside of Canada, $90,000,000 of the people's money.

The banks are not satisfied with the ordinary interests obtainable in this country, but they go to the United States, and go into the gambling games, there, where the chances of large profits are better. That being the case, banks should not be allowed to invest such a large portion of their funds out of Canada. They receive a very large franchise from the Dominion Government. For instance, the Government allows the banks to issue paper for the total amount of their capital, and on this they make a great deal of profit and pay nothing for it.

Mr. Poussette said he had talked this matter over with financial men, and he thought it should be brought to the attention of every Board of Trade in the country, and when once it was thoroughly understood sufficient weight could be brought to bear, to have the banking act, amended. He therefore gave notice that at the next meeting of the Board he would move the following motion,—

"That in the opinion of this Board, the Bank Act should be so amended that no Bank shall employ out of Canada, any greater proportion of its funds, that an amount equal to the amount of its capital stock, and deposits, held out of Canada; and that for greater certainty, a definite percentage, having regard to the present status, be named as such proportion.

Central Milling Co. Declared Dividend of 7 Per Cent. for 1906

Annual Meeting Yesterday Afternoon—Officers and Directors Elected—Dividends for the Six Years Amount to 45 Per Cent.

The annual stockholders meeting of the Central Milling Co., was held yesterday, in the Foresters' Hall, Simcoe street, when the reports and accounts were submitted, and the declaration of a dividend of seven per cent. approved. The financial report was submitted by Mr. George K. Martin and the general reports by the manager, Mr. Henry A. Mulhern.

The following gentlemen were elected directors for the ensuing year, viz., Mr. John Stewart, D. Carlaw, J. Finnie, J. W. Hall, J. G. Armstrong, J. Murty, P. Dawson. Mr. George K. Martin was re-appointed as auditor.

After considerable discussion it was decided to do away with the rebate on the purchases which has hitherto been given the stockholders of the company, so that in future all the customers of the mill will be on the same basis in their business relations with it.

At the conclusion of the general meeting the new directors met and the following appointments were made,—

President, John Stothart.
Vice-President, D. Carlaw.
General Manager, H. A. Mulhern.
Secretary-Treasurer, A. O. Meyers.

It must be particularly gratifying to the stockholders of this company to know that the mill is doing as well, or even a little better than was at first expected. It has been in existence just six years, and during that time, it has paid in dividends, just 45 cents on every dollar invested. This is a splendid record and reflects great credit upon the management. The dividends paid, have been as follows,—1st year, 6 per cent., 2nd year, 10 per cent., 3rd and 4th years, 8 per cent., 5th year, 5 per cent., 6th year, 7 per cent. The business of the mill, is not only holding its own, but is increasing all the time. The machinery is kept running steadily and even then it is not always possible to keep up with the orders. The outlook for 1907 is particularly bright and a good dividend for next year is assured.

FELL FROM SMOKESTACK

Chicago, April 9.—John Nagel, a constructing engineer, fell from the top of a 200-foot chimney at the Standard Steel car works in Hammond yesterday, but in the fall he struck a projecting scaffold on the outside, about 25 feet from the top, which enabled him to grasp a plank, thus saving his life.

Nagel was in charge of the building of the giant smokestack, and in order to see the progress, he ascended to the top of the structure in a drop bucket. When the bucket neared the top the man in charge of the hoisting engine below, failed to perceive Nagel's signal to stop, and the engineer was thrown over the edge of the narrow aperture above.

He escaped practically unhurt but the other men on the smokestack were so unnerved that they could not work for some time afterwards.

The large barns of Wm. Vanderburg in Thorold township were fired by tramps.

Was Honored on His Birthday

Mr. Edward Clarke Guest of Honor at Family Reunion

The residence of Mr. F. R. Clarke, Bolivar street, was the scene of a pleasant family reunion yesterday afternoon, when a large number of friends gathered to celebrate the eighty-first birthday of Mr. Edward Clarke, Mr. F. R. Clarke's father. Among those present were his daughter, Mrs. Job, of this city; Mr. Job and their family; his nephew, Mr. J. Jamieson and family, of this city, and also the family of his youngest son, Mr. F. R. Clarke, referred to above.

During the evening the company was treated to an excellent menu, and a toast to the venerable guest was heartily honored. He was also presented with a pair of handsome gold spectacles, the presentation being made by his son, Mr. F. R. Clarke. A most enjoyable time was spent in songs and music, among the vocal numbers being "Rule Britannia," sung by Mr. F. R. Clarke with banjo accompaniment. Mr. Clarke, sr., was heartily congratulated on his splendid health and the hope was expressed that he might be spared to enjoy many more birthdays.

Mr Clarke has been a resident of Peterborough for 48 years, and was for many years engineer of the now defunct Helm foundry, and afterwards at Mr. P. Ryan's tannery, which was formerly located on Simcoe street, in the premises now occupied by Alex. Elliott, wholesale liquor merchant. Mr. Clarke is now caretaker of the Albany Club's rooms and is exceedingly popular with a large number of friends. He is one of the oldest residents of the city, and no one has a larger number of friends.

Mr. W. C. Steele, who spent last summer with Dr. Johnston, veterinary surgeon of this city, is in Peterborough for a few days and is being warmly greeted by his many friends. Mr. Steele has completed his post graduate course at McKillop's Veterinary College, Chicago, and is on his way home to the West Indies, where he will spend some time. Mr. Steele is also a graduate of the Ontario Veterinary College and after a visit at his home in the West Indies is likely to return to Peterborough and commence practising here. There is a probability that he may enter into partnership with Dr. Johnston. Mr. Steele likes Peterborough and thinks it is one of the cities in Ontario.

Large Turnout at Second Drill of 57th Regiment

The 57th Regiment had a good turnout at the second drill of the season last night. There were nearly four hundred of all ranks on parade, and about an hour was spent in squad drill. The different movements were executed with much proficiency, considering the fact that it is so early in the season. About forty recruits were enlisted and given their first taste of military life. No difficulty is being experienced in securing first-class men to fill up the ranks and it is expected that when all the ranks are filled, the regiment will have a better standard of men than at any previous time. The turnout last night was considered highly satisfactory from every point of view, and the officers were elated over the fine spirit shown.

North Monaghan Council Held Important Session on Monday

Accounts Were Passed and By-laws Put Through—Several Special Committees Were Appointed—Council Will Consider Purchasing a Rock Crusher.

The township council met in the town hall at 2 p.m. on Monday, April 8th inst. All the members were present, the reeve presiding.

The minutes of the last meeting were approved and signed.

Accounts were handed in from the Mann Lumber Company, material for town hall, $19.49; Messrs. Lynch and Sanderson, work repairing town hall, $9.75.

On motion of Messrs. May and Howden these accounts were passed and ordered to be paid.

Communications were presented and read from D. W. Dumble, of Peterborough, enclosing a petition from A. Cummings and seven other ratepayers in the township, asking to have Cottesmore Avenue graded and put in shape for public traffic; also from Timothy Hurley, asking the township to open a street through his property, as he proposed to set it off in small building lots. A communication was also read from A. D. Cartwright, Secretary of the Board of Railway Commission of Canada, enclosing a copy of an order of the Board in relation to the Grand Trunk Railway siding crossing Lansdowne street to the property of the Toronto Real Estate Co., and the Brinton Carpet Co.

TO IMPROVE CROSSING.

The clerk reported having written to the C.P.R. superintendent, as directed at the last meeting re the crossings on 11th concession, and read a letter in reply from Mr. Nelson. Mr. Nelson stated that, while the crossings named might be somewhat dangerous, yet no brushwood or trees were allowed so to grow upon the right-of-way. However, he would be ready to co-operate with the township in having the crossings made more safe for public traffic, and suggested that perhaps one of the crossings might be done away with by changing the highway along the west side of the railway track and enclosed a plan of the proposed change for the consideration of the Council.

Mr. Charles O'Reilly, of Norwood, representing the Good Roads Co., and Mr Hampson, representing the Sawyer-Massey Co., of Hamilton, attended the meeting, and in addressing the council set forth the advantages of their respective rock crushers and other road working machinery.

It was moved by Messrs. Hunter and Morrow, that the clerk is hereby directed to examine the registered plan referred to by Mr. Dumble as showing Cottesmore Avenue to be assumed by the township as a public thoroughfare and to report thereon to the council.—This was carried.

Moved by Messrs. May and Morrow that the clerk is hereby directed to inform Mr. T. Hurley, that upon the production by him for the use of the council of a plan, prepared by an Ontario land surveyor, showing the proposed sub-division of his property and all streets thereon, then the council will consider the advisability of assuming those streets as public thoroughfares.—Carried.

Moved by Messrs. May and Morrow, that the clerk is hereby directed to acknowledge the receipt of the order by the Board of Railway Commission of Canada in reference to the railway siding on Lansdowne street.—Carried.

Moved by Messrs. Howden and Morrow, that a committee consisting of the reeve and councillors May and Dobbin are hereby appointed to investigate the proposition of Mr. J. R. Nelson re altering the road along the C.P.R. track on 11th concession.—Carried.

Moved by Messrs. Dobbin and Howden, that a committee consisting of the reeve and Councillors Morrow and May are hereby appointed to investigate the complaint of Mr. J. Succee in regard to the overflow of water upon his property in the 11th concession.—Carried.

Moved by Messrs. Howden and Morrow, that the whole council be hereby appointed a committee to consider the question of purchasing a rock crusher, to meet in Peterborough on Saturday, April 13th.—Carried.

Moved by Messrs. Howden and May, that the clerk is hereby instructed to notify the road commissioners to not undertake the regular road work pending a decision by the council as to making some changes in the system of carrying on road construction and repairs in the township.—Carried.

Moved by Messrs. Howden and Dobbin, that the clerk is hereby directed to render an account for gravel and stone to all parties who have not as yet paid for the same, and require immediate payment therefor.—Carried.

The clerk then submitted by-laws Nos. 581, 582 and 583. These by-laws relate to the division of the township into road divisions, etc. The fixing of the number of days of statute labor against each person assessed and the commutation of statute labor at the sum of 75 cents per day and their re-enactment has been made necessary through loss of the originals.

Council then adjourned until Monday, May 27th, in the town hall at 2 p.m.

Liberal Revolt In Port Hope

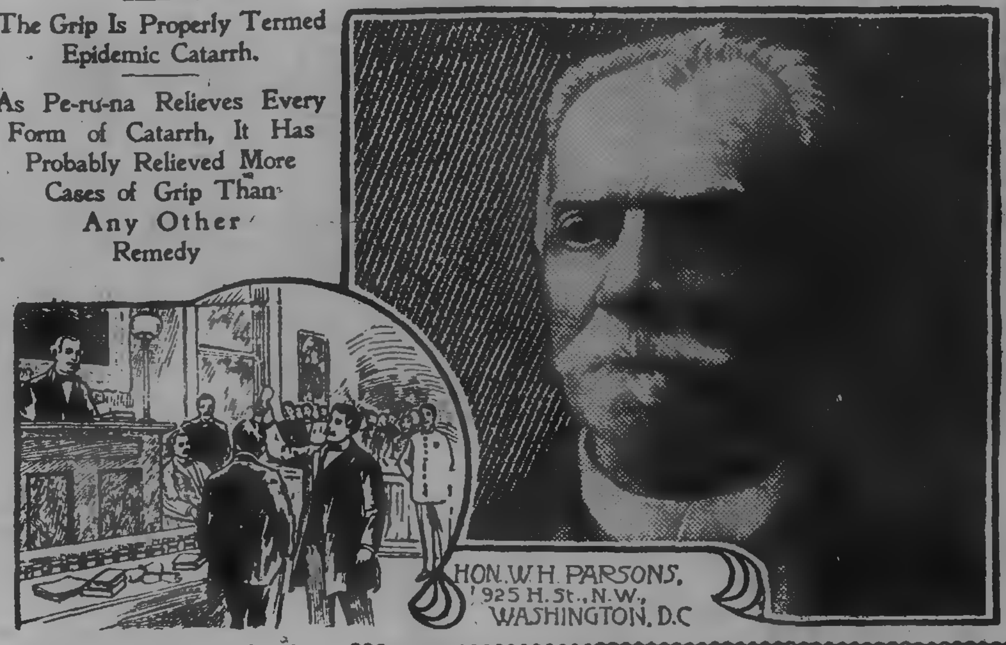
Indignation Over Favoritism Shown to Cobourg

A Port Hope despatch says.

The recent announcement that the Dominion Government has accepted the onus of undertaking the expenditure of enlarging the Cobourg harbor for the reception and convenience of the G.T.R. car ferry in preference to the lesser ultimate expenditure involved for improving the Port Hope harbor, has caused intense indignation among all classes here.

Leading Liberals cannot longer conceal their chagrin and disgust and so grave is the situation in the Liberal ranks that an open revolt is threatened. A few hold out the hope that a substantial grant would be made to improve the Port Hope harbor, to enable deep-draught tonnage for the Upper Lakes to serve the important manufacturing industries on the lake front, but this is not regarded as probable.

Rumors are current that not only will local Liberals allow Durham to go to the Conservative candidate by acclamation at the next Dominion election, but that their influence will extend to the contiguous township of Hamilton in West Northumberland, to defeat the Liberal candidate in that debatable constituency where Government favors have been so extravagantly lavished of late.



JUDGE OF THE SUPREME COURT

Was Alarmingly Afflicted With La Grippe. Cured by Pe-ru-na.

The Grip Is Properly Termed Epidemic Catarrh.

As Pe-ru-na Relieves Every Form of Catarrh, It Has Probably Relieved More Cases of Grip Than Any Other Remedy

HON. W. H. PARSONS,
925 H. St., N.W.,
WASHINGTON, D.C

The Fear of Grip Makes People Nervous.

There is no remedy in the world that meets the conditions produced by the grip better than Peruna.

Peruna strengthens as it renovates, soothes while it stimulates, heals as it expurgates.

It reaches the source of all diseases of the mucous membranes by its action on the vaso-motor system of nerves.

After-Effects of the Grip.

Every person who has had la grippe during the last year should take a course of Peruna.

The grip has produced catarrhal inflammation of the whole mucous membrane, and good health is impossible until these are restored to a normal condition. This Peruna will do.

A great many remedies have been suggested for this condition from time to time, but Peruna is the only remedy that has gained great popularity in these cases.

It has seldom failed to give satisfaction during forty years' experience and still occupies the unique position of being the leading and most generally used remedy for the after-effects of la grippe.

W. H. Parsons is Ex-State Senator and Ex-Special Judge of the Supreme Court of Texas and was also Brigadier-General in Confederate Army. In a recent letter from 925 H street, N. W., Washington, D. C., this prominent gentleman says:

"Upon the recommendation of personal friends and many strong testimonials as to the efficacy of Peruna in the treatment of the numerous symptoms of the grippe with which I have been afflicted for four months past, I have been induced to undergo a treatment with this justly celebrated formula. I feel a decided change for the better after using it only one week.

"It is especially good in toning up the stomach and has had a decided effect upon my appetite. I therefore feel much encouraged that I am on the road to complete restoration.

"My numerous friends in Texas, where I have had the honor to command a brigade of her Veteran Cavalry in a four years' war, may accept this voluntary testimonial to the merits of Peruna as a sense of obligation on my part for its wonderful efficacy."—W. H. Parsons.

No Time Like the Present.

If you are suffering from the after-effects of la grippe—if you have become discouraged in your attempts to cure yourself with other treatments, take a bottle of Peruna now.

A bottle of Peruna taken during the beginning of the disease is worth more than a dozen bottles after the trouble has become deep-seated.

La Grippe Affected Lungs.

Mrs. Olive Cushman, Fonda, Ia., writes:

"Two years ago I was taken very sick with la grippe. It started on my lungs. Our home physician did all he could for me, but it did me but little good. I then wrote to Dr. Hartman and he prescribed for me. I followed his advice and my cure is permanent, I am sure. I have a good appetite, sleep well and enjoy life. I am so happy to be well once more. 'A friend in need is a friend indeed,' and such a friend has Peruna been to me."

Pe-ru-na, a Good Medicine for La Grippe.

Mrs. Louisa Eastman, Lancaster, Wis., writes:

"I am all right. I do not think I need any more treatment. I am able to do my own work which I could not do at the time I wrote you. My cough is gone, my appetite is good, I sleep good, and my bowels are all right. I think Peruna is a good medicine for the grip."

WEDDING BELLS

LITTLE—WILLIAMS

A quiet wedding was celebrated this afternoon at All Saints' church at two o'clock, when Mr. David W. Little, of Toronto, formerly a popular resident of Peterborough, was married to Miss Adelina Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Williams, 77 Homewood avenue. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Wm. Major, in the presence of only the immediate relatives of the uniting parties. They were unattended. The bride was becomingly attired in a travelling gown of blue. After the nuptials a wedding dejeuner was partaken of at the home of the bride's parents.

Mr. Little was for many years the representative of the Singer Sewing Machine Company in this city. Numerous friends will join in wishing him and his bride every happiness and prosperity in their future home in Toronto.

IN ST. PETER'S HALL

Referring to the appearance here on Thursday evening, April 11th, of Mr. Gilbert Shorter, the following is of interest: "On Saturday afternoon, Mr. Gilbert Shorter continued his series of Dramatic and Musical Recitals before a large audience. The accomplished elocutionist's selections were distinguished by their choice nature and variety, among them being Rudyard Kipling's 'Story of Uriah,' Marie Corelli's 'God and Satan,' and Lord Lytton's 'At the Opera.' Mr. Shorter has a highly versatile and artistic talent, the pathetic intensity with which he recited Ella Wheeler Wilcox's 'Platonic,' being as notable as the dramatic power of a high order displayed in the short but fitting trifle, 'Devil May Care.'—London (Eng.) Tribune.—St. Peter's Hall, Reid St.

The plant of the Georgian Bay Engineering Works, at Midland, was destroyed by fire Saturday afternoon.

Dr McInnes, M.P.P., for Brandon, will be appointed Provincial Secretary and Minister of Education for Manitoba.

Season after season we have sold and recommended 20th CENTURY CLOTHING simply because we have found none better, and we recommend it this season with greater confidence than ever.

THE GREAT TORONTO FIRE

Only those who actually saw the great fire of Toronto, can adequately appreciate the realism of the moving pictures shown in the Colloseum by Mr. Scott and his associates. The clang of the fire bells, the rush and hurry, the terror and grandeur of the awful conflagration are marvellously brought out. The rescue work of the firemen, the rush of the crowds, fighting the flames and dynamiting the dangerous walls are depicted with a realism almost incredible.

The continuous performances take place every afternoon and evening from 2 to 5 and 7 to 10 p.m. and furnish a refined entertainment for both small and great. Ladies are especially invited to the afternoon performances. Beautiful illustrated songs

Rector Sues for His Back Salary

Kingston, April 10. — St. Paul's church vestry has had a warm surprise since its engagement of a vicar by receiving a bill from Archdeacon Carey, rector, for $3,300 for back salary extending over the past thirty years.

It had been the archdeacon's custom to take whatever remained over after liabilities were met, as the church was quite well endowed for ministerial support.

The cause of the action is said to be due to the proposed purpose of the vestry to seek to revert certain benefactions from the rector to other uses, and the bill is the outcome of the trouble.

CEDAR ST. SEWER IS UNDER WAY

Contractor Sheehy Has Large Force at Work This Week

Contractor R. Sheehy started a gang of 14 or 15 men under Foreman M. Leary to work on the Cedar street sewer on Monday. This is that piece of work which caused so much trouble last fall and winter. It was the only portion Mr. Sheehy did not finish of his very large contract last year, and he submitted an excellent excuse for having stopped work, although there were some who disagreed with him. However, the winter is past and so is the danger of frost and Mr. Sheehy will get the work done as soon as possible. He has at present a lot of trouble from water in the trench, but as the work proceeds and the grade comes up the water will disappear. The work will take about three weeks more, and then contractors will have nothing more to do with city sewers for at least one year.

Don't forget the contest at the Roller Rink Friday evening for ladies and gentlemen skating in couples.

Hon. Geo. E. Foster Proves That His Hands are Clean

Attacks Insurance Commission in the House of Commons.

Charges That Report Is Unfair and Biased by Party Feeling — Had Made No Illegal Investments—Minister of Justice Makes Reply—Defends Commissioners—Mr. Borden's Criticism—Cost of Enquiry.

Ottawa, April 11.—The long-looked-for debate on the report of the Insurance Commission was begun yesterday afternoon, and up to midnight had been marked by three of the most engrossing speeches heard for many a day.

Mr. Foster led off with an address of two and one-quarter hours' duration. The Minister of Justice spoke for nearly three hours from a brief so carefully prepared that he rarely referred to notes, and traversed the entire scope of the report, dealing, of course, with the places which Mr. Foster had not touched upon at all. Indeed, the similarity between the tone of his speech and the texture of the report was a subject of significant comment by the leader of the Opposition, who replied, and who succeeded for one thing in completely demolishing the halo of impartiality with which the Minister of Justice skilfully decorated the commission.

Cost of Commission.

The House was moved into committee of supply by the Minister of Finance, who asked attention to an item of $75,000 for expenses of the Royal Commission on Insurance. The total cost of the commission would be $105,000. The three commissioners each received $30 a day and expenses and the secretary $15. As for the legal expenses Mr. Shepley was to receive $100 per day and expenses, with such general fee as might be commensurate. Mr. Tilley, the junior counsel, was to receive $50 a day and expenses. So far Mr. Shepley had received $8,000 and Mr. Tilley $4,000. The chief actuary got $50 a day and his two assistants $20 a day each and expenses. For stenographic work $8,965 had been paid.

Mr. Foster's Protest.

Mr. Foster arose amidst Opposition cheers and began by regretting the necessity of bringing before the House matters which were entirely personal. Mr. Foster did not think that the commission was appointed to do aught than investigate insurance in Canada, but it was not long before some people had thought it afforded machinery by which a political opponent might be broken and a party advantage gained. Not only had the commission overstepped the bounds of its jurisdiction, but he, as well as others who appeared before it, were denied the common right of being informed of the accusations and denied the protection of counsel to cross-examine and bring out rebuttal evidence.

One charge was that Mr. Foster had diverted and squandered the trust money of the I. O. F. by investment. The total surplus of the Foresters, about five and a quarter millions, were handled and invested before he came on the scene and less than five millions had to be invested after. The report of the commission would show what had become of part of the surplus, but not all of it, because it seemed that this commission was very careful not to look after the investment of large portions of that surplus, invested before Mr. Foster came into the Union Trust.

Mr. Foster challenged any other trust company to show better results than the Union during his term of management, and every investment had been made in securities allowed by law.

Will Fight to the Last.

In conclusion, Mr. Foster said: "Have I not the right to say to this House that it is an outrage that such a report should be put in the permanent records of this country. Have I not the right to ask this House, in common honesty to me, that it order this report back to the commission for amendment—for erasures are necessary for statements in full where partial and concealed statements are given, for a plain statement one way or the other, instead of an insinuation. What right has this House to ask that the public money of this country shall be voted to brand me as a common grafter for eternity? I will fight it until I die. I shall protest against it as long as there is breath in my body, and I shall consider it a most damnable wrong against myself and the rights of common humanity that such a course of procedure should be carried out."

Mr. Aylesworth's Reply.

Hon. Mr. Aylesworth replied that he resented Mr. Foster's imputation that the commission was more or less animated by a desire in its investigation of the I. O. F. to secure political advantage over that honorable gentleman. The commissioners were men of standing in the country.

Dealing with the I. O. F., Mr. Aylesworth said it was necessary to go more fully into it than other mutual societies, because it was the most important of all. As to the Union Trust, the money invested by it consisted of $499 of Foresters' money for every dollar put in by the syndicate, and it was money contributed by people who could ill afford to lose it, and it was therefore incumbent on the commission to enquire into the affairs of the trust company.

Mr. Aylesworth was severe in his condemnation of the three directors—Foster, MacGillivray and Wilson—for having borrowed money as directors from the Union Trust to buy lands. They were in a majority at the meeting, at which the 387 1-2 shares, originally intended for the Union Trust, was diverted to the benefit of themselves.

Mr. Aylesworth said he had endeavored to deal fairly with the facts, setting down naught in malice.

A Prepared Attack.

Mr. Borden declared that, after listening to Mr. Aylesworth's speech, if the House did not know otherwise, it might think he had drafted the report himself. Here was the Minister of Justice, with a carefully prepared brief, wherewith not so much to defend the commission as to attack Mr. Foster. That brief contained a reference to a matter, the last mentioned by him, to which Mr. Foster had not alluded, showing the carefully prepared nature of his attack, and yet he had the audacity to claim sincerity and moderation for his speech.

Mr. Borden scored the Minister for having contrasted the investments of the Union Trust with the embezzlements of the general manager of the Ontario Bank, pointing out to him that Mr. Foster had challenged any man to point to one investment not made according to law.

W. H. Bennett devoted considerable energy and eloquence to Judge MacTavish, dealing especially with his honor's record on the West Elgin commission. He concluded by declaring that Mr. Foster, by his manly and straightforward speech, had enshrined himself in the hearts of the Opposition and contrasted Mr. Foster's humble financial position with that of Liberal Ministers who had gone out of the Cabinet with a million.

The House rose at midnight and Mr. E. Guss Porter will probably resume the debate to-day.

CANADA'S MODEL MILITIA.

Against Feeling to Introduce Permanent Corps, Says Col. Herbert.

London, April 11.—(C. A. P.)—In the House of Commons yesterday, Col. Herbert, defending Haldane's national army scheme, said:

"We are going back, not to feudalism, but to the principles which once underlay the whole military system of this country, which still underlies the military system of the colonies. It has been said it is impossible to unite under one system all the volunteers unless we had compulsion.

"The difficulty has been got over in Canada, where each class of the community performed a training in the way best suited to their ordinary vocations.

"Many of his own predecessors in Canada urged dependence on the English principle of a permanent staff. He received the impression that it is against the feeling of the people to introduce this permanent element. He took the view that every unit should maintain itself in every particular.

"It is the only way that the esprit de corps shall be obtained. They therefore are not trying a new experiment in this bill."

C.P.R. Trackmen Get Advance.

Winnipeg, April 11.—All the trackmen between the lakes and Vancouver on the Canadian Pacific Railway yesterday received an advance of 8 per cent. in their wages, representing a general increase of half a million dollars annually.

Overland Train Wrecked.

Pendleton, Ore., April 11.—The west bound Oregon and Navigation Overland passenger train was wrecked near Cayuse yesterday.

Two tramps were killed, the fireman is missing, and fifteen passengers were hurt.

LATE SPEAKER BURIED.

Funeral of Hon. Mr. St. John Attended by Many Thousands.

Toronto, April 11.—Hundreds of citizens who had been pleased to regard Hon. J. W. St. John as a personal friend, and thousands who knew of him and respected him, yesterday paid their last sad tribute to him.

Ten thousand persons, it was estimated, passed the casket as it lay in state in the Speaker's apartments at the Parliament Buildings yesterday morning. The apartments were draped in black, the portrait of the late Speaker hanging on the south wall. The floral tributes were banked around the casket.

The chief mourners at the funeral were Mr. St. John's brothers, James and William Glover; his brothers-in-law, Henry and John Glendinning, and their wives, Mr. St. John's sisters; Dr. Glendinning, his nephew; W. J. Paulin, nephew, and Mr St. John's son and daughters. Mrs St. John did not feel strong enough to attend.

The Government was fully represented by Premier Whitney and the other Cabinet Ministers, and by the greater number of the members of the House. Premier Whitney and Hon. G. P. Graham marched side by side, as honorary pall-bearers.

Lieut.-Goverenor Mortimer Clark, Major Macdonald, A. D. C., and Major Fraser, secretary, also attended.

The final ceremonies of the Masonic ritual were conducted at the cemetery chapel, and were very impressive, the Doric Quartette taking the recitative and vocal parts.

After the ceremonies were over, the casket and the flowers were removed to the vault, from whence it will be taken for interment later.

WILL DEFY THE ACT.

C. P. R. Will Move Their Trucks on Sunday as Before.

Montreal, April 11.—The C. P. R. have withdrawn their instructions to their employes in Winnipeg and the West regarding Sunday work.

The men will, accordingly, work on Sundays and relieve the blocks and delays which are occurring to the stock trains.

This is against the provisions of the Lord's Day Act, and the Lord's Day Alliance will probably be moved to take action against the company. Probably this is what the railway companies are aiming at, as if an action results they can then apply for an investigation to inquire into the working of the new act as it applies to the railroads.

If the companies can show that the interests of shippers are menaced by the act, and that unnecessary suffering is caused to the cattle in these efforts to keep the Lord's Day holy, it may result in an amendment permitting the transportation of cattle on that day, with as much humanity and despatch as on a Wodin's day or Thor's day.

RUSH TO MINING CAMPS.

Three Thousand Men Invade Larder Lake District—10,000 Expected.

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., April 11.—During the past few days, according to a report brought here by a miner, three thousand men invaded the Larder Lake district, where gold ores rivalling the Cobalt silver ore, are claimed to have been found. More are coming every day, and teamsters are getting $60 a load for hauling supplies. The only building in the place has 12 bunks, and it is a hard problem to handle the rush.

One miner claims he was offered $400,000 for his claim by an American syndicate.

Stories of vast wealth in the hills started the biggest rush ever known in Canada. It is expected that 10,000 people will arrive during the next few weeks, hundreds coming from the United States.

ENGINE FLUES BURST.

G. T. R. Fireman Met Peculiar Death Near Ingersoll—Brakeman Injured.

Ingersoll, Ont., April 11.—An accident which resulted in the instant death of A. W. Smith of Sarnia, fireman of a G. T. R. freight train, west bound, occurred at Patton's Siding, three miles west of here, at 7.15 o'clock yesterday morning, caused by the flues of the engine blowing out. The engineer made his escape by following the running board of the engine and jumping, while the front brakeman, whose name could not be learned, had his hands and face rather seriously injured. Smith either jumped or was blown from the engine. When picked up by sectionmen he was dead, and his cap burning. His head was crushed by coming in contact with a rail.

The engine was disabled by the accident and the train had to be hauled to London.

May Take Ocean Voyage.

London, April 11.—Mrs. (Hon.) C. S. Hyman has returned from Coronado Beach, California, where she spent the winter with Mr. Hyman.

The Minister of Public Works felt well enough a month ago to undertake the journey homeward by easy stages. At Los Angeles, where he intended staying a few days en route for Canada, he was attacked by his old enemy, insomnia, and suffered such a setback that it was deemed wise to return to Coronado Beach. Mr. Hyman is still there and his physician advises an ocean voyage.

Under Water Four and Half Hours.

Ottawa, April 11.—A diver named F. Deschamps was in 11 feet of water, at work on the Hull water main, when he was swept under some stop logs.

He stayed down there four and a half hours, and when taken out was not dead.

He will probably recover.

Police Guard Bakeries.

Marseilles, April 11.—Military bakers have been placed at the disposal of the master bakers here. The strike thus far has caused only slight inconvenience.

Policemen are guarding the town bakeries.

Andrew Robb, over sixty years a resident of Hamilton, died there last evening aged 75.

PORT CREDIT MYSTERY

Cause of Elliott's Death Is Still Undetermined.

Jury Return An Open Verdict—No Trace of Bullet Found—Doctor Was Undecided—Might Have Been Either Murder Or Accident—Gallagher Clears Himself From Suspicion.

Port Credit, April 11.—How Edward Elliott met his death on the railway, one mile east of Port Credit, early Good Friday morning, seems likely to be recorded among the unsolved mysteries.

After hearing the evidence of Doctor Sutton, the principal witness, at the reopening of the inquest yesterday, and Harry Gallagher, the cook of the section gang, in which the dead man belonged, the jury returned an open verdict, the testimony not being sufficient to enable them to give a decision as to how deceased was killed.

Cause of Death.

Dr. Arthur Sutton stated that a clean-cut wound, running up from the base of the skull, four inches long, had caused death. He also found a punctured wound, one and a half inches deep, which might have been caused by a sharp round instrument. This hole ran to the root of the tongue. He found no trace of a bullet.

As to the wound on the head, the edges were clean-cut, with no traces of oil or gravel. The doctor could not say whether deceased was murdered or killed by a train.

Harry Gallagher cleared any doubt as to his whereabouts on the night of the 28th.

It was at first supposed that Elliott and Gallagher left the section camp at Clarkson together, but the latter left early in the morning on Thursday, while Elliott was still at work.

Elliott Was Sober.

Elliott went to Port Credit and to the Wilbur House. The bartender and the proprietor stated that six drinks had been served to him, but no flash of whiskey. To clear up any doubt, the crown attorney called John Hayes, the hostler of the hotel, who sometimes tends bar, to see if he had sold Elliott anything that day, but Hayes was not in the bar that day.

The evidence of the three showed that Elliott left comparatively sober, about 8 o'clock, and that he said he was going back to the camp.

A constable volunteered information that a person in the village had seen three men hanging around Lorne Park depot, a little west of where Elliott was found, on the night in question.

FALLING WALL HURTS FOUR.

Serious Accident at Canada Foundry—Man's Back Broken.

Toronto, April 11.—By the collapse of a wall at the Canada Foundry yesterday morning, Harry Carter, a bricklayer of Tiverton avenue, had his back broken; Alfred Carter, bricklayer of 24 Franklin street, was severely cut; J. Brown, a steamfitter, had his head cut and T. Sanderson, a painter, was lightly injured.

Three of the men were taken to St. Michael's Hospital, where their injuries were attended to. All but Harry Carter were able to go home, who, although in a critical condition, was resting easier last night.

Holtby Bros., contractors, could not give any reason for the collapse of the wall beyond the idea that the wind was high and that the dozen or so men working on the scaffold had been leaning against the structure.

CENTRAL PRISON SITE.

Government Has Closed Deal For 200 Acres Near Halfway House.

Toronto, April 11.—The new Central Prison will be on the Kingston road. It was learned yesterday that the Ontario Government had purchased 200 acres of land in the vicinity of the Half-Way House as a site for the institution.

The policy of the Government, as announced some time ago was to establish a Central prison outside the city limits, where the farm system could be introduced, and manufacturing dispensed with.

The Government, it is reported, purchased 100 acres some weeks ago and have just closed the deal for another 100 acres.

London, April 11.—(C. A. P.)—At a meeting in Manchester it was stated that Lord Strathcona had guaranteed to the amount of £10,000 for the Franco-British exhibition, to be held in 1908 in London.

Bailey, a passenger, was killed, and about fifteen others injured, one seriously, in the wreck of a west-bound passenger train on the St. Johnsbury & Lake Champlain Railroad. The entire train with the exception of the locomotive, left the rails and plunged down a 40-foot embankment.

The demand from local dealers was good and an active trade was done at $7.25 to $7.50 per cwt., weighed off cars.

There were no prime beeves on the market and all kinds of fat stock were held at higher prices, quality considered. Pretty good cattle sold at 4c to 5c and the common stock at 3c to 4c per lb. The milch cows were nearly all lean in flesh; the prices ranged from $25 to $45 each. Calves sold at from $1.50 to $7.50 each. Judge Charged Strongly Against Harry K. Thaw

Prisoner's Only Hope Now Is in Disagreement of Jury.

Justice Fitzgerald Says Law Presumes Thaw Sane—Irresistible Impulse No Excuse — Attorney Jerome Wipes Away Sentiment Introduced by Delmas—Makes Scathing Attack on Theory of Defence.

New York, April 11.—After having been retired for nearly seven hours yesterday, it was announced at midnight that the jury, with whom the fate of Harry K. Thaw now rests, would be locked up for the night.

The life of Harry Thaw yesterday will go down as the most trying he has ever experienced. From the opening of court until the jury retired the fates dealt unmercifully with him. He left the courtroom dejected and with apparently little hope left for an acquittal.

Thaw Discouraged.

In District Attorney Jerome's final argument and throughout the judge's charge Thaw had to listen to a scathing attack upon his wild life, and to a narrative of hard facts which stripped his deeds of the halo of chivalric glory which his own attorneys placed over them.

The judge's charge, lasting about an hour, was a careful and concise outline of the law, and informed the jury of its right of rendering any one of the following four verdicts: Murder in the first degree; murder in the second degree; manslaughter in the first degree, or not guilty on the ground of insanity. The statute governing the plea of insanity was defined clearly, much stress being laid on the fact that an irresistible impulse to kill has no place in the law.

The judge also informed the jury that an illusion, unless the illusion, if true, might result in the injury of the man suffering it, could not be accepted as an excuse.

"Proof of partial or incipient insanity is not sufficient as an excuse. The settled law of the state is that so long as the power to appreciate the nature and quality of the act is present, no man must commit crime if he would escape the consequences," he said.

"If he cocks, aims and discharges a revolver, as it is alleged here, did he know when he cocked and fired the weapon that the act was wrong and would probably destroy a life, and did he know the act was forbidden by law? That is the question which the law must have answered.

Presumes Thaw Sane.

"The legal presumption is that the defendant was sane when he committed the act. It was not incumbent upon the prosecution to introduce preliminary testimony to show that he was sane. Whoever denies sanity must prove that insanity is present. The law assumes that all men are sane, as it assumes all men are innocent.

"The hypothetical questions, which were answered by the experts, assumed certain facts, and the answer was only the opinion of the experts on these assumed facts. You are not obliged, nor are you permitted, to accept opinions as you would facts. In considering the testimony of medical experts, you are to consider their experience and knowledge, and you should consider the quality of the medical testimony, and not its quantity.

Guided By Evidence.

"The so-called irresistible impulse has no place in the law, and is not an excuse, nor is every person of disordered mind excused. As the burden of proof of insanity is on the defendant, he is also entitled to every reasonable doubt on the subject. If the defendant knew the nature or the quality of his act, or knew that the act was wrong, then he committed a crime. All men differ mentally and physically, and this makes it impossible, as I said before, for the court to lay down a fixed rule as showing deliberation and premeditation.

"You must be guided, gentlemen, entirely on the evidence. Clamor, prejudice or sympathy must not prevail. You must be guided by your reason and your judgment."

The district attorney's summing up evoked many comments of praise from those who read it. It was a comprehensive, logical and forceful review of all the evidence adduced, devoid of flowery phraseology. His arguments were consistent with the testimony.

Jerome's Attack.

"It was the desire of this girl to be a great actress that caused her to play between these two men until she brought one of them to his grave," he said.

"Men of this jury, there is in this case every element of the simply vulgar, everyday tenderloin homicide.

"If the defendant were any person but the rich Harry Thaw of Pittsburg; if he were the son of a padrone in Elizabeth street; if Stanford White were not a leading architect, but a Chinaman in Mott street; if this girl were a chorus girl in The London Theatre on the Bowery, how long would the 'brainstorm' or the paranoia theory be listened to?"

The real question here is, said Jerome, whether New York City is to become a mining camp.

"If this sort of thing can go on—if the only thing between a citizen and his enemy is a brainstorm, then every man had better carry a gun.

"Mr. Delmas appealed to the Scriptures. Let me, too, direct your attention to them, to what the Lord said: 'Vengeance is mine, and I will repay.'

"Let me also remind you of the great fundamental laws founded down the ages—the commandment of God—'Thou shalt not kill.'"

The jury is said to be almost hopelessly divided and none of those connected with the case would venture the hope last night of anything better than a disagreement as the climax of the long drawn out and expensive trial.

TWENTY MILLIONS DYING.

Russians Are Suffering All the Horrors of Starvation.

London, April 11.—Dr. Kannard, commissioner of the Society of Friends, who was sent to investigate the Russian famine, writing from Samara, April 3, says:

"There are 20,000,000 people distributed in the southeastern provinces of Russia, who cannot live to see another harvest without aid."

In Samara, he adds, thousands are dying, and 750,000 are starving. Of the latter, only 372,700 are getting relief, one meal in 24 hours. As a meal is only two pounds of bread and a bowl of soup, this, according to the commissioner, means dying by degrees. Even this meagre dole, in countless instances, is divided among many mouths. There are only sufficient funds on hand to last until May 1, whereas money would be needed until the end of July, when the harvest will bring relief.

The commissioner especially appeals for canned milk. He says there are 300,000 children in Samara Province who have no milk and are forced to eat coarse bread made of acorns, powdered wood and cucumbers, resulting in thousands of deaths and much disease.

In conclusion, the commissioner appeals to the Anglo-Saxons for $2,500,000 to save "twenty millions of human beings, who are dying lingering deaths from starvation."

Col. Louis Kellar, who was Viscount of Yves in France, and served with the French army during the Franco-Prussian war, is dead at his home in Hull.
